Steel Co. of Canada And Steelworkers Settle Dispute

Conciliator Announces Threatened Strike Avoided

HAMILTON (CP) — Government conciliator Irene Fine announced early today that the Steel Company of Canada and the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) "have reached agreement on all matters in dispute."

He made the announcement at 2:30 a.m. EDT. Officials of the company and union officials started marathon talks in an effort to avert a walkout of nearly 7,000 workers at the big steel plant. The proposed contract must still be ratified by the union membership.

Union officials declined to discuss the proposals. Mr. Fine, Ontario's chief conciliator who was called in to the talks Monday, said only that agreement was reached. But Stelco president G. G. Blinn said in a statement:

"I am pleased to say wage increase is justified under present Canadian business conditions, it was felt that the public interest would be best served by a settlement."

Mr. Blinn said the Ontario labor relations board suggested a general wage increase of five cents an hour. The union asked for an increase of 25½ cents an hour and the present basic rate of $1.65 an hour. A final offer was made after negotiations broke down last week-end when 4½ cents an hour was the fringe-benefit package.

Mr. Blinn said after the talks: "In order to avert widespread suffering in Hamilton due to a strike at its Hamilton plant, Stelco has made a further offer. The terms agreed to by the company will add substantially to production costs. This offer is considerably more generous than that made public Aug. 27.

"Earlier negotiations, which began last January, had hinged on wages but included workers' demands for higher pensions, improved union security, longer vacations, overtime schedules, sick benefits and other fringe improvements.

The conciliation board, in its ruling last week, turned down a union request for an additional 10 cents an hour, 15 cents for the 30 job classifications. The dispute was regarded by many union officials as the pace-setter in Canadian steel plants, including such plants as Dofasco Ltd. in Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney, N. S.

Canada Packers Chairman Dead

TORONTO (CP)—J. S. McLean, 78, chairman of the board of Canada Packers Limited, died today. He was president of the big meat packing firm from 1927 until his recent retirement when he turned the presidency over to his son, William.

The hard-driving millionaire industrialist succumbed to a heart attack at the 20-room stone mansion on suburban Bayview avenue.

LOVER OF ART

Mr. McLean combined a shrewd business sense with a keen interest in art. He bought so many paintings by Canadian artists that some of his residence that he had to be turned into a gallery.

He started his career as a $12-a-week bookkeeper in an abattoir operated by Gunns Limited, and built it into a national larder with 7,000 on the payroll.

Under his leadership the Canadian company for which he had worked 26 years and three competitors reworked the meat packing industry, with the presidency of the Canada Packers.

He soon expanded to include slaughtering plants; three sausage plants; 16 creameries; several smaller meat packing plants and 11 feed plants.

Starting from Christiethown, in Bruce county, Mr. McLean established Hull, Peterborough, Toronto, Chicago and Edmonton to dominate the west.

RETIRED HARD

Until he was 70, he was at his office every week-day before 9 o'clock.

After his 70th birthday, he made his office hours fewer but continued every year between Christmas and Easter to Mexico for health and relaxation.

Surviving besides his son are two daughters and seven grandchildren.

James Stanley McLean was born on a farm in Durham county, 60 miles east of Toronto. He attended public high schools in the district and was graduated with a bookkeeping degree from the University of Toronto at 21.

He taught school for two years at Lindsay, Ont., and worked seven years with little success.

Then, according to a friend of him to a job with the Harris Abattoir Company in March, 1901, he became manager of the business two years later. In 1912 he married Edith Gunn, daughter of R. W. (later Sir Joseph) Flavelle, president of the company.

HE HAD 'FEW BEERS'

During the Second World War, his wife were hosts to Canada's wartime visitors.

His interest in young people extended to making large gifts of money to their organizations upon their graduation from college.

BRADFORD (CP) — A Toronto man was fined $75 and had his driving licence suspended three months after driving his car while drunk.

Police said Harold Carnahan, 52, was driving a car which left the newly travelled Highway 11 on May 14. Heading guilty to careless driving, he told the court he was driving slowly because he was a "few beers."

THE WEATHER

SENATORS SPLIT ON PARTY LINES IN PROBE REPORTS

Differ About McCarthy-Criticize Cohn, Stevens

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States senators who spent 36 turbulent days probing the McCarthy-Army row split on whether Senator Joseph McCarthy was at fault, but all of them aimed barbs at Roy M. Cohn and two high army officials.

Republicans absolved the Wisconsin senator of improper conduct but said he had been lax. Democrats struck at Cohn's "unwarranted actions" to both the senator and Cohn, former chief counsel to the senate investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads.

The group headed by Secretary Robert Stevens had sought to appease McCarthy and Cohn and thereby failed to stand up for what he regarded as his rights. Both were critical, too, of army counsel John G. Adams.

COHN REPLIES

Cohn, 27, who bore the sharpest criticism from both sides, complained that apparently anyone who sought to conduct investigations "has to contend not only with the Senate Democratic party but with certain politics as well." Cohn is a Democrat.

Asked by McCarthy, the Republicans said in their report that he had not tried personally to get preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a friend of Cohn's, but that other investigators bear on the army in behalf of

CITY & DISTRICT NEWS

This morning skies were sunny though temperatures remained cool for the region promises warmer weather. Thursday with skies continuing sunny.

POLICE REQUESTED TO LOCATE MAN

City and provincial police have been asked to assist in locating Robt. Fred Burgess, 34 Station street, who has been missing from his home since August 17th. It is believed the man may have gone to the Cornwall area in search of work.

Burgess was described as being 50 years old, 5 feet seven inches tall and weighing 160 pounds. He has wavy brown hair, brown eyes and a fair complexion. When he left home he was wearing a khaki shirt, blue striped trousers and heavy work shoes.

CUSTOMS RETURNS SHOW DECREASE

Customs returns for the port of Belleville for the month of August showed a decrease of $305, 751.86 compared with August 1948 the same period a year ago.

Returns for August 1949 were $637,616.14. In August '33 returns were $963,370.37.

Seven Scouts From Chicago Visit District

An international scouting project is currently in the district based on Camporee Grounds at Point Anne.

Paul Price, a scoutmaster from Chicago, and seven scouts are visiting Belleville scouts during this week. The American Scouts arrived at Point Anne Monday afternoon after driving from Chicago in Mr. Price's car. They will return to the United States on Friday.

The visit of the American boys, who range in age from 14 to 17, was first planned by the late "Doc" Churchill and Mr. Price, old friends and enthusiastic supporters of the scouting movement. When "Doc" Churchill died early this year, the plans, which he initiated were carried forward by Bernard Fox, Scoutmaster of the Fifth Belleville Scouts and Wilkie Jackson, Scoutmaster of the Second Belleville Scouts, with the co-operation of the Belleville Scouting Association.

A busy program has been arranged for the visitors during their stay in Canada. On Tuesday they were taken on a conducted tour of the Canada Cement Company plant at Point Anne under the courtesy of company officials.

Today they are scheduled to take a tour of Fort Henry in Kingston and the Thousand Island boat tour with the assistance of members of the Belleville Scouting Association.

Thursday evening the American Scouts will hold an investiture on the Camporee Grounds to which parents of all scouts in the district group committees and Rover Scouts and those interested in scouting are invited. The investiture ceremonies will be held after supper at Point Anne. Scouts will act as traffic officers to direct visitors to the side of the ceremonies.

It is learned that the visit of Mr. Price and his Scouts is the first of its kind in the Belleville district.

'Parental Failure' Right Name For Juvenile Delinquency U.S. Judge Tells Kiwanians

A United States judge here yesterday blamed failure of parents to realize their responsibilities as the main cause of juvenile delinquency.

Clarence Cass Henry, Judge of Monroe County, N.Y., speaking to the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club here said "juvenile delinquency is strictly a misnomer, for the correct term should be parental failure."

He acknowledged there were other reasons for criminal acts, the wardness in teen-agers but "the greatest single factor is the failure of the parents to adequately perform their responsibilities."

He said broken homes, unhappy domestic atmospheres that cause bitterness in the parents, and carelessness in the parents' attitude are sure to start children off on the wrong road.

Said Judge Henry: "These parents are not living up to that which society demands of them."

They are not giving children parental advice or enforcing discipline, and "of the greatest importance perhaps," not showing parental affection.

It is not too difficult to recognize the problems of juvenile delinquency, "but to cope with it presents grave problems," he said.

BROACHED AFTER SALE

Broached after his talk Judge Henry said the important thing in getting to grips with the problem was "to educate the public and make them realize just what they have in the realms of juvenile delinquency, such as church societies and parent-teacher associations could do much to aid in bringing it to the attention of the public," he said.

His address Judge Henry outlined to the Kiwanis an experimental program started in 1929 at first-hand, to students, the effects for a better future from a court charge arising from a juvenile criminal act.

SPLENDID RESULTS

The students were assembled in the schools' auditoriums before members of the D.A.'s staff who treated fictitious incidents leading up to a criminal offence by a teen-ager, his appearance in court, and the reappearance of his record later in life to hamper him materially in a career.

"That program went to every high school (in Monroe County) and the results . . . were splendid.

Judge Henry said reports are received yearly from the schools but from the students themselves, which showed the message "had struck home."

He criticized late hours kept by juveniles for leading to acts of waywardness.

"Late at night is no time for a kid to be hanging around a drug store or a pool room . . . It's bad."

He also emphasized the necessity for a better understanding of the case of the adult parolee and criticizing the tendency to push him down "instead of giving him a hand up" because people are suspicious of him, and "think the leopard cannot change his spots.

"He can. He can change his spots—given consideration, and hope and help," he said.

Cheese Exchange

A total of 5,001 cheese was sold on the Belleville Cheese Exchange last night. Prices all round was 30 cents. Making up the total were 1,134 specials, 1,833 white and 1,034 colored cheese.

Leonard, who led the two-man Canadian team in the recent cup matches at Laval sur le Lac, Que., said Tuesday three countries have already bid for the 1955 tournament. He identified the countries as Australia, England and a South American country.

Hurricane At-a-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Carol blew itself out today, leaving behind this toll of death and damage in the north-eastern states and Canada:

Rhode Island: 17 reported dead, damage through the state estimated at $50,000,000, martial law declared.

Massachusetts: 15 dead, 20-foot tidal wave battered Cape Cod where 20,000 persons evacuated and emergency declared, Boston hard hit.

Connecticut: One dead, shore communities on Long Island sound flooded and main line of New Haven Railroad under six feet of water at some points, thousands evacuated.

Maine: Three dead.

Canada: Two dead, storm died out after slashing Montreal with 65-mile-an-hour winds.

New Hampshire: Three dead, Vermont: One dead.

Pennsylvania: Two dead.

New York: One dead, countless homes, cities, boats damaged by wind and floods on Long Island, thousands of homes without electricity or telephones.

New Jersey: Two dead, coast residents evacuated.

Lawyers Urged To Be Sensitive To Many Changes

WINNIPEG (CP)—The law profession was told today it must be sensitive to the scientific, industrial and economic changes that are a part of Canada's rapid development.

In a presidential address aimed particularly at the younger members of the Canadian Bar Association, staseu Ujimoto, president, Mr. MacAulay of Winnipeg said vast new legal fields are being opened up by new discoveries and changing circumstances.

The address was prepared for delivery to the opening session of the association's 36th annual meeting.

"Since the beginning of Canada's economic expansion in 1935, the completion of legal requirements has changed materially. Many problems in legal fields little explored and comparatively vaguely known present themselves in a fast-moving economy.

GRAVE RESPONSIBILITY

"We have cast upon us a very grave and serious responsibility. We are not and should never be people who merely know the law and represent clients, whether it be or out of courts.

"We should be, and our historic role has made us far more than that. We are people who not merely administer the law. We ought to help shape and make the law.

"It is our duty to preserve what is best from the past by restating ancient principles and formulas in terms of the needs of the present."

Three Youths On Lake Huron Guided to Safety

IPPERWASH, Ont. (CP)—Three tired and seasick United States youths were guided to safety through Lake Huron waters and sharp rocks by catlights and flares held by persons on the shore Tuesday night.

Paul Brownell, 17, Robert Webster, 18, both of Detroit, and Lee Wilbraham, 18, of Cincinnati, were on their way from Port Huron to Michigan City, Indiana in a 36-foot cruiser when a storm blew up.

They said they saw lights on shore and thought it was their destination. Those watching from shore said the cruiser missed a buoy at Kettle point by a few feet and just missed the sharp reefs at the point.

Wilbraham had been at the wheel when the storm struck. Brownell and Webster were unable to help him. Arnold C. Dodge, provincial police at Ipperwash Park, and trailer residents in the park guided and pulled the craft unharmed to shore.

Extra Police Guard Princess At Edinburgh

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—Extra police guards were posted around the Edinburgh Lyceum theatre tonight as Princess Margaret ignored a mysterious telephoned threat and attended a Shakespearian performance.

The anonymous warning that she should "stay away" was telephoned to the theatre manager last night. Police attributed it to extreme Scottish Nationalists.

Hundreds of spectators, until the special guards kept watch on the huge crowds that gathered, carried a few pencilled scraps of paper saying "get rid of the Queen" in English gc" which appeared on store windows in the theatre's main streets.

Most of the crowd remained outside during the performance, which gave a big cheer as Margaret departed for a late dinner party.

Petrov Right In Fearing Wife

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Mrs. Evdokia Petrov said she would have betrayed her Russian diplomat husband last spring had she known he intended to quit the Soviet embassy for the West.

She told the Australian royal commission on espionage her husband's decision to defect from the Russian embassy here, where he was third secretary, "because he was afraid of me."

Both she and her husband sought and were granted political asylum in Australia in April. Petrov declared the Communists first and turned over sheafs of secret documents on espionage to the Australian government. Mrs. Petrov had been a code clerk in the embassy, was on her way back to Moscow when she changed her mind and also decided to stay in Australia.

Police and Store Salesmen Team Up to Catch Man

City police and appliance store salesmen teamed up in a relay race late Tuesday afternoon to apprehend a suspected shop-lifter who led a lusting half-mile chase before he was apprehended on James street.

Police in charge Jack Anson Richards, 42, of 209½ Front street with stealing a mantel radio worth $79.50 from Ireland Appliance store on Front street.

Shortly after four o'clock Gerald Brickman, salesman for Ireland's spotted a man at the rear of the store carrying a radio, which he suspected came from the store.

He took out in pursuit and was joined by a Mr. Wemp, salesman representative for a leading washing company firm. They overhauled Richards at Chenet Bisson store, where he was relieved of the radio.

Then in a continued effort to get away Richards ran on down Front street with Mr. Wemp in pursuit. Police joined the chase at Fireman's Park where the pursuit was practically running across the C.P.R. tracks.

With P.C. Hall acting as spotter on the bridge Constable Lee took up the chase along the tracks. Constable Schreider in the police cruiser circled around the lower bridge to head off escape in that direction.

But P. C. Lee proved himself something of a distance runner and caught up to his quarry as he headed north on James street Richards was apprehended and after being charged with the theft was lodged in police station.

Are you confused about buying a diamond? . . .

Perhaps you've heard of attractive - sounding "deals" . . . but is a "bargain" diamond really a good buy? Actually you save only when you pay less for something than it should cost. And when you consider there are about 1,800 variations in grading diamonds, you would have to be an expert to be sure of what you're buying. So, if like most people, you must rely on the integrity of your jeweller, seek the advice of a recognized authority who can guide your selection of a diamond of full value.

Salsberg Fails In Attempt To See Premier

TORONTO (CP)—J. B. Salsberg tried to see Premier Frost Tuesday but said he was told the premier was out and that the acting premier was Attorney - General Porter.

Mr. Salsberg, Labor-Progressive party member of the legislature for Toronto St. Andrews, said quite what happened next:

He tried to get Mr. Porter but discovered the attorney - general was in western Canada. He called the premier's office again and was told that Highways Minister Doucett was the premier. Mr. Doucett wasn't in either.

Another call to the premier's office disclosed Provincial Secretary Welsh was the man to see. Then Mr. Welsh was out of town. In a last attempt Mr. Salsberg said he tried to get Labor Minister Daley only to find that he, too, was out.

Mr. Salsberg had led a party deputation to Queen's Park seeking immediate action from the provincial government on unemployment and support of an all-Canadian seaway.

Prices: Choice steers and heifers 21-22, a few small lots at 22.25; good steers 20-21; good heifers 18-18.50; medium down to 15; good cows 16-17; canners and cutters down 10-15; good heavy bologna bulls up to 13.25; common light bulls down to 9; common light boner steers and heifers down to 8; medium stockers 16-17.50; common stockers down to 14; veal calves firm at 23-24 for good to choice vealers; common to medium 18-20.

Hogs were unsettled today. Tuesday's hogs were generally 25-50 a hundredweight for Grade A, 27.50 for B1. There were 236 hogs out Tuesday at 26.75. Sows Tuesday were generally 1 with 26 sows out at 19.50.

Sheep and lambs were steady at 25 a hundredweight delivered by rail, 23 delivered by truck for good ewes and wethers; bucks discounted $1 a hundredweight; common to medium lambs 15-20 a hundredweight; good light sheep 8-10; common sheep down to 4.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was weak on large eggs, steady on other grades. Offerings were in excess of a quiet demand.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, in fibre cases, graded: A large 49-50; A medium 37; A small 29; B 31-32; C 24. Wholesale to retail: A large 54-55; A medium 42; A small 34; B 36-37; C 28.

Butter salted: Ontario, 1st grade, tenderable 58; non-tenderable 56½-57.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market turned mixed with dwindling forenoon activity today.

Gains balanced losses in most groups and a few sections showed a slight climb. Price changes were small and first-hour volume totalled only 407,000 shares—lightest in three weeks.

Industrials, golds and western oils were firm. Base metals eased, particularly in seniors, but losses were small. Mining holding companies were down and uraniums, Bathurst and Manitouwadge stocks were steady.

Mother, Children Slain With Ax, Father Suicides

HALIFAX (CP)—A mother and her two young daughters were found beaten to death with a double-blade ax today and the father was found dead under his car a quarter-mile away.

The bodies of Mrs. Leo Oliver and her daughters Marcia, 3, and Sharon, 2, were on the porch of their modest frame home at nearby Lucasville.

The blood-stained ax was found across the bodies.

The door leading from the porch to the kitchen of the home was locked.

RCMP declined to give details but said it appeared to be murder and suicide.

The body of Mr. Oliver was found under his car at the home of his mother. He was believed a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Canada Slashes Controls on Trade With Soviet Bloc

OTTAWA (CP) —Canada has slashed controls on trade with Soviet bloc countries freeing a large group of goods from export permit requirements, such items as synthetic rubber, freight cars, dynamite and low-power diesel engines.

Trade officials said Tuesday it was the biggest cut in export controls since the Korean war, but they doubted that it would lead to any large expansion of Canadian trade with the Soviet.

The revisions, approved by the cabinet following cuts by other Western powers, go into effect today. The new list of controls was detailed Tuesday in a special edition of the Canada Gazette.

Canadian exporters no longer will require government approval for shipments of such goods as synthetic rubber—except the butyl type which is still considered strategic—phenol used in the plastics industry, dynamite, polyethylene, sulphuric acid, carbon black used in the production of auto tires and a group of other chemicals.

Also removed from export controls are: Low-power diesel engines, freight cars, some electric machines and transformers, outboard motors, electric furnaces, various industrial equipment such as electrolytic finishing units, water-treating equipment, stainless steel tanks elementary grinding machines, railway axle lathes and some forging and pipe-threading machines.

Save Three Men After Fishboat Overturns, Sinks

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three men were rescued from a life raft 500 miles north of here Tuesday night after their boat, the fishing ship Aberdeen, Wash., overturned and sank.

The three were picked up at 12 midnight by the flatboat White Swan.

First word of the sinking came from the craft Five Brothers which intercepted a radio call from the Saru requesting Coast Guard aid.

Saru had been fishing in Hecate strait. There were no immediate details on how the sinking occurred.

POLIO DECLINING

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—This British island's elementary schools were ordered today to remain closed another week as polio cases in a month-long epidemic rose to 76. Four victims have died. Dr. Melville MacKenzie, a specialist in the government sent from London after the epidemic struck, said the number of cases being reported now is at the decline.

Authority Appointed To Manage Housing

TRENTON (Special) — An authority to administer rental houses in the land sub-division west of the Trenton golf course was established here on Monday night.

The authority, headed by builder Bert Strong, will handle the renting of 25 houses being built here under the Central Mortgage plan. Other members of the authority are town clerk and treasurer O. W. Larry, who will be housing manager and secretary; J. C. Gillan, R. H. Baker and E. R. Wiggins are members.

The authority expects that sometime in January of next year 30 three-bedroom houses and five two-bedroom houses will be handed over to them for rental. Tenders for the building of the new homes will be called for at the end of this month.

Rentals will come directly under the authority and council has no jurisdiction in this matter.

The authority has not struck a rental rate but a $60 a month basic figure is under consideration.

No One Injured In Freak Accident

TRENTON (Special) — A car out of control on Highway No. 2 west of here yesterday cut off a hydro pole, climbed up a guy wire supporting the pole and fell over on its top in a freak accident that sent an ambulance and police racing to the scene to aid the occupants. By some luck of fate the driver and his wife escaped with only superficial cuts and a severe shaking.

A passing motorist came off second best when a section of the pole fell across the highway and struck his car at the front door. Fortunately again no person was injured since the seat next to the driver was empty.

The accident happened when the car bearing American plates travelling west was caught out in the south lane while passing a transport at the curve in front of Freeman's Motel. The driver, who took to the ditch to avoid a crash

Tax Payments Almost Cease In N.B. Town

MILLTOWN, N.B. (CP) — Tax payments here have almost ceased since a recent announcement that the town's only major industry, the Milltown cotton mill, will be closed soon, a special town council meeting was told Tuesday night. The plant employs 230 workers before gradual layoffs began.

The town's financial position was termed "precarious" and the council decided to withhold salaries of the mayor and aldermen temporarily.

Mayor Ralph Egan said if the situation did not improve quickly, services threatened with curtailment would include schools, street lighting, firemen, police, the water supply, plowing snow and sanding streets.

Depressed conditions in the Canadian textile industry generally have been blamed by the mill operators, Textile Sales, Ltd., for the decision to close down.

SENTENCES SUSPENDED

TRENTON (Special) — One year suspended sentences were handed out to John Coon and Daniel Reid both 21, of Trenton, when they appeared in police court here yesterday charged with stealing auto accessories from parking lots.

Trenton police caught the young men in the act. Magistrate T. Y. Wills gave them a stern warning before he imposed the penalty.

R. A. Farquharson Press Counsellor At Washington

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of Robert A. Farquharson, 55, of Toronto, as press information counsellor to the Canadian embassy in Washington was announced Tuesday by the external affairs department. He assumes his new duties today.

For the last two years, Mr. Farquharson has been director of the information division of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris.

The son of a Presbyterian minister, Mr. Farquharson was born at Claude, Ont., Aug. 25, 1899. He has had more than 25 years' newspaper experience.

He first served as a reporter on the old Toronto Globe and then was managing editor of the old Toronto Mail and Empire. In 1936, after holding a position of managing editor of the Financial Post, he became Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

In 1942, Mr. Farquharson was appointed managing editor of the Globe and Mail. Later, he became editor of the Toronto weekly, Saturday night.

Mr. Farquharson's wife, Rica, is a newspaper and magazine writer. Their son, Duart, is a student at the University of Toronto.

Nine Canoeists From Montreal Reach Albany

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Nine Canadian canoeists, their 400 mile waterway trip from Montreal to New York City running about on schedule, push on down the Hudson river today, hoping to dock at their destination Saturday.

The group arrived at New York state's capital city Tuesday after paddling their 18-foot canoe down the historic Mohawk river from Stillwater. They spent the night in a police station.

Since leaving Montreal Aug. 24, the canoeists have traversed Lake Champlain and Lake George en route to the Hudson.

THAT MEANS TEST AGAIN

"The Printed Word," a lively little pamphlet published monthly by the public relations firm of Johnston, Everson and Charlesworth, has come forward with an ingenious method of remedying Canada's "shot-gun method of distributing baby bonuses and old age pensions regardless of need."

"The Printed Word" states that "the largeness of the taxpayers is distributed to thousands, probably tens of thousands, of families who really do not need it." This costs money, not only in the form of unnecessary payments but also in costs of administration. "Because of this waste," it says, "everyone who pays taxes, including the pensioners, is overtaxed to meet unnecessary welfare costs, while provision for real need must remain inadequate."

Speaking of the means test "The Printed Word," says the prejudice against the test is "based on the almost instinctive dislike of the average citizen towards exposing his private affairs to the ill-mannered scrutiny of government snoopers."

It is at this point that "The Printed Word" introduces a touch of genius. No increased snooping is necessary, it says. All that is required is for government agencies disbursing baby bonuses, old age pensions and other forms of aid to require an applicant to make an affidavit to the effect that, during the previous year, after all allowable exemptions and deductions had been made on his income tax return, no tax had been payable.

It looks like a good suggestion. As far as baby bonuses are concerned, we can see no valid objection. It would be necessary to revise the income tax exemption for children, for the present figure is entirely inadequate and was quite obviously set with the existence of universal baby bonuses in mind. The result would be that family incomes would not be reduced, the increased tax exemption offsetting the loss of the allowance. There would be, we fancy, a few cases where children would suffer, because baby bonuses are payable to the mother, while the latter pay envelope would have to pass through the hands of the father before the increased tax exemption would be available for expenditure on the children's needs. But this drawback would be more than offset by a reduction in taxation for Canadians as a whole.

Unfortunately, however, the scheme will not work in connection with old age pensions.

It does remedy one objection to the means test, the "almost instinctive dislike of the average citizen towards exposing his private affairs to the ill-mannered scrutiny of government snoopers." This, however, was never the main reason why Canadians disliked the means test for old age pensions. The chief argument against it is that it is unjust.

Two persons may have worked at similar jobs throughout a lifetime and received similar remuneration. One saved his money, the other spent it. Should the man who was thrifty be penalised, being denied a pension while his shiftless companion received one?

One man may have worked hard, while another loafed. Does the country owe a pension to the loafer but none to the worker?

The chief reason why Canadians detested the means test for the aged, the reason why the vast majority of them are, we are convinced, firmly in favor of the present system of universal pensions is that it is the only fair method.

The means test penalizes thrift and hard work. We might add that we feel sure that this is the last thing that the publishers of "The Printed Word" would want to do.

NEW HORIZONS

A Vermont expedition has captured two muskox calves in the barrens of Canada's Northwest Territories. The expedition is seeking specimen "for breeding, domestication and industrial purposes."

This report tickled our fancy. The sight of "Down East" Yankees plowing their fields with muskoxen a few years hence lured the imagination. Then we were betrayed by the "oxen" suffix. If they are domesticated, the muskoxen will be used to provide wool and not as a substitute for the horse.

Still, the effort to domesticate yet another animal opened up bright possibilities. Before we discovered that the muskoxen's wool had been pulled over our eyes, we were wondering what special problems confronted the Vermont farmer that he required a new type of beast of burden. We were speculating, too, about problems in the Belleville district. Man has been too busy with machines of late years to make any notable progress in the utilization of wild life. Yet the machine age has opened up vast possibilities. The postage stamp gardens of the modern city are obviously too cramped for the efficient utilization of oxen or of horses, but it seems too bad to rush mechanization into the backyard with the acquisition of a garden tractor without giving the animal world a full opportunity to bid on the job. Have the Prince Edward County jackrabbit? With a border of beagles to turn them, they should be able to make fairly fast work of the spring plowing on the average Belleville homestead.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

SEPT. 1, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Dandford, who live on their farm adjoining Madoc Village, are today celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Dandford is ninety years of age and Mrs. Dandford is nineteen years of age. They are both enjoying fairly good health. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Dandford was Miss Louisa Burch.

The wedding took place in Belleville on September first 1883 and the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Ryan. They lived near Belleville for a time and then moved to Madoc where they have now residing. In addition to farming Mr. Dandford also operated a flour mill in Madoc village until about fifteen years ago. Of their family of six children four are living, namely, Joseph of Madoc; Mrs. Ketcheson of Harold; Miss Florence of Madoc; Willy live at home; the latter served as a missionary in Western China for twenty-five years. Two sons, John and James, died some years ago. There are fourteen grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren. Mr. Dandford's father lived to be one hundred and fifteen years of age. Today there are 200 in the family gathering and many friends will also be present to offer congratulations and shower presents upon the bride and groom of seventy-one years ago.

30 YEARS AGO

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Force of habit can play us all kinds of tricks. A friend of mine is always producing a pair of cigarettes. When you are in his home, he watches you like a hawk to make sure you tamp the butts out thoroughly in the ash tray. He is the most particular man in the world as you get seated, brings you an ash tray and sets it conspicuously beside you. If your ash grows a little long, he starts to fidget, and will interrupt your business to signal to you to put the ash in the tray. Then, when you drop the butt in the tray, he will get up and come over to make sure you have tamped it out. Though he is a man of considerable professional consequence, and has several hobbies, he feels his chief mission in life is to teach mankind to extinguish cigarette butts.

In his garden, however, he employs an entirely different technique. Conscious of his principles in the matter, I am inclined to drop the butt on the flagstones and step on it, but he is more thorough than tradition.

"No, no, no," he cries. "Toss it away in the grass, there, on the lawn. It'll burn out, right to ashes. It does it in a second. Once I seeing cigarette butts polka dotting the lawn . . ."

So you toss the butt away, and sure enough, it smoulders to nothing, leaving a burned hole.

I met him on the street yesterday, all tanned and fresh down from his summer cottage. But as he tags, he told me, with a gulp, "Force of habit is a dreadful thing. Before now I have flipped butts onto the lawn at home! Well, sir, blamed if I didn't toss a butt off the verandah at the cottage. And it set fire to the grass. Now, it is perfectly proper to do so in Toronto, where the lawn is cut short. But at the cottage . . ."

"Did you touch fire?," I enquired anxiously.

"No, but I had a pretty frantic ten minutes getting all the fire out and stuff extinguished. I guess I've got to figure out some routine entirely for cigarette butts at the cottage."

It is nice to have a mission in life.

Fish in the Garden

(Written for Thome by Dr. Gerald Wendt)

Science, said one wise man, is the best use of the human intelligence to improve the conditions under which we live. Forward that broad purpose there are three particular things. The first is research to explore and understand the environment we live in. The second is the application of this new knowledge in new methods and processes for improving the environment. These two can be done by trained scientists but they have little effect without the third step. That is science education, which brings the discoveries and new methods to the people, into their schools and homes and kitchens, so that each family can improve its own conditions of life.

These are the high-sounding principles of the modern scientific attitude but they are simple. Good sense is shown by a true story that comes from the village of Bactad, East Uttarpradesh in the province of Pengaina in the Philippines. It is a small "faraol" like thousands of others in the Islands and in many another tropical land, with a long standard of living and remote from the scientific life of the university. But the schools are modern. Its teachers may know little about the most recent discoveries in "pure science", but they know that there is vast store of practical knowledge that can be used in the village economy. Therefore, the materials that the human body needs for growth and repair of tissues, for vitality and energy, to live on, but their sweet cassies and waste vegetable matter are put into ponds to feed plants, based upon microscopic plants that grow freely in the shallow waters and even on the surface of stagnant refuse. This rich protein food produced almost without labor for it is grown in the home garden and does not involve any expensive irrigation or refuse operation.

But there are by-products too. When fish-ponds are dug, the excavated soil forms a dike around the pond, which is then used also for the cultivation of vegetables and fruit trees, again with a view to diversity the diet. Every village learns to build a compost heap in which certain good-smelling waste into rich fertilizer for vegetable gardens and rice fields. Furthermore, a community assigned on such a venture must have a supply of good water for drinking. Bactad of Urdaneta made a community well from a spring on a hillside from a neighboring brook. As a result, the town is clean, free of disease and healthy.

But the tilapia culture would not have been possible without scientific study done elsewhere by trained experts. Each of the several fish that was not much used for food in the Philippines has been discovered by scientists. It was imported first into Malaya and, finally, into the Philippine Island. It was soon found there that tilapia would thrive in ponds, in ditches, swamps, canals and in the shallow water of rice fields. The tilapia breeds in fresh or brackish water. Two tilapia in a pond can produce 2,000 young fish in a year. In four months the fingerlings grow to a weight of half a pound each. Thus one pair of fish can be producing 400 to 600 young every year. They are prolific breeders. The tilapia grows to a weight of a pound in a year and can be eaten then. Its flesh when cooked is well as fresh.

The Government of Thailand, in cooperation with the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, through its Fisheries Agency, undertook an intensive investigation of breeding of this fish. The Ministry of Agriculture keeps a big tank teeming with fishes for free distribution to farmers come by foot, bus or bicycle to get them. The Ministry also takes home pairs of breeding fish. Dr. Ling Shao-wen, a marine biologist of the Thai Government, has illustrated pamphlet on how to cultivate the fish which is distributed throughout the country. Even King Phumipohl Adulidej grew interested in the culture in the royal palaces at Bangkok. As a result, tilapia culture in Thailand has grown now ponds with "the magic fish that the King has" and the fish is now a popular, relatively cheap and nutritious than the fingerlings of the fish which are escaping with nets from the mass of Thai canals since time immemorial.

In the Philippines, as Mr. Obra's article has made clear, the culture of the village was spontaneous and started by a few enterprising settlers with a few enterprising settlers with a few enterprising settlers with

Honor Ontario On CNE Program Wednesday

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition's home province was to be special recognition today in the CNE's "Ontario on the March" theme.

With mixed expected to clear by noon officials were hoping the record 388th day crowd of 387,000 set in 1951 might become second best. Rain swept the waterfront grounds Monday and Tuesday and forced crowds to seek shelter but attendance is still 30,000 more than last year.

Tuesday 179,800 persons circled through the turnstiles, 36,300 less than during the corresponding day of the 1953 exhibition.

CARS ON PARADE

Automobiles dating back to the earliest were on display. Visitors thereby caught a glimpse of what they may expect in future models. Re-called "dream cars" provided a marked contrast to the former vintage vehicles.

CNE directors at their daily luncheon feted Colston's R. S. McLaughlin, chairman of the board of General Motors of Canada, referred to as the father of Canada's automobile industry.

Another automotive pioneer honored was Charles F. Kettering, inventor of the self-starter for motor cars.

START JUDGING

The Exhibition's dairy cattle section was rapidly being filled as today's closing deadline for entries approached. First of the dairy breeds will go into the show ring Thursday.

The Exhibition spotlight today is focussed also on the country's food industry centres in the newest CNE addition, the food products building erected at a cost of $2,500,000 and in use for the first time this year.

ORE SHIPMENTS DROP

CLEVELAND (AP) — Great Lakes vessels loaded 1,587,151 tons of iron ore in the week ended Monday, The Lake Superior Iron Ore Association, noting that Tuesday, said it brought the total for the year to 62,113,179 tons. During the similar week last year the fleet loaded 2,226,179 tons and had a cumulative total of 64,813,735 tons.

WINS $50,000 FARM GAMBLE

Largest individual tobacco plantation in Ontario is the result of a $50,000 gamble by Thomas Murphy, right, who came out of retirement to make a 50-acre farm near Harrow, Ont. His crop, worth $35,000, is second to none in quality, according to John Hicks, left, a tobacco grower of North Carolina who helped Murphy develop his farm on land untested for tobacco growing, planted a hardy strain, built new kilns, barns and greenhouses. The total is equal to anything in the U.S. in efficiency, according to Mr. Hicks.—Central Press Canadian.

ZWINSKI—SHEPPARD

Tall standards of pink and white gladioli, interspersed with ferns, formed a lovely setting on Friday, August 27th, at 7.30 p.m., for a candlelight, double-ring wedding ceremony in Irving Park Road Church, Chicago, Illinois, for the marriage of Eileen Vera Sheppard, of Chicago, formerly of Belleville, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sheppard, of Codrington, Ontario, to Stanley Paul Zwinski, of Guam, son of Mrs. F. Zwinski, of Iowa, U.S., and the late Mr. Zwinski. The Rev. J. Wightman, pastor of the church, officiated.

The church organist provided the traditional wedding music, and the soloist sang, "Because," before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harold Sheppard, the bride was radiant in her bridal gown of blue chiffon velvet fashioned in street-length on princess lines with portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves. She wore a tiny pink hat and veil with matching pink gloves and shoes, and carried a bouquet of pink Briarcliffe roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gerry Way, of Belleville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, gowned in mauve colored chiffon velvet in street-length, similarly styled to that of the bride, with orchid accessories, in bouquet of Talisman roses, edged with fern and sprayed with completed her ensemble.

Mr. Harry Wright, of Chicago, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Howard Sheppard, of Codrington, brother of the bride, was usher.

The wedding reception was held at the Town House, Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, where the bride's mother, wearing copenhagen blue with navy accessories and corsage of red roses, received the guests. For her wedding to Master Sgt. the young couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Zwinski will reside in Agana, Guam, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. navy.

Guests were present from Belleville, Carman, Manitoba; Codrington, Trenton and Iowa, U.S.

The bride, who is a graduate of Belleville General Hospital, will complete her course in anaesthesia at Reverend Sisters, Chicago, before taking up residence at Guam.

R. Christie Noted Canadian Actor To Direct Theatre Guild Play

ROBERT CHRISTIE

A. E. Robb, president of the Belleville Theatre Guild announced today that Robert Christie, well-known Canadian actor, will spend six weeks in Belleville this fall to direct Mr. Noel Coward's presentation of their first fall production. This announcement was made following a executive meeting last night at which plans were formulated for the 1954-1955 season. The first major production to be presented October 5th and 6th will be "The Happy Hearted" by Jean Giraudoux. This delightful 3-act comedy produced by the Ottawa Little Theatre was the award for the best production at the Dominion Drama Festival in 1950.

Mr. Christie, who will act as supervisory director, is well known in Canadian theatre, having just completed his second season at the Shakespearean Festival where he played prominent roles in both "Measure for Measure" and "The Taming of the Shrew." He has been actively associated with theatre since he graduated from University of Toronto in 1934 taking a leading part in the Little Theatre at Victoria College which culminated in his playing the title role of Michael, in the Bessborough Award play." Following graduation he was selected with the John Holden Players in Toronto, Barn, and Wheelbarrow. In 1937 Mr. Christie went to England, where he played with various stock companies at Tenby, Bixton, Chiltenham, etc. He was a member of the Old Vic Mediterranean Tour. In 1938-39 and played with the English tour of "Desire Under the Elms" in 1940 following which he served in the Canadian Army until 1946. On his return to Canada, Mr. Christie has been active on the stage and in radio and television productions since that time.

Other plans finalized include 3-act plays to be presented early in January and mid-February followed by a public presentation of three one-act plays at the end of March. The workshop program under Miriam Bishop is being organized and will include this year plays produced specifically for home and school discussion groups. Several of the committees have been quite active during the summer months in particular the program committee under Mrs. W. J. Doyle who reported that programs are planned for all regular meetings till the end of the year. The play selection committee under Mrs. A. E. May has also been active having reviewed a number of plays and selected those suitable for presentation. Reports were also received of proposed activities from other committee chairmen as follows: property, Mrs. Dolly Cain; membership, Mrs. Catherine Darlington; production, Court Miller; library, W. Kellett; social, Mrs. Edna Clifton; radio plays, Gordon Leggett; by-laws, Bert Simpson and the treasurer, J. Abrams.

DIES IN CHAIR

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Walter E. Whitaker, convicted of the 1953 murder of Joyce Fern White of Lubbock, Tex., died early today in the Texas prison system's electric chair. The former air force cadet was convicted of strangling the girl and burying her body on the prairie.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary Of Maternity Dress

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

"Today it's fashionable to have a baby and go on about your normal activities up to the moment of lawful, for the hospital.

Fifty years ago things were different. Etiquette ruled that no lady should appear in public while in a "delicate condition," and the maternity dress was unknown. Most expectant mothers were sentenced to months of solitary confinement before the blessed event.

A woman largely responsible for changing the attitude was a young widowed New York dressmaker named Mrs. Lane Bryant, who made the first maternity dress and one of her customers in 1904. This smack members of the fashion and retailing world are meeting to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the maternity dress, unknown. Most expectant mothers were sentenced to months of solitary confinement before the blessed event.

Today there are scores of successful manufacturers of maternity garments, but back in the early days of Mrs. Bryant's business career, New York newspapers refused to accept advertisements for such garments, holding that the subject of mothers-to-be was too scandalous for public print.

HERALD RAN AD

It was the New York Herald forerunner of the present Herald Tribune, which finally broke precedent by accepting an ad from Mrs. Bryant in 1911. Under the headline "maternity" the ad's copy read:

"... Doctors, nurses and psychologists agree that at this time a woman should think and live as normally as possible. To do this she must go about among other people, she must look like other people."

Response was reported so great the store's entire stock of maternity clothes was sold out by closing time the first day.

Nowadays the modern expectant mother often starts her waiting period by buying a maternity wardrobe, complete from bathing suits and shorts to evening gowns, and manages to look smart and pretty throughout the nine months. If she is a working mother, she often stays on the job up to the last minute, with no embarrassment, preferring to take her maternity leave after the baby is born.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A TRAGIC STORY THAT CAN HAVE A HAPPY ENDING

On Christmas Eve, 1945, a young husband was hurrying home at top speed. He was his first wedding anniversary—and his first Christmas Eve—as a married man. For all that time he had been on overseas service with the Navy, and was rushing to his wife's arms, slavery in his arms.

Today, nine years later, the glow of that awaited him that night is still so vivid a part of his life that it is wearing the pattern of his existence into something he has not contemplated.

When he enlisted in the navy early in the last war, he had been wed little less than a year, and the child of another man, born when he was travelling through a marriage ceremony. Though, the husband says, she had been a devoted wife for an interval, and had the illegal marriage annulled, she has since thereafter discovered it had left her pregnant. There had been other men, too, she confessed, with whom she had become involved during her husband's absences.

WITH LOYALTY

Despite the soul-wrenching shock, the husband stood by his wife with utmost loyalty and strength of character. "I had to," he says, "because I loved her regardless of anything she had done." And still struggling to adjust to the world that has never stopped reeling, he adds: "It happened only because we had to be apart, and some times I almost understand, though during all the time I was with her I had no such relationship with anyone."

When, a few months after his return home, his wife gave birth to his other man's son, they had the baby adopted, moved to a new part of the country and set about trying to begin life all over again. Heroically though this man has tried to understand and forgive, however, the barrier of the past still stands rigidly there between them.

"If it's possible to love and hate a person at the same time," he writes, "that's how I feel about my wife. She says I won't let her love me. But if this is true, I don't know it. We have wanted very much to be happy and to raise our three children, who love both of us, and we're certain, we will be busy as they need us. But what the children are grown, what then? While has always been a good mother and wife, yet we can find happiness together for only a few short hours at a time.

"Where is our future? What is right for us to do? Is it possible that after the children have grown up and left us we will find each other again, in greater maturity, and in the knowledge that we will have so much sharing the blessings and happiness of having raised three wonderful children?"

Now here, it seems obvious to me, are two essentially fine people, who both love each other and want to be together. But can the dreadful barrier between them be broken down so that this love and desire be together can have free rein?

I believe it can, if they will go about it in the right way.

And I believe that the first step along the right way is for them to tell themselves, and to assure each other, that it can be done; that with intelligence and the will to have it so, they can achieve the greater maturity" of which this man speaks that will take the bitterness out of the past, make the present worth living and the future something to which to look happily forward.

In this spirit, and with this attitude of mind, I think they should seek out a competent marriage counselor in their locality and together—or, if they prefer, separately—tell him the whole sorrowful story in all its details, and let him help them find the road that will lead them back to each other.

I am quite certain that, although it may not seem, this problem can be solved, and happiness and harmony restored to this home. I even venture to predict that it is possible for these two lost and confused people to achieve a greater measure of understanding and companionship then they have ever known to date.

It can be done if they will try, and try together. Will they?

"Dear Mary: You have given me so many recipes and ideas which have proved helpful that I want to do you a little favor in return. . . . I am always on the lookout for new material to feature in my article on, and I do only two columns a week. It must be hectic to get one off every day, answer your mail and try out many of the recipes too."

"My family has shrunk since the middle of May. . . . my husband has always bought the groceries. I give him a list and let him choose whatever is best in meat and vegetables (or rather whatever he fancies). It has been a hot summer, to get him to cut down on buying meat and bread. He will buy the meat I list then pick up two or three fancy breads, or some bargain in cakes, and is very much inclined to buy a roast of beef. . . usually 5-6 pounds or more.

"Last week I said no more roasts of beef until the family is back again. I scanned the paper and picked out a cooked shoulder of pork. He bought one, five pounds, and it was delicious and cost forty-nine cents a pound.

"Thursday I ground up a cup of the pork and added it to four hard-boiled eggs with a tablespoon of boiled salad dressing, a little grated onion and chopped celery. Please set on straight as to what I should think about the demands? I don't want to be unfair, but on the other hand, I don't want to be imposed on. And I'm so confused by all that has happened lately. Is it wisdom for me to stand by, letting it run its course, or should I speak out and tell him how I feel? Perplexed

Dear Perplexed: I should think you would be, with your dreams crashing down so bitterly and so suddenly. As to what to do, I'm afraid you must be advised that, as you were married, even for such a short time, you have no legal claim whatever to any of your husband's salary, belong to you. Certainly you should not be asked to return your wedding ring and engagement ring. And certainly your husband's mother has no right to ask you for the return of any of the wedding presents. However, I do think it would be on the side of being very fair if you return to your husband at his request, not at his mother's request) the wedding presents that have been given to you by his family and relatives and friends of his family. Under these circumstances, of yours this is often the decision made, and it is the fairest solution.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

AFTER SHORT MARRIAGE, WHAT TO DO WITH WEDDING PRESENTS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have a 'desperate' question to ask you. After a most problematic marriage of two months' duration, my husband and I separated last week. We have as yet made no decision about divorce. My husband's mother telephoned me today to say, in no uncertain terms, that her son (my husband) thought that I should immediately return to him my wedding ring and my engagement ring, and that she thought I should return some of the wedding presents to their family. Please set me straight as to what I should think about these demands? I don't want to be unfair, but on the other hand, I don't want to be imposed on. And I'm so confused by all that has happened lately. Is it wisdom for me to stand by, letting it run its course, or should I speak out and tell him how I feel? Perplexed

First Reports On Polio Vaccine Vary Greatly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Preliminary reports on effectiveness of the Salk polio vaccine ranged from "very encouraging" to "much too soon" to tell.

These are the comments of medical men across the United States in areas where the vaccine was administered to school children in the second grade, most of them seven years old.

Health officers show a general tendency to keep their fingers crossed until complete returns are in; even though a majority say they so far have discovered no cases among those vaccinated.

In some districts there have been polio cases among those vaccinated. But health authorities say the patients could have contracted the ailment before receiving all three Salk shots.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is withholding comment on effectiveness of the vaccine until it gets a report on a survey conducted independently at the University of Michigan.

PEAK SEASON TO COME

A spokesman for the foundation said the polio season has not yet reached its peak, and advised against any premature findings.

The "very encouraging" report came from Dr. Lucon Sharp, Charleston, S.C., Charleston county health director.

"I am very much impressed with the vaccine," he said, adding that there had been 37 polio cases in the county since Jan. 1, and that only the child who received the vaccine contracted the disease.

The opinion that it is "much too soon" to determine results was given by Dr. Russell E. Teague, commissioner of state health secretary. However, no cases have been reported in Pennsylvania among children who received the vaccine.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, 39, director of the virus research laboratory at the University of Pittsburgh, developed the vaccine, which was administered to approximately 428,000 children last spring.

$18,000 Worth Of Furs Taken

MONTREAL (CP)—Thieves fled with $18,000 worth of furs from a mid-town fur store Tuesday as police arrived to answer a burglar alarm.

Police arrived at the store minutes after the alarm was sounded but they found the shop ransacked. A black persian lamb coat was found in a nearby lane, apparently dropped by the thieves in their flight.

Police said the back door of the store had been forced open.

TO BE CHURCH SECRETARY

NEW YORK (CP)—Rev. Edward H. Johnson of Montreal today will attend a seven-year term as general secretary of the student volunteer movement to take up new duties in Toronto as secretary for overseas missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Question Man On Disappearance Of Toronto Girl

TORONTO (CP) — Police said they are questioning a man they said was found to be carrying a picture of Marion McDowell, 17-year-old typist from whom mysteriously disappeared almost nine months ago.

They said the man, identified as Stanley Zwarich, 37, of Toronto, was picked up for Toronto police in Winnipeg on a charge of vagrancy. A worthless cheque for $2.57 on a Toronto auto firm. He was bound for Regina carrying a photo of the missing McDowell girl, but police investigation established that he was in Saskatoon industrial farm at the time of her disappearance. Police said if they question Zwarich himself could have nothing to do with the McDowell case. But they were undertaking just in the belief it was possible he might have some knowledge of it.

Find Bar Girls In Phenix City In Crime Club

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (ap)—A bar-girl probe in Phenix City took on national intrigue Tuesday with the discovery of the Pachuco Society mark on two former Regina, Sask., girls.

One of the girls' additional guarantees she was actually lured into the terrorist society originating in Mexico which "specializes in murder, rape, and dope addiction."

Lieut. M. J. Wiman, of the Air Force National Guard, said the Pachuco marks were discovered Monday on Mary Audrey Bell, 18, and Arlene Dively, 25, former B-girls at the Blue Bonnet Cafe.

Wiman said Miss Dively told investigators the names of five other girls who also have Pachuco marks and who now are in Phenix City.

The Pachuco mark is a cross with a halo of dots. The dots were in red and the cross in black. When a Pachuco member gets in trouble with the law, he or she is allowed to have one of the dots tattooed black, Miss Dively told the guard.

FREE SPY SUSPECT

FRANKFURT, (Reuters) — A West German court Tuesday freed spy suspect, Ursula Schmidt, 25, from jail on grounds there is no danger she will try to escape. She is accused of conspiring to betray Allied secrets to the Russians. The German divorcee was expelled from Canada last month.

TUNNEL-WING PLANE HOVERS AT 11 M.P.H.

Shown during a test over Oxnard, Calif., this new two-and-one-half twin engine plane demonstrates that it can stay aloft at speeds as slow as 11 miles an hour. William M. Custer, the inventor, said the scoop-shaped wing plane rose at the rate of 3,000 feet a minute after using less than 200 feet of runway. It was brought from 180 miles per hour down to 11, landing at short distances.—Central Press Canadian.

Three Children Burned to Death At Rouyn, Que.

ROUYN, Que. (CP)—Three children, the oldest three years old, were burned to death late Tuesday in a small, one-room cabin behind the children, Marie, 19 months; Claude, 2, and Nicole, 3, were left with a nine-year-old baby sitter while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rousseau, worked in a restaurant 25 feet from the cabin.

Annette Dube left the cabin for about 15 minutes and the fire started. It was believed to have originated in an electric heater. The fire was first noticed by some one in the restaurant.

ORDERED DEPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Donald Winslow Henderson Tuesday was ordered deported to Canada shortly after he protested his innocence of the 1949 killing of his fiancee, Yvonne Levesque. The 37-year-old Canadian engineer was quoted as saying he was anxious to return to Calgary to "clear up this affair."

84-YEAR-OLD CHURCH HIT BY FIRE

Renovation of one of Toronto's landmarks for 84 years, Bloor Street United church was almost destroyed by fire swept its central section, sending flames belching 75 feet high. Starting in the organ loft, the fire raced through the upper rafters, doing an estimated $250,000 damages before subdued by tons of water poured on from aerial extension ladders. Firemen perched precariously on the ladders for over an hour before they could enter the building.—Central Press Canadian.

Burly Guard Totally Deaf For 13 Years

REGINA (CP)—Mel Aull of Saskatchewan Roughriders never hears the whistle, never hears the quarter call out the numbers, yet he's a steady performer in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Aull, a burly guard in the Rider line, has been totally deaf for 13 of his 25 years. He lip-reads to get the play.

Sometimes he has a little trouble talking to people, as Tuesday when he returned from a game at Vancouver with his left arm taped across his chest. Teammates usually are on hand to help him out. They claim he's one of the best running guards in the game.

Mel has been playing football since he was 12. He has been deaf since he was 12, losing his hearing after an attack of spinal meningitis.

He started in junior ranks with a team in Hamilton, his hometown, then made the jump to the Big Four Hamilton entry. He played one season with Hamilton and another three with Ottawa Rough Riders.

In more than four years of pro football, he's been officials only once. He keeps his eyes glued on the ball.

Mass Evacuation Tests Will Be Conducted Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, federal civil defence co-ordinator, said Tuesday he expects mass evacuation tests soon will be conducted in both Vancouver and Winnipeg under a plan to prepare Canadian cities for possible H-bomb attacks.

Gen. Worthington made the statement following his return by air from the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Windsor.

"Vancouver and Winnipeg have volunteered to act as guinea pigs for the mass evacuation experiments," he said in an interview. "They have expressed a desire to go in on the initial studies and their present plans are to launch them at those two points."

Gen. Worthington said, however, that mayors attending the Windsor meeting expressed a keen interest in present plans for mass evacuation experiments. He said he has no doubt that a number of other cities will want to conduct similar tests.

MAY BE THIS WINTER

No date has been set for the tests in Vancouver and Winnipeg but Gen. Worthington said he is hopeful that the Winnipeg experiment can be conducted this winter.

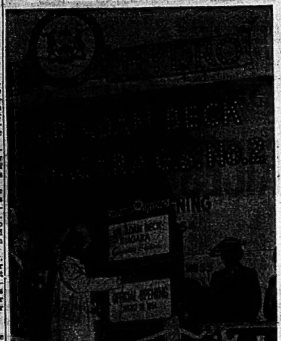
"This would give us an idea of the problems we could expect if mass evacuation is necessary under conditions of extreme cold," he said. "This would be doing it the hard way."

The experiments do not call for the mass evacuation of an entire city.

"We expect to take only a segment of a city for the first tests," he said. "This will allow us to develop the techniques which will be necessary to evacuate an entire city."

Present plans also call for the establishment of panels in cities with civil defence organizations. They would be made up of representatives of federal, provincial and municipal governments and would be in charge of evacuation.

HUGE GENERATING STATION IN OPERATION



The Duchess of Kent presses the button that officially opens the Ontario Hydro's No. 2 generating station at Niagara Falls. It represents one of Canada's greatest engineering accomplishments and is one of three that will produce 1,226,000 horsepower. Total cost will be $343,000,000. Hydro Chairman Saunders appears left.—Central Press Canadian.

Windsor Greets Duchess of Kent And Princess

WINDSOR (CP)—The Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra were welcomed by applauding crowds Tuesday as they stepped from their private railway car for an overnight stay in Windsor.

They were greeted at the station by Mayor Arthur Reaume and city clerk C. V. Waters and their wives.

The station platform was thronged with special police, RCMP and officials while the steep bank flanking the station grounds supported more than 1,000 persons.

The royal pair proceeded by car to Windsor Red Cross headquarters and on to the cenotaph where the first flurf of the visit occurred.

The duchess was supposed to lay a wreath but somehow had forgotten to provide it. She and the princess walked up and down the lines of flag-bearing honor guard from chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

USE BOUQUETS

They approached the cenotaph and paused doubtfully while city and police officials squirmed. They turned and walked away, paused again and went back to the cenotaph where both the royal ladies laid the bouquets of flowers with which they were presented at Red Cross headquarters.

The cavalcade proceeded to the international boundary where the royal party was met by Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit. A guard of honor from Fraser Scottish Regiment was on hand at Ambassador Bridge.

Earlier, at Chatham, the duchess inspected an honor guard of the Kent Regiment, the last time the inspection almost 13 years to the day since a similar inspection by her late husband, the Duke of Kent, when the regiment was training in Halifax.

The duchess and the princess toured Chatham in a red convertible and were given a civic reception.

Bringing Up Baby

Notes Collected by [illegible] (Mother of 3)

A famous doctor advises a new mother to be friendly with their babies. His theory is that friendliness makes the spirit grow, just as food makes the body grow. And a proud new grandmother I know offered these wise words to her daughter: "Whenever you communicate with your baby, wear your heart on your sleeve." Wonderful thought! Even the tiniest babies sense when they are loved . . . respond to the touch of affection.

A friendly attitude instead of a frowning one when you feed baby, may make all the difference between a baby eater and an eager one.

Poor impressions are often lasting ones, especially when baby meets a new food for the first time. When your darling is ready for solids, make this first experience with strained food a pleasant one. Start right off with any one of Gerber's prepacked, ready-to-serve baby Cereals. Tots take to Gerber's readily because the creamy-smooth texture and so nice an delicate flavor. And the bland, but distinctive, flavors seem to suit little taste buds to a T. All four are fortified with iron, vitamins and B-vitamins.

Baby Spoon offer! A heavy silver-plate Baby Spoon (regular value $1.25) is yours for only 25c plus one Gerber's Strained Orange Juice. Because it's made from tree-ripened oranges, specially selected for mild, natural flavor, appealing natural color, Gerber's Orange Juice is rich in Vitamin C, so vital to healthy gums, bones and body tissues. Introduce baby to the delicious flavor of real orange—very digestible. Get Improved point in your Gerber's Orange Juice is guaranteed perfect for baby's system. ## Favor Basing U.S. Defence On Germany, Spain

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong pressures are reported building up to make Germany and Spain, rather than France, the mainstays of United States defence strategy in Western Europe.

A major decision on France's role in American political military policies was forecast today by informed officials.

State Secretary Dulles announced Tuesday that France's rejection of the European Defence Community, which envisioned a 14-division German army, impels the U.S. "to reappraise its foreign policies."

At the same time he called for American - British - French action to give West Germany sovereignty. He called also for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to consider the situation.

REMILITARIZED GERMANY

The U.S. may propose at this NATO meeting that West Germany be rearmed directly under NATO. It was learned that Dulles felt that should be the major problem of the special session.

Dulles wants the 14-power NATO meeting to be held at cabinet level, a full-dress session of foreign, defence and financial ministers, and this probably cannot be arranged before October at the earliest.

No move to write France off as a partner in West European defences against communism appears to be in the cards here. What is more likely is that the U.S. and Britain, with other interested countries, will press for, and eventually find, some kind of plan for rearming Germany which will get at least grudging acceptance from the French.

Meanwhile, there may be some expansion of naval and air base facilities the U.S. is building in Spain, and the assignment of greater importance to Spain's role in the eyes of American strategists.

Crofton

CROFTON — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lafort, of Belleville, were Saturday guests of their mother, Mrs. W. J. Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burr, of Burrs, were Friday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Munro and Keith; Mrs. Ross Burr called at the home of Mrs. J. J. Munro the same evening.

Mrs. Eugene Rorebeck was a week-end guest of Mrs. B. Jones.

Mrs. Beatrice Morden, of Jericho St., spent the week-end at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crook attended the Exhibition at Toronto, on Saturday.

Mrs. S. J. Munro is spending a few days with her brother, Mr. Ross Burr and Mrs. Burr in Burrs neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Bongard and Ann, of Toronto, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Victor Bongard.

Mrs. W. J. Gray spent Sunday with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, at Desoronto.

MINERS' STRIKE ENDS

MUNICH (Reuters)—A 22-day strike of 100,000 Bavarian metal workers ended Tuesday when employers and the union accepted an arbitration recommendation for wage increases.

Cooler Weather Cited in Drop Of Thirst-Quenchers

OTTAWA (CP)—Summer's main thirst-quenchers—ice cream, soft drinks and beer—are not so popular this year.

Cooler weather has been cited as the reason. Or perhaps Canadians have been drinking more of the old reliable tea.

A survey Tuesday showed that beer sales and production of soft drinks and ice cream were lower during July compared with the corresponding month in 1953. And a similar trend, gauged on the weather, appears evident for August.

The Dominion Brewers' Association, representing 90 breweries in Canada, reports beer sales totalled 949,321 barrels in July, compared with 983,455 a year ago. By bottles, that is a difference of about 11,200,000 quarters or 37,000,000 pints.

Meanwhile, the National Dairy Institute of Canada said ice cream output last July was 4,395,000 gallons, a drop from 4,574,000 gallons last year. Bureau of statistics figures showed production of soft drinks in July down to 11,894,000 gallons from 12,931,000.

Assault Charge Against Toronto Man Dismissed

TORONTO (CP) — George A. (Mickey) Wilson, Toronto harbor commissioner and hotel owner, Tuesday was acquitted of a charge of beating Mrs. Marguerite Wilson in his suite at a downtown hotel about 2 a.m. last Feb. 6.

Judge Robert Forsyth said at the end of the three-hour trial he was not giving Wilson the benefit of "a considerable doubt" in dismissing the charge. He said he found Wilson's account of the hotel room incident more believable than that of the Calgary-born complainant.

Wilson, a former Toronto alderman, testified that after he invited the woman and her escort to his room for a nightcap, she struck him with a hard object, made his nose bleed, knocked his glasses off and accused him of being a Communist.

Dr. Percy Urbach said Mrs. Wilson went to a hospital early Feb. 9.

"QUITE UPSET"

"She was quite upset and had bruises about the body, as well as around the eyes, which were quite severe."

He said Mrs. Knudsen said something about wanting to see the RCMP because she had evidence of a Communist plot.

Louis Janetta, Mrs. Knudsen's escort, testified that he saw Wilson, not the woman, being hit in Wilson's room.

"She hit him bang over the head and his glasses fell off," he said. "She slapped me, too."

Janetta said he then left the room.

PREMIER TO VISIT RIDINGS

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost plans visits next week to three Ontario ridings where provincial by-elections will be held Sept. 13. He will visit Leeds, including the Brockville area, Sept. 9, Russell near Ottawa Sept. 10, and Nipissing including North Bay, Matawa and Sturgeon Falls Sept. 11.

National Guard Will Patrol Michigan Roads

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Governor G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency in Michigan during the long Labor Day week-end in an effort to reduce an anticipated high traffic toll.

Williams signed an emergency declaration Monday giving legal status to his previous act of calling out units of the Michigan National Guard to aid in patrolling state highways.

Michigan led the United States in highway deaths over the Fourth of July week-end.

During the emergency period, from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, Dept. of State Police and ground patrols will cover state highways to seek out traffic violators.

Citizens were called on "to exert extraordinary efforts" to obey traffic laws, and Williams urged "That all special prayers be offered in the places of worship to safe passage of loved ones during the period of heightened danger."

FORD BOARD ADJOURNS

WINDSOR (CP) — The conciliation board hearing a contract dispute between Ford Motor Company of Canada and office workers' Local 240, United Automobile Workers Union (CIO-CCL) Tuesday adjourned to Sept. 13. Hearings will resume in Toronto on that date, manded Iwanciw a month on four other charges of refusing to deal with the board and told him to comply with the law.

He said that if Iwanciw does not obey, he will issue a court order to do so. Failing that, he would find the contractor in contempt of court, for which the penalty is a year in jail.

"You have admitted yourself you are too stubborn to follow the law. Well, I'll make you follow it," the magistrate said.

Iwanciw has defended himself in each case appearance, pleading not guilty each time.

CABINET MEETS TODAY

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent returned to Ottawa Tuesday to attend a regular meeting of the cabinet today. He arrived from Montreal where he attended funeral services for Senator Elie Beauregard, 70, former Speaker of the Senate who died Friday.

Fishermen Haul in Thousands Of Squids for Big-Fish Bait

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Wearing sou'westers and hip boots, hundreds of dory-rowing fishermen have been bobbing again over Newfoundland's historic squid-jigging grounds, hauling in thousands of the octopus-like squids to be used for big-fish bait.

The fishermen working on a half-dozen prolific areas haul in some 2,000,000 squid before the season ends. In the process they have fully discussed the year's political activities, sung and re-sung Newfoundland's folk songs, especially "The Squid-Jigging Ground," and told hundreds of ghost and sea stories.

Rowing out from their inlets and coves, the fishermen arrive on the grounds while the morning mist still hangs over the water. They remain there until the sun reddens and sets. They agree on a weather forecast for tomorrow, then knock deep in clawing squids, they put their backs to the oars and the dories with their heavy loads move sluggishly toward shore.

They after-day fishermen follow the same routine and if a two-man crew catches fewer than 1,000 squids a day, something's wrong. Usually it's because they are not "centred" over the grounds. Where squids they can't use themselves the fishermen sell to government bait depots for 20 cents a hundred. The federal government depots last year took 1,220,000 pounds of squid.

Jigs are usually brightly-painted red blocks of lead with dart-like needles protruding from the top. Some fish drive the lead with its tentacles the fisherman yanks up the line, squeezing the squid. There are no prongs on the needles, but the squid is unable to slip off because of its constant pressure while being hauled up through the water. When the jig reaches the surface, a nimble-handed fisherman has the fish in the dory before it can escape.

An experienced fisherman can keep two jigs going at once, one on each side of the boat.

When squid are plentiful — and they usually are—there is no pause between catches. It's just a matter of dropping the line and pulling it in. The fresh-colored fish, usually about six or eight inches long, look much like its distant relative the octopus.

The best fishing areas are along the western part of the south coast, the eastern half of the northeast coast and the bays of the Avalon peninsula.

It's during meal hours that the fishermen tell their dories together, sharing food, stories and songs. After food is eaten and pipes lit, yarns are exchanged by the clustered groups. Then after a long pull on political cussedness someone is bound to lead off with "Oh, This is The Place Where The Fishermen Gather. . . ."

It's been that way for 200 years.

Ottawa Contractor Is Fined Again In Dispute With Compensation Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Basil Iwanciw has a long-standing grievance against the Ontario workmen's compensation board and refuses to do business with it. So far, his stand has cost him $958 in fines.

Iwanciw, an Ottawa plastering contractor, was fined $300 Tuesday for refusing to give the board a statement of his employees' earnings. He has been convicted three times previously on the same charge and paid fines of $50, $100 and $300.

Iwanciw said he will not co-operate with the board unless a claim he placed with the board in 1939 is allowed. But before he could tell the reason for his refusal to deal with the board, Iwanciw was ordered from the stand.

"I protest," the well-dressed contractor said. "This is not fair."

Gore

THE GORE — A large concourse of friends gathered on Sunday afternoon at Albury Church for the funeral of the late Mrs. Lorne Brinkman. Mrs. Brinkman's sudden passing on Thursday afternoon from a heart seizure caused a wave of regret to go over the entire community. The deepest sympathy of all goes out to Mr. Brinkman and Audrey in their irreparable loss. The cortege in which Mrs. Brinkman was held was evidenced by the wealth of floral tributes and the many from far and near who gathered for the funeral. She was a friend to all and the promoter of all good causes. The Rev. T. F. Townsend spoke comforting words from the text Rev. 3:5, "Behold, I have set before thee an open door."

The Rev. and Mrs. R. Wragg and daughters, Shirley and Caroline, of Brantford, have been holidaying with Mrs. Wragg's mother, Mrs. V. Hubbs, and other relatives here.

DELEGATE OVERSEAS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tom Alsbury, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, will be the only Canadian delegate to the annual convention of the British Trades Union Congress at Brighton Sept. 6-10. He will represent the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress.

Slash Red Tape

LONDON (CP) — The treasury Monday slashed some of the red tape restricting the amount of money emigrants may take out of Britain to non-sterling countries.

From now on, British families moving abroad may take with them a maximum of £2,000 in a lump sum. In the past new citizens were allowed to transfer the amount only in four equal instalments during four years.

Emigrants now will be considered as residents of the host country as soon as they leave Britain, rather than at the end of the four-year period.

The new regulations apply to Britons going to any non-sterling country but are designed primarily to help those headed for Canada and the United States.

Blood Stream Used to Combat Rheumatic, Arthritic Pain; No Pills

Penetrant Dilates Capillaries, Flows Fresh Oxygen-Rich Blood Through Afflicted Areas

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — Discovery of an entirely new method of relieving pain has been announced here. This new method applies, for the first time, a well-known medical principle of pain relief to a product now readily available to Canadians for home use. The discovery literally calls upon the blood stream to bathe away pains of rheumatism, arthritis, sore muscles and joints of most kinds.

Sold under the brand name "InfraRUB," this new cream is odorless and greaseless. InfraRUB has the unusual ability to penetrate the "skin barrier" — to work to relieve pain deep down in sore muscles and joints. The bloodstream carries the soothing medication right to the seat of trouble where it actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure. Users claim almost immediate relief from rheumatic and arthritic pains, sore muscles and joints.

Another feature of this new product that appeals to many people is in its ease of application. No long and painful rubbing is necessary as InfraRUB penetrates in a few seconds and vanishes with a moment's light massage.

InfraRUB leaves no oily film or pungent objectionable odour on the skin. Users find they are able to put on clothing in complete safety immediately after application.

InfraRUB is now sold at all drug counters. No prescription is necessary.

You can bet your bottom dollar on Chevrolet price! economy! performance! appearance!

Buy it for less! But as important as price is, don't overlook Chevrolet value — for Chevrolet stands unchallenged in all the important advantages of modern motor car travel. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and see how this is the one car that will exactly fit your family's needs—and your family's budget.

• • •

Compare Chevrolet economy. Ask yourself: "What's the car's reputation? How is it on gas? On oil? On service?" It stands to reason that the car with the highest reputation in these vital ways would be in greatest demand . . . and Chevrolet has been first in demand — first in sales — for over two decades.

• • •

We leave this up to you. Visit your local Chevrolet dealer and Road-Test Chevrolet's smooth and instant response. Test it in the traffic, on the highway, on steep hills. You'll agree that high compression, valve-in-head power can't be beaten — and only Chevrolet has it in the low priced field.

• • •

Let your own eyes tell you about Chevrolet's fine car beauty. And remember! Underneath that gleaming finish and sweeping style is famous Body by Fisher. That's your guarantee not only of lasting good looks, but of greater comfort, safety, and quality, also. See Chevrolet at your local dealer's today.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

In case you failed to notice, today is September 1st.

September 1st is one of those dates in the year that mark a turning point in every sport and my approach to same — like the end of school in June, income tax payments on March 15th, and January 2nd when resolute resolution makers perk up and realize that all their New Year's resolutions have been broken. There is a cooler nip in the air these September mornings; the Ex. is swinging along; football is back in the air and the airwaves; swimming is losing its appeal; hockey teams head back for training camps, and children palpitate for the chance to get back to school—a joy denied them for two whole months. Ah yes! Today is September 1st and another sports season looms on the horizon.

* * *

Speaking of the re-opening of school reminds me that John Ehrman, popular Albert College and University of Western Ontario grad, who headed Albert's commercial department for seven years, and coached College basketball, will be taking over new duties at the Bay of Quinte District High School come next Tuesday. John dropped around to renew acquaintances yesterday and to exclaim that "it feels good to be back in Belleville."

"It will feel a little funny, I guess, to be coaching teams against Albert," said John who will handle basketball duties as well as certain courses in the new school. Talked over with Jack Simon, Queen's football star and the new high school's athletic director. John will round out one of the best possible coaching combinations the Board of Education could have picked for the new school.

* * *

Incidentally, John, his wife and their three children are looking forward to life in the city. He had arranged for a house earlier in the year but developments in the last 10 days altered plans and he has been forced to start house-hunting anew. Something with three bedrooms for rent is the current Hayman objective.

If you know of anything available call Morley Ward at 3033.

MATES ON THE MAT

Ray Villmer and Paul Baillargeon who finally quashed Mighty Ursus and George (Zebra) Bellas in two falls in their third tag team wrestling meeting last Friday night in Memorial Arena have been rewarded by getting a match with the Togo Brothers. Being handed this villianous twosome seems like a left-handed reward but Villmer and Baillargeon are damned set at all.

"They are just another pair of wrestlers," chorus Villmer and Baillargeon who are making a name for themselves as a tough team to beat. Their confidence is infectious but the Togo brothers are not to be taken lightly—and no pun is intended. The battle royal headlines this week's wrestling show.

Pat Fraley meets Tex McKenzie in the main preliminary while popular Pat Flanagan takes on Jan Gotch in the opener.

OH ME! OH MY! DEPT.

Soup Campbell, Oshawa Times Gazette sports scribe, pens thusly about the 9-3 defeat Oshawa Junior Merchants hung on Paul Mercier's Bluebirds in the first game of their best-of-three Junior A OASA playdowns. Writes Soup: "Good Nickelly fine pitching, brilliant support and some timely hitting gave the Oshawa boys their exciting win."

Our travelling scribe reports that Bluebirds' Bobby Green threw a two hitter at Oshawa, struck out 11 and fell victim to Lady Luck when a Bluebird outfielder lost one of Soup's "timely hits" in the sun for a two base homer. Bluebirds outhit Oshawa 6-2, and the Merchants committed five errors while Bluebirds had one. At least it was exciting for Oshawa.

* * *

Down Kingston way the Limestone City Junior A club, making its first OASA appearance, is champing on the bit awaiting word from the OASA about further playoffs. The Kingston nine topped Ottawa in two games.

In their second victory last Saturday in Ottawa they stared a five run rally in the top of the ninth to overcome a 4-0 Ottawa lead to take the game and the series.

According to OASA playoff lists the winner of the Belleville-Oshawa series is slated to meet Zone 2 winner, Zone three includes Toronto and Yorks. What is to become of Kingston? Alas!

ALONG THE TEVIERA

Rain, rain go away. Ball players want to play. The Bntas were rained out of Peterborough Monday and Northern Electric Tuesday. The Bobcats and Stewart Warner TV's toiled through five soggy frames Monday before calling it quits at 7-7. Regents and Deseronto, scheduled for Monday, re-scheduled for Tuesday, are still waiting for dry weather. Weather permitting Point Anne Cementmen take off for Peterborough tonight for the first game of a best-of-three Intermediate A OASA playoff with Peterborough Seabrooks reputedly the best team in the Little's City. The return game is arranged for Saturday afternoon at Point Anne. Bntas are hosts to Peterborough in an OBA provincial quarter-final series at the Fair Grounds tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. Winner of the best-of-seven meets Oshawa in the provincial semi-final. Increasing optimism about the Senior B hockey Mentos received a jolt with unofficial reports circulating that Kingston is luring the Duncan twins, last year's league leading point getters. Say it isn't so, Mike.

Early Wynn Throws 2-Hitter, Tribe Scampers to 6-1 Win; Giants Pull Away From Bums

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees have lost their last chance to stop the Cleveland pennant dash single-handed.

Those pesky Indians are willing to help, the first-year New York manager in the American League is doomed to end this month.

Only five games remain between the record-bound Indians and the second-place Yankees and the Yanks trail by six, largest margin. If they could win all five they can't catch up.

The point of no return was reached Tuesday night. The Yankees, knowing they had to win or depend on the slim chances of being rescued, not only didn't win they didn't even come close. They settled for a measly two hits and a 6-1 beaning run while Cleveland raced down that warpath to a 6-1 triumph.

FASTEST CLIP

The Indians, who are winning games at a faster clip than any team in modern American League history, actually taunted the world champions by making it five in a row the first inning and then not scoring a numerous that would have meant certain defeat in years past.

But Early Wynn never gave the Yanks a chance to take advantage of their early good fortune. Cleveland pushed across two runs in the fourth on singles by Vic Wertz and Dave Pope, a double by Al Rosen and a triple by Wally Fiala in the eighth, three of them on a homer by Rosen. Wynn yielded it up. Ivy Noren homered in the seventh. Enos slaughter slashed a pinch single in the ninth to top off the Yankee attack.

Wynn's victory was his 19th and his most impressive of the year. While the Indians were making it look pretty certain that the New York subway system will have to relinquish some of the world series traffic, the New York Giants continued to pull away from Brooklyn in the National League.

The Giants moved 3½ games in front of the Dodgers with a 5-3 triumph in St. Louis. Brooklyn managed only three hits off Gene Conley and bowed to Milwaukee Braves 3-0.

OTHER ACTION

In other major league action the Chicago Cubs won a pair from Pittsburgh 14-2 and 7-5, Philadelphia clipped Cincinnati 9-3, breaking six right-game losing skein and Washington defeated Detroit 5-3 and the Philadelphia Athletics pushed Baltimore into the American League basement with a doubleheader 10-1 and 4-3 decisions.

Hurricane weather forced the postponement of the Chicago White Sox game in Boston.

The Giants jumped away to a three-run lead in St. Louis when caught, then won in the fifth. Al Dark singled, Don Thompson walked and Dusty Rhodes drove in Dark with a single. Thompson scored when Willie Mays' fly sacrifice fly.

Mays drove in another run with a single and scored one after hitting a triple. Rhodes also drove in a second run.

Milwaukee reached Don Newcombe for two quick runs, one in the first scoring on Bobby Thomson's single and one in the second on Del Crandall's homer. They didn't really need that many since Conley was in brilliant form, winning over Brooklyn for the first time this season.

SAUER BREAKS RECORD

Hank Sauer of the Cubs broke the National League record and tied the major league record when he hit his 38th home run this season off Pittsburgh pitching. The blow, his 35th of the year, came in the second game. Howie Pollet and Walker Cooper drove in three runs apiece in the opener.

Ted Kluszewski set new National League home run load with a pair in Cincinnati's loss to Philadelphia. He has hit 41, one more than his previous personal high, set a year ago.

Washington pounded George Zuverink for a big six in dumping Detroit into a fourth-place tie with rain-idled Boston.

REMEMBER WHEN

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Malcolm Campbell set a world's speedboat record of 125 miles an hour at Locarno, Switzerland, 17 years ago today. That record stood until 1930, two years after Sir Malcolm died. His son Don now is preparing in Britain with a new craft to attack the present record of 178 mph., set by Stanley Sayres of Seattle, Wash., in 1953.

LACROSSE CANCELLED

TORONTO (CP)—For the second successive night, a scheduled Ontario Lacrosse Association round-robin series game in the senior "A" group was cancelled Tuesday night because of rain. The game between Toronto Rockets and Peterborough Timbermen was to be played at Peterborough. Rain also washed out a game between Oshawa Green Gaels and Orillia Terriers at Oshawa Monday night.

Yesterday's Stars

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching—Early Wynn, Indians, hurled a brilliant two-hitter as Cleveland stymied New York Yankees, 6-1, dropping the Yanks 5½ games back of Cleveland in the American League.

Batting—Ted Kluszewski, Redlegs, hit his 40th and 41st homers and took the major league home run leadership away from New York's Willie Mays as Cincinnati lost 9-3 to Philadelphia Phillies.

Fanovich Misses Hall of Fame By Measly Hit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frank Fanovich just missed the International League's Hall of Fame as he hurled a brilliant one-hitter for Richmond Virginians Tuesday.

The strong - armed lefthander, who hurled for Philadelphia Athletics last year, gave up a clean single to catcher Ray Noble of Havana Sugar Kings in the seventh inning. Richmond went on to defeat the Kings in a doubleheader, 3-1 and 11-4.

Fanovich allowed the Cubans their lone run in the third inning of the first game on three walks and a sacrifice fly. Richmond scored its three runs in the third off Wade Moreno in the second.

In the second game, Jack Mayo smashed his victory homer in a seven seventh inning rally as Wimpy Nardella gained credit for his 11th win against 6 on the season.

All other league action was postponed because of rain.

Queen to Send Horse to U.S. For Big Race

Queen Elizabeth doesn't plan to watch the royal silks of purple, gold and scarlet carried for the first time on an American track.

But Sir Roger Makins, British ambassador to the United States, told Laurel officials that Queen Mother Elizabeth plans to be here at the time of the race and he will be made to have her attend.

Jinxed Gavilan-Saxton Welter Title Fight Postponed By Kid's Virus Infection

By MURRAY ROSE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A virus infection sent welterweight champion Kid Gavilan to bed and once again put off his apparently jinxed title fight with Johnny Saxton this time until October.

The 28-year-old Cuban was stricken so suddenly Tuesday that neither promoter Herman Taylor nor the co-promoting International Boxing Club could come up with a substitute fight for tonight's weekly Wednesday coast-to-coast boxing telecast. It was the first time that a live TV fight of some sort cobid not be staged as scheduled.

And Taylor said it was the first time in his 45 years in boxing that he could remember when a title fight ever was called off by illness on the eve of the contest. It was a first for Gavilan, too. He said he never had a fight postponed before in his eight years in the U.S.—a record he had been very proud of.

REFUND TICKETS

Taylor said he will start refunding about $20,000 starting Friday or Saturday. The veteran promoter said the twice-postponed scrap would be held sometime in October, probably in Convention Hall.

Gavilan promised Taylor that he would go through with the fight then. Frank Wilson, chairman of the Pennsylvania athletic commission, who was present when Taylor broke at 9 p.m., Tuesday night, said that the champion would be placed on the "unavailable list" until he went through with the fight.

Originally, Gavilan and the 24-year-old Brooklyn challenger were to have met in Comis Mack Stadium on July 14 but the Kid from Camagney got a postponement until Tuesday night because of an injury to his right hand—an injury he said he suffered before his boxing 15-rounder with middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, in Chicago, April 2.

LUMP ON FACE

Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, said the Kid had a lump on the left side of his face Tuesday morning but that he had failed to gain strength through eight rounds of exercise to bring his weight down. He had scaled 155 pounds for Olson. Lopez said the champion weighed 146½ when he finished the workout.

Lopez said Gavilan had his dinner in the evening and "then complained about 7 p.m., that he wasn't feeling well. Dr. Samuel Swetnick, Gavilan's personal physician, was summoned. He found that Gavilan was suffering from a virus infection, had a temperature of 101 degrees and an inflammation of the throat (pharyngitis) (near the ear). It was his opinion that Gavilan will be sidelined for two or three weeks.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Jim Fitzsimmons, the grandpappy of American trainers, is getting about the Aqueduct stable area with a spring in his step these mornings as he and his assistants attend to the care and feeding of some 36 thoroughbreds.

The reason, say his associates, is that Jim—he's come back from the Saratoga meeting more than a little annoyed that his two next year's triple crown winner in Nashua, Belair stud's crack two-year-old was not entered in the Hopeful Stakes at the upstate track for his fourth straight year.

Another sweep of the three-year-old classics—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—would supply a fitting climax to one of the most glorious careers in the history of the American turf. They say there isn't a man in the business who wouldn't be happy—well, fairly so—to see the kindly sage of Sheepshead Bay rack it up as his valedictory.

The veteran trainer, already has a pair of triple crowners to his credit, Gallant Fox in 1930 and Omaha in 1935, Both, like Nashua, were Belair horses.

NOT HIS BENT

Although Nashua, a big animal who already looks like a three-year-old, still has enough time to go to prove it, both Fitz and jockey Eddie Arcaro already are convinced he is a year's juvenile champion. The world's richest rider told Fitz after the Hopeful that his mount "wasn't doing his best". Yet one expert wrote that he believed it was the best youngster he ever saw run by a two-year-old at Saratoga.

Nashua has a heavy fall ahead of him. He's eligible for the $25,000 Cowdin at Aqueduct Sept. 21, the $30,000 Belmont Futurity Oct. 9, the $100,000 Garden State Oct. 30, the $25,000 Pimlico Futurity Nov. 6 and the $50,000 Hopeful at Jamaica Nov. 11. That's a lot of races and a lot of money, but those close to Fitz and Arcaro say the pair would not be too surprised if their pet took it all.

When he straddles Nashua at Churchill Downs next May, by the way, Arcaro will be going after his sixth derby success. Fitz has saddled the derby winner three times, and has two Preakness and five Belmont Stakes champions to his credit. Belair's new bulker is

Junior Football Makes Progress On West Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — Taking their inspiration from the big league B.C. Lions, Vancouver's junior footballers are preparing for their biggest and best season.

Entry of the Lions this fall into the Western Interprovincial Football Union has given junior football here "its biggest boost," says Lions coach Annis Stukus.

Stukus said that because Lions are in their first year of operation, the club will be able to give only "moral support" this season.

"But junior football is the lifeblood of senior ball," he added, "and we definitely intend to take a more active role next season."

OWN FARM STREEM

Touted as the team to beat in the junior big four league which opens Sept. 11 are the Blue Bombers, who have developed a "farm" system which could be the envy of any senior team.

Coaches Jack Patrick and Lorne Davies have an "A" squad of 40 aspirants, while a "B" team of almost 45 players works out under the direction of former Bomber stars Art Wick and Tom Smith.

Behind the big teams is a juvenile club and even a bantam team for 12-year-olds and under.

Both Patrick and Davies are confident their squad will go all the way to the western Canada finals, if not farther.

LOTS OF MATERIAL

Built around 17 veterans of last year's city champions, who won the western Canada finals to a championship date with Bombers, cars have added new strength and are still on the lookout for players.

Bombers are hopeful their "B" team experiment will prove a success.

"There are always so many kids playing ball for junior football, and some of them just aren't good enough for the team," said Davies. "Yet they're too old to play juvenile, and they have some ability. This way we can keep them under our eye, and at the same time give them a chance to play football."

Miss Chadwick Starts Monday On Long Swim

TORONTO (CP)—Florence Chadwick, American long - distance swimmer, will step into Lake Ontario near Youngstown, N.Y., next Monday at 11 p.m. for a 22-mile swim to Toronto.

If plans work out, Miss Chadwick will come out of the water about 17 hours later, around 6 p.m. Tuesday, at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds to receive $10,000 from CNE officials.

The swim will start after the San Diego, Calif., girl starts her swim, six teams, of four swimmers each, will start the same swim for a $10,000 first prize. Each swimmer will swim twice during the event.

Among members of the relay teams will be 16-year-old Marilyn Bell of Toronto, the first one with Cliff Lumsden, Georgs Bevan and Tom Park, also of Toronto.

Horse Drugged At Long Branch On Saturday

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario racing commission announced Tuesday a saliva test indicates the horse that won the fifth race at suburban Long Branch track last Saturday was drugged.

The horse was Young Brother, owned by H. B. Bruce of Hanover, Ont. It paid $8.30 and was the favorite.

The commission said the trainer is L. J. N. Kennett and the groom was Patrick Kennedy. It said the drug was of the procaine family.

W. J. Elsworth, supervisor of racing for the commission, announced the result of the saliva test.

The case was the first of its kind since the commission was set up five years ago.

Makes No Apology For Anything Says Manager

MELBOURNE, Reuters) — Australia's cycling team manager Bill Young, who led a "protest walk-out" by his team during the British Empire Games in Vancouver, said Tuesday night "I make no apology for anything I did in Vancouver, nor do my riders."

Speaking at a welcome-home ceremony, Young said, "there has been a lot of misguided criticism of the walk-out incident from people with an axe to grind.

"I think we would have been letting the Australians' reputation for being men slip back if we had tolerated what happened. Some cycling officials there had no idea about running a carnival."

The incident arose when an Australian rider was disqualified. Young led the withdraw the cyclists from the rest of the games was overruled by the Australian team's general manager.

Indians Convinced They Have American Loop Flag Wrapped Up

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The jubilant Cleveland Indians, to a man, were convinced today they had the American League pennant all wrapped up. But either due to caution, fear of popping off, or just plain superstition, none was willing to speak for the record.

Manager Al Lopez was the last to be cautious after Early Wynn's brilliant two-hitter that led to Cleveland's vital 5-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night, came as close as he could without actually predicting the flag.

"This is the biggest game we've won all year," he said happily. "I'd say we're in the best position right now that we've been in all season. We might still get hurt but we know we can't get killed. I'd say they've really got their backs against the wall now."

Cleveland's triumph in the first of a three-game series left the rest of the Tribe's lead to 5½ games over the crestfallen Yankees. Following this series, the Indians and Yankees clash two more times in Cleveland.

TAKES ON SPOT

Al Rosen said what was on the minds of many in the crowd of 58,-898.

"Our victory really put the Yankees in an unenviable spot," he said. "To my knowledge, it is the first time that New York finds itself in a position where it can't do it itself. The Yankees have always been able to win the big ones. This time they didn't. Now, for the first time in six years, they have got to depend upon somebody else.

"They've got to hope and pray that Chicago beats us. The White Sox have been tough for us all year."

Wynn, who had a no-hitter until Irv Noren walloped a home run with two out in the seventh to furnish the Yankees' only run, naturally was the happiest person in Cleveland clubhouse.

"It was the best game I ever pitched," he grinned. "It certainly was the biggest I ever won. This game meant more to me than any other I ever pitched."

TOUGH FOR CASEY

The loss was a tough one for Casey Stengel.

"Those Clevelands are in a pretty good spot right now," he said. "But somebody ought to warn Lopez not to start claiming anything yet. Don't forget, we've got four games left with them. Also, they've still got six with Chicago while we've only got to play them twice."

Stengel had some caustic comment to make regarding rookie Bob Grim's home run pitch to Dave Philley in the eighth inning on a 3-0 pitch but his biggest gripe was the failure of the Yankees to do any hitting.

"Grim should have known better than to groove a pitch," Stengel said. "I guess you can charge that to inexperience. . . I still think we'll catch 'em in scoring runs, to get more hitting. The season will be over for us if we don't hit better."

KINGSTON SECOND

HOLLAND, Mich. (CP) — The Kingston, Ont., sailing club Tuesday was second in scoring points with a total of 25, at the half-way mark in the North American Yacht Racing Union junior championship at Lake Macatawa. Sandusky, Ohio was first with 27½ points.

The twice-daily races, with entries competing for the International Junior Cruiser 141 and the Sears Trophy, ends Thursday. The winners are decided on total points.

New Plan May Keep Athletics In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Mack today took a new plan to wealthy Philadelphians in his latest—and what could be a successful—effort to keep the Philadelphia American League baseball franchise in Philadelphia and in his control.

The son of the builder of the one-time Athletics diamond empire got the "new look" financial setup at a meeting of the board of directors Monday.

Presentation of the new plan by Roy, by a member of the board, came after board members learned that Arnold Johnson, Chicago real estate man who has offered to buy the A's franchise and transfer it to Kansas City, had cut his price from a reported $4,-250,000 to about $3,120,000.

Roy wants to keep his spot with the Athletics.

The new plan would work this way: A sum of $2,500,000 would be raised. Connie's and Earle Mack's shares would be purchased for a total of about $1,300,000. A major portion of the mortgages now owed by the insurance company would be paid off, leaving what the source estimated at $250,000 to rejuvenate the second-division club.

Roy must find financial backers in addition to the $1,300,000 money so he can scatter the shares of stock that would accquire amounts to maintain his role as principal stockholder. He now owns an estimated 51 per cent of the stock. Connie has 42 per cent of the stock and Earle the remainder.

Baseball, Tennis And Racing Off Due to Hurricane

NEW YORK. (AP)—The Atlantic coast hurricane, bringing torrential rains and winds of gale force, wiped out a heavy sports schedule throughout the East Tuesday—including major league baseball, tennis and racing.

Not a victim of the violent storm, however, was the crucial New York Yankees-Cleveland Indians series at Yankee Stadium, which started at 2:30 p.m. E.D.T.

The New York area got only the whip-lash of "Hurricane Carol" and with it 1.1 inches of rain.

The full fourth day program of the national tennis championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., was washed out.

At Boston, the American League game between Boston and Chicago White Sox was postponed.

Lincoln Downs at Lincoln, R.I., cancelled the opening of its 22-day fall meeting and reset the program for today.

LONDON (Reuters) — The Hawker Siddeley group announced Tuesday night that the United States and four western European countries had placed orders worth $338,800,000 for supersonic Hawker Hunter fighter planes.

VISIT CANCELLED

ATHENS (Reuters) — A traditional annual September visit of the British Mediterranean fleet to Greece has been cancelled this year, it was reported authoritatively here today. The cancellation was said to have followed a Greek foreign ministry request to the British ambassador in Athens to avoid possible incidents arising from the dispute between Greece and Britain over the Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

29 MINERS KILLED

Claudette Colbert Lets Million Dollars Slip Away from Her

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Claudette Colbert just let a million dollars slip away from her, and she couldn't be happier.

The French-born actress came within a hair's breadth of having her own television series.

"During the first few weeks I worried myself sick for fear the show wouldn't be sold," she said. "And for the last three weeks I was worried for fear it would be sold."

A couple of years ago she turned down a number of offers for TV series. Then she read about Lucille Ball when she returned she wondered if she had made a mistake about the TV deals. Several other stars had taken them and apparently prospered.

"It sounded very appealing," said Claudette. "I had vision of working for three years and then sitting on my patio and collecting the money."

MADE PILOT FILM

So she agreed to make a pilot film, a tender tale about a widow with a 15-year-old daughter. There were some good laughs in it, and a sponsor was soon attracted. The deal was virtually set for the show to get on Saturday night, and NBC minds intervened.

They said it needed more comedy," Claudette explained. "They wanted me to fill in the spot between Mickey Rooney and Imogene Coca, an hour and a half to compete with Jackie Gleason on CBS. I couldn't see myself in that position.

"I can do a pratfall whenever it's called for. But my kind of comedy is the kind I did in pictures like 'The Egg and I' and 'Family Honeymoon.' There has to be a reason for the slapstick; otherwise it just looks silly."

BACKED OUT

To the amazement of everyone concerned, Claudette backed out of the deal thus passing up a fortune. When I saw her she explained her decision.

"I just don't think there is enough good material to supply 39 shows a season," she said. "Once you get on the treadmill, you don't have time to write over the scripts and make them better. If you get one good one out of 10, you're lucky.

"Besides, I just can't see myself acting things. I can't stand there and say: 'This hair wave is so good you can eat it.' I'm just not up to it.

"And I feel I still want to do movies. If I get tied up in a series, I wouldn't be able to."

Claudette, who is as vivacious and beautiful as ever, is leaving for New York, where she will appear on the new "best of Broadway" show over CBS Sept. 15. It will be one of TV's most impressive dramatic offerings. Miss Colbert will star with Fredric March, Helen Hayes, Diana Lynn and Charles Coburn in "the Royal Family."

You are getting a report of the 26 deals played in the last winter national open pair championship. There were 164 masters, 72 pairs, 36 tables. Deal number one is shown here:

NORTH

The players in this match hold the highest league rating. They are past the stage where they could be told anything bordering on fundamentals. But it would do them a lot of good to hear it.

Think you this is idle chatter that lacks foundation? If so, how come such perfectionists can be in so many wrong contracts. If you think they are not, see what they did in this deal.

At 13 tables, west became declarer at three no-trump and was defeated in every case. One was doubled and went down four tricks. All the others were not doubled; down four or three or two.

Nine or the tables stopped at two no-trump. One made it. All the others went down one, two, or three tricks. Two west players were in one-no-trump and made it exactly.

Four east players were in two and three diamonds and made it. Three west players were in one club that made. One west ended at one spade and went down two tricks.

At one table the north player bought it for one no-trump. It should surprise you to learn that he made it. One south player got it for two spades and went down only one trick.

One south player was permitted to play in at one spade and went down two tricks. One no-trump by south made it exactly, not doubled. A north in two hearts doubled went down three.

Was it the type of competition that got so many in the wrong contracts? If so, they should know when to lower the boom instead. And I will tell you this: no palooka would be brilliant enough to get into such a wrong contract as three no-trump.

NOVEL BROUGHT TO SCREEN WITH CARE AND SKILL

One of Hollywood's most painstaking production efforts from planning to finished film went into Universal-International's Technicolor screen adaptation of Lloyd C. Douglas' "Magnificent Obsession," which opens Monday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre with Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush in starring roles.

A full six weeks of rehearsals under the guidance of director Douglas Sirk preceded the actual filming of the picture. The entire cast of principals and featured players, in addition to the 87 supporting actors assigned speaking roles, were drilled in their parts before a camera turned. A total of two months was required for the filming and eight studio sound stages were used at U-I for interior sets.

For a portion of the filming, the troupe headquartered in Southern California's famed miniature Switzerland, among the Alpine-like peaks and the snow-hued lakes of the San Bernardino mountain range. Lake Arrowhead was used to film speed-boat sequences and other lake-front scenes.

For the finished film a special score based on themes from Chopin, Beethoven and Johann Strauss was composed by Frank Skinner and conducted by Joseph Gershenson. Ross Hunter was the producer of "Magnificent Obsession," which features Agnes Moorehead, Otto Kruger and Gregg Palmer in chief supporting roles.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 2, 1954.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Stellar aspects will work for your benefit if you are doing a good job. Most new endeavors are favored. Should bring satisfying results. Romance, social and family affairs, recreation favored.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Nothing unusual indicated now but substantial advancement can be attained. You may receive assistance from unexpected sources to augment your efforts. You can be happy if you do your share.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — With smart ideas, initiative and common sense you can make today into something special. You will be content to "follow the bell cow" can expect little. Accuracy, conscientiousness required.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — No day to go out unwisely in the limb," or to make needless chances. Be discreet in heart, home affairs, careful in business, property deals. Sensible deductions can prevent unpleasant situations.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You can do almost anything you set your mind to, but a drawback now could be lack of diplomacy. Don't "rest your case" in the midst of it, nor daily evening and ride advantageously.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—In matters connected with business or professional affairs, your best course is sensible understanding with associates, etc. Virgo is often too trusting, especially in making loans. Be shrewd.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—With your keen perception and working at productive speed, you can conclude this day with creditable results. P.M. especially favors heart interests, social affairs.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Do not expect too much help from outside sources. Concentrate on matters important to your family, your future. Shun time-wasters; have responsibilities. Good effort will prove rewarding.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Restrained, yet determined, endeavor will aid practical in solving problems. Allocate tasks efficiently to insure success. Nothing risked, nothing gained.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Generous aspects for both personal and business activities. Needed changes to suit conditions also sponsored. Keep pace with current happenings. Co-operate with right forces.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Unexpected occurrences in your zone of action may tend to confuse, cause false deductions. Be on guard, investigate. Success is seldom gained overnight so keep trying hopefully, consistently.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Appreciable gains in shipping, handling produce, steel and electrical equipment possible; also in mining and outdoor activities. A good time to formulate plans for the future. Recreation also favored.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your planet Mercury signifies mental alertness, progressiveness, kindliness and companionableness. Try not to worry, but take things philosophically. Include regular periods of rest and relaxation in weekly routine. Many writers, linguists, teachers, leaders in civic and world affairs are found in Virgo. You are orderly and fair in your dealings with others; can achieve even late in life if living true to your better nature.

'Best Fast Ball In My Life' Says Gene Conley

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The major league's biggest pitcher had the "best fast ball in my life" as he created a three-hit shutout down the throats of the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday.

"Maybe my curve's been better" said Gene Conley, the 6' 8" rookie, after his 2-0 triumph over the Dodgers, "but I don't think I've ever been any faster."

Del Crandall, who caught the youngster, shook his head.

"It's the best curve you could have had a better curve," he said. "It's the best I ever saw."

The gangling ex-Washington State College basketball star turned in a masterful performance by any standards. Only one of the Dodgers' line hits really was hit—a ninth-inning double by Junior Gilliam. Don Newcombe, Conley's NFL foe of last winter, lined a single right which Andy Pafko gloved but couldn't hold in the third. Gil Hodges was awarded the other when he beat out a topped ball in the first of the game.

Conley threw 107 pitches at the Dodgers in the nine innings—and only 36 were balls. He was ahead of virtually every man and only three hitters ran the count to 3-2.

The shutout was Conley's second over Brooklyn—and the Dodgers have been goose-egged only five times all year.

Manitoba Edges Long Branch By Single Marker

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba All-Stars scored four goals in the final quarter Tuesday night to edge Ontario's Long Branch Monarchs 18-8 in the first game of their best-of-three Canadian junior lacrosse semi-final. Second game will be played here Thursday night.

Forward Ted Derrett scored the winning marker at 11:07.

The jubilant Manitobans immediately threw up a strong passing defence and wasted the final three minutes and 53 seconds of the last quarter by holding the badly-fisted Long Branch offence to one shot.

Howie Smith, Johnny Coleman, George Kenaley and Pete Rose each scored a pair for the visitors while Butch Shortridge added the last Long Branch goal.

Settle Dispute On B.C. Paper

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP)—The intervention of Miss Dorothy Taylor in the Columbian Company Ltd., publishers of the New Westminster Columbian here, have been purchased by the remaining shareholders, it was announced Wednesday. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Miss Taylor, a one-third owner of the family-controlled daily newspaper, was dismissed from the post of editor last May because of "differences in operational policy."

The British Columbian, established in 1860, is the oldest newspaper on the B.C. mainland.

The statement from the offices of the Columbian said no changes in management or policy are contemplated.

Ownership now will be wholly in the hands of Mrs. M. L. Enns, H. R. Taylor, Mrs. W. Goodwin, W.E. Stevenson, R. W. Ballantyne, W. Fulton and J. Calhoun.

Mrs. Enns is Mrs. Taylor's sister; Mr. Taylor, a nephew, and Mrs. Goodwin a sister-in-law. Mr. Ballantyne is co-manager of the Columbian.

Military Court Hearing Charges Against 25 Men

VALCARTIER, Que. (CP) — A military court of justice Tuesday began hearing 25 soldiers charged in a $10,000 furniture - moving racket reported to involve also a civilian.

The court conducting the hearing at Valcartier military camp, near Quebec City is empowered to acquit, punish or refer the cases for court martial should the offences prove sufficiently grave.

Lt.-Col. Louis-Fernand Trudeau, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, is presiding over the closed hearings which may last several days.

The soldiers are charged with having defrauded the army by submitting bills incurred for moving three families and furniture from former posts. In all but three instances, neither family nor furniture had been moved, the army said.

The racket was revealed by a soldier last July who told his commanding officer he had been invited to join the fraud.

Since then, the soldiers co-operated with the owner of a furniture-moving firm.

ASKED ADMISSION

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) Australia, one of the Pacific powers helping set up defences against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, called Tuesday for the early admission of Laos and Cambodia to the United Nations. Diplomats here expressed the hope that the Reds, who have helped Laos and Cambodia in 1953, might permit them to enter the UN now as a first step toward settling the long-standing impasse on new members.

La Ronge's Fame as Angler's Paradise Brings Many Tourists

By WILF CRISLEY—
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LA RONGE, Sask. (CP)—Jackfish five feet long, giant pike that feel like a rock at the end of the line, a half-ton of fish taken by survey parties in a single season.

Fish stories? Saskatchewan's Northland is full of them.

But there's a difference. In this town that fish built, the fish stories are true.

La Ronge has grown in seven years from a settlement of board shacks to a thriving resort of two persons, mainly on the strength of fish stories. Its fame as an angler's paradise has brought American from California by chartered aircraft. Outdoors writers have visited the place and have left incredulous.

FABULOUS STORY

La Ronge, on the edge of 300-square-mile Lac La Ronge, 170 miles north of Prince Albert, is the jumping-off point for fabulous fishing waters of the north. Last year more than 7,200 fishermen from Canada and the United States came to try their hand, spending an estimated $1,000,000.

In boats equipped with 35-horsepower motors to give an extra two to three hours fishing a day, anglers from a string of camps on larger lakes catch the best in game fish. Those with fatter purses charter planes to fish unknown areas farther north.

There are more than 10,000 lakes in northern Saskatchewan, most of them never been fished.

The season starts June 16 and May with ice breaking and runs through to about Nov. 15 when ice begins to form again. Results influx of anglers is in late May and early June, and again in September or late early October when fish come out of the deep to feed.

The three main species are lake trout, pickerel and northern pike, commonly called jackfish. However the homely whitefish which forms the bulk of commercial fishing in northern Saskatchewan has been known to grab at a fly and put up a fight worthy of a trout.

In cold, rushing streams and lakes 120 and more miles north of Lac La Ronge, is the mysterious arctic grayling, rapidly becoming a king among Canadian game fish. Only two to three pounds, he uses powerful dorsal fin to tear loose a fly, putting on a show of scrappy acrobatics which has led to him being called the province's finest game fish, pound for pound.

Lake trout is the big favorite in southern waters, scaling up to 30 pounds. Thirty-pounders are common.

A. J. Rudolph of Rice, Minn., took second place last year for lake trout in a fish derby open to all North American visitors. Weighed 39 inches in girth and hung 37 pounds.

FEAT LIKE A ROCK

The angler he was mugged on a rock until his fish exploded out of Lac La Ronge, fighting for its life. It took 45 minutes to land it—not a record for lakers in Saskatchewan.

Another angler swears he hooked lake trout on 23 consecutive casts from an RCMP dock at Stony Rapids, about 60 miles south of the northern Saskatchewan border.

Jackfish account for more than half the weight of game fish caught. Only the largest water creatures are safe from his jaws and he will snap at almost any bait, artificial or natural.

Place In NATO For West Germany British, U.S. Plan

Adenauer Asks Equal Status And Allied Occupation End

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials tend to favor the emergency meeting of the North Atlantic foreign ministers at New York late this month to seek decision on West Germany's role in the defense of Western Europe.

The most workable solution now available, in the opinion of these officials here, is for the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to make Germany a member, with some safeguards to prevent a revival of German military might, along with German rearmament.

DEMAND EQUALITY

French rejection of the European Defence Community produced a demand from the West German government for complete independence from the Allied occupation and a new "contractual" arrangement "without discrimination against German troops." In its communique bidding for equal status with the Allies, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's cabinet notably excluded France from those to raid against the new military alliance.

Western capitals have thrown the ball in the direction of Germany by handing over the Soviet project under a heavy veto threat. Out of this skilful diplomatic manoeuvring several points are coming clear:

1. The U.S. and British governments both hope for German membership in NATO, which requires unanimous approval of the 14 members.

2. Probably no new Western French move like some kind of solution which would provide an EDC substitute or "little NATO" arrangement, or possibly a second class status for West Germany in the full NATO organization.

3. Washington is acted with deliberate slowness to encourage European countries, especially France, to come up with new ideas "so that after the aftermath of EDC's defeat.

4. The British government is believed to be willing to go along part of the U.S. and the six EDC countries to force the proposed NATO expansion.

5. There is no thought in Washington, and apparently in London, of making any effort to revive EDC. Even those most interest here in trying to put over some watered-down version such as Mendes-France has given up.

The urgent problem of the moment is getting the German rearmament issue out of the deadlock between the French and the rest of the Western powers and toward Russia.

Plans for an emergency NATO session are just being developed. Officials here expect the New York late this month should prove convenient to NATO ministers, many of them are expected there for the Sept. 21 opening of the United Nations General Assembly.

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain last night called for an eight-power conference at which she will set that Germany be re-armed now and brought into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization following the death of the European Defence Community plan.

The decision, which came at a cabinet meeting presided over by Prime Minister Churchill, coincided with a new plea to Russia from Bonn demanding full sovereignty for West Germany and the right to participate "without discrimination" in Western defence.

The conference, hinted at seeking an alternative method of rearming West Germany now that EDC is dead, probably will be held within three weeks.

Invitations to attend were sent last night to the foreign ministers of the United States and the six EDC signatory nations — West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Diplomatic quarters in London said British spokesmen today suggested to State Secretary Dulles at a review of German rearmament by the 14 ministers of the Atlantic Pact.

But they added as that the eighth-power meeting would be held first.

By-Elections Will Not Be Held Before Oct. 25

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Wednesday indicated that federal by-elections to fill six Conservative seats in the Commons will not be held before Oct. 25.

He said reporters following a cabinet meeting that the government has decided that Oct. 25 is the earliest date on which they can be held.

The by-elections must be held on Monday 35 days after the start of the enumeration of voters' lists. Enumeration in additional nine or 10 days must be allowed to permit returning officers to get enumeration machinery in operation.

It is now expected that the by-elections will be held on Oct. 25 or Nov. 1.

The six vacancies include three in Ontario, two in Quebec and one in Manitoba.

Reds Discover Oil Workers Uncultured

VIENNA (Reuters)—The Hungarian trade union newspaper Nepszava comments sadly on a group of oil workers who, instead of "cultural rest" spend their time drinking at an inn that frequently disturbs the wonderful new "cultural home."

The paper describes the new cultural building built at Szazhalombatta at cost of more than $300,000 and filled with good books, a radio, a reading room and many other comforts. But instead of patronizing this "palace," the paper says, the workers at the local oil wells drift off to the nearby inn to guzzle beer and wine.

Briton's Death Was Accidental

QUEBEC (CP) — A coroner's court jury Wednesday ruled accidental the death of British scientist Allen Paul Richards, 36, who died a few days after he was found critically injured in a horse accident in the Seven Islands area of Quebec lieutenant - governor's residence.

The jury's verdict backed up earlier statements by police and a Montreal medico-legal expert that Richards was kicked by a horse. He was found Aug. 21 and died Aug. 24 later without regaining consciousness.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synopsis: A weak disturbance is moving rapidly southward across Ontario today. Variable cloudiness and scattered thundershowers are expected across the province. Skies will be sunny Friday.

Northern Ontario: In moving rapidly southeastward about 100 miles north of Moosonee this morning at 10 a.m. it is expected to cause heavy rain and gusty winds. The Nova Scotia coast

CANADA WANTS EARLY MEETING OF NATO GROUP

Urges Special Meet On German Question

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has informed the NATO partners that it favors an early and special meeting of the North Atlantic Council to discuss the German question.

Officials said today Canada's view has been made known through embassies and legations abroad to the other 13 North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The council is scheduled to hold its annual meeting in Paris in December. Canada feels that in light of Monday's defeat in the European Defence Community, a special meeting should be held earlier.

Officials said Canada favors the meeting of foreign ministers should be held in early October at the latest.

Officials said the question of German rearmament is the key one for a NATO forum. They had said previously in Ottawa that even after French rejection of EDC would appear to be inclusion of West Germany in NATO.

The view here has been that German troops are necessary for the defence of Western Europe.

EDC would have provided safeguards against German aggression and Ottawa officials have said they believe similar safeguards should be included in any agreement to bring Germany into NATO.

U.S. ADMIRAL CONFERS WITH CHINESE

Admiral Felix B. Stump, left, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, talks with Admiral Y. F. Liang, chief of the Chinese Nationalist navy, as they returned to Taipei, Formosa, after a 72-hour secret visit to the Tachen islands, off the Red China coast. The admiral, who has since returned to Indo-China, conferred with President Chiang Kai-Shek on problems concerning recent Communist Chinese threats. Following his visit to the islands, which lie 100 miles north of Formosa, the U.S. fleet sent four destroyers on a "show of strength" visit.

Mayors Request 4-Point Plan For Relief of Unemployment

WINDSOR (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities today asked the federal government for a four-point program for relief of unemployment.

During a discussion of civic policy on unemployment, George S. Mooney of Montreal, executive director of the federation, said federal aid should be geared to groups which have exhausted benefits under unemployment insurance, which have not worked long enough to be eligible for UI or which worked in uninsured jobs.

SENDS TELEGRAM

The four-point program included public - financed projects, facilitation of transfer of the working force from distressed areas to those where jobs are available, review and extension of unemployment insurance coverage and assistance payments to groups not covered by UI.

Mr. Mooney was empowered to draft a telegram to Prime Minister St. Laurent stressing the serious nature of the situation.

He noted 5.9 per cent of the labor force in Canada was listed as unemployed June 3, 1954. He said estimated the danger point for unemployment was between 4 and 6 per cent.

Job applications on file in June this year showed Atlantic region with 9.4 per cent of the labor force job-hunting; Quebec had 7.6, Ontario 5.5, the Prairie provinces 3 and the Pacific coast 8.5.

He said this indicated serious unemployment in a particular area is not always indicated in figures for the whole country and government action should come whenever any section of the country is affected.

Mr. Mooney said the federation is vitally concerned with unemployment since the first appeal by unemployed property is always to the municipal government. He said window is an example where unemployment could hit a percentage of more than 10 per cent while national percentages were much lower.

Mayor Fred C. Robinson of Port Arthur suggested higher levels of government give municipalities assistance with winter construction of sewers, water and gas lines which cost more in cold weather. This would increase winter employment.

SOME BY CHOICE?

Controller Roy Donaldson of Ottawa said some persons are unemployed by choice simply to collect benefits. He suggested allowing unemployment insurance payments to build up and be recovered some time during the worker's life.

Controller Daniel McCann of Ottawa suggested higher unemployment insurance premiums and extension of the service to all unemployed. Mayor R. M. Simpson of Kingston said he thought municipals avoided unemployment through industrial planning.

Mayor W. John Naylor of Oshawa said unemployment there long ago passed 10 per cent of the local force. He said the answer lay in a program of federal and provincial public works. Full employment is a federal and provincial responsibility, he said.

Habeas Corpus Writ Releases Boy in Hospital

HARTFORD, Mich. (AP) — Vera Cruz county hospital today released a 16-month-old boy to his parents, who claimed the hospital had been holding him in lieu of payment of a $40 bill.

The transfer was on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Circuit Judge Carl Mosier.

Merle Tuck, chairman of the county welfare department, told Judge Mosier "it is not our policy to hold children as hostages."

Lester Maddox, 22, said when he went to get his son Wednesday he was told to effect his release through the welfare department, which had arranged admittance. A welfare aide, Maddox said, suggested he and his wife could give a pint of blood each as partial payment.

Robert Marks, welfare director, said the parents left, presumably to make a blood donation.

Marks said the father promised payment of the $14-a-day bill when he arranged admittance.

Greyhound Track Raided by Police

TORONTO (CP) — Police Wednesday night raided a small track at the Greyhound Park where one of the Toronto and district greyhound racing club were being run off.

Police said no arrests were made but an undisclosed man and 12-year-old boy were questioned. The attorney-general's department will be consulted about charges.

Bavaria Workers Stage Strike

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Nearly 5,500 metal workers went on strike in Bavaria today, protesting the discharge of about 50 co-workers as "trouble makers." Officials said the state-wide walkout that ended only Wednesday.

Union leaders said the arbitration court decision ending the strike provided that there would be no discrimination by management against the strikers.

The court decision, accepted by both labor and management, provided a 10 pfennig ($2.4 cents) hourly increase, boosting the wage scale to 87.3 cents.

Safe-Crackers Fail

STRATFORD (CP)—Safe-crackers failed in an attempt to break open two safes in Aitchison Bros. garage here Wednesday night, police said today.

The garage is directly across the road from Stratford Shakespearean Festival theatre. Some $11,000 in cash and cheques was stolen Aug. 22.

Workmen Leave Kingston Jobs, Asking More Pay

KINGSTON (CP) — Striking for wage increases and better fringe benefits, an unannounced number of construction workers stepped off their jobs in Kingston today after negotiations between carpenters and management of the Kingston Builders' Exchange broke down.

Kingston contractor T. A. Andre said he estimated that 25 carpenters and about 30 masons employed by that firm.

The Andre firm has workmen completing construction on Hotel Dieu Hospital and on the residential Queen's University mens' dormitory on Union St. and St. Mary's of the Lake Hospital, a lecture training building at Barriefield and a new chandler plant.

Carpenters are striking for a 20-cent-an-hour wage increase, with added fringe benefits. They now get $2.25 per hour. Masonry, now getting $2 an hour, want a 25-cent an-hour increase with improved fringe benefits.

All construction firms members of the exchange are affected by the walkout.

Carrier Blast Kills Officer

DEVONPORT, England (AP)—An explosion in the drained fuel tank of the aircraft carrier Eagle, undergoing repairs at a Devonport dockyard, today killed a serviceman and injured another man. Damage to the 40,000-ton vessel was negligible.

Sabotage was discovered earlier this year aboard the Eagle, the Royal Navy's biggest carrier. Electronic equipment controlling some of her guns was thrown overboard and two guns were found spiked just before the carrier was due to fire a royal salute to mark the second anniversary of the Queen's accession.

Oliver Suggests Ceiling on Bills For Sickness, Province Paying Rest

BRAMPTON (CP) — Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, said Wednesday night a ceiling should be placed on the amount a person should have to pay for hospital and medical expenses.

Any expenses over the ceiling should be underwritten by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, he said. A man should not be forced to give up his home or farm to meet them.

He was addressing a nomination meeting in Brampton.

Mr. Oliver said he was not yet prepared to announce his party's policy on the matter but was for the announcement of a provincial election date.

Criticizing the provincial government's platform on housing, he said, "our government does nothing about housing except to put obstacles in the way of those who want to build."

"All that is being done for housing by the province is being done by the Liberal federal government."

He reiterated that Highways Minister Frost has failed to take because of what he termed "so much inefficiency" and maladministration" in his department.

At the meeting, Mrs. J. E. Rouck was acclaimed Liberal candidate in the next provincial election in the riding of Peel. She succeeds, as now held by Col. Thomas L. Kennedy, formerly Conservative premier and agriculture minister.

STELCO WORKERS RATIFY CONTRACT GIVING INCREASE

Get Fringe Benefits Along With Wage Hike

HAMILTON (CP) — Four thousand of the nearly 7,000 workers at the big Steel Company of Canada plant have ratified a new contract giving them a general wage increase of five cents an hour and some fringe benefits.

The men, members of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), voted Wednesday night to accept the union's recommendation to sign the agreement. The five-cent boost is retroactive to April 27, 1954. The hike will bring the basic rate to $1.48½ cents an hour.

The contract also provides for an additional two-cent-an-hour contribution to a new medical, surgical and hospitalization plan for the employees and their families. The contract runs to March 31, 1955 and the union is free to reopen negotiations Feb. 1.

RECOMMENDED BY BOARD

The five-cent increase followed recommendations of an Ontario conciliation board last week. The union had asked a 9½ cent hike. Stelco's offer when negotiations broke down last week was 4½ cents an hour.

The union said in a statement issued late last night before the ratification meeting:

"We were anxious to avoid a strike in the interest of the whole community. . . The settlement has breached the 'wall' of wage restriction engineered by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in the sense it is a victory for labor. It does not by any means represent the whole economic gains that large and wealthy corporations can afford to pay."

H. G. Hilkes, president of Stelco, said the terms agreed to will add substantially to production costs.

Mrs. E. Petrov Sobs in Court

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Mrs. Evdokia Petrov broke down in the middle of her testimony Wednesday into espionage here today and was assisted, sobbing loudly, from the court.

The chairman, Judge William A. Owen, said Mrs. Petrov had been questioning her: "We are not going to allow her to be put through this."

The commission recessed to allow Mrs. Petrov to recover after she was asked about punishment inflicted on her first husband in the Soviet Union by Russian authorities.

Earlier during the sitting, Mrs. Petrov was questioned closely by Robert Evatt, the Opposition leader. He asked if she had any longing to return to Russia.

Mrs. Petrov replied: "Who would want anyone to go back to Russia? Then she added that in any case the MVD would shoot her, not take her back.

Campbellford Man Is Winner Of Cheese Prize

TORONTO (CP)—T. S. Aickes of Milton, Ont., Wednesday was awarded six first-prize ribbons in the cheese competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Murray Heath of Campbellford, Ont., won the August factory cheese colored division and Russell Martin of Listowell the August factory white cheese class.

Hydrogen Bomb Death Dust Victim In Coma and Condition Grows Worse

TOKYO (Reuters) — Condition tion was focussed on Kuboyama and anti-American feeling spread in the country, United States Ambassador John M. Allison today visited Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki to discuss the Japanese reaction to the H-bomb explosion at developments and to inquire after Kuboyama's condition.

An American embassy spokesman said the ambassador informed Okazaki he had conveyed "with deepest regret" of Kuboyama's critical illness and assured him Kuboyama "has the sympathy and good wishes of the American government."

Meanwhile, a Japanese foreign minister it was "the deepest wish" of the Japanese government to extend any assistance possible for the recovery of Kuboyama and his fellow seamen.

Philippines Break Sinister Red Espionage Ring

Korean National Is Under Arrest, Papers Found on Him

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines Army announced tonight it has broken a "sinister Communist espionage ring" trying to sabotage the Southeast Asia security conference opening here Monday.

The army said Dr. Hong Ki Klung, 35-year-old Korean national, is under arrest in connection with the plot.

The doctor had "voluminous papers pertaining to the forthcoming SEATO conference including drafts of various proposals of participating nations on a "Pacific Charter."

The announcement added intelligence agents of three governments have established that the doctor is "a member of a gigantic international espionage ring organized specifically to spy on the forthcoming top level talks."

The arrest came as the Philippines sought action by working committees on a "Pacific Charter" against Communist aggression.

President Ramon Magsaysay said he will submit a draft by the conference opening here Monday of four-power charter pledging the eight countries to:

1. Support the rights of all peoples in Southeast Asia to freedom and independence.

NATO-TYPE PACT

2. Take steps insuring the progress of Southeast Asian countries toward self-rule and independence.

3. Work jointly for economic, social and cultural development of Southeast Asian countries for raising standards of living and to strengthen their economies and encourage free enterprise.

4. Act jointly and individually against any force that would attempt to undermine or destroy the sovereignty, territorial integrity or freedom of Southeast Asian governments.

He indicated the Philippines also will request a Southeast Asian collective security pact calling for immediate retaliation if one member is attacked.

WANTS ASIAN VETO

This demand for a North Atlantic Treaty Organization - type pact is expected to bring the conference beyond the three days originally scheduled to sign the document.

The United States is holding out for a military commitment similar to the Australia-New Zealand-U.S. mutual defence pact (ANZUS), if not a similar pact, or at least one under this type of agreement, which would be acceptable to its constitutional processes.

Whiskey Risky, Scheme Scotched By Ram Ruling

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—An enterprising liquor dealer here tried to borrow a merchandising idea from banks and hot dog stands—drive-in service.

The unidentified merchant submitted plans for the installation of a sliding window at his package liquor store so customers wouldn't have to leave their cars.

But the state alcoholic beverage control board wouldn't buy the package.

The mere existence of such a store would cater to the irresponsible joy-rider and deepen the problem of drivers and drinking in an unnecessary way," ABC director William H. Davis said in rejecting the sales promotion stunt.

Canadian-Born U.S. Colonel Facing Charges

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP) — Three recordings of Fifth Communist propaganda broadcasts were brought today to the military court martial of Army Col. John R. Rich on charges of collaborating with the enemy in Korea.

Lt.-Col. John R. Prichard, army prosecutor, said he would introduce the recordings as an exhibit to show that the Canadian - born officer broadcast for the Reds while he was their prisoner.

Fleming, 44, a native of Grenfell, Sask., is the first United States' Army officer brought to trial for behavior in a Korean prison camp. With four rows of ribbons on his dress uniform, he has been sitting at the defence table, gazing without any show of emotion at each prosecution witness.

Fleming faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, dismissal from the service and loss of pay and allowances if convicted. He has denied the army charges.

Premier Nasser Declares Egypt Stands With West

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's military government declared today that Egypt "stands in every respect with the West" but a defence pact with the United States would not only provide the Communists with fuel for the still-suspicious minds of the Arabs."

A communique from the ruling revolutionary council that deposed King Farouk two years ago said it realizes the United States and Britain would never invade the Arab world.

The statement pointed out the traditional fears among Egyptians and Arabs of Western lies as a result of the past British occupation and declared that any defence pact must be to protect those who the West would "defeat its purpose."

Lightning Hits British Airliner Three Times

LONDON (Reuters)—A British airliner arrived safely at London airport today after being struck by lightning three times on its flight from Rome.

The British Overseas Airways Corporation said the passengers, among them five babies.

It was first struck by lightning 15 minutes out from Montreal. Later a double flash rocked it and shattered the windows.

The pilot decided it was too risky to go on to the first stopping point in Gander, so he made a detour to Boston. But Boston airport was closed by fog and the plane was diverted again—to New York, where the passengers stayed overnight.

Large Quantity Of Blueberries Seen on Market

Surprise offering on this morning's local market was a large quantity of blueberries. Although out of season, this area, the fruit was brought in from the Kirkland Lake district and sold here today at $2.50 for six-quart baskets and 50 cents a quart.

Volume of business on the market was the usual mild midweek session. Corn settled down to an all-around price of 60 cents while other prices remained unchanged.

Apples made up of transparents, duchess and melbas were 75 cents a basket, $2 a bushel. Pears, the offering entirely of Kirby's Belleville orchard, were 25 cents a basket. Lombard plums were 30 cents, while some local blackberries were 25 cents a quart. Peaches sold from 65-85 cents.

Cucumbers, picked mild ready with dills 75 cents a basket, gherkins $1.50 and slicers six for 25 cents. Marrows were 10-15 cents. Potatoes were 65 cents, while carrots and beets continued at 10 cents a bunch. Celery, five for 25 cents, Savoy cabbage brought 20 cents a head and lettuce 10 cents. Cauliflower was 15-20 cents and broccoli 10-15 cents. Squash peppers were 10 cents, sweet peppers from five cents and red peppers from five cents. Spanish onions were 10 cents apiece, while tomatoes remained at 50 cents a basket. Eggplant were 20 to 25 cents a quart. Melons sold up to 75 cents; cantaloupes from 10 cents and pumpkins 20 cents.

Gladioli continued the chief attraction among flower sales holding to $1 a dozen. Asters were 25-35 cents a bunch, zinnias 35 cents while smaller varieties brought 25 cents a bunch.

Dahlias were 35 cents for extraA large.

Con. R. Rackham Named Corporal Provincial Police

Member of the Ontario Provincial Police for five-and-a-half years, Constable Reginald Rackham, 180 George Street, has been promoted to the rank of corporal.

A native of Bowmanville, Cst. Rackham served for three-and-half-years with the RCAF during World War II, being stationed in the test flight section at St. Hubert, Quebec. Following the war he was with the Department of Reform Institutions as physical instructor at the Boys' Training school at Bowmanville and later transferred to the Ontario Provincial Police.

He is head of the photography and fingerprint section at district O.P.P. headquarters at Belleville.

Quinte Secondary School Ready for Opening Tuesday

The Quinte Secondary School with 12 classrooms and the general shop completed, will be ready to accept pupils for the opening of school next Tuesday.

The school which will accommodate Grades 9, 10 and 11 only for the first year, is being rushed to completion by the contractors and will be able to handle its requisite number of pupils.

Principal J. E. Reid moved his offices into the new school September 1, and called a series of meetings with the new staff Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week. This afternoon members of the board of Education were scheduled to meet the staff at the new school.

MUCH TO BE DONE YET

While the school will be able to accommodate pupils Tuesday, much still remains to be done. The second floor class rooms were completed first leaving ground floor shops, kitchen, gymnasium and music room to be finished later.

The combination gymnasium-auditorium and the cafeteria are expected to be finished and ready for use by October 15th.

Grounds around the school still have to be landscaped. Plans include an extensive landscaping and beautification program that will include a standard scholastic quarter-mile track. Provision has also been made for the widening of College Street.

The Quinte Secondary School, located to the west of King George public school on College street runs east and west on the main entrance on the west side facing north. Frontage is 250 feet.

The building is roughly L-shaped with the two-storey classroom stem running east and west. The foot, running roughly north and south at the west end of the building includes the kitchen, gymnasium-auditorium, and the music room.

Buses bringing pupils from the district, will unload under a 100-foot long canopy covering the side-walk at the east end of the school. A turning area is being provided at the rear of the school for buses.

CENTRAL HALLWAY

The two-storey, classroom section has a central hall with classrooms on both sides. Hall floors are made of a central vinyl tile strip to deaden sound and terrazo borders. Individual steel student lockers which will be set flush with the wall, have not been delivered from the manufacturers but are expected to be installed before the end of September.

Walls will be coated with Kalsteron, a plastic coating glued over plaster that is practically indestructible.

Lighting fixtures are flush with the white acoustic tile ceiling and controlled by fingertip switches at either end of the hall. Projection devices in the fixtures throw a uniform illumination.

When completed the ground floor will include rooms for classes in agriculture, junior science, commercial work, home economics, arts and crafts, physics and chemistry labs. The general shop also on the ground floor has machinery installed and is ready for use at the moment.

The principal's office, a general office, and guidance room, as well as the staff room are provided on the ground floor and will be ready for use before the opening.

A feature of the auditorium-gymnasium is an electrically-operated folding door that divides the floor area into two parts for simultaneous use as a girls' and boys' gym. The stage is located at the north end of the auditorium. A special outside entrance permits easy movement of props and a storage area for scenery and props, has been provided over the west exit.

Instructors' offices for both gyming fans into the main gymnasium areas and full size heavy shatterproof windows provide full visibility at all times.

CONVENIENT PLAN

The gymnasium-cafeteria section of the school has been laid out in such a way that community activities can be carried on without interference with the rest of the school. A ticket booth and coat check rooms are adjacent the auditorium. A folding gate in the main hall leaves this section open for evening use while closing off the remainder of the school.

The music room, located across the hall from the girl is on the south side of the school separated from the classrooms so that practice sessions will not disturb the classroom with regular teaching sessions.

Beneath the north-south hall is a rifle range for the cadet corps. Boiler room, coal bunkers and storage areas are located under the gymnasium.

The second floor is composed of classrooms for health, junior and senior mathematics, junior and senior English, French and English, Latin and French, Social studies, history, senior history and geography and the library.

Each room has individual color schemes with warm yellow and orange tones predominating in the north side classrooms and the cooler blues and greys on the south side. The latest in convection heaters are used throughout.

Aluminum-framed windows and permanent storm windows are provided for all rooms. Blackboard frames, chalk holders, bookboards and door frames are of metal and not wood.

Vinyl tile flooring in each room harmonizes with the room's color scheme and provides a noise deadening surface.

GLASS BLOCK USED

An outstanding feature of the school's construction is the effective use of glass block. The upper half of the outside wall of each classroom is composed of glass block, which not only adds greatly to the general attractiveness of the building, but contributes greatly to the sense of lightness and grace in the maximally illuminated interior.

Harold Seldon, chairman of the sites and accommodation committee of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board, conducted this reporter on a tour of the school Wednesday afternoon. It is the third school in whose construction Mr. Seldon has had the pleasure of participating. He was chairman of sites and accommodation when Prince Charles and Queen Elizabeth schools were built.

EXTREMELY PROUD OF SCHOOL

"The Board is extremely proud of this school," said Mr. Seldon, "and it has appreciated the cooperation the Tatham Construction Co. has given in bringing to completion on time the sections of the school the Board members felt would be needed for September opening."

Mr. Seldon also paid tribute to the conscientious work of F. W. Hunt, architect for the school, and

August About Coolest Month On Record

Statistics have proven just what most Belleville residents knew all along—that the month of August was about the coolest on record.

In fact, according to records kept at the Belleville water purification plant on the Moira River, the maximum temperature for the month just past was the lowest in 39 years.

The highest the mercury got during August was but 82.8 degrees, almost two points less than for any August in the past two decades. The mean temperature for the month was also low at 66.1 degrees, 2.89 inches for the month, the driest August being away back in 1936 when there was but an inch of rain—0.46 inch to be exact—fell.

Old timers will remember that August was another month that obviously considered as never falling gave up the ghost and garners were drawing water mine for stock use.

Tiny Tot Town Carries New Lines For Younger Set

Closed for alterations for several weeks Tiny Tot Town, 30 Bridge street east, was officially reopened this afternoon offering exclusive lines for clothing and other requirements for the younger set.

Rooms for the first customers and floor coverings are being offered for the re-opening.

The entire store has been redecorated with a checkered plywood effect achieved through new paper on the walls and ceiling. The store also features new direct lighting, which allows the customer to see exactly what she is buying right. New display cases of grey oak with glass panels and mirrors display merchandise to its greatest advantage.

Now commencing its fifth year in business, Tiny Tot Town will carry all requirements of the younger set from babies to teenage with special emphasis on carriages, strollers and cribs. It's new Mark-N-Judy line of snowsuits featuring finger-tip control zippers will also be offered. Gerber and Canadian toys will also be carried.

The opportunity for interested buying will be an added attraction for customers at Tiny Tot Town.

Mrs. Ken Bird stated that the store staff have long experience in clothing and customers will always be assured of courteous and efficient service. Store manager is Mrs. Ken Bird with ten years experience in clothing sales.

Callander's Vote On Liquor Lounges Is Set Aside

NORTH BAY (CP) — Callander's liquor lounge vote, approving cocktail lounges by a single vote, has been set aside and declared inoperative.

Parry Sound District Judge Walter Little made the order after hearing at the North Bay courthouse Wednesday.

In the municipal tally, cocktail lounges were put in by two votes. There were several spoiled ballots.

A motion asking that the election be set aside because of irregularities in the voting was entered in the name of Harry Vestes, spokesman for a group opposed to the lounges.

George Wallace, appearing for those favoring the vote, did not contest the allegations in the motion.

The motion charged that: advance poll services were not posted within the allotted time; advance poll ballots were mixed with regular poll ballots and not counted separately; a French-speaking interpreter for voters was not present in two voters did not have the proper residence qualifications.

In one of its heaviest votes North Himsworth township had 77 per cent of eligible voters turn out in the June 20 plebiscite. Of 160 ballots, 118 or 73.8 per cent favored dining lounges, 39 were against, 37 were spoiled.

In the liquor lounge vote, 815 or 60.1 per cent were in favor, 309 against, with 36 spoiled ballots.

has watched over construction in the Board's interests.

Completion of the $650,000 Quinte Secondary School later this year, will give Belleville, not only Ontario's largest municipally owned high school, but one of the province's most

Kingston Choir Sails for Home

LIVERPOOL (CP) — The 40-member choir of St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, Ont., sailed for home today after a month-long tour of Britain and Eire and of singing daily services in Westminster Abbey.

The choristers sailed aboard the 21,000-ton Cunard-Liner Saxonia, carrying her maiden voyage to Montreal and Quebec.

The choir, comprising 18 men and 24 boys led by George N. Maybee, was the first overseas choir in the history of the abbey to take over regular services. The Canadian choir replaced the former the abbey during the choir's 19-day stay, and large numbers of visitors were attracted by the singing.

The choir concluded its visit to Westminster night with evensong at St. Mary's parish church in Wednesbury, Staffordshire, the home town of Walter Michael Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard. Mr. and Mrs. Davies entertained choir members to tea and dinner at their home, Leighton Hall.

The Saxonia is the first of three new Cunard-White Star liners specifically to serve Canada's growing immigrant traffic. Among the 922 passenger's sailing today were 300 British emigrants with one-way tickets.

Largest ship ever to travel up the St. Lawrence to Quebec City, the Saxonia is commanded by Capt. Andrew MacKellar, who served in the Royal Navy's commodore of convoys during the Second World War.

NAVY PLANE FLIGHT

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The new turbo-prop RTV2, a military version of the Super Constellation, made its maiden flight Wednesday. Lockheed Aircraft Corp. officials built the personnel or cargo-evacuation plane for the United States Navy, says it is the world's fastest propeller-driven transport plane, capable of cruising at 440 miles an hour. It can carry as many as 106 passengers and can fly 16-ton loads.

Ontario Will Not Eliminate Exams Or Competition

TORONTO (CP) — Education Minister Dunlop says Ontario will not eliminate examinations or competitive methods from teaching methods in schools in the province.

Speaking at a Canadian National Exhibition directors' luncheon, Mr. Dunlop, departed Wednesday from a prepared speech on various activities on education to take a few raps at moderists' theories concerning education.

ANSWERS CRITIC

Proposals made here at a meeting of the World Mental Health Congress received special mention in the education minister's remarks.

"I noticed that at a great conference figure recently in Toronto where a group of very positive and voluble men and women who were not teachers were ready to tell teachers how to teach, one author-ity set forth his ideas thus:

"He said all examinations should be abolished. Now wouldn't that just be lovely? Of course, if you don't teach the children anything, there is little reason for examination to see just what they did learn."

Mr. Dunlop said the speaker made four other suggestions: Throw out all school textbooks, throw out all over-intellectualized teachers and not have pupils in classes more than 50 per cent of the time, but take them out to the beaches in fine weather.

QUESTIONS MEANING

He said he'd been around teachers a long time and couldn't recall any that could be described as "vindictive." He questioned what "over-intellectualized means and just what lessons in life are.

He said moderists would cut out lessons in life and if it discourages children.

As a teacher, Dr. Dunlop said he had never found this to be true. "Children must face competition in adult life at school. Why shouldn't they be prepared for it? Why shouldn't they learn that clean competition is not wrong?"

United Church Evangelism Board Meets at Whitby

WHITBY (CP) — The board of evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada went into conference here today to study ways of promoting increased membership in the church.

It is the seventh conference on evangelism and includes delegates from the conferences of Montreal and Ottawa, the Bay of Quinte, Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara. The talks are under the chairmanship of Rev. James Scrople of North Bay.

Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, United Church secretary of evangelism and social service, will deliver a report of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., before the conference ends Friday.

Reeves Against Doing Away With County Councils

KITCHENER (CP) — Three Waterloo county reeves today disagreed with George S. Henry, former Conservative premier of Ontario, who said in a Toronto interview Wednesday that county councils have outlived their usefulness since provincial government is responsibility has increased.

Reeve Clayton Rickert of Waterloo township said he is "100 per cent against" doing away with the county councils. He said in addition the closer to home government is, the better it is.

He also disagreed that the fact the province assumes 70 per cent of the cost in construction of roads is indicative of growing provincial responsibility.

"Look at the gasoline tax," he said. "The province should give us 75 per cent in as urban county taxes to the cities."

Reeve Lincoln Knutz of Bridgeport said an alternative suggestion might would have to provide for local problems as well as "know how" taken care of by the county system."

Reeve Theodore Stock of New Hamburg took a similar stand.

'Flying Saucer' Seen at Timmins

TIMMINS (CP) — Appearance of a "flying saucer," similar in description to an object reported at North Bay Tuesday, was reported Monday night over the hydro-electric plant at Sandy Falls, 80 miles southeast of Timmins on the Mattagami river.

George Sheridan Sr., forest ranger for the department of lands and forests, said he and five other persons saw a "yellow ball of light with a red centre" about 8 miles to the south of the hydro dam over Lake Kenogamissi. He said they watched it for from 10 to 15 minutes before it disappeared into the southwest.

Police Blotter

Theft of a car left parked outside a local hotel was reported to city police shortly after midnight last night.

Clarence Johnston, 84 South Forster Ave., told police that he had left his car parked outside the Bradley Hotel at 8.30 and when he returned to get it the vehicle was missing.

Damage of approximately $200 resulting from a two vehicle accident on Dundas street, Wilfred Regan, R.R. 5, was preparing to back into a driveway when Edmund W. Taylor, 42 Emily street, attempted to pass and collided with the right front fender of the Regan vehicle.

BRANTFORD MAN SENTENCED

KITCHENER (CP) — Leonard Stanley Short, 19, of Brantford, was sentenced Wednesday to two years less a day on a charge of breaking, entering and theft of a safe containing $765. He was convicted Tuesday.

54 Now Dead And 19 Missing After Hurricane

BOSTON (AP) — Rescue crews added public health experts' power Saturday to their fervent hunt for perils to health and safety as the aftermaths of Hurricane Carol which gave the New England states a "multi-million-dollar" battering "cooled off" somewhat.

Other workers and volunteers have the unhappy task of searching for missing persons, many of them children.

Fifty-four persons now are known to have been killed by the hurricane, and 19 are listed as missing, including a 10-month-old baby girl swept from the arms of her mother as she attempted to escape from her wind-buckled cottage.

FOOD IN DANGER

Fully one-third of the New England states was reported still without electrical power early today, posing a mammoth health problem since an estimated 3,500,000 persons have no means of refrigeration.

Massachusetts took steps Wednesday night to set up a wholesale spoilage of food and contamination of drinking water, threatened by lack of refrigeration and powerless pumps.

A National Guard plane was put into use to establish a dry-ice airlift between Boston and a big Navy base at Quonset, Massachusetts. Public health officials here are directing the distribution of the dry ice to communities with the greatest need.

Before establishing the airlift, Governor Christian Herter exercised his emergency powers and seized the state's dry ice supply, the only means of saving huge stocks of meat, fish and other perishable foods in freezers.

PRESIDENT ACTS

Tuesday's hurricane brought Tuesday's hurricane brought wind gusts of 126 miles an hour, and as the damage toll mounted Wednesday New England states asked President Eisenhower to declare the states major disaster areas.

The president ordered officials to "cut through red tape" to aid hurricane victims, and added that as soon as he receives the first estimates he will take emergency action.

258,516 Cars Built by GM During August

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. reported Wednesday its U.S. and Canadian factories built 258,516 cars and 34,161 trucks in August.

The total compared with 253,847 cars and 36,172 trucks built in the same month last year.

So far this year GM factories have built 2,115,136 cars and 314,422 trucks in the United States and Canada.

Ford reported its various divisions built 1,412,616 cars and trucks in this year's January-August period against 1,184,214 units in the same 1953 period.

Chrysler reported its eight months' production this year at 819,995 cars and trucks compared with 864,330 in the like 1953 period.

Full Sovereignty Is Demanded By West Germany

BONN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government called today for full and unlimited sovereignty for West Germany and indicated it expects that freedom before—and after—any talks are held on a German contribution to Western defence.

Felix von Eckhardt, federal press chief, told a press conference:

"There is no reason for any 50 per-cent sovereignty. We want full and unlimited sovereignty."

Although the Adenauer government poliptedly omitted reference to France in a new five-point foreign policy program announced Wednesday night, Eckhardt said the federal government believes any effective defence of Europe can only be achieved by the cooperation of France.

Crushed by Float

WALLENSTEIN (CP) — William McPartlan, of Bracebridge, died in an ambulance en route to hospital in London, Wednesday following injuries suffered when he was crushed under a heavy float.

An employee of Dunham Crushed Stone Company, he was helping to unload machinery from a truck at the National Carbon plant here. The float moved and Mr. McPartlan was crushed under it, suffering leg and back injuries.

Golfer Dislocates Knee-Cap While Driving Off Tee

TRENTON (Special) — Popular clothing merchant, Frank Weaver, suffered a dislocated knee-cap at the ninth tee on the Trenton golf course here yesterday. He was shooting a game with partner Steve Hanes when he twisted his leg driving off from the tee. He fell to the ground and was unable to stand or walk further. His partner helped him to a club conveyance, which moved him to the Trenton Memorial Hospital nearby.

X-rays showed Mr. Weaver's knee-cap had been displaced and he remained in hospital for treatment and rest until today.

FEEDS GULLS DAILY

Senator W. A. Fraser is a man who enjoys humble pleasures.

Daily he rows a dinghy out in the bay an eighth of a mile to feed a flock of hungry gulls, that collect about his yacht anchored off the Fraser bungalow on Glenora.

While feeding his winged friends the Senator counts them. Considerably he notes he has played host to an increased number of birds. Just the other day he was surprised to find that 127 had dropped in for an evening meal. The next day he encouraged the newcomers with extra portions of bread.

The late Charlie Richardson fed gulls along the waterfront for years. Senator Fraser took over his worthwhile chore finding much restful enjoyment in communing with nature.

Belleville Girl Beaten in Tie For New Car

TRENTON (Special.) — Dick Impey, 283 Dundas Street East, Trenton, won a 1954 Chevrolet Wednesday night at a giant Bingo held in the Trenton Arena by Trenton Lions Club in aid of the club's welfare projects and the new Community Centre. Approximately 2,000 persons attended.

Miss Lillian Cournyea of Belleville, who tied Impey in the feature game of the evening, left the car in a one-number tie-breaker and was given a $10 consolation prize.

Miss Cournyea took the loss smiling and shook the winner's hand when the winning number was announced.

Impey, a laborer at RCAF Station, Trenton, did not own a car before last night's win and is unable to drive. A friend drove him home in his new car. The jubilant winner is married and has a family.

Ruth Cowan, Trenton, won a deep freeze; Jack McMartin, a washing machine, and Miss Betty Miller, of Middleton Park, a bicycle.

The Lions Club netted $1,500.

Military Boss Decides Against Evangelistic Drive

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Walter J. Hanna, military boss of this vice-ridden city which is under limited martial rule, has turned thumbs down on a proposed evangelist campaign here by Billy Graham.

Hanna was said to have made the decision because of the problem that would be caused by an influx of some 20,000 to 30,000 persons that could be expected to turn out for Graham's appearances.

A reliable source said the general felt it might be too much for his National Guardsmen to deal with. It was expected that his decision would be passed on to the Phenix City political alliance later today.

The minister's group voted last week to ask the famed evangelist to bring his "six-shilling" crusade here. Two of Graham's friends made a trip here to survey the situation.

CONSIDERING IT

As yet Graham hasn't indicated that he would have accepted the invitation. He did say he was "seriously considering" a one-night meeting at Phenix City.

An announcement Wednesday said Graham is extremely reluctant to go to Phenix City if the public construed it as a publicity stunt.

Hanna suggested instead that Graham come to adjoining Columbus, Ga.

"Billy Graham is needed more in Columbus than in Phenix City," the National Guard commander told a press conference.

Detroit Council Members Pay For Civic Dinner

DETROIT (CP)—More than 500 Canadian mayors and their wives nearly missed dinner Wednesday night.

A scheduled civic banquet for them came off only when a group of private residents, headed by Louis C. Miriani, president of the Detroit common council, dug into their pockets for $2,000 to finance the dinner.

This is what happened:

Delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, held at the Windsor, were invited on a tour of Detroit ending up with a civic dinner. The invitation was accepted.

A Detroit citizens' group, called the Detroit Civic Association, protested the expenditure of $2,000 to feed "a bunch of Canadian mayors."

The group based its protests on the recent efforts of Michigan Supreme Court decisions which prevented the expenditure of municipal funds on the entertainment of visiting dignitaries. The group threatened to sue the city since, under Michigan law, citizens can recover from the individuals responsible illegal expenditures of municipal funds.

The Canadian visitors took the controversy in their stride. Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor had told them that "notwithstanding reports, we are going to have a good time."

Delay Release Of De Castries

HONG KONG (Reuters) — The Indo-China Communists today changed their minds about releasing Brig. Christian de Castries, the man who won world fame for his defence of the French fortress of Dien Bien Phu this spring against a massive Communist siege.

The official Vietminh radio said he would not be released today, as stated earlier. The broadcast blamed "difficulties in communications caused by recent heavy rains."

Reports from prisoners already released say de Castries is in good health.

THE UNSATISFIED JUDGMENT FUND

The Ontario Intelligencer has received five sheets of foolscap, summarizing the operation of Ontario's Unsatisfied Judgment Fund.

From the time the Fund came into effect on July 1, 1947, until May 31 of this year, $5,622,513.02 was paid out in partial or total fulfilment of 2,113 judgments awarding damages to persons who, while driving motor cars, would have been lacking if the Fund had not been put into effect.

Of the total paid out, $612,218.10 was for hit-and-run cases, where the injured person would otherwise have had no hope of collecting damages because the guilty driver was unknown.

This is a good record. But is it good enough? We suggest it is not.

The maximum amount for death or injury to one person is $5,000. In an accident near Waubaushene, one man driving a motorcycle was killed and a boy passenger was injured. The boy got a judgment for the $5,000 limit from the Fund. The injured boy was awarded $4,654.79 and his father received the remaining $345.21 of the $5,000 limit, for hospital and medical expenses. We are not suggesting that $5,000 was too much to compensate the boy and his father for the lad's injuries. But if this amount was not exorbitant, then was the $5,000 sufficient compensation for the father for the loss of her husband? The summary does not state the size of his family, if any, but if he had a dozen children and if his death had left them orphans, $5,000 would still have been the maximum amount which could have been paid. Is it fair to maintain this limit, when another man received the same amount for an accident in which he had both legs fractured and was unable to walk for fifteen months?

Drivers whose obligations have been paid by the Fund face what the summary describes as "unpleasant situations." Their permits to own or drive a motor vehicle are suspended and remain so until full restitution has been made to the Fund, plus interest charges of 4 per cent. A regular check is made on their ability to pay, and if they can they are forced to do so. This is good.

It is arguing, too, to learn that an increasing percentage of motorists today protect themselves with liability insurance. Officials estimate that between 80 and 85 per cent of motorists are protected by insurance, as against 70 or 75 per cent when the fund came into operation. This is good, but once again, is it good enough? We suggest it is not. Why should not all motorists be required to carry automobile insurance? They may not be able to pay heavy damages assessed by a court after an accident, but if they can afford to drive a car at all they can afford the modest sum required to purchase insurance before the accident.

If every motorist were required to provide proof of financial responsibility before he was permitted to drive, then the enormous sum that could be devoted to paying damages to injured parties where the person responsible was unknown. This would make it possible to abolish the arbitrary $5,000 limit without increasing the cost of the Fund's operations.

Finally, is the Fund financed in a sound manner? We doubt it. For the first two years, claims were paid out of provincial revenue. From 1949, however, a fee of 50 cents was collected with the sale of every driver's licence. In 1953 this fee was raised to $1. Motorists thus pay the cost of operating this Fund.

The assumption is not a motorist, may argue that this is as it should be, that there is no reason why he should be required to pay for the damage done by a driver who does not carry insurance. But is there any more reason why this burden should be shouldered by the driver who does obtain insurance, to protect himself and other users of the highways? If it were made compulsory for all owners of motor vehicles to carry insurance, then the only claims on the Fund would be in hit-and-run cases. The hit-and-run driver is a criminal. Why should other drivers be the ones to pay compensation for his crimes? Is not this a responsibility which should be shared by the community as a whole?

MUNICIPALITIES CANNOT AFFORD IT

Hon. Paul Martin, Federal minister of health, says the federal government can and will do more to support civil defence costs in future, but there is no thought that provincial and local governments to think of withdrawing their support.

A successful program, he says, can only be worked out through co-operation of federal, provincial and municipal governments.

That co-operation would be much easier to obtain if Mr. Martin would accept the fact that municipalities cannot afford to shoulder any part of the financial burden for defence schemes.

Whether the work should be purely a federal responsibility, just as are such other phases of national defence as the maintenance of an army, navy and air force, or whether the provinces should be required to carry part of the load is an involved question.

It may even be argued that a good case can be made for financial participation by municipalities, that protection of property is part of the duty of municipal governments and that civil defence work is largely a wartime extension of the normal peacetime responsibilities of the municipally appointed and paid fire and police departments.

The difficulty is that, though it may be possible to win the argument against the municipalities, that victory cannot be made effective.

The simple truth is that municipal governments just cannot afford to provide all the services which are demanded of them. And if they are to neglect one service it is certain that it will not be one that is essential today, but one which is not now needed and which may never be required.

The financial position of the municipalities forces them to gamble.

The federal government's financial position is such that it can afford not to gamble. It can afford to pay for civil defence and it has a clear duty not to take any unnecessary risk with the lives of Canadian citizens.

So, Mr. Martin, we think you can be assured of the cooperation of municipalities in the work of civil defence, providing you first relieve them of any financial burden arising from this work.

Such relief must not be merely window-dressing, but an actual fact. Where municipal officials are required to devote a considerable portion of their time to civil defence work, without the municipality being reimbursed in any way, the municipality is actually paying a share of the cost of civil defence just as surely as if it were required to contribute dollars and cents.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

September 2, 1934

The Rev. Andrew McLaughlin and family have returned to their home at Almonte after spending a month's vacation at the Lake.

During the month of August building permits to the total estimated value of $6,250 were issued by the city engineer's office; most of the permits covered alterations and repairs. Since the first of the year thirty three permits have been issued at an estimated cost of $56,280.

Mr. and Mrs. William Langley of Toronto, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ketchum, Hillcrest.

Miss Evelyn Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gillespie, is visiting her aunt in Ottawa.

The United Church at Consecon is celebrating its 100th anniversary. The first quarterly meeting was held in 1836; the pastor was John Ryerson, the first pastor. The church bell was donated by Dr. Mary Ketchum of St. Louis, a former resident, in 1871. The service on Sunday morning was conducted by the Rev. W. D. Harrison, the present pastor, and the evening service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Bowles, Moderator of the United Church.

30 YEARS AGO

September 2, 1924

Mr. Norman Edwards will spend Labor Day with friends in Toronto.

Miss Nora Carruthers, Foster Ave., has returned home after spending some time in the Old Country.

Mrs. Robert Oliphant and son, Clifford, have returned home from Rossland, B.C., where they spent a vacation with the former's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Evans have returned home from a two weeks' motor car trip to Detroit and other points in the United States and Canada.

Over five hundred students applied for admittance at the high school this morning. How they are to be accommodated is a serious matter according to the school authorities.

Mr. W. Pitman of Pitman of Des Moines, Iowa, is renewing acquaintances in the city and vicinity after an absence of several years.

40 YEARS AGO

September 2, 1914

The schools in the city opened yesterday after the summer vacation. Interest centred in the new Queen Mary School in West Belleville which opened for classes for the first time. A. E. Bailey, inspector, and Queen Mary School committee, Fred T. Deacon, B. Mallory and Phil. Harrison, members of the Board of Education, and H. J. Clarke, school inspector, were present. This is the third school erected for the city by contractor Geo. A. Bennett, and while the others built here by him are a fine type, Queen Mary school is the largest and has many conveniences that the others lack. It is a credit to the builder. Major David Barrigar is the efficient and popular principal of the school.

Harry Dickens, an old Belleville boy, son of Mr. Charles C. Dickens of this city, enlisted at Winnipeg for active service with the 90th Regiment and he is now at Valcartier many miles away.

50 YEARS AGO

Earl Grey will succeed Lord Minto as Governor General of Canada.

Mr. P. C. Jones and Mr. Whitefield Cronk were thrilled by the last evening and Mr. Cronk landed a maskinonge which weighed 50 pounds. The big fish put up a great fight. One ouriock on the boat was torn off.

Messrs. W. H. Henthorn and Ned Henthorn went to Toronto today.

Mr. William Walker and Miss Carrie Walker have left to visit friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. Joseph Nevin Coyle is home from New York on a visit.

A barn owned by Mr. George Ross on the Old Hastings road at Huntingdon township, was recently struck by lightning and destroyed by fire together with other out buildings. It was a hard fight to save the house.

Mr. John W. Cook was home from Kingston to spend the week-end.

Currycombs His Fish

(Windsor Star)

Nothing will daunt inveterate fishermen. The delight they get from catching fish is enough to compensate for bad weather, mosquitoes or other nuisances they encounter. They're the scale and clean fish without complaint.

The individual who can fish or leave it alone is not the same. He may get a kick out of catching, or eating, fish. But the nasty job of scaling and cleaning fish takes all the pleasure out of it. By the time he gets done he wishes he had stayed at home.

But there are tricks in all trades. Recently we were in summer cottage and noted an old fashioned currycomb hanging on the wall. That is the instrument used in grooming horses, to keep their hides sleek and fresh. We thought it unusual in a summer cottage and enquired how it was hanging there.

"I use it to scale fish. I can rip the scales off a fish faster with that than with any knife or new-fangled gadget, explained the owner. "I don't bother him.

This man had the art of improvisation, a very handy aptitude. If he didn't have the proper instrument at a certain task he would think up one which would work just about as well or, as in the case of the currycomb, even better.

Shrews Not for Taming

(The Saturday Evening Post)

Chances are much better, though even that not one citizen in six thousand will own a shrew, the most abundant mammal in the United States, according to zoologist Oliver P. Pearson, a University of California professor.

"A shrew," he points out, "is very vicious, scolding, turbulent, four-legged mammal that is very much addicted to biting.

"Because shrews live in burrows and seldom interfere with man's interests and activities, even their unruly personality has failed to bring them to people's attention. Yet they abound everywhere; in forests, meadows, bogs, deserts and in the gardens. American shrews resemble small moles and earless mice. They have long, pointed noses, tiny eyes and velvety fur. Some of them are astonishingly small, being no larger than a penny. The shrew spends practically all of its time in dark tunnels and other vegetation where it must rely primarily on hearing, smell and the sense of touch."

So elusive are shrews, Pearson says, that experienced field investigators seldom see them in the wild. About the only way to get a look at one, he says, is to capture them in mousetraps. Shrews have large, fluid ears ridden in test litter — and resting hog. Nothing aside one of the big, dignified dogs. Shrews, instead of being timid or neat. Traps placed for shrews and other species of small mammals will capture a fair number of them.

Shrews, said Dr. Pearson, "are delightful little nervous restlessness, and there is a good reason for this. Living a high energy living mammals, they have the highest rate of metabolism. Hence, they must devour enormous quantities of food. A man, eating in proportion to his weight, would consume more than 300 pounds of beef per day."

The shrew's normal diet consists of earthworms, seeds, mice, sow bugs, grasshoppers, stalks, fish and whatnot. They eat almost continuously and each consumes approximately its own weight of food each day.

While I was down with senility there arrived on my desk several clippings of newspaper stories and comments about the undue hardships I have suffered from uncontrollable bleeding after tonsillectomy.

It is distressing enough to think of a child in such a plight. It is singing land in our south.

IS A MAJOR OPERATION NECESSARY?

In 72 hours recently I aged 72 months, I believe because (1) sore throat, pain, tenderness and stiffness from no appreciable sprain or injury made me afraid to stir my head; (2) a casual meeting soon results in my having to calculate physiological age of a man you know; and (3) I got into a discussion of tonsillectomy and its hazards.

Dr. Brady

My statement attributed to Brady the newspaper quack:

"The children are lucky to receive such good food" (plain wheat slowly steamed till the grains begin to pop open and mixed with milk in electric juicer to what the children call a cocktail) "instead of the usual foods . . ."

It was only after my adrenals and arteries had been subjected to great abuse that I discovered it was neither a typographical error nor a deliberate aberration of my copy. I met my own fate. It is the written copy when I meant sheet. You know what I mean. Sheet music, sheet and hydrate items, foods composed mainly of refined white flour and/or refined white sugar.

It was only after my adrenals and arteries had been subjected to great abuse that I discovered it was neither a typographical error nor a deliberate aberration of my copy, I met my own fate. It is the written copy when I meant sheet. You know what I mean. Sheet music, sheet and hydrate items, foods composed mainly of refined white flour and/or refined white sugar.

After I was down with senility there arrived on my desk several clippings of newspaper stories and comments about the undue hardships I have suffered from uncontrollable bleeding after tonsillectomy.

It is distressing enough to think of a child in such a plight. It is much, much worse when you keep thinking yourself. I have had tonsillectomy really necessary.

This is one of the things the public pokes at me. Many of my medical colleagues all bear with it, and ask me to help them if I were not irish. After all, why should I feel more emotional about the unnecessary loss of tonsillectomy than the doctors who cannot be mollified by youths in the belief that neither the safe and painless X-ray or radon (radium emanation) treatment nor the minor operation, injection of sclerosing (hardening) fluid off the obstructing parties, but only the radical removal of every bit of small tissue by prolonged dissection of the throat will give satisfactory results.

Not that tonsillectomy is less likely — it start uncontrollable bleeding — than the simpler operation, if the patient happens to be one of the (hemophilia) by inheritance or subject to delayed clotting from other causes.

I have written something out of me whenever I hear or read about tonsillectomy. Of course, I hear or read of so many such fatalities, I have studied the question and written about it often. The Hippocratic injunction: Do no harm. Yes; certainly but Do Harm, and by what I believe is God's will. I just can't understand why the profession on the subject children to tonsillectomy when we know from experience that the comparatively safe, minor operation, tonsillectomy, or tonsillectomy plus radium X-ray or radium treatment is entirely adequate.

Parks Founded By King Harry

(BBC Talks Summary)

A great many interesting and little known facts about the principal London Parks were given by Alan Edwards, a young British actor, in a recent broadcast. "Whatever we may think of him in other ways," he said, "Henry VIII was a great benefactor to posterity. Gratitude by all lovers of the London Parks, for besides his passion for hunting, and it was he who first encouraged the Londoners to take care of the land we know now as Regent's and St. James's Parks. In 1536 he drove the Abbot of Westminster out of the land and converted him to confiscate land from the Abbey to a hunting-ground. By adding to this and straightening its boundaries he laid the foundation for Hyde Park (in Saxon times the Manor of Eia, hence the name)".

Edward VI, Queen Elizabeth and Cromwell was the villain of the piece, for during his rule he confiscated Hyde Park and sold it in three lots. He stopped the use of Marylebone Park (now Regent's Park). reserved three thousand trees for the Navy, and the remaining timber and the deer and assigned the land to Commissioners for the Parks and Dragons. The lands reverted to the Crown with the restoration of the monarchy and as a result we are known today than beaten to Marylebone Park. It was a favorite and as a garden by Le Notre, the man who had designed the gardens in Versailles, and he used to visit his aviary there and exercise his dogs.

Hyde Park was mainly used for military reviews and was fitted with gibbets. Queen Caroline (wife of George II's consort, ordered that the stable of ponds along the course of Rotten Row should be relonged, the result being the Serpentine. "Only a century ago there was a difference between the Crown—usually to the Royal Family—and the London Gardens and Green Park were the only two parks not directly connected with the Crown. Cromwell. Kensington Gardens remained from the time when it surrounded Kensington Palace and was at first a private park and gradually came to be used as the Park got its name" said Edward. It had no flowers but there was mostly short grass and trees.

The Parks were centres of relaxation and recreation and Londoners used them constantly. On Bank Holidays some twenty-five thousand people wandered round Regent's Park and "if they all went to the Zoo together" Mr. Edwards said, "he enough blooms to give them one each. Yes, there are twenty-five acres in Regent's Park and there are two hundred varieties, but upon my word of sweet-peas" said Mr. Edwards. Regent's Park was varied and extensive with many attractions, such as cricket, golf, football, hockey and other sports.

"Hyde Park has an altogether different character. It is called "The lungs of London' the Elder Pitt called it, and it is a park on a wide open spaces. To most of us, Hyde Park means three things: Speaker's Corner, Rotten Row and Speaker's Corner. This latter—the only serious matter—can change the world, or save souls—is a national, almost international institution. Here, on Sunday afternoons by swimming and sunbathing, fishing, rowing and sailing, the hundreds of riders appeared on horseback in Rotten Row. The Round Pond was the centre of Kensington Gardens and Edward's tall tist St. James's, the Duke of York's column are most of the poms and pageantry of monarchy. Buckingham Palace was at one end and the Horse Guards Parade at the other. St. James's had wonderful flowers in the old fashioned of tame ducks and geese from all parts of the world, and to maintain its ancient connection with King Charles' statary there was a famous pelican house and on Duck Island which lay in the middle of the lake.

St. Louis Livable

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

The British Foreign Office which will provide a good job on the whole maintains a fine tradition. Generally speaking its diplomats get extra vacation time to make up for the hardships of their calling, while members of the humidity inflict real punishment on humanity.

It includes posts under the cloudless sky of the Sinaian peninsula, the Persian Gulf littoral scorched by the shrieking sirocco, the malarial swamps of the Gambia banks of Burma's heavy jungle, settlements in the seething cauldrons of Arabian and African cities and villages on the swallering bends of Africa's fever-ridden rivers. Now there is a new station, St. Louis, much to the indignation of the Chamber of Commerce, just till St. Louis go through the summer of 1955 with a high of only degrees registered on August 23. Since then, St. Louis has been off the tropical list.

THAT LITTLE EXTRA

The average person has about as many good and bad traits as do those who attain especial distinction. The difference is that the latter have added just a little extra knowledge to all that they had that lifted them above the line of obscurity.

A window cleaner remarked to Harvard University, William James, that "there is not much difference between one job and another, but what there is is very important." To the plan that does the work. It takes more than mere beauty in a woman, for example, to be a compelling personality.

There are painters, whose work I admire, who seem to have the knack of putting movement and life in what they do. That extra sparkle, or note of distinction. Robert Benchley had it. So did Sarg-ent. People with attractive personalities have this extra and it makes them outstanding. And it's that little extra that wins a horse race, that makes a baseball team a champion, that wins a battle, that sells more goods, that makes a successful business.

Having two bars written down, our composer sat back and looked at them. Now I would hunt for a cuff-link we had dropped under the bed. Our composer sat in a state of inspiration. Then he began to write. He wrote and wrote and wrote. He paused now and then to think, but he wrote and wrote. He wrote and wrote and wrote. He wrote and wrote and wrote. He wrote and

MEMORIAL

This is a model of the memorial being erected near the battlefield cemetery at El Alamein, Egypt, for almost 12,000 Commonwealth servicemen who died in the Second World War and have no known graves. The memorial, which records the names of 8,725 officers and men killed in the western desert in Egypt and 3,320 members of the air forces who were killed during operations from bases in the eastern Mediterranean, the Near East and East Africa, will be unveiled by Field Marshal Lord Montgomery Oct. 24. — (from U.K. Information Office.)

HURRICANE DAMAGE HEAVY

Two automobiles are crushed beneath an 80-foot tree which toppled during the height of a hurricane which struck Montreal and swept through much of Quebec province. Damage was estimated at more than $1,000,000 and two persons were known dead as a result of Hurricane Carol which came up from the United States. — (CP Photo)

France Welcomes British Proposal For Conference

PARIS (AP) — Britain's proposal for an eight-power conference on German rearmament was welcomed today by a French foreign ministry spokesman.

Details of the British suggestion, which followed the French parliamentary vote killing the European army plan, were expected to be transmitted today by British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb to Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The European Army would have permitted rearmament of Germany within a supra-national framework. The job of the conference will be to find some other way of putting Germans in uniform for the defence of the West.

Informants in London who disclosed the British plan after a cabinet meeting Wednesday said Prime Minister Churchill's government is in favor of rearming Germany as a member of NATO—the 14-power North Atlantic alliance.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German cabinet called for new defence negotiations Wednesday, but pointedly excluded France. The French spokesman coldly refused to comment on the German step. It is clear, however, that the French will approve no such shut-out.

Barn Collapses, Five Dig Way Out of Debris

WINDSOR MILLS, Que. (CP)—Five persons dug their way out of the debris of a collapsed barn Tuesday night when an arm of Hurricane Carol struck this town in the Sherbrooke region.

Auguste Rivard, owner of the barn, was milking with his son and three other men when a sudden gust of wind blew the barn down. Mr. Rivard, suffering from head and leg injuries, dug a two foot opening in the debris and guided the group to safety.

Volunteers helped save 35 cows, many of them injured by falling beams and lumber. Damage was estimated at $12,000.

To Hold Convention

CHATHAM (CP)—A convention to select a candidate to contest the riding of West Kent has been called by Donald R. Farquharson, president of the West Kent Liberal Association, for Sept. 16.

Farquhar Oliver, leader of the Ontario Liberal party, is expected to address 600 delegates. Other speakers will include Blake Hoffman, federal Liberal member for Kent.

Ford May Offer Stock to Public In Leadership Bid

DETROIT (AP) — A Ford Motor Company spokesman Wednesday termed as a "pretty reliable story" a Fortune magazine article predicting Ford's vast industrial empire would soon be changed from a family-owned to a publicly-owned company.

The spokesman, who declined to be identified, said he had orders neither to deny it or confirm a story that the multi-billion-dollar automobile firm will offer its stock for public sale in a move to gain first place in the auto industry over General Motors Corp.

The spokesman added that the Fortune article was speculation and "not too bad, at that."

The auto industry anticipated within the next year perhaps its greatest competitive battle in history—among the "big three" of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

The Detroit Free Press said Wednesday it learned preliminary steps leading to sale of Ford stock in the next several months already had been taken.

The Free Press said first step toward public sale of company stock would originate with the Ford Foundation, philanthropic organization, which owns 3,000,000 shares of Class A (non-voting) stock.

The foundation was set up with Ford family millions. Its 3,000,000 shares of class stock is 88.5 per cent of the total. The rest is owned by the company and members of the Ford family.

However, actual control of the company is vested in 172,000 shares of Class B voting stock. The Ford family controls all of this. Both A and B stock has the same value.

Police Use Gas To Beat Back Prison Riot

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Seventy police used tear gas Wednesday night to beat back an attempt by rioting prisoners to storm the main gate of the general penitentiary. The outbreak was the second in the prison in six days.

The trouble came at the end of a restless day when several prisoners broke out of their cells and smashed other doors. Twenty finally broke loose from the cell block and tried to force the outer gate.

Two squads of police reinforcements were called. They forced the prisoners back into their cells after two hours of violence.

Last Friday some 350 convicts ran amok, beating guards and other prisoners.

Present holder of the provincial seat is George M. Parry, Progressive Conservative.

MENDES-FRANCE SHOWS THE STRAIN

Picture of a worried man is this one of French Premier Mendes-France. His formula for revision of the European Defence Community was rejected at Brussels by other nations and was turned down again in the French assembly. He still hopes that France may participate in European defence alliances in some modified form, but it is expected that his government, like others that preceded his, will not survive for long.

RYLSTONE

Large Crowd Attends Season's Last Concert

RYLSTONE—The last open-air concert of the season, was held at Crowe River Bridge picnic grounds on Sunday night, with another large crowd in attendance. The usual opening exercises were the words of welcome by Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, Rylstone Women's Institute president, and Mrs. Bourne, picnic grounds operator, and Mrs. Don Kerr, convener for community activities, and mistress of ceremonies.

The program, announced by Mrs. Kerr was as follows:

Theme song, "Church in the Wildwood." Several selections by Havelock Rillie Band: community singing, led by Anne Nicholls and Cecil Koning of Campbellford, with George Nicholls, as accompanist, with his accordion. "Way Down Upon the Swanee River"; "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," "Down by the Old Mill Stream," "Home on the Range," "Bicycle Built for Two," and "How is the Hay"; vocal solo, "Stranger of Galilee," by Mrs. Don Stewart, with George Nicholls accompanying on the accordion. Encore, "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross"; vocal duet, "It Pays to Serve Jesus" by Mrs. Tom Wallace and Peter Edwards, accompanied by George Nicholls. Encore, "Jesus the Crucified."

Guitar solo, "It is No Secret," by J. Dickinson, Stanwood; vocal duet, unaccompanied, "Ga Niet Achem Door Es Leven," by two Dutch sisters, Greta and Joyce Stottes who came to Canada but six weeks ago; Encore, "Als g' in Nood Gezetin," vocal and guitar duet, "Thirty Pieces of Silver," by Joyce and Elizabeth Barnum; encore, "It is No Secret"; group singing, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Irwin. Junkers, "Praise Him, Praise Him," led by Earline and Linda Kerr; intermediates, "Darling Nellie Gray," led by the barber shop sextette, Eldon Patchick, Bob Tinney, Gerald and Earl Fry, Gordon Osborne and Earl Cowan, accompanied by George Nicholls with the accordion. Encore, "Good Night Ladies"; selection, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," led by Alfred Harmon; vocal and guitar solo, "Cowboy Don't Forget Your Mother," by Mrs. Fred Thompson, Campbellford. Encore, "When My Shoe Moon Turns to Gold Again"; vocal and two guitars duet, "In That Beautiful Land on a Faraway Strand," by Mrs. Ralph Heath and Mrs. Walter Reid. Encore, "One Night as I Lay Dreaming"; several selections by the Rylstone Rillie Band, ending with "Auld Lang Syne".

Short speeches were given by Mrs. Ernest Spencer, Institute president, and Mrs. Ernest Irwin, former federated board member, thanking the audience for their attention and attendance, and the artists for their generosity in giving of their talents, for the pleasure of all.

It is hoped that something of the same may be had next summer. Special thanks are to be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Bourne for their cooperation in so making it possible for the concerts to be held, and to the Turnbull Elevator Company for the use of their local speaking equipment.

Minor Softball Playoffs

In Minor softball playoffs last night, Checker Taxi edged Tip Top by a 6-5 score in the bantam loop to lead their three-of-five series to two straight games, while Bland's downed Rotary Club 9-7, taking their pee wee series in two straight games.

McLaren was the bantam hero, hurling a one-hitter for Checker Taxi. He fanned four and walked six, while Poirier gave up 12 hits in taking the loss, walking three and walking none.

Jessels, Bell, Green and Goyer each had two singles for the winners while Sheridan claimed the only hit off McLaren, a single.

These two teams meet tonight at the Alemite Field and should Tip Tops win, it will be a double-header. Carson and Bawden were the umpires.

Till pitched the pee wees to their victory, allowing seven hits, whiffing four and walking three. Zakos went the distance for Rotary, giving up 10 hits, striking out two and walking four.

Poirier led the winners at bat with a double and three singles while Norm Till helped his own cause with a home run and a single. G. Till and Lesslie claimed a brace of singles each.

Archer had a triple and three singles in defeat with Zakos hitting a double. Barclay and Garvin were the umpires.

Past Matrons Club Elects New Officers

WELLINGTON — The regular meeting of the Past Matrons' Club, Lakeside 51, O.E.S., was held recently when two carloads of ladies drove to Bayside to the summer home of Mrs. Clinton Caisan.

A delicious pot luck supper was enjoyed at 7 p.m. This was followed by a short business meeting.

The president thanked the hostess and presented her with a colorful bouquet of gladioli in honor of her birthday.

Eleven members answered the roll call and some amusing and interesting incidents were related.

Mrs. Dewsen made a brief farewell speech. She thanked the members for their splendid co-operation during the past year and wished best of luck to her successor.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Election of officers followed and are as listed, president, Mrs. Gladys McFaul, 1st vice-president, Mrs. E. Burd; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Dorothy Rutter, secretary, Mrs. Helen Hall; treasurer, Miss Helen Green; social committee, Miss Norma Foster, Mrs. Clara Grindrod, Mrs. Dorothy Rutter, Mrs. Ruby Fleming; press, Mrs. Vi Marvin.

The new president thanked the members for electing her to office and asked for continued cooperation for the new year.

Plans were made where future meetings were to be held.

Congratulations to member, Past Matron, Ila Macdonald, who with her husband, Ian, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary August 24th.

All were sorry to hear of the serious illness of Dr. Bradley, husband of Past Matron Ruby Bradley, and wished him a speedy recovery.

Games were enjoyed with all the guests taking home a pretty favor donated by the hostess.

Mrs. McFaul moved a vote of thanks to the hostess for the enjoyable evening which was seconded by all present.

Bride-to-Be Honored By Shower of Gifts

About 25 girls gathered recently at the home of Mrs. Ken McMechan, Melrose, to honor a bride-to-be, Miss Jean Gladney. Miss Dorothy Roblin and Mrs. Madeline Brodie acted as co-hostess.

The rooms were gaily decorated with pink and white streamers, baskets of gladioli and zinnias.

A few contests were given after which Jean was asked to take a special chair and little Miss Gail McMechan drew in a prettily decorated wagon loaded with many lovely gifts.

After opening her gifts Jean thanked everyone and invited them to visit her in her new home.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

MELROSE W.I.

The August meeting of the Melrose Women's Institute was held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. McLaren.

Mrs. Clare Weese took charge of the meeting and it was announced that the Garden Club Achievement Day will be held in Sidney on September 2rd.

Mrs. Charles Bates, jr., offered her home for the short course, "Brighten Your Home With Colour" to be held November 2nd from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Donations of candy or cookies were requested and Mrs. J. McLaren will be in charge of selling same and looking after the display at Shannonville Fair.

Mrs. E. Pascoe Jr. Agriculture convener, gave an interesting account of the manufacture of binder twine and the Misses Pamela Cumley, Eileen Reilly and Shirley Pascoe sang two beautiful numbers.

Mrs. Carmen Milligan gave a humorous reading followed by Mrs. Grant McLaren, who gave a picturesque description of a recent 3,100 mile vacation trip through the provinces of eastern Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and the States of Maine, New Hampshire and New York.

Mrs. Ken McMechan read a humorous account on the way not to shell peas.

A general discussion "Problems of a Farmer's Wife", with Mrs. Arthur English, as leader, was talked over and a wide range of questions answered.

flat top to go with Dior's flat front.

The new hair-do for fall, the American, was unveiled at the National Beauty Trades Show this week. This American look is a trend rather than any particular hair style, an interpretation rather than an introduction of foreign influences.

It is designed to complement fall fashions in clothes, millinery, jewelry and even shoes, the associations said.

Following the controversial stylings of French couturier Christian Dior, the new coif is actually be flat on top with a high temple line and feature back interest, comparable to the fashion hip-interest.

HIGH-STYLE LOOK

Coif experts claim the trend is for a high-style look. No more the once - popular Italian boy and shaggy line a la Audrey Hepburn.

The spotlight on the back of the head centres on the "Kissable Neck," with hair no longer than two inches at the neck. Most important here is the stylist's diagram: It's a sin to let your hair touch your clothes.

Since fall styles either are very dull or brilliant, hair must take on new hurts. Never before has the hairbrush and the "100 slightly strokes" had such importance, said a association spokesman.

In keeping with the back fullness prevalent in many of the current and new styles, there is lingerie to match. Nylon taffeta is used for a petticoat with scalloped front flat and marked by a band-embroidered applique. Back is held out by deep flounce of nylon lace topped by wide satin ribbon and bows.

Velvet lines mark hats prepared for fall. Typical of the new cloche lines is a model of grey velvet whose fall with fall crown and deep curved, bonnety brim. It is trimmed with a big, flaring, curved, flyaway bow of the felt lined in bright red velvet.

Getting away from monotones, lingerie designers are going in for beautiful prints. One famous house has ready for autumn a slip dip bra with bracelet splashed with roses, small on the bodice and increasing in size by the skirt hem. Dots in red or yellow and green are white.

Every dress has a "mark" that will find this fabric in wide circulation come fall. It is used for dressed theatre suits and theatre coats, as well as for linings and bindings of suits.

CONCERNING VISITORS AND FOR GRANDMOTHERS

"It is practically impossible for some people to pass by a telephone as it a friend's house without using it. Usually not even a "by your leave." This, combined with practically no enthusiasm, is particularly true of summer visitors. Or perhaps your hostess has mind a bit if you use her telephone on the occasions when it is necessary. But you won't enjoy yourself in that if you are that prim poet, the telephone-monopolizer, the talkative Miss Fussbudget. And don't stoop to make a long-distance call on the QT: first and foremost if you may make the call; reverse the charge if it is at all practical if very often but if not, promptly ask the operator for the charge and then add the amount in an envelope by the telephone, with a notation of the date, number called, time and a brief "thank you." Follow this honest list—considered by many—and you'll rate as A-Plus for Telephone-Conduct!

GROOM PROVIDES CORSAGE FOR GRANDMOTHERS

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

I know that you always advise that it is the responsibility of the corsage to his bride's mother and to his own mother. But, what about the grandmothers—who supplies these? My mother-in-law, grandmother and the groom's paternal grandmother will be at our wedding.— Bride-to-be

It is also the responsibility of the groom to provide the corsages for the grandmothers. And it is the privilege that a thoughtful groom would want to take. It just wouldn't be right for a grandmother, such an important guest, to provide her own corsage to wear at the wedding. So, leaving or finding out what color each grandmother will wear and what flowers she would prefer, should pass on this information to your groom. Or he may like the simpler (most men do) for you to arrange with your florist the corsages and charge them to him.

THE HOSTESS WAS RIGHT

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

My husband and I are very recent members of the Country Club here, and last Saturday evening we gave a cocktail party at our home for about twenty guests, before the dinner-dance at the Club. When I thought we would leave in order to arrive at the designated time at the Club, I suggested to the guests that it was time to leave. My sister, who was one of the guests, told me the following day that I was most discourteous as a hostess should not ask guests to leave her house, that I should have waited for a guest to suggest leaving. Was I discourteous? — Hostess

You did exactly what you should have done. It was important that your party arrive on time at the Club, particularly since you and your husband are new members; and you for your husband should have made the suggestion about leaving. It would not have been courteous for a guest to break up the party you were giving.

BIRTH-ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR SECOND CHILD

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

When our first child was born I sent very attractive printed birth-announcement cards, filling in the name of the baby and the date of birth. I thought this type of card so attractive that I have been planning to send cards as near that kind as I could find, to announce the arrival of our second child. But I have been told by several people that it is not correct to send announcement-cards for the second child, that it is correct to send announcement-cards for the first child only. Of course this is not true, there is no reason why it should be true. It is correct for you to send cards announcing the birth of your second child, just as you did to announce the birth of your first child.

PRESENT TO HOUSEWARMING, AS TO SHOWER?

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

Yesterday some friends and I were chatting together and the subject of housewarmings came up. Two of the friends had recently moved into their new homes, and one of these said that she and her husband would like to give a housewarming but they thought that it would look strange if they gave it themselves. The other one said that you thought a housewarming should be given by a friend or group of friends, and then gifts would be brought, as to a shower. Before this I had never thought of a housewarming as a shower, or even similar to one, when about this, Mrs. Beechman.— Marietta L.

Want to Buy A Duck?

By Mary Moore

The Moores were eating off the fat of the land this week-end. Just look over this menu:

Roast Young Frostion Duck—Hot Applesauce

Squash Young Beets and Greens Corn on the Cob Sliced Tomatoes and Cucumbers Duchess Apple Pie and Cheese Tea and/or Chocolate Layer Cake Coffee

You see it is like this. Our friends Bart and Hall, have added to their flock of ducks and their turkey and chicken farm.

These are very special ducks—Muscovy no less, or, if you are a duck expert, their real name is Cairina Moschata. All I know is that their color is beautiful, they waddle with a love-along swing and, once roasted, taste heavenly.

The occasion for this celebration was the last dinner before Marianne left on her vacation. She is going to B.C. to join her fiancé Herbie and then drive to his home in Castlegar to meet his people for the first time. All very important and thrilling.

ROAST YOUNG FREELTON DUCKLING

The duck — weighed nearly 6 pounds. Bart had dressed it "oven-ready". All we had to do was make the stuffing: 3 cups (6 cups) cent whole wheat bread cut in 1-4-inch cubes, 1 small onion chopped finely, 1 beaten egg, 1-3 cup warm milk, 2 tablespoons soft butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-3 teaspoon poultry dressing. The onions were not sautéed in the butter—everything was just mixed together and stuffed into the duck, and it was fastened with small metal skewers. We basted the duck with a mixture of 2 tablespoons each flour and butter mixed to a paste with 1-3 cup hot water and roasted it at 325 deg. Fahr. for 3 hours. That's all there was to it. Do not prick the skin while it is roasting.

The first thing I want you to know about is the chocolate cake.

It is a dark-red mahogany cake and the kind that every cake should be.

DARK RED DEVIL'S FOOD

Prepare 9-inch layer tins by wax-paper-lining and buttering.

In large bowl sift together and in it put 1 1-4 cups sifted cake flour, 1 3-4 cups granulated sugar, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 1 1-4 teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup cocoa, and then sift them into bowl. Add 2-3 cup soft shortening (good quality). Now beat for at least 5 minutes either by hand or with electric beater at low speed, but after first 30 seconds add 1 little over half of 1 cup water. As soon as this 5 minutes beating is up (mixture should be blended and smooth) add remaining water, 1 teaspoon vanilla and three eggs (medium-large) and beat another two minutes until very smooth. Pour into prepared layer tins and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. from 30 to 40 minutes. Allow cakes to stand in pans 2 or 3 minutes before turning out on racks to cool. Fill and frost with

MOCHA FROSTING

In a medium bowl put 1 egg white, 1 cup granulated sugar and 1 teaspoon cream of tartar; beat until mixed (electric beater is a godsend). Now add all at once 1-3 cup very strong boiling hot coffee, and continue beating about 10 minutes until stiff enough to stand in peaks.

Let me know how you like this masterpiece.

APPLES TO BRITAIN

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian apples may soon be going to the United Kingdom market again. The trade department announced Wednesday that Britain is making dollars available for "limited" purchase of fresh apples from Canada and the United States. Details are to be announced later.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

WHY CAN'T SHE TREAT THE BOY LIKE ANY OTHER?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

While on vacation, I met a very nice boy from the same city in which I live, and he promised to look me up after he returned home.

I like this boy, but as there are racial differences involved, I am not sure what to do when he calls.—Peggy

Dear Peggy:

Why should the fact that you and this boy are not of the same race make a difference in the way you treat him? If he was suitable as a vacation friend, why can't he suitable as a friend anywhere else?

Unless there are things you haven't told me which might make your friendship with him a problem, such as parental disapproval, for instance, I would say that I don't see any reason why you should be puzzled about continuing your friendship with him. Just treat him as you would any other boy friend, and if there are no definite objections in sight, don't dream them up for yourself. It's as simple as that.

SHE WIFE IS TROUBLE-MAKER OUTSIDE THE HOME

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I have been married for six years and have one boy. I am very much, but now am fast losing respect for her. The fact is that she has turned into a trouble-maker, and gets a real thrill out of causing trouble wherever she goes.

She loves to make a scene at our local stores and then carry complaints about the clerks to the boss. She never tells the truth. The minute she has to deal with any really evil word, and I know they hate to see her coming in, finally I forbade her to do the shopping, although I am pretty tired when I get home at night and have to do it.

She has only one nice home and two children, 7 and 3, to care for. And I see no reason why she shouldn't be happy. It isn't that she is bored, for I take her places. She just loves to cause trouble.

What can I do? — Mr. A.K.

Dear Mr. A.K.:

This problem of yours is a little too complicated for anyone to try and solve without knowing more details about your wife's character. What is needed here, I think, is a talk with someone close enough to you to be able to find out the psychological reasons that impel your wife to make trouble for others.

Could you, for example, go to your doctor, minister or priest or a marriage counsellor, explain the situation in detail and see if any one of them might be able to arrange for you to talk with her and try to find out why she does this? I believe this would be your best approach to the problem, for there must be some deep-seated cause for her behavior, particularly if it is something that has developed fairly recently and has not been always a characteristic of hers.

Will you give this suggestion some thought and then let me know how you feel about following it out?

Beauty

By HELEN JAMESON

BRIGHT COLORS GIVE A LIFT TO YOUR SPIRITS

Woman who have developed a keen sense of line and color, who want their clothes not only fine but distinctive, are a treat to the eye. But it isn't just money that creates the lady of fashion; it is good taste and a knowledge of what suits and flatters the wearer.

Here I shall touch in monotony in dress, especially fixed ideas as to color—for instance, the notion that brown or gray is the best but most grey are dull and certain shades of brown lack character. It would seem as if the women who wear these colors constantly fancy that gay hues are not quite respectable.

Colors have a psychological effect upon the wearer. There is many an orphan frock hanging in a closet because it has a depressing influence. You just don't feel right when you wear it.

Blue is a universal color. Smoky French blue is flattering to the blonde, brunette, the red head and the elderly woman with frosted tresses. Great old navy, popular this season, is as reliable as your dearest friend.

Red is stimulating. It is gay and youthful. It lights up the eyes and brightens up one of those mysterious colors of the rainbow. But women who are cursed with color phobia think it is their worst enemy.

Black should not be worn by the women whose face has been touched by time's cruel fingers. It is the most becoming of all colors to the true blonde with cornsilk hair, marvellous eyes and the perfect background for her delicate complexion.

The redhead will find it a happy choice, also, as it offers a stimulating contrast to her flaming thatch.

Yellow is sunny and springlike. Light greens are the coolest of all colors, suitable to wear when the thermometer soars high.

NEW COMETS' DEBUT

LONDON (Reuter)—New versions of Britain's ill-fated Comet jetliners will make their flying debut Monday at the Farnborough air show. More than 250,000 persons are expected to see the Hatfield secret Comet IV and Comet IV jetliners. The planes are designed to carry 70 passengers across the Atlantic at 500 miles an hour.

Fashion Flashes

Soft and fluffy, yet somehow tailored, is the clever effect achieved by the designer of the new evening dress collection. Typical of the showing is a full-length, strapless dress created entirely of rows of flaring pale blue ruffled net interrupted only by a taut midriff of matching ribbon.

Popping up in practically every collection is some version of the sheath, eased by slight blousing to give a slim, yet easy look. Nice in pale blonde tones is a silk brocade sheath for theatre wear, with piping of the models using fur edging at deep neck-lines—mink being the favored pelt. Dark ranch mink trims a sheath of deep brown brocaded in pale gold in a tiny, scattered floral motif.

Mother's Helper

A GOOD WAY to shorten your daughter's dresses is by taking a tuck in the back of a deep hem. Then, when that little girl has grown taller, simply take out the tuck and you needn't put in a new hem. With a little practice, the dress is ready to wear.

Almost 300 Attend Closing Exercises At Mt. Pleasant Vacation Bible School

TAKE 1—ALMOST 300 vithings

RAWDON—On Friday evening almost 300 people, children, parents, grandparents, and others, gathered at Mount Pleasant United Church hall for the closing exercises of the second annual Daily Vacation Bible School.

Long tables were set up along the east and west walls and here the displays of work were on view for all to enjoy. A table across the front held floral bouquets and the stage was nicely arranged and here the children presented their program. Everyone in the hall had a clear view of the group. The music teacher, Miss Betty McConnell, presided at the piano and the Rev. W. G. Fletcher directed the singing.

CERTIFICATES AWARDED

Mr. Ed. Richardson was director of the school and certificates were awarded to the children. They read in part: "This Vacation School certificate is awarded to ..... in satisfactory attendance and satisfactory work in the department for the year of Rawdon United Church circuit and signed by the director. The children were thrilled as they received these mementoes as well as to be able to carry home all the various articles which they had made during the week.

The kindergarten group had made cardboard pictures with "The Church" as the central theme. Scripture greeting cards were used to make wee baskets to hold real plants set in tin cans filled with earth, clocks, prayer plaques, and various small items were finished by the children.

The central theme was an attendance chart with the church and stars. The names were Betty McAdam, Barbara Thompson, Judy Reid, Jean Reid, Nancy Dewell, Jean Sharpe, Sally McAdam, Joan Jeffs, Larry Jeffs, Glenn Spencer, Donald Potts, Peter Richardson, Brenda Williams, Teddy Richardson, Jeanette Johnson, Brenda Campbell, Paul Bailey, Linda Bailey, Beverly Green, Ida May Bailey, Peter Vanderberg, John Royle, Brenda Bradley, Nancy Tompkins, Judy McAdam, Tommy Stewart and Nancy Johnson.

Mrs. Raymond McConnell conducted this class and her assistants were, Mrs. Ed. Richardson, Mrs. Will McAdam, Mrs. James Hoard, Mrs. Stanley Williams, Mrs. Irvine Potts, Mrs. Donald Johnson, Mrs. Will Jeffs, Mrs. Harry McAdam, Mrs. Ira David, Mrs. Douglas Campbell and Mrs. Archie Bailey.

THE PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

Each child printed his or her own name on a white card and these were placed around a large map of the world as central theme. The children fashioned paper plates with Bible pictures, note books with Bible covers and Bible verses painted on the inside pages, lovely scrolls, variegated windmills, and a large assortment of smaller articles.

On Wednesday Miss Ruth Linn did assisted the children in painting and decorating small jars to be used as vases.

Mrs. Herbert Smith was convenor of this group and her assistants for the week were, Mrs. Earl McMullen, Mrs. Will Heath, Mrs. Don Heath, and Mrs. W. G. Fletcher. The 20 children in this group were, Barbara Williams, Dick Thompson, Gertie Doorman, Gordon Royle, Allan Wrightman, Gordon Slue, Trudy Reid, Janet Fletcher, Douglas Potts, Brock Richardson, Linda McMullen, Kelvin Sharp, Shirley Potts, Margaret Ann Mulberon, Bonnie Bradley, Nellie Berg, Susanne Bailey, Kenneth Smith, Ronnie Summers, and Freddie McAdam.

JUNIORS

Their display was centred around the theme "We need churches," with various cardboard pictures and a nice array of plasterparis articles.

The children were: Gail Scott, Mary Ellen David, Dianne McAdam, Norma Hoard, Patsy Thompson, Marilyn Bailey, Pauline Johnson, Carol Sharpe, Sharon Reid, Tinnie Berg, Bobby Green, Murray Stacey, Ralph Reid, Kenneth McConnell, Ivan Reid, Larry McMullen, Alan Fletcher, Howard Jeffs, Bobby Lain, Thomas Johnson and Kabrina Butler.

This group was conveyed by Mrs. Kenneth Weaver, with assistants, Mrs. Rose Jeffs, Mrs. Stewart Hoover, Mrs. Burton Sharpe and Mrs. Milford Wrightman.

INTERMEDIATE

This group displayed a large collection of old Bibles, of various sizes and shapes. Onwards, and church periodicals of ancient vintages, and many interesting departments of church work.

The leather work revealed pen and pencil cases, comb cases and change purses. There were also braided plastic bracelets in two strand and four strand in a variety of showy colors. The placing of paris models included Indian heads, various birds, donkey and a bleating model of the Lord, as He walked around among His people. Mr. Ed. Richardson conveyed this group. Mr. Ray Sharp, teacher at Rush point public school, for the past two years was in charge of the craft work with Mrs. Carleton Potts.

The assistants in this department were Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Mrs. Wilfred Wrightman, Mrs. Marguerite McMullen and Mrs. Eric Summers. Three quarters of an hour each morning were devoted to Bible study. The children were Gail Jeffs, Donalda Heath, Marion Reid, Ronnie Heath, David Potts, Roger Smith, Hugh Hoard, Rasburn Scott, Jack Bailey, Ray Spencer, Janet Tompkins, Ras David, Jean Tompkins, Tommy Tompkins, Paul Jeffs and Joanne Reid.

The Intermediates convened in the church while the Juniors were in the church hall. The primary used the hall basement and the kindergarten had all of the church basement. The four places were well filled each day with interested children, eager to learn and learn as well as to create various articles.

Mr. Fletcher conducted a 15 minute devotional period each morning in the church at 9 a.m.

The Mount Pleasant ladies made all preparations before and spent Friday afternoon arranging the displays. Mrs. O. Sharp served the refreshments at recess Friday. A number of the high school girls and entrance pupils assisted each day and helped the children get in line for cookies and orange freshie.

Mrs. Will Heath, Mrs. Don Heath, Mrs. Stewart Hoover and Mrs. Edgar McKeown of Bethel served refreshments on Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. James Chumbley, Mrs. John Carlisle and Mrs. Carman Nix of Wellman's on Wednesday and Thursday.

PROGRAM

Mr. Fletcher was master of ceremonies for the closing exercises. The pastor presented a film strip which was a missionary story of Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack, member of the West German parliament who fled to East Germany, is shown at a fiel-dated news conference in East Berlin as he denounced the European Defence community and charged the Western allies with planning to divide the West German contributions to the pious project. A trusted member of Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union until his defection to the Reds, Schmidt-Wittmack said that the Federal Republic would provide 24 divisions and 12 more in reserve for the planned six-nation army. His speech was made prior to French withdrawal from EDC.—Central Press Canadian.

"Two Little Boys in the Congo." This portrayed how Christian people in other lands endeavor to bring happiness to those less fortunate than themselves.

Twenty-one children of the kindergarten class delighted with a rhythm band number. One hundred and fourteen children attended during the five days. Mrs. Raymond McConnell, Mrs. Ed. Richardson and Mrs. Will McAdam distributed the certificates to the groups.

The pastor expressed appreciation to all who had assisted in any way to make this second annual vacation school a success.

Nineteen members of the primary group portrayed a Sunday school session all seated in kindergarten chairs. Here they extended friendliness to Indians, Negros, Dutch girls and girls of East India, all in costume. They closed with an action song "Build Your House Upon a Rock."

The children brought collection each day and approximately $10 will be sent to the Dr. Laubach fund. Dr. Laubach has taught 60 million people to read and write.

The evening collection will be used to further another vacation school in 1955.

Wisdom Junior presented an interesting skit "What is a Church"? This was quite effective with chimes, Bibles; offering plate and candles, and at the close all sang "The Church's One Foundation". Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Hoover directed this item on the program.

Fourteen Intermediates, under the leadership of Mr. Ed. Richardson sang "Jesus Loves All the Children. Seventy-three children in massed formation with Mr. Fletcher as director, sang several numbers. Some were of the action variety and they closed with "We're on the Upward Trail."

The program closed with "Sing Your Way Home" and the benediction.

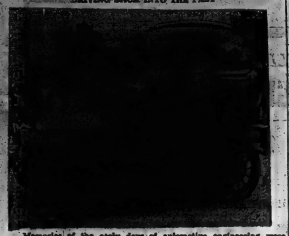
DRIVING BACK INTO THE PAST



Memories of the early days of automotive engineering were revived by R. S. McLaughlin and C. F. Kettering as they rode around the Exhibition grounds in Toronto in a 1908 McLaughlin-Buick. R. S. McLaughlin, who gave the car its name, is now chairman of the board of General Motors. C. F. Kettering, who pioneered in development of the self-starter, is one of the continent's most famous automotive engineers.

Orillia Girl Killed in Crash

BARRIE (CP)—Marlene Holmes, 17-year-old Orillia girl, died in hospital Wednesday night two hours after she was tossed 25 feet across a boulevard from a car which went out of control on the Barrie highway.

The driver of the car, Dick Eng, 23, of Orillia, escaped with cuts and bruises.

The two were returning home from a trip to the Canadian National Exhibition when the accident occurred.

Eng's car hit a soft shoulder on the highway at a curve four miles north of here. It veered into the boulevard, rolled over three times, skidded into the southbound lane and then veered back into the boulevard.

Miss Holmes suffered skull, hip and collarbone fractures when she was thrown from the skidding car.

Harvest Time Has Arrived For Fishing Town

STEVESTON, B.C. (CP)—Harvest time has come to this Pacific coast town.

Like any other one-crop centre, bills are being settled and there is money in the stores. The single beer parlor plays to a capacity house.

But Steveston is not a farming town. Her binders are the drum-burried gillnetters. The combiners are the larger, faster seine boats.

Her one crop is flashing silver coho, sockeye, chums and red salmon fighting their way from the Pacific ocean back into the rivers where they were born and where they return to die.

The men work on the decks or in the boats which sail from them. The women—almost 2,000 of them—work in the canneries processing the fish their men bring home.

HOT TIME

Steveston is a community of crooked houses on crooked streets. It has been wiped out by fire three times in its 60-year existence.

But right now, with the fabulous Adams river run on, the talk is much the same as you would hear in a prairie town at the height of the harvest—how big will the crop be and what will the prices run?

In the last week, fish valued at more than $10,500,000—to the fishermen alone—have been caught in the border area by craft of both Canada and the United States.

The Washington state fisheries department, in Seattle, said fishing weather continues good and landings for the season will reach 8,000,000 fish by the end of the week.

That's $15,000,000 at an average of $2 a fish.

PREPARE MIDWIFE FILM

LONDON (Reuter)—A new film on midwifery has been specially prepared for the world's first International Congress of Midwives, opening here Monday. More than 300 overseas delegates will be among the 650 expected to attend the week-long conference.

Cavan, Ralph and Terry, are planning to join Mr. McCabe at Sudbury at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Janna are spending a few days in Frankford with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanna.

Stirling

STIRLING—Misses Shirley Francis, Marlene Moorcroft, Stirling; Miss Ruth Gonsolus and her mother, Mrs. Foster Gonsolus and Miss Mabel Russell are camping at Smith's Bay near Picton.

Mrs. Walter Rodgers entertained several friends on Monday afternoon to a birthday party in honor of her son Murray.

Rev. R. R. Bonsteel, Bethany, Ont., visited in this district on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Bonsteel and baby left on Sunday to visit relatives at Lansdowne and other points in the Kingston area.

The local fire department was called at 1.30 Monday morning to extinguish a fire in the basement of the home occupied by Mrs. Hugh Morton.

PRESENTATION

The members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church presented Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanna with an electric table lamp on the occasion of their recent marriage. Marie was a member of the choir.

A number of local residents have been attending the C.N.E. They travel by car, train and taxi.

Miss Margaret Eggleton is taking an apartment at Grimsby, Ont., and is busy preparing for her duties next week.

All understand Mrs. R. McCabe, Lloyd Hanna,

CNR Revenues Lower in July, Deficit Certain

MONTREAL—A decrease of $6,-000,000 in operating revenues of the Canadian National Railways for the month of July, lowered the gross revenue position of the system for the first seven months to $99,197,000 below the level of last year. In releasing the company's monthly statement and the usual statement here today, railway officials said that not even a substantial improvement in business over the next five months could avoid an over-all deficit for the year 1954.

The drop in the falling off in the volume of traffic the company achieved sharp economies in operation but these measures, hampered by increased efficiency in operations, did not offset the decrease in earnings, and net revenues of the system for the seven months of 1954 were $11,458,000 behind those of the previous year.

Operating revenues in July were $50,330,000, compared with $56,-013,000 in 1953. July operating expenses this year were $52,306,000, a reduction of $4,979,000 below July of last year.

Gross revenues for the seven-month period totalled $388,901,000 compared with $488,738,000 for the corresponding period of last year. Operating expenses were reduced by $88,367,000. Net revenues in 1954 were $7,667,000 compared with $17,-

Million Pupils Expected to Pour Into Ont. Schools

TORONTO (CP)—Almost 1,000,000 pupils are expected to pour into Ontario's elementary and secondary schools next Tuesday, Education Minister Dunlop estimated today. This expected attendance will be an increase of 63,000 over September last year.

Elementary school attendance is expected to be 852,694, 54,000 more than the first school day population of 1953 and 136,000 is the estimated secondary school enrolment, an increase of 9,000 over the 1953 total.

To take care of the increase Ontario school boards have provided 1,200 additional classrooms for elementary school pupils at a cost of approximately $32,880,000 and 900 additional secondary school classrooms at an approximate cost of $24,374,000.

This new construction will provide accommodation for approximately 50,000 elementary school and 18,000 secondary school pupils.

The increase in elementary school population requires the appointment of approximately 1,200 more teachers than were employed in 1953.

More than 1,400 students graduated last June from the nine provincial teachers' colleges. The graduates from the three preparatory college summer courses, their first year and more than 100 qualified experienced teachers were obtained from Great Britain. Despite this new staff available Dr. Dunlop said it will be necessary to issue scores letters of permission valid in the elementary schools for the coming year.

The department has appointed 12 new elementary school inspectors, in addition to those who have been appointed during the year to fill vacancies.

Little Benny's Notebook

Pop was looking at the paper while we were waiting for ma to call us for dinner, and I finished my new Atomic Comics magazine and started to look at the family album just for something to look at, and I said, Heck, here's this darn picture of me when I was a baby. If I had one less thing on I wouldn't be wearing anything. This is a heck of a way to have your picture in an album, I said.

I agree with you, pop said, and I said. Whenever anybody comes here and looks at this album, I always hope they don't see this picture, but it's always the first one they turn to.

That's the way it goes, our past catches up with us, even if we were as innocent as a baby at the time, which of course you must of been, pop said, I know just how you feel, he said, and I said, Well how can you, pop? There's no picture of you like that in here, I said.

That makes me comparatively comfortable, pop said. Just the same, there's one of me as a young man in a striped bathing suit, and it looks more like something washed up by the sea than anything that came in the waters edge by its own choice, he said, and I said, G, I know that one. Why can't we take those 2 pictures out and hide them? I said.

Your mother has a sentimental attachment for both those pictures that makes them seem beautiful to her, pop said. Even though we have reason and justice on our side, do you think we have the rite to spoil her harmless pleasure for our own selfish ends? he said, and I said, Well, I guess not.

The result being we left them both in.

DOG EARNS HIS PARA-MEDIC WINGS

"Buster," the dog recently adopted as a "Para-Medic" by the U.S. Air Force Third Rescue Group in Japan, demonstrates his skill as a 'chutist during training tests over Tokyo. At top, "Buster" (in circle) is shown a few seconds after "hitting the silk". Back on the ground, "Buster" appears none the worse for his experience. It was this jump that won the dog his "Para-Medic" wings.

Hurricane Dolly Picks Up Speed, Heads for Nfld.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hurricane Dolly picked up a little speed early today and headed toward the southeast tip of Newfoundland.

The United States' weather bureau's early morning report on the fourth hurricane of the season said it was about 485 miles east of Atlantic City, N.J., and moving northeastward about 35 to 40 miles an hour.

A weather bureau observer said transatlantic shipping is in for trouble, and ships in the path of the big blow are advised to exercise caution.

The highest winds were said by the weather bureau to have slackened to about 75 miles an hour near the storm centre. However, gales extend for 200 miles east and 100 miles west of the centre.

NEED DENTAL PROGRAM

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (CP)—Surveys by the Canadian Dental Association have established that 98 per cent of all Canadian children have an oral disease of some type, the association's secretary said Wednesday night. Dr. Don W. Gullett of Toronto, here for the annual convention of the CDA, said in an interview the high percentage could be attributed largely to lack of an educational program in dental health.

Rawdon

RAWDON—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stewart and daughters, Sandra, Brenda and Valerie of Hampton, visited friends in Rawdon last week.

Mr. Lorne Wescott, Read, Ontario, spent Thursday with friends at Campbellford and Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Robert Thompson of Sioux Lookout, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey and other relatives in the Carmel community.

Miss Marion Twigg, Seymour township, is holidaying with Mrs. Hugh Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denham have twin great granddaughters, a son and a daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren, of Corbyville on Saturday at the Belleville General Hospital, a brother and sister for Elaine.

Mount Pleasant-Rawdon Woman's Missionary Society will convene on Wednesday, September 8th, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Blake Sharp, with Mrs. Ross Hoard in charge of program and keyword charity.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoard, Seymour, Mrs. Russell Pyear, Stirling, Miss Marion Johnson, Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. John Callale, Wellman's, Mrs. Bert Heide and family, Madoc Junction, were among the guests at the vacation school party Friday night, at Mount Pleasant hall.

KILLED DOG, FINED

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Peter Bader of nearby Beamsville was fined $75 Wednesday when convicted of killing a barking dog. Police said Bader shot a dog belonging to neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sharp, and that when the animal didn't die he clubbed it to death. Bader told the court the dog annoyed him because it barked at night.

Building Code Revision Said Of Great Value

WINDSOR (CP)—An official of the National Research Council said that the latest revised form of National Building Code is a big step forward in improving building and (building) regulations.

Robert F. Legget outlined the background and purpose of the code in a speech delivered delivery to a business session of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

The National Building Code, revised in 1953, now is in a form which allows progressive revision to keep it up to date, he said. It was prepared as a service to all communities and is available at no cost other than printing.

"It is in every respect a truly national document, the voluntary adoption of which by municipalities can be their direct benefit as well as being a real contribution to national advance toward uniformity of building standards throughout the country," said Mr. Legget.

The new code cannot become operative until approved by municipal legislation. It is adopted directly by some communities and used as a reference document by others.

GUNMEN ENTER PRISON, SPRING PAL

A crowd gathers outside the Charles Street county prison in Boston shortly after the brazen daylight jail escape in which two gunmen broke into the building and freed Ernest (Trigger) Burke (inset), notorious figure in New York waterfront crimes. The bold gaolr, wearing stockings over their faces, broke their way through four prison barriers to reach Burke, who was in the "exercise line" when a steel door leading to the yard was forced open by his pals who threatened a guard with guns. They then drove away in a waiting car.—Central Press Canadian.

Court Clears Mongrel Dog, Fines Mistress

LONDON (Reuters)—The honor of a three-year-old mongrel dog was cleared in court here Tuesday. The blame for stealing a choice 4½-pound chop belonged instead to his mistress, a trim, 27-year-old model, the judge decided.

After hearing Mrs. Joan Johnson blame her dog for carrying off the piece of meat—about as big as he was—the magistrate said: "I don't believe her story, and I am perfectly certain she stole it."

Exhibit A—the steak—had to be removed from court. "I understand it is beginning to smell," the judge explained.

Mrs. Johnson was fined the price of the steak.

Attlee Calls Visit to China 'Memorable Trip'

HONG KONG, (Reuters)—Clement Attlee, British Labor leader, and seven others of his party reached this colony Wednesday at the end of their controversial 17-day tour of Communist China.

"It was a memorable trip," Attlee said. "We made many friends."

He hoped the tour would lead to greater Anglo-Chinese understanding and help maintain world peace.

Harry Franklin, British railroad union leader, told reporters at the border the delegation had seen everything they asked to see, and he had been impressed by the Chinese energy in striving to improve health and housing.

A large crowd of Hong Kong citizens turned out at the border village of Lowu to greet them. Theirs was the first passenger train to reach here from Communist China since 1949.

Their arrival ended a 17-day tour of China during which they met Mao Tse-tung, the head of state, and visited coal mines, prisons, schools, farms and hospitals.

Attlee, who heads the delegation, is spending tonight as the guest of the governor of Hong Kong. Thursday all the others fly on to Japan, but Attlee is going to meet his wife in Singapore and then will visit Australia and New Zealand.

RCAF Plane Will Fly Duchess To Nova Scotia

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—An RCAF aircraft today awaited arrival of the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra at Centralia air force station, 35 miles northwest of here to take the royal visitors to Nova Scotia.

Their Ontario tour ended, the duchess and her daughter were scheduled to drive from London to Centralia for the trip to Halifax.

With them went the best wishes of Londoners who Wednesday crowded city streets to extend personal greetings.

More than 2,000 cheering citizens gathered about city hall when the visitors arrived from their train for a civic reception. There the duchess inspected a 100-man guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Regiment, then the scarlet-coated Royal Canadian Signals band from Kingston.

Following the reception the duchess and princess drove through crowded streets to the University of Western Ontario for a tea held in their honor by the women's Canadian Club.

Wednesday night they attended a hotel reception and civic banquet, then returned to the royal train where they spent the night.

Rent Tribunal Will Continue Until May 1955

TORONTO (CP)—A modified rent control proposal which will cost Toronto an estimated $6,500 a month was approved at a special meeting of city council Wednesday night.

The city's plan, to be effective to May, 1955, will allow landlords to increase rents subject to the rights of tenants to appeal such increases to a rent tribunal.

The proposal calls for the setting up of the tribunal which will hear appeals of tenants, an appeal to cost the tenant $3. Difficult to abide by the tribunal's decision would call for a $5,000 fine or jail sentence.

Under the plan tenants in premises not under rent control now will have no right to appeal to the tribunal.

When Formosa Issue Raised Attlee Suggested to Mao He Urge Russia Mend Ways

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP) — Clement Attlee disclosed today he countered appeals by Red China's Mao Tse-tung that he try to lengthen a thin wire in United States' foreign policy by suggesting Mao urge Russia to mend her ways.

The former British prime minister, just arrived with seven other touring British Labor party leaders from a 7-day visit to Red China and three days in Moscow, revealed for the first time details of his talk with Mao.

ASKED CHANGES

He said when Mao urged that the British Labor men try to influence the U.S. to pull out of the Formosa straits and cease menacing Japan and West Germany, he (Attlee) suggested in turn that the Chinese Communist chief use his influence with the Kremlin to try to make Russia:

1. Give her people more freedom.

2. Ease restrictions on her satellite states.

3. Stop trying to undermine other governments.

4. Reduce Soviet armaments.

Attlee said neither he nor Mao made any promises regarding the other's proposals.

Commenting on his tour, Attlee said he had found Chinese communism more tolerant than the Soviet variety. He said the Chinese Reds are slower and more careful in absorbing business, industry and farms.

"There is more rigidity in China than in Russia," he declared.

Aneurin Bevan and six other members of the party left by plane to visit Tokyo today. Attlee will remain here until Saturday, then fly to Singapore and Australia.

Attlee said he had found Red China about what he expected, and that the "eyewash" was not excessive.

This was an apparent reference to his statement in London before making the trip that he was no expert on "eyewash" and would not be fooled by conducted tours, false statistics and unsubstantiated claims.

MAKING REFORMS

He said the touring Labor leaders were permitted to go where they wanted in China, although they had Communist companions with them constantly.

"We found China run by the Communists on principles on which we do not agree. We tried to understand their point of view and we saw certain considerable One was that the Communists are determined to industrialize China and this is a new departure in a government in that nation.

"They have a government incorruptible. We were impressed with the remarkable work in public health and especially with their anti-fly campaign."

Work in public housing and education impressed him, especially efforts made during the past two years. But he was disturbed by the enormous pressure of Red China's armaments program and the limited land and resources.

DROP PEACE TALK

He had made some representations of the church movement in Red China but had formed the opinion that any antipathy to foreign missionaries was more nationalistic than communistic.

He said that when Red China's leaders discussed Formosa, they talked only of "peaceful" means. He had found nobody in Red China who thought in terms of settlement of the Formosa question—unless it be a peaceful surrender by Chiang Kai-shek.

Attlee said he personally feels the issue should somehow be neutralized.

Lake Ontario To Be Stocked With Yearlings

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario lands department will stock Lake Ontario with 30,000 yearling lake trout this fall, it was announced Wednesday.

The project is a joint undertaking with the New York state conservation department, which will put in the number of yearlings the United States waters.

The two groups hope to rehabilitate the lake's trout population, which has been on the downgrade in recent years. The aim is to provide the fish with a resort fishing, the Ontario department said.

Some stocking was done last year in Ontario waters off Charity shoals, west of Kingston. This year, probably in October, stocking will be done off the Bay of Quinte near Belleville.

Exhibition Will Salute Province Of Nova Scotia

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition moves east today in its "Canada on the March" theme to salute five provinces of Nova Scotia.

It's also Music Day and to mark the double event a Nova Scotia miners' band from Dominion, N.S., was to compete in the opening rounds of the CNE band contest.

A total of 338,720 persons visited the exhibition Wednesday, 65,500 more than the corresponding day last year. That brought the 1954 attendance for the first five days to 1,001,500, compared with 870,000 last year.

It was also a record attendance for a first Wednesday—the previous all-time high was 227,000 in 1950.

Visitors watched the official opening of the new $1,500,000 Food Building Wednesday — Food and Merchants' Day at the CNE.

At the National Horse Show Wednesday, Ted Cook, Toronto, won the seven-year-old black gelding owned and ridden by Jack Cook, Bedford Park of Todmorden. Ont., won the $1,000 Jumper Sweepstakes. It was the first event of the CNE horse show at the CNE.

Lt.-Col. Reid, Canada's international riding team member last year, took the event and the Harry Trotz Challenge Trophy for a jumpoff with three other horses, finishing a margin of five seconds over Hangover, owned by E. H. Codney of Winona.

In a breeding class, Quarn Tyra, owned by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Brooks of London, Ont., won the Canadian Hunter Futurity, open to Canadian-bred three-year-olds.

The competition, all of stake events, marked the close of the horse show.

Govt. Reduces Spending On Arms, Defence Equipment

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has reduced spending on arms and defence equipment, with Sabre jet production and defence construction taking the biggest cut, informants said Wednesday. They said deliveries of CF-100 jet fighters also have declined.

With world tensions easing, the government's arms expenditures dropped to $225,000,000 in the first four months of the 1954-55 fiscal year, down $50,000,000 from $281,000,000 in the April-July period last year.

Informants estimated that the biggest drop was in aircraft where government payments for the four months declined by $32,000,000 to $100,000,000.

No figures on volume could be disclosed, but they said deliveries of Sabre jets have been reduced to less than half the flow of last year, and that CF-100 jet fighter deliveries by the RCAF also have declined slightly. On the other hand deliveries of T-33 jet trainers have increased.

SHIPPED OVERSEAS

Canada has produced more than 1,000 Sabre jets at the big Canadair plant in Montreal and most of them have been shipped overseas to equip Canada's air division in Europe and provide contributions to the RAF and other European allies. About 120 of the Sabres have been made available to the United States.

The CF-100 jets are being produced at the A. V. Roe Co. plant at Malton, Ont. No reason was given States.

for the deliveries slow-down.

The government last year spent a total of $1,125,000,000 for defence production. This was down $112,000,000 from the post-war peak of $1,235,000,000 in the 1953-53 fiscal year. Now it appears there will be a further decline, possibly of more than $100,000,000 for the full 1954-55 year.

Warmest in 5 Years

LONDON (AP) — The mercury touched 85 degrees Wednesday, marking London's warmest September day in five years and the hottest day this year.

Londoners, who had been shivering under umbrellas during the coldest, wettest summer in a half-century, broke out their summer clothes and crowded the city's many parks.

Farmers made the best of the perfect harvest weather to bring in weather-stunted crops. Some members of the armed forces were granted leaves to help with the harvest.

V. C. WINNER DIES

CHICAGO (AP)—James Murphy, who as a sergeant in the British army in France during the First World War won Britain's highest award for valor, the Victoria Cross, died Wednesday. He was 64. # Statistics Show Workers Hit In Two Ways

OTTAWA (CP)—Some Canadian workers, grappling with living costs, appear to have been hit in two ways: By lower wages and by a reduction in jobs.

For example, the bureau of statistics estimates that the average weekly wage in terms of the dollary was $43.91, down from $43.94 on May 1 and the lowest in four months. It compared with the high of $50.03 on March 1.

COSTS ROSE

During June, living costs rose again, though it meant only an increase of one-tenth of a point in the index which rose to 118.3, the highest in eight months.

It will be some weeks yet before the bureau compiles all the data required to estimate what that slight rise did to the cost of purchasing power.

The July changes in the consumer price index likely will be published on Friday.

During June the major causes of the cost of living rise were higher food prices and rents. Prices were higher for fresh and canned fruits, potatoes, lamb, beef, eggs and coffee.

Cohn Probably Only Casualty Of Hearings

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless the United States justice department finds sensible violations of law, the only casualty of the Army-McCarthy hearings may have been Roy M. Cohn. After the hearings he quit as chief counsel of the senate Joseph McCarthy's investigations sub-committee.

The four Republicans and three Democrats on the sub-committee which conducted the hearings—in the fight between McCarthy and his staff on one side and army officials on the other—have made public their findings. They handed out various criticisms, most strongly against Cohn, but recommended action against no one.

Thus it might seem the sensational dispute which began explosively early this year, and consumed so much time and money, has dwindled off into a quiet end. That may not be true. The results of this case if there are any, may show up later.

MAY FIND PERJURY

The justice department may find that someone violated the law by perjuring himself or that there was a law violation in the summary of a secret FBI report which McCarthy produced at the hearings with the explanation an army official supplied him with it.

While the four sub-committee Republicans in their majority report tapped McCarthy lightly on the wrist, the three Democrats took a stronger line.

Those three—Senators John McClellan of Arkansas, Henry Jackson of Washington and Henry Jackson of Washington state—said "inexcusable actions" of McCarthy and Cohn "merit severe criticism."

NEW McCARTHY HEARING

McCarthy is the main fireye in a brand new hearing which began Aug. 31. This is an examination by a special committee into charges by some of McCarthy's fellow senators that he should be censured for his conduct over several years.

Some Democrats on the McCarthy-army group pointed to McCarthy's request during the inquiry for government employees to feed him secret information. The three Democrats said he wrote a serious criticism" for that.

But that is one of the points the committee could consider in its hearings. The committee included that charge in the charges made against McCarthy as grounds for censure.

Gen. Rockingham Takes Command Of New Division

CAMP PETAWAWA, Ont. (CP)—Maj.-Gen. John M. Rockingham formally took command of the Canadian infantry division in a brief ceremony here Wednesday. He succeeds Maj.-Gen. Bert Hoffmeister, who is retiring from the army for the country and the most memorable day in my career."

Gen. Rockingham, before commanding the 1st Canadian Infantry Division, was Commander of the Canadian Army more than 14,000 troops and becomes Canada's number one field commander.

His division includes the 1st Brigade at Gagetown, N.B., the 2nd Brigade at Edmonton, and the 3rd Brigade at Valcartier, Que. The division, a permanent formation, the division will have the normal elements of armoured corps, artillery, infantry, Armoured Corps, and three battalions of the newly formed Regiment of Canadian Guards.

Canada's newest major-general will have the primary responsibility of implementing the training policies for the bulk of the regular forces in the field and the direct responsibility for the collective training exercises in which the various formations are concentrated during summer months.

GREETED WITH SONG

On arrival at his Petawawa headquarters, Gen. Rockingham was greeted by Brig. R. M. Bishop, divisional artillery commander, and Lt.-Col. Thomas Wilson-Smith, the division's top general staff officer.

An impressive salute of 21 guns and then nostalgia swept over his face as a group of its officers—most of them veterans of Korea—gave out with the song "Joining Old Rocky's Army." The general will be very glad to hear "some of the verses had been cleaned up a bit since Korea."

Gen. Rockingham was the first commander of Canadian soldiers in Korea.

Following the parade square ceremonial, the new divisional flag which will fly over Gen. Rockingham's headquarters was hoisted aloft and the country's first peacetime division became a reality.

Canadian Bar Association Says Immigration Department Procedural Methods Shocking

WINNIPEG (CP)—Laval Fortier, deputy minister of citizenship and immigration, will answer charges today that the department is guilty of "shocking" procedural practices at its world-wide offices. The charges were made Wednesday by a three-man sub-committee of the Canadian Bar Association which had spent 2½ years investigating abuses in immigration procedure. Results of the investigation were revealed at the CBA convention here by sub-committee chairman J. H. McDonald of Ottawa.

Mr. Fortier said he would meet with the sub-committee and "anyone else who is interested" at the convention today to "explain the department's position."

LAWS MORE TIME

Mr. McDonald told a committee meeting Wednesday the investigation has revealed "conditions more shocking than we first suspected," and asked permission for more time for the investigation for another year.

The committee chairman ruled Mr. Fortier out of order when he jumped to his feet and said he had come all the way from Ottawa to answer questions concerning my department."

Mr. McDonald revealed many of the findings of the sub-committee during a 1½-hour press conference.

He said the more than 200 cases studied by the sub-committee showed that: There were countless cases of Canadians trying to return from abroad being delayed by immigration officials any where up to five years . . . and some of those a matter of days; there is little uniformity in the department's rules and regulations;

The investigators themselves aren't clear on what authority they have to take action; what one immigration office calls "confidential" information, another calls public information; at one mass ports, Canadians are refused representation by counsel; the department often deals directly with a lawyer's client and has been known to advise counsel he is dismissed.

Mr. McDonald said the sub-committee has evidence to back up its charges and two weeks in which to present it to the minister of immigration.

Mr. McDonald said the sub-committee had six recommendations to avoid abuses in the administration of the immigration laws:

1. Codification of the department's regulations so that all persons will administer the same law;

2. Publication of intra-departmental directives to officials in the field know what Ottawa wants them to do;

3. Implementation of proper legal appeal procedure, ending unfairness in its course;

4. That departmental files be made available to applicants and their attorneys, excluding confidential information written by departmental officials;

WANTS REASONS

5. Recognition of the role of barristers and solicitors in immigration law; and

6. Establishment of a procedure setting forth the reason for rejection in each case, with a stipulation that rejected party has an opportunity of overcoming the department's objections.

Divorce, Capital Punishment Loom Again at Bar Convention

WINNIPEG (CP) — They're all back again—divorce, insanity and capital punishment.

The most definite action taken Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association concerned divorce. But, to the bar, the views of the subject is in any way new.

The association's civil justice committee was presented with a British Columbia resolution recommending that Canada adopt the law of incurable insanity. he added to adultery as Canada's general grounds for divorce in the provinces wasting the changes.

Now, the resolution is in the hands of the resolutions committee. If that committee approves it, the resolution will be voted future day by the association's general meeting.

Just what should constitute the legal definition of insanity came in for further exploration by the association's criminal justice section.

Recognition of an overpowering inner compulsion as a possible defence in murder cases was given guarded backing in a paper presented by the Nova Scotia sub-section. The big questions were: Does the condition actually exist? And, can legal machinery to deal with it be devised?

The paper said: "If it exists, logic, common sense and justice combine to demand its inclusion as a possible defence. If the legal machinery to deal with it can be devised. This should include consequent questions, unless an indisputable and unshakable cure can be proven."

Later, it added: "It is one defence which should require proof beyond a reasonable doubt, at least at this stage of its history."

Capital punishment comes in for further discussion today when the criminal justice section resumes its study.

One report by a sub-committee of New Brunswick lawyers favors abolition of capital punishment, but at the same time calls the death penalty "a horrible and usually scandalous affair" which "ought to be restricted."

Hangings at present jails should be abolished, it says. Instead, there should be established "central, specially equipped and expertly-manned places of execution."

STRIKE AVERTED AS STEEL CONTRACT SIGNED

Threat of a strike of 8,500 Steel workers was removed with the signing of a contract between the Steel Co. of Canada and the United Steel Workers' Union in Hamilton, Ont. Union demands included parity with U.S. wages. Conciliation board officers did not recognize the union demand as valid, but increased company offers led to acceptance by the union. Company representatives H. J. Clawson, left, conciliation officer Louis J. Fine, centre, and Larry Sefton, union representative, signed the contract.

TROOP-CARRIER TESTED

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Fairchild Aircraft announced that its first production model of the new United States Air force assault transport C-123B Avitruc made its initial test flight Wednesday. The plane is designed to carry a heavy load of troops, weapons and material on assault landings into hastily prepared or unsurfaced airfields.

This is a side view of the RCAF's famed "Rockcliffe ice wagon," which has stopped prowling the skies in search of stormy weather. The big North Star aircraft, with its elaborate equipment designed for icing research equipment removed will be used in future by the RCAF to test navigational instruments.

Famed 'Rockcliffe's Ice Wagon' Will Test Navigational Instruments

By JOHN R. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The air force's famed "Rockcliffe ice wagon" has stopped prowling the skies in search of stormy weather.

The RCAF and the national research council announced that the four-engined flying laboratory no longer will be used to study weather conditions that cause ice to accumulate on the wings, fuselage and propellers of aircraft.

The big North Star aircraft has ceased to be known as the ice wagon. Elaborate equipment designed for icing research has been removed and the plane will be used in future by the RCAF to test navigational instruments.

The air force and NRC said the flight and of research on aircraft icing has been completed. The information established during the five-year study now will be analyzed by scientists attached to the cold weather laboratory of NRC.

DEVICES DEVELOPED

Research to date has enabled the council to develop a number of devices which reduce the danger of icing and make flying safer for commercial and military aircraft. It's expected that additional de-icing equipment will be produced following the laboratory research.

The best method developed so far for de-icing aircraft employs the electro-thermal principle. Ice is allowed to form on the aircraft for a short time. Sufficient heat then is applied by an electrical process to melt a thin film at the interface between the ice and the propeller blade, the fuselage or wing. This stops the adhesion of ice and it is thrown off by centrifugal or aerodynamic forces.

During five years of operation the ice wagon deliberately sought severe icing conditions encountered in humid air at temperatures slightly above or below the freezing point. It travelled thousands of miles in search of this dread enemy of safe flying from Labrador to British Columbia and as far north as the Yukon. It also made special flights to the United Kingdom and the United States.

IN FREEZING WEATHER

The ice wagon flew a total of nearly 150 hours in weather in which actual icing took place. During this entire period it collected the equivalent of nearly 12 feet of ice.

On many flights severe conditions were experienced. Ice often accumulated on the plane at a rate of 20 inches per hour. However, only a few inches were allowed to accumulate at one time.

The ice wagon is one of six planes which have been used to date by the air force and NRC for icing research. Two of the planes were lost and a third was badly damaged but none of the accidents caused serious injury to RCAF or scientific personnel.

The ice wagon was odd-looking because it was equipped with a high shark-like fin in the middle top of the fuselage, and a number of observation "blisters."

MANY INSTRUMENTS

The fin was used for experimental work in electro-thermal wing de-icing. The inside of the plane was jammed with instruments to measure density of clouds and their water content. To determine the affect of ice on propellers and to give the pilot visual warning of icing conditions.

One instrument developed by NRC as a result of the research protects propellers when icing conditions have conquered. It is a special leading-edge cover for propeller blades which can be heated electrically to rid propellers of any type of ice.

An icing detector developed by the council now is in production in Canada for all types of aircraft. Other instruments developed from the studies include an automatic recorder to detect the severity and duration of icing encountered on scheduled flights and automatic controls for aircraft de-icing systems.

Rylstone

Little "Buster" Buchanan, who lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Petherick, on the 6th line, was in Campbellford Memorial Hospital, where he was taken, following an accident when he fell out of his grandfather's car, fracturing his skull. He is now at home again, and much improved.

Dorothy and Donna Morton accompanied their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jane Murray, to Oshawa, and Whitby, where they will visit with their aunts, Mrs. Harry Barrons and Mrs. Percy Gibson, and families.

The army has been on manoeuvres in the community for the past few days, and have excited a lot of curiosity and comment. They captured Rawdon Township on Friday, and proceeded to take over Marmora Township on Saturday. They put on quite a display of mechanized warfare.

On Sunday, Percy Finch, Roy Petherick, and George Wilson, of Springbrook, and "Chuck" Lisle, of Stanwood, left on a motor trip to the West.

A serious brush fire might have taken place on the lower line near Walt Reid's farm, on Friday, but not the delivery man for Celeste Bread, came along at the right time and stamped out the fire. Some careless motorist had thrown out a lighted cigaret, and the tinder-dry grass was not long starting a blaze.

Mrs. Jessie Morrison, her son, Roland, and his wife and children, of Crofton, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stewart. Mrs. Morrison remained for a longer visit.

Little Tommie Thomson returned home last Sunday after undergoing a serious operation in Belleville General Hospital, and is progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Frost, and daughters, of Marmora, were Sunday callers with the Spencers, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Haig, of Peterborough.

Mrs. Murray Middlejohn has been engaged to teach in the 6th line school for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Finch, of Oshawa, were week-end visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Finch.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gordon, of Marmora, visited their daughter, Mrs. Gordon Middlejohn, and Mr. Middlejohn and grandson, Lynn, on Sunday.

Remember the anniversary service to be held at Rylstone United Church, at 8 p.m. Sunday, September 12th. Rev. Arthur Packman, of the St. Pauls, Stirling-Carmel pastoral charge, will be the visiting minister. There will also be special music by one of Mr. Packman's choirs.

3rd Hillier

THIRD HILLIER — Miss Joyce Fleming, of Madoc, and Miss Estella Burkitt, of Belleville, spent Sunday with Miss Joyce Segsway.

The kitchen shower, given in the honor of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Tuckey, (nee Eleanor Lunn), was well attended at the Legion Hall, at Wellington on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Wesley Wright is hauling gravel for several of the farmers this summer.

Mr. Rowe Treaway and Will Benway, Miss Joyce Benway, Mrs. Charles Benway, spent Monday with Mrs. Mae Benway of Wellington.

Several of this vicinity are attending the Toronto Exhibition this week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roote, of Consecon Lake, on the arrival of a daughter, at Trenton Memorial Hospital.

Rev. C. F. Hawrap, of Welling-ton, held Sunday evening service at Christ Church, Hillier.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson are entertaining their grandchildren, Lorna, and David Flint, of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Clapp and Chris, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Vernon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Clapp, of Hillier.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sherwin of U.S.A., spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. T. C. Sherwin, of Hillier.

GUESTS AT PRESTON

ATHENS (Reuters) — Ninety-four royal guests of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece slid into the cushioned stone seats of an ancient Greek theatre at Epidaurus, to watch a centuries-old tragedy about kings and queens. The members of both ruling and deposed royal families of Europe saw the play "Elophithon" by the ancient Greek dramatist Euripides.

Long-Awaited Upturn Starts In Steel Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The long-awaited upturn in steel market in the United States began this week, Iron Age, national metal-working weekly, says.

There's a modest increase in new orders and production is scheduled slightly higher for the second week in a row. Operations this week are scheduled at 63 per cent of rated capacity, up two points from last week.

The upturn has been achieved even without the stimulus expected—renewed steel buying by the automobile industry for new models, says Iron Age.

It adds there is no reason to expect a spectacular improvement, but "within the next two months or so the ingot rate should climb about 10 points."

Improvement is not confined to a few items or a few companies. It is noted in some products that have been lagging most, such as stainless steels and alloy bars.

However, customers can now get such prompt delivery they are in no hurry to place orders, despite their reduced inventories, says Iron Age.

Stirling

STIRLING, — Principal John Good of King George High school, Stirling, has announced that Jean Haggerty has won the Hon. J. M. Coffee Scholarship of $50 and the Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lawlor Memorial Scholarship of $30.

30 Relatives Mark Birthday By Party

RAWDON. — Last Wednesday evening, Mrs. Milford Wrightman was hostessed a surprise birthday party at her home with about 30 relatives and friends in attendance. Mrs. F. Wrightman, Trenton, and Mrs. O. Galesforth, Glen Miller, planned the party and made arrangements for all necessary dishes and refreshments.

The group took possession of the house during the temporary absence of the Wrightman family.

Mable received a large array of lovely personal gifts for which she expressed thanks.

The conveners served refreshments topped off with a two-layer birthday cake nicely decorated with candles.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Laisgabeer, Nancy and Larry, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. James Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Orvan Galesforth, Glen Miller; Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Foshay and baby; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wrightman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wrightman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wrightman, Miss Rosala Foshay, Mrs. Grace Dawson, Miss Duane Foshay, and Mr. Maurice Wrightman, all of Trenton, and others.

Stewart Warner Squares Series With Bobcats

Stewart Warner TV's pulled the claws of the Bobcats Wednesday night and took the tame tabbies 3-2 at the C.N.E. Recreation Field.

The win squared their best-of-seven series and two games each. The fifth game is scheduled for the C.N.E. Field Friday evening at 6:15.

Off dobbil walk proved Bobcats' undoing as Doug Thompson, who went all the way, walked in Stewart Warners' first tally, in the first inning, and walked home in the sixth, which, with a single and passed ball accounted for three more runs.

The fast, well-played ball game, strutted in the ninth frame on two calls by base umpire Mike Whalen. Bobcats, trailing 3-2 in the bottom of the final inning, sent Duke Doran in to pinch hit. Duke smashed a standup triple to left centrefield that shrank to an out at first, when Whalen ruled that Duke had failed to touch the base.

Bobcats stormed all about Whalen and as usual it availed them nothing.

Doug Thompson followed with a single to left and Bob Hatfield, next batter topped a fastball, that dribbled slowly to the mound. Young bobbled the ball and then threw to first as Hatfield slid into third. Whalen called Hatfield out on a close play.

The team charged Whalen at this point but Mike was master, as expected. When the dust cleared he was holding the watch on Hatfield and McBride who were thrown out of the park as well as the game. Fitzpatrick grounded out third to first to end the game.

BEST GAME TO DATE

It took one hour and 15 minutes for these two clubs to play their best game to date. Dakota pulled off three double plays during the contest. Hatfield took Miller's line drive in the fourth and fired to first to catch Young off the base. Jack McBride took Bob Brooks' long fly to deep centrefield in the fifth and fired a strike to Harry Westhaugh at third to nail Chick James trying for the extra base after the catch.

The Cats went around the horn in the seventh, Hatfield-to-Dunsbury-to-Logue for their third double play of the game.

Stewart Warner scored a single run in the first frame on a fielder's choice, a double by Brooks, a hit batter and a walk. They added four in the sixth on walks to Doug Thompson, Keith Berrien, a single by Doug Murray and a passed ball. They scored their final in the ninth on a bad base throwing error at third, a fielder's choice, and James' squeeze bunt.

Bobcats scored two in the third on a walk, a bunt single, a fielder's choice and a two-base error in left field. Hatfield's double and Fitzpatrick's single in the seventh scored their final run.

HURLER GOES ROUTE

Doug Thompson went the route for Bobcats walking six, striking out three and giving up nine hits for five runs. Denny Young twirled the full game for TV's walking two, striking out four, and giving up eight hits for three runs.

James, with three for five, and Brooks with a double and single in five tries led TV's at bat. Thompson spearheaded his own attack with three singles in four trips.

Lineups:

Stewart Warners: Miller ss; F. Murray rf; James c; Brooks 2b; T. Hurst lf replaced by E. Dorman in 4th; Creegan cf; Berrien 3b; D. Murray 1b; Young p.

Bobcats: Hatfield ss; Nolan rf; replaced, by Fitzpatrick in 5th; Dunsbury 2b; McBride cf; Westhaugh 3b; Rose lf; Logue 1b; Temple c, replaced by Doran in 9th; Thompson p.

Kingston Junior Sailing Club Finishes Fifth

HOLLAND, Mich. (CP) — The Kingston, Ont., Junior Sailing Club finished fifth in Wednesday's heats but maintained second place with 29 points in the over-all competition for the Sears Cup and the International junior sailing championship of the Macatawa Yacht Club.

Eight crews from the United States and Canada are participating in the twice-daily Lightning class sailing races which end today.

The St. Joseph, Mich., crew was Wednesday's winner, followed by the leading Sandusky, Ohio, yachtsmen and crew from New Orleans.

The regatta's first division totals now show Sandusky leading with 34½ points, Kingston next with 29 and New Orleans third with 28½.

Butch Stahan Will Be Playing Coach of Memos if Teams Waive

Butch Stahan, rugged rearguard with Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League for several seasons, last night signed a provisional contract as playing coach of the Belleville Memos for one year.

Stahan will have to secure waivers from all other clubs in the Quebec League before his Belleville contract becomes official. T. P. Gorman, owner of the Senators, anticipates no trouble in securing the necessary waivers at a league meeting next Tuesday.

Gorman has agreed to send additional players help to the Memos in what amounts to a virtual working agreement between the two clubs.

Stahan, a stormy petrel in the Quebec League for years, last year signed and commenced as playing coach of the Pembroke Lumber Kings in the Northern Ontario Senior A. League, but returned to the Senators for the season when he failed to secure the necessary waivers from the league.

No mention was made of other players likely to appear in Belleville this winter as part of the Senators-Memos understanding.

O.L.A. Playoffs Open Fri. Night In St. Catharines

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Lacrosse Association announced schedule last night that the best-of-seven senior league finals between St. Catharines Athletics and Peterborough Trailermen open in St. Catharines Friday night.

The two clubs reached the finals Wednesday night by finishing in a first-place tie in the round-robin semi-finals.

Chuck Rowan, OLA secretary, said the second game will be played at Peterborough Sept. 4, the third at St. Catharines Sept. 6 and the fourth at Peterborough Sept. 8. Fifth and sixth games, if necessary, will be played at St. Catharines Sept. 10 and at Peterborough Sept. 11.

If the two teams tie the series they will play off in a seventh and final game on neutral grounds Sept. 13.

The winner of the senior series enters the Mann Cup finals for the Canadian title.

Merchants Score 4-1 Decision Over Cobourg

FRANKFORD — The Frankford Merchants scored a 4-1 decision over Cobourg last night on the latter's home diamond to take a two game lead in the Intermediate "B" O.A.S.A. zone finals best-of-three series. The return game will be played at Frankford on Saturday.

Doug Radner went the distance for the victors giving up 10 hits, fanning eight and walking one. Timing was his mound opponent and allowed nine safe blows while striking out no less than 14 while walking six.

Both teams scored one run in the first inning but a pair in the sixth put the Merchants out front to stay. They added an insurance marker in the ninth.

Barney McColl and Austin met Strong's slants for two singles each while Austin had a double. Singles were by Gilmour, Wickens, Hamlin and Dafoe. The Cobourg hitters were Turpin, Jones, O'Brien and Strong with two one-base hits each while Bevans and McIporvan claimed a single each.

Line score:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Frankford .... 100 003 00— | 4 | 8 | 1 |
| Cobourg ..... 100 000 000— | 1 | 3 | |

Radner and Wickson. Strong and Bevans.

CATS ADD ANOTHER

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Wednesday signed Bob Flippin, dropped by Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Union last week. Flippin, 26-year-old, 170-pound halfback, joined Tiger-Cats Wednesday night and brought the club's total of United States imports to 13.

Yesterday's Stars

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching—Warren Spahn, Braves, won his ninth straight game and 17th of the season as Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 3-1.

Batting—Yogi Berra, Yankees, collected two singles and a homer, driving in two runs as New York defeated Cleveland 4-1.

Spahn Still Firing Away But Time Probably Has Run Out On Braves

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

Belleville Batas, banished from the Vinfoot-Ontario Senior League playoffs by Oakville Oaks, bounce back into the senior baseball picture tonight when they take on Peterborough Petes in the final game of a best-of-seven provincial quarter final series under the lights at the Fair Grounds. The Petes, who finished out of the V-O playoffs, presented no serious threat to the Batas during the regular season, and the Batas, starved for hits after Oakville's three game sweep, are due to break out the artillery.

* * *

However, it is always unwise to count a game in the bag until the last out in the ninth and thus, while we think the locals stand a good chance to take tonight's game and the series, we shall refrain from linning them by calling for a rout.

Reason for the four-of-seven series is that Oshawa and Oakville commence a four-of-seven series for the V-O title. Winner of the Batas-Petes series take on Oshawa for the Eastern Ontario title, while Oakville is slated to meet the winner of the Niagara district league in the other semi-final. Batas, if they defeat Peterborough, meet Oshawa. 'Nuff said.

* * *

TOP THIS

The Tope Brothers, who train for their ring wars by breaking planks on each other's noggins, will be meeting two tough hombres in Ray Villmer and Paul Baillargeon in the feature event of Friday night's wrestling card in Memorial Arena. The Japanese Topes, whose silhouettes and frightful judo chop has made mincemeat of scores of opponents will present one of the sternest tests encountered by Villmer and Baillargeon to date.

However, Villmer, the Dayton dynamo, and Baillargeon, the Quebec strongman with muscles even in his hair, are confident, after licking Mighty Ursus and Pat Fraley last week that they can defeat the Topes. "Topes to go" is their battle cry.

* * *

The Topes put their Canadian Open tag team wrestling title and the George Richards Trophy that goes with it, on the line in this match.

In the main preliminary Tex McKenzie, the towering Texan, opposes Pat Fraley, of Kansas City. Pat Flanagan tangles with Jan Gotch in the opener.

* * *

SMALL OPENING FOR CANADIANS

The Canadian Open golf tournament, co-sponsored by the CPGA which supplies the name and a piece of the pocket, and Labatt's which fills the pot, ended up $58,500 in prize money for this last year's tour of the tees at Scarboro. Of this pot full o' Canadians, cut in the open and without a place to hide, picked up a measley $580.29. Visiting American shots mitts ma de off with the rest.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver led the Canadian pros home with a respectable 72 hole total of 279 that gave him a tie for 17th place with five Americans, 10 strokes off the pace. For this he received $355 in prize money. Bill Kerr of Ste. Claire, Que., and Jules Huot of Montreal were in a seven way split at $845.14 and each received $197.14.

A supplement of $375 was paid Leonard as the first Canadian to finish, while Kerr and Huot each got an extra $250 because they were Canadians.

* * *

We don't intend to knock an institution like the Canadian Open and there is little to be said against some fine Canadians walking around a golf course four times for $720 and $287.14 respectively, but $58,500 seems like a lot of loot to raise to dispense so little to Canadian golfers. Big bats catch big fish and the galleries thrill to the sight of big name Americans murdering par. It is nice that the CPGA and Labatts are so good about dragging in the best with a big purse. But it is nicer to know that it is not our money on the line when the squads of Americans line up at the pay wicket after the "Canadian" Open.

* * *

A THRILLER

Jack Elliott's insulting intermediate "A" squad, the Point Anne Comerinnen, dropped a real thriller last night to the Peterborough Seabrooke Motors in the Littlack City, 3-2.

Both Bobby Hunter and Jim Driscoll, a mite-sized fireballer for the Seabrooke crew, hurled excellent ball all the way and a break here or there could very well have reversed the decision. Driscoll gave up seven hits, one more than his mates could manage off Hunter, but his chitch hurling left nine of the Pointers stranded on the swiths. The winners took advantage of their opponents only two mistcues in the first inning and teamed with a single and double scored one run. They made it 2-0 in the fourth and a bases empty homer by Neil Thompson upped the score to 3-1 in the fifth. Jake Wade's triple cut the margin in the eighth but a walk and single in the ninth short circuited Leo Goyer was tagged out at third base on as close a play as you'll see anywhere.

These two teams clash in the second game this Saturday afternoon at Point Anne with the first pitch coming at 2.45 and the Pointers feel confident they can even the series. If it's anywhere near the calibre of ball they played last night you won't be sorry you went. The local's hopes ride with "Old Reliable" Pat Maracle and it's not often he disappoints them.

* * *

HITHER AND THITHER

Northern Electric, sporting a 12-3 decision over Peterborough YTC Transporters in the first game of their best-of-three OASA Senior B playoffs go to Peterborough tomorrow night for the return engagement. Word from the Littlack City is that the YTC's were sad disappointed here in the first engagement and that with the return to action of Haddy Eakins, Eddie Redmond and Toodle Greenlaw, there will be a different tale to tell tomorrow night. The return game will be played at Memorial Park Tuesday because of rain . . . Kamloops trout, positively identified, have been taken from Constant Creek in Spatsizoyl township in Kootnay Country, Ontario Lands and Forests Department officers report. How they got there is a mystery. There is no record of a planting of hatchery stock and residents are positive the species has

Milwaukee Hurler Has Won Ninth Game in Succession; Yanks Gain Ground on Tribe

By BEN PELTZER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Warren Spahn, whose sensational return to form in midseason made the National League pennant race a three-team affair, still is firing away with amazing precision although time probably has run out for his Milwaukee Braves.

After a mediocre spring and early summer during which he lost 13 games, Spahn hit his winning stride on July 18. He won his ninth straight Friday, beating Pittsburgh, Wednesday night, again against Pittsburgh, he won his 17th. In between he's gone unbeaten.

With 25 games left, the 33-year-old lefthander stands a good chance of winning at least 20 games for the sixth time.

Spahn's 3-1 victory over the Pirates moved the Braves within 6½ begins of the idle second New York Giants and within 3½ of second place Brooklyn, both losers yesterday.

PLAY UNDER PROTEST

Cincinnati beat the Giants 8-7 in a game played under protest from the third inning when the first New Yorkers, Chicago defeated Brooklyn 9-5 for its seventh straight triumph.

Philadelphia replaced St. Louis in fifth place with a 5-3 victory over the Cardinals.

The New York Yankees kept their pennant drive alive with a 4-1 conquest of Cleveland, cutting the Indians' first place margin to 4½ games. The Chicago White Sox split at Boston, losing the day game 7-3 and winning the night game 6-3. Washington defeated Detroit 4-0. Baltimore and Philadelphia were rained out.

The Braves scored one run on seven hits and two errors in beating Pittsburgh. Three first-inning singles produced the first run. The other two came on Andy Pafko's single, a two-base error by Curt Roberts, a sacrifice and a wild pitch.

LOOK BAD

Neither the Giants nor the Dodgers looked good in losing. The Dodgers committed four errors in the game, three in one inning and two as pitcher Carl Erskine's fielding was shaky. The bad inning was the sixth when the Cubs combined three hits with the three errors for four runs.

The Giants used seven pitchers in a vain effort to halt the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski hit a grand slam homer in the ninth off Hoyt Wilhelm to give Cincinnati a comeback with four singles and drove in three runs.

Third base umpire Frank Secory called back what appeared to be a Giant run in the third inning. He said he had called time before the play. Manager Leo Durocher immediately declared he would finish the game under protest. It's doubtful the protest will stand up.

A grand slam home run by Del Ennis in the first inning paved the way for the Phillies' victory in St. Louis.

THE JUNKMAN COMETH

Yogi Berra and Eddie Lopat combined their hitting and pitching to spark the Yankees' defeat of Cleveland. Berra scored one run, then drove in two more with his 18th homer. Lopat rarely has been more impressive with his assortment of stuff. He gave up nine hits but only one—Jim Hegan's triple in the fifth—figured in the scoring. The lefthander has beaten the Indians 40 times since entering the league in 1944.

Johnny Schmitz won his ninth game and pitched his second shutout in blanking Detroit on seven hits. The Washington lefty now has beaten every club in the league at least once.

Reserve outfielder Karl Olson and rookie pitcher Tom Hurd were the standouts in Boston's daylight victory over Chicago. Olson drove in two runs and scored a third, Hurd, who pitched the last 4 1-3 innings and allowed only two men to reach base, received credit for his first major league victory.

Johnny Groth hit a two-run homer and walked with the bases loaded to force home a third run in Chicago's night game triumph.

REMEMBER WHEN

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Byron Nelson won the American Professional Golfers Association title 14 years ago today at Hershey, Pa., with a final tee shot that landed only six feet from the pin. He started the last medal round three up on Sam Snead but was one stroke behind on the 32nd hole. Nelson went one up at the 34th, squared the match when Snead bounced out of the cup, and he held his advantage to the finish.

O'MALLEY LEAVES KIDDIES

OTTAWA (CP)—Tom O'Malley, who quarterbacked Ottawa Rough Riders for the last three seasons, has decided, apparently of his own volition, to fly back to his job in Cincinnati today. He said he didn't

Toronto Leafs Win Twin Bill From Ottawa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The "magic number" for Toronto Maple Leafs, leading the International League by eight games over their nearest rivals, now stands at five.

Toronto, with a 90-53 won-and-lost record, has 11 more games to play while Rochester, in second place with an 81-60 mark, has 13.

The high-flying Maple Leafs moved a step closer to their first pennant since 1943 by sweeping a doubleheader from the cellar-dwelling Ottawa Athletics 7-3 and 9-0 Wednesday night.

The Red Wings moved into second place with a 4-3 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. Buffalo Bisons moved Montreal to third with a 4-2, 5-3 double triumph over the Royals.

In a doubleheader at Havana, Richmond Virginians and the Cuban Sugar Kings split. Richmond took the first game 1-0 and the Kings bounced back to blank the Virginians 3-0 in the second.

SCATTERED SIX

Connie Johnson of the Leafs scattered six hits in the opener for his 16th win of the season. Ed Sievers and Mike Collet supplied the power with home runs as each drove in two runs. Sievers' slammed three-run homer in the nightcap and batted in five runs as Eddie Blake registered his 13th victory. Archie Wilson chipped in with a bases-empty homer.

The Leafs moved three runs in the fifth and one in the sixth as they whipped Syracuse and squared the season series at 11 wins apiece. Walt Dropucki began the three-run rally in the fifth with a home run and doubled home Lou Ortiz in the next frame for the winning run.

Frank Lary limited Montreal to seven hits in the opener as Doug Hansen drove out his eighth homer of the season and drove in three runs. In the nightcap, Hansen was the key figure in a triple play that stopped a Royal rally in the fifth. The second-baseman nabbed Walt Sisla's line drive in the sixth with two aboard, stepped on second and threw to first for Buffalo's first triple play of the season.

Tommy Fine and veteran Ken Raffensberger hurled the shutouts for Richmond and Havana, respectively. Fine allowed only one hit, a double by Paul Smith in the sixth, of the opener while Raffensberger hurled two-hit ball for Havana in the nightcap.

CANADIANS LEAD

LONDON (Reuters)—An innings of 73 by W. A. Percival, the Canadian wicket-keeper, enabled his side Wednesday to reach a useful first innings total against Middlesex at Lord's in the final game of their British tour. At close of play, the tourists were 30 ahead with seven second-innings wickets in hand. The scores: Canadians 154 and 83 for three; Middlesex 186 for eight declared.

Yankee Battery, Lopat and Berra, 'Whole' Club in Beating Indians

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Yesterday we were out of business; today we're back in it."

Manager Casey Stengel was in an expansive mood following Wednesday's New York Yankees' 4-1 triumph over Cleveland which sliced the Indians' first place margin in the American League over the defending champions to 4½ games.

"It was a game we had to win," said Stengel, "and just as we've been doing for six years, we won it. That's how we can't be counted out yet. Never sell the Yankees short and they are mathematically eliminated."

The other guys don't have it wrapped up yet. They just think they have. Don't forget that we haven't had a single all season. But if we can beat them again tomorrow and keep the pressure on, then we might start to count on ourselves."

"I'm not saying they'll choke. They never have. But they could slow up a little. I know one thing, we haven't given up. We can't afford to lose any more."

LOPES NOT UNHAPPY

The Cleveland clubhouse was quiet, but not oppressively so. Manager Al Lopez accepted the defeat philosophically.

"We gave some very good ball now as I did Tuesday night," he said. "It still looks like the better one for us. No matter what happens tomorrow, we'll still leave here with a very good chance to lead. After all, it's too much to expect to win all three games and sweep all three. This is still a pretty good club we're playing."

The Yankees' trio of southpaw Ed Lopat and catcher Yogi Berra was the "whole show" Wednesday. Lopat spaced nine hits for his 12th victory of the year and his 23rd lifetime win over the Indians. Berra faced three of the Yanks' hits, including his 20th home run, scored twice, and drove in two runs.

Stengel disclosed that Lopat was only one pitch away from being lifted in the third inning. He got the inning in which Cleveland had the bases loaded with nobody out and Larry Doby, the next man, Vic Wertz, the heart of the Indians' batting order, coming up.

Lopat had a 3-2 count on Doby before he fanned the leagues leading batter on and runs batted in slugger. He then elated the crowd of 43,367 by forcing Rosen on an infield pop-up and Wertz on a routine grounder.

Canadian Nearly Pulls Upset In Tennis Contest

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Defending titleholder Tony Trabert moved up to the fourth round of the United States tennis championships Wednesday but not before he was run ragged by a pint-sized Canadian who swings a racquet with a two-fisted baseball grip.

Finally, after nearly two hours on the centre court at the West Side Tennis Club, the Cincinnati champion lived up to his No. 1 seeding by quelling Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver 13-15, 6-3, 6-3.

For a while, however, it appeared it might be a tight squeeze.

Young Main, who uses both hands to stroke from either side carried Trabert to the 20th game of the opening set before he finally got serviceable. He cracked Tony's powerful delivery twice in the second set and made a bitter fight of it in the third, before succumbing.

Swift of foot and with quick reflexes, the Canadian Davis Cup star, seeded ninth among foreign entries, seemed to combine Trabert with a looping drive that fell at the champion's feet as he neared the net.

Tony made numerous errors, particularly at the net, but was not nearly as sharp as a year ago when he swept to the singles crown and added all summer with hand blisters.

While Tony was having his troubles, Vic Seixas, Philadelphia southpaw from Monterey, Calif., was producing the first major upset in a marathon day of tennis on one of the obscure field courts.

Frank Sedgman, Australian Davis Cup ace, Lew Hoad.

Hoad, powerful and confident, beat Ecuadorean Andres Hammersley of Chile 6-0, 6-1, 8-6.

Reds Cuff Seven Giant Pitchers For 13 Hits

CINCINNATI (AP)—If New York Giants lose the National League pennant, they may have dropped it in Crosley Field.

They dropped their last contest of the season in the Cincinnati Reds' park Wednesday night, and the Reds cuffed seven Giant pitchers—one off a league record—for 13 hits in the course of gaining a 9-7 triumph.

The Giants have lost six of 11 games to the Reds in Crosley Field while the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, still 3½ games behind, have copped nine of the 11 played here. A Giant victory would have provided a needed extra-game cushion.

Wednesday night's encounter was a weird one. Manager Leo Durocher protested the Giants' contest in the third inning after what he thought was the third out.

TRIED A STEAL

Second-baseman Johnny Temple tried to steal home while the ball was on the ground between the pitcher and the first-baseman. He was called out by plate umpire Lon Warneke. But the official on third, Frank Dascoli, another umpire standing in the seventh. With the protest in progress, pitcher Bill Taylor socked the ball past the pitcher to Roy McMillan, who threw to Rhodes on Dusty's way to second. Rhodes claimed vigorously that he was safe but he was out—and out. Frank Dascoli, the second-base umpire, thumbed him out of the park.

Gaye Stewart Named Playing Coach of Bisons

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gaye Stewart Wednesday night was named playing coach of Buffalo Bisons in the American Hockey League.

Stewart, who joined the local club last season, succeeds Frankie Eddolls, who resigned two weeks ago to accept a similar job with Cincinnati in the Central International Hockey League.

The 32-year-old native, Ont., left winger, previously played with Toronto, New York, Detroit, Montreal and Providence in the NHL.

Stewart last season set an all-time Bison goal-scoring record of 42 and was named to the league's first all-star team.

Sports Roundup

By GATLE TALBOT

FOREST-HILLS' (AP) — When Maureen Connolly broke a foot in an accident on the court several months ago, the immediate supposition was that the current International women's tennis championships would be about the dullest on record and that it might prove difficult to give tickets away for the finals.

For three years "Little Mo" had swelled the gates as she mowed down all opposition. Fans were willing to pay just to see her in action. With the little champion out of the picture, officials conceded that they were in bad shape for a financial jam.

But now, they're not so sure. A little gal who left here three years ago has come back, a greatly improved tennis player. She still weighs in at only 112 pounds but she swings an extremely heavy 14-ounce racket like she means business.

NOW MARRIED

She now is Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz, having added the last handle and bound daughter named Kimberlee since she last had a shot at the big title. We find there is a lot of sentiment around here that she has a good chance to regain it.

We find this heartening, because away back in 1950, when Miss Connolly came to this runner-up from the west coast, we predicted that Beverly Baker was destined to be the world's most outstanding woman player.

At the time of the prediction, we reasoned that a player who stroked a tennis ball equally well with either hand and who therefore had neither the customary weak forehand or uncertain backhand, just naturally had to become the world's best player, given time. It stands to reason and now Beverly's been given time, even if little of it was spent playing tennis!

AMBIDEXTROUS

The girl from Long Beach still holds her bludgeon in both hands as she prepares to receive service. She even shifts it either to right or left hand and swallops away with a great deal of power, maybe with as much as little Mo does.

If the meeting matrix reaches the closing stages of the championships, as the experts fully expect her to do, she will prove a draw to rival Maureen. The fact, that she's the only star in history to play a completely ambidextrous game, and is a beauty to boot, should help.

Case of Mumps Helps Make Boxing History

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A case of mumps helped make boxing history here Wednesday night as Georgia Jurino, Philadelphia welterweight, declassed fellow townman Elwood Davis and Bobby Bell, Youngstown, Ohio, and one Theston of New York, fought to a draw in the first "studio-home audience" nationally televised fight show ever presented.

Some 2,000 boxing fans—about the size of a large studio audience —were admitted free to the double windup program of six-rounders, a substitute for the welterweight title fight between Kid Gavilan and challenger Johnny Saxton. Gavilan came down with a case of the mumps Tuesday, 36 hours before he was scheduled to make his eighth title defence.

Faced with the choice of breaking the uninterrupted four-year Wednesday TV fight show series, promoter Herman Taylor and the International Boxing Club of New York came up at the last minute with the double windup.

OPPOSED TV

Ironically, it was Taylor, one of the bitterest opponents of television in sports, who hit upon the free admission idea and turned the show into a "studio" type program. Most of the audience came from the immediate neighborhood of the Mrs. scene of Wednesday night's fights.

Originally, the fight between Gavilan and Saxton was to be blacked out on TV sets within a 100-mile radius of Philadelphia, except in New York.

However, with the title fight postponed, the promoters lifted the blackout.

Doubles Tennis Team May Be Broken Up

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Vic Seixas, runner-up to Tony Trabert for the United States national tennis championship last year, half the 1953 U.S. Davis Cup team, and current forgotten man of the tennis circuit, may never see Australia again.

"Nope," he said today, "I may not go to Australia if they want me to play doubles only.

If he refuses to take the long jaunt, the Americans will lose a virtual certain point in the challenge round. Seixas and Trabery have been every Australian combination coach Harry Hopman has named.

"We thought we could beat them in doubles last year," said Seixas. "Now we know it. But I only hope the Davis Cup selectors don't nagate the assignments when they meet this weekend. They should wait until we get to Australia and let the fellows who are hot at the time play the singles."

All Four Teams In Intercounty Have Two Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's still anybody's guess in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League.

All four teams in the best-of-seven semi-finals are deadlocked at two victories each after Wednesday night games.

London Majors squared their half of the bracket by trouncing St. Thomas Elgins 8-2 at London while Brantford Red Sox were evening their series against Galt Terriers by walloping them 9-2.

The Elgins fell apart in the eighth inning after a hot seven-inning mound duel between Eddie Drapcho of St. Thomas and London's Bob Brake. Three St. Thomas hobbles in the momentous eighth and five London hits produced seven runs. One of the five safeties was a three-run homer by Brake.

His pitching effort sparkled with a two-hit glitch, one in the second and another in the eighth. He fanned 11 and walked two. John Ambrose came in to relieve Drapcho and the damage had been done.

A similar pitcher's battle also broke up in a wild late inning at Brantford. Harry Fisher and Jerry Lessay matched pitch for pitch until Brantford came up in the seventh inning including four runs on four straight hits.

They added another in the eighth on Wilmer Fields' home run and Fisher pitched his way out of trouble in the ninth.

Galt made a bit of a comeback with two runs in the eighth but diminished it short of shutout. However, the Sox collected nine hits off Lessay including five extra-base hits. Stan Breard had three of the doubles while Gordon Lonsdale scored one single and a double.

Fisher yielded 18 scattered hits and walked seven. Galt hitters were led by Fred Thomas with a double and a triple and Jerry Tipper, with a single and double.

Schamerhorn Out By TKO in Last Round of Fight

TORONTO (CP)—Don Ross of Toronto secured a technical knockout over Eddie Schamerhorn of Belleville, in the main event of an amateur fight card here Wednesday night.

Ross was given the fight, scheduled for five rounds, at 56 seconds of the fifth. He was ahead all the way. The bout ended after he pinned the referee with a right to Schamerhorn's head.

Peterborough Seabrookes Take Game Lead Over Point Anne

(By GARRY ALEXANDER)

The Peterborough Seabrooke Motors took a one-game lead over Point Anne in the O.A.S.A. Intermediate "A" playdowns Wednesday night, when they staved off a rabbit-inning rally to preserve a close 5-4 victory under the lights at the Peterborough "Bowl."

Neil Thompson's base-empty homer in the fifth was the winning blow off loser Bobby Hunter as he settled down to throw no-hit ball for the remaining three frames. His mates worked up a minor rally in the top of the ninth when pinch-hitting Leo Goyer drew a walk to lead off but Hunter popped up in an attempt to sacrifice the runner. Jackie Wardhaugh then drilled a sharp single into left with Goyer racing for third and the ball arriving at almost the same time to retire the second out of the inning with Wardhaugh taking second. Doug Hall lifted a high fly to left-centre with Spencer getting under the ball, it bounced out of his glove into the air but came back down to end the game.

Jim Driscoll toiled the distance for the Seabrooke crew, allowing seven safe hits but bearing down with men on base. Nine whiffed seven batters while giving up four baseson-balls and hit one batter.

HUNTER ALLOWS SIX HITS

Hunter was touched for six hits in taking the loss, fanning five while walking only one and hitting another. He added to his team cause with a single as did Driscoll.

The Cementmen got off to a rather slow start, when Thompson chopped a single through the centre that was belabored twice, allowing the runner to take third. Curry followed with a bullet-like drive off Johnson's glove at third for a double and a tie score. Hunter fanned Sullivan and a pop-out and two down but Wyatt's long fly sent Mallory back against the fence for the final out.

Singles by Wardhaugh and Bill Strahan proved useless in the third with a couple easy infield rollers retiring the side but singles by Tony Kotowski and "Sphinx" Spencer netted a singleton for the Seabrookes in the fourth for a 2-1 lead.

HALL'S SINGLE HELPFUL

Billy Strahan's walk started the visitors on the comeback trail in the fifth, when Hunter beat out a bunt and Doug Hall's single to left-centre got him to second. Hall scored on Goyer's single to left, scoring the lead runner, in the winners half of the same inning. Neil Thompson hit one of Hunter's fast balls to deep centre for an in-side-the-park home run but from then on Hunter was immovable.

Jackie Wade tripled to left field in the eighth, scoring John Green who had slashed a single down before but Wade died on third with Gilmour and Bob Strahan making easy outs.

Thompson led his mates at the plate with a homer and single, while scoring two runs and playing an excellent game at shortstop. Curry had a double with single apiece to Driscoll, Spencer and Kotowski.

Jackie Wardhaugh was best in defeat with a brace of singles while Hunter, Bill Strahan, Green and John Green contributed singles.

The lineups:

Point Anne: Wardhaugh 2b; Hall ss; Mallory rf; Elliott rf in 8th; Green c; Wade cf; Gilmour 3b; Bob Strahan 1b; Bill Strahan lf; Goyer batted for Strahan in ninth.

Peterborough: Thompson ss; Curry 2b; Sullivan 1b; Kotowski cf; Wyatt 3b; Donogine rf; Spencer lf; Scriver c; Driscoll p.

Will Use Fochuk

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Rugby Football Union said Wednesday they have signed halfback Steve Fochuk in their game Saturday if his release comes through in time from Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four.

Fochuk, former backfielder with Rough Riders, has been working out here for the last few weeks. He was recently waived out of the Big Four, Dutchmen meet Sarnia Imperials Saturday.

Irving Berlin Feels He Has Three Hits in New 'White Christmas' Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Irving Berlin hasn't had a new hit song in three years, but he isn't complaining.

Some song writers are, they claim that their established talents are passed up by the record companies and disk jockeys in favor of unknown writers of novelty songs. The latter has almost reached the top, but Berlin is staying out of it.

"Sure, I haven't had a hit since I did "Call Me Madam," said the veteran songsmith. "I put out a couple of songs that I thought were pretty good. One of them, "For the Very First Time,' was recorded by Tony Martin, and I thought it was a good ballad. But it never got off the ground.

"For the past 3½ years I have been living off my ASCAP fees (payment when a song is performed) . They don't make records or sheet music, my music publishing firm doesn't make money.

"But I don't think you can think the songs you hear today. I think Tennessee Waltz' and "Goodnight Irene' are as good as any you can find. Sure, there are a lot of crazy songs, but we had 'em in the old days, too.

"I wrote things like 'Sadie Salome, Go Home' and 'When I Get That Old Fly Ham's Fiddle.' A guy comes along with a trick title like 'You Have No Banana' and it's a hit. It's cute; why knock it?"

Berlin still doubtless get back in the hit column this fall when his new film, "White Christmas," is released. He has several new songs in the show. He believes three—"Count Your Blessings," "Love, You Didn't Do Right By Me," and "The Best Things Happen While You're Dancing"—have hit possibilities.

Berlin has written more hits than any other composer, but the greatest of these was "White Christmas." At first he didn't known how big a hit he had. He wrote the song in 1939, then tucked it away in the trunk.

In 1942 he was writing a movie for Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire called "Holiday Inn." He needed a Christmas song and brought out the old tune. He first realized that it might be a hit when he played it for Bing.

Stage, Novels Give Jane Fastest Roles

The screen career of Jane Wyman has been linked with motion picture adaptations of many of this generation's outstanding novels and stage plays, reaching a high point with her starring role in Universal-International's Technicolor production of Lloyd C. Douglas' "Magnificent Obsession," which opens next Monday at the McCarthy Theatre. Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush share starring honors with Miss Wyman in the screen version of this celebrated novel.

Miss Wyman's Academy Award came with her performance in "Johnny Belinda," previously successful stage production. Also in works originally presented on the stage, Miss Wyman appeared on the screen in "Brother Rat," "The Doughgirls" and "The Glass Menagerie."

Previous to "Magnificent Obsession," written by the author of "The Robe," Miss Wyman appeared in screen adaptations of such famous books as "The Yearling" and "So Big."

AT THE CAPITOL — Showing Chesty in "Forty Thieves" will be the scene attraction for the children Saturday matinee at the Capitol. On the same program "Return From the Sea" and "Strike It Rich."

AT THE CAPITOL — A scene from the Saturday Evening Post's thrill swept story "Return From The Sea" in which Jan Sterling in first showing at the Capitol Theatre, Belleville, plays that "high on Trouble" role opposite Neville Brand. On the same program "Strike It Rich" starring Rod Cameron and Don Castle.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars

FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 3, 1954.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Your best planetary day so far this month. You should be able to start new undertakings, if necessary, or finish up matters already started. Vigorous, encouraging rule for all worthy affairs.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — All signs point to a hectic day. You should find difficult and intricate situations moving as smoothly as the lighter tasks and duties. Be cheerful, hopeful.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — If you are neither happy nor in wonderful, you should have a happy, productive day; accomplish much for family, friends, neighbors.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Work, recreation, study, research, manual labor, and craftsmanship, whether industrial or professional, all have favorable aspects now. Care of the old, infirm and of little children will bring blessings.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — A good day to work, to help and to be helped; to sympathize with those in sorrow or trouble and to have faith in God and the truths of life as needed to live and be truly content.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Friendliness and encouragement abound today. Take a share of both and give in return. Be intelligent; willing co-operation; actual as well as spiritual aid where you can. Go forward and achieve.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Mixed advice, suggestions to other zodiacal natives place all are under generous benefits directly from major planets. If you achieve and are happy, help a friend to climb and be happier.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Never grow weary of true friends, good deeds and the things which are worth while. Be thankful when we life rightly!

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—A promising day all through. Think and be kind: "The wealth of a man is the number of things which he loves and enjoys. That which he is loved and blessed by."

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Read Leo and Sagittarius. Can you not do well heeding advice to them? Success, real contentment are not measured by wealth, high position.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—While your Uranus aspect is mild in aspect, suggesting steady rather than erratic action, other planets are favorable. Today is auguring for productive, generous results through good management.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Read Sagittarius) — a fine thought for today, everyday. You need not fear to fail when even an honorable program calls for. Ask God's help and go right ahead. Success is in the air.

YOU BORN TODAY are characterized by steadfastness of purpose, high ideals and a clean, wholesome mind. There is no limit to what you can accomplish, and you may lean to a scientific career. You have the patience and ability for research but may tend to worry needlessly and overdo. Jealousy work is condemned. Sensibly curtail these traits as they wear down health and nerves and mold your otherwise kindly, genial disposition. Keep cheerful and hopeful. You can accomplish in any honorable field you choose. Birthdate: Sarah Orne Jewett, noted novelist.

JUDICIAL SALE

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF ONTARIO

BETWEEN:

ELIZABETH M. SARARGE and ANNA M. SARARGE, Plaintiffs,

— and —

IDA EVELYN BOYD and JOSEPH EDWARD BOYD, Defendants

Pursuant to the Judgment and Final Order for Sale made in this action, I will offer for sale by public tender the following lands and premises:

"ALL AND SINGULAR the certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the County of Hastings and Province of Ontario, and being composed of Lot No. 31 in Plan No. 1 in the Township of Sidney, in the County of Hastings, according to the Registered Plan No. 31, in the Third Registry Division of the said County of Hastings, saving and excepting thereout and therefrom that portion thereof conveyed by Deed No. 31, dated the 1st day of March, 1911, registered in the Registry Office for the said County of Hastings, as Number 31 for Sidney, and described as follows:—

Commencing at a point in the Northerly limit of the said Lot No. 31 as the same is shown on the said Plan No. 31, distant 33 feet 6 inches measured Westerly along the said Northerly limit of the said Lot No. 31 from the Northeast angle of the said Lot No. 31; THENCE South 13 degrees 31 minutes West a distance of 413.7 feet to the said point of commencement; THENCE South 13 degrees 31 minutes West a distance of 413.7 feet to the said point of commencement.

The property will be offered for sale subject to a reserve bid fixed by the Local Master of the Supreme Court of Ontario at Belleville, Ontario, and will be made as of date of the Master's Certificate and subject to a first big open cheque to produce my abstract of title to the property and my charge of the other than those in his possession or control. The purchaser requires no evidence of sale, are the standing conditions of sale of the Master at Belleville and conditions of sale settled by the Judgment.

On the premises are said to be erected a one and a half storey frame dwelling house and additional stable and frame constructions. The property is a summer resort property, being a cottage property on Diamond Lake. Further particulars may be obtained from Messrs. Robb, Marsden & Hurley, 15 Campbell Street, Belleville.

CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. This sale shall be by tender, the tenders to be delivered in or mailed postage prepaid in a sealed envelope addressed to the Honourable Judge of the County Court of the County of Hastings, Ontario, at the Court House, Belleville, Ontario, and the envelope shall be plainly marked on the outside "Tender on Diamond Lake Property."

2. The Tenders shall state the name and address of the person making the tender and shall contain a certified cheque to the order of the Accountant of the Supreme Court of Ontario for ten percent (10%) of the price tendered.

3. This sale shall be for cash and the Vendor will not retract his tender.

4. The person making the highest Tender shall be the purchaser at the price stated, provided the reserve bid has already been fixed by the Local Master.

5. In the matter in the action with the exception of the Plaintiff's shall be at liberty to Tender.

6. The Tenders will be opened by the Local Master on October 1st, 1954, and he will declare the person making the highest Tender the purchaser, provided, the highest Tender equals or exceeds the reserve bid.

7. The Purchaser shall be immediately notified by registered letter, post and shall pay the balance of the purchase money on or before October 15th, 1954, when the vendor will convey the property and he shall be entitled to the conveyance and to get let into possession.

8. The Purchaser shall have the conveyance prepared at his own expense and bear the same for execution.

9. ## Hydro Recommends Awarding Contract To Montreal Firm

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Hydro announced Wednesday it is recommending the award of a $2,400,000 contract to the Montreal Engineering Company of Montreal for construction of new powerhouse, coffer dams and de-watering operations in connection with the St. Lawrence seaway power project.

Ryan Chairman Robert H. Saunders said Mannix-Raymond-Walsh Inc., lowest of 16 tenders submitted for the first major contract in the power project. Recommendation of its acceptance will be made to the New York state power authority, Ontario's partner in the plan.

He said he had no doubts that the power authority will concur in the recommendation. Work, he said, would begin within 10 days following the awarding of the contract.

WAS LOWEST

Mr. Saunders said that on the basis of unit prices and the quantities set out in the specification and tender forms the Mannix-Raymond-Walsh bid at $2,411,000 was the lowest.

Second lowest tender was Hayner Construction Limited of Toronto in a joint venture with Peacock Construction Limited of Iroquois, Ont., with a figure of $2,921,625. Third lowest was McNamara-Pigeon-Peacock and McColgan, construction with $2,913,315.

One collection will be built immediately below the site of the project powerhouse on the eastern tip of Barnhart Island in the St. Lawrence river just off Cornwall, Ont. The second will be built in the channel between Barnhart and Sheik Island.

A third collection will be built by the New York state power authority at Long Sault.

MECHANICAL COP

TORONTO (CP) — R. W. Rossitter, magistrate courts administrator, wants the city to streamline its system of issuing parking tags and summonses. He told board of control electronically operated punched cards and other mechanical methods would save $34,185 a year.

New Highway Is Proposed North of Barrie

TORONTO (CP)—Construction of a new highway to relieve congestion on Highway 11 between Parrie and Gravenhurst, will be started soon by the Ontario department of highways, it was reported Wednesday night.

The highway would follow the present route of Highway 93 from Lower Hill to Craighurst and then cut across country to Coldwater and below Highway 12 to Washboard Lake. It would then follow Highway 103 to Port Severn and link into a new section of the Trans-Canada highway to be built to Foote's Bay.

The proposed highway will take all the traffic from Toronto and southwestern Ontario going into the Muskoka area west of Bala, including Parry Sound. Any traffic proceeding to Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie or to western Canada via the Soo, will also be able to use the new route.

CRANE IN TRAP

CORNWALL (CP) — Donald Mackenzie of Pointeaubic, Que., discovered a young crane caught in a muskrat trap for four days. He freed the bird and a veterinarian removed a hook from its stomach. It was later released and flew off in search of food. Wild cranes will eat nothing while in captivity.

Three Ministers Resign As Protest At EDC Defeat

National German Army Out As Far as France Concerned

PARIS (Reuters) — Three ministers resigned from Premier Pierre Mendes-France's cabinet today as a protest against the defeat of the European Army plan in the National Assembly.

The three ministers, all supporters of the European Defence Community plan, are Labor Minister Claudius Petit (Leftist Radical), Justice Minister Emile Hugues (Radical), and Industry Minister Maurice Bourges Maunoury (Radical).

Their resignation brought the total of cabinet resignations over EDC to six. Three Gaullist anti-EDC ministers quit their posts last month because they considered the prime minister's planned modifications of the defence project did not go far enough.

Earlier three former prime ministers, two EDC supporters, declared they will never vote in Parliament for the setting up of a national German army.

Wants to Train In Prison Cell For Monk's Life

VIENNA (AP)—Gustav Haubert, 40-year-old convicted Australian embezzler, asked a Vienna judge to let him serve his three-month jail term on an especially hard cot.

"Also reduce my meals to the barest minimum," he pleaded. "I have decided to go into a monastery after I leave jail and I want to get in training."

Two Believed Drowned

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Maurice Godett, 30, and Nick Chalet, 36, both of Fort William, are missing and believed drowned on a fishing trip on Lake Superior, provincial police said today.

UNIONS DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF ACCEPTANCE

Toronto Members Turn Down Board Offer

TORONTO (CP)—Two locals of the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) were divided today on the question of accepting a wage settlement already worked out by union and government officials and representatives of Massey-Harris-Ferguson Limited.

Company employees at Brantford voted Thursday night to accept the settlement. A basic of agreement had been reached after two days of company-union talks under Ontario Labor Minister Daley and chief conciliator Louis Fine.

Toronto members Thursday night turned down the recommended settlement. Their union negotiating committee was ordered to resume talks and attempt a more satisfactory settlement.

Workers at the company's Woodstock plant were to vote today on ratification of the agreement.

NOT SATISFIED

George Burt of Windsor, Canadian director of the union, said after the Brantford meeting that the union committees were not satisfied with the company's hold-the-line wage policy, but took into consideration the industry's economic situation and decided to recommend settlement without a wage increase. A compromise had been reached in seniority.

The settlement eliminated the company's Sept. 7 contract deadline and provided an interim agreement until next June for 6,000 farm implement workers at the three company plants.

The company had warned that if a settlement were not reached by that date it would withdraw union privileges provided under its agreement. Local locals had given their bargaining committees power to call a strike at a time to be set by the committees.

Pearson Urges Free World Trade at Economic Conference

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (CP)—Canada's attitude on the St. Lawrence seaway project was an example of the Canadian government's recognition that its "own interests are likely to be best served by policies which do not ignore the interests of our friends and which are based on the freest possible relations with other countries," External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson said Thursday night.

He was speaking at the closing session of the United States-Canadian economic conference sponsored by the University of Rochester.

He told delegates many Canadians were critical of last-minute participation by the U.S. in the seaway, but the government considered co-operation the better way "of reconciling national interests and good neighborhood." He also said the influence of forces abroad in favor of major progress toward a freer system of trade and payments is "a precarious one" and that North American trade must be willing to extend their co-operation if favorable progress is to continue.

The bulk of his address was devoted to a plea for close co-operation between the U.S. and Canada as "welcome and encourage" efforts to find a world market on the part of "our friends across the Atlantic (who) now are feeling a new surge of economic strength."

It was a "simple fact that economic relations between our two countries can never be entirely satisfactory if the rest of the world is not prospering."

Calling for a positive lead on the part of North America, he added: "Overseas countries are watching with great interest any developments in our two countries which offer an indication of the direction of our trade policy."

Marion B. Folsom, undersecretary of the U.S. treasury, told the conference the net effect of the Eisenhower administration's tariff policies would be "to facilitate a continued and further growth in the volume of mutually beneficial trade between the U.S. and Canada."

Folsom said this would prove true even though tariffs may be raised in some cases on proof of need.

Island at Niagara Falls May Collapse Into Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Luna Island and a portion of Goat Island on the American side of Niagara Falls were closed to the public today because of the danger of possible collapse.

Joseph Davis, president of the Niagara frontier state park commission, ordered Thursday all of Luna Island closed and a strip of adjacent Goat Island extending as far back as the bridge to the American mainland.

The order was issued after geologists warned that rock formations in the falls were unstable and represented a "very dangerous situation."

A survey made as a result of the July 29th rockfall, said there were at least seven prominent fissures in the Luna Island-Goat Island section and that an overlying 80 feet of dolomite limestone was undercut about 30 feet back into the face of the falls.

The geologists reported that conditions in the area tended to complicate those at Prospect point before July 29, when an estimated 185,000 tons of rock plunged into the 150-feet-deep gorge.

Rockfalls are "probably be quite rapid" once they started, the report said.

Also closed to the public, park authorities said, was the hurricane deck section of the Maid of the Mist gunk pool. The hurricane deck is a narrow, wooden bridge directly below Luna island and would be in the path of any rockfall.

Swift action was taken by the commission on the survey report

Burglar Suspect Wounded by Shot In Police Chase

TORONTO (CP)—A man police described as a suspected burglar was shot and severely wounded early today and two other men were arrested following an 80-mile chase along Highway 401.

In hospital in critical condition with a gunshot wound in Barney Secord, 36, of Toronto.

Held by police on charges of shopbreaking and possession of burglary tools are Albert Farrow, 28 and William Humes, 33, both of Toronto.

Doctor Replaces Diseased Valve With Plexiglass Valve in Boy's Heart

QUEBEC (CP)—A Quebec doctor has replaced a diseased valve in the aorta of a boy's heart with a plexiglass valve, it was disclosed Thursday. The operation is believed to be one of the first of its kind in the world.

The boy, 15-year-old Maurice Carmeni of Quebec, is recovering satisfactorily following the delicate operation performed two months ago by Dr. J. Andre Gravel, thoracic surgeon at Quebec's Hotel Dieu Hospital.

The valve in Carmeau's aorta artery, which normally prevents blood from re-entering the heart after it has been pumped out, became diseased several years ago and did not function properly.

With blood rushing back into the heart, the youth's blood pressure was 300-0 compared to the normal 115-70.

The plexiglass valve, about 2½ inches long and ¾ inches wide was invented by Dr. Charles A. Hallnagel of Washington. It has been used with some success on several patients in the United States.

Dr. Gravel said Thursday Carmeni's blood pressure has been dropped to 170-70 and he is able to take moderate exercise without any trouble and fainting spells that used to beset him.

U.S. Confident of Finding Formula for Arming Germany

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a week of worry and soul-searching, United States officials now are fairly confident that a formula will be found in a reasonable time for full-power emergency conference to begin drafting a new plan for West German rearmament. The U.S. was reported Thursday to be inclined to agree to such a meeting.

American diplomatic officials feel such a meeting would accomplish a lot more than the 1951 provide a way to bring West Germany into the Western defense system with key Western powers on the European defence problem, and (3) help clarify views held by the main NATO powers before a later meeting of all 14 Atlantic Pact partners.

Nehru to Visit China

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told India's Parliament today he will make his first visit to Communist China in October.

Foreign ministry sources said Nehru is scheduled to leave Oct. 16 for a two-week stay, returning the 19th. Chinese Premier Chou En-lai paid him last June en route home from the Geneva conference.

The Indian ministry said the Peiping government has been asked to draw up an itinerary for Nehru.

Diplomatic sources said Nehru will stop at Rangoon en route to Peiping.

Study Indicates Gamma Globulin - Offers Some Polio Protection

CHICAGO (AP)—A new study indicating that gamma globulin offers some protection against polio was detailed today in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The report is the third by a group of investigators who studied the results of field tests in the United States in 1951-53 and of mass inoculations last year.

The original evaluation was that gamma globulin, a protective substance derived from blood, offered significant protection. The second study concluded there was no evidence whether the substance gave protection or not.

The current study involved infantary tests to evaluate the value of GG given in the 1951-53 field tests.

Because of the latest study, public health officers have recommended gamma globulin for family groups to protect other members of a family in which one or more have been stricken.

The order reverses use original "large group inoculations only" in favor of public inoculation through private drugstores.

The Journal's report said use of GG "would not ordinarily have been considered if anything else had been available," but the foundation, which sponsored the study refers to the serum as "the weapon that held the fort until the big guns could be brought up."

The chief "big gun" now in use is the vaccine under widespread trial developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk also of the University of Pittsburgh.

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX INCREASES 4-5ths OF POINT

Living Cost Barometer Highest Since Jan. '52

OTTAWA (CP) — The consumer price index made its biggest monthly jump in 2½ years during July, rising by four-fifths of a point to 117, the highest level of the cost-of-living barometer since January, 19, 1952.

It was the third consecutive monthly rise in the index and the sharpest rise since October, 1951, when the index jumped by the four-fifths of a point, the bureau of statistics reported today.

FOODS RISEN

In the index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, the jump was almost entirely due to higher food prices. Eggs, potatoes, beef, lamb, eggs, citrus fruit, tea and most canned goods. Food price showing drops were other fresh vegetables and pork.

Rents and home-ownership costs also continued their steady rise. Other price rises showed in the personal services in several cities, as well as newspaper rates in Ottawa. Counterbalancing were lower gasoline prices for 21 cities mostly in eastern Canada.

Living costs had been easing off earlier in 1954 but the index reversed itself in May when the index jumped by three-fifths of a point. In June, the index rose by only one-tenth of a point and it appeared the rise would be short-lived.

However, in July, the index moved to the highest level since January, 1952, and the peak of 118.3 in December, 1951.

The food sub-index jumped by 2.3 points to 114.4, a 10-month high. The shelter column, which covers rents and home-ownership costs, rose by two-fifths of a point to a new high of 127.

Also up to a new high was the miscellaneous column which edged ahead by a tenth of a point to 111.1. Household operation was up 0.2 to 117.1.

AHEAD AHEAD AHEAD

However, wholesale prices eased during August, perhaps an indication that the index will soon follow suit. The index of industrial materials, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, dropped to 222.7 on Aug. 27 from 223.3 on July 30. The Canadian farm products index, also based on 1935-39 prices, declined to 226.1 from 227.3.

Moderate declines for hogs, beef hides, raw rubber, raw sugar, tin, raw cotton, rubber, copper, crude petroleum, iron ore and bleached sulphite pulp overcame small rises for western oats, fir timber, rosin, steers and domestic lead.

In the index, the main weakness was in the animal products column, which showed lower prices for hogs, lambs, western calves, eggs, poultry and eastern cheese but higher western and eastern calves were higher.

Loaded Logging Train Careens Into Gorge Off Bridge

Said to be Worst Disaster In Philippines History

By DON RUTH

MANILA (AP) — A heavily loaded logging train carrying more than 100 passengers on empty flat cars careened down a mountainside and piled up on a wooden bridge Thursday, killing at least 82 persons.

Most of the others were injured, many critically, in what is described as the worst railroad disaster in Philippines history.

Cars, logs and crushed bodies hurtled from the wrecked bridge into a gorge 150 feet below. Cranes were hoisting massive logs from the gorge today, and officials said additional bodies may be uncovered.

CARS BREAK LOOSE

The wreck occurred on North Negros Island in the southern Philippines. Authorities still are trying to determine exactly what happened.

Engineer Pablo Villarete, 46, said that as his train crept down a steep grade near the town of Bacolod 16 cars broke away with the brake hose. In an attempt to save his train, Villarete said, he raced his engine and even coupled cars down the mountain, but the runaway cars caught up with the train on the bridge.

The crash derailed many cars wrecked the bridge and tossed five cars over the side. Chains hoisting logs snapped and the huge logs hurtled off the cars, crushing many passengers and sweeping others into the gorge. Some cars were smashed against the mountainside.

SOME CHILDREN

Survivors said some bodies were torn apart by the logs. Others were crushed beyond recognition. Unidentified bodies were lined today along the mud-caked riverbank by leaves.

The clothing column remained unchanged at 109.8, well below the peak of 115.2 in November, 1951, while the household operations column remained unchanged at 117.3, nine-tenths of a point below the peak of 118.1 last March.

LEVELS AHEAD

However, wholesale prices eased during August, perhaps an indication that the index will soon follow suit. The index of industrial materials, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, dropped to 222.7 on Aug. 27 from 223.3 on July 30. The Canadian farm products index, also based on 1935-39 prices, declined to 226.1 from 227.3.

Moderate declines for hogs, beef hides, raw rubber, raw sugar, tin, raw cotton, rubber, copper, crude petroleum, iron ore and bleached sulphite pulp overcame small rises for western oats, fir timber, rosin, steers and domestic lead.

Guest of Police Stole 'Billy', Prolongs Visit

DETROIT (AP)—Glenn C. Eller took advantage of police hospitality. Now he's serving a 10-day jail term.

Eller, 17, was one of the thousands who toured police facilities during "Know Your Police Week."

Patrolman Cecil Steggles noticed Eller as he started to leave the home of a local station. In Eller's pocket was a patrolman's night stick.

Act of Dedication Ends Convention For Mayors

WINDSOR (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities Thursday ended its convention with a solemn act of dedication.

The convention opened last Sunday and was attended by about 1,000 delegates and their wives from municipalities across the province.

The dedication was read responsively from a seven-page booklet. It reaffirmed the aims of the federation and ended with all repeating in unison pledges of dedication of honesty, reverence and courage.

Municipal labor relations, unemployment and education costs proved the main topics of the convention.

SECOND BEST

President Rhys M. Sale of Fort Prince George, Alberta, told the convention Thursday the bottom has not dropped out of the automobile market in Canada in spite of a dip in sales.

In a luncheon speech, he said it was predicted automobile sales would be down only 13.3 per cent from 1953 and 1954 would be recorded as the second biggest year in automotive history. Record sales were established in 1953.

Mr. Sale said municipal problems could not be solved by running to the government "every-time we run into unusually costly trouble."

CHOOSE EDMONTON

Donald MacKay of Calgary, in office as president only a month officially due to constitutional mix-up, will continue as president next year.

Convention will be host city at the 1955 convention but dates for the event were not announced.

The convention ended 23 members to the national executive and 27 regional chairmen, including nine from Ontario.

Quebec Labor Unions May Enter Political Field

MONTREAL (CP) — Hints that labor unions may enter the political field were contained in three day messages issued by two Quebec labor organizations.

Roger Provost, president of the Quebec Federation of Labor (CTCC-CCL) said labor amendments by governments will force workers also into politics.

A message from the Federation of Quebec Industrial Unions (CIO-CCL) said workers are convinced that only political action "will get us out of the desperate fix in which we are being held by two old capitalist parties." The message was signed by F. J. Lamoureux, president of the federation, and Romeo Mathieu, secretary.

Blaze Damages Garage at Rear Of Docter's Hotel

Children playing with matches were believed responsible late Thursday afternoon for a blaze which called out firemen to a garage at the rear of Docter's Hotel on Station Street.

Firemen made the run with two trucks during the height of late afternoon traffic and arriving on the scene found the interior of the large frame garage burning freely. In a matter of minutes the fire-fighters had the blaze under control and damage was small.

A crowd of spectators quickly gathered but box seat onlookers got themselves a ducking as firemen working from the inside of the garage turned water on the walls. The water sprayed through cracks in the boards and liberally sprayed the closest spectators, who were forced to duck out of the way.

Driver Escapes As Car Struck At Rail Crossing

Ardall Wilson, motor mechanics instructor at the Belleville Collegiate, escaped with a wrenched back and facial cuts this morning when his car was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railways freight locomotive at Gibson's Crossing on No. 2 Highway east of the city. The entire front corner of the Wilson sedan was sliced off by the locomotive and the car slewed around in front of the approaching train as the driver applied the brakes.

"I didn't see the train until it was almost at the crossing," Mr. Wilson said. "I applied my brakes but the car slewed around just as the train struck the crossing." Wilson was alone in the cart at the time.

Wilson's car was shoved off the tracks and onto the boulevard strip between the east and westbound lanes of the four-lane highway.

Mr. Wilson said he was eastbound towards Kingston, when the accident occurred. The train was proceeding west.

Contents of the car's trunk and the rear parts of the vehicle were strewn over the highway and traffic was held up until the road was cleared and glass swept from the highway.

Senior Citizens Resume Meetings

The first meeting of the new season of the Senior Citizens Club of Belleville, held at the Kiwanis Centre on Bell boulevard, Exeter was the main attraction and was played at 12 tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. Hodgson, Mrs. A. Thomson, J. Brennen and W. Clarke.

A report presented by Leslie Field for the executive referred to the picnic at Glenmore, other items of interest, and the meeting in October when officers will be elected. Those with celebrated birthdays in August were musically honored. There will be no birthdays in September.

Recreation director "Red" Doran was present and addressed the meeting, offering some advice and expressing the wish that the executive be enlarged to cover sick and visiting, social and refreshment, publicity and sports committees.

Mrs. Drummond, refreshment convenor, was responsible for the lunch served to close an enjoyable evening. She was assisted by many of the ladies present.

MIRROR REMAINS INTACT

MATTAPOISETT, Mass. (AP)—Battered Mattapoisett, clearing up the hurricane debris, found one item intact. A two-foot-high mirror from a public bath house at the tented Crescent beach was blown 500 yards down the shore line. It was found upright against a tree-unbroken.

5,000 Children Will Trek Back to School on Tuesday

After two months of holidays and freedom the classes, totalling 5,000 children in the city and immediate district will trek back to school Tuesday morning.

The number of children included in the total given will attend schools in Belleville and in the rural area immediately outside the city.

In the city proper it is expected the school will be accommodated at other schools in the east end of the city. About 100 pupils slated for classes at the new school will attend at Queen Alexandra; another 50 will go to Queen Elizabeth school, and about 100 to Queen Victoria school.

NO TEACHER CHANGE

Mr. Kells noted that the change in the Sir Winston Churchill school when it is completed will involve no teacher change for the pupils as they will be placed with their regular teachers at the commencement of the school year.

At St. Michael's Academy and high school the expected enrolment will be about 475 pupils, slightly from last year.

Increased enrolments are also expected at the two other separate schools at which city pupils attend. At Sir Mackenzie school on College street, the enrolment will be about 150 from last year, while at St. Joseph's School at the eastern limits of the city the enrolment will be increased being opened this year the enrolment will be about 300, up 40 from last year.

Mixed Jitney Enjoyed By Local Bowlers

Another successful mixed jitney was conducted at the local greens on Thursday night. The jitney was supervised by Orio Smith and was assisted by Homer Watkin as co-chairman and three ten-end games were played on exceptionally fine all four of the greens.

There were twenty-two rinks in play and instead of the rinks changing personnel every game they remained the same for all three games and scores were figured on the total points. Prizes were given to the winners.

Mrs. J. Francis, Mrs. Joan Watkin and Gordon Wakin were the top score for the three games and were closely followed by Jack Fitzgerald, Mrs. Bella Lloyd and Mrs. "Dot" Wright. The two-game high winner was Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Cliff Argue and Orlo Smith with William Hammond, R. Gerow and Howard Hanlon next in line.

Percy Graham, Mrs. Percy Graham and Gordon Watkin were the winners of the one-game high score, with Mrs. Lindsay Fenger, Mrs. C. A. Mott and L. E. McLean were the highest for the games won.

These local jitneys create a great deal of interest in the club and it is expected a couple more will be held before the season draws to a close.

Harry Morrison Opens Dance Studio in City

Dance instructor, Harry Morrison has announced that he will open the Harry Morrison Studio of ballroom dancing at 241 Front Street on September 20th.

The studio, to be located on the third floor above Lafontaine Drug Store, will be open evenings Monday through Friday.

Group instruction and individual lessons by appointment will be available.

Mr. Morrison will teach the fox trot, waltz, and latest South American dances including the rhumba, mambo, samba and tango. Classes for beginners and advanced students will be available. Miss Joyce Boyce will be Mr. Morrison's partner in demonstrating various dances. Mrs. Morrison will be studio receptionist.

"It's a good medium to teach primary dance steps to our pupils so that they will be able to dance with confidence on the floor anywhere," said Mr. Morrison.

The studio's weekly schedule has been arranged so that group lessons will be given Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Tuesday and Thursday private lessons will be given as well as instruction for children over 10 years of age. On each Friday evening of each week there will be a dancing party for students.

The new studio has been recently redecorated and a new hard wood floor installed. Recorded music will be played during lessons.

Harry Morrison took his dancing instruction in Liverpool, England, and won a number of awards as instructor. He won 42 trophies and awards in dance competitions in England.

He came to Belleville in 1947 and has been active in dance instruction

Obituary

EARL GRANVILLE BAILEY

STIRLING—The funeral of Earl Granville Bailey was held at his late residence, Front Street, Stirling, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 1st, and was largely attended. Rev. Arthur Rayhorn of St. Paul's United Church conducted the service.

The bearers were Messrs. Ronald West, Harold Hubbard, Wilfred Fox, Harper Rollins, Cecil Macklin and Ivan Bird.

Interment was made in Stirling cemetery.

MRS. JAMES HALLADAY

Mrs. Eliza Halladay Belleville R. R. 7, died in Belleville General Hospital this Friday morning, after a brief illness. She was in her 79th year.

The deceased was born in Mountain View, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mott, and lived her lifetime in that area.

She is survived by her husband, James Halladay, and one brother, William Mott, Clinton, N.Y.

She was a member of Massassaga United Church and the Woman's Auxiliary.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Dr. J. E. Nelles Opens Office In This City

Dr. James E. Nelles, a graduate of the Faculty of Medicine of Queen's University in 1950, has announced that he has opened an office in Belleville for the practice of medicine.

Dr. Nelles was born in Hamilton and received his education at Oakdale Collegiate and Queen's University. His post graduate work included an internship at Kingston General Hospital, and a year at the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.

Dr. Nelles has an office with Dr. Edith Peterkin in the Cronk Clinic, 216 McDonald Ave.

Dr. Nelles is married to the former Barbara Wright of Kingston and has a three months old son. He will live at 51 Hillcrest.

Assistant P.S. Inspector Named In South Hastings

The rapid increases in the public school population in South Hastings has made necessary the appointment of an assistant public school inspector for the area. He will assist the inspector for the area, it was stated yesterday.

The new assistant inspector is Alexander Cummins, B.A., M.Ed., former teacher at an Ottawa public school. His duties commence on September 1st.

Mr. Cummins is married with two small children, Alexander and Michael 1. They will live at 122 Dufferin Avenue.

Mr. Macklem noted that the rapid growth of the school population in the South Hastings Inspectorate had made the load too heavy for one man to handle. He noted that the school population had increased 300 pupils each year since 1948.

Four new school rooms will be opened this year in the Belleville and Trenton area, and a three or two-roomed addition will go into operation on Tuesday, while a temporary two-roomed school has replaced the one room building. At Bayside a one room school was closed down for the first of October.

The South Hastings Inspectorate includes the public schools of Sidney and Thurlow, the town of Trenton and the village of Frankford.

I.O.O.F., Oakdale Rebekahs Hold Decoration Day

MADOC—On Sunday afternoon Madoc I.O.O.F. and the Oakdale Rebekahs held their annual decoration day service at Lakeview cemetery.

Headed by the Madoc band the I.O.O.F. members marched to the cemetery where they were joined by the Rebekahs and a large number of citizens for the memorial service which was in charge of P.N.G. Leslie Blakely and the address was by P.N.G. Percy Holland as chaplain.

Special sacred hymns were played by the band during the service.

While C. I. Ross read the names of deceased members a floral cross and wreath were formed on the I.O.O.F. plot by the members placing the flowers on it. Taps were played after the service was closed, were placed on the graves of the Lakeview and other cemeteries close by.

A wreath was also placed at the cenotaph in Victoria memorial Park by Leo Coveney, Brethren from neighboring lodges were in attendance.

In the evening the Madoc band gave a sacred concert in the Thompson Memorial Park which many of the citizens of the village and community attended and enjoyed.

HOMING PIGEON CONFUSED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A racing pigeon, believed battered during last Tuesday's hurricane, landed in a state of exhaustion Thursday in northeast Philadelphia. Detective-Sgt. Fred Tagg, who raises racing pigeons in his spare time, said the pigeon's leg bandages indicated the pigeon had taken part in a race, originating some hours on Long Island, was blown off course during the recent hurricane and has been flying in a state

Business Ceases Operations After 102 Years of Continuous Service to This Community

One of Belleville's oldest and best-known family-operated businesses has ceased operations after 102½ years of continuous service to patrons of this city and district.

Dickens and Son, confectioners, bakers, restaurateurs, and makers of some of the world's finest candies, has put up its shutters and its doors at 315 Front St. after 53 years in the same location.

Charles Dickens, third generation of his family to head the business, has decided to retire.

"I have no plans for the future," said Mr. Dickens. "Perhaps I shall do a little travelling and see some of the world."

Mr. Dickens cited the high cost of doing business, the shortage of qualified help, the difficulty of keeping steady personnel, and the uncertainty about his chances of securing an adequate lease, as reasons for his retirement.

"Things are becoming increasingly difficult," he said. "Every pile the fact we did the largest volume of business in our history last year, I do not plan to renew."

CLOSED AFTER FIRE

The business first its doors for the first time following a $150,000 fire in the East Robertson Block, August 8th, 1952, and resumed time in six years that fire had interrupted Dickens' business.

"I have been deeply touched by the phone calls and letters in which customers have expressed their sympathy for our plight as a result of the fire," said Mr. Dickens. "It just goes to show there are still a lot of thoughtful people in the world."

Equipment and fixtures of the store are being sold at auction this week.

William Dickens, grandfather of the present proprietor, founded the business in 1832.

William Dickens died while still young and his wife carried on until their son, Edwin F. Dickens, became proprietor in 1870. He was actively associated with the firm until just prior to his death in 1944.

"His bakery, located on the site of the present Reward Shoe Store, was the first tenant of the West Robertson Block after it was built," said Mr. Dickens.

ENTERED FIRM IN 1913

Ernest "Ernie" Dickens, son of Edwin Dickens, entered the business in 1913.

"In 43 years the longest holiday I've had was four days on a New York visiting a daughter," he recalled. "I think now I may travel a little."

Dickens, famous for quality for a host of baking products, had an enviable reputation for custom baking of wedding, birthday and anniversary cakes of all kinds. It was a Belleville tradition in call Dickens when special baking was required.

At the time of the fire, August 8th, the store had a staff of 18.

Mr. Dickens, summing up his recollections of a lifetime as a baker.

"There aren't too many of us left."

Newsman Finds Communist China Sad, Dismal Place

LONDON (AP) — British newspaper men who accompanied the Attlee Labor party delegation to Communist China reported generally they found a land of monotony, starvation, even though showing some impressive features of the Red regime.

It was the first time since the Communists gained control of mainland China five years ago that any big group of newsmen from a free paper men had been permitted to tour the country.

John Hilton of the Daily Telegraph gave this summation of his experiences:

"I came out . . . from Communist China and it was with a feeling of relief. I have left Communist China before what is now described as the Stalin era, and I found it to be a sad, dismal place in comparison.

"Undoubtedly the present regime has done much to help the lot of the peasants and lower classes in China. Against that I can only bear in my mind that it has turned the country into a drab, colorless, dispiriting, agreeable place, where life has been disciplined into a dull, monotonous uniform pattern, and where following self-expression or individuality."

COMIC STRIP PRAISED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A comic strip was cited Thursday for distinguished public service to physically handicapped persons. The strip, "Mary Morgan Mix," was cited by the president's committee on employment of the physically handicapped "because of its educational value in regard to physical handicaps. Whenever possible the emphasis in the cartoons has been on ultimate job placement."

Oliver Predicts Liberals Will Win Next Election

WARREN (CP) — Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, Thursday night predicted that his party will be returned to power in Ontario after the next provincial election.

Speaking in support of Rene Brunelle, Liberal candidate in the Sept. 16 provincial by-election in Nipissing, he said with regard to a general election:

"The Liberal party will have a platform that the people of Ontario can seem to be in the same state as it was in 1933 when Mitchell Hepburn took over when the Conservatives had placed the provinces in bankruptcy.

"Just now we are rapidly getting to the point where the Liberals will come to the rescue. The Liberal party will be an instrument to give good government back to the province.

He urged his hearers to elect a Liberal member in Nipissing. He said that, by so doing, they will prod the government into calling a general election that will forces the Progressive Conservatives out of office.

The by-election alone will not change the government, Mr. Oliver said. "But it will prove to the government that the people do not approve of some of the things done by the present administration.

Red China Not Content to Play Second Fiddle

TOKYO (AP) — Asaurin Sevan said today in a signed article that Communist China "will not be content to play second fiddle to the Soviet Union."

"We can rest assured there will be no peaceful coexistence between them—at least not for some time to come," said a leader of the Reds' big, Labor party's left wing said.

"But there can be no doubt that Red China will exert her influence in private as an equal partner.

"Russia is no longer the sole leading Communist country."

Sevan said that he was his major conclusion after his visit through Soviet Russia and China and long talks with the highest Communist leaders in both countries.

Sevan's article, exclusive article for the Asahi, Japan's largest newspaper, which also featured the story in connection with Thursday night's arrival here of Sevan and six other British Labor party cab-

IN MEMORIAM

HENRY. — In loving memory of my dear wife, Kay Mae Henry, who passed away September 3rd, 1953.
God knows how much I miss her.
Every day I miss her more.
Lovingly thoughts shall ever wander
To the grave where she lies.
Lovingly remembered by husband Lorne.

STRUM. — In loving memory of Ralph Strum, Sr., who passed away September 3rd, 1937.
Sweet memories are treasured,
Heart of my heart I miss you so.
Memory keeps you ever dear to me,
Dearest, your picture before my eyes I see.
Ever remembered by wife, Ruby Strum.

The stars seem dim as I whisper low:
Sadly missed by mother and father.

MORRISON. — In loving memory of Ralph Morrison, who passed away September 3rd, 1953.
O happy hours we once enjoyed
Though now they're past
But death has left a loneliness
That time can't cure.
Sadly missed by wife, Ruby Robbs.

MORRISON — In loving memory of my dear father, Ralph Morrison, who passed away September 3rd, 1953.
In tears we now pen sinking, Dad,
Your memory is dear.
You left us all so suddenly
You tried so hard to stay.
Now we must be brave, grieving
So peacefully, free from pain
We could not wish you back
To suffer so much pain.
—Dad, we shall always remembered, Tom, Thelma and grandchildren.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market gained narrowly in fairly heavy afternoon trading today.

First-hour trading was just under 300,000 shares.

Utilities, steels, foods and manufacturers were strong, and there were scattered gains in other industrial sections. Liquors eased slightly.

International Nickel continued firm to lead base metals a little higher. Western oils, also, were up.

Ascot gained pennies following reports it is negotiating for control of a new uranium discovery in Ontario.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter price prices were unchanged here today.

Today's egg market was steady on all grades but small, which were weak. Offerings were light, demand good.

Quotations provided by the Dominion department of agriculture:

Eggs, in three cases, grades: A large 50-51; A medium 42-43; A small 30-31; B 36-37; C 29-30.

Butter solids: Out, first grade, undeliverable 58; non-tenderable 57½.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP)—Cattle prices were uneven at the Ontario stockyards this week. Calves were unchanged, hogs were lower and lambs were steady to lower.

The run of 4,562 head of cattle was added to a carryover of 800 head from last week. Heavy carryover of common killers and stockers is expected this week.

Shipments to eastern slaughterers were light and there were no exports to the United States. Included in the run were 2,300 cattle from western Canada.

Choice steers at weights were $21-24 and several loads of choice weighty steers at $22.50; good steers $20-22; medium steers $18-20; good heifers $18-20; common and medium heifers sold as low as $16.

Calves totalled 2,313 head; good to choice veal calves firm at $22-23 a hundredweight; cull calves steady at $20 a hundredweight.

Hogs were about 3,111 head; prices were 50 cents to $1 lower at the close with grade A at $27.50-28; B1's $26.50-27; B2's and good steady to $1 lower at $19 a hundredweight dressed.

Sheep and lambs totalled 2,538 head; lambs steady to 50 cents a hundredweight lower; good spring lambs unchanged at $23 a hundredweight; by truck to central Ontario at $22 a hundredweight; bucks discounted $1 a hundredweight; shorn lambs and yearlings $15-20 a hundredweight; good light sheep $8-10 a hundredweight; common sheep downward to $4.

OHA Gives Barrie Short Time To Make Decision

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association said Thursday night Hap Emms and the Barrie arena commission have until 4 p.m., today to decide whether the Flyers will continue in the Junior A league this season.

Tony Gregg, OHA president, said at a league sub-committee meeting here that Emms and the commission will study a "last-ditch" proposal and make their decision.

Gregg said the proposal had been put forward by Emms, who "agreed to loan the club to the commission for the season at no cost, except for payment of 25 pairs of skates, sweaters and socks."

Gregg added:

"There would be no Sunday hockey under the proposal, the team would have no sponsorship and Emms will retain ownership and all deals and trades would be authorized by him."

One obstacle to the proposal would be the hiring of a coach, Gregg said. Emms would no longer handle the team.

First Helicopter Air Group Formed

RAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP)—Six Bell Sioux H-13E helicopters flew into this northerly Quebec RCAF station Thursday to form the first all-helicopter unit in Canada.

The aircraft—largest of their type in operation—were ordered from the Piasecki Helicopter Corporation of Morton, Pa., to serve on a search and rescue unit.

They will augment one squadron of Sabre jets and one squadron of CF-100 fighters already based in this defence district, some 125 miles north of Quebec City.

RCAF officials said the 53-foot, two-engined aircraft, equipped to land and take-off on all types of terrain, will be used as emergency units to aid bush flyers.

They would also serve as aircraft for the commanding officer, frontline bases between Canada's fence points and the Canadian defence command. In the event of war, Officials said about six more helicopters will be flown in to complete the flight.

Checker Taxi, Booth TV's Enter Playdowns

The Checker Taxi, basically, earned the right to represent Belleville in the O.A.S.A. playoffs last night by splitting a doubleheader with Tip Tops, thus taking the series, three games to two. In the other two division Booth's TV's took a doubleheader from Blaine's Sports and will enter the O.A.S.A. pee wee playdowns against Oshawa Sanitary.

SANITARY

The Tip Top lads took this game by an 11-8 score and narrowed the series deficit by one game. Polite and Jerry Butcher formed the winners battery with Pointer allowing 12 hits, fanning one and walking three. Hook, McLaren and MacDonald all took a turn on the Checker lads mound, between them giving up 10 hits, whittling four and walking five.

Most had a double and two singles for the victors, Sheriden followed with a triple and single while Haynes punched a brace of singles. Gorver paced the losers with a trio of base hits while Hollowell had a double and single and Young contributed a homer.

Sunny Jim Gorver, a four-hit pitching effort clinched the series for Checker as they won this one by a 7-3 margin. MacDonald fanned two and never walked a man with Jim Mattice doing the receiving. Pointer also hurled the second game for Tip Tops, this time going up 11 hits, fanning none and walking but one.

Bell and Gorver were best with the wood for Checker, each claiming a double and single while Lawrence had a brace of singles. Locke and Donovan pounded triples in defeat. Lum Carson and Harold Thompson were the umpires.

FREE WEB

Booth's hammered out a one-sided decision in the first game. Hook buried a six-hitter while Hainsworth and Blaine fanned the victors between them.

Dugald and Shinner also hit home runs while Dugald had two hits, one a double. Lessells was good at bat in defeat, hitting two doubles and single, while O. Till doubled and singled.

Pointer and Hall chipped in a brace of singles each. Mike Whalen and Red Townsend were the umpires.

Both winning teams from Belleville enter playdown action tomorrow afternoon against Oshawa teams.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobo Rockefeller and Reno hotel man Charles W. Maples, Jr., laughed off rumors Thursday that they were headed for matrimony, but they had dinner together at her apartment. Bobo shed Winthrop Rockefeller as a mate a month ago with a reported $6,000,000 settlement.

Premium On Canadian Dollar Remains High

TORONTO (CP)—The premium on the Canadian dollar remains high despite efforts of Canadian monetary authorities to reduce it, the Bank of Nova Scotia says in its current monthly business review.

A prime factor in maintaining strength, the review says, is a surge of United States funds into existing Canadian securities during recent months.

Canadian economic conditions are such that "it is not surprising that many question the appropriateness of the premium."

THEY'RE REJECTED

The country's production for export has been increasing in wheat, oil, aluminum, iron ore, and other minerals. There is "every indication that market conditions, at home and abroad, will continue highly competitive."

Imports also are rising.

In view of this there is "a good deal of evidence," in the form of recent purchases of U.S. dollars and a comparatively easy monetary policy, to suggest that Canadian monetary authorities want the premium reduced.

The review says that from 1950 to 1953 there was a dominant influence in Canada's international economic position has been persistent U.S. investment in Canada's resources.

This reflects "continuation of foreign confidence." But where setting up foreign-controlled companies and branches was the previous pattern, in recent months this has tapered off and there has been "a sudden surge of foreign funds into existing Canadian securities."

The review says that "evidently inspired by a recent interpretation of U.S. tax regulations, U.S. investment funds have been finding channels for investment of U.S. capital in Canadian securities.

"In a number of instances, interest has been largely directed towards a limited number of Canadian stocks. The result has been on the one hand to raise sharply prices of some of these stocks and on the other to strengthen the rate on the Canadian dollar."

Gives Evidence In Courtroom From Stretcher

DEVIZES, England (Reuters)—A 42-year-old ilmed theatrical producer today was wheeled into a courtroom on a stretcher to tell how he was shot while climbing through the window of a week-end cottage in search of evidence for divorcees.

Sipping water as he gave evidence in an improvised hospital courtroom here, Lord Vivian said he went out to a party in Chaytern Bar and Mrs. Mavis Wheeler returned to the cottage after an earlier visit to several.

Because she had forgotten her key, he got back of them into the cottage through a window before leaving to "wait for her to be taken."

When he came back about midnight with two bottles of beer, he started entering the window by the same route.

"Darling, I am coming in," he recalled saying, and "almost instantaneously there was a report from a gun and I think something went by. It did not touch me."

Then he recalled saying: "Darling, put that gun down."

"I did not know whether to go on or get out," he added. Then "there was another bang."

Lord Vivian was severely wounded in the stomach. Mrs. Wheeler, former wife of archaeologist Sir Mortimer Wheeler, is charged with shooting him with intent to murder, and with unlawfully and maliciously wounding him.

For Workers Union Signs New Contract

TORONTO (CP) — Business Agent Max Federman of the Fur Workers Union (AFL) said Thursday a new two-year contract covering 300 employees of 73 shops has been approved by the union.

The new contract is the same as former contract except it calls for a joint committee of employers and union to work out a retirement fund plan.

Minimum wage for cutters is now $70 a week. The contract includes a 40-hour week, time-and-one-half for overtime, two weeks' vacation with pay, seven statutory holidays and 1½ per cent for sick benefits and hospitalization.

One-Way Main Street in Welland Works Out Well

WELLAND, Ont. (CP)—Welland thinks it has eased considerably one of Canada's toughest traffic problems with a system of one-way streets that takes in the city's main business district.

A desperate city council inaugurated the plan in June. Niagara Industrial Centre a year ago. It won approval of motorists, and merchants have come around. Some merchants, skeptical from the outset, remain steadfast opponents.

The one-way traffic setup eases the problem, but it can't remove the basic cause—the Welland canal which cuts right through the heart of the city. When vessels go through the canal, motor traffic over the four main streets lights halts and soon piles up in all directions.

WORKERS' PROBLEM

Most heavy industry, chief Welland employer, is on the east side of the canal. Thousands of workers live on the west side and also have to cross a single, downtown bridge over the Welland river, the only link with suburban residential districts. Result: extends eight miles to the north and west. The morning traffic congestion is chaotic.

One-way traffic was suggested by Harry W. Osborne, traffic consultant from Buffalo, N.Y. It went into effect on the four principal streets on the east side of the canal and on some streets on the west side.

Motorists, confused at the outset, were quickly won over by ease of travelling. Pedestrians had a tough time crossing streets at first push-button control lights were installed at three key intersections.

Mayor Artymow McCoy says the new system has increased the flow of traffic by 50 per cent. He said St. Catharines recently adopted a similar plan and Brantford officials plan to study it.

CAISSONS FREE MAN

MILAN, Ohio (AP) — Fellow workmen put together steel tubes Thursday to rescue 61-year-old Albert Myers from a cylinder of pulverized shale silt in a pottery plant here. Myers was buried up to his neck in the silt for 2½ hours before he could be freed. The steel tubes were forced down over his body, and finally pulled out with him in them.

French Arrest Embassy Worker For Espoinage

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Madame R. M. Offier, second secretary of the French embassy in Canberra, has been arrested at Noumea, New Caledonia, and will be tried in France on a charge of a grave breach of security, it was announced tonight.

The arrest followed evidence given by former Soviet spy official Vladimir Petrov and his wife at a secret meeting of the Australian espionage conference today.

The espionage commission is investigating documents and information they gave to the Australian security service.

It was announced the charge against Madame Offier was based on evidence given at a secret session of the royal commission July 19.

The Petrov evidence was sent to the French government who ordered her recall.

This is the first reported arrest as a result of evidence given by the Petrovs before the commission.

Chinese Likely To Release Two U.S. Journalists

TOKYO (AP)—The leader of a group of visiting British Labor party leaders indicated today that Communist China will release two U.S. newspapermen.

Morgan Phillips, secretary-general of the Labor party, said former prime minister Clement Attlee discussed the two men with Chinese leaders during the visit of the Britons to Red China.

Phillips told the correspondents—Richard Applegate and Don Kerr—he communicated with their families."The men had never before been allowed to send messages to their families.

Phillips said, "Mr. Attlee took up the matter on the two men and it is hoped the situation will be cleared up shortly."

The two correspondents were seized off Hong Kong in March 1953 while on a pleasure yacht cruise. Seized with them was another American, Rea Krassel. Phillips' statement made no mention of Krasnik.

Applegate, a former United Press war correspondent in Korea, was working for the National Broadcasting Company in Hong Kong. Dixon, an International News Service war correspondent in Korea, was in Hong Kong on vacation.

Dulles Arrives For Crucial Parley on Asia

MANILA (CP)—State Secretary Dulles of the United States arrived today for an eight-power Southeast Asia security conference which he called "one of the most important international conferences of our time."

Saturday U. S. and Philippines officials will meet, in advance of the, foreign ministers' conference opening Monday to discuss ways and means of strengthening the mutual defence pact linking the two countries.

Dulles is expected to dampen the enthusiasm of the Philippines and Thailand for a strong military alliance against communism.

The U. S. already has indicated it is not anxious to go along with their demands for a pact binding members to instant retaliation in the event of an attack against any of them.

Washington is reported to prefer an agreement under which members would react to an attack against another member within the framework of U.N. constitutional processes.

Experts working out details of the proposed pact now are reported to have agreed to set up an eight-country military council under the treaty. But delegates were reported to be difficulties at today's meeting over some parts of the proposed treaty, especially military commitments.

A conference source said the treaty will contain no firm definitions on economic aid, but will express the significant intention that members help Southeast Asian countries economically.

Magistrate Says 'Stop Sign' Was Not Legal One

TORONTO (CP)—A charge of failing to stop at a stop sign was dismissed Thursday by magistrate Lucien Cardin because the sign "is not legal."

Defence counsel John Lawer said the sign, in suburban North York township, was in a built-up area. He was the rural type and did not meet specifications of the Highway Traffic Act for signs in such areas.

Mrs. Mary E. Cole had been charged with failing to stop at the sign when her car was involved in an accident.

Mr. Lawer said a rural sign must be on a post two to four feet high; the post in built-up areas is six to eight feet. Mrs. Cole was involved in the case was 34 inches high.

THE GERMAN PROBLEM AGAIN

The British cabinet has decided to seek an eight-power conference to discuss arrangements for rearming Western Germany.

Countries which will be invited to send representatives besides Britain itself, are the United States and the six nations which signed the European Army treaty, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain will propose to the meeting that West Germany should be rearmed, with safeguards against any resurgence of national militarism. That, of course, was the object of the European Army treaty, but the French Assembly this week declined to ratify it. This decision is the reason for the British cabinet's move to seek an international conference. Britain will propose that West Germany should now be brought directly into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It is questionable whether Britain will be able to suggest any safeguards against a resurgence of German militarism which will satisfy the Germans and at the same time alleviate French fears. It was these fears which caused the French Assembly to vote to delay decision on the European Army treaty, thereby dealing it a death blow. Premier Mendes-France proposed that the terms of the treaty be revised to require unanimity, thus providing France with the power to veto any phase of the rearmament of Germany which the French might consider endangered their safety. The other signatories refused to accept such a revision.

There is fear, on this side of the Atlantic, to accuse the French of living in the past. The Frenchman would probably reply that he would be a fool if he did not learn after three hard lessons, after seeing German troops marching across France in 1870, in 1914 and again in 1940. For France today, there is still "the German problem" and it ranks as big in French minds as does the threat of Communism.

Many of the United States, of Britain and of the nations which have ratified the European Army treaty is that today's "German problem" consists of integrating the power of the German people into a Western European alliance against Communist aggression. Without Germany, it is held, there can be no adequate defensive arrangements.

It may occur to some that such a view is open to question. Does it make adequate allowances for the power of atomic weapons? Of what use would be a German army using conventional weapons against a Communist force equipped with the atomic bomb? If the Atomic arsenal of the United States cannot check the Reds, how could the Wehrmacht tip the scales?

The reply would probably be that in any future war Russia would not want to waste western Europe, but to use its facilities as a base for operations against the U.S. It would thus endeavor to conquer these nations with the use of conventional weapons. Any such attempt would be doomed to failure if the NATO countries would make this task immeasurably more difficult.

This reasoning causes deep uneasiness amongst many Germans. They argue that their former foes are seeking to rearm Germany merely to use them as cannon fodder. Therefore they either oppose such a move or, more commonly, demand what they consider safeguards by providing Germany with a certain freedom of action.

However, any provision which appears a safeguard to the Germans looks like a threat to the French. It is absurd to regard all French opposition to the European Army plan as evidence of sympathy with the Communists. True, some of the opponents are Communist sympathizers, but the vast majority have a very real and a very deep fear of the possibility of a revival of German militarism.

CHECKMATE IN THIRTY MINUTES

United States chess players are having financial difficulties. They lack the necessary funds to attend an international tournament.

Canadian chessmen are experiencing no such difficulty, it was natural that the editor of the New York Times should be moved to pen an editorial.

It was, of course, beautifully and well done.

However, it provoked letters to the editor. This correspondence included the statement that "contrary to general opinion chess can be learned by a person of average intelligence in less than thirty minutes."

The statement is true—as true as the fact that bridge can be learned in approximately the same time, that an eighth grade student can write a book, that tennis can be learned, even by a duffer, in an afternoon.

You doubt it? Well, here is an example. Take duck-hunting. All you have to do is to find a spot where ducks congregate, put out your decoys, climb into a properly constructed blind, wait for a flight and when a bird comes within range with a duck call, stand up, shoot and pick up your duck. Simple, is it not? Even an idiot could learn to hunt ducks in less than a minute.

The world is full of one-minute duck hunters, ten-minute tennis players and thirty-minute bridge and chess players.

If that were all, the situation might not be so bad. But there is also a fair sprinkling of eighth-grade authors, fortnight mechanics, four-week lawyers and two-month doctors.

That's what is wrong with the world, a statement which is a prime example of six-month philosophy.

GOLF WISDOM

"I remember Alex Ross,
Many years a golfing pro,
He was never at a loss
Words of wisdom to bestow.
His wonted say with twinkling eyes
To the sagacy and the dupe:
"It's in you the trouble lies;
You're the man who plays the game,
You're the one you; rival
Strokes
So don't ever put the blame
On the caddie or your clubs.

"There is not a golf club made
That can make a duffer swing
That, for every game he's played,
He's played a sin proving.
Only players can provide.
When a simple shot you dub,
Without no alibying wails.
Never blame it on your club
But on the man who fails."

"You're the one that makes the
And the pull that rims the cup.
Now, don't be so downhearted
Does the daddy-looking up.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BRINGING OUT THE BEST

Our relationship with others has more to do with our individual happiness than any of us realize. All of us have our good and not-so-good sides. We are fortunate in saying as friends those who bring out the very best in us. In the more intimate circle of the family this is still more important.

A nagging wife or a selfish, shiftless husband could not very well bring out the best in either one. Only, through consideration and understanding can we bring out the best in others, and others bring out the best in us. I have often wondered why it is that it is so much easier to find fault with a person than to explore his good points.

It's an't bring out the best in another person by continually talking about his faults and failings. None of us get enough praise and appreciation. You invite a person to dinner and he thinks a meal by being kind to it. Each one of us should receive this same kind of treatment. A child reacts to kindness quicker than to any other influence. The best does actually bobbles out!

We usually agree when we are talking out of both ends to another person, because that person seems suddenly to come to light, radiating his happiness as well as his appreciation. It surprises some of us to find how easy and apparent it is to bring out the best in others.

Potatoes Need a Bath

(Summerside, P.E.I. Journal)

Many of our island farmers still think of marketing potatoes as putting bags containing 75 to 90 pounds of the spuds and shipping them away.

It would appear that this is not good enough any more. With the development of self-service grocery stores the public wants all products packaged and ready to take away, a new era has dawned.

A New Brunswick conference had a large panel of speakers and it is interesting to note how many of them dwelt on the subject of packaging. Quality and appearance

Summer Chores

(New York Times)

Many husbands at this time of the year find themselves alone, their wives having left them temporarily—some of the relatively cool airs of the Catskills, Berkshires, Poconos or seaside. And yet not quite alone. For when those minds are everbusy deviating ways to improve home and family, trusting men who live therein —will not fail to do it for they leave behind a List of Things to Do while they are away. These lists are now reading on dining room tables, mantels or piano tops—as long or as short as they are long it is possible that the tasks listed thereon, to be done before the wife returns from her hot-weather retreat, are relatively simple—such as hanging some pictures or wiping off the venetian blinds (tedious, but not difficult). If those last are short it is best to beware, because it is probable they include some painting or plastering, or, in feminine handwriting, as "paint floor in spare bedroom."

Now, it is bad enough to be separated from one's wife, and to receive frequently from her lightly colored postcards which express a pitying people who obviously are cool and comfortable in the midst of scenes of quiet lakes in which undoubtedly ile fish of exciting dimensions are to be found, below to be charged with undertaking in addition to one's ordinary duties some time-consuming, confining and backbreaking task, in the season's hottest weeks, such as painting a floor. One may suggest that maybe may be very, very busy while the lady of the house is away and that it would be possible, to the more sensitive fellow to attend to this matter, but she will have none of hat. Anybody can paint a floor, she says, and maybe it will take only a couple of hours.

Wives, when they go away for a few weeks at the most, have a way of feeling that they have organized the household so neatly that he who is left behind will have no difficulty at all with tradesman, laundry, fuel and other domestic matters. The fact is that in a few days laundry, food and relations with tradesmen have become as her train starts to move.

Squirrels End Color Bar

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

As we understand the animal kingdom, black squirrels find great pleasure in don't hunting along too well—in fact we have always been led to believe that the two members of the same family are deadly enemies. Why such a feeling exists we have never been able to find out—and the explanation may be as obscure as why human beings, who must all look alike to the animal kingdom, continue to wage internecine warfare.

Additionally we have noticed a grey squirrel romping about our neighborhood, which is more than unusual. We have suspected but it wasn't until one day at noon recently that we observed the same grey squirrel emerge from an overlay large hole, which, followed a few minutes later by a black squirrel. Rather than blood enemies, they acted more like cats that had been brought up together in the same household, each chattering away and scratching at each other for a few minutes, the grey one scampered down the tree and the black one returned to the house.

As we sat wondering just why the black squirrel was not being driven off by the grey one, as well we heard further chattering from the vicinity of the big hollow maple tree in the back garden with the naked eye, there seemed to be an evening family of baby squirrels whooping it up inside. We were unable to note if they were black, grey or a combination of both color schemes—but judging by the apparent friendliness existing between the two larger animals we wouldn't be at all surprised if they had set up housekeeping in this former bird domain.

While members of the animal kingdom must have their reasons for not getting along at certain times, apparently the "color bar" and the "mixed marriage" have nothing to do with it, judging by the happy little time these two black-and-white enemies seemed to be enjoying.

"People will eat more potatoes if they are put on the market properly, correctly displayed in clean, eye-catching, attractive packages.

Most of the speakers stressed the housewife's wish to find after fifteen pound packages and, as a result of the conference, farmers can begin some speakers pointed out that potatoes should be washed.

Last-Minute Participation By U.S. in Seaway Project Not Taken Kindly in Canada

—Pearson

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada Thursday night said many Canadians didn't think the action of the United States' last-minute participation in the St. Lawrence seaway project.

In a speech to a conference on Canada-U.S. relations at the University of Rochester, Mr. Pearson said:

"For more than 30 years we in Canada tried to persuade you to join us in this development so that it could be done on a basis of genuine partnership.

"For more than 20 years your Congress refused to accept the invitation extended to it by the Canadian government and by administrations in Washington represented by both your parties.

"Then, finally, after we had worked out in 1952 the inter-governmental arrangement which was essential for the development of power in the international section of the St. Lawrence, Canada agreed to one part of that arrangement, to construct the navigation works, which could, of course, be started only after the power arrangement had been made.

ACCEPTED EAGERLY

"At first we were hesitant about taking on this responsibility but we soon came to accept it willingly, even eagerly. It was a challenge to our national pride and our new national strength, which we knew we could meet, and which we desired to meet.

"Four-fifths of the navigation works would, in any event, be a Canadian responsibility. We would now be glad to take on the other fifth as well. We would have a Canadian seaway in the sense that all the canals and locks would be in Canadian territory; but it would be one which would be open to your shipping without prejudice or discrimination.

"Then, at the last moment, your Congress decided, by throwing the principles which had been embodied in the International Treaty (which, I must remind you, 1941) had been worked out between us on terms and specifically built, but by deciding unilaterally to build on the U.S. side of the St. Lawrence the two canals which would be required.

"To be perfectly frank, many Canadians didn't think too highly of this last-minute participation—either of its timing or its nature.

COULD HAVE GONE ON

"We could, of course, have gone ahead anyway with our own canals in the international section. They would then be in competition with yours from the first day of the seaway, to the great economic disadvantage of us both. Or, alternatively, we could have refused to proceed with the rest of the seaway in our territory, and thereby made your canals useless, or rather made it impossible for you to build them. We did not do either.

"What we did was to say, 'Well, now that you have decided, even at this late date, to carry out this construction on your own side of the St. Lawrence, we will co-operate by doing the rest of the work required. We will also build at once one of the canals on the Canadian side.

TWEED

Fair Board Anticipates Outstanding Show

TWEED—The officers and directors of Tweed Agricultural Society met in the council chambers on Saturday night with the president Ross Ketcheson, of Moira, in the chair.

Encouraging reports were received from the various committees in charge of horses, cattle and special features for this year's Fair.

It was felt be a firm indication of our view that when the time comes, as we are sure it will, that duplicate canals are required along the whole of the seaway, they will be built on the Canadian side of the international section along with those which would in any case have to be built on Canadian soil for the rest of the seaway. Hence, in this course, we will have, but without economic dislocation or international irritation, our Canadian seaway."

Secretary) John Eager reported that he had met with wonderful success in his recent canvass of Belleville, Tweed and district re advertising and donations for one of the largest prize lists in the history of Tweed Fair.

Fairs have all been appointed for the different departments, and changes have been made in the personnel on some of the committees by putting in younger men wherever possible.

A committee was appointed to arrange a special feature of dairy products which will be something new for Tweed Fair this year, also a commercial feature in horse and cheese.

PRESENTATION

After three years as president of Tweed Fair, Mr. Emerson Hodge has on his retirement, was presented with a long service diploma suitably signed by the officers and framed. The presentation was made by past president Dennis Fleming and president Ross Ketcheson.

Mr. Hodgins thanked the Board for its kindness and thoughtfulness and for the wonderful co-operation which he had received from every body during his term of office. He also assured the Board that he would continue his support of Tweed Fair to the best of his ability.

Everything looks promising this year for the Fair which falls on

Cattle Empire Parlayed From Borrowed $40

CYPRESS HILLS, Sask. (CP)—The triangular hills of southwestern Saskatchewan hold a big cattle empire, parlayed from the remnants of a borrowed $40 by a lanky Nova Scotian who arrived there before the province had a name.

Rube Gilchrist, in 1909 left the eastern seaboard and today his ranch, only a part of the once huge Gilchrist holdings, still rates as one of the biggest enterprises of its kind in the province. His ranch here sprawls over 30,000 acres of hill and valley described as "the finest cattle country in the world."

Rube, son of a Hiramites schooner captain, borrowed $40 and on the advice of a friend departed Halifax county for the west.

His first job was on a farm in the Wapella district of southeastern Saskatchewan.

DOWN TO A DIME

Two years later he arrived in the little community of Maple Creek with 37 cents. The fortune dwindled to a dime, bit by 1904 he had enough capital to begin ranching at Battle Creek near old Fort Walsh. His three brothers, Jos. Sandy and Chester, joined him six years later and the foundations for a great family enterprise were laid.

In the years which followed thousands of cattle bearing the famous brand Bar-X-Bar, thousands of sheep and hundreds of horses grazed on the brothers' ranches at Battle Creek and Cypress Hills and at Milk River and Pincher Creek in Alberta.

Five years ago the Gilchrist holdings were sold and the brothers retired. Chester and Sandy now live in Calgary, Rube and Jos couldn't stay away from the rolling hills and later bought the Milk River and Cypress Hills ranches.

Rube was stricken 30 years ago by paralysis. Although physicians told him it would prove fatal, he didn't die. Last year he rode a horse.

His 26-year-old son, Bill, works as ranch boss now.

CNE Breaking Attendance Marks

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition, the world's biggest annual fair, is getting even more attention than usual this year. The exhibition has been on for six days—four of them have seen record day crowds; and one of them had the biggest attendance in the show's history.

If the weather holds out attendance might hit the 2,500,000 mark by the time the CNE ends Sept. 11. That would top the present 14-day record of 2,172,000, set in 1950.

A total of 218,500 persons toured the grounds Thursday—Women's, Floral, Music and Arts Day. That brought the total attendance for the first six days to 1,219,000, compared with 1,037,500 last year.

It was also a record crowd for a first Thursday—the previous all-time high was 197,000 in 1952.

CRANES INCREASE

OTTAWA (CP) — A seventh whooping crane may have joined six of the rare birds known to have nested this summer in Canada's northwest. The Canadian wildlife service said Thursday what appears to be a young crane has been seen during the latest observation of the group.

RESERVES DOWN

LONDON (AP) — The sterling area's gold and dollar reserves fell $65,500,000 during August to a total of $2,812,000,000, the treasury announced Thursday. Britain repaid $113,000,000 to the International Monetary Fund during the month against dollar advances made in 1947 and 1952.

St. Joseph's C.W.L. Plans Coming Events

The regular monthly meeting of St. Joseph's C.W.L. was held Monday evening in the school hall. The various reports were given by the executive and also itemized reports on the successful lawn social held in the church parish tea held at the rectory in July. Euchres will be held every second week, beginning in the near future. A marathon bridge is to be organized, those interested to get in touch with Mrs. T. Kelly or Mrs. J. Lawn.

Conveners for the euchres will be, Mrs. P. Mercier and Mrs. J. E. Poirier, assisted by Mrs. Bankey, Mrs. J. H. Anton, Mrs. V. Muldoon, and Mrs. Fanning.

After the business meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served by Mrs. T. Kelly and her committee.

Pastor, Wife Honored With Parting Gifts

HALLOWAY. — The congregation of Halloway United Church met recently in the church parlor for a pot luck supper and to honor the Rev and Mrs. R. Gifford who have accepted a call to Carleton Place United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin have spent the past three years on the Foxboro circuit, and it was with much regret the parishioners said goodbye, as they have made many friends in their splendid work.

After the supper, Mr. Earl Schiller called the gathering to order, and Mrs. Ed. Emerson read an address, after which they were presented with a gift from the congregation, and on behalf of the W.A., Mrs. Percy Hough presented Mrs. Griffin with a lovely dish. Both expressed their thanks. All wished them much happiness in their new charge.

DEATH TOLL RISES

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP)—Death toll of the 23-38 crash near here last Friday night rose to 26 Thursday with the death of airman John W. Harvey, 23, a radar operator from Indianapolis.

Bashful Male Models Tramp Fashion Ramp

TORONTO (CP)—Women are always dragging men up the aisles.

This year at the Canadian National exhibition after slightly bashful male models are tramping the fashion ramp right up there with the girls.

In a little fashion show soon called "I Wanna Get Married," produced daily, samples of men's and women's trousseaux are parraded. The men are featured in such things as pink slacks, gray jacket casuals, striped pants and cutaways.

The male pink-and-grey combination was startling. Women in the audience Thursday were in long low whistle to model Ian Sampson when he came on stage in Rosemary.

Trend this year leans to long fashions and medium-drape trousers, fashion commentator Desiree Dixon explained with a straight face.

The men's hats, which they wore with practically every outfit, are getting smaller this season. Built with small brims and narrow bands, they give the male that "successful young executive look." Most have ribbons that matching the color of ties and socks.

Jackets are slightly tailored, eliminating the loose lounge line so popular last year. They are trimmed fit and breasted. The open notched lapel is a must.

BROTHERS RESCUED

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Two brothers were rescued from their sinking motorboat in heavy Lake Ontario waters by a United States freighter Thursday night. They had drifted for five hours. Wilfred Anderson, 25, and Robert, 14, both of Merrittton, were taken aboard the SS Michigan and returned to Port Weller.

Red Cross Presents Awards For Swimming

CAMPBELLFORD. — On Monday night at the parish hall, the Campbellford-Seymour branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society presented their awards for proficiency in swimming and water safety to the following children: Beginners—Anne McMaster, Marie Garneau, Terry O'Sullivan, Ken Pickett, Sheila Burleigh, B. G. Burleigh, Eileen McKelvie, Doris Robbins, Jane Rutherford, Carol Hamlin, Anne Dempsey, Eddie Russell, Lois Heard, Barbara Wilson, Joan Wilson, Barbara Reid, Neil Burgess, Vernon Dunk, Moira Macmillan, Jill Macmillan, Heather Watson, Gary Terrence, Lenia Robertson, Laureen Taylor, Alistair Macmillan, Cindey Lee Hodgson, Jane Richardson and Joan McComb.

JUNIORS

Maureen O'Sullivan, Bill Pickering, Brian Bright, Sheila Macmillan, Karen Amos, Mary Williams, Nancy Tytham, David Dosher, Sandra Ness, Helen Archer, Simon Burgess, Carol Pinkney, Bobby Duck, Shirle Post, Virginia Garneau, John Vice, Tommy Harnum, Cassie Collings, Bill Ireland and Gary McComb.

Intermediates — Mary Wilson, Nancy Tytham, Sandra Ness and Maureen O'Sullivan.

The children, who passed their intermediate test, are to be congratulated as it is rare to pass two of the tests in one season, their success was due, not only to their own enthusiasm, but also to Mr. Allen Taylor's careful coaching. Mr. Taylor proved to be an outstanding swimming instructor, and both the Rotary Club and the Red Cross extended their thanks to him for making the season a success.

FILMS KNOWN

Judy McAdie of the Red Cross headquarters, showed two films on swimming and diving, after which Mr. McComb, president of the Rotary Club, presented the children with their awards.

Mary Wilson, accompanied Mr. Taylor with a gift from the Intermediate Class.

Many parents were also present, and refreshments were served, to conclude a successful evening.

The hope was expressed that all the children would continue their swimming lessons next year, and that many more will join them, as it is important to their own safety to learn how to swim and how to avoid the hazardous hazards with water sports.

KEEN IN INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives committee on un-American activities reported Thursday the Communist party is sending college-trained men and women "colonizers" have been sent into Michigan to work in auto plants.

Fashion Flashes

From now on a handsome dress of dark cotton will prove a boon. One such is in ash gray cotton with a diagonal line of otherwise, in front a tiny self belt, held by two buttons. Besides the princess line, black velvet edging on collar and cuffs, and a white pique under collar.

ALMOST PRETTY enough to be worn outside clothes are many of the new foundation garments. Black nylon lace, over pale blue or pale pink material, is the fabric story of one new girdle, which zips in back. With it is a matching bra which has detachable wide-spaced straps.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHAM

TWO TIPS TO THE DEPARTING GUEST

1. You should save the room you have occupied "clean and tidy," as near as possible to the neat and fruitful-made-up condition in which it presented you when you arrived. "Tidiness" is not a pleasant classification of a guest. Remember that you are a responsible young busy-bustler, must clean and tidy and fluff up after the cigarette ashes you should have disposed of (must pick up any items and go forth you discard, must take the extra steps, the extra care you should have taken. Your hasty manners are a surprise, your decency-manners are high-lighted when you are a guest. Inevitably a thoughtful, considerate guest.

2. When you leave, please take all your belongings with you. It's a shocked shock for a hostess to have to "pick up" and send on to a careless guest in item or items left behind.

SILVER WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Beecham:

My mother and father are to celebrate their Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary. They have only one million friends, and we would like so much to have them with all (11) of their children at an Open House or a family gathering. (2) Should my receiving line? (3) Any other suggestions, please? — E.D.S.

(1) Either is correct. The choice depends on your and their preference, and the convenience. If the Anniversarsitis is during the week, quite often the party is given on the Saturday or Sunday following the actual date: the family invited to a dinner preceding the "open" and if the afternoon an "Open House" to which relatives and friends are invited.

(2) You, the hostess, may stand first, to greet and welcome the guests: "Let me your mother and next to her your father. Your husband, Jim, and Mrs. Jim, you probably he would prefer to mingle with their friends making introductions and doing other "host duties."

(3) Remember to have as handsome an Anniversary Cake as you can afford. Decide on the "bride" or "groom" figure for the first slice and share it. Add a cold beverage for the toasts to the couple. And someone asks beforehand to make the first, an appropriate toast. "To the Bride and Groom, and to their Happiness and Welfare and Well-being always!"

NOT TOO LATE TO GIVE A SHOWER

Dear Mrs. Beecham:

A very dear friend of mine was making her plans to have a church wedding and a reception after-ward, when suddenly her plans had to be changed. The bride-to-be's fiancé, who was stationed quite a distance from here, were planning to be married at the post where her fiancé was stationed.

Now she has written me that she is coming home soon to visit her parents and her husband will go only where she cannot be with him for the time being. While she was making her wedding plans I had planned to give a large showe for her a personal shower, as all my many friends of here. Would it be proper for me to have this shower for her while she is here which will be about two months after her marriage? Ellen M.

Yes, it will be proper for you to give the shower now...and a very generous and thoughtful gesture it would be.

Mother's Helper

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, Baby Care Book

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

THE "GRAVEN IMAGE"

Today we are going to take apart the "touch-me-not" woman with the face of a Greek image and try to find out what makes her that way. You can't imagine anyone putting an arm around her, giving her a hug, telling her that she's sweet. Think what she misses!

You and I and the woman next door have all come in contact at some time or other with an unpleasant woman of stern, cold temperament. Her character shows in her face which is always hard and set. She feels "dignity" and looks it; always has a chip on her shoulder. She sets her teeth tight together in disapproval of the world and everybody in it.

She thrusts out her chin, gives you a steely glance...and you had better watch out. You can bet that she is the boss of the family, tells the other members what they can do, keeps the home atmosphere cool, correct, and free from gaiety. If the children run away from home who can blame them? And her husband—a poor cringing wraith of a man!

Hags the lives of such women so common as successful they are qualified to arrange the lives of other individuals? It is not likely. One takes a terrible responsibility when offering advice to a person. Who knows whether or not it is best for the person needing it?

The subject of today's story may have been lovely to look at in her younger days. But it is doubtful if she was ever gracious and responsive. We say that certain characters are born that way, but they probably always had unpleasant qualities which developed character. Age should be mellowing, make one more forgiving, more understanding.

A woman who is wildlife, who adapts herself to the comforts and pleasure of others, is like a refreshing breeze. She knows that if she were to quarrel with her fellow creatures she would suffer a personal discomfort, stress. So she remains serene and beautiful at the same time!

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DON'T MAKE A BIG THING OUT OF A TRIFLE

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am about to enter high school, and for two years I have been trying to get rid of a certain boy. I did like him once, but not for a long time. He kept on liking me, though, and has made a lot of trouble for me. When I am nice to him, he thinks I like him again, and embarrasses me very much whenever I meet him. If I ignore him, or act unfriendly he spreads stories around about me, and a couple of times I have had an awful time defending myself against something he has said.

For about six months last year, when I was going steady with another boy, he left me alone, but as soon as that boy and I broke up, he started bothering me again. I don't want to go steady, but to avoid him, and be at my wits end, so I would appreciate any help you can give me. — May Dear May:

Aren't you perhaps making too big a thing of this, and letting this asstute mess importance than it deserves?

Where you have made your mistake, I think, is in switching back and forth, accordingly as he nice to this boy and other times either ignoring him or being downright unfriendly. It seems to me that if you were to adopt a consistent attitude of being pleasant, but distant, with him, simply saying hello when you meet him and passing right by, before long you'd have no more trouble with him.

If he makes up stories about you, ignore them. You've probably been making a fuss about them, perhaps even talking to him personally about it, which has given him a lot of importance to act as. If you had never heard any stories would defeat his purpose and he'd soon drop.

A FAN CLUB FOR A SINGING FRIEND

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I want to start a fan club for a good friend of mine who is just putting out his recordings. He is a very fine vocalist and shows great promise so I'd like to help him in this way.

How do I go about it? — Marie

Dear Marie:

Why don't you begin by getting a group of boys and girls together in the neighborhood to buy his recordings and write this young man letters about how much you all liked them? Then one in the group might undertake to get three other people to write such letters and each of these three to get three more to do this. In this way the recordings would be sold and you would grow to large proportions.

You might also make it your business to see what you could do about getting his recordings on your local radio stations, and ask as many people as possible to listen for them and write letters to the station praising this fellow's singing after they have heard him. You might even have your group try to put on a concert at which he would sing.

These are a few suggestions to start on. If you bring them, I'm sure a lot more will occur to you as you go along.

Tweed

TWEED—Mrs. Lois Chambers, of Tweed, underwent a successful operation in Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Harold Long, of Tweed, is a patient in General Hospital, Belleville.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bradley, Tweed, over the week-end were: Mrs. Bixby's mother, Mrs. Sam Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Davis, London and daughter, Elsie; and son, Cedric; also Mrs. Bixby's two brothers, Eric and Arthur Davis and her sister, Jean Davis, all of North Bay.

Mrs. E. Heddman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Rollins, Mr. Rollins and the children, in Montreal for a few days this week.

Mr. Howard Smith and his sister, Mrs. Hubbel, returned home last week after an enjoyable visit in Ottawa.

Mrs. James Goldie, Betty Jane and Susan, of Peterborough, are spending a few days in Tweed, with Mrs. Goldie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reid.

Dr. W. G. Dales and Mrs. Dales visited in Toronto, for a few days this week.

Fashion Flashes

The bright gleam of satin will be very much in evidence again in the Fall. Typical of the new, smart use of silk satin is a handsome coat-dress in dull red satin, the fabric handled in trenchcoat style with a raised, rounded collar that curves into tapering revers. Self belt and self buttons on above big, flapped patch pockets.

Moving up to challenge the supremacy of the skirt and blouse ensemble, is the jumper and blouse. There are jumpers for the season ahead in wool jersey, wool worsted, satin, velvet and velveteen, including handsome affairs modish to be worn with very dressy blouses.

The little jacket has become standard item and is better than ever. It will be found in great variety for Autumn, for everything from around the house to theatre wear. Styles include short overcoats, three-quarter forms that just large swings. Fabrics range from angora to velvet and brocades.

The gentle touch brings new interest to reptile handbags. Much use is made of pretty frames and dark draping, as in one bag which has a big bow effect below a frame of lacquered black engraved and in silver on either side. A shade of gray is seen, including the deep slate shade which gives alligator a new interest and appearance.

Our old friend, wool jersey, will be back again soon, more suave in nice than ever, and with much use made of novelty weaves and print designs. Dimensional tweed jersey, in a jacquard pattern, makes a handsome coat-dress, cut princess sheath in gray, flecked with bright colors. White linen collar above the fabric collar, the two finished with a long end tie of corded gray satin.

Readers' Friday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Could you please send me some luncheon menu suggestions for a wedding reception for 60 people? The wedding is early in the morning and we plan on a simple cold-plate lunch at noon. I would appreciate a menu which could be prepared a day or two before as I plan on preparing most of it myself. Could you give me approximate amounts of cold meat, salads and buns for 60 people? Also, how best to time the toast of groom: which is best—a wine or punch? —Lillian H.

ANSWER:

When a so-called "breakfast" is served at noon after a morning wedding it is usually a hot meal. You say you plan a simple cold-plate lunch. For instance two menus for wedding "breakfasts" consist of: (1) Chilled Tomato and Lemon Juice; Baked Egg in Cheese Sauce with Ham Rolls; Buttered Toast or Tiny Orange Muffins; Fresh Peach Ice Cream; Meringues; Bride's Cake; Coffee. Wedding Cake; Punch. (2) Fruit Cup; Sweetbread and Bacon Grill; French Fried Potatoes; Parkerhouse Rolls; Fruit Ice Cream; Wedding Cake; Coffee. Punch.

Since you are planning on preparing this food yourself and hence would prefer it to be cold instead of hot, I would choose the first items like ham and eggs but dressing them up for such a special occasion! What I have in mind is Ham Mousse accompanied by Deviled Eggs and Whole Tomatoes stuffed with Cottage Cheese. Your could serve hot muffins or biscuits with this. Or you could serve baked whole hams and potato salad for Parkerhouse Rolls and coffee and add the punch and wedding cake.

Here is the Ham Mousse that will serve 25 follows:

HAM MOUSSE

Four tablespoons plain gelatin, 2 cups cold water, 2 cups chopped cold boiled or baked ham, 4 teaspoons French mustard, 1-4 teaspoon cayenne pepper, 3 cups heavy cream. Dissolve gelatin in cold water and stir over boiling water until dissolved. Force the ham through food chopper using finest blade—4 times so that it is smooth like a paste. Add gelatin to ham and add seasonings. Let this cool a little but not set. Whip cream until stiff and fold in. Pour into fancy mold or molds. Individual molds are lovely if you could find enough) and chill. This is usually served with Spicy-cress Sauce, which is genuine mayonnaise to which drained horseradish, dry mustard, salt and cayenne are added. It is thinned with a little hot cream.

If you decide to bake hams and slice them cold you will need only 22 lbs cooked ham with bone in, weighed before baking.

POTATO SALAD

(25 3-4 oz. servings)

Eight quarts cooked potatoes (about 40 cups small-packed), 3 tablespoons salt, 2 tablespoons pepper, 2 cups each finely chopped chives or green onions, inner celery, 1 cup chopped pimento, 1 1-3 cups chopped green pepper, 3 cups chopped parsley, 2 doz hard-cooked eggs, quartered, 3 cups mayonnaise. This should be chilled after mixing.

Allow 3 medium-size buns each. Punch is more popular than wine for the toasts.

QUESTION:

Would you be kind enough to let me know if your menus are available in book or pamphlet form. I find them most helpful and I clip many of them from the newspaper but it would be more convenient to have them altogether. May I take this opportunity to again say how very much I enjoy your column.—Mildred S.

ANSWER:

Sorry to have to confess I have not made a cookbook or any pamphlet with my recipes or menus in them. As always, dear Old Time doesn't permit. Thank you for your kindness.

From Salmon in B.C. to Tuna Off East Coast Anglers Across Canada Report Biggest Year

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

From salmon in British Columbia to tuna off the east coast, anglers across Canada report a big year.

Although no record breakers have been caught, sounds have been hooked to keep anglers' hopes — and their claims — high.

Fishing at Rivers Inlet, 200 miles up the British Columbia coast, where a record-equalling 32-pound tyee salmon was taken three years ago, produced more large salmon this year than ever. Fishing was so good, authorities closed the season Aug. 23 after 800 tyee, averaging 45 pounds each, were caught.

CATCH 72-POUNDER

The largest was a 72-pounder caught by Bill Drake of Vancouver. A woman angler, fishing on Vancouver Island, hooked and landed a 50½ pound tyee.

Angling for steelhead trout, considered by many the gamest fish, pound for pound, is the big thrill where, will one reach its peak. The steelheads strike well on flies and streamers.

An eight-pounder is considered a good-sized steelhead, but a 20-pounder, eight-inch catch, the world's record for fishing tackle, was landed on the Nimpkish river, 430 miles north of Vancouver, and centre of B.C.'s steelhead territory.

In the cold Rocky mountain-lakes Rainbow, Kamloops and speckled trout lured many fishermen. In all, about 100,000 anglers take advantage of B.C.'s lake and brook-trout fishing.

WELL-STOCKED LAKES

The most prolific waters in Alberta are four well-stocked lakes near Edmonton. Chickie, Hasse, Whitewood and Cottage lake are steady producers.

Alberta's game fish include trout, pike, perch, salmon trout, the sweet-eating goldeye and the large-finned grayling.

Mrs. Edna Knutson of Jasper waited until the last hour of the rainbow trout season to land a 5¼ pounder, biggest of the season. She caught it in the Amethyst lakes in the national park.

No compilation is available on the number of licences issued this year, but in 1953 about 34,000 temporary and seasonal fishing permits were sold.

FINE LAKE TROUT

Saskatchewan's Lac La Ronge, 375 miles north of Prince Albert, has given up a 36-pound lake trout to a United States tourist, the largest this year. It is five pounds short of the record lake trout taken this same lake last year by A. J. Waddell of Bios, Idaho.

A Manitoba civil servant, Douglas Gibbson caught a whopping 18½ pound pickerel in George lake. It measured 34¼ inches.

The province offers the 7,800 licensed fishermen northern pike, pickerel, large and small mouth bass, rainbow, brook and lake trout.

Manitoba's story of the year, however, concerns a Chicago couple fishing for pickerel in Shoal lake, southeast Manitoba. As one was being reeled in, a muskie struck and missed. When the pickerel was being netted, the muskie struck again, this time landing in the net. It now is mounted.

TORQUIL RENCOMBRE

Muskallunge, speckled, rainbow, lake and kamloops trout, large and small mouth bass, the pickerel, northern pike head the list of Ontario game fish. The latest additions to the ranks of fighting fish in the province is the ouananiche (pronounced wan-an-ish), a leaping rough-and-tumble land locked salmon.

Constant stocking, or, as in the case of the ouananiche and kamloops, annual planting, by the provincial game and fishing officials has assured a good supply throughout most of southern Ontario. But when a hardy angler wants to land a record breaker he heads for splendid isolation in one of the province's thousands of northland lakes.

Once there the angler finds 20-pound northern pike are nuisances, and two or three-pound speckled are normal.

Only non-residents require licences to fish Ontario waters, and 308,500 outdoors registered in 1953. Even more are expected this year. Altogether, about 1,250,000 persons fish annually in Ontario.

SLIGHT INCREASE

Quebec reports a slight increase in the total number of resident and non-resident licences sold this year over last, when 190,000 permits were issued.

There have been no outstanding catches reported, and officials attribute part of it to a cool, wet summer. They say it is still too early to know which waters are best.

Trout fishermen are limited by law to the use of artificial flies, except when going after lake trout, when gillnets are permitted.

In the Maritimes, attention swings to the ocean. The famous International tuna tournament is scheduled for Sept. 8, 9 and 10. Golden crowding warm waters of Wedgeport report "acres of fish."

The catch of Atlantic-run salmon in Nova Scotia is well below that of last year, chiefly because of the long dry spell which has kept fish from running up such famous streams as the St. Mary's, Medway and Margaree. The salmon have been averaging 10 to 12 pounds in weight. More than 5,100 were caught last year by mid-August; only 3,725 have been landed for the same period this year.

STRIPERS RUN WELL

Striped bass have been running well in the Avon, Annapolis, Bear, Bass and Shubenacadie rivers. Stripers up to 25 pounds have been taken at the rate of 100 or more a day.

World sportsmen maintain fishing camps on New Brunswick's famous salmon streams — the Restigouche, Upsalquitch, Napisiguit and Miramichi. This summer, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, U.S. army chief of staff, was a guest at the camp of his special assistant, Brig. Gen. A. J. D. Biddle.

No figures are available yet on the number of licences issued this year. In 1953, more than 5,000 non-resident and 3,875 resident licences were issued for: salmon fishing, both are increase on 1952 figures. Prince Edward Island is experiencing another good, if not exceptional, fishing year. Trout are plentiful, with individual catches running three to six pounds. Last year, about 7,000 resident and non-

Sunday School Lesson:

Workmanship and Religion

BY ROY L. SMITH

If our religion does not improve the quality of our work and workmanship, then it is not good religion. There is a vast difference between the thinking we do with our minds and the work we do with our hands. It is important to "remember that up to the time Jesus received His baptism at the hands of John, and heard the voice from heaven saying, "This is My beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased" (Matt. 3:17), He had never been anything but a carpenter. The highest praise the Eternal could bestow was conferred upon a working man.

HEREST OF IDLENESS

Not long after Paul's departure fro mThessalonica, the half-instructed and half-informed Christians began to get into trouble because they had not thought their way through, and because they had no more than a fragmentary concept of the teaching of Jesus. Some of them got the idea that they were not supposed to work because they had reached an exalted spiritual state which emancipated them from the necessity of toiling for their daily bread.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for September 5: "Growth Through Useful Work," Colossians 3:23-24; I Thessalonians 4:10b-11; II Thessalonians 3:6-13.

When the word got through to the great Apostle, he felt it necessary to write to them very strictly, saying that if a man would not work he should not eat. In that sentence he gave to us one of the fundamental principles of the Christian faith. There is a heresy about idleness which is even more serious than any mistake concerning Christian theology.

SHOULD BE PROFITABLE

In saying that all work should be profitable it is not meant that work should be profitable to the worker, though that is undoubtedly true. But there is labor which is not profitable to the community and to society.

The thief probably secures himself that he is a hard worker, and certainly it is true that some forms of thievery are much more exciting than simple toil. But the effect we invest in an enterprise may not be an index of its usefulness. Unless effort and labor result in a gain to society, as well as the individual worker, then it cannot be called profitable.

There are those industries which are parasitic, and there are those laborers whose labors subtract from the sum total of the community's resources.

CHRISTIAN TEST

From the earliest Biblical service to Calu that he is his brother's keeper, down to the last verse in the New Testament book of Revelation, the Bible is constantly on the side of that labor which improves the character of the worker, and the quality of his work.

Using a man can respect his work — "work heartily," the Apostle Paul says — he will find no satisfaction in life, no matter how much he may pay for entertainment.

Unfortunately, the most reprehensible idleness is not always

Japanese Having Tough Time, Probably Too Much Expected

Editor's Note: After six months in Russia, Canadian Press reporter Bill Boss last spring went to Asia to leave and as a private individual. He returned to Canada after several months in countries with opinion of Communism. Satellites three years as CP correspondent with Canadian forces in Korea.

In the following series of articles he summing up his view of difficulties faced by the people of Japan as he found by first hand in his effort to halt the tide of communism. These stories are presented by CP as Boss's personal impressions. Today's, third in the series, deals with Japan.

BY BILL BOSS

It's beginning to look as though too much has been expected of Japan.

Crippled by population and trade problems, hamstrung politically by the Communists - elimination of centrist elements, and now obliged to rearm despite constitutional provision banning just that and popular feeling against it, the Japanese are having a tough time.

The Yoshida government appears able to weather scandal and corruption charges somewhat as in France, the other parties cannot find sufficient common grounds to unite and throw it out.

ON DOWNWARD PATH

The prospect that Japan appears headed down the road to economic and political bankruptcy, and in Asia finds itself in the role of pauperists.

Her population problem is tremendous. With 82,000,000 inhabitants, the four main islands now hold 30,000,000 more than they did in 1940. Tokyo alone, a city of 7,000,000, adds another million to the total of Vancouver.

There just isn't enough work for everybody. Japan lost all of her colonies in the war, has lost most of her foreign trade markets (Germans) because of their hatred or their inability to pay, and is prevented by the United States from trading with her natural business partner, the Chinese mainland.

Britain and the United States resist opening up their own domestic markets (in fact, or giving her more room in their Pacific markets. United Nations spending during the Korean war raised her export part the family, but that has dried up and she is being denied the chance to play that part she could as a supplier in Korea's reconstruction.

SECRET REVENUES

U.S. aid has been insignificant. While increased aid now is under consideration in Washington, this would still be considered only a stop-gap by the Japanese. They want quite policy revisions enabling them to do real business, earn their own way and achieve some addition thereby to their own problems.

Realistically, observers say there are only two answers to Japan's problems:

(1) Wider emigration possibilities to North and South America for Japanese.

(2) Vastly - increased trade, coupled with greater access both to the large U.S. market and the use of Japan's technical assistance in programs to raise living standards in Asia.

Washington recently was surprised, when Japanese government people spoke out more independently and the administration is now reserveying its foreign policy and trade positions. Formosa, too, is getting more aid this year. $50,000,000 business annually with China's regime still has to take the risk of losing that into her calculations.)

RED ACTIVITY DANGER

Over-population and trade deficits continue to depress the labor market, undermines trade union organization and makes the party ripe to Communist activity. This has been negligible until now because of the government's pussy - footing about feudal labor practices has provoked reactions that could further Oki.

For two months this summer employees of five large factories operated by the Omi spinning mills struck against old-fashioned conditions which saw them obliged to pray twice daily, live in dormitories without access to neighbors or communities, and keep all incoming and outgoing mail censored. Without funds, the employees finally got some of the facets of their demands unmet.

Rebirth of the army under the name of national security force is not popular. Experience during the war culminating in the A-bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the near-panic aroused by radiation effects in the latest H-tests have made the Japanese probably the most anti-war people on earth.

MIDDLE PARTIES OUSTED

Nonetheless 1945 is too recent for them to regain the trust of their former enemies, or look before storing Japan's sovereignty crushed her middle parties, leaving only the extreme right and the leftists.

Confounded by their politicians and bewildered by would-be allies who want them to arm but will not help them to live, the Japanese are too well mannered yet to parade their impotence.

Old Japan hands say they hope the new democratic practices will be combined soon enough with better living standards to give them a chance to survive. Otherwise Japan too, will fritter away to the left.

Milk Producers Against Daylight Saving Time

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Milk Producers Association Thursday urged the provincial government "no other responsible bodies" to take steps to get one more hour of daylight for dairy-farmers.

Delegates at a semi-annual meeting passed a resolution saying "the present system of so-called daylight saving time" robs the farmer of the best hour of the day for haying and harvesting and replaces it with one when crops are covered with morning dew and cannot be harvested.

Ontario's Agriculture Minister Fletcher Thomas told the milk producers that the Milk Industry Act, soon to become law, will give more control to the dairy producer. Ontario's new main dairy groups would then operate together under one all-inclusive law rather than separately.

Donald Goodwillie of the federal department of agriculture said concentrated dairy products are not doing well on the foreign market because export markets for such products have been greatly reduced.

Rossmore

ROSSMORE — Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Westfall, Joan and Ricky, who have been visiting in Rossmore and Trenton for the last month, left Monday to return to their home in Calgary, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerr, who have recently been in France, are visiting her mother and brother and his family of Rossmore for the summer. They have taken up residence in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clapp and Dawn have returned to their home in Toronto accompanied by Mrs. D. Clapp and Patsy with whom they have been visiting for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wyman and family have moved from the community to their new home near Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Belnap attended their granddaughter's wedding in Trenton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Dickinson from Hamilton, Bermuda, who have been holidaying in Belleville, spent Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Empey.

Mr. J. Empey is in Winnipeg on business for a short time.

DEED AWAITING COURT

MONTREAL (CP)—An autopsy has been ordered into the death Thursday of Noel Rouzel, 34, who died in the prisoner's cell at the city police headquarters minutes before he was to appear on a wife-beating charge.

Eisenhower Will Veto Trout Bill

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower announced from his Rocky mountain trout fishing camp Thursday that he is vetoing the so-called Chamberlain Trout Bill. It would have required labelling of foreign-caught trout.

Eisenhower announced he was killing the bill because in his opinion it would be "discriminatory and operate against foreign trade, and to a very substantial extent . . . would invade a field of regulation and enforcement which I believe should be left to the states and localities."

The bill would have made it unlawful for any restaurant to possess, in a form ready for serving, any foreign-grown trout unless the eating place prominently displayed a notice foreign-caught trout was being served.

Novelist Not Happy

DORVAL, Que. (CP) — British novelist Graham Greene stopped briefly at Montreal airport early today for a flight from Havana to London via Amsterdam after a tiff with American immigration authorities.

Greene, after a 10-day holiday in Haiti, was released admittance to Puerto Rica Monday because he lacked a United States visa. It was his third brush with U.S. authorities since he said in a 1952 visa application that he had been a Communist party member for four weeks in 1935.

In an interview before his plane departed for Amsterdam after refuelling, Greene said "the United States is reaching an imitation of our enemies" through the McCarran-Walter Act which bars former Communists from entry into the U.S. or its territories.

Three Musk-Ox Calves Settle Down on Farm

HUNTINGTON CENTRE, Vt. (AP)—Three musk-ox calves from the Canadian North settled down today on the Canal's Hump mountain farm of Dr. John Teal, after 3,000-mile air journey.

Dr. Teal, a Harvard graduate, hopes to acclimate the four-month-old shaggy calves to Vermont's Green mountain farms.

Teal headed an expedition to Ellesmere island, a few hundred miles from the North Pole to capture the animals for the Vermont Research Foundation.

The three-foot-tall calves, a male and two females, touched down at Burlington airport Thursday and were trucked to Teal's 540-acre farm.

SMUGGLED CARS

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Three Port Colborne men were convicted Thursday of smuggling cars into Canada from the United States and selling them. Armand Robitaille, 30, his brother, Rene Robitaille, 26, and Lionel Cote, 32, will appear Tuesday for sentence.

GREY COUNTY GRANT

TORONTO (CP)—Welfare Minister Goodfellow announced Thursday that the provincial government has approved a grant of $14,000 to Grey county, the balance of the province's 37 per cent share of the cost of an addition to the Grey county Home for the Aged.

Some of nature's most complicated structures occur in the smallest forms of life. This astonishing sea creature (the Radiolarian), for example, can be seen only under a high-powered microscope.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

Peterborough Petes forfeited the first game of a best-of-seven provincial quarter final OBA playoff series last night when they failed to put in an appearance at Exhibition Park. Only two Peterborough players were in the park at game time and left at 8.45 that went rounded Belleville. That the Petes were not coming. That was all that was said. Just, "The Petes can't make it." No explanations. Nothing.

This classic manoeuvre can be described properly only in words that the great family journal refuses to print. The Petes have known for a week that the game was scheduled. Bates invited Gordie Howe, Detroit Red Wing hockey star, vacationing at Rosemere, to test in the first ball last night. Gordie not only appeared dressed for action but broke into the ball game and the Bates including a turn in the batting cage. More than 400 paid admissions were given rain checks or refunds.

If the Petes are not able or not interested in maintaining game interest in this district that is their business and they should get out. But it would be better for Belleville and for rest of the teams involved with them if they packed up without trying to kill the sport for everyone else. It only takes one such incident as last night's unexplained failure to appear to kill fan interest deader than a dodo.

If Peterborough is interested at all in continuing the series Bates should insist on their appearance here before agreeing to go to Peterborough for a game. As things are now, Petes have broken faith with Bates and Belleville fans and they should be asked to put themselves out to restore it.

One of the possible reasons for their failure to appear might have been the inter-city softball playoff between the Breaking and ITT Transporters. It seems some of the Petes are invaluable softball stars and preferred to play home.

The Terrible Togos sometimes referred to as "The Ocsey Orientals", are masters of the judo chop, a wrestling stratagem designed to decapitate opponent whose heads are not firmly fastened. Objects of their attention in the ring at Memorial Arena this evening will be Ray Villmer and Paul Baillargeon, the bully boys who routed Mighty Umme and Pat Fraley in two falls in last week's tag team wrestling feature.

• • •

The Togos, current holders of the Canadian Open tag team wrestling title and the George Hackenschmidt Memorial wrestling title and their handlers are the line tonight. Baillargeon, the strongman who hails from Quebec, and one of the country's outstanding wrestlers, feels it is high time a Canadian had a share of the title. He says that Villmer, also built at the correct end, the battle is for ever tonight. Ray Villmer, who hails from Dayton, feels that if two Togos from Tokyo can hold the Canadian wrestling tag team crown, then a fresh at a boy from Dayton should have no trouble putting in a claim.

• • •

The Togos, who train by pounding planks on each other's heads, had nothing to say about this. They just kept on turning planks into match sticks.

Tex McKenzie and Pat Fraley clash in the main prelim and Jan Gotch meets Pat Flanagan in the opener.

AL AROUND THE CIRCUIT

Al Dekdebrun, the perambulating pigskin personality who has just completed the grand tour of Big Four teams by signing an Ottawa Rough Rider contract, is being touted in Montreal as the "man with a million plays" who will sentte the Alouettes in their week-end series with the Roughies.

Al started in Canada with Hamilton Tigers, led Argos to a Grey Cup . . . before moving to Nobby Wirkowski at quarter, and last season performed defensively for the Larks. It is alleged that Dekdebrun, who worked out all summer with Als will scuttle them by revealing their plays to Ottawa.

• • •

Peahead Walker, Alouette coach, is reported to have snorted twice or thrice on hearing of pal Al as a spy. Said Peahead: "Ah reckon it's a bundle of corn squeezing mash. Dekdebrun is a smart boy but unless football players have changed since ah was a pore boy in Alabama, Ottawa will have enough trouble remembering its own plays without worrying about ours. Heh's fire, you-all know Clem Crowe can have the loan of pictures of our games if he wants 'em. Or get them somewhere else. Ah'll even send him a set of signals."

Anyone still in doubt about the Big Four winner in '54?

A NIFTY SITE

One of the smartest suggestions forthcoming in years about improving athletic facilities in the city was dropped Wednesday by Harold Spicer, chairman of the sites and accommodations committee of the Bay of Quinte High School Board concerning the location of a running track at the new Quinte Secondary School. It was his idea that the track be located on the west edge of the present playground at the foot of the hill-foot slope on which the school is built. A gentle grading of this slope would turn it into a natural amphitheatre that could seat thousands of spectators. Proper drainage of the field below would provide excellent conditioning for the school's projected quarter mile running track and a possible football field on the track's infield.

Indians Drop Tough One To Lose Series to Yankees; Meyer Holds Jinx Over Cubs

By RED FELDMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers are learning the hard way what a game it is to win a pennant just by much, ward the pennant as one in the September stretch drive.

The Dodgers open a three-game set with the first place New York Giants at the Polo Grounds, but even if they win these three they'll still be two percentage points short of the lead.

The Cleveland Indians probably would like to stage a pair of early opening weeks looses, too. The Indians, leading the New York Yankees by 5½ lengths, open a three-game series in Chicago tonight. Chicago holds a 2½ edge so far.

SOX PART VITAL

The White Sox maintain only a theoretical mathematical interest in the pennant race—they've 9½ behind with only 24 to play—but they will play an important part in determining the eventual winner. Six of the 24 are with the Indians and two are with the Yankees.

Only four games were played in the major leagues Tuesday, two of them figured prominently in the flag chase. Chicago defeated Cleveland 5-2, cutting a full game off the Indians' margin. Brooklyn bombed Cincinnati 10-1, to remain within 3 games of the idle Giants.

The Dodgers collected only three hits off Whitey Ford—homers by Stan Musial and Gerry Staley and a single by Bobby Avila. The loss broke an 11-game winning streak for 20-game Donner Bob Lemon.

At Chicago Russ Meyer of the Dodgers came out his glove and the Cubs, as usual, tossed in the towel. Meyer, who tolled for the Cubs from 1946 through 1948, has beaten his old club 13 times since then and 10 of the current year runs in the fourth inning helped Brooklyn end Chicago's seven-game winning streak. During the flurry Gil Hodges hit his 36th homer, with one aboard.

In Washington Mickey Vernon added three hits to his previous lifetime total of 1,999 and became the third active player to pass 2,000. The others are Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter. Roy Sievers broke the club's existing home run record with his 22rd. He drove in seven runs in the slugfest.

Robin Roberts won his 15th game for the Phils as Harvey Haddix failed for the sixth straight time in July 30 to win his 10th. Stan Lopata's three - run homer helped Haddix to an early shower.

Elgins, Terriers Need One Game Each in Series

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

St. Thomas Elgins and Galt Terriers need only a victory each to meet in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League finals.

Elgins and Terriers Thursday night blasked out shutouts in the games with London Majors and Brantford Red-Sox in the best-of-seven semi-final series.

Harry Prutka's single to left field with the bases loaded and two out gave the Terriers a 4-3 decision win over Red Sox at Guelph.

At St. Thomas the Elgins defeated the Majors 13-0 in an error-riddled game.

In Sudbury, Copper Cliff Redmen took a one-game lead over Sudbury Shamrocks in a best-of-seven Nickel Belt Senior Baseball League semi-final series by a 3-1 count.

LOOSE GAME

Elgins earned only six runs and London five but the Majors gave them plenty of help. Scoring started in the second inning London getting a walk, Shamrocks in a bunt-for-two, one earned. In the second, the Elgins had two unearned runs on another run in the fifth.

St. Thomas added four more unearned runs in the sixth on one hit and three errors. They gained one in the seventh on three hits. Majors' pitchers issued three home in the seventh on four hits. St. Thomas batting pitchers and St. Thomas' Harris was credited with the win. Bill Hunt was charged with the loss.

The Terriers' win on a street performance at bat, hammering Barney Hayes for 11 safeties. This included a homer by manager Mike Wallace, two triples and a double. Three costly errors kept Brantford in the game, a total of five, but Stan Breard's homer giving the visiting team four runs in the fourth.

Breard used three pitchers. Bill Hanrahan started and was relieved by Roy Kaiser in the 10th, with two out, Johnny Lockington on first. Kaiser, that was a mistake. Lockington, Bobby Schnurr came in to force Breard to ground out and end the inning.

Team That Wins Series Can Take All the Marbles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers open a three-game series against the first-place New York Giants at the Polo Grounds tonight and the word around town is that this is "it"—the team that sweeps this series wins all the marbles.

Although the Giants and the National League by only three games and don't lose their lead in this series. A Brooklyn sweep would leave the Dodgers two percentage points behind.

But the experts point out that the Giants don't seem to have much bounce left after a gruelling season. They've slipped back three games since moving into the lead with six straight over the Dodgers in mid-June. Twice the Giants' slide shrank to two games, and the last dip left the New Yorkers only a half game in front of the Dodgers.

The idea now seems to be that if the Dodgers sweep this set they will pick up enough momentum to overtake the Giants for keeps before the end of the season.

Royals' Chances Of Gaining Second Place Better

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Black, ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers' pennant-winning pitching staff in 1952, apparently has regained much of his old form—and that speaks well for Montreal Royals' chances of gaining second place in the International League pennant race.

Black struck out nine while pitching six hit 11th victory against nine defeats. Three of the Chiefs' runs came on homers by Don Richmond and Jack Lonnett. Dick Young also homered for the Royals.

Jack Faschok had the Leafs shut out until the ninth, when Rochester needed only three pinchers to check a rally. Tony Jacobs finally retired the side with the bases loaded.

Ten-Game Schedule on Labor Day Week-End Should Give Experts Line on Winners

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada's professional football teams, already mixed up in one of the most whacky seasons ever, go into a 16-game schedule this Labor Day weekend. Expect the unusual.

Eight games will be played but anyone who's made their final selections of United States imports yet, but fans already have been in on some of the most startling upsets in years. When they're through with the season's mad have an idea on how he call the tailspers.

The Western Interprovincial Football Union passes one of the toughest assignments. Four games will go west and there will be plenty of attention on little Eddie Macon's Regina Roughriders, champions 4-1. This team, who have thrown some tremendous football in the past, will be up against Clarence Lane in Calgary Saturday night.

In Edmonton WIFU games, the Roughriders and Blue Bombers, tied for first place with three wins and one tie, meet in Winnipeg tonight. On Monday it's Winnipeg at Regina and Vancouver at Edmonton. The Eskimos and Lions have failed to win in two games.

The Winnipeg-Saskatchewan encounter was originally scheduled for Saturday night. The clubs agreed on the switch to give them an extra day's rest before they tangle in Regina.

In the Big Four Union Toronto Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats clash in a home-and-home series. They meet at Toronto Saturday and at Hamilton Monday. Montreal Alouettes, who pulled a surprise 24-6 victory over Hamilton Cats last Saturday, go against Ottawa Rough Riders twice—in Montreal tomorrow and in Ottawa Monday.

Saturday's game at Montreal will be beamed into the United States over the NBC's coast-to-coast television network. It is the second such game carried by the NBC. It's move to sell Canada's brand of football to American armchair quarterbacks and any others who get a kick out of the sport. Montreal will be blacked out but the game will be televised there Sunday on kinescope.

The other Big Four game Saturday will be carried by the CBC over stations in Hamilton, Kitchener, London, Sarnia and Windsor. Toronto will be blacked out.

Two games are scheduled in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Sarnia Imperials are the hosts in both of them. Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen are at Imperial Saturday and Toronto Balmy Beach are there Monday.

Coach Doug Walker of the Alouettes plans to greet Ottawa Sunday with the same team that disposed of the Tiger-Cats in the Big Four opener.

Walker said Thursday night that Chuck Hunsinger will be sidelined with the backfield call going to imports Larry Grigg and Al Webster.

"Since I have to drop one American, I've decided to keep Hunsinger out of Saturday's lineup, but he might get the assignment Monday night in Ottawa," said the Alouettes' mentor.

"Ottawa is going to be tough. The Rough Riders headed for Montreal with five new faces for the Mount line-up coach Clem Crowe will use at Alouettes. Seeing action for the first time this season will be tackles Jim Rowe and Jim Jerome, halves Dick Schaible and Matt Robillard and end Al Brubo, who went to Ottawa when Argos cut him recently.

Coach Carl Voyles, disturbed by the beating Hamilton took last Saturday, has been giving Tiger-Cats some new wrinkles for their meeting against Argonauts. He has 35 players with which to select his team. He hasn't said who they will be.

Robinson, Reese Fined by Giles For Part in Row

CHICAGO (AP)—Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday were fined $75 and $50 respectively for their part in a row with umpire Augie Donatelli Tuesday at Milwaukee.

Coach Jake Pitler, who was put out of the game with Reese when the latter argued a close play at first base, was not fined. It was not generally known that Robinson was a participant until he was notified of his fine.

Jackie admitted he wrapped a "towel around the neck while sitting on the bench and later told teammates he'd the shiver that Donatelli "choked up in front of a large home crowd." His only explanation

Soccer Gossip

Batawa threw a scare into Peterborough U.E.W. last Sunday when they beat the Eastern Ontario champions 4-1. This being fill game for Bata's Sidlkevics was well attended and the local boys were easily the better team on the day's showing. In fact, the league champs looked to be just another team.

The results of this game assured the Batawa boys of the runner up slot in the league. Only one game remains to be played in the U.E.W. with Northern Electric meeting Kingston United in Belleville. No doubt the latter will be spotted fixture.

The games are scheduled for this week-end because of the Labor Day holiday.

Last week-end the draws for the Ontario, Intermediate Cup were made. In the O.F.A. Batawa and Peterborough U.E.W. draw a bye while Kingston United draw against Peterborough Merchants and Peterborough Scottish were given a bye. Picton Merchants, Each round is played on a home-and-home total goals to count. First round matches are called for September 11th and 18th.

MINOR SOCCER

In minor circles the game called for this week-end for both Branch 99 Canadian Legion Bantams and Foley Foundry Juvenile in Toronto has been postponed one week to avoid the holiday week-end. Return games will be played the following week.

Wednesday evening, Northern Electric took a commanding lead in the semi-final round of the Trenton Challenge Cup when they beat Picton 9-1. The first game, postponed from last Monday due to bad weather, has been called for Monday, September 13th. The winner on the round earns the right to meet Trenton Merchants in the finals. Trenton took their sound against Batawa.

Next Wednesday's game the final of Belleville Charity Cup plays when Northern Electric meet Trenton Merchants for the Belleville Merchants Cup.

This week's tip in the budding soccer star; "The ball being round is made to go round."

VERNON HITS 2,000TH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mickey Vernon, veteran Washington first baseman, Thursday became the 95th player in major league history to hit safely as many as 2,000 times during his career. Vernon checked out his 2,000th hit in the first inning of Thursday's game between the Senators and Detroit Tigers. It was his 1,936th hit of the year.

Sarnia Sailors Withdraw From Senior 'A' Race

TORONTO (CP)—Sarnia Sailors withdrew from the Ontario Hockey Association Senior 'A' League Thursday night, leaving six teams to operate in the 1954-55 season.

Al Pickard, owner of the Sarnia franchise, was granted a league suspension from a telephone petition when he told a special meeting of senior league officials last night it "impossible to line up jobs" for his players.

The surprise move came after team representatives unanimously accepted the application of a Chatham group for entry.

Chatham completes the league setup with Windsor, Niagara Falls, Stratford, Kitchener-Waterloo and Owen Sound.

Eight players controlled by Stewart and four of last year's non-protected Sailors who would have gone to Sarnia, were thrown into league pool and distributed among clubs on a rotation basis.

The new Chatham entry bought three players, as did Stratford, Niagara Falls and Windsor each selected two and Kitchener one. One player was passed up.

Chatham: Paul Oliver, Lloyd Ford; Danny Blair; Martin Zorica and Frank Bergeron; Niagara Falls: Ed Reed and John McKennel; Windsor: Henry Bazzen and Frank Liscombe; Kitchener: Gary Gordon.

White Sox May Have Difficulty Keeping Richards

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice president Chuck Comiskey professes not to be worried by rumors that the Chicago White Sox may have difficulty retaining Paul Richards as manager.

Comiskey said he probably will talk contract with Richards today when the Sox return home to open a three-game series with the American League-leading Cleveland Indians, but he added:

"I don't think there is any question about where Paul will be next year, 1955 he will be with the Sox."

There has been talk that Richards is entertaining a tempting offer to become general manager of the Baltimore Orioles and that he will demand both a raise and a three-year contract to stay with the Sox.

Cleveland Will Play Thirteen Of Remaining 16 Games at Home

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez and his band of league-leading Indians left for Chicago today still confident of winning the American League pennant and itching to get "even" with the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

The two successive lickings by the Yankees, slicing their once big game margin to 3½, after capturing the first of the three-game series, did not seem to disturb Lopez, too much. At least, not outwardly.

"I still feel we can hold the lead," the Cleveland pilot said following Thursday's 3-2 defeat. He said after our Tuesday night's victory, they can hurt us now but they can't kill us."

Reminded that the tough White Sox will furnish the opposition in six of Cleveland's remaining 21 games, Lopez said grimly:

"What's the difference whom we play? At this stage of the race they're all tough. We've just got to keep on winning, that's all."

"And about the Yankees?" he asked. "They've got to win more games than we do. And don't forget this either. They've still got two against us."

"That's right," chimed in Bobby Avila, the team's fine second baseman and leading hitter. "Wait until we get them in Cleveland next time. It will be different there. We'll get even with them over there."

Lopez pointed out that following the weekend series in Chicago and the Labor Day doubleheader in Baltimore, the Indians will play 13 of their remaining 16 games at home.

Two-for-Two Player Swap Made by Clubs

TORONTO (CP)—St. Catharines TeePees and Toronto St. Michael's Majors of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league made a two-for-two player swap in a committee room Thursday night.

TeePees relinquished all rights to two northern Ontario players, Eugene Ubrico of Sault Ste. Marie and Richard Mahuni of Smooth Rock Falls, both 16.

The Majors gave up defenceman Pete Huggard of last year's junior team and centre Ron Butler of Halifax, who was with the Junior B squad in 1953. TeePees switched their boys because OHA officials were asked to lift the draft so they could attend St. Michael's college.

The deal was announced at a special sub-committee meeting called to deal with Harris Fiyers' entry in the league this season.

Owner of Derby Winner Suspended By Racing Board

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Andy Crevolin, owner of Kentucky Derby winner Determine, was suspended by the California horse racing board Thursday for "conduct detrimental to racing." A hearing was set for Sept. 13.

The board announced last week it was investigating statements by Crevolin in a magazine article that his stable does not always try to win the first, second or third time with a young horse.

Crevolin, whose remarks appeared in the Blood Horse, a breeders' magazine, later told reporters he did not say some of the things attributed to him. But when a tape recording of the Crevolin interview was played back in reporters' presence he was quoted accurately.

Crevolin's letter in a statement formally apologizing for any damage that might be done to horse racing became a part of the interview.

Ontario Evens Lacrosse Series At Game Apiece

WINNIPEG (CP) — Ontario's Long Branch Monarchs defeated Manitoba All — Stars 13-10 here Thursday night to even their best-of-three Canadian junior lacrosse semi-final at one game apiece. The third and deciding game will be played here Saturday night.

Manitoba won the opener 12-8 Tuesday night. The series winner will travel to Vancouver for the Canadian final.

Monarchs were a more confident team in the second game as they checked ruggedly and made and took advantage of all the breaks. This was especially evident when they were down 5-3 early in the second quarter.

The Ontario crew then punched in five straight goals without a reply in slightly more than seven minutes to assume an 8-4 lead.

The All-Stars got in the game early in the third quarter but the Monarchs—backed by some sensational goaltending from 200-pound Porky Russell—capped it three more goals before the end of the quarter to take an 11-8 lead.

FIERCE CHECKING

Manitoba outscored the visitors 2-1 in the final quarter but Monarchs' fierce checking in the final minutes held the All-Stars at bay.

Chick Tomchyshyn was the standout of the game as he played a brilliant two-way game. He also was top poitmaker for Long Branch with one goal and three assists.

Jack Coleman and Pete Russ each netted three for Monarchs.

First Residents added a couple while Bowie Smith, Les Howard and Hal McLaughlin scored doubletons.

Joe Hunt, top man for the All-Stars, scored two goals and set up two others. Supporting cast Norman and Ralph Lyndon tallied three each, with Barrie McQueen and Ted Dorrett scoring the other Manitoba goals.

AT THE ODEON McCARTHY THEATRE

Pathogo Pre... Film ... With a Screen Career

It took three years of hearing "No" before Gregg Palmer could convince one of Hollywood's studios to open the gate on which he was knocking. That was three years ago and his persistence, which first led to a contract at Universal is International and "13 screen roles, has brought him to the verge of stardom with the second role lead in that studio's Technicolor production of Lloyd C. Douglas' "Magnificent Obsession," which opens next Monday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. This famed love story by the author of "The Robe" stars Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush and features Agnes Moorehead and Otto Kruger.

The hand of destiny used an accident to guide Palmer into show business. The 6 foot 2 inch San Francisco native who had served as a code expert in the Air Force was taking a friend to a big radio station for an audition. The pal was turned down but a radio producer noted Palmer and the result was a job as announcer and disc jockey. When the radio producer who discovered Palmer went to Hollywood as an actors' agent, he sent for Palmer who began the steps that led to his U-I contract.

Important... parts in "The All American," "Taza, Son of Cochise" and "Playgirl" preceded Palmer's assignment in "Magnificent Obsession."

RARE WOODEN BEAMS

TOBERMORY, Scotland (AP)—Treasure-hunters searching for a sunken galleon of the Spanish Armada reported Thursday night that they have recovered 13 pieces of old wooden beams buried in the silt of Tobermory bay. The charred pieces were brought up by air suction lift from 12 feet of silt under 80 feet of water. Experts will study them in an effort to determine if they are from the galleon tradition says was sunk after the defeat of the Armada in 1858.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, SEPT. 4, 1954:

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Encouraging rays for the alert, intelligent who are willing to work for success. Always be tactful, straight-shooter and you will be happier and also gain respect.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Be alert but don't fret. Tempo of action may change--quicken one moment, slow up the next--depending upon conditions. Don't waste time on trivialities. Keep ambition, integrity alive.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Fortunate indications for industrial and mechanical matters. Selling, advertising, handling products for the public can show gains if property handled. Be hopeful for personal affairs.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — It's human to err, but be careful not to repeat the same errors. Respect possessions. Have faith--a great weapon to combat obstacles. Help others, too.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Good opportunities may be sporadic today. But stick clear of flyweight schemes. Be sure you are right before voicing opinions; don't give a wrong impression of your skills.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Good planetary influences. Matters connected with medicine, surgery, engineering, construction projects, insurance, labor will get due recognition for honest effort.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Carefully examine your schedules. Don't rush into situations which require study, tact, and intelligent handling.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—You may have to supply much of your own working material today. Capitalize on past experiences in like circumstances; don't overlook any bets.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—A day for keeping in tune with associates, friends, and for cultivating Sagittarius' best qualities. At your best, you'll make sacrifices when necessary. Pray, too.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Devote some time to outside matters when duties allow. Restful diversion, whether spiritual, mental-or physical, stressed. Look forward with faith.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Don't be left out of the business or personal picture through negligence or lack of foresight. Use your intelligence, keep busy and don't consider anything too hard to handle.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—A stimulating day for most well-managed endeavors. Good intentions should be backed with smart, intelligent action. Solidify lovely friendships, maintain harmony.

YOU BORN TODAY have an active mind, good reasoning powers; are usually calm, just, practical and can take the bitter with the sweet bravely. You have fine endurance and can be depended upon in an hour of need. You boast are modest, refined, highly intelligent and willing to work hard for a goal; are endowed with excellent talents for the stage, public life. You could also do well in science, writing, designing, and other arts; are apt to be critical at times; also to worry needlessly. Life has much to offer you; take it with a smile. Demonstrated Burning
● Installed at your satisfaction or demonstrating.
● Produces all the heat with a stainless steel burner.
● Operates on a low set of 4 burners.
● Does not require fans or to be turned up to eliminate carbon or gas fire.
● Louvres are easily interchangeable to place heat where needed.
● One-piece rings avoid warping at joints.
● Has the convenience of large size in the heat exchanger to burn the burner of the smaller size. The Canadian Standards Association has stated these heaters are about a 79.8% overall operating efficiency.

Seven Sailors Have Complained Of Liver Trouble

TOKYO (AP) — Seven sailors from a ship which survived radioactivity in the Bikini area this summer have complained of liver trouble since their return, Kyodo news service said today.

The men will be examined at the Tokyo University hospital to determine whether their illnesses are the result of atomic contamination. Their condition is not considered serious.

Aikichi Kobayama, wireless operator from the fishing craft Lucky Dragon, remains in critical condition as the aftermath of a British hydrogen experiment this spring. Kobayama and 22 fellow crew members were dusted by atomic ash sifted down from clouds which carried the atomic ash 80 miles from the test site.

Kobayama is reported to be suffering from jaundice or hepatitis, both liver ailments.

Contests Assured In By-Elections For Three Ridings

TORONTO, (CP)—Contests were assured in the Ontario ridings of Leeds, Russell and Nipissing when nominations for the Sept. 16 provincial by-elections closed Thursday.

Nipissing, embracing the North Bay district, will see a four-way fight with an Independent candidate in the running along with those of the CCF, Progressive Conservative and Liberal parties. Russell will see a three-way battle and Leeds a two-party duel between a man and a woman.

All three ridings were left vacant by the death last spring of Progressive Conservative members. A fourth riding, Sudbury, also has been vacant since the recent death of Lands Minister Dunnell but no by-election has yet been called to fill it.

MOST IMPORTANT

The by-elections are regarded by political observers as probably the most important since Premier Leslie Frost's Progressive Conservative administration was returned in November, 1951. The main issue is expected to be reported irregularities in the highways department's handling of road-building contracts.

Premier Frost, Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver and CCF leader Donald C. MacDonald will direct the forces of their provincial organizations in the campaign. They also plan to speak in support of their candidates.

Nominated in Russell, a constituency east of Ottawa which comprises urban areas in Eastview and eastern Ottawa suburbs as well as large rural districts, were George Hay, 56-year-old sheep breeder, CCF; Gordon Lavergne, 44, a merchant and the mayor of Eastview, Progressive Conservative; and Rafael Pilon, 37, also a merchant and an Eastview councillor, Liberal.

OTHER RIDINGS

Candidates in Nipissing are Rene Bourassa, Sturgeon Falls merchant, Liberal; Leon Chaput, Sturgeon Falls hotel keeper, Progressive Conservative; Jack Hall, North Bay union organizer, CCF; and Lionel A. Lafrenboise, Sturgeon Falls travelling salesman, Independent.

In Leeds the contest will be between Mary Elizabeth Sheldon, a retired schoolteacher from Maitland, Liberal candidate, and James A. C. Auld, 51-year-old Brockville wholesaler, Progressive Conservative.

Miss Sheldon, a native of Leeds county, held high positions in several places in the county. During the Second World War, she served as an officer in the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Mr. Auld, formerly of Toronto and Guelph was trained as an artillery officer in Brockville during the Second World War and returned to the town after the war. He has been a member of Brockville council for two years and now is chairman of its works committee.

The standing in the 90-seat House: Progressive Conservative, 75; Liberal, 7; CCF 3; Liberal-Labor 1, Labor-Progressive (Communist) 1, vacant 4.

AT THE CAPITOL — Italian Heat Wave! Italy's most torrid heat wave in years has been started by a 20-year-old miss named Gina Lollobrigida. A busty, lusty, gusty brunette beauty who is sometimes called Gina Lollopalooza, she already has set a small flame going on this side of the Atlantic that is destined soon to become a full-blown conflagration. For the gorgeous Gina, who was recently named Italy's most popular screen actress in an Italian newspaper poll, may soon be seen in United Artists' "Crossed Swords," a swashbuckling Technicolor adventure film of medieval Italy in which she stars opposite Errol Flynn. In "Crossed Swords", opening Sunday midnight after 13:26 at the Capitol Theatre, Gina is permitted to reveal her exquisite talent in those low cut Eleventh Century costumes. On the same program in color by Technicolor "GOG" Frankenstein of steel.

Drab Inquiry About McCarthy Nears Its End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The McCarthy censure hearings, so far almost entirely a rehash of old records and testimony, has hit a weekend dead spot. Possibly the inquiry may be over by late next week.

The mass of evidence on five major charges of accusations against the Wisconsin Republican senator has been spread on the record in three days of drab but fascinating public sessions. There was nothing new in it, no surprises.

MORE EVIDENCE

Where the hearings go when they start up again Tuesday is uncertain. The six-man special committee investigating the charges may have a lot more evidence to offer and briefs to file.

"We haven't closed the door on anything," said chairman Arthur Watkins (Rep. Utah).

Or McCarthy and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, may open their defence.

Under orders from the Senate, the committee is considering a resolution by Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep., Vt.) to condemn McCarthy's conduct as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute. Backing up the resolution, Flanders and senators Margaret Smith (Ind. Ore.) and James Fulbright (Dem. Ark.), almost 48 overlapping, specific charges against McCarthy.

To get things started, the committee adjourned Thursday and dumped the others into five major categories. Working with unexpected speed, it finished putting into the record by mid-afternoon Thursday the documentary evidence, mostly from transcripts of prior hearings of other committees.

Then the series of sworn-to charges Thursday were charges that McCarthy (1) may have violated the espionage law by bringing into the recent McCarthy-Army hearings a document quoting a secret FBI report, and (2) urged government employees to break the law and violate their oaths of office by giving him secret information.

The hearings halted for the week after exploring McCarthy's use of a secret document in the army hearings. Long excerpts from those hearings were read into the record.

Chatty Driver Tells Duchess About Halifax

By KINGSLEY BROWN Jr.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—It's funny what a difference a driver can make in the success of a tour by royalty. In this case, by the Duchess of Kent and her 17-year-old daughter, Princess Alexandra.

For instance, Queen Elizabeth complained mildly to a reporter covering her tour as a princess in 1951 that she never found out enough about the country she was travelling in. When in Newfoundland she had a driver from Ontario.

After all, she was something of a tourist.

R. Sgt. Art Campbell of New Glasgow, N.S., made the difference Thursday as he drove the duchess and princess the 22 miles from Shearwater naval air base around the harbor and Bedford basin to Government House in downtown Halifax.

The former army tank driver "chatted quite a bit" with them. He told them all about the historic Halifax that an earlier Duke of York built into a fortress and the Angus L. Macdonald bridge being built between Halifax and the town of Dartmouth.

MOST ENORMOUS

"They said the bridge was the most enormous thing they'd ever seen," said Campbell. "They thought the Mount St. Vincent convent at Rockingham was Camp Hill Hospital but I told them it wasn't."

Art admitted ruefully, however, that he didn't mention how the Duke of York of 150 years ago had built the round Prince's Lodge at nearby Rockingham for his private music room.

And he didn't get a chance to show them the famed citadel that the duke made so impregnable that the French and later American forces never dared lay a cannon on it again. They will visit the citadel Saturday.

For 10 minutes Thursday, Princess Alexandra piloted the four-engined RCAF aircraft that brought the royal party from Ottawa, Ont., to Halifax. And the pilot, Sqdn. Ldr. Hugh Morrison of Ottawa, said she handled the plane beautifully.

For a while officials thought that Hurricane Dolly would delay the arrival of the princess instead of hitting the province as scheduled.

LIGHTNING KILLS CADDY

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Larry Clark, 13, a caddy, was struck and killed by lightning Thursday on the University of Michigan golf course. Charles Tyler, the player, was injured and taken to hospital where his condition was reported good. Young caddying for Tyler, was standing under a tree with a golf club in his hands. The bolt of lightning split the tree.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by lazy kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and waste poison the whole system. Then backaches, distressed pain in the loins, nervousness, headaches, or that tired-out, worn-down feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills now. 41

Say Canada's Plan Means Empire Row Over German Arms

Canada Insists Rearmament Should Be Handled by NATO

LONDON (CP) — Canada's recommendation that German rearmament should be handled within the framework of NATO is construed by The Daily Express as starting an "Empire row."

A front-page story today, headed "Canada demands a say on Germany," gives this interpretation: "An influential Britain is worried about the rearming of Western Germany. Canada made representations about British troops in the future of the German army decided by a conference of British, the United States and the six countries which would have joined the European Army — France, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg."

CANADIAN NOTE

The Express adds that Canada is insisting German rearmament is considered within the framework of NATO, which Canada is a member.

Other London newspapers gave little heed to the Canadian initiative, leaving speculation to the ministry of diplomatic negotiations over how to rearm Germany.

News of the Canadian proposal came Friday night from Paris. It was disclosed that Minister of labor Jean Desy had made a two-point recommendation to French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, in addition to stressing the importance of considering German rearmament as a NATO matter, the Canadian message also called for an early meeting of the NATO council.

A Canadian embassy source at Paris said the message was sent on Canada's initiative although Canada has been in constant close contact with London and Washington.

SHOULD TAKE PART

He said Canada felt she should participate in the discussion of anything as important as the rearming of Western defence now that EDC has been voted down. He pointed to Canada's land and air forces in Germany and France, as well as her contributions to the defence organization in Western Europe as further reasons why she should be heard.

"We feel it should be a NATO matter," he said.

Decision to Free Meyer Assailed As 'Betrayal'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Col. John Wise, executive director of the British Columbia Veterans' Association, said Friday the decision to release German war criminal Kurt (Panzer) Meyer is a "betrayal of the principles of justice which prompted Canadians."

Col. Wise was commenting on a report from Ottawa which quoted an unidentified source as saying the former SS officer will be released Thursday.

Gen. Meyer was originally sentenced to death by a military court trying 18 Canadian prisoners of war, but the sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

"We feel that if you are going to protect Canadians and other veterans then Meyer should serve the full sentence," Col. Wise said.

The director of the 90,000-member veterans' association said there is only one logical reason for all. "The fact that the German general may have expert military knowledge which is of nothing to do with the policy at all."

'Let's All Be Alive Next Tuesday And Fool Experts' Says Eisenhower

CHICAGO (AP) — Millions of American motorists today headed for the highways for a three-day Labor Day holiday, the last long weekend of the summer season, with a plea from President Eisenhower for careful driving.

The president appealed to the "grim forecast" by the National Safety Council that 390 persons will be killed in traffic accidents in the United States in the three-day period.

There were only a few deaths in 461 in 1953.

motor mishaps in the first hours of the 78-hour holiday weekend which started at 6 p.m. Friday and extends to midnight Monday.

Eisenhower, in his appeal to motorists, said: "Let's be careful this weekend. Let's stay alert. Let's remember the simple rules of the road. Let's all be alive next Tuesday."

The council estimates traffic deaths during the three-day Labor Day holiday last year. The record high for the holiday was

Unemployment Called Disgrace By Labor Chiefs

Situation Is Alarming Say Bengough, Mosher

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's two top labor leaders today described the country's unemployment situation as alarming and a disgrace and said workers must be given better living conditions and more pay.

Percy R. Bengough, retiring president of the 800,000-member Trades and Labor Congress, said the fact that 300,000 workers are without jobs in a country of such bountiful resources "is a disgrace but state of affairs."

Workers cannot accept such a situation without protest, he added in a Labor Day message.

A. R. Mosher, president of the 250,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor, said the unemployment situation is causing "widespread alarm" in many industrial communities. There is a feeling, he added, that the government is not giving the problem the attention it requires.

INCREASED CO-OPERATION

Labor Minister Gregg, joining in the Labor Day messages, made no new or split in the unemployment problem, but emphasized growing labor-management co-operation.

"More and more contracts of bi-lateral labor-management agreements are written without fanfare and newsworthy headlines.

"There is every evidence that in a relatively short space of time labor has come to the fore as a full partner with management in the industrial life of our country," he said.

The ranks of Canadian labor unions had increased to more than 1,200,000 members, almost double the 1939 total, he added. 48,000 new members had been enrolled last year, and "over two years labor has acquired a powerful voice in national affairs."

Mr. Gregg said the government welcomes labor's representations and all matters of importance to the country's welfare, recognizing that underlying the representations is there is a deep desire to obtain the greatest good for the greatest number.

ASKS GREATER RETURNS

Mr. Bengough — whose retirement takes place Nov. 1—called for greater efforts to bring about higher employment and improved unemployment insurance provisions.

While unemployment insurance had developed over the years, there was a need for higher benefit payments and more liberal qualifications for which benefits are paid. These should be provided before seasonal unemployment sets again.

Mr. Mosher said no one doubts the sincerity of Canada's desire but added that there are many aspects of the Canadian economy which are disquieting.

The situation with respect to agriculture, particularly the western Canada, was disquieting. Proposals for a labor-industry-agriculture consultative committee had not borne fruit.

Assaulted Man Age 88, Given 30 Days in Jail

LINDSAY (CP) — Joseph Heffernan, 27, of Peterborough was sentenced Friday to 30 days in jail when convicted of assaulting an 88-year-old Lindsay man. The prisoner, Tom Teevins, testified in court.

"This man couldn't have done this to me 80 or 70 years ago," Teevins said. He said he would have been drinking in a vacant lot at the time. Teevins suffered minor injuries.

Two U.S. Officers Killed; Reds Shelling Quemoy Again

TAIPEH, Formosa (Reuters)— Two United States officers, believed to be members of the U.S. military assistance advisory group here, were killed during the Communist Chinese shelling of Quemoy Island Friday.

The prolonged artillery exchange was resumed today and there was an unconfirmed report that Nationalist Chinese F-84 thunderjets were in action.

Meanwhile Nationalist officials went into emergency session to plot strategy against a possible Communist invasion of Quemoy. Communist strength in Fukien province, on the mainland opposite Formosa, is estimated at three to four army corps, consisting of nine to 12 divisions, each division having 10,000 men.

There has been no Communist air force buildup recently, however, a Nationalist spokesman said.

Mendes-France Endeavoring To Bolster Riddled Cabinet

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France sought today to bolster his resignation-riddled cabinet, as criticism of his foreign policies mounted at home and abroad.

The harried premier began his grouping his cabinet Friday night after three more ministers walked out, leaving only eight men under the bitter diffuse over the European Defence Community treaty.

Three pro-EDC ministers were the latest to resign—less than three weeks after three anti-EDC members walked out.

To plug the gaps, Mendes-France shifted eight ministers to new posts and named two new officials. The shuffle left two posts vacant, apparently eliminated as the premier cut down the number of secretary of state in the interior ministry.

The three pro-pact ministers said they quit because Mendes-France did not try hard enough to win ratification of EDC by the National Assembly, which killed the treaty Aug. 30 last week.

The three who quit earlier were followers of Gen. Georges Catroux, archfoe of the pact. They said they got out because they felt defence...

Mendes-France was not strongly criticized by the trio.

Mendes - France's government now fails two short of its original 13-member cabinet. He pointed out he hopes to fill the gaps soon.

Two American legislators added their views to the chorus of criticism against France's stand on EDC.

In Bonn, Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.), chairman of the United States senate foreign relations committee, said he would "not concede EDC has failed." He added that he did not believe the Assembly's action represented the "heart and soul of the French people."

In Washington, Representative Henry Short (Rep. Mo.), chairman of the House of Representatives armed services committee, said Mendes-France was "skating on thin ice." He added: "He is being manoeuvred" on the whole treaty issue.

Meanwhile Thomas Delber, chairman of West Germany's Free Democratic party, said Mendes-France's political intentions are unknown and therefore he would like a firm statement at next Western conference on European army.

Danish Freighter Shelled By Soviet Warship in Arctic

TROMSOE, Norway (AP) — The captain of a Danish freighter reported today that his ship, the 1,200-ton Patricia of Struer, was shelled last Tuesday by a Soviet destroyer off the Russian coast in Arctic Russia.

Capt. Niels Jenssen said the shelling took place in international waters about 30 miles off shore, between the entrance to the White sea and the Rybatshi peninsula.

The Danish ship had been working out of the Soviet city of Mezen, where it had picked up a load of lumber, when two Russian destroyers suddenly appeared. The captain said:

"One of them fired four live ...

shells. Three passed above the ship, the fourth hit the surface about a ship's length behind us."

Jenssen immediately stopped his ship, and hoisted his flag. One destroyer made a quick circle around the Patricia. The destroyer that opened fire stood by for a short time, then left the area.

Crew members of the Patricia said that while in Mezen they were guided by sailors from the German ship Polux of Bremen it too had been shelled by Soviet warships.

Allegedly the German vessel was shelled the last week while unloading in the same area as the Patricia.

The Patricia suffered no damage from the shelling.

Third-Ranking Mau Mau Leader Killed by Patrol

NAIROBI, Kenya, (Reuters) — A Mau Mau terrorist "field marshal" believed by his followers to have supernatural power over enemy bullets has been killed by British troops, it was reported Friday.

A three-man patrol of the Black Watch Regiment trapped Kikinyi, 35-year-old Ole Kisio, third-ranking leader of the Mau Mau.

He was cut down when he walked into a trap about 70 miles west of here. He was ordered to halt, but instead raised his gun and opened fire.

Kikinyi, survivor of many battles with security forces. A ...ored grave in the native villages that he led a charmed life.

Aid Hero's Family

WATERLOO (CP)—A fund established to assist the family of John Mitchell, who died Aug. 6 in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue a fellow workman, has passed its objective of $5,000.

The money will be used to pay off the mortgage on the Mitchell home, officials said the total Friday was $8,444.

FIRE DESTROYS HORSES

SUDBURY, Mass. (AP) — Six thoroughbred brood mares and colts perished Friday night when lightning struck and set fire to a barn on the farm of Miss Hancock Hayes. Three other mares were saved.

Rumor Churchill Sent Message To Eisenhower

LONDON (Reuters)—A spokesman for Sir Winston Churchill's office declined to confirm or deny that the prime minister had sent a secret message to President Eisenhower, the current crisis in Western defence following collapse of the European Army plan.

Political sources here point out, however, that Sir Winston and Mr. Eden had often in contact privately with the president on critical issues and such exchanges are rarely disclosed.

During the last few days Britain has been "sounding out" interested governments, including the United States, on the possibility of an early eight-power conference in London following France's rejection of the European Army plan.

Dane Is Winner Of House Contest

COPENHAGEN (AP) — D'Arcy McGregor, Canadian mission to Denmark, Friday handed Knud Peter Harboe, a 28-year-old Danish architect, the $5,000 first prize in a world-wide Canadian competition for "The House of Tomorrow."

The competition called for a house suitable for a car-owning family of five, with two children under 13.

Harboe won against 1,587 entries, including 271 from Canada and 460 from Britain.

Confirm Report Kurt Meyer Will Be Freed

Will Release General Once Sentenced to Die

OTTAWA — Kurt Meyer, the German major-general who was sentenced to a death by a firing squad for having been responsible for the slaying of 18 Canadian prisoners of war, will be a free man next Tuesday.

At National Defence headquarters here, it was confirmed today that Meyer would be released on Sept. 7 from the British prison at Werl, Germany. Meyer, who is 43, was originally sentenced to be shot but his punishment was reduced first to life imprisonment and then to 14 years.

When released, he will have served nine years and four months and will be eligible for freedom by reason of time off for good behavior.

It is understood that the Government was informed some days ago that Meyer was to be released on Tuesday. No objection was entered. This attitude was in line with the statement made in the commons last Jan. 15 by Brooke Claxton, then Minister of National Defence.

In announcing at that time the reduction of the sentence to 14 years, Mr. Claxton added that Meyer would be eligible for such remission of sentence as he might earn under prison rules which, the minister added, "are laid down by the British Parliament."

Hans Neits, the other German convicted of the crime against a Canadian serviceman, will remain in custody. It was stated Neits's life sentence was also reduced to 14 years last January but his conduct, it was said, had not been such as to earn him the remission given Meyer. Neits was convicted of the attempted murder of an RCAF officer.

Power Project Bids Proposed In November

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — Bids will be sought in November for the first major construction work on the $300,000,000 St. Lawrence Seaway and power development, Administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. said here Friday night.

Martin W. Oetterman, here for an inspection of the site of the project, said that the bids for the initial construction of the bi-national lateral canal will be advertised "about Nov. 1."

The job is to be built by the U.S. agency as its $72,000,000 dollar share of the project. Canada is to handle the remaining $228,000,000 worth of work.

Oetterman said the seaway will be open for navigation "at least by the early 1960's."

He plans a four-day inspection of the area and conferences with officials of the communities along the St. Lawrence river in this section.

Cruiser Ontario Back from Korea

VICTORIA (CP) — The head of the cruiser Ontario played "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" as the 10,000-ton warship Crusader inched into berth at HMC Dockyard here Friday after a 10½-month tour of duty in Korean waters.

Fifteen hundred wives, children and friends of the sailors gathered on the wharf for the ship's arrival and cheered, waved, hoy, and waved happily as the ship pulled alongside.

Court Orders Lender of Auto Jack Pay Borrower $100,000 for Accident

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Wellenberg's court meant this:

Superior Court Friday ruled the lender of an automobile jack must pay a borrower $100,000 damages because it slipped and let a car fall on him, despite the fact he changed the implement was faulty.

Samuel H. Christ, 29, a bakery wagon driver, testified the jack slipped from under the car as he was changing a tire, breaking his neck.

Reynold H. Colvin, Christ's lawyer said the verdict in Judge Albert

The lender of an article is liable for injuries to the borrower when the lender knows the instrument is going to be put to dangerous use, knows the borrower does not know the danger, and when the lender fails to warn the borrower of the danger.

Lawyers for Edmund Corpe, owner of the jack manufacturing company, had argued that Christ borrowed the jack, and Herbert C. Ristine, manager, said a new trial would be asked.

Gen. de Castries Of Dien Bien Phu Freed by Vietminh

French Hero Visibly Worn But Says He Is 'Hard to Kill'

By FORREST EDWARDS

HANOI (AP)—The commander of the fallen Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu, Brig.-Gen. Christian de Castries, reached freedom today visibly worn from Red captivity but still buoyant and "hard to kill."

De Castries was brought to Hanoi from the exchange site where the Red freed him. He was met in Hanoi by Gen. Rene Cogny, commander of the Vietminh-aiding French forces in northern Indochina.

At the exchange point, de Castries leaned on a cane as he was turned over, but would not allow himself to be put in a stretcher.

He rode to the exchange site in a Communist command car, accompanied by a Vietminh colonel and a Communist correspondent. His first request was for something different from his prison diet, which was mainly rice.

(Agence France-Press reported that de Castries stood for a few moments before a number of camera men and emphasized to them that he was "hard to kill." A murder had never been raised at Dien Bien Phu.

GOES TO VILLA

In Hanoi, Cogny's staff car, with Cogny riding beside him, whisked de Castries to the villa he occupied here before he went to Dien Bien Phu to command the ill-fated French post last December.

De Castries spoke only a few words to French correspondents. Asked how he had been treated he complained that he had always been kept separate and had not been allowed to see or talk with his staff officers during his imprisonment.

He described himself as "not completely well" but added that he was "hard to kill" and said he should be in good health in a few days. He looked thin and tired, but walked erect and seemed in apparent good health. Men who knew him before Dien Bien Phu said he was at least 20 pounds underweight. He looked several years older—he is 52—and had greyed considerably.

CAPTURED AT FALL

De Castries, highest ranking officer captured by the Communist rebels in the French Indochina war, won world attention for leading the French stand at Dien Bien Phu. He was captured when the encircled north Indochina position finally fell May 7 after three months of siege.

The Vietminh had announced that de Castries would be released soon after the Indochina cease-fire went into effect in mid-July. But they held him until the next day.

His wife, Jacqueline, awaits him in Paris. She had been in Hanoi before the fall of Dien Bien Phu and recently she asked the French government for permission to fly to Hanoi to meet him when he gained freedom. The request was not granted and the government could not handle similar requests from the wives of other French officers.

De Castries, a dashing six-foot cavalry officer, was reported to have sat until the end at Dien Bien Phu in his operations command car instead of a steel helmet, and brandished a riding crop as he directed the desperate defense.

IMPROVE DORVAL

MONTREAL (CP)—A $20,000,000 face-lifting is planned for Montreal airport at nearby Dorval, a spokesman for the provincial architectural firm said Friday. Eugene Larose, member of the firm of Lamontagne Larose, said the project will make the airport one of the most modern in North America.

Dairy Horse Likes to Gorge Upon Cakes

FOR WILLIAM (CP) — "Just another relivery horse," people would remark, watching Bess, a black gelding belonging to a dairy, as he plodded along on his morning milk route.

But, when parked behind a delivery truck containing bread, cakes or other goodies, his nature instantly changes, much to the disgust of his driver, Wid Wamboldt.

Briefly glancing around to see if the coast is clear, Rex deftly opens the rear door of the truck, which was mainly provided to gorge himself on all the cakes and bread he can reach before being discovered.

Prosecutor Not Critical In Meyer Case

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Lt.-Col. Bruce J. S. Macdonald Friday announced he has written a book on the case of Nazi General Kurt Meyer whom he prosecuted for war crimes in 1945.

Mr. Macdonald, now crown attorney for Essex county, was head of a three-man prosecuting board.

He was asked for comment on Meyer's release, reported this week Tuesday, after serving less than 10 years of a life sentence which was reduced to 14 years.

Mr. Macdonald said he had no personal interest in the matter and had full confidence in the findings of the board which reviewed the case and recommended reduction of the sentence.

His book, to be published in about a month and it contains a detailed account of my thinking on the whole matter," he said.

Mr. Macdonald said he wrote the book with no interest in propaganda or influencing the government.

"I felt for the sake of the reputation of Canadian justice and of military justice that a detailed, factual statement should be published in respect to the trial that the public could form accurate opinions on it."

The book is titled "The Trial of Kurt Meyer."

Bountiful Supply of Fruits, Flowers, Vegetables on Market

This morning's market flowed with all the colors of the rainbow and smells of harvest abundance with its bountiful supply of fruits, flowers and vegetables.

Peaches, pears and apples held the spotlight. Gladioli in all their manifold colorings were accented by mounds of golden corn, contrasted here and there by a touch of deep purple eggplant and the last offering of blue raspberries.

Peaches, in fact, were literally unloaded quickly with a queue of waiting patrons ready to carry away their purchase at 90 cents per basket; pears, Clapp's favorite, were selling from 75 to 90 cents per six quart basket; St. Lawrence apples, 80 nice for pies, juicy and wealthies, sold at 75 per six quart basket; while the pink cheeked Melbas were 90 cents the basket.

MELONS

Watermelons, plain green skin, and light green with dark stripes, 10 cents to 80 cents apiece, depending on size; sugar melons from 10 to 15 cents each; inches-in-berries were 40 cents the berry box; one basket of side berries was seen—these too, are delicious in pies, were 25 cents for the basket. Imperial and yellow grapes were 25 cents per berry box, or $1.25 for the six quart basket; Burbanks, 25 the berry box; large blue prune plums were 40 cents the berry box, and ground cherries, delicious preserved, were $1 per six quart basket, and blue raspberries, 60 cents for the last box.

FLOWERS

Flowers were still holding their own firm price with red, white, and blue, yellow and pink gladioli selling at 81 per dozen stalks; lovely double pale blue, white and mauve columbines were 60 cents the bunch; Gaillardias 25 cents a bunch; African violets ranged from $1 to $1.75 depending on color and size of plant; orange and yellow begonias were 75 cents for the small plant; English ivy, 50 to 75c pot; Heart of France red asters, 35 cents per dozen; multi-colored zinnias, large blooms, 50 per bunch, small button zinnias 15 cents per bunch, or 3 bunches for 25; all types of cacti, 25 cents per pot; bachelors buttons, in deep blue, 25 the bunch; and our resurrection plant with blue bell flowers, 75 cents; baby tears, 25 cents per pot.

FINE VEGETABLES

The vegetables would delight the heart of the most exacting gourmet with their freshness and hold use.

4,000 to Take Officer Training

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 4,000 men at the three armed forces colleges and some 37 university units across Canada will undertake this month the fall term of the Regular Officers Training Plan, the defence department said Friday.

As members of the ROTP, they have a dual objective — an education and a commission in the regular forces.

The plan provides for free tuition, payment of all essential fees, books and instruments, pocket money, uniforms and living allowance. In return, the student officer is required to spend at least three years as a commissioned officer in the forces.

China's First General Vote Run Red-Style

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—China went through centuries of history without a general election. Now her Red bosses have run off a Communist-style election to give the Yangtze Asian country its first National Congress.

The Communist press corresponds to Russia's Supreme Soviet. Like the one in Moscow, it gives every indication of being a rubber-stamp outfit.

DELEGATES PICKED

The Congress of 1,226 delegates will convene for the first time in Peiping Sept. 15. Delegates were picked in a closely controlled series of elections in provinces, industrial and minority areas, and in some cities directly under the Peiping government, such as Peiping, Shanghai and Tientsin.

Almost all the party chiefs have been elected delegates, from Mao Tse-tung on down. But there are some notable exceptions.

First Congress business will be the adoption of a new constitution which will be a charter of liberties given a terrific propaganda endorsement.

The Congress takes the place of the party-picked people's political consultative conference, an interim group named in 1949 to serve until an election could be held.

The new National Congress will be divided along these lines; outside minority leaders, 30 per cent; "democratic personalities" 30 per cent; "proletariat elements" 30 per cent; minority groups, 10 per cent.

WELL CARED FOR

The democratic personalities are fellow travellers from subservient third party groups. The proletariat elements are the models workers and farmers and leaders of collectives.

This appears to be a disproportionate representation, inasmuch as the proletariat should number only a few hundred thousand. But Peiping is specially solicitous of these groups.

Among those who didn't win a Congress seat was Kao Kang, head of the state planning commission and a member of the Peiping plan. His name disappeared from the press and radio last January.

There is some confusion, for he is a central committee and Politburo member in the party as well as the five-year boss in the government.

ALL SCREENED

Wang Chia-hsiang, one of the four vice-ministers of foreign affairs, was not elected. This is the first hint of trouble for him. All told, 37 members and alternates of the all high central committee failed to get elected.

All candidates were screened by the party, and almost all turned out to be local officials picked by Peiping. But in the back country the screening became the task of provincial and sub-provincial central committees, so it won't be surprising if some unsuitable candidates turn up. They will have to be purged at the higher level.

CREW RESCUED

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The 4,355-ton Liberian tanker Freighter Commandante Pessoa sank Friday off the coast of the state of Rio Grande do Norte. All 46 crew members aboard were rescued.

Vodka Stall On Playground Annoys Pravda

LONDON (AP) — Leningrad radio Friday broadcast a complaint that local Communist party, trade union and youth organizations had "relaxed the struggle against alcoholism."

It quoted the newspaper Leningradskaya Pravda for an example of "the incorrect way of handling the sale of alcoholic drinks."

The paper said "some ill-starred sales girls had actually succeeded in setting up a vodka stall on a beach used exclusively by children."

Driver Charged After Accident

TRENTON (Special) — Joseph H. Williams, 51, 79 Murphy Street, Trenton, is being held by Trenton police on a charge of drunken driving following an accident at 3.45 Saturday morning.

Williams was driving south on Front Street in an English model sedan when his car failed to negotiate a turn at O'Malley's service station, left the road, skidded 29 paces and rolled over on its side. It came to rest against a hydro pole.

Williams was uninjured. Damage to the car was estimated at $500.

'Copter Takes Wrong Pictures

TRENTON (Special) — The case of the hovering helicopter had an extended run Friday.

An RCAF helicopter, complete with photographer, spent Friday morning photographing a cottage owned by Alec Hill, formerly head of Central Bridge Co. in Trenton, and currently being occupied by Air Vice Marshall Gordon Kerr who is on holidays.

AVM Kerr, CO of Training Command headquarters, is holidaying at Hill's cottage at Cadadale, 14 miles southwest of Trenton on Lake Ontario. He decided that a few pictures of the cottage would not be amiss.

The helicopter with the hanging photographer did a splendid job Friday morning. However, the pictures were of the wrong cottage.

So, Friday afternoon was spent repeating the process over the right cottage.

Cottagers at Cadardale entertained themselves all day watching the helicopter and its picture taking antics.

Is 'Quite a Bit' Of T.B. Among People in North

HALIFAX (CP)—A medical surgery liaison bank from Canada's eastern northland reports the Eskimos and Indians there are in "fair shape" but show "quite a bit of tuberculosis."

Dr. C. F. Galliher of Ottawa, assistant director of the chemical division of the department of citizenship and immigration, told the committee charged Wednesday that Canadians trying to return from abroad have been stranded anywhere up to five years by "shocking" procedural practices in the customs offices of the department of citizenship and immigration.

The committee resolution asks that the government ratify the Rome Convention, an international agreement which would limit liability in cases where non-passengers are injured in rail-bus crash. As an example would be a crash into a home or business building.

The resolution says the fact that Canadian airliners now fly to many parts of the world makes ratification of importance to Canada.

The divorce resolution asks that physical cruelty be recognized as grounds for divorce in a province which now is broadening of the divorce laws.

The excise resolution was drafted following the arrest of the commercial law section was told the way the law stands now the innocent sometimes pay a heavy penalty while the actual lawbreakers go free.

The committee agreed to the section of the act which calls for automatic forfeiture to the crown of "any boat, horse or vehicle containing spirits on which excise duty has not been paid."

The resolution says there should be no forfeiture when the vehicle belongs to an innocent party and that in other cases no property should be forfeited except by due process of law.

The immigration resolution asks the meeting to extend the life of the sub-committee on immigration for another year.

Bar Association To Vote Today On Resolutions

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian Bar Association today decides its stand on recommendations by its sections for broader powers to summer crown powers to seize property in exotic cases and continued investigation into charges of abuses in immigration procedure.

The committee opens the annual meeting from the civil justice, civil liberties and commercial law sections and will be adopted by the association if approved by a bare majority of members present.

The most novel resolution recommends exemption from union closed shop provisions for certain religious sects on the grounds there have been a number of cases where workers have suffered because their religious beliefs do not allow them to join any secular organization.

Another resolution asks that the government ratify the Rome Convention, an international agreement which would limit liability in cases where non-passengers are injured in rail-bus crash. As an example would be a crash into a home or business building.

The resolution says the fact that Canadian airliners now fly to many parts of the world makes ratification of importance to Canada.

The divorce resolution asks that physical cruelty be recognized as grounds for divorce in a province which now is broadening of the divorce laws.

The excise resolution was drafted following the arrest of the commercial law section was told the way the law stands now the innocent sometimes pay a heavy penalty while the actual lawbreakers go free.

It seeks amendment to the section of the act which calls for automatic forfeiture to the crown of "any boat, horse or vehicle containing spirits on which excise duty has not been paid."

The resolution says there should be no forfeiture when the vehicle belongs to an innocent party and that in other cases no property should be forfeited except by due process of law.

The immigration resolution asks the meeting to extend the life of the sub-committee on immigration for another year.

Material For Play

By NANCY CLEAVER

"I never thought of old newspapers as play material, but last Saturday my two little boys had a marvelous time with a pile of paper tee-pee with safety-pins and poles and just a little help from their dad," one mother told a friend. "I hang on to bits of cardboard for headings for covers for our "small fry" Silver paper off chocolate bars and silver foil tea bonds" also come in handy. I have a large carton for scraps which I extract from the garbage and keep in the storeroom as a source of play material," another friend replied, "I think I'll start an emergency fun shelf!" the first mother said.

Play material for a child is important but do not think of it just in terms of toys bought in a store. A little youngster should not have to work with too small objects because he finds it easier to use his large muscles than his small ones. Active outdoor play is essential to build sturdy bodies. But on days when the weather is wet, or in very hot or when a child must be confined to the house, it is a fine thing for a mother to have some new play suggestions.

POTENTIAL PLAYTHING

In almost every home there are articles with which a small boy or girl can have a good time either playing with them alone or with children. Here is potential play material—pots, pans, lids, empty salted butjons, cardboard (shoe) boxes, orange crates or butter boxes, egg beaters and whisks, measuring spoons and measuring cups and empty tins of different sizes.

Of course, care must be taken that these playthings such as the tins have no rough edges or that harmful paint will not be chewed, or that objects like small buttons placed in a child's mouth and swallowed. Ordinary (not spring) clothes pegs can be sterilized for baby to handle. A boy or girl can have a grand time making a clothes peg house with a clothes peg zig-zag fence around it!

Colored buttons are fun to transfer, one by one, from one container to another. They can also be strung on a blunt needle and thread, or sewn on a card as a face, hands and feet for a little "button-man".

The bright colored different size measuring cups are good fun to fit one inside another. The tin cans may be painted and attractive colored illustrations from magazines pasted on them. A "nest" of cans of different sizes can be built into a tower, with a tin which contained baby food on the top and a large size tomato tin at the bottom.

MAKING SCRAP BOOKS

Making scrap books, using blunt scissors and flour-and-water paste is an occupation which will fill the chore table can be a lot of fun for little folk. Don't be too fussy about the way they cut out the colored pictures from old journals! Let them choose their own favorite subjects.

Perhaps they will ask you to make up a story about a pussy or a dog whose adventures carry on the first page. An old mail order catalogue is also good, provided some times doing "pretend shopping". A whole garden can quickly be planted from the catalogue plus a little "make believe."

Old bits of contrasting calicoes can be washed and cut up in different small-shaped pieces for flannel board pictures or designs. An attractive home-made board may be made quickly by cutting a square of flanelette, dying one half green for grass and the other blue for the sky. These are then sewn together, along the horizon, a piece of brown-cord or very heavy cardboard is covered with this material. The felt pieces will not drop off when placed on this flanelette surface.

URGENT QUESTION

"Mummy, what can I do now?" How many mothers of small children are confronted with this urgent question several times per day. Boys and girls want to be busy, they are eager to experiment with fresh toys. Mothers, knowing how expensive many play things are, often sigh when their children pursue them for fresh suggestions for forthcoming activities. Few of them realize how many ordinary things in the household around the house may be converted into play material for a little child.

Take a look at the scrap material you throw out, and salvage the possible bits of play material. An "Emergency Fun Shelf" for handiwork saves money. Boredom on the part of a child for lack of occupation is banished. It may even prevent Mother from nervous exhaustion at the end of a tiring day!

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE B. POWELL

Bishop George Washington Doane, whose missionary song, "Fling Out The Banner", has gone around the world, also wrote this inspiring evening hymn. It first appeared in a little volume of "Songs By The Way" which he published in 1824, when he was scarcely 25 years old.

Its verses are based on the familiar Bible parable in Psalms 141:2

"Let my prayer be set forth before Thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice."

SOFTLY NOW THE LIGHT OF DAY

Softly now the light of day
Fades upon my sight away;
Free from care, from labor, free,
Lord, I would commune with Thee.

Thou, whose all-pervading eye
Naught escapes, without, within,
Pardon each infirmity,
Open fault, and secret sin.

Soon for me the light of day
Shall forever pass away;
Then, from sin and sorrow free,
Take me, Lord, to dwell with Thee.

Born in Trenton, N.J. in 1798, the child in which Washington died, Bishop Doane was named after the first president. At 18, he was graduated from a theological course at Union College with high honors. Soon afterward, he became pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church in Boston—a church which in later years became a famous preaching station under the ministry of Phillips Brooks. He was only 23 when he was made bishop of New Jersey, a post which he held until his death, in 1859.

Bishop Doane will be remembered always for his religious leadership and for his hymns and other writings; his name will always be associated, too, with St. Mary's Hall, a school for young women in Burlington, N.J. which he founded. During his later years he gave much of his time and leadership to his college and when he died he was buried in a little churchyard nearby. For years after his death students were accustomed to gather for worship each Wednesday night in the college chapel and invariably they closed their devotions by singing "Softly Now The Light Of Day" as a memorial tribute to the school's founder.

A Lift For Living
Making Decisions

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

How often we look back to yesterday's decisions, wondering if we reached the right conclusions and spending our energies retrying the cases. We often have not learned the secret of closing the door behind us.

They say baseball managers and players sit after losing games and lie awake re-playing the innings, asking themselves why they did not do this or that. (I imagine that their wives are tactful those nights.)

I have the greatest sympathy with young people in these troubled and uncertain times. I realize how complex life is today with so many more specialties plus the interruptions of military service. To some, no young person today knows quite where he or she will be a year from now. But is there anyone who cannot decide what kind of a person he wants to be a year from now or ten years from now?

In Lindbergh's book, "The Spirit of St. Louis," we see the young man sitting alone in his plane headed out over the Atlantic. Into mind was open to many uncertainties for he was doing something never done before. But he was settled on the question of direction and destination.

The young pilot had convictions and had reached a decision. When we clinch our convictions with action, we strengthen our ideals into standards.

LOYE OF IDEALS

In common use there is quite a difference between an ideal and a standard. An ideal is something we aspire toward; a standard is something we hold ourselves to. We have lots of lofty ideals today, in fact, we have higher ideals than our grandfathers had in many things, such as world peace and industrial justice. But we need to strengthen these ideals into standards of action.

When a person of high standards and decisive action appears in our midst, we feel his strength. He disposes men to follow him. It is men of decision who, when a fire is raging, can calm the crowd and prevent panic. It is men of decisive action who bring order into a demoralized community and rally the forces of righteousness.

It was said of William Pitt that he formed his plans with such promptitude and executed them with such vigor that no man ever spent five minutes with him in conference without leaving a braver man than when he entered.

CLINCH CONVICTIONS

This day will leave each one us either weaker or stronger. If we bear down call of duty and do nothing about it, we shall weaken in the foundation of our character. In a day when we call for positive action to replace so much prevailing negative criticism, let us, each in his own place, clinch our convictions of righteousness by some decisive deeds.

Another way of making ourselves more decisive is to finish some things which we have started. Longfellow revealed one secret of the satisfaction enjoyed by his "Village Blacksmith" in the lines: "Each morning sees some task begun, Each evening sees it close."

Many of us work at tasks which we cannot see finished each day. And some of us have so many irons in the fire and we change them so often that only the hands get hot. But we can go after some things "hammer and tongs" like the village blacksmith and weld them into some finished object.

NO TIME LIKE PRESENT

Some of us are given to procrastination. Maybe we ought to do as the late Dr. Richard Cabot of Boston did. He said that when he was tempted to put things off, he asked himself to name another time which would really be better and then he would mark it down in black and white and let someone else know about it in order to remind him. In that way he usually convinced himself that there was no time like the present for doing what needed to be done.

Perhaps with some of us it is perseverance that we lack. We need to hear the plain words which Andrew Jackson's mother gave him when he was fourteen. She wrote: "Andrew, if I should not see you again, I wish you to treasure up and remember some things. In this world you will have to make your own way. To do this you must have friends. You can make friends by being honest. Keep them by being steadfast."

Maybe steadfastness is another good old-fashioned virtue needed now.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

PERFECT POISE

It is rather natural for people to confuse terms and gulls, as both their coloring and their habits are much alike. Yet there are certain outstanding points of distinction.

Taken as a family, terns are smaller, more daintily built, and do their fishing in an entirely different manner. They fly with great grace, their slender, sharp-pointed bills turned towards the water, and on seeing a fish, plunge headfirst, kingfisher fashion. Although they have been compared to swallows, it is solely because of their appearance in flight and experience of wing. The resemblance is purely superficial.

There are about 30 species of terns distributed around the globe, with 10 in North America. Several show extraordinary endurance, particularly the Arctic tern, which migrates annually from within a few miles of the North Pole, via Europe and Africa, down to the Antarctic. All terns show perfect poise in flight. The whole bird—tail, body, wings, head and bill—is built on graceful lines.

AN ODD TERN

Our largest, the Caspian, is the odd member of the tern family, most like a gull, and yet least apt to build in big colonies as gulls do. This is a beautiful white bird about 22 inches long, with a grey-blue mantle, a slightly forked tail with pointed outer feathers, and long, slender wings.

In winter the adult has a glossy, greenish black crown; its bill is vermilion and its feet black. In autumn the slightly crested head becomes streaked with white. The young are hard to distinguish from their elders, though they are barred and spotted with black on their backs and tails, and their bills may be slimmer and more at an angle.

The breeding grounds of our Canadian Caspians are found mostly in the regions of the Great Lakes, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the coast of southern Labrador, and at Great Slave Lake. They are seen in Newfoundland when migrating. Then they often fly at great heights.

The nesting site is generally a sandy or rocky island, which may be occupied by either a single pair or a small group. More rarely, terns nest with other kinds of terns or even gulls, and live in harmony. Sometimes a pair builds on a big pile of floating vegetation near the shore of a marshy lake. Usually the two or three eggs may be laid either right on the ground, or in a well-lined nest of grass, seaweed, or moss.

What to do...

FOR INTERNAL BLEEDING

Signs of internal bleeding are most important to watch for in any accident, says St. John Ambulance.

These signs are:

Pallor of the face and lips, and cold, clammy skin.

The patient complains of thirst and becomes restless and talkative.

There is giddiness and faintness, especially when standing.

The breathing is hurried and labored and accompanied by yawning and sighing.

The pulse fails and may disappear altogether at the wrist.

The patient has "air hunger"—there are distressed efforts to breathe characterized by throwing the arms about, tugging at the clothing and calling for air.

The patient may at last become quiet, exhausted.

It is important to recognize internal bleeding quickly so that no time will be wasted getting the patient to hospital where he can be treated. The first-aider aid an untrained person can give is to apply an ice bag or cold compresses (cloths soaked in cold water and then wrung dry) over the suspected area. Nothing by mouth should be given to the patient and the patient should be kept warm.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed. Reed

PREDICTS INVASION OF FORMOSA

Clement Attlee, leader of the British Labor Party, says that he found nobody in Red China who advocated a peaceful settlement of the Formosa question—unless it be a peaceful surrender of Chiang Kai-Shek's forces.

Chiang—and the United States—will never accept that solution.

So Formosa appears destined to remain a potential powder-keg—or perhaps we should say atomic reaction.

Attlee's words give added meaning to a prediction by William Stevenson, correspondent of the Toronto Daily Star who has been touring the Far East. Stevenson says that British and French experts on Far Eastern affairs expect the Communists to invade Formosa in October. These views are contrary to the official comments of government spokesmen at London and Washington, but Stevenson says they are also supported by officials with whom he discussed the question in Formosa, Hong Kong, Macao and Indo-China.

Stevenson says that Red China's leaders think that the U.S. Seventh Fleet "might threaten the invasion junks" but do not believe the U.S. government will actively prevent a paratroop drop, which could precede the movement of the invasion fleet.

Remembering recent pronouncements by United States leaders, one can only wonder how the Communist leaders have read such a statement. President Eisenhower has publicly stated that if the Chinese Reds intend to take Formosa they will have to run over the U.S. Seventh Fleet to do so. Senator Knowland, the Republican majority leader in the U.S. Senate, has declared that the U.S. future conflict between Communist China and the United States there would be no more "Yalu River sanctuaries." This statement, if it means anything, means that the U.S. would strike at the invasion fleet but would also attack the bases on the mainland from which these junks sailed. If such action was taken it is difficult to see what would prevent the clash from developing into a full-scale war between Communist China and the United States. Such a war would almost certainly involve other countries, in all likelihood including the British Commonwealth and Russia.

An attack on Formosa could thus easily touch off the Third World War, which all nations, both in the West and in the East, hold in such dread.

Communist China can easily avoid this danger—by refraining from attacking Formosa.

But Stevenson's report indicates that the Communists have passed the point of no return for desiring to eliminate Chiang's stronghold. The Nationalists, he says, "are becoming a serious menace in several ways." They are interfering with coastal traffic by the imposition of a blockade. Recently, Nationalist warship shelled a British vessel. Stevenson says that this blockade "gets the co-operation of U.S. spotting planes." Nationalist planes threaten the mainland and Nationalist planes and parachute troops have been quietly occupying small islands along the Chinese coasts.

The Chinese Communists find that the sauce they used on the gander is unpalatable to them when it is applied to the goose. These attacks by the Nationalists are launched from another "Yalu River sanctuary," for the United States stands ready to prevent an invasion of Formosa while it permits forces from that island to raid the Chinese mainland and, according to Stevenson, actively assists in the blockade of that mainland.

The New York Times, in an editorial on President Eisenhower's reiteration that the U.S. Seventh Fleet would block any Communist attempt to raid Formosa says that "now we know where we stand. There is no effort where we stood before." On June 27, 1950, it points out, President Harry Truman ordered the fleet to prevent any attack on Formosa. "The only difference," says the Times, "was that Mr. Truman asked the Nationalist Government 'to cease all air and sea operations against the mainland', whereas Mr. Eisenhower lifted this restriction."

The only difference—that's what a lot of people overlook. Attlee says that it is his personal feeling that Formosa should somehow be neutralized.

That, in effect, is what Truman did. Eisenhower has altered the policy. Might it not be advisable to reconsider the wisdom of this move?

Even a return to the neutralization policy might not avoid conflict, for Attlee apparently found the Red Chinese leaders in no mood for a peaceful solution. It would, however, rob the Communist leaders of the last shadow of a legitimate excuse for an invasion — and that excuse they will possess as long as Chiang is permitted to raid Red China while Red China is prevented from attacking Formosa.

THE WEATHERWOMAN CHANGES HER WARDROBE

Most of our trouble with the Weatherman, we are convinced, is the result of a faulty identification of sex.

If we would only write "Weatherwoman" we should have much less difficulty in understanding the weather.

We are now at the changing of the seasons and, like any other member of the fair sex, the Weatherwoman is in the process of acquiring a new wardrobe for fall.

Naturally this leads to frequent and unpredictable changes in appearance. One moment the Weatherwoman is tanning herself in the summer sunshine, the next she is arrayed in the storm-clouds of November.

After awhile she will settle down, pack the summer seasons attire in the back of the closet, arrange the rainy-day costumes close at hand for later use and permit us to be charmed by her company in her Indian summer habiliments.

Meanwhile we shall just have to put up with her moods. Truth to tell, her changeability is not without recompense.

"Oh, what a beautiful day!" exclaims someone, as the sun looks us all straight in the eye out of a gown of undappled blue.

A beautiful day it is, but there have been many such days during the summer which dawned and nooned and dusked without earning even passing praise.

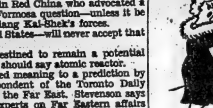
What then now looses the flood of our admiration for today's glories? Why yesterday's miseries, of course.

Nothing so quickly makes us count, and recognize, our blessings as to meet them when freshly come from an intimate inspection of our misfortunes.

So, there be no fear that we shall forget to enjoy than during the summer, what we do have we enjoy more.

The source of our enjoyment, in one sense, is as much yesterday's rain as today's sunshine.

Perhaps that principle applies to more than the weather.



"Here comes an old boy friend of mine - - - look busy."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

September 4, 1928

Mrs. Addison Vandervoort has returned home from a two weeks' motor car tour through the Berkshires and the Adirondacks, the guest of the Rev. Alfred Caldwell and Mrs. Clarke of New Haven, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bigwaes of New York City are the guests of Mrs. Rita Weese, Everett Street.

From our file copy at this time in 1848: The rate of taxation struck this year for municipal purposes is 1½ mills; for school purposes 4½ mills. The rate in Kingston is 18 mills.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Field have left for their home in Winnipeg after spending the summer here with the latter's mother, Mrs. Holmes, George Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harker are spending a vacation in Toronto and at Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Colgier and Helen have returned home after spending a few days in Watertown, N.Y.

30 YEARS AGO

September 4, 1918

Mr. J. J. O'Brien of Regina, Sask., formerly of this city, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. John Reeves of the C.P.R. Telegraph Office, is spending a few holidays in Toronto.

Miss Olive Smith will play several corset selections at the Belle Theatre this evening.

Mr. John Hibbard has returned home from Toronto where he visited his wife.

Mr. "Bud" Galway is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. Cecil Hardwick has returned home after taking in the big fair in Toronto.

Mr. Charles Bonnis is spending a few days in Hamilton.

Mrs. R. A. Backus is visiting friends in Ottawa.

40 YEARS AGO

September 4, 1914

Mr. W. D. Embury is in Toronto on business this week.

Messrs. H. Freeman Ketcheson, J. Caldwell and Charles J. Bowell are visiting the military camp at Valcartier. Messrs. Caldwell and Ketcheson have sons in training at the camp.

Mr. Walter Allore has left to enroll as a student at St. Michael's College, Toronto.

At a meeting of the Belleville Chess and Checker Club it was unanimously decided with the giving of chess and a standing vote, that the salesmen should ask all chess factory patrons and other customers who are not patrons of cheese factories, to send one day's milk to the various factories to be made into cheese and said, the proceeds to be set aside for some patriotic purpose and for relief in this time of stress.

50 YEARS AGO

September 4, 1904

It was very near to frost last night.

Miss Bogart and Miss Rous, John Street, have returned home after several weeks' absence from the city.

Mr. Lucius Adamson of Los Angeles, California, an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit to his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor of Carrington will celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding tomorrow, September 5th, and many friends will be pleased to extend congratulations and express good wishes to them.

The Hon. John A. Vanderwater of Picksmen, M.C., ex-member of the New York State Assembly, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vanderwater in this city.

Ald. Charles W. Salmon is in Toronto on business.

Miss Smith, milliner, has returned to the city after spending some time at Preston Springs and in Chicago.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

DRIFTING

Some time ago a group of young men boarded a raft in San Francisco Bay, provisioned for a long ocean food nor water. They believed that they could keep afloat and be carried out of the ocean and that they could distill enough sea water to keep them until they came to their journey's end. And their journey's end was to be Hawaii. It was their theory that they could let the raft drift and that it would drift to Hawaii.

Of course they were soon sending out S.O.S. messages for help. They did not catch the fish they expected to. The distillation of sea water was not as successful as they had anticipated. Worst of all the raft did not start floating toward Hawaii, but instead went to sea.

All of which should teach not only them, but us as well, never get anywhere by drifting. Some people think they can drift into executive positions and high salaries. Some boys and girls go to college under the delusion that they can drift through to commencement day without doing any work.

Worst of all, many people believe they can drift into heaven. Why worry at all? Because if you miss that port you are in a safe state indeed.

We never get anywhere by drifting.

TO THE END

You're not beaten while you're trying
And there still is time to win.
But your final chance is gone
When you think of giving in.

There are times conditions alter.
Try of speed another burst.
Should your faster rival falter,
At the tape you may be first.

Every victory has depended
On the finish line being crossed.
Nothing's over till it's ended.
Until then you haven't lost.

Till the contest is completed
Fight it out through thick and thin.
Keep in mind you're not defeated
While you've still a chance to win.

Bungalow Blues

(By JOAN FINNIGAN in the Ottawa Journal)

For five years now I have been looking at the modern bungalow as it appears in the magazines, in the movies and occasionally in a friend's back yard. I have envied its smoothness, its trim, streamlined air of labor-saving devices and invariably neighborly look compact livability, its utilization of every square inch. And now I have lived in one.

Yes, thanks to the kindly cooperation of several mortgage companies we recently bought a modern bungalow in the medium-price range. It has all those salable assets which fall so glibly off the real estate agent's tongue—forced air heating, air conditioning, electric hot water heater, tile bath and kitchen, hardwood throughout, private drive, attached garage, aluminum storms and screens. If you've bought recently, you've heard it.

More than all this, I might add that the vendors didn't take everything with them. They left storms and screens, the clothes line, the picket fence and the two full-grown trees at the front of the house.

All in all it is a perfectly lovely house. There is only one thing wrong. We don't like it.

The house is too pat, too complete, too impersonal. For one thing it is not the house for us and we are not the people for it. On it public-spirited builder-owner it has been completely gone over and "decorated from door to door for two weeks' holiday. The photographers should come in then. But the rugs, the drapes, the furniture and interior decoration are obviously not the work of any one person. Not the result of the taste of two people with bodies. Right now we are looking for rug on a drapery frame sight by ten feet. The bathroom is done in pink and the dress one of the bedrooms is almost as small and I have finally found a place to store the frame along one of the kitchen walls.

The only comfort is that the children have found it they come charging through the kitchen and hit it in the right place it will come crashing down on my head as I stand at the sink in the store. They think it quite an interesting game and I wish they'd find it.

As a back writer I have a certain amount of equipment, in the shape of books, which I found a corner of the study where I could hide them. But my friends who house also had the grace to bend to the hard lines of filing cabinets, typewriter tables, desks and even stacks of unfinished stories. But I have no such luxury. My shameless mess a mockery of my motley equipment. I have been interested to discover that there is space but no inspiration. I don't like it.

We have some funny ideas about kids, too. We like to give them as much freedom as is humanly possible within our code.

In our big old house they ran their electric trains on the floor without trouble because they got faster that way. They finger-painted on the walls and liked making the paper. They ran trucks without wheels, brought the gang in out of the rain and just generally enjoyed life. Here I am no more and no less than the landlord and I am afraid to let them roll their motor a drying cloth in my hand and I put iron around them one spill to another trying to keep our investment intact. And I like it.

Outside the situation is no better. At Whitby the children had room to romp. They could fall out of a dozen apple trees, climb the neighbors' fences and play ball in the lawn. Here in suburbia I am given to understand that our children are lowering the real estate values. The neighbors don't look kindly on the pieces of lumber, pots and pans, trucks and old automobile tires I have admired which find their way to our lawn.

To make a very long list of complaints very short we find we just don't belong. We don't like the way those people do in the picture magazines.

Our new, modern, fully-equipped bungalow is up for sale. It took us two weeks to find we couldn't live in it and it will probably cost us two weeks more before we can get rid of it.

We're looking for a gracious old farm house in the country. If it has charm and room, I don't care about the state of the plumbing. Plumbing is something I find you can put in without charm and graciousness and livability which can't be added or taken away like additions. They also can't be evaluated in dollars.

We'd even consider converting an old barn or schoolhouse. Anybody got one?

'Dirty Words' In Ottawa

(Winnipeg Tribune)

In the course of his research Dr. Eugene Forsey turns up some interesting information. Among the works Dr. Forsey uses in his study is the Canada Year Book, official publication of the Dominion Government.

Dr. Forsey said in the (To Ottawa Journal) that in the 1954 Canada Year Book what could appear, as recently as 1953, under the heading "The Ministry," now appears under the heading "Parliament Executive." Also what appeared under the "House of Commons" and "Parliamentary Representation", now appears under "Parliament" and "Legislature."

The key story well be that the words "Ministry," "House of Commons" and "Parliament" are the dirty words of official dirty words like "Dominion."

How Can One Tell a Clerk?

(Financial Post)

The days are gone when heavy suits and high collars were almost compulsory for male salesmen and there is much thanksgiving for the comfort of synthetic fibres and tropical weights during summer.

But there is one drawback, in this hatless, jacketless fashion. Go shopping in almost any large Canadian city these days and you are likely to have an awful time trying to tell who is who, to distinguish a sales clerk from your fellow shopper. While you are fumbling around you have probably approached by other harried shopper who mistake you for a member of the store staff.

What are the stores doing about this, we asked.

One large department store now very kindly sold its female salesclerks are required to wear stockings. Well, that's distinction of a kind.

Should shoppers equip themselves with cameras to help proclaim "I am not a sales clerk"? Or should they wear a similar uniform, so that they would be simpler if they wore the identification.

The Montreal branch of one big department store chain is experimenting this summer with such identification as name badges.

We think it's a good idea. We know personally, from time to time, just walked out—fed up and frustrated with the struggle of getting out to the shopper versus salesman struggle.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

REPLACE THOSE REGRETS

Nothing is so futile as age-old regrets. Yet people keep digging them up, or taking them from the cemetery, and trying to give life to something that long ago expired. There is nothing constructive in regret. It is destructive. We are forever looking backward, regret, the better. What possible good can come from habitually regretting? It is the most common are the expressions of regret on the part of us all!

Learn to "forget about it." Your mind is your own. Make it your servant. Allow nothing yesterday to trip you up. Glory in today and its opportunities. When you lose, try to capitalize that loss by a wise given to understand that our children are lowering the real estate values. The neighbors don't look kindly on the pieces of lumber, pots and pans, trucks and old automobile tires I have admired which find their way to our lawn.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

DOCTOR OF DENTAL SURGERY, TELL ME MORE

Dr. Brady

I forgot now just what bit of simple truth I told here irked some of the nineteenth century dentists still in practice — perhaps the cheerful little toothbrush-ingest people (Americans) who have the poorest teeth in the world and the people of Tobacco Road, who had no use for toothbrushes or dentifrice (at least up to 1950 when I was there) had the best teeth in the world before the "Loathless Isle" became industrialized by the fish canning interests.

Thereafter divers throw-away publications which, I'm afraid, are the only magazines some dentists read, delighted their readers by castigating "this cult," "this boy," "little Willie" and "Dr. Brady." Privately, I get a chuckle out of such effusions because the resort to scarcity suggests that the clean - tooth - never - decays school of dentists have run out of valid arguments.

"Dyndicate Quack Brady, tell me more!" writes a dentist who marvels at the nerve of a mere medical man . . . and the same letter tells me (as though he is sure of it) that the cause of tooth decay is — what else? — neglect of proper mouth cleanliness, etc., etc. There are a great many dentists who are of the same opinion and, unfortunately, millions of credulous people in Yankeeland who, like wide-eyed children, believe that they can keep their teeth by everlastingly cleaning them with trick brush and glorified soap.

Here's a curious, indeed a typical news item initialed by Aunt Nellie but not dated. "There are only 30 perfect sets of teeth in the United States according to . . . a speaker on the program of . . . the American Dental Association convention . . . He stated that this low number to the country's population do not use tooth brushes."

The dentists must pull such "facts" out of the air. I'm sorry the news item is not dated—easy—by 2 fillers at fifteen or twenty years ago. However, I doubt that there are twenty perfect sets of teeth in Yankeeland.

I saw many sets of perfect teeth on Tristan da Cunha in 1936 and the Tristan people had no use for tooth brushes or dentifrice—flavored with rum, cherry, chocolate or lime. They just lived on unrefined food.

Another dentist writes to thank me, if you don't believe it I have his letter here to show you (unkvidded, of course, the dentist will give me his written consent)—for pieces in which I have urged people not to sacrifice teeth that may continue giving good service for many years when repaired by the dentist. The idea that prevails among the laity, he says, is to have all teeth out and plates inserted, and then your tooth troubles are over. The poor geeks (as I say, not the dentist) don't realize it, but their real troubles have only begun when they have had all their teeth out.

This dentist makes two practical observations. The first, that more or less refitting or reconstruction of artificial dentures is necessary every two or three years if the patient wishes to retain functional occlusion . . . and second, if the masses were fairly educated as to the development, preservation, value and duty of their teeth from infancy to old age, there would be little physical ailments of the human body would be prevented. Why not give this practical idea (prevention of disease) more attention in this publication?

A capital suggestion, Doctor, but you are just one out of thousands of dentists. If most of them would be glad if I were—although I wish just a little encouragement and co-operation from dentists of your calibre we could, indeed, do much to save folks' teeth.

In a series of talks to follow we'll endeavor to apply the prophylaxis recommended by one of the best dental journals, and see how the 200 take it.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

On the Duke of Edinburgh's recent journey across the sub-arctics of Canada, from Whitehouse in the Yukon to Coronation Gulf on the Arctic Coast, and then to Yellow-Knife and Churchill on Hudson's Bay, I carried two flyrods and a line assortment of trout flies in the special press plane which followed the royal progress. Followed, indeed? We practically had to be at each spot ahead of him, and partly because the plane was piloted by two experienced bush pilots, one of whom was an addict of trout fishing. But I did, that we could get in far enough ahead of him to keep a teeny weeny little bit of fishing.

I have never caught an Arctic grayling. I have met a few of my nobler ambitions. Before embarking on the trip, my journey across our secret and indescribably beautiful Far North, I made sure that a small Black Gnat was the fly. But I took along a few others of this and that, in case the Black Gnat was not the fly.

Alas, the Duke was too swift. We encountered fog and a few tricky cloud layers that we hoped might impede him even a couple of hours. But his pilots, besides being RCAF, apparently were bush men. They came in on instruments never got my rods out of their cases. And Mouse Lake, the first eagle pilot, and I, shed not a few tears.

Perhaps the saddest moment of my happily misspent life occurred at Whitehorse in the Yukon. We arrived in time to go to bed. Next morning, the Duke was to arrive at noon, and we had to take off shortly after 2 p.m. to beat him to Fort Simpson. The Yukon River itself runs through the midst of Whitehorse, a glorious, racing, gin-clear river. I looked at it from my bedroom window.

At noon, one hour before our packing up, a young gentleman, a Mountie, a member of White-horse, came up to me.

"I hear you are interested in fishing?" he enquired, "Sorry I could have taken you, at eight o'clock this morning. Spent nine minutes by plane to a lake. We could have been back by 11 a.m. without our limit of Arctic grayling and trout. . . ."

I burst straight into sobs.

'One' Chinese Is Suspect

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Not the fact that there are now more than 2,000,000 Chinese, but rather that the Peiping census shows 801,912,371 Chinese, is what interested Ray Atherton in the recent figures released. That "one" Chinese bringing up the rear of such an impressive figure arouses one's curiosity.

Was the lopping count really that thorough? And, if it were, could parallels be found not the census-taking use up sufficient time to permit a few million more Chinese to spring up in the second, and so render the original count fair off the target?

Or perhaps that lone Chinese who threw a monkey wrench into the works round figures of the census was an errant Nationalist.

What a chance for conjecture!

Crowded Schools Will Continue For Another Year

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Crowded schools — problem of Canadian schoolchildren, taxpayers, parents and pupils since the end of the Second World War—will continue for at least another year.

A country-wide survey by The Canadian Press on the eve of the opening of primary and secondary schools after the summer vacation shows that every province faces a shortage of school rooms. The situation is most acute in urban areas.

Despite school-building programs costing tens of millions of dollars, there are still more children than facilities to educate them.

TEACHING PROBLEM

Shortage of teachers still prevails. Most provinces are employing teachers with only limited qualifications, some even recruiting teachers from the British Isles.

Education officials in British Columbia estimate the 1954-55 enrolment will be 219,000, about 12,000 more than last year. Eighteen new schools have been added.

In an attempt to meet a teacher shortage, the Alberta department of education trained 121 "student teachers" in a four-week training course.

The number of students enrolling this fall will be 186,000, compared with 180,500 in 1953-54. To meet this increase, 200 new classrooms were built.

Saskatchewan has hired 190 teachers from the British Isles to help alleviate an expected shortage of 300 teachers. There have been 219 new classrooms built.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Children in some rural areas, where schools cannot be established, receive their lessons through the mail. Religious studies will be introduced in all Saskatchewan schools for 90 minutes every week.

Manitoba has the brightest back-to-school picture. No serious congestion is expected, in spite of an increased enrolment of 5,000 students. Many new schools are being built.

Attendance in Ontario schools is estimated at more than 978,000, an increase of 22,000 over last year's enrolment. An additional 2,100 classrooms have been provided at a cost of more than $37,000,000.

Some 2,300 teachers graduated from teachers' colleges and normal schools in the province, and more than 100 were engaged from the British Isles. There is still a shortage, however.

In Quebec, 1,000 new classrooms bringing the total in the province to more than 13,000, have been built to meet an increase of 33,000 students in Catholic and Protestant schools. Enrolment in Catholic schools is expected to be about 685,000 and about 98,000 in Protestant schools.

The province faces a shortage of 1,200 teachers.

IN EASTERN CANADA

New Brunswick expects a serious teacher shortage in the near future. The province's school population is expected to be 112,000, about 2,000 more than the capacity of the schools in the province.

Rural areas in Nova Scotia are experiencing a serious shortage of teachers. The problem is not so acute in urban districts.

Over-crowded facilities in Prince Edward Island are gradually improving, and some new schools are being built. Enough teachers are available to fill all positions, but some have no formal training.

About 120 teachers are needed in Newfoundland, chiefly for country schools.

Classrooms in St. John's are crowded, and it is expected about 300 pupils will not be admitted.

Marmora

MARMORA—Mr. Stanley McInroy of Bonarlaw, is planning the erection of a new residence on his lot south of the residence of Harold Price.

Miss Barbara Mehlejohn has been appointed music supervisor for Centre Hastings District Public Schools. She will teach music in nine schools, her duties to commence with the re-opening of schools on September 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin McCoy spent the week-end in Niagara Falls, Ont.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Sache, of Odessa, visited relatives here, on Thursday.

Mrs. G. Blair of Deloro, was the lucky winner of the basket of groceries in the drawing sponsored by St. Paul's Ladies' Guild.

CONVENIENT FIRE

STRATFORD, (CP) — W. P. Speak of Woodstock drove his tire to the fire hall here.

Coming out of a restaurant he found the tire beat out by the fire. He jumped in and drove the few blocks to the fire hall where surprised firemen soon put out the blaze.

A burning cigaret butt is believed to have caused the fire.

PERSISTENT BABY BOTTLE

In a large family, the youngest child can often be an odd combination of spoiled brat and self-reliant individualist. The first child is usually the victim of all sorts of baby books. It can't make an atypical move without stirring up a crisis.

By the time it has survived its fourth or fifth child comes along, mother finds out not only that babies are capable of weaning themselves at the help of 24-hours-a-day of nervous solicitude, but also that they had darned well better. When there are growing children to be fed properly, disciplined, sent to school, bandaged, solaced and instructed, she has to learn to do a certain amount of shifting for himself. He may learn to walk, talk, feed himself and dress himself at an earlier age than his brother or sister did.

On the other hand, surrounded by doting brothers and sisters, he can be stickier in their way than grandparents, he comes to rely on solicitude and the limelight.

He is a cute little rascal, and he is well aware of it. Cross him and he'll stamp his feet and roar. For this reason it is difficult to break him of bad habits, but it is necessary to make every effort to do so, because a child of this sort is willing more stubbornly to babble than his older brothers or sisters.

Question: "My sixth child is almost two years old now, and still insists on taking his bottle to bed with him. My other children were always given their bottle on my lap, and so never developed the habit of taking a bottle to bed. By the time the last one came along I had my hands full most of the time and so to save trouble I trained him to hold his own bottle in the pen in bed. I don't know how to break him of it. Should I wait until he naturally outgrows it, or should I put up with a few more nights of screaming and hollering? Incidentally I have tied him to keep him in bed, though he's quite good-natured about it!"

Answer: It would be a good idea now to try to break him of the habit, though this is probably easier said than done and you know better than I. I suppose one way you will have to endure for the first week or so. Possibly the habit won't do any harm, but like a great many habits, it is likely to vanish of its own accord. It will take some discouraging on your part, and now is a good time to start, before it becomes more deeply rooted.

There is a remote possibility that the bottle might cause your child to gain a pound in his diet and choke on his vomit. Another objection is that most two-year-olds have the capacity to create a banging and breaking bottles on walls or other beds, and of course there would be danger that bedtrom broken glass.

SUMMER

Summer is astray today
Loitering over vale and hill,
Smiling by the singing stream,
Strewing blossoms at her will;
Trailing are her robes of light,
Glinting gold is in her hair,
Limpid pools her eyes so bright
Castles magic everywhere.

Oh! the glamor that she flings
As azur her footsteps press,
Sunshine lingers where she strays,
Every breeze a fond caress;
Freighted - fields their harvest yields—
Gleaming gold and russet brown—
All the bounty of the year
At her feet we lay it down.

Summer is astray today
Over field and hill and dale,
And her spirit calls away
Out upon the magic trail;
Soon she'll vanish from our sight,
Lost to vale and field and wood,
Echoes of her footsteps light
Break upon the solitude.

But when Autumn, dreamy-eyed,
Haunts the mountain and the plain,
Flaunts her robes all crimson-dyed,
Brings her riches once again,
Summer's spirit will return
When the days are cool and still,
Trail again her robes of light
Over wood and vale and hill.
—Helen B. Anderson.

WELLINGTON—Summer is still with us. We had evidence of this in Bancroft last week, when the heat in that northland for a few days was almost unbearable. To me, those were the warmest days of the present summer. On the cluster of Riverside cabins encircled by the rounded, wooded hills the sun beat down intensely — a real surprise, for we had expected cool days and cooler nights. The once thriving tourist traffic also proclaimed the reign of summer.

But there was the road here and there, the bloom of the golden-rod and an occasional glow of scarlet foliage gave a hint of coming autumn.

Is Your WILL Up to Date?

Many people review their Will from time to time. Your executor may have moved away or become ill or become unable to give sufficient time and attention to administer your estate. In view of the considerable changes in dollar values your Estate has probably changed in value.

You may have given too many legacies, or too large in amount, under your Will and have deprived your wife and children of sufficient to provide for their care and keep. You may have to adjust some of the shares going to beneficiaries. Births, marriages and deaths in your family may have made your estate plans obsolete. Increased succession duties and income taxes may affect the estate plans made by you for your family.

Your Will is one of the most important documents you will ever be called upon to sign. If you have a Will, we suggest that you review it now—and if not, make your Will now and appoint Victoria and Grey Trust Company as Executor.

It costs no more to have group judgment and financial responsibility.

Weddings

KERR—SANDHAM

St. Andrew's United Church, Marmora, Ontario, was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday, September 1st, at 2.30 p.m. when the Rev. R. A. Crawford, pastor of the church, united in marriage Joan Edna Sandham, of Deloro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sandham, to William Stanley Kerr, of Marmora, son of Mr. George Kerr and the late Mrs. Kerr. Lovely multi-colored gladioli graced the chancel rail for the ceremony.

The wedding music was rendered by Miss Alice Fraser, the soloist was Mrs. L. Rundle.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Sidney Sandham, the bride wore a lovely gown of tulle and lace with matching three-quarter lace jacket having lily-pointed sleeves, molded bodice and full floor-length skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of pearls encrusted with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red American Beauty roses and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Jean Stephenson, of Belleville, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Don Goodchild, of Deloro, and Miss Muriel Conant, of Belleville, as bridesmaids, were attired alike in lovely tulle gowns of similar design with fitted bodices and full floor-length skirts, the maid of honor in apricot color, and the bridesmaids in mauve and yellow, respectively. They were matching halo headdresses and carried bouquets of gladioli daisies.

Little Miss Karen Devolin, of Belleville, niece of the bride-to-be, was flower girl, dressed in her floor-length frock of lemon yellow tulle with matching halo headdress and carrying a tiny basket of mixed summer flowers.

Mr. Kenneth Kerr, of Toronto, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Mr. Vaughan Glover, of Marmora, and Mr. Don Goodchild, of Deloro, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church hall. Marmora, where the bride's mother, wearing navy blue with matching hat and navy accessories, with corsage of red carnations and stephanotis.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Gordon Devolin, of Belleville, assisted in receiving, wearing a medium blue silk with matching accessories, and corsage of pink roses and stephanotis.

For the wedding trip to points west and the United States, the bride chose a grey silk ensemble, with matching grey accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will reside in the Township of Tudor.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HER HUSBAND WON'T WORK—SHOULD SHE LEAVE?

A 25-year-old wife, mother of three years of marriage, has reached the point where she is thinking of leaving her husband. has these reasons for feeling 'as she does:

"For two of the three years we have been married, my husband was in service. Before he went in, he refused to work, giving as his excuse the fact that he owed his life. While he was away, he sent him money constantly, but he always spent more than we could afford anyhow. Now, in the few months he has been home, he will work only off and on, and our bills are piling up. I did work, but had to quit because of my nerves.

"My husband comes from a family with money, and he knows that if he doesn't work, our bills do pile up, he can always go to his folks for help. For my part, I feel that a young couple should be on their own. I have been taught that if you want things bad enough, they are worth working for.

"I have told my husband that I would give him one more chance to prove he can take responsibility and that if, after a certain length of time, he still fails to do so, I would leave him.

"Was I wrong, and if so, what else can I do?"

Personally, I think this young wife was right in what she told her husband, because a young man as irresponsible, as he appears to be, is not going to become responsible without some big incentive to turn over a new leaf. So long as he can sponge on his family, and that his wife will assume responsibility rightfully his, he is almost certain to lie back and let the rest of them carry him along.

On the other hand, the wife should be careful not, to take any step that would automatically destroy her husband's incentive to become a dependable character. By this, I mean that if it should be necessary for her to make good her threat to leave him, she should not let him believe that the break between them is necessarily a permanent one. Instead, she should make it crystal-clear that whether the separation proves permanent or only temporary is a matter of his own choosing; that she will hold open for a reasonable length of time the opportunity for him to show how much he really loves and wants her by getting a job and demonstrating a sincere intention to provide her with a home and take over its maintenance.

But let me earnestly advise her, however, not to keep dangling before her husband the threat of separation. Having said her say, and stated, beyond any possibility of misunderstanding, what she intends to do if he continues to shrug off his proper responsibilities, she should let the matter drop. Let her name a definite period during which he will have ample chance to prove himself; then, if nothing happens, she should calmly and quietly carry out the announced intention. Nagging at her husband in the meantime, and constantly reminding him that he is likely to lose her, will only weaken her case. The effect of what she has told him will be far greater if she does not refer to it again, but, instead, during the period she has set, carries on as cheerfully, and as attractively as possible.

I hope she will let me know what the final outcome of her problem may be.

QUESTION:

Let me thank you for all your help—your recipe for Tea Biscuits Supreme alone has won me admiration and gratitude. My egg measure 1 1-2 tablespoons. To measure your egg for the 1-3 batch of muffins, beat the egg to mix it until it just begins to foam, then you can carefully pour it into measuring tablespoon. Measure the 1-3 tablespoon by measuring 1 full teaspoon and one full 1-3 teaspoon.

However it is not important to be so accurate in a muffin recipe. If desired you could use one whole yullet egg.

Thanking you, Mary T.

The average-sized egg measures, when beaten to mix, but not foam, 3 tablespoons. One-half egg measure 1 1-2 tablespoons. HOMEMADE HORSERADISH

Wash the roots and scrape well, then grate very finely on fine hand grater, trimming off any discolored parts. Mix with just enough white vinegar to moisten thoroughly and store in tightly corked or covered bottles. A more elaborate preparation is: To 3 tablespoons freshly grated horseradish add 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 3 tablespoons cream, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt. Mix well and store covered. This does not store well.

PREPARED MUSTARD NO. 1

One-quarter cup each mustard and vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons salad oil. Mix together the dry mustard, sugar and salt. Mix thoroughly with the oil until smooth, then add the vinegar. Store tightly covered. If this is too sharp to your taste add a little more oil.

PREPARED MUSTARD NO. 2

This is more elaborate but is quite mild. Mix together dry 3 tablespoons dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, then slowly beat into them 1 egg. When smooth stir in 1 cup vinegar. Stir this in top of double boiler over boiling water for about 4 or 5 minutes or until it thickens, slightly. Let cool. Beat in 1 tablespoon salad oil. Store covered.

Horseradish may be added to No. 2 if you care to mix the two condiments.

GOOD MANNERS

BLACK DRESS TO WEDDINGS?

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

I have been told that it is absolutely incorrect for a woman guest at a wedding, one who is just a friend, not a member of either family, to wear black. Is this really true? — Roseanne

No. Today, when so many women wear black dresses and black suits, it just couldn't be true. . . many of them wouldn't have any other color dress or suit in their daytime wardrobe! But, to wear to the wedding, the costume need not, of course, be the most tiered black suggestive of mourning. With the black dress or suit, the accessories that, gloves, and so forth), should be chosen to lighten the black.

TEN WHEN SHOULD RISE TOO.

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

To settle a discussion, please answer this question: When men rise in honor of a prominent gentleman as he enters or is introduced at a meeting or a dinner, should the ladies present rise also? — L. and M.

Yes. The women should rise to show the same deference as the men show by rising. For the women not to rise would be most impolite, unbecoming, socially awkward.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMESON

HAIR CARE PAYS BEAUTY DIVIDENDS

Are you worrying about your hair? Has it lost that lustrous, live look that adds so much to its loveliness. Is there a slight thinning at the temples? Perhaps you have taken for granted that your tresses would ever stay the same, get along without petting and coddling.

It is strange that the least expensive hair treatment is the one that is most neglected. Brushing! Through daily brushing! No better beauty aid was ever coined than the "hundred strokes a day." Our grandmothers realized the true benefits of that routine. Hair-do those days was valued for its length as well as abundance of growth and yard-long pigtail material was a source of pride to them.

There's hygiene as well as beauty to be considered. Brushing removes dead shafts, does a good cleansing job on scalp and surface dust. The bristles tug at the hair roots, have a vitalizing influence upon the circulation in the scalp.

One should not economize when buying a brush. The best kind is the type used in beauty shops—narrow with bristles of different lengths placed in groups. Such a brush can be kept cleaner than a wide one with massed bristles.

Hold the brush firmly in your hand, start at the scalp, pull the bristles with strong strokes clear to the ends. If the growth extends below the shoulders, it is advisable to braid a strand at a time, holding the hair away from the head, using a rolling motion.

The back hair is treated by letting the head droop forward and brushing up to the crown. Don't forget that the hair is nourished through the circulatory streams which must, therefore, function normally.

When washing a brush use luke warm water and mild suds. Whisk it under the tap for a rinsing in tepid water. Place bristles downward for drying.

Women's Activities

HAZZARD'S W.M.S.

The Woman's Missionary Society members of the United Church, of Hazzard's and ward auxiliaries were recent guests of Hazzard's W.M.S. at the home of Mrs. Max Burnside, spending a most enjoyable evening together, when Mrs. Kenneth Elliott, of Tweed, president of the Belleville Presbyterial of the W.M.S., spoke to the ladies.

In her address she made reference to Roy Hall's book, "New Light From Old Lamps", using as the Scripture text from Deut. 15 serving some ideas and suggestions with the members which were applicable to all. All W.M.S. members were called to be prophets in the church; begin with the children; parents are traditional moral guardians of homes; learn to pray by prayers.

Asia is the land of to-morrow; Africa is the land of the day after to-morrow, Mrs. Elliott also gave some thoughts on "Christian Citizenship, Unity, Temperance and Peace," and reminded all to to witness for Christ wherever they are and always share the faith with others. She concluded a worthwhile address with prayer.

Others taking part in the meeting were, Mrs. Max Burnside, president of the Hazzard's W.M.S., who presided throughout the meeting; Mrs. Lorne McCoy, who conducted the Worship service, assisted by Miss A. Richards. Miss Alma Moorcroft, who gave a reading "Go With God." A solo, "Evening Hymn" was given by Miss Jean Love and a beautiful prayer by Mrs. W. Blair.

Mrs. Philo Harris was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. A. Kellar, who gave a reading "Friendship"; Mrs. R. N. Broad spoke on the aims of the W.M.S. and had the pleasure of introducing the speaker, Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. A. Empey favored with a piano solo.

Mrs. J. Lane extended thanks to Mrs. Burnside and Hazzard's W.M.S. for their hospitality and to Mrs. Elliott for her address.

A pleasant social time followed.

Ryerson Press, United Church Publishing House, 125 Yrs. Old

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Col. Joseph Ryerson, an Anglican farmer in his then newly-settled Niagara peninsula, forced his fourth son Egerton to make a choice: his home or the Methodist Church.

Egerton chose the Methodists and was turned out of his home.

The decision led to greatness. At 26, Egerton founded the Christian Guardian, the organ of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in 1829. He eventually became chief superintendent of education for Upper Canada and laid the foundation for the present educational system of Ontario. The paper fathered one of Canada's largest present-day publishing firms.

FOUNDED 125 YEARS AGO

Today, The Ryerson Press, the United Church publishing house, is celebrating its 125th anniversary.

From an original investment of $2,000—30 ministers pledged $100 each—the paper grew to a present $4,000,000 concern.

The Ryerson Press was born at the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada at Annister, Ont., in August, 1828. A committee, appointed to consider the publishing of a church paper, chose young Egerton, now an ordained minister, as its first editor and book steward.

A printing press, one of the first to appear in Canada, was transported from New York by river-boat, canal and lake barge and ox-cart to muddy Toronto.

The first issue appeared Nov. 21, 1829. That same year the Guardian printed its first book, a 162-page edition entitled "The Doctrine and Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada."

CRUSADING EDITOR

As editor and publisher of the Guardian, Ryerson wrote on matters of concern to both the church and the state. He fought editorially for responsible government, freedom of worship, freedom of the press and free education.

The publishing house flourished from the time Dr. C. H. Dickinson, its book steward and general manager since 1857, said in an interview that the firm has never gone in the red "but it has been pretty close to it."

In 1833, the Guardian branched out into general publication with the appearance of James Everett's book "The Village Blacksmith; or Truth and Usefulness Illustrated in a Memoir of the Life of Samuel Hick."

Among the early publications were two translations by Egerton Ryerson into the Indian language—"Neturn Ewh Oomahnenaindumoo Gaw Genesis, ayin henakahdagk" (the first book of Moses, called Genesis), and "Pungk Ewh Kahdeshewahnenindiwah, Egwuh Anahmeahjig Wesleyan Methodist, Aztheenahahdug Emah Canada" (Part of the Discipline of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada).

LEADER IN EDUCATION

Ryerson remained as editor for three terms, totalling 16 years. He went on to found Ontario's educational system as well as Victoria University, United Church college here, but his influence over the publishing house was felt for years after.

In 1842, the general conference's book committee decided to expand the plant. Some outstanding debts must be collected from the agents—the ministers, itinerant or stationed, were agents for the book and periodicals. The committee adopted a resolution: "Resolved that the book steward shall not be allowed to trust any person's book account more than £25."

Some of the early printing was done in the offices of Richmond Hill. William Briggs at one time published the Christian Guardian there and present-day publishing house was known as the Methodist Book and Publishing House.

The policy adopted by the book committee has been followed over the years by the book stewards and successors of book

MANAGER

Rev. Clarence Heber Dickinson, 53, of Toronto has been general manager of the 125-year-old Ryerson Press in Toronto since 1938. Educated in Toronto, where he received his B.A. from Victoria College in 1921, Dr. Dickinson guided the Ryerson Press and the church paper—the United Church Observer—through the war and post-war years. The publishing house now employs 400 people. (CP Photo).

editor, a literary critic and advisor.

ENDED WITH UNION

The Christian Guardian died with the union of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches in 1925. It was succeeded by New Outlook, the official publication of the United Church, edited by Dr. Briggs' successor, Dr. Samuel E. Fallis. Dr. D. M. Solloway took over in 1932 and he was succeeded by Dr. Dickinson in 1938. Dr. Dickinson guided The Ryerson Press and the church paper—renamed the United Church Observer in 1939—through the war and post-war years. Today, it employs 400 persons.

Its Ryerson fiction award, an annual prize of $1,000 initiated by Dr. Lorne Pierce, book editor for the last 32 years, is a sought-after prize by Canadian authors.

Dr. Dickinson says the house publications are generally 50-50 on secular and religious nature.

"We draw lines on the type of fiction we publish, but we don't try not to be prudish."

It leaves political affairs alone but publishes books and pamphlets on public affairs.

The Ryerson Press is administered by a 13-man board of publication appointed by the general council of the church. Elmer Davis of Kingston has been chairman of the board for the last 10 years.

Says Prosecutions Will Be Started

TORONTO (CP)—Labor Minister Daley, administrator of Ontario's fair employment practices Act, said Thursday prosecutions will be started if necessary to enforce the anti-discrimination legislation.

It was hoped, however, that education rather than prosecution would end discrimination, he said.

A Toronto Negro couple, Julian Brooks, 26 and Gladys Grindle, 25, were reportedly refused service in restaurants in Dresden, Ont., Wednesday. An American Negro couple also said recently that they were discriminated against in a Dresden restaurant.

Mr. Daley said these examples could be attributed to a couple of stubborn people who would not cooperate. It did not mean the act was a failure, he said.

The act provides for a fine of from $50 to $100 for anyone denying "any person or class of person accommodation, service or facilities available in any place to which the public is admitted because of race, creed, colour, nationality, ancestry or place of origin of such person or class of person."

Workers Being Swallowed Up By Unions, Lawyers Declare

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — In many labor disputes unions concerned solely with their own welfare are the only most separating workers and management, a report to be released here by a committee of Alberta lawyers.

The report recommend that a conciliator be permitted to submit directly to the workers any company offer he considers worth their attention.

The strongest language of any of the reports presented Thursday and Friday to the industrial relations section of the Canadian Bar Association is contained in the Alberta group's "memorandum and recommendation regarding arbitration and conciliation procedures in the realm of Canadian labor relations."

LOSING IDENTITY

It has this to say about workers and their unions:

"It is feared workers themselves, as labor union members, are rapidly losing their true identity. They are being swallowed up by the machine whose function in many instances has become the welfare of the machine and not the members who created it.

The report said union members have but little to say in their own interest.

"Unions evolve the policies and decide whether to permit adjustments, accept compromises or hold out to the bitter end to achieve their purpose. This condition is confirmed by disastrous and sustained strikes called on such issues as union shop, speed-off and reduced working hours."

HOLDS INTEREST

Meanwhile, the chief topic of corridor discussion at the association's annual meeting continued to be a controversial report charging Canadians trying to return from abroad have been stranded anywhere up to five years by "shocking" procedural practices in the citizenship and migration department.

Of the individual cases catalogued but not made public it is understood the most concern Asiatics claiming to be born in Canada citizenship or their close relatives, who are trying to get into Canada if they can prove their kinship.

The report was prepared by three members of the parliamentary assistant, one the lawyer son of a famous busy player and the chairman who was the Liberal opposition's Progressive Conservative leader George Drew in the last election.

The major issue is that a Canadian barred from his homeland because he is a Communist suffers no redress to the satisfaction of a department representative overseas has no recourse to the courts.

AIDS JUSTICE

In replying to the charges Thursday, Lewis Fortier, deputy minister of citizenship and immigration, said this lack of access to the courts in such cases rather than hinders it because the danger of a judicial body hearing the cases of persons who have been refused entry is that a court decision is in many cases final.

To this J. H. McDonald of Ottawa, secretary-committee chairman, said: "Every day people go to litigation. One party is bound to succeed and one party is bound to fail. They take that chance."

The other sub-committee members are John Dickey of Halifax, Parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, and John Taylor of Vancouver, son of hockey's famous Cyclone Taylor.

Bevan Urges Japs to Work For Co-Existence

TOKYO (CP)—Aneurin Bevan told both of Japan's Socialist parties Friday they should work for "peaceful co-existence" of all countries.

Bevan told the Socialists, "the welfare and future of mankind cannot be served by dividing the world into two sharp and antagonistic organizations.

"The hydrogen bomb and the atomb bomb are not civilized ways of bargaining among nations."

Bevan also slapped indirectly at the SEATO conference in Manila, which opens Sept. 6 to forge an anti-Communist alliance in Southeast Asia.

He was "opposed to alliances in areas which exclude other nations or blocs of nations."

The Labor leader said: "The day of imperial power is over. We are ashamed of our imperial past in Great Britain." And, he told the Japanese, "You have a lot to be ashamed of in your imperial past too. So let's bury the past."

Communist China Will Not Invade Formosa Says Boss

Editor's Note: After six months in Red-ridden Canadian Press reporter Bill Boss last spring went to Asia to leave as a private individual, took in Geneva after several months in countries with which he became familiar during three years as CP correspondent with Canadian forces in Korea. Reports from Geneva summing up his view of difficulties faced by people of the area, and by the West in its effort to halt the tide of communism. These stories are presented by CP as Boss's personal impressions. In today's, last of the series, he deal.. with Formosa.

By BILL BOSS

Communist Chinese talk of invading Formosa, in the opinion of this reporter, is so much eyewash.

The Communists know they couldn't pull it off.

But there are two important political objectives to be gained by beating up the talk:

1. By keeping top planners of the free world occupied with possible threats to Formosa they distract them from the task of mapping out an effective anti-Communist policy for the rest of Asia, notably Indo-China.

2. By representing the United States as frustrating the "legitimate" unification of China mainland, they perpetuate that power's new reputation as an ally of colonial powers. Until five years ago the United States was regarded as the champion of nationalist aspirations but its support of France in Indo-China changed all that.

INDO-CHINA IMPORTANT

By maintaining attempts to discredit the U.S. the Communists may feel that they can discount any attraction a new Western policy for Asia might have in Indo-China.

Indo-China is important in their planning since it represents the first place where communism has consented to meet the West in the voting booth and to let ballots determine the outcome.

Those elections are scheduled for 1956. In two years the West must evolve a policy, and sell it to peasants whose allegiance to Ho Chi-minh, based on nationalist, not Communist, grounds is unquestioned.

Daily the Communist organization in Indo-China consolidates the network which even during the war with the French enabled it to collect taxes and recruit'its armies. Vietnamese troops defect daily. Where the "normal" methods fail the Communists have no scruples about "educating" with forces and terrorism.

The Western world is likely to be misled by reports of "hundreds of thousands" of refugees from Communist-dominated areas, forgetting that in the Tonkin above, for instance, are more than 10,000,000 peasants. The bulk of those will stay with their land and, even more important, close to the shrines of their ancestors.

CHINESE STRATEGY

Hence just in case the West should come-up with an attractive alternative, the Chinese will try to ensure that the voice that proclaims it remains discredited.

Meanwhile observers in the Far East see hope that just maybe the West will come up with a policy that has a chance.

They speak of indications that perhaps Sir Winston Churchill's visit to Washington was fruitful after all. They say the state department appears to have considered his words and to have reshaped policy accordingly.

U. S. policy on Indo-China changed three times in three months.

Vice-President Nixon and State Secretary Dulles first tried unsuccessfully to promote Western intervention. SEATO was proposed as a military alliance.

Unable to do that, Dulles attended Geneva without a policy, then departed, enabling Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Premier Mendes-France to pull off an armistice with Chou En-lai and Ho Chi-minh.

THINKING REVERSED

Then Nixon and Dulles, in separate statements, said Indo-China had proved that wars against communism could not be won unless the hearts and minds of the people on the spot were with us. That was clearly a reversal of thinking, for otherwise the United States would surely not have been for intervention earlier.

Until the Churchill - Eisenhower discussions, the United States had stressed SEATO as a military and defensive alliance. Churchill and Eden said that was not enough. The emphasis should be on economic and social development throughout the area, with the military alliance secondary and only among those willing and able to enlist.

Now the state department is insisting (without mentioning Churchill) that SEATO is to be essentially the sort of program the British leader proposed. But the details still have to be spelled out—and sold—to the 23,000,000 Vietnamese, Laotians and Cambodians who two years from now will vote.

Why do Far Eastern observers think Chinese talk of attacking Formosa is bluff?

The Communists, they say, fight only when sure of victory. Otherwise activity is political, propaganda, sabotage and subversion.

Victory in Formosa would be far from sure.

ARMED TO THE TEETH

Chiang Kai-shek has under arms 22 sailors, soldiers and airmen, almost 150,000 men. He has a light perimeter, armed to the teeth and mostly with American weapons. His men are trained to the limit and in their prime. He has a jet-propelled air force which alone, however, might not be a match for the Communists' MiGs.

But additionally he has the support of:

1. The U.S. Seventh Fleet.

2. The U.S. First Fleet, normally based in American home waters, but whose presence in Chinese waters was revealed at the time of the sinking of Cathay Pacific Skymaster off Taiwan. It would certainly aid the Seventh Fleet. It is largely an aircraft-carrier formation.

Additionally, the U.S. Fifth Air Force is in the process of evacuating Korea and establishing on Okinawa. The relocation there of one fighter-interceptor wing already has been announced. Undoubtedly the force would aid the nationalists.

The bulk of the U.S. Far East air force's bomber strength, which raised such havoc in North Korea, operated from Okinawa. These bombers undoubtedly would deal with Communist mainland marshalling points. (Nationalist jet-fighter swarps daily patrol the mainland coast and range far inland.)

ON WAY TO SCRAP HEAP

LIVERPOOL (Reuters) — A burned-out hulk, the last of the once-proud "Drunken Duchesses" sailed down the River Mersey under tow Wednesday on the last voyage of her career. Barely recognizable, the 20,000-ton liner Empress of Canada, formerly the Duchess of Richmond, is on her way to Italy to be broken up for scrap. She caught fire and capsized here in 1953.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma left me at pop's office so she could keep on with her shopping without having to think about me too, and I started to go home with pop, and we came to a car lot with a big streemer saying on it, Generous George.

O, pop, is that his name? I said, zod-pop said, No, it seems to be his nature. Yee, gods, look at those sines he's got stuck around, he said.

Meening sines saying. Your sign is our loss, We love to be taken advantage of. We are on our way to the poorhouse. Down with money, we are in bizzness for your helth, and different things, and pop was standing there reeding them and a salesman came up to him, saying, You can bleeve everything you reed, brother, our motto is give and take, we give and you take.

It sounds attractive, pop said, and the sales man said, You said it, brother, we dont offer bargains here, we present gifts. Are you intristed in a used car, brother? he said.

I'm intristed in your sines, pop said, and the salesman said, That's smart of you, brother, to stand behind every sine.

How about that one, the one that says, No unreasonable offer refused. Do you stand behind that one? he said, and the salesman said. We sure do, make an offer, brother.

Okay, I offer you the suggestion to stand behind the sine while I drive off with that blue sedan. Is that unreasonable enough, pop said, and the salesman said, Oh, you're one of these jokers, heh?

You said it, brother, and I stand behind every joke, pop said.

And we kept on going and the salesman stayed there aerprized.

Garden Notes

How to Plant a New Border

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

If you are dissatisfied with your present perennial border this is the time to draw up a plan for a remake to begin about the first of September. You will have time to complete the digging and transplanting before really cold weather, and the new plants will have time to settle and make some root growth before winter.

Dig up plants you wish to keep and cover them with damp burlap or newspapers weighed down, to keep them from drying out. They should be soaked well several hours before the move, so roots will retain plenty of moisture. Plan to get them back into the earth as quickly as possible. If there is to be some delay heel them in, in a shady spot, and spray the foliage with the hose to prevent moisture loss.

CONDITION THE SOIL

If you suspect poor drainage, dig down two feet and see if there is hard pan clay which holds water and sours the soil. Where this is present you should spread a tarpaulin and remove the top soil to it. Now break up and dig out the hardpan and replace it with sandy top soil. Also lay a tile which will empty into some outlet, to ensure good drainage. While replacing the soil dig in a generous amount of complete plant fertiliser.

Where there is a background of shrubbery, or a hedge, sink a 30 inch wide sheet of galvanized metal on the side next the shrubbery. This will keep the roots of the shrubs from foraging into the new bed.

Plan, on paper, where plants will be set then separate healthy new plants from old growth. Take the newest, outside roots from clumps of old established plants. Be careful to select pieces of iris which are free from borer. Use only plump new rhizomes with one or two leaf buds and some of the fiber roots.

Cut the leaves back to six inches, and do not cover the fleshy rhizomes more than half way, they like that part of the root in the air. Peonies more than eight years old should be divided. Phlox, Gaillardia, Heuchrocallis (day lilies) Coreopsis, Sedums, and Bleeding Heart be separated into several sturdy new plants.

Veronica likes well-drained, sandy soil. Lavender and Daphne like poor gravelly soil. You can solve these plant tastes by putting half a bushel of the soil they favor where they are to be planted.

If you are transplanting a sprawly evergreen wrap a large piece of burlap around the branches, drawing it up carefully not to break them, and pin the burlap in place with large nails. After the plant has been dug, and replanted take off the burlap and spray thoroughly. This will settle the branches back in place.

It will soon be time to take in the tender water lily bulbs. You can be collecting cartons, and keep in mind that they will winter safely if you place three inches of dry leaves in the bottom of the carton. Set the tub or pail containing the bulbs on this and fill in around the bulbs and the outside of the tub with leaves. Cover the tub with three more inches of dry leaves and leave in a cool basement.

Occasionally through the winter examine the bulbs. If they seem dry water them, but do not allow soggy leaves to cling. This may cause mold to form and rot the bulb.

You can plant daffodils quite early in the fall. In fact they prefer early planting, shade and slightly acid soil. A generous amount of peat moss mixed in with the soil will supply this.

To plant some white daffodils this fall and arrange them near the old fashioned bleeding heart. They will bloom about the same time, and make attractive arrangements for the house, too.

Dulles Pledges U.S. Forces Would Automatically React If Philippine Isles Attacked

MANILA (AP)—State Secretary Dulles today pledged American military forces would automatically react if the Philippines should be attacked.

"I wish to state in most emphatic terms that the United States will honor fully its commitments under the mutual defence treaty," he declared.

The statement marked the opening of U.S.-Philippines mutual defence talks preliminary to an eight-power Southeast Asia security conference which starts Monday.

The Philippines, which has been insisting on an "all for one and one for all" type of defence pact, has expected to modify its demands if guaranteed strong and prompt U.S. military assistance. Dulles' statement appeared to look at providing that guarantee.

The secretary said the U.S. will retain its military bases in the Philippines as "concrete evidence of the United States' ability and intention to take necessary counter-measures."

He described the mutual defence pact linking the U.S. and the Philippines as "a significant factor in the defence system of the free world," and declared that "it should be so strong as to be unbreakable."

Prior to the conference the Philippines and Thailand strongly supported a NATO-type pact which would pledge members to aid one another in case of attack.

The U.S. has also a military agreement under which each member would join to defend the other together within their constitutional framework.

A U.S.-proposed draft agreement stresses economic rather than military cooperation among the SEATO powers.

Union's Demand Cancels Show By Coal Miners

TORONTO (CP)— The Dockin, N.S. coal miners band had its performance cancelled Friday—Nova Scotia Day—at the Nova Scotia exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition.

It was the second disappointment for the little community.

The band, which spent $4,700 to come here to compete in the CNE band contest, placed second in its all brass junior band division Thursday.

A CNE official who refused to be identified said the plaudit appearance of the band at the exhibit was cancelled when the Toronto Union (AFL-TLC) demanded that a "stand-in" union band be hired at a cost of about $400 before the Donkin boys could play.

C.H. Nelson Hurt

TORONTO (CP) — C. H. Nelson, former chief engineer of the Ontario highways department recently commanded for trial on a charge of conspiring to defraud the provincial government, is in critical condition in hospital here as the result of a boating accident, it was learned Friday night.

Authorities at Toronto General Hospital confirmed Mr. Nelson is a patient. It was understood he fell out of a boat about two weeks ago during a fishing trip at Sturgeon Falls.

Canadian Holstein Cattle Are Called Best in World

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian holstein cattle "are the best in the world," Guillermo Bullrich, livestock expert from Argentina, said Friday at the Canadian National Exhibition livestock show.

"At home country, said he hoped Canadian breeders will continue to export cattle to Argentina to help the holstein cattle and pointed out that the South American milk record of 24,000 lbs. just established was set by a Canadian-bred holstein in Argentina.

Mr. Astengo, who operates farms both in Argentina and at Brampton, Ont., showed three champions in the CNE holstein judging as well as winning the breeder and exhibitor awards.

Astengo's Glenrose Nettie Jemima was the senior and grand champion female and his Rosafe Shamrock Kathleen took the reserve champion female honors.

In Jersey cattle Astengo had the senior and grand champion bull, senior and grand champion female, junior champion bull and reserve junior champion female.

In the guernsey class, Maplewood Farms Ltd., of Maple, Ont., won the premier exhibitor award and J. M. Fraser of Concord, Ont., the premier breeder honors.

Frost Afraid To Call Vote Says CCF Head

SUDBURY (CP)—Ontario CCF Leader Donald G. MacDonald charged Friday night that Premier Frost won't call a by-election in Sudbury because he is "desperately afraid" the CCF will win.

The statement was included in the text of a speech given to the press before delivery.

Mr. MacDonald said by-elections had been called in three other vacant ridings—Nipissing, Leeds and Russell—but not here "because the loss of a seat held previously by a cabinet minister would rightly be interpreted as a serious blow to government prestige."

Referring to the investigation into highway contract irregularities which he called the "worst scandal in our history", the CCF leader said the Frost government was financed to a large extent by "kickbacks" from highway construction firms.

MENTIONS PROBE

"It is a shame to carry on investigations into the maladministration of public funds while ignoring the manner in which these funds are being kicked back into old party campaign chests," he said.

"That means that the government itself is on trial for it is as guilty as the abuse of public trust as any one of the individuals or firms against whom it has laid charges."

Mr. MacDonald said the government is seeking political confederation to clean up the highways irregularities "when the very campaign funds it is using are part of the mess." He said the Liberals were in no stronger position because they, too, receive funds from the same source.

"The abuse of public funds cannot be cleared up in Ontario by political parties whose very existence depends on it," the CCF chieftain said.

Honor 50-Year Exhibitors

TORONTO (CP) — Charles J. Shore of Glenarm, Ont., honored Thursday as a 50-year exhibitor at the Canadian National exhibition. Friday showed two champions in the colswolds division of the sheep judging competitions.

Shore and F. W. Gurney of Paris, Ont., Thursday were presented with a special purse on behalf of other exhibitors for breeders as the only two men to have exhibited sheep at the CNE for the last half century.

Meyer Suffers From Arthritis

BONN (Reuters)—Kurt Meyer, former SS divisional commander from Wevi war criminals jail in reported to be suffering from chronic arthritis, Canadian army sources said Friday night.

He has been given special treatment at Wevi.

Canadian officials have repeatedly hinted that "Panzer-Meyer" would probably be freed before the end of the year.

His wife and three children have been allowed to pay him occasional visits.

Week-End Travel Will Be Heavy

TORONTO (CP) — Labor Day week-end holiday travel started Friday night. Indications are it will strain transportation services, crowd the highways and cause accidents.

The same weekend last year brought 522 traffic deaths and eight drownings in Ontario.

Provincial police patrols will be at top strength to cope with the expected heavy volume of traffic.

Both the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway have put on extra equipment to trains on many runs. Gray Coach Lines will have "everything on wheels" in service while TCA plans to put extra planes in service.

FREE INSURANCE

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec civil servants are to get free life insurance policies paid for by the government, Premier Duplessis announced Friday. He said married employees will be covered immediately for $1,000 and single persons for $500. The plan covers some 12,000 employees.

Red Chinese Base Policy On Confidence of Peasants

By FRASER WIGHTON

HONG KONG (Reuters) — The Chinese peasant has become a vastly significant figure in the new Communist China, apparently the keystone of official policy.

It seems evident in this huge country that gaining and keeping the confidence of hundreds of millions of land workers may be the supreme test of the regime's endurance.

As long ago as 1943, Communist leader Mao Tse-tung declared that the individual economy had condemned peasants to perpetual poverty and the only solution was through collectivization. But the government evidently considers the real and vital impetus in collectivization stems from decisions it took three years ago.

Official figures up to October last year claim 43 per cent of the total peasant households in China take part in collective labor. There were 14,182 agricultural producers' co-operatives. The ultimate aim is about 90,000 by the end of this year, obviously regarded by the authorities only a beginning. is small compared with the present collective labor effort through mutual aid.

Mutual aid teams—a stepping-stone towards co - operatives—are run on the basis of peasants' private ownership of land. Members use their own land as they wish but land together for actual tilling of the soil.

POOL LAND

In most agricultural producers' co-operatives, members put land holdings into a pool, with themselves as shareholders. The pooled land is managed by co-operatives. Individual members remain owners of their land and may leave the co-operative.

The share-out is on a basis of the quality and amount of work contributed by each member and in proportion also to the amount of his land holdings.

The government appears to be quite cautious of handing the ultimate ideal of collective farms. The British Labor party mission, however, visited a model based on the village of Koa Kan, near Peiping, where, out of 180 households in the village, 116 took part.

Common property of this farm included 60 pigs and 16 horses and mules. The village is an official station for government seed investigators and other farming implements, which the farm can rent on terms proportionate to the benefit of land.

In addition to the land farmed collectively, each family has a small piece of ground on which to raise food for its own needs and is at liberty to sell any surplus produce.

The Labor party mission which inspected farm holdings and engineering works and Western correspondents accompanying it noted the government hygiene drive was reflected here by the absence of farmyard muckheaps. The dwellings were constructed with Western farmhouses but were not below the standard of rural huts in backward parts of Europe.

SICKNESS HITS MANY

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State health officer Henry Holle said Friday that 400 to 600 persons in Edinburgh, near the southern tip of Texas, have a mild form of sleeping sickness. Dr. Charles H. Miller, head of the Hidalgo county health unit, said more than 600 persons may be infected, but the number won't be known until laboratory tests are completed.

SUCCEEDS GASPERI

Adone Zoli, an ex-minister of justice and ex-finance minister, has been chosen as the new president of Italy's Christian Democratic party. He succeeds Alcide de Gasperi, who died Aug. 9, as leader of the anti-Communist political party. — Central Press Canadian.

Could Not Train ITC Motormen To Sell for Less

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Transit Commission said Friday some of its ticket-sellers have been overcharging commuters from suburban Port Credit because the commission could not train them to sell the proper tickets.

W. Z. P. Duncan, TTC general manager, told a delegation from Toronto township and Port Credit that commuters have been paying a total of 40 cents each way. He said that, all along, it could have been 35¢ cents if the TTC had been able to train its motormen. The difficulty arose over getting motormen to sell two-zone tickets at eight for $1, instead of collecting 5¢ from a one zone fare at four for 20 cents.

Eugene Pallette Dies of Cancer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eugene Pallette, 65, portly veteran of dramas and of movies, died of cancer Friday.

Retired for eight years, he was known for his nimble wit and fog-horn voice. Cameras crews often had to tune down the microphones when he delivered his lines.

Born at Winfield, Kan., he started as an extra when films were in their infancy but by 1916 was playing big roles in films with such stars as Norma Talmadge.

At first he was cast as a leading man but as his girth increased he turned to character portrayals.

Eisenhower Approves Bill For Foreign Aid

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters today announced his approval of a bill providing $3,490,818 in foreign aid, and of another measure stripping citizenship from those convicted of advocating forceful overthrow of the United States government.

The president hailed still another bill he signed as the first step since 1933 toward "correcting injustices" in U.S. immigration policy.

COMPLETES ACTION

The president's signing of those three bills into law completed action on the 513 measures he brought along to Colorado when he started his "working vacation" here two weeks ago.

All of the bills were passed by the 83rd Congress during the closing days of the session.

The appropriation bill carrying foreign aid funds is designed to bolster the free world against any threat of Communist aggression. Most of the total—which the White House set at $627,049,999 less than the Administration asked—is earmarked for military aid.

The citizenship-stripping bill is part of the "package" subversion control program Eisenhower submitted to the 1953 session of Congress.

The president said last week the bill—together with other measures now on the law books—provides the government with "much more effective weapons to help destroy the Communist menace."

Among other laws are those outlawing the Communist party, providing for a crackdown on Red-dominated unions, and authorizing the death penalty for peacetime espionage.

FIRST ADJUSTMENT

The immigration bill the president signed is intended to aid the sheep-related problem. It sets up special non-quota immigrant visas available to skilled alien sheep herders.

"Although this was the sole purpose of the bill when first introduced," Eisenhower said in a statement, "it was so amended as to make this measure the first major adjustment of standards for permanent admission to the United States since enactment of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952.

"I am deeply gratified that the Congress has taken action to bring about a more flexible approach to our immigration problems and has taken this first step toward correcting injustices inherent in the system."

No Break Seen Workers' Strike

KINGSTON (CP) — A city-wide strike of carpenters, masons, bricklayers and allied workers in the third day tieing up construction work at dozens of points in this industrial city.

Neither union nor management officials showed any movement on the strike.

Workers of both unions stepped off their jobs Thursday after negotiations between the two unions and the Kingston Builders Exchange, representing most Kingston contractors, broke down.

Carpenters, now getting $1.80 an hour want a 20-cent wage increase, while bricklayers, who presently want 35 cents more than the $2 per hour they get now. Both unions want fringe benefits.

Carpenters and masons were last in a strike beginning in the here. Mail order houses co-operate H. K. Ferguson Construction Company at Millhaven where a new Imperial Chemical plant is being completed.

Under an international agreement, skilled labor employed by the Ferguson firm are paid prevailing—rates but cannot legally strike.

Michigan Guards Against Accidents

DETROIT (AP) — Governor G. Mennen Williams proclaimed a state of emergency Friday as Michigan launched a safety campaign to keep its highway traffic toll at a minimum during the Labor Day week-end.

The governor's order was issued as 1,000 state police and military policemen could be called up for emergency duty to aid regular police in patrolling highways.

State police said various police units will use nearly 300 patrol cars, plus seven airplanes and two helicopters in their week-end war against reckless drivers.

State officials planned the program after Michigan's toll of 35 traffic deaths during the Fourth of July week-end was the highest land-coming plan and invent

B.C. Govt. to Close Loopholes In Sales Tax Regulations With Tighter Customs Check

By STEPHEN SCOTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia is losing thousands of dollars a year through residents violating the province's sales tax regulations.

Authorities are satisfied, however, the evasions for the most part are not intentional but mainly due to ignorance of the law. Meanwhile, the Social Credit government has increased the tax by five per cent from three per cent last spring, is quietly studying methods of closing the loopholes.

The violators are thousands of British Columbians who annually return home with a variety of articles purchased on their travels.

They come back with such taxable articles as suits from Simon Fraser's in Toronto or goods bought during visits to the United States.

One official said that under the former three-per-cent tax, numerous exemptions and a lower rate of goods entering the province, the harvest of attempting collection was not worth while. He added:

"But now the number of articles involved is considerable, that something must be done."

To protect the province's industries, the law says that any article that is taxable within British Columbia must be taxed if it is bought elsewhere and brought in, unless it is for resale.

Saskatchewan, Quebec and New Brunswick, other provinces with sales tax, have incorporated similar regulations in their act. And like B.C they have trouble collecting.

Saskatchewan, Quebec and three sister provinces collect on the vast majority of the taxable goods that come in. It is estimated B.C. will collect about $58,750,000 this fiscal year from the tax, now the highest in Canada.

The tax is levied on goods brought in for resale only if and when the sale is made within the province. What is not declared by various industries is found by government inspectors and auditors on their visits to offices.

New cars bought by B.C. residents in eastern Canada are discovered when they are registered here. Mail order houses co-operate by collecting the tax.

A resident of B.C. making a purchase outside the province is required to make a declaration to the sales tax branch here when he returns in much the same way that Canadians returning from the United States must declare their U.S. purchases to the federal customs.

A few residents do much such declaring—but many do not.

One authority estimates that upward of $300,000 is being missed annually at border points by the government. There are no figures available on interprovincial purchases.

Finance department officials say that so far the federal customs department has declined to supply information from the declaration forms by returning Canadians.

If federal customs officials continue to refuse to supply the information, the province will face the task of devising a sufficient tax returns would be forthcoming by harvest-time next year.

Revenue officials in Saskatchewan, Quebec and New Brunswick report they are able to collect their provincial sales tax on most major items as automobiles. But all admit little success in collecting on small, personal items.

Two of Three Massey Plants Accept Plan

TORONTO (CP) — Workers at two out of three Massey-Harris-Ferguson plants have accepted an agreement reached in a wage dispute between the company and the United Automobile Workers (UAW-CIO). A third plant rejected the settlement.

Company employees at Woodstock voted Friday night to accept the proposals recommended by union bargaining committee. Brantford workers ratified the same terms the previous night. The Toronto local turned them down.

Terms of agreement had been reached earlier after intensive company-union talks supervised by the Ontario department of labor. The settlement eliminated the company's Sept. 7 contract deadline and provided an interim agreement until next June.

The union's joint negotiating committee is scheduled to meet company representatives Monday in an effort to hammer out more satisfactory terms for the Toronto members.

Ontario's Growth Eating Up Much Valuable Farming Land

TORONTO (CP) — A municipal representative says the rapid expansion of many municipalities is eating up valuable farmland and creating financial burdens for the municipalities themselves.

Alfred LeMasurier of Markham township told the Conference of Urban - Rural Municipalities Friday that districts predominantly rural before the Second World War have had to sacrifice their best farmland as industrial and residential sites to compete with each other for industrial assessment.

Mr. LeMasurier suggested the Ontario government be asked to appoint a select committee to study the problems of rural municipalities flooded by large movements of urban population. He said a regional land-zoning plan and provincial methods of assessment and taxation should be prepared over the province.

John C. McNeil of Sarnia township said the city of Sarnia annexed 9,000 acres and 7,000 citizens of his township in 1959 and that taxes in both city and township had increased.

Deputy Reeve of London township was elected chairman of the newly formed association. Committees were appointed to prepare briefs on problems common to urban-rural municipalities for presentation to the provincial government.

The meeting was attended by some 50 delegates representing municipalities confronted by the problems of cities as Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Niagara Falls, Sarnia, Brantford, London and Kitchener.

Schmar Notes

Notes on Fish in Lakes

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT
(Noted Sportsman, Author and Conservation Consultant of Rahway, Utah.)

All of us know that fish are very susceptible to temperatures, particularly changes in that of the water fish will usually stop feeding.

We know, too, that a change of 10 degrees in a trout stream can, and sometimes does result in a heavy kill of fish. Most trout are quite happy in water that is from 72 to 74 degrees. Add 10 degrees to that water and you will probably have a lot of dead fish.

Here is a reverse twist of that phenomenon. This is the story:

In Arkansas there is a lake named Old Town Lake, near West Helena. This lake was created when the Mississippi river changed its course at Old Town Bend, a great many years ago.

HOT WATER FISH

While the lake has provided good fishing for the crappie and bream down through the years, the fishing has been confined to early spring, late fall and winter. In summer the lake becomes so shallow and hot that the fish are both lethargic and inedible.

This low-water condition is caused, some say, by the lake filling in in times of flood. Others attribute it to a drainage ditch, cut by farmers whose land was flooded in times of high water. In addition, adjoining farms were watered by dry weather by pumping water from the lake.

Be that as it may, when the phenomenon under discussion occurred the lake was only about 36 inches deep at its deepest point.

In late July, when the lake temperature was at its high summer level, a cold rain came along. How much the temperature dropped in the space of an hour or so my informant does not say. What he does say is that "about a million" fish rolled over and died.

This, itself told, is not an uncommon happening. In the past, heavy fish kills have occurred in other shallow lakes of that general area. The probabilities are that this particular tragedy could have been averted.

I understand that the sportsmen of the area are endeavoring to arrange matters with the Conservation Commission so that similar disaster shall not happen in the future.

LIBERALIZED FISHING

For the past few years we have been hearing more and more about what has come to be called "liberalized fishing." In case you are not familiar with the term it means simply—the biologists deem it wise in some waters—to remove all restrictions from the catching of certain species of fish. In other words, you can catch and keep all the fish you wish, and at any time of the year, always providing that these fish are on the liberalized list.

This rather radical ruling caused not a little caustic comment when it was first introduced. As might be expected, there was much divided opinion among the fishermen.

Until recently only generalities concerning liberalized fishing have been available and little of a factual nature has been given us save to say that the plan seems to be working out satisfactorily.

Now there has come to my desk a report of a two-year study by Dr. George Bennett, made in Lake Bird Lake, Ill. One portion of that report gives us a clear picture of the advantages of liberalized fishing insofar as bluegills and bass are concerned. The following is taken directly from Dr. Bennett's report:

LIMITING FACTOR

"The limiting factor in the success of bass reproduction was the amount of predation on eggs and young by small fishes. In years when the fish population of Bird's Lake was confined to small fishes (largely bluegills) in March prior to the bass spawning season, the average number of bass fry produced was 50,000; in intimate years when small bluegills were present in the lake, the average of bass fry produced was 8781. A population of small bluegills that numbered around 1,800 per acre almost completely curtailed the success of bass reproduction, while a population of 100 or fewer small fish per acre seemed to have little or no influence on the survival of eggs and fry."

That seems to sum things up very well as regards bass and bluegills. If you want good bass fishing (as who does not) cut down on the bluegill population. There is every reason to suppose that the same is true of other varieties of pan fish as well.

Something Wrong With Canada's Games Record

"There is something wrong somewhere," he said. "Perhaps it is in the training or selection methods."

Dr. Hauch, guest speaker at a London Kiwanis Club luncheon, said he firmly believed in the attitude to sport in Australia, outlined to him by Gordon Young who managed the Australian team at Vancouver.

Their aim is to get everyone into sport and not be content with spectators, he said. Schools in Australia devote at least half a day to sport every week and in the evening pupils are encouraged to use athletic and swimming clubs.

He criticized the lack of sports for children in Canada, apart from summer playground programs.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

As this is being written nothing has been decided about resumption of the Bata-Petes senior baseball playoff. Batas have notified the OBA of Peterborough's failure to appear for Thursday night's contest but convenor Tom Bowden, of St. Catharines had not issued a ruling Friday night.

Batas agreed to play the second game of the series Friday night. Following Thursday's fiasco, manager Jack Carson, who agreed to the game in the first place merely to accomodate the Petes, called it off until he and the team could get some satisfaction.

"Peterborough is definitely going to have to play here before we will go up there," said Carson, "and I want a certified cheque from them guaranteeing our expenses in case they fail to appear again."

Carson was incensed Thursday night when he called Peterborough at 8.05 to seek some explanation of the team's failure to appear here and coach Joe Lowry answered the phone.

"They weren't making much of an effort to come," said Carson.

• • •

"Another thing," said Jack, "we don't want them coming down here with just nine men. The Belleville fans deat pay to see Peterborough exercise a pickup team. They come to see a baseball game and Peterborough isn't prepared to play baseball with just nine men. The last time they did that we beat them 21-4. Nobody, especially me, wants to see a repeat performance. During the regular season the Batas failed, only twice, to dress the limit of 18 players. We think we have kept up our end of the bargain all summer and we would like the same treatment."

• • •

Batas took a trimming at the box office Thursday, as well. They were out about $40 on ticket refunds alone. Lights cost $25. Police, ticket takers, ticket sellers, and umpires set them back another $15, and advertising was another bit of that. Total loss is expected to hit $125. How future gates will be affected is anyone's guess.

• • •

HOWE-ABOUT THAT?

Gordie Howe, the peerless right winger of Detroit Red Wings is some shucks as a baseball player, too. Gordie worked out lightly with the Batas Thursday night, warming up in the bull pen with former room mate Sem Mulholland, and crashing several drives into left and centre field to batting practice. However, Gordie doesn't play baseball any more. It happened this way.

He was leading his team in batting in Saskatoon a few years back with an average well over .300 in 28 games. In the 30th contest he was shifted from first to third. With men on second and first the opposition dropped a bunt and the play was made at third. Gordie took the throw from the pitcher and made the tag. The runner cut Howe pretty neatly with a hard slide and blood gushed out in.

The awful news was relayed to Detroit and a return wire from Jack Adams stated simply, "Hockey or baseball? Take your choice." Saskatoon lost a .300 hitter permanently two minutes after the messenger boy arrived.

LABOR ON THE HOLIDAY

A heavy schedule of week-end sporting activity has been laid on for local fans with softball playoffs heading the list.

This afternoon, at 2.30 at the CNE Recreation Field, Paul Monroe's Blankets meet Oshawa Merchants in the second game of their best-of-three OASA intermediate "A" series. Merchants lead the series 1-0 on the strength of a 3-2 victory in the Motor City last Saturday. All paid admissions are eligible for a draw on Marcie's $200 diamond ring which will be made at Binghirds' last game this season.

• • •

Down in Point Anne veteran Pat Maracle will go to the hill against Peterborough Beabrookes in the second game of their best-of-three OASA Intermediate "A" playdown. Beabrookes opped the first game 3-2 in Peterborough Wednesday night behind the fastball hurling of diminutive Jim Driscoll who has chalked up nine wins this season in regular and playoff games.

Cec Purdue, Peterborough Examiner sports editor called Wednesday night's tussle "a first rate game". Softball fans are urged not to miss this one. Starting time is 5.45.

Deseronto Athletics tangle with Reid's Regents at the Fair Grounds Saturday night at 8.30 in the third and deciding game of their quarter final series for the Belleville and District Baseball League, title. Regents, who took a 13-8 decision from the Athletics in the first game and lost it because it failed to go seven innings, won a 6-5 thriller here in the second game and forfeited a 9-0 game in Deseronto last week, making their third attempt this week to play the deciding game. Rain washed out earlier dates. Winners meet RCAF Flyers in the semi-final.

Cleveland Edges Chicago 3-2 After Yanks Whip Senators; Bums Now 4 Games Off Pace

By BEN FELIGIAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Larry Doby had to travel all the way to Chicago but he got his revenge on the New York Yankees.

The home run hitting center fielder of the Cleveland Indians, who failed badly at the plate during the recent five game series, personally punctured the latest Yankee pennant strategy by driving in two-thirds of the runs as Cleveland whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Friday night.

This was the first of six games the Indians have left with the Chicagoans and the Yankees, 3½ games behind, were hoping they had softened up the Tribe enough to allow for a White Sox sweep.

The game-winning blast came in the seventh with the score tied just after the Yankees' final score had been posted on the Comiskey Park scoreboard, showing a 9-3 victory for the New Yorkers at Washington. It was Doby's 20th homer.

FELLER WINS NO. 12

Bobby Feller, with help from Don Mossi and Mike Garcia, won his 12th game. Virgil Trucks, trying for his 19th victory, was the loser.

The New York Giants pulled four games in front of the Brooklyns in the National League with a 7-4 verdict over the Dodgers. Milwaukee handed Cincinnati its 10th defeat in 11 games and stayed 6½ behind.

In other action the Chicago Cubs defeated St. Louis 4-3; Philadelphia won a pair from Pittsburgh 7-4 and 10-2; Boston trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics 11-1 and Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings.

The Yankees' game from behind with five runs in the fifth inning and added three for insurance in the ninth on a pinch double by Eddie Robinson.

BEATS THROW

With the score tied in the fifth, two out and runners on first and third Washington shortstop Jerry Snyder elected to try for a force play at second and a bounder by Yogi Berra. Mickey Mantle beat the throw, a run scored and three more Yankees followed three more runs.

Relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm came through with his first hit of the year to drive in the run that put the Chicago Cubs on top against Brooklyn. With the score tied in the seventh, Wilhelm smashed a single through the middle. The Giants added two more in the eighth to register their first success over the Dodgers since early July.

Gil Hodges hit his 30th home run for Brooklyn but nobody was on base. Whitey Lockman's homer on the first pitch in the first inning scored the Giants' 15 hit attack.

Home runs kept Milwaukee's faint pennant hopes alive. Del Crandall homered in the ninth for Cincinnati to tie the score. Jack Dittmer homered in the 12th to win it. The Reds' runs scored in the eighth on Ted Kluszewski's clout homer with a man aboard.

WILLIAMS MOVES UP

Ted Williams moved up a notch in the table of all-time home run hitters with his blast at Philadelphia. He passed Joe DiMaggio and now is in fifth place behind Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig.

Granny Hamner, storm center of the record flareup on the Phillies, collected four doubles and a single in Philadelphia's sweep at Pittsburgh.

The Cardinals lost their sixth in a row when the Cubs came up with two runs in the ninth on a double by Gene Baker. Baltimore scored three runs in the eighth at Detroit to tie the score but the Tigers won out in the 10th when Bill Tuttle singled home Hoot Evers.

Star Sees Canada As Soccer Power With British Aid

By JEFF RYAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Ted Drake, manager of Chelsea Football Club, wants to see Canada become a powerful soccer nation—with an assist from British.

Drake, back from a North American tour which includes three games in Canada, thinks more visits by British soccer teams during the summer would stimulate interest there.

The dark-haired, former star player, who lived football since he was 14, explained in an interview just why he's so confident that the game will come to Canada in a big way soon.

IMPRESSED BY CANADIANS

"Canadians are a sport-minded people," he said. "I was particularly struck by the determination of 18,000 of them to see the game between Glasgow Rangers and Chelsea at Toronto, despite a downpour. And they loved the total abandon of the Scots. The final between Bolton Wanderers and Manchester United was packed and I met said what a 'great spectacle' it was."

What Canadian soccer needs now said Drake, is "three or four visits by British teams annually and something like a competition among them for a small cup.

FOOTBALL DYNAMO

Drake is a big, rocky-featured dynamo of 42 who played for England and Arsenal and also played county cricket. He says he has passed his energy loose on Chelsea, the butt of music hall jokes for entertaining. It unpredictable, perfect mances. The team responded to Drake's drive by jumping from second-last position to eighth in the 22-team first division.

Drake has a unique concept of the world in his football travels, "but when I see Canada . . . it's a young man came to me seeking his football fortune, I'd recommend Canada without the slightest hesitation.

"That's what Canadian soccer needs—young footballers from Britain to found the basis of a great future in world soccer."

Four Players Fined in West

WINNIPEG (CP) — G. Sydney Halter, commissioner of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, announced Friday that four players in the league have been fined for their conduct in games last weekend.

Ron Vaccher of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Lorne Reid of the British Columbia Lions were fined $25 apiece, resulting from incidents in the Bombers-Lions game at Vancouver, Aug. 28.

Dean Sandercock of Calgary Stampeders was fined $50 and Harry Langford, also of Calgary, $25 for their actions in the Bombers-Stampeder game at Calgary, Aug. 30.

Ham Richardson Upsets Lew Hoad At Forest Hills

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Young Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., upset Australia's tennis of his career, upset Australia's No. 1 ace, Lewis Hoad, in a tense and thrilling three-hour battle Friday to gain the semi-finals of the United States tennis championships. The scores were 6-4, 7-5, 11-13, 4-6, 6-3.

The first time in the third set, after taking the first two, the 21-year-old U.S. intercollegiate champion saw victory snatched from his grasp when the grimly fighting Hoad fought off match point.

Then when Hoad finally won that set at 13-11 and took the next, the highly-excited crowd of 13,000 despaired of the Louisiana boy's chances.

IS A DIABETIC

But Richardson, a diabetic who takes insulin shots each day, found some new strength from somewhere, cracked Hoad's service in the sixth game of the final set with his deadly forehand passing shots and went on to his greatest triumph.

The victory may have clinched a singles spot on the U.S. Davis Cup team for the good-looking, sandy-haired collegian who has made three trips to Australia without ever getting a chance to play.

The crowd gave both a standing ovation.

All other matches in the men's division were rained out. Richardson's opponent in the quarter-finals with an important triumph over southpaw Dave Ayre, a member of Australia's "second team," 4-6, 7-5, 7-5, 6-2.

Other fourth round winners were: Ken Rosewall, Australia's Davis Cup star, over Sevita Ouja, defeated Edward Moylan of Trenton, N.J., 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; and Rex Hartwig of Australia over 18-year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

REMEMBER WHEN

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Australia's tennis forces climaxed their drive for victory defeating the United States Davis Cuppers in both final singles matches, to win the cup by three matches to two, 15 years ago today. The Aussies were entering home right after the matches, because of the declaration of war the previous December 8th, and Adrian Quist, of the Australian team, were members of a Melbourne regiment from across Canada, here this week for training sessions under two noted U.S. coaches—Ken Doherty of the University of Pennsylvania and Bunny Likas of the University of California.

A number of United States' athletes have been invited to take part in open events, including Rev. Bob Richards of Long Beach, Calif., world pole vault champion.

Bazos collected his second victory in the Javelin throw. His mark was 176 feet, seven inches, well below the Canadian record of 214 feet. Second was Paul Vucosic of Oshawa, Ont., with a throw of 173 feet, 9½ inches.

Big Bob Bazos Wins Two Tosses

TORONTO (CP)—Big Bob Bazos of Toronto tossed two victories Friday as competition began in the Canadian interprovincial track and field championships.

The six-foot, four-inch field event star bettered the Canadian discus mark with a throw of 127 feet, 8½ inches, His mark will not be a record, however, as Rose Zoffolla of Sudbury has topped the Canadian record of 127 feet, three inches four times this year—once with a throw of 162 feet.

Following Bazos were Stan Raike, Toronto with 152 feet, four inches and Russ Doorn, Winnipeg, 127 feet, 4¼ inches.

All three topped the meet mark of 142 feet, three inches.

The meet is a windup of the Olympic training plan financed by the Canadian National Exhibition and a group of Toronto business men to increase Canada's chances in world competition.

Togos Retain Tag Team Title In Friday's Wrestling Feature

The terrible Togos, the terrors of Tokyo, retained their Canadian open tag wrestling title and the George Richards Trophy in Memorial Arena Friday night as they disposed of the team of Bob Ballargeon and Tex McKenzie in two of three falls.

The judo style specialists from the land of the Rising Sun proved constructive by together they could defeat either Ballargeon or McKenzie. How they would have fared singly will never be known for they worked as closely together as two gears in a watch.

Ray Villmer, the Dayton dynamo, who fared successfully with Ballargeon in tag team bouts here recently, was unable to be present Friday due to injuries and Mac Kemis substituted for him at the last minute.

Ballargeon, who wowed he would win the Canadian title, seemed bent on doing it alone. He started the fireworks kicking and spreading the larger of the two Togos in the opening seconds of the fall. The Orientals had scarcely finished scattering incense ahead of the sing when the first fall was all over.

A MISTAKE

Ballargeon started the second fall and seemed bent on doing all the fighting himself. It was, however, a mistake as events proved, and even his great strength ebbed away as first one and then the other of the terrible brothers assulted him with a variety of strangle holds, judo chops and savage gouges. Ballargeon, tiring rapidly in the second fall, tried several times to tag McKenzie but, because of the eye gouging indulged in by the Togos, and because of his looking to which he had been subjected, seemed unable to focus on the proper corner.

McKenzie, the towering Texan, finally arrived on the battle scene and proceeded to toss and drop kick the offending Togos all over the ring. Eventually he was smuggled into Togo terrain and became victim to the same double dose of villainy.

Ballargeon, who rushed to the rescue, ran right into a series of lethal judo chops and was counted out at the 27 minute mark.

Togos' two-for-one tactics continued throughout the third fall with first McKenzie and then Ballargeon undergoing a thorough working over in the corner.

Referee Joe Golloh, recovered from the crushing suffered in the main bout here two weeks ago, was hand put to handle the Togos. While he was bear enforcing the rules with one, the brother would be applying the crusher to a helpless opponent.

SHOWERED WITH PAPER

The Togos were showered with papers and debris of all kinds throughout the third fall as spectators protested their opponents' illegal tactics.

Tex McKenzie fell victim to a stabbing chop rebounding from the ropes at the 44 minute mark, and while Ballargeon engaged the taller of the Togos in a corner, the shorter Togo, with Golloh's complete attention dropped on the prostrate Tex while he was counted out.

Fans jeered the Togos out of the ring as they made their way to the dressing room.

In the main preliminary Pat Fraley proved to have too much savvy for clean cut Bob Jackson who was substituting for Pat Mc-Kenzie who had been shifted to the main bout. Fraley exploited a series of gouges, finger chokings, neck twists, and pin pricks into a win at the 30 minute and 23 second mark of a 30 minute bout.

Pat Flanagan battled his way off the ropes and kicked villainous Jan Gotch into submission in 15 minutes and 15 seconds of the opener.

Roughriders And Winnipeg Play 12-12 Tie

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg football fans saw their first tie game since 1952 when the Saskatchewan Roughriders and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers battled to a 12-12 deadlock here Friday night.

In a game which was tighter than the pro-rebid form—the two clubs failed to break their deadlock for first place in WIFU standings. Each has three wins, one loss and one tie.

Last time contest in the loop was on Aug. 28, 1953, when the Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos played to a 14-14 stalemate at Winnipeg.

A crowd of 18,000—a record for football in Winnipeg—saw two important halfbacks — Stan Williams from the Dallas Texans and Ken Carpenter from the Cleveland Browns — account for Saskatchewan's touchdowns.

Ted Urness, another now a nonimport, booted one convert. Larry Isbell, quarterback from Baylor University, playing from a half back position, scored the other point when his long kick went for a rouge.

Import end Rod Graves from the Philadelphia Eagles and halfback Gerry James tallied Bombers' marker. The first converted by Irving Wing Bud Korchak, the west's scoring leader in 1953. Quarterback Jackie Jacobs accounted for the other point on a single to the touchline.

Varsity Blues Good as Ever Coach Thinks

TORONTO (CP) — Bob Masters said Friday he figures his 1954 Varsity Blues will be just about as good a club as last year's. "And I thought that was the best club in the league."

The University of Toronto's Intercollegiate Football Union squad left Friday for its Lake Couchiching training camp and Masters said he was optimistic despite the loss of 16 regulars from last year's team.

His biggest worry is the line. Graduations have cost the club, which won the conference regular schedule last year but was defeated in the playoff by University of Western in

THERE'S NO EXCUSE FOR FORGETTING, PENNY. SHOW ME A FORGETTER AND I'LL SHOW YOU A LAZY MENTAL DROSE
WHY DID YOU FORGET?
I HAD TO GO OUT TO MAIL A LETTER—
THAT YOU'VE FORGOTTEN TO MAIL SINCE LAST TUESDAY!
TILLIE THE TOILER
NOW, SEE HERE, MACDOUGALL!
BEFORE YOU GO HOME TONIGHT, I WANT THAT DESK OF YOURS CLEANED OFF!!
ULP! YES, MR. SIMPSON!
HURRY, MAC—WE'LL MISS OUR BUS!
MR. SIMPSON GO.
GOLLING, TILLIE!
JEFF COBB
MISS BAXTER, I DIDN'T MEAN TO OFFEND YOU, BUT YOUR FATHER IS NEWS!—HE REPRESENTS A MAN WHO LITERALLY CONTROLS THE VERY LIVES OF MANY PEOPLE IN THIS TOWN AND OTHERS LIKE IT!
YES, I KNOW! PLEASE FORGIVE ME. I'M A LITTLE UPSET...
...THIS MEANS SO MUCH TO HIM... I CAN'T BEAR TO EVEN THINK THAT...PERHAPS...SOMETHING MIGHT GO WRONG!
...AND ACROSS THE ATLANTIC IN LONDON, ENGLAND
FROM FARMBOY TO FINANCIER...THAT'S YOU'VE MADE IT?
BUSH
LI'L ABNER
SO LONG, PALS!!
I THINK I BROKE RED'S LEG—AN' EDDIES BLEEDIN' BADLY—THEY'LL BE AFTER ME, NOW—
I'D BETTER TURN OFF THE HIGHWAY, AND PAVE TO THE WOODS—
OZARK IKE
AS LADY LUCK CONNECTS IN THE MATH WITH A BOUNCE OF THE BALL AND THE BOOT LEADING TO—ROUTINE FLY TO LEFT!
OZARK IKE SHOULD PUT THIS OUT IN HIS LIP POCKET!
WAIT TIL!
WULL-AH'LL BE-DONE HIT BIRD FLIGHT!
I CAN'T BELIEVE MY EYES!
TIP BALL DROPPED FROM A DOUBLE PLAY AND FALLS—FAIR!
TIP CROWD HAVE A TENTH MAN HAMMERING AWAY AWAY
SOMETHING MY LUCK EYES STANDING ME!
MARK TRAIL
WHAT'S ALL THIS GAB, MR. TRAIL?—I THINK YOU'RE TRYING TO PULL MY LEG!
NO, JACK, I'M NOT YOU KNOW THAT WOULD BE TO LIKE YOU A LOT AND I KNOW A WAY THAT WOULD HELP!
OKAY, I'LL PLAY SUCKER—WHAT?
BOO LIKES SWEET AND GUNNING, AND IF YOU'D LEARN TO SHOOT WELL—
WHAT? A LAUGH!—YOU KNOW I CAN'T EVEN HOLD A GUN, LET ALONE SHOOT! WHAT SORT OF GUFF IS GIVING ME?
RUSTY RILEY
RUSTY, DO YOU HEAR THAT?
YEAH...THE ARTIST SAID HE...HILES SHOULD "THROW HIM OUT"
A STRANGE REQUEST, SIR, AND ONE THAT I COULD NOT GRANT WITHOUT VIOLATING THE FIRST TENET OF SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY...
ALL RIGHT—I'LL GIVE... AND I'LL REQUEST IT!
BRINGING UP FATHER
THE BOOB'S MOTHER CAME THE WRONGDOOR BUT THE WRONGDOOR WAS LOCKED EVEN
I HAVE HEARD STORIES ABOUT YOUR MOTHER-IN-LAW BUT I NEVER THOUGHT THEY WERE TRUE
ANYTHING YOU HEAR ABOUT GEORGE'S MOTHER-IN-LAW IS AN EXAGGERATION
SO YOU THINK ANYTHING GOOD IS EXAGGERATED?
THAT'S ALL I'VE HEARD ABOUT YOU SINCE I'VE KNOWN YOU
SO YOU THINK ANYTHING BAD IS EXAGGERATED?
YOU KNOW YOU HAVEN'T SAID A WORD TO IMPROVE HER VOICE?
SAY BUT I'LL TELL YOU HER VOICE IS GOOD—SHE HAS A GOOD VOICE—I'LL GIVE YOU HALF IT MONEY
YOU KNOW I'M NOT INTERESTED IN HER VOICE
CAP STUBBS AND TIPPIE
AW, DIDN'T YOU EVER HEAR WHAT BECAME OF CAPTAIN KIDD?
DALYEN, I GOT A SHORT MEMORY
OSCAR, TH' WHALE, FOUND HIM SWIMMIN' IN MID-OCEAN AN' TOOK HIM—AN' ON HIS WAY BACK HE WAS WILL HITCHED TO—BACK TO TH' ISLANDS!!
SPACIO, THEY SEE UP IN BUSINESS AN' ARE MAKIN' A FORTUNE WITH SPACIOS WORK-ALL—
BUT LIBBY WON'T GO BACK—EVEN IF SHE GETS A SHARE OF TH' PROFITS—
MY LAND!!
JOHNNY HAZARD
LOOK, ANGELA—THERE'S THE START OF THE GRAND CANAL, EGGETTA. UP AHEAD ALL WE HAVE TO DO IS SLIP INTO THE MIDDLE—AND SAY GOOD-BYE TO LOSE AMORE THERE!
HERE'S THE GRAND CANAL ...AND THERE'S HAZARD, IN THE SCHOONER! BUT JUST OUT OF PISTOL RANGE—
MOVE OVER, PAL. I NEED SPEED—AND I'M NEED A FIGHT!

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 8, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — This should be an interesting day for mental workers such as authors and journalists; research in science, chemistry, etc. favored, too. But extra care is required in co-ordinates, money matters generally.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Adjust yourself amicably to new situations necessary in business or domestic affairs. Day stresses a special need for kindly understanding, tact. Plus for legal and all written matters.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Your Mercury is splendid position augurs for personal achievement, perhaps advancement in activities connected with advertising, promotion, journalism. Agreeableness will aid greatly.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — As with most of us today, you will gain more, and quicker, if you maintain harmony and take just criticism and due orders as well as give them. Day fine for keen thinking, smart management.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Moderation and an even temper will be important standbys this day. Don't try to override others. It will pay to co-operate sensibly with employers, employees, associates, and your family.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Advice to Gemini pertinent to you now. You might be able to make valuable new contacts, improve present business affairs. But extremes and extravagances are taboo. Be temperate in action.

September 24 to October 22 (Libra)—Personal wishes may not be realized wholly but, with tact and intelligent understanding, you should be able to profit in your occupation or business. Think before acting.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Implement your ingenuity with practicality and you can really accomplish a great deal now. Day has some useful don'ts: don't procrastinate, overstep the bounds of common sense. You'll win.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Sudden changes in work or other activities now ruining profitably is not advised. But it is always advisable to make changes that will improve results or make work easier.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Put off nothing that should, can be done now. Day asks for consistency, patience and avoidance of extremes. You may have to put aside personal wishes temporarily for the general good.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Team work with the right forces should net fresh benefits, gain now. Wholesome pleasures favored today.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Important that you have accurate facts relating to any new or weighty proposition now on your agenda. Practically all matters will require astute judgment and ingenuity, both of which you possess.

YOU BORN TODAY have splendid qualities, a likeable personality, talents and capability. However, it is up to you to develop and use these God-given attributes. They can be valuable assets and carry you to success. Don't permit harmful worry and overwork to injure your health or disposition, perhaps defeat the high achievement that can be yours. Persons make splendid journalists; critics, actors, designers, scientists, physicians, sociologists, teachers. You may also have unusual mechanical ability. Birthdate: Lodovico Ariosto, Ital. poet; Richard I, (the "Lion-hearted") King of England.

MONOGRAM
Oil Heaters and Wall Furnaces
Demonstrated Burning

- Installed to give satisfaction as demonstrated, burner.
- Produces a perfect blaze with a stainless steel burner.
- Operating as low as 1 gallon in 24 hours.
- Does not require fans or to be near a flue for proper burner operation.
- Louvres and side doors are interchangeable to place heat as needed.
- Cone-piece rings avoid warping at joints.

Due to the extremely large area in heat exchangers in the patented burner of the Wall Furnaces, Monogram Blankets has tested these units and given them a 75% overall operating efficiency.

SEND WASHERS

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador dispatched every night it had to spare sent out washings and army planes to keep a fishing fleet—believed to be Greek-born shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' 16 whalers with 2,000 men—within 12 miles of this South American country's coastline. The Quito regime along with its neighbor Peru contend the Ecuadorean territorial waters extend 200 miles out in the Pacific.

Peterborough Whips St. Kitts In Boxla Finals

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Peterborough Trailermen defeated St. Catharines Athletics 6-5 Thursday night in the first game of the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior League finals.

Bob Allen paced the Trailermen with three goals. Nunz Bellor and Don Aubbee tallied two each and a single went to Jack Mason. Ted Howe scored two goals for Athletics and Don Moore notched one.

A second game in the best-of-seven series will be played at Peterborough tonight.

ZATOPEK TRY FAILS

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Emil Zatopek of Czechoslovakia stepped 5,000 metres in 14 minutes, 27 seconds Friday, four-tenths of a second over the world record set last month in the European Games by Russia's Vladimir Kuc.

A crowd of 17,000 cheered the little galloping major from the Czech army as he tore down the home stretch in a vain effort to better the world mark. Zatopek held the record until Kuc lowered it last month. Zatopek's time for the three miles was 13:31.2.

T.P.T.'s Defeat Northern 3-1, Series Tied 1-1

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Behind the three-hit pitching of Reg Gordon and combined with the blasting bludgeons of Toody Greenlaw and Junior West, the Peterborough T.P.T. Petes edged Belleville Northern Electric 3-1 in Peterborough last night. The win evened their best-of-three O.A.S.A. Senior "B" series at one game each with no definite date set for the deciding fixture at time of writing.

Gordon picked up one run to the losers in the initial frame, and one hit in each of the first three innings but from then on was untouchable, allowing but four more runners to reach bases, two on walks and another pair on errors. His mates tied the game in the second inning on the winning marker in the fourth and added their insurance tally on Junior West's homer in the seventh.

Don Boyle was on the hill all the way for the losers, giving up seven hits, four of them for extra bases. His set four of the Peterborough nine either while walking the same number, Gordon whiffed five Northerners and issued free passes to three.

Jack Donlevey ignited the winning rally when he walked safely with a single to left field. Legrow's sacrifice was bobbled to place runners on first and second with none down. Eddie Redmond also tried sacrifice bunt and Whitting's throw hit the runner in the back to load the sacks and bring up Greenlaw. He smashed a hard single through the centre, scoring one run, but Goyer threw from deep centre cut Legrow down on a close call at home. The next two batters popped out to first base. Junior West's four-base blast in the seventh was a towering blow over the left field fence off one of Boyle's fast balls.

YOUNG SCORES

Glenn Young got Northern off to a good start in the first frame with a perfect bunt single that stopped dead several feet in front of the plate. He went to second on a passed ball, advanced another base when Carr fanned, but had to be thrown out at first, and scampered the plate when Goyer's infield out.

Greenlaw claimed an RBI for the victors in the second -inning, and the tying marker when he stroked down the line to deep right field, scoring Legrow who reached base on a fielder's choice after a walk to Donlevey.

Belleville umpire "Shoo" Kehler had a rough night behind the plate as children sitting behind home plate peppered him with pea-shooters. Kehler warned the kids but several adults took over at this point, with small pebbles and borrowed pea shooters until the official warned the Pete's manager that the game would be called if this was not stopped. It was.

Toody Greenlaw paced his team at bat, pounding out a triple, double and single and claiming the game batted in. Junior West homered and singled with Joe Stewart doubling and Jack Donlevey contributing a single.

Yvon Goyer, Earl Cousins and Glenn Young were the Belleville hitters, each with a single. Goyer's single in the third followed a walk to Carr, but the lead runner was cut down at third to quell the potential rally.

Dodgers Careful But Worst Hitter Still Beats Them
By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm's first hit of the season was the decisive blow as New York Giants' 7-4 victory over Brooklyn Friday night, but you might have thought it was Willie Mays or Dusty Rhodes at the plate by the way Dodgers huddled before pitching to the sole relief hurler.
Dodger captain Pee Wee Reese and pitcher Jim Hughes called time in the seventh inning with Wilhelm at bat and summoned manager Walter Alston out of the dugout for a conference.
The score was tied 4-4. There were two out and Giant runners on first and third. Wilhelm, probably the worst-hitting pitcher in baseball, strode to the plate.
PUZZLING DEBATE
Hughes got ready to pitch, hesitated, then called catcher Rube Walker to the mound. After a brief talk, Hughes motioned Reese to join the conference. Reese finally rallied to the bench for Alston. The crowd of 46,311 wondered what was going on.
After the game it was revealed they were discussing how to pitch to Wilhelm, who had gone to bat 16 official times this season and hadn't come close to getting a hit. It seems that nobody on the club could recall how to pitch in the Giant hurler. The Dodgers had faced Wilhelm as a pitcher many times since he came up to the Giants in 1952, but his batting appearances against them have been few and far between.
After the conference, the Giants' new slugging star slashed a single to score Don Mueller from third with the tie-breaking run. That was the game.

Free Kurt Meyer, Top War Criminal On Canadian List

Presented With Flowers As He Emerges from Prison

WERL, Germany (CP) — Kurt Meyer, who almost a decade ago was sentenced to face a Canadian firing squad for war crimes against Canadian soldiers, walked out of prison Wert prison a free man today, and was welcomed by a man who described himself as a Canadian from Moncton, N.B.

The former S.S. major-general, who was captured in Normandy 10 years ago to the day and later convicted of responsibility for the shooting in cold blood of Canadian prisoners during the Normandy battle, was released from the British war crimes prison after nine years, five months and 20 days after his death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

SENTENCE REDUCED

Last Jan. 15, Defence Minister Claxton announced in the Canadian House of Commons that Meyer's life sentence had been reduced to 14 years. Army officials estimated that with time off for good behaviour he could be released today at the earliest.

The man who described himself as a Canadian would identify himself to reporters only as Hans Fritz. He waited outside the prison with Meyer's wife and representatives of the German Red Cross and of the Haig welfare organization of former S.S. men.

When Meyer emerged from the prison he was presented with flowers and a huge cake decorated with the words "free at last."

The Arnhem factory at Bergisch-gelde gave him a red convertible for his free use during the next 30 days.

Meyer had a warm welcome for the man who said he came from Moncton. The latter told reporters he had paid for the legal action which led to the commutation of the sentence of Meyer. He told reporters he believed Meyer had been illegally imprisoned.

Meyer then told reporters he plans to live in Niederkrüchten, in the province of North Rhine-Westphalia, where his wife and five children now live. His former comrades said he plans to take a position with a large brewery in Hagen.

ONE LEFT

Meyer's release leaves only one German serving a war-crimes term for a case involving a Canadian. He is Johann Rattenhuber, SS Marine sergeant convicted of the attempted murder of a Canadian air force pilot. He was sentenced to life, but like Meyer's, the sentence was reduced to 14 years and he is expected to be released in November with time off for good behavior.

Four Germans were shot by firing squads and hanged for murdering captured Canadian airmen. Three SS men and seven Canadians was that of Wilhelm Mohnen, sentenced to 15 years for murdering a Canadian airman but released in 1951 on grounds that he had been following orders.

Meyer, highest ranking of the war criminals tried by the Canadians and the youngest major-general in the German army—he is 45 now—was arrested June 28, 1945, of inciting his troops to deny quarter to Allied soldiers and of responsibility for the execution of 18 Canadian prisoners. He was found not guilty by the Canadian tribunal of ordering the prisoners to be shot.

On his conviction the tribunal sentenced him to death by shooting, but later the life term was substituted. He was brought to Canada in May, 1946, to serve out his term in the federal penitentiary at Dorchester, N.B.

While in Dorchester he often told his guards he would ultimately be freed to fight with the West in a war against Russia.

In 1951 he was spirited back to Germany. The Canadian government said the transfer was made because he was the only German war criminal left in custody outside his own country.

Brought to the Werl prison, he looked forward to his ultimate release and was even allowed time off before the expiration of his term to visit his family on Christmas, 1951, Douglas Hiwe, then a Canadian Press staff writer, found him at home with his wife and children when he visited the Meyer home.

News of his impending final release aroused much opposition in Canada. Brig. Bernard Claxton, a member of the prosecution team at Meyer's trial and now president of the National Council of Veterans, said "I still think he should be in jail." In a letter to Claxton during the weekend, Campbell warned that former S.S. elements would make a hero out of the former major-general on his release.

News of his impending final release aroused much opposition in Canada. Brig. Bernard Claxton, a member of the prosecution team at Meyer's trial and now president of the National Council of Veterans, said "I still think he should be in jail." In a letter to Claxton during the weekend, Campbell warned that former S.S. elements would make a hero out of the former major-general on his release.

And Monday night in Montreal the officer who first turned up proof of the wartime atrocities said he fears the release will "unleash all the latent German emotions towards neo-Nazism and other forms of fanaticism."

PAST OF ISSUE

Gen. J. Bruce Matthews, former Canadian army lieutenant who discovered the remains of the soldiers murdered by Meyer's men, said in an interview that the case is only part of the broader issue of West Germany's future.

"If, after all this time, we cannot trust the German people to deal effectively with Meyer, then we can't trust West Germany in any instance," he said.

Seato Treaty May Be Drafted By Wednesday

Two More Articles Approved by Parley

MANILA (AP)—Two more articles of a proposed Southeast Asia security treaty were approved in closed-door negotiations at the SEATO conference today, and a reliable source said the eight foreign ministers attending may have a pact ready for signing by Wednesday.

The biggest controversy still to be ironed out involves minority statements to be made by the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines.

Thailand and the Philippines are reported holding out for a NATO-type agreement under which all members would come instantly to the defence of any member attacked. The U. S. is arguing for a pact under which each member would react to an attack on another within its own constitutional framework.

ADOPT ARTICLES

NATO is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The name SEATO has been coined specifically to the conference here dealing with Southeast Asian defence problems. It designated today adopted an article stating that members "by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid will maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack and to prevent and counter subversive activities directed from without against their territorial integrity and political stability."

The informed source said approval came after Thailand abandoned demands to include subversive activity within a country as well as outside its borders.

The delegates also were reported to have agreed to accept general terms in which the economic clause of the proposed draft treaty was written. Articles for co-operation "with each other in development of economic measures designed to promote economic stability and social well-being."

The delegates provisionally approved articles calling for the creation of a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization council which each member nation would help finance.

The council would be called on to "consult with respect to the effectiveness of the measures taken" if any signatory felt it necessary.

The source said the U. S. has indicated it is willing to drop from the treaty preamble the word "communism" in an effort to get agreement against which the pact is directed.

WANTS RESERVATION

The U. S. secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, was quoted as telling the conference that he could not sign a treaty without some form of reservation on the question of colonialism.

"The time for the liberation (in Asia) is near," he said, "and the whole of China has not yet come."

The Daily Herald, organ of the Opposition Labor party, editorializes in a similar vein.

"In this situation," says The Herald, "there is a risk of nasty complications b e t w e e n Britain, which recognizes the Chinese Communist government, a n d the United States, which does not."

Birth of Quints Termed False

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Published reports of the birth of quintuplets in an isolated region of Colombia have been termed false.

Two newspapers of this capital published dispatches last week from Monteria, in northwestern Colombia, reporting Mrs. Augusto Trujillo, 28-year-old wife of a farmer, had given birth to quintuplet daughters. All nine others were living.

Fernando Lopez Gomez, news correspondent at Monteria, telephoned Saturday that doctors sent to the woman's home to check the reports had found them to be completely unfounded.

Fire on Boardwalk

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A general alarm fire, clearly visible to tens of thousands of Labor Day visitors, damaged 11 shops on the famed boardwalk and the facade of steeplechase pier Sunday. Damage was estimated at $200,000 by the stores and $25,000 to the boardwalk.

Indian Tea City of Dibrugarh Being Slowly Blotted Out by Flood Waters

CALCUTTA (Reuters) — Rescue workers who toiled through the night continued evacuating people today from the doomed Indian tea city of Dibrugarh, being slowly blotted from the map by the flood waters of the Brahmaputra river.

Only a last-minute change in the course of the rampaging "river of woe" can prevent complete obliteration of the city, once a thriving trade centre of 50,000 people.

The Brahmaputra is grinding a path right through the centre, gnawing at both sides, swallowing up streets and buildings.

Government officials and police are working against time to speed the evacuation of the people still remaining in the city. Many citizens have already fled, clutching hastily-packed bags and bundles of belongings.

Huge chunks of earth crashed with loud roars as a dike, strengthened only last week by thousands of volunteer workers, fell before the pressure of the river.

In 1950 the Brahmaputra was five miles south of the city. Sixteen years later it changed course and crept northwest until it is now aside Dibrugarh.

A great earthquake in 1950 brought the river still closer and decided the fate of the city.

Eisenhower Holds Door Open For Soviet to Enter A-Pool

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the door open today for Russian co-operation in a new Allied undertaking to spread peaceful benefits of atomic energy to many lands.

A diplomatic authority said Russia's rejection of a previous Eisenhower proposal that it join in an international atomic pool, appeared to rule out any move to join the latest project.

Nevertheless, the decision announced by Eisenhower Monday to go ahead without Russia set up international atomic agency plan would appear to put the Russians somewhat on the spot, since they have so far indicated no interest in sharing their own atomic energy know-how and resources with anybody else.

Eisenhower disclosed that the U. S. government has agreed with other countries to set up an agency to "foster the growth and spread of new atomic technology for peaceful use." The president did not name the countries, but an aide said they are Canada, Britain, France, South Africa and Australia.

Eisenhower expressed hope that "no nation will long stand aloof" from the enterprise. This seems clearly to keep the door open for Russian co-operation p r o v i d e d Moscow is interested.

Officials said non-communist countries may join the project shortly. It is known there have been negotiations with Belgium, which controls one of the world's great uraniumproducing areas in the Belgian Congo, South Africa and Australia are in the project as producing countries, the U. S., Britain and Canada as countries with atomic industry and France as one with skill in atomic research and development.

The agreement Eisenhower disclosed is an outgrowth of a proposition he made to the United Nations last Dec. 8. But the present undertaking represents a substantial modification of the atomic pool idea he then advanced.

Eisenhower said then that the U. S. was willing to contribute atomic materials to such a pool in return for undertaking with other atomic powers—specifically including Russia—to begin discussions of highly secret negotiations with Russia, but nothing came of them.

France Will Give Viet Nam Full Independence This Year

SAIGON (Reuters)—Gen. Paul Ely, French commissioner-general and commander-in-chief in Indo-China, said today France has decided to give the state of Viet Nam full independence before the end of this year.

He made this statement as the French flag was brought down and Viet Nam's flag was hoisted at the historic palace of Norodom.

The highest French and Viet Namese officials and the diplomatic corps attended the ceremony, which consecrated the transfer by the French to the Viet Namese government of the palace. The palace has always been considered a symbol of French colonialism in Indo-China.

Ely summed up France's policy towards Viet Nam as "full independence, full support."

British Papers Urge U.S. Check Chiang's Raids

LONDON (AP)—A Conservative and a Labor newspaper both urge the United States today to choke off further aerial raids on the Chinese mainland by the Formosa forces of Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek.

The Daily Telegraph, which strongly supports Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government, declares in an editorial:

"The American 7th Fleet is performing a humane as well as a strategic service in protecting the Formosa from any attempt at invasion.

"It would, however, be an excellent thing if the United States government would return to its policy of preventing Nationalist raids on the Communist-held mainland.

"The time for the liberation (in the true sense) of the whole of China has not yet come."

Dulles stressed, the source said, that in the broader sense, anti-communist aggression in Asia the same as an attack on the U. S. On the other hand, he said, a local war in the Far East would not be considered by the President and Congress because it would not be a threat to the U. S.

This is a very complex matter but it's not going to hold up signing of the pact," Dulles said. "However, all will have to understand our position when the treaty is signed."

Accidental Death Toll in U.S. Over Holiday Tops 500

CHICAGO (AP)—The accidental death toll in the United States for the Labor Day weekend reached 500, but traffic fatalities were below the predicted 390 and the lowest in five years.

The latest figures show 347 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday. It was the smallest total for the holiday since 1948, when 293 were killed in traffic accidents.

In addition to the traffic deaths, 90 persons lost their lives by drowning and 78 others were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

29 KILLED

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Twenty-nine persons were killed and 56 injured Monday when a bus-truck crashed head-on just a few miles from the capital in the worst accident which killed 19 a week ago. The accident occurred on the Mexico City-Cuidad Juarez highway.

SHATTER SPY RING

ATHENS (AP)—Prime Minister Papagos announced Friday night the shattering of Communist espionage rings directed against Greece and her allies. He called it "the most important secret against communism since the end of the guerrilla civil war in 1949.

Russian Attack On U.S. Plane Is Before UN

Ask Security Council To Consider Shooting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Russian U.S. plane attack issue got brush with Russia before the United Nations.

Trygve Lie, delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, Monday night asked for an "early meeting" of the Security Council to take up the shooting down of a U. S. Navy plane off Siberia Saturday by Soviet jet fighters.

The navy plane was the sixth U. S. military aircraft shot down by the Russians in Europe or over the Pacific, but this is the first time Washington has brought such an incident before the world body.

PROMPT REQUEST

Lodge returned unexpectedly to New York from a holiday to make the surprise move. He telephoned his request for the meeting to Francisco Urrutia of Colombia, the Latin-American group's president for September. Aides on the U. S. delegation said he would follow with a letter to Lie, which he did today.

In a brief statement from his delegation headquarters, Lodge said he had asked the council "to consider the Soviet attack against the unprovoked attack . . . by Soviet MIG fighters on United States international waters. . . .

Nine of the 10 men aboard the Navy Neptune patrol plane were rescued unharmed after drifting all night in a life raft. One man apparently went down with the plane.

The survivors said they were on a routine patrol mission well off the Siberian coast when two MIG-15 jets came at them without warning. With one wing on fire, the plane crashed and sank in the sea. The U. S. protested the attack as "wanton and unprovoked" in a strongly worded note to the Moscow government.

Before its delivery, however, the Soviet foreign office had taken over a protest charging that the U. S. plane had flown within the Soviet frontiers and opened fire on two Russian fighters which approached it. The Russian note said the Red pilots "were forced to open fire in return."

Because Lodge asked for an "early" meeting rather than an "emergency" one, it is expected that Urrutia will not call the council together before next week. The request for an urgent meeting usually means a session the next day.

Revised accounts of the Soviet attack on the U. S. Neptune patrol investigation is still in progress.

In a second note rejecting the Soviet charges, Washington said the U. S. state department had said, "At no time did the United States Navy aircraft open fire on the Soviet aircraft." Brough back to the U. S. base, no load one article and fire about 150 rounds "mostly over the ocean to test the guns."

The navy department also revised the position of the attack from international waters to the state department, but said it still was well away from Russian territory.

Hunters Say Slaughter of Does, Fawns Cause of Deer Population Depletion

NORTH BAY (CP)—The executive of the Ontario Anglers and Hunters Association at its annual meeting during the weekend charged "thousands of does slaughtered" game laws threaten the future of deer hunting in Ontario.

James L. Jones, executive secretary of the big game committee, said deer have little chance to survive with the common timber wolf." He said slaughter of does and fawns is largely responsible for depletion of the population in recent years.

"Inadequate hunting and allowing guides to carry guns and poor game management in some over-hunted areas were responsible for the danger to deer.

In a survey prepared by the committee, Mr. Young stated that one guide "accounted" for killing 18 deer in one season. These deer were handed over to the camp owner, it said.

The association attacked what it called the "buck passing of the Ontario government" regarding water pollution. There is too much delay in attacking pollution problems throughout the province, it said.

The federation also adopted a resolution calling on the department of lands and forests to consider issuing permits for wild animals being kept in captivity.

Nationalists Sink 100 Red Junks In Strike at Amoy

Stage Air-Sea Bombardment As Reds Still Shell Quemoy

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Nationalists sank more than 100 Communist junks in an air-sea bombardment of Amoy and nearby mainland targets today, it was officially announced.

Nationalist planes and warships blasted the Red Chinese mainland coast in concerted attacks on Communist gun positions bombarding the strategic island of Quemoy, the defence ministry said.

All targets were within range of Quemoy.

It was the first public announcement of junk concentrations, possibly indicating Red intentions of invading Quemoy.

The ministry claimed "tremendous damage" was inflicted on Red positions.

Keeping pace with the Nationalist attacks were the continued artillery duels during the night between Quemoy and the Communist gun batteries.

Quemoy, Nationalist island just off Amoy opposite Formosa, has been under intermittent Communist artillery attack since Friday when the Reds bombarded it for five hours.

Today was the second consecutive day that warships have shelled Amoy big island base seven miles from Quemoy. Other attacks were aimed at Wuyu and nearby small islands from which the Reds have fired at Quemoy.

Lt. Gen. Chiang Yi-ling, National Army spokesman, described the stepped-up Nationalist attacks as a major retaliation against the Reds for the bombardment of Quemoy.

Chiang said Communist planes did not challenge the air or sea attacks.

Two Statesmen Pay Visit to CNE

TORONTO (CP) — Two distinguished Commonwealth statesmen visit the Canadian National Exhibition today.

Canada's External Affairs Minister, L. B. Pearson, will address the international and national health day directors' luncheon. Sir Percy Spender, Australian high commissioner to Canada, will play host to a visit to the Australian exhibit.

The CNE's Canada-on-the-march parade swings today from the 10 provinces to the sparsely-populated but potentially rich northern territories.

Attendance records fell again Labor Day, largest Labor-Day crowd in the history of the fair with more than the gates—294,000.

Total attendance figures for this year stand at 1,968,000 with five days to go. Last year 2,619,000 visited the exhibition during the 14-day run.

The CNE saluted the working man Monday. Thousands of union members, representing the two major labor organizations, the TLC and CCL, were admitted free through the city and CNE grounds.

Children, taking their last fling before the resumption of school today, boosted attendance.

Food Poisoning Affects 30 At C.N.E. Luncheon

TORONTO (CP)—Some 30 persons were reported to have suffered from food poisoning after a Canadian National Exhibition luncheon today.

Two persons, Bryson Ridley, a Toronto public official, and a unidentified Boy Scout, were released from the CNE hospital after treatment.

CNE secretary Robert Dixon said the illness apparently was due to potato salad, made an hour before it was served, was the cause of the poisoning.

He said health inspectors visit all restaurants on the grounds at least two or three times a day.

The luncheon was being held for officials attending the championship derby, which was run Monday in Lake Ontario.

Dr. L. A. Pequegnat, medical officer of health, said it was the first time he could recall anything of the CNE in three years. He said a full investigation will be held.

Duchess of Kent, Daughter Near End of Visit

FREDERICTON (CP)—After two busy days in New Brunswick, nearing the end of their eastern Canadian tour, the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra planned to leave by train at 11:20 a.m. today for Montreal, their last visit in this country before departure for New York.

A half-hour stop was scheduled this afternoon at Newcastle, N.B., where the mayors of Newcastle and Chatham were to be presented.

A state dinner at the Lord Beaverbrook hotel Monday night climaxed social functions held since the Royal party arrived in Moncton Sunday from Halifax, paying overnight at Saint John before continuing to Fredericton.

Lieutenant-Governor D. L. MacLaren proposed a toast to the Queen at the dinner and Premier Hugh John Flemming presented the provincial address of welcome. The duchess expressed her thanks for kindnesses extended to the "beautiful province of New Brunswick" and mentioned the beauty of Saint John and Moncton.

A highlight of Monday's program was a visit to the Fredericton exhibition where the Royal party saw two harness races and an acrobatic act from the Business of Kent's native Greece. Several past-round balls were given for the Duchess and princess. They picked one returning $7.60, and a Moncton horse won $7.10.

Other visits were to city hall, the legislative building, and historic Christ Church Cathedral.

MRS. CLARENCE (ADA) SNIDER
(Carrying Place-Consecon)

The funeral of Mrs. Ada L. Snider, Consecon, who died on Thursday, September 2, was held from the Weaver Funeral Home to Alnwick cemetery, Saturday, September 4.

The Rev. E. V. Cook, Consecon, officiated.

Bearers were, Earl Taylor, Cecil Blakely, Clifford Hubbs, Lorne Chase, Arnott Young and Roy Taylor.

Mrs. Snider, who was eighty, died at the home of her son, Earl, following a five-month illness. Formerly of R.R. 3, Carrying Place, she had lived in the Consecon area for one year. Born in Prince Edward county she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Chase.

In providing many skies and moderate temperatures for the simple but significant ceremonies that marked the beginning of the new school.

Likewise the singing of the National Anthem, Scripture reading and the Lord's Prayer, Mr. Reid addressed the student body.

"I deem it an honor that one of my first duties as your principal is to welcome you and sincere welcome," said Mr. Reid.

"You are the most important people to us on the platform," he told the pupils, "and I consider it a privilege to extend a few words of welcome to the students of the Quinte Secondary School, a school which we all feel has a bright future in addition to the cause of education in this community and to the country as a whole.

"The school is not finished as yet. When it is finished it will be one of the finest, if not the finest, school in Ontario."

Mr. Reid then outlined some of the hours in planning and thousands of dollars in erecting the modern high school. "Before you see it you will feel that their work has been done wisely and well."

"I hope that both teachers and students will make it a blessing of themselves in such surroundings. The boy or girl who gives less than his best is cheating himself or herself."

"It is essential that the Quinte Secondary School establish a reputation for learning," Mr. Reid continued.

"No nation can survive that does not place its dependence on intelligence. Great technological advances and world political confusions make sound education a necessity."

Mr. Reid then welcomed those Grade 9 students entering high school for the first time.

In greeting those in Grade 10 and 11 who transferred from the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, Mr. Reid said, "BCI is a fine school indeed. It has an outstanding scholastic record. We at the Quinte Secondary School are looking for those students from BCI for leadership and responsibility in carrying out student activities here."

STAFF INTRODUCED

In introducing the staff of 16 Mr. Reid indicated that he had every confidence it was one of the best in the province.

Former members of the staff of BCI at the Quinte Secondary School are R. J. Skinner, MA., head of the science department; James Musgrove, B.A., director of guidance; John Fry, B.A., languages; and Mr. Reid.

Other members of the staff are: William Cochrane, B.A.Sc., from O.A.C., in charge of agriculture; Miss Beatrice Fairfield, B.A., Toronto, head of Home Economics; Miss Helen Hay, B.A., head of the commercial department; Miss Donna Howson, B.P.H.E., Toronto, girls' physical education and mathematics; Abel Nightingale, B.A., Toronto, industrial arts and mathematics; Rupert Ronald, B.A., M.A., head of mathematics department; Miss Eunice Shantz, B.A., Toronto, head of English department; Miss Gloria Smith, B.P.H.E., Queen's, boys' physical and health education; K. C. Prescott, B.A., Queen's, head of history department; J. L. Tierney, B.A., Toronto, head of languages department; Michael Smykaluk, B.A., Toronto, art; R. C. Wright, B.A., Queen's, music, English and social studies.

CONTRACTOR PRAISED

H. C. Seldon, chairman of sites and accommodation of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board spoke briefly.

"Many arm chair contractors doubted that the school could be ready for classes at the time of the opening this year," he said. "Well, sometimes we doubted it too, but there it is."

Mr. Seldon handed a bouquet to contractor Jack Tabaret of the Tabaret Construction Co., who was "most co-operative in handling details and ironing out problems" as the Board brought them to his attention."

"This is your school and ours," said Mr. Seldon. "Its expenses are paid by the people of this BCI school area and by taxpayers in the province of Ontario. It is the hope of the Board that as you get accustomed to it your conduct will be as good as it is in your own homes."

He expressed his thanks to the building tradesmen who worked overtime readying 12 second floor classrooms for occupancy in time for school opening. He asked for student co-operation in bearing with inconveniences and construction and finishing work are completed.

Mr. Musgrove, guidance director for both BCI and the new high school, brought greetings to the students and staff of the Quinte Secondary School from the principal, staff and students of BCI for "a happy and successful future."

At BCI 980 of an expected enrollment of 1,100 registered this morning.

NEW PRINCIPAL HEARD

E. Arnold Orr, former principal of the Sault Ste. Marie Collegiate, and new principal of BCI told students, "I am proud to be associated with your school.

"I graduated from the old Belleville High School, which was replaced by this present building. For this reason I have always had a keen interest in BCIVS and it is a real pleasure for me now to return as its principal.

"This school is regarded as one of the outstanding schools of the province and I promise I shall do my best to continue, and if possible, improve its fine record. Builders of boys and a maker of men is the real task of any school," he said.

"We are trying to build better boys and girls and I hope that at the end of the year each of you will be a better man or a better woman for having attended this school."

Mr. Orr introduced the new members of BCI's staff. They are: Miss Sheila Doyle, English, social studies and music; Miss Ida Hall, education; Miss Helen St. John, science, chemistry and zoology; C. Ewald, physical education; H. E. Gyde, commercial; F. T. Hannaford, drafting; C. Kemp, English and library; D. Ord, science and physics; Miss V. W. Ridge, social studies; M. Sheffe, social studies; E. Zavasva, machine shop and welding; W. G. Walker, English.

Don Stirling, assistant principal, read announcements of program and procedure.

Registration by classrooms was completed this morning with the regular class schedule to commence Wednesday.

New Quinte Secondary School Holds Open Air Assembly, Principal Reid Greets Students

An event of historic significance for Belleville took place this morning as more than 1,300 students reported to the city's two public high schools.

An open air assembly on the grounds and front of the new Quinte Secondary School inaugurated a new term for some 700 students and marked the official commencement of the work of Belleville's new high school.

Leslie F. Reid, principal, spoke briefly to the students over a public address system, and introduced his staff.

Surviving are one son, Laurie Bradshaw of Point Anne, one daughter, Mrs. Alfred (Elizabeth) Chessman of London.

Resting at the George F. O'Brien Funeral Home. The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

Steady Demand Made for Peaches On Local Market

Peaches were in ample supply for a steady demand on the local market this morning. Tomato and corn prices varied slightly while trading in general was quiet.

In the small fruit sales peaches sold from 80-85 for six-quart baskets with 11-quarts bringing $1.40. Pears, mostly Bartletts, were 85-90 a six quart basket while apples including Duchess, Joyce and Alexanders were 75 cents a basket. Plums, made up mostly of Lombards and Pearls were 30 cents a 12-quart basket while sold from 5-25 cents with prices going from 10 cents to $1. Pumpkins were 10-15 cents.

Tomatoes brought from 40-50 cents a six-quart basket with one dealer asking 35 cents. Corn was 35-40 cents, while potatoes continued steady at 45 cents. Egg squash plants were 10-20 cents, hubbard squash 25-30 cents. Cucumbers were 10 cents a bunch and beets 30 cents a basket. Cucumbers were up to $1.50 per gherkins, 75 cents for dills and 50 cents for slicers. Cabbage brought 25 cents for two heads and cauliflower 20-25 cents. Beans continued at 15 cents a quart. Spanish onions were 75 cents a six-quart basket.

In flowers, gladioli remained at 25 cents a bunch or a dozen, with asters 25-35 cents a bunch. Some smaller blooms, including snap dragons and bachelor buttons were 25 cents the bunch.

Eggs were 53 cents for extra large.

Heavy Traffic Clogs Rail, Bus Lines, Highways

The big trek back home for thousands of holidayers was underway during the past week-end as parents "broke camp" to get children home in time for school.

Holiday travellers jammed the main highway arteries and caused railways and bus companies to provide additional accommodation to handle the overflow of passengers.

Highways No. 2 and No. 7 were exceptionally heavily travelled with long lines of vehicles moving in an endless stream in both directions.

Here the C.N.R. and the C.P.R. ran extra sections, the extra trains being put on as early as Friday evening.

Travel by bus reached what was apparently a record as the big bus companies had out all available equipment and even had calls to hire additional buses to handle the passengers.

Two Bancroft Men Drowned Near Dorset

DORSET, Ont. (CP)—Two persons were drowned Monday when a truck loaded with oats went out of control after it brakes failed on a hill, smashed through a bridge railing and dropped 20 feet into the water.

The truck caressed down the main street of this Muskoka district vacation centre and struck a 16-year-old waiking her dog across the bridge. The impact crippled both the girl and her dog into the channel.

Several residents saw the accident and rowed out in small boats to rescue the survivors. The girl severely injured, and the driver of the truck were pulled to safety.

Trapped in the cab and drowned were Haskell Sweet, 63, and his 10-year-old nephew, Lan Evans, both of Bancroft, 55 miles northeast of Peterborough.

Driving the vehicle was Everitt Vader, 24, also of Bancroft. He was not hurt.

Mary Moore of Toronto was taken to hospital at Huntsville. She suffered broken legs, a broken arm, severe scalp cuts and bodybruises. Two other persons had been returning from a vacation and had stopped for lunch in Dorset.

2,808 Children Enrolled In Seven Schools

Over eighty more children than were expected turned up at city public schools this morning with a total of 2808 being enrolled. The estimated enrolment prior to school opening had been set at 2725.

Queen Victoria school had the largest enrolment with 528 children being registered. Next in order was Sidney Alexander school with 505. Queen Elizabeth school had 459; Prince Charles 409; King George 340; Queen Mary 294 and Sir Winston Churchill school 273.

Actually, however, more children than indicated in the above enrolments are attending the three East Hill schools. Pupils who will be going to the Sir Winston Churchill School will attend at Queen Alexandra, Queen Elizabeth and Queen Victoria schools until the new building is completed.

Enrolment at St. Michael's Academy has not been affected by divisions. The registration Tuesday was identical with the closing registration last June.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged today.

The egg market was steady with offerings and demand light. Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, in fibre cases, graded: A large 50; A medium 47; A small 25; B 31-32; C 22. Wholesale to retail: A large 55; A medium 43-43; A small 30; B 36-37; C 28.

Butter solids: Ont., first grade, non-leaderable 37½; tenderable 37.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Heavy trading hit lower-priced stocks in forenoon market trading today. The market as a whole developed no trend.

First-hour volume was 1,260,000 shares—heaviest since early February.

Industrials had a few more losses than gains but price changes were small. Junior base metals also eased while seniors gained fractions. Western oils and golds were firm.

Western oils had some fairly wide price swings.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—Today was a two way affair again at the Ontario stock yards today. Good to choice steers and fed yearlings sold actively at strong prices. Cows were strong to 25 higher in spots. Bulls were steady with kinds grading medium to heavy trading very slowly on a narrow demand. Receipts: Cattle 5,400; calves 1,150; hogs 760; sheep and lambs 950; holdover from Friday 700 cattle.

Choice steers, all weights 21-23; several lots of choice weighty steers up to 22.50; good steers 20-21; good heifers generally 18; a few light weight heifers up to 18.50; a meagre number of common light steers and heifers down to 15; good cows 11-12; heifery cows up to 14; canner and cutter cows down to 7; good heavy bologna bulls 13-13; common light bulls down to 8; good stockers 13-13; medium down to 11.

Calves were strong at 23-24 for good to choice vealers; mediums 14-21; common light dairy-type grass calves down to 10.

Hog prices were not established.

Lambs were 50 lower to 22 delivered by rail and 21 delivered by truck for good ewes and wethers; bucks were discounted a few hundredweight; common to medium lambs 15-20; good shorn sheep 8-10; common sheep down to 4.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL ((CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of three per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon, EDT, today. Friday's noon rate was 92 3/32 cents. Pound sterling $2.78 3/16 against $2.72¾.

Centre Street United Church Mission Holds Re-opening Service

The re-opening service was held in the Centre Street United Church Mission, Hillcrest, on Sunday evening, with a good attendance. A beautiful array of flowers adorned the communion table, piano and windows. Friends were present from the city and outside points to bring greetings and added much to the friendly atmosphere of the newly-decorated church.

A complete new look is the prominent appearance of the interior. With the willing help of church members, young people, and community friends, the entire interior of the sanctuary has been re-decorated. The floor, which had been removed for five years to permit the public school to use the room for classes, have been re-installed, and given a coat of paint in bright maroon to match the woodwork.

A new choir-loft and pulpit platform have been installed and painted grey to match the church floor and with the same coat of paint, a bright and cheery atmosphere has been given.

Donations and gifts of both money and material have been much appreciated in the progress of this splendid endeavor. Much credit goes to Mr. C. Belch and his group of young people who have taken such a keen interest in this work. The small but fine W.A. and their friends deserve to be thanked also for their contributions, help in cleaning and canvassing. A beautiful picture of Christ was donated and hung on the front wall, and a table and chairs also given will be of good use and very much appreciated.

There is still much work to do in order that the Sunday School room can be placed in serviceable shape. Used brick have been procured to put on the outer wall of the Sunday School hall.

Anyone interested in helping in this worthwhile cause in any way is asked to get in touch with the student minister in charge, Mr. Bruce Besley.

Homebuilding Hits New August Record

TORONTO (CP) — Homebuilding in Canada hit a record August high this year, says MacLean Building Reports.

Residential contracts let during August totalled $88,010,000 or 40 per cent higher than August, 1953.

Total of all building for the first eight months of 1954 stood at $1,391,886,500, an increase of $114,322,100 over the same 1953 period.

School Enrolment Will Be Higher Than Last Year

TRENTON (Special)—V. P. Carswell, supervising principal of Trenton public schools reported today a heavy registration of pupils returning to schools after the summer holidays.

Pupils will notice a change in the teaching staff as nine replacements and five extra teachers took over classes in schools on the east and west sides of the river.

The older members of the staff welcomed the return of Mrs. Audrey Olesen back in Trenton after a leave of absence teaching in England.

Mr. Carswell said he would have the figures on the number of public school pupils available for education this term after registrations were completed later today.

A spokesman at the Separate studies this year. Sister Mary Clement public principal in for studies this year. Sister Mary Magdalene, the principal of St. Peter's School, estimated there would be 450 pupils enrolling, about 40 above the number in attendance last term.

At the Trenton High School Principal W. G. Spencer looked for 360 students to enroll by the end of the day. Last year 341 students took classes at the high school.

PLAYDOWNS OPEN

playdowns open here tonight at Bayshore Park with Graham's Metals facing Central Bridge in the first of best three-out-of-five series. The Meteors finished on top of the loop while the Bridgemen qualified by virtue of eliminating the Harly Pees in a best two-out-of-three semi-finals series.

Trenton Golfers Keep Branscombe Challenge Trophy

TRENTON (Special)—A Trenton twosome of P/O Cliff Mosley and Cpl. Terence Hiddy gave lessons to a Belleville team comprising Mike Angnetredo and Val Smith to retain the coveted Branscombe challenge trophy for the Trenton Country Club here on Saturday. The Belleville challengers trailing badly ended the victory when the Trenton team were six up with five holes left to play.

The Branscombe trophy really got around this summer until the Trenton club wrested it from Napanee.

Belleville took it from Trenton, then Napanee took the prize from Belleville.

The trophy was brought back to Trenton last month and since Belleville failed to reclaim it Trenton defenders are sharpening up for the next challengers.

The trophy originally came from Picton and is open for competition to golf clubs in the Bay of Quinte district.

Driver Thrown Clear of Car In Collision

TRENTON, (Special) —Pinned between the front of a car and a guy wire on a telephone pole here early Sunday morning, Claire Boyle of Byron Street, Trenton, suffered injuries and was admitted to the Trenton Memorial Hospital for treatment and examination.

Boyle was thrown out of his car after it was hit by a car that skidded through an intersection at Byron Street and Dixon Drive. He was allowed to return to his home from the hospital yesterday.

A car driven by Everett Hickerson, 21, 7 John Street, Trenton, was proceeding west on Dixon Drive, when the driver spotted the brakes at the Byron street crossing. The car continued on into the intersection colliding with Boyle's machine travelling south on Byron street. Boyle's car was thrown against the telephone pole by the impact and he fell out of the door to the pavement.

Murrey Reid, 21, of 27 McCann street, a passenger in the Hickerson car suffered a cut over the left eye.

Both cars were damaged considerably.

SECOND ACCIDENT

The other accident of consequence happened on Marmora street last before midnight Saturday.

A car owned by Howard Tuckaberry of Trenton was parked on the east side of Marmora St.

A car driven by Victor Lee, 24, of 124 Division street, Trenton, left the pavement crashing into the parked car sending it back 41 feet into a telephone pole. The Lee car than travelled another 58 feet before it came to rest up on a lawn.

Damage to the Tuckaberry car was estimated at $200. The front of the Lee car was smashed to the extent of needing a $100 repair job.

Faster Test Needed to Diagnose Polio Says Canadian Medical Man

ROME (AP)—Dr. A. J. Rhodes of Toronto told the International Poliomyelitis Conference here today the fight against polio is complicated by the fact it camouflages as one of a dozen or more other diseases.

He said a study of 625 cases in the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto pointed again to the fact that even in the paralytic stage polio is hard to diagnose.

He said a physician trying to be certain about a diagnosis has to rule out such diseases as mumps, encephalitis or the "non-specific" polio imitator, coxsachi infections, in cases of non-paralytic polio.

Even when the patient has paralysis, he may be suffering from bone diseases, rheumatic fever, some form of shock, or a number of diseases affecting the central nervous system.

What is needed, the Canadian physician said, is a faster test. Present tests take about a week —after which time the doctor must make a final decision on what disease he is treating.

Eight hundred experts from 41 countries are attending the conference, aimed at trading new information on one of the world's most feared diseases.

OPP Report Little Crime Over Holiday

"An exceptionally quiet holiday week-end" was the way provincial police described activities in the immediate Belleville area during the Labor Day holiday.

Only two minor accidents, neither one amounting to $100 in property damage, were reported while the only other matters coming to the attention of provincial officers here were two minor break-ins.

One of the break-ins was at Keene's Auto Wreckers on North James street, where a coke machine was broken and robbed of about six dollars in change. The other breakin was at the paper mill at Glen Miller where another coke machine was opened. This time the change was left intact but the raiders took a dozen or so cokes from the cooler.

No One Seriously Hurt in Several Street Accidents

Highway accidents may have been few in the Belleville area district, over the holiday week-end but the reverse was true in the city where half a dozen or more mishaps were reported. Fortunately no serious injuries resulted from any of the mishaps.

Saturday morning Murray Dalnard, 5, of 170 James street, dated in front of an American car on West Bridge street suffering minor bruises and a shaking up.

Monday evening Robt. Telford, aged 2, of Frank street, was struck by a car as he darted out from the street near his home. The little fellow was not injured.

The two young boys were lads and so was Douglas Ibbotson, 15 Pearl street, whose car went off the highway on Dundas street, West, shortly before midnight Saturday. The car mounted the sidewalk, turned end over end and came to rest on a vacant lot opposite Albert College. Damage to the car was about $700 but the driver escaped injured. He had been charged with careless driving.

Sunday evening Arnold Jones of Wooler was southbound on Wellington street when his car failed to make the turn at Parker street. The car skidded into the ditch. The car struck the pole. Damage to the car was about $200. A passenger, Michael Bashfield, 21, of Water street, suffered a cut over the temple requiring four stitches to close.

Clifford McGrimmon, Orchard Drive, was backing out an alley way on Albert street and failed to see a hydro pole across the street. The car struck the pole, breaking it off at the base.

School Bells Ring Out For 750 Children

PICTON — School bells rang out for 750 pupils in Picton this morning when principal C. 420 are attending the new school erected this year. The remainder attend classes at the Mary Street and York street schools. For the past two years, the overflow has been accommodated in three halls in town. Enrolment is 50 over last term.

The new school, on the site of the former Collegiate which burned, will be officially opened on Sept. 23 by Cecil F. Connor, Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, who is a former principal of Picton public schools. Special ceremonies are being planned.

ONE-STOREY SCHOOL

The new school is one-storey, red brick construction with overhanging built-up roof. There is a great expanse of glass windows. An imposing front entrance opens into the main corridor where the walls are cream-yellow brick, floors of terrazzo and ceilings of acroustilcon tile with recessed lighting.

The school is heated by hot water through individually controlled connectors in each room. Each room can adjust its own temperature.

The school contains a large playroom with stage, two kindergarten rooms, ten classrooms, health room and kitchen. Off the main corridor are offices for the principal, Carl Reid, and secretary. Rooms for juniors and lady teachers are separated by a folding door which can be opened for general meetings of the board. New and modern furnishings add to the attractiveness of the school.

Bud Fisher Creator Of 'Mutt and Jeff' Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Rod Fisher, 69, creator of the "Mutt and Jeff" comic strip, died in Roosevelt Hospital today of cancer.

Fisher started his comic strip for the San Francisco Chronicle in 1907. His talents caught the eye of William Randolph Hearst, who signed him to a contract the next year.

Fisher was born Harry Conway Fisher in Chicago, April 3, 1885.

WELL, WE MADE IT!

Well, we made it, didn't we?

At times, though, it was a struggle.

But this morning, thank goodness, Junior and Missy trotted off to school and the long, anxious weeks are over at last.

From now on until next June with only a few lapses, Teacher can attend to her knitting.

Oh, yes, we know, the summer holidays are really not quite that bad. Still, what starts out as a gay adventure is apt to end up as an endurance test.

All good things come to an end, which is one of the main reasons why they are good things in the first place. It is pleasant, after the vacation-time weeks, to settle down into the regular routine of work-day and school-day life once again.

Labor Day, of course, always has a special significance as the last day of the summer holiday season. Still, it never looms as quite as important as other holidays which are just coming up.

Thanksgiving, for instance, which comes a month from now, provides a welcome breathing spell from the strain of settling into harness once again.

Then Christmas!

MEYER'S RELEASE FITS PATTERN

German S.S. Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer is a free man.

That will not be a suprise to those who read a recent article by Norman Lindhurst of the North American Newspaper Alliance.

"The Western Allies," he reported, "are clearing their jails of the Germans, including the cream of the general staff, convicted as war criminals and sentenced in most cases to execution or life imprisonment. By the end of this year, the last of the more than 10,000 Germans whom the Allies tried and convicted may walk out of the jails at Werl in Westphalia, Landsberg in Bavaria and Wittlich in Baden."

The release of Meyer is, therefore, not an exceptional case, but merely the application of a general policy to a case in which Canadians have a particular interest.

On Dec. 28, 1945, Meyer was convicted of inciting his troops to deny quarter to Allied soldiers and of responsibility in the mass shooting of 18 Canadian prisoners. He was originally sentenced to death but this sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. In May of 1946 he was brought to Canada to serve his life term, but in October of 1951 he was transferred back to Germany. This move brought protests, but the Canadian government said that Meyer's transfer would not change his sentence. Then, in January of this year, the government accepted the recommendation of the British-German review board that his sentence be reduced to fourteen years. With time off for good behavior, he has now been freed less than ten years after he was first sentenced to death.

What makes Meyer's case important is that it is part of a pattern. We do not know—and we suspect that there are few Canadians who know—whether the original sentence was justified, or indeed whether the conviction was justified. At one thing, though, we are certain. The various sentences—death, life imprisonment, fourteen years, ten years—cannot all represent just treatment. Either some are unjustifiably harsh or others are indefensibly lenient. Either we acted out of vengeance or the victim of a warbred spirit of vengeance, or else, if we were then being just, we are now failing to insist on retribution for Meyer's part in the murder of 18 of our countrymen, long-dead and now deserted by us.

What is true of Meyer's case is equally true of all the other thousands of cases in which the original sentences have been drastically reduced. Not all these sentences pronounced by judges actuated not by a firm resolve to see justice done but by a cruel longing for revenge? The French first sentenced Otto Abetz, Nazi ambassador to Vichy, to a 20-year term. They later reduced it, after deciding that Abetz "had no blood on his hands." Are we now ready to say that none of these war criminals had blood on his hands? And if we say that, how did it happen that there was so much blood? If all these men we sentenced as war criminals were innocent, are our own hands clean?

And if these men were indeed guilty and we are now freeing them because their continued imprisonment, as Lindhurst's words, constitutes "one of the most persistent causes of post-war tension between the Big Three and Germany." If this be the reason for the release of Meyer and his colleagues, can we then claim that our hands are clean and our consciences clear?

WHEN YOU ARE MATURE

"You are mature," says the London Free Press, "when you realize that, in general in this life, you get what you pay for."

Perhaps we might make a slight revision in that statement.

You are mature when you realize that, in general, you pay for what you get.

The two statements are not identical. Some may think the London Free Press version unduly optimistic. We do not, and we always get what we pay for. The important thing to remember is that we seldom get anything we do not pay for — and never from governments.

HOME ORCHESTRA

Six "teen age boys" some years ago
Within our home we found.
And five of them had horns to blow
And one a drum to pound.
The mother said: "Good gracious, dear!
A band has met to play.
When such a dreadful noise they hear
What will the neighbors say?"

Twelve feet were tapping on the floor,
The measured time to beat.
I doubt that ever heard before
Were notes so sour or sweet.

Said I: "That youngster with the drum
Deserves a round of cheers.
Though that's a fearful noise to some
It's music to my ears."

"It's simply dreadful," mother said.
"The neighbors, every one,
Must wonder have our senses fled
To let such things go on."
Said I: "Those lads have lungs with power
That rattle wall and door:
But this must be their practice hour
And that's what home is for."

"Well, you're gone and cut yourself out of my will - - - you used up everything last month"

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE GLORY OF GIVING

It has been said that the only things we keep are the things we give away. This seems to be both reasonable and sound, for when we give something away the joy of the one who receives it is a great it is reflected back to us in a larger measure than we had any idea. We always get when we give, especially if we put something of ourselves into our gift. The late Lord Tweedsmuir (John Buchan) said this: "We can pay our debt to the past only by putting the future in debt to us."

Make yourself more and more valuable to the world, and to yourself, so that when the future gives to you its bill for services rendered, it will show that you are absent, not behind. I have always liked this line; "Be glad to give as much as you take. And if you can give more than you take, so much the better, and more glory to you!

Watch a mother with her baby. Note how her whole being seems to be wrapped up in that small creature. She constantly gives all her strength and love to that innocent life. But she keeps getting something intangible back every minute. How proud she is to give love. She asks nothing in return, but in her heart she dreams of the day when that child will grow to maturity and bless her mother-hood and be a credit to the world. We can never give to others love to anyone, even to the one who apparently may be unworthy of it. We are enriched every time we give it away. We grow strong, like the athlete who develops strength in his muscles. But we must never give with the idea in mind to get something in return. That would spoil it all. It doesn't matter even if there is no appreciation. In time the dividends will begin

There Is A Difference

(Edmonton Journal)

A philosopher insists that the poor man is as well off as the millionaire, since both eat three meals a day, wear one shirt at a time, and usually sleep in equally comfortable beds. The big difference, of course, is that the millionaire's will doesn't have to cook the first meal, wash the second, or make the third.

Smoke Stacks

(Trail Times)

A news story on the giant Consolidated mines smokestacks reminds us of the fitting retort which at least one Trail business man makes when visitors comment on the unpleasantness of the smoke spewing from the stacks. "I'd be a lot more worried," is his comment, "if I didn't want any smoke coming out."

News About Nudists

(By Louis Cook in the Detroit Free Press)

Tony Spina and I were a little worried about becoming nudists—even for two days. But it was easy. In fact, we enjoyed ourselves. The nudists at the convention were genial and friendly.

We were met at the gate of Sunshine Gardens, three miles south of Battle Creek, by a suntanned crew which included a lady with no blouse. We were led single file back into the timber to the camp headquarters.

We were registered by Elmer J. Adams, a muscular and friendly soul who was wearing spectacles and an arm band marked "Official." Elmer is the operator of Sunshine Gardens. He introduced us to his wife Lucille, who wore no arm band, and, anything else. Nudists usually know each other only by their first names. Bankers, factory workers and professional people are all the same in the Garden of Eden.

A young lady named June arrived on the scene. June is very attractive. Even if she were not comfortable we can meet the rest of the people", she said.

Spina and I stood in the road and shouted our clothing until we were naked as baby jaybirds. Except for our feet. There was a lot of gravel around and we kept on our shoes, as did most of the others nudists.

The sun was warm on our bodies. Under the trees a gentle breeze blew across our hips. All we could think of was the poor city people in their hot offices, stores and factories.

We asked where we could check our wallets and photographic equipment and discovered there was no checking service. We were known in a nudist encampment. We walked through the camp, about 200 men, women and children were swimming, playing games, lounging around and in the sun.

Spina looked like an average small town county club—with one significant difference. No clothes.

Nudists are healthy people, except one small boy who pointed at my pale body and exclaimed: "Look how you're so white!"

I said I hadn't been out in the sun much this year. But the next time I had sun all over me in 39 years. We were the first customers at the convention. Most of the crowd had what is known as a full-line tan. I looked like a couple of grubs which had just crawled out from under a log.

We lounged around the clubhouse in great comfort while the club president, the Rev. Bradner Sawyer, demanded over the air that the nudists get busy.

There is a little startled at the Rev. Mr. Sawyer's declarations that nudists were simply turning their children at the camp, and that lewd orgies were the order of the day. We met quiet and chaste convention we ever had attended.

The Rev. Mr. Sawyer was only there when the Rev. Mr. Sawyer appeared at the gate and demanded that he be permitted to enter with his pants and a movie camera.

Nudists, it seems, are simply nuts on sunshine. Gardens would have been regarded as a nude version of Hyde Park corner. Pictures are permitted in a nudist camp, but only by those who have been approved being pictured and in suitable poses.

There didn't appear to be any fanatics about. The nudists ranged from people who wore a few of their clothes off when the weather is hot to others who are angry at the use of clothing to arouse curiosity and entice.

Conclusions:

Nudism is delightful when the sun is shining.

It is not so good when the sun goes down and the mosquitoes come out.

There are many advantages. There's always time for a swim before dinner.

There's no need to walk around the lagoon. Much simpler to leap in and swim across.

Laundry is no problem.

Getting caught in the rain is no catastrophe. Rather interesting, in fact.

Keeping up with the latest fashions is bothersome. nudist ladies not at all. They already have lowered the hemlines and bobbed their hair.

No loose of any kind is available in a nudist encampment.

Nudists smoke, but not much. A cigarette in the mouth would be disastrous if stepped or sat upon.

Nudists watch their diet. People who go around naked are more conscious of their figures than those who have recourse to girdles and concealing clothing.

Nudist table manners are excellent. Spilling a cup of coffee or dropping a piece of hot mashed potatoes is likely to result in a recorded lady.

Sleeping in camp is very uncomplicated. Several ladies shared a comfortable tent. Spina, myself and a group of other men. One was a little white-haired lady who looked something like Whistler's Mother.

There are disadvantages, naturally.

Insects are wide open to attacks by everything that crawls, flies or slithers.

And there are particularly voracious, and even a tough-hided old-timer never becomes quite immune to mosquitoes and chiggers.

A cruising bumble-bee is regarded with deep suspicion.

Nudists must endure some of the cruelest jokes ever perpetrated. "Here comes the facts." "No nudes is good nudes."

Nudists are constantly troubled with where to put things. There is no pocket in the human hide.

Some carry a dollar bill tucked under their wrist watches or under a rubber band snapped on their wrists.

If one is wearing shoes he can carry small change, matches and a comb inside a sock.

Initiates to nudism have a great problem as to to do with their hands and arms.

They miss not being able to put their hands in their pockets or their hip pockets over their nails.

Nudists have to be careful about what they sit against. After a few hours as a nudist, one maps the location of all barbed wire fences, splinters, nails and plankers.

Too much sun is carefully guarded against. Plenty of oil or lotion is used.

When a sunbather has had enough he puts on clothes or moves into the shade.

Romance is no problem in a nudist camp. It just doesn't seem like the proper time or place.

Pigs Have Character

(The Times of London)

The news that pigs in Denmark can now get a drink of water at the touch of their snouts is indirect but well merited compliment to the intelligence of animals that has never caught the imagination of animal-lovers as it should. There are, of course, people who know only too well that the real trouble with pigs is not stupidity but what Lord Exmouth, in a notable essay, described as sloth. Pigs would have been content to look upon pigs in terms of the larder and sausage-meat.

Pigs, it is true, are hardly capable of the loyalty which is practised by the cat and the dog, tickle human vanity and enslave human affections; they are not naturally wagging their curi of a tail, depend for their keep on slops at the feet nor sally out to buy his evening paper; there is no record of a pig attempting to a destination 50 miles from his home, making his way back to the very sty in which the household that so heartlessly cast him off. Yet, for all that, pigs have character and, what is more, pigs, although not so attractive as dogs, have a head and twinkly little screwed-up eyes, a double chin, and a short turned-up nose which, we are told, betokens humility.

There is a certain tacit recognition of this by which, in practice, it is handled about in speech and idiom. To call a man a swine is a reference which no one could misword pig as applied to humans normally suggests a certain heedlessness. It may stand as a synonym for greediness, but it is not that impute to the pig a vice less that has nothing to do with gluttony. The greediness of the pig is that which covets the last chocolate in the box, which hovers at the edge of the dish and helps to the end, the pink bow greediness or selfishness.

The pigs Beatrix Potter created, the delectable family presided over by Aunt Dorothy Bramley, the piety of this spirit; the pigs Mr. Walt Disney drew, the pigs that sang and whistled their contempt of the Big Bad Wolf while they built their houses of straw or bricks, illustrate other aspects of their character. And not, as anybody else has happened to catch the knowing, faintly sardonic eye of a pig will have noticed, since the true nature, of the animal is not shining.

Pigs have more than their fair share of inquisitiveness but for the most part a proper streak of obstinacy running through them, and, while they can be fed right by water and yet not drink, so it is quite certain that they could not be introduced to buttons, understand their purpose, and yet refuse to pull their fastidious snouts by pushing.

WHAT CAN ANY KID DO BETTER?

Dear Dr. Brady: . . . our six-year-old son won't fight back when other children pick on him. He's not a weakling but very well built and strong. We try to force him to stick up for himself and fight back as we hate to see him taken advantage of. He is very good natured and avoids the fight. He is willing his grandmother now and tells her he doesn't want to come home because "the kids are mean to him."

Perhaps it is emotional strength your son needs. You can help him in many ways to develop it. You can make sure he knows he is respected as a person and approved of, in his home. Then you can help him to develop his individual skills and aptitudes to the point where there is at least one thing that he can do well to than the others, some one field in which he feels his own superiority.

This field need not be fisticuffs. All individuals are not superior at fighting. His abilities may lie in other directions. It may be he can run faster, gets himself given air ,stand on his head five minutes longer, do the splits or turn more cartwheels. Perhaps he cooks a knockout breakfast or can swim well enough to win the far end of his tray.

"Take your coffee black," I repeated," and then you won't feel bad about not having room for cutting down the cream ration. It's only when you want something that you don't get it. Here's the way the whole life is not to want anything. The minute you're satisfied, there's simply side-step by not wanting the thing denied. This is philosophy in gingham—and I've got eye me here. I don't take cream in my coffee."

"By jinks!" said the second Post Office man, taking his pencil behind his ear and sending it over on the other chap's, the one who had used mine. "I'm going to try that!"

They sat with me while I ate my bearty meal, and the second apentace cranberry pie and my five cups of coffee.

The one who gave away his cream went back for a second cup of black coffee and two extra jiggers of cream burped a few times.

"You can get too much cream in coffee," he reflected, leaving about half an inch in the cup as the two of them suddenly hurried off to their national duty.

ANGELS IN COMPARTMENTS

The great Japanese evangelist and man of letters, Kagawa, was asked some years ago to give his impression of American life. His answer was: "On the North American continent angels all live in compartments."

By this he meant that we have many categories which human betterment which appear to be appallingly disconnected. Here is one group of angels working for world peace. Here is another engaged in promoting Christian missions. Here is another trying to overcome juvenile delinquency. Other angels are trying to promote prayer groups. Still others are pointing out the evils of drug addiction and the evils attending the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Now all these things are good. But so often the angels will not get together into an effective unity. They are in compartments. We speak of the Army of the Lord, but continue to work very often on a compartmental basis.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Two Post Office men, from the nearby pond, joined me at the next to me at the quick lunch serving counter to get cups of coffee to carry off to the tables. I was watching my order of a bowl of onion on brown, a piece of cranberry pie on ten-cent, and a pot of tea with two pots of hot water.

The waitress set up the trays for them, and on each placed the tiniest little pot of cream you ever saw. They were those miniature cream bottles. But they were getting my order of tea and the pie and the bowl of onion soup.

"If they made those any smaller," snorted one of the Post Office men," we'd get lost in 'em."

The waitress just smiled.

She set up my tray and put on the two little jugs on it.

"Too far this one, boys," I said, anybody has any business to come over to one of their trays," I want to let you guys in on a secret. I'm older than you. Don't take cream, and then they can't chisel on you."

"How's that again?" enquired the taller Post Office man, taking my cream and putting it safely at

FRANKFORD

Juveniles Trim Manotick 7-1 To Sweep Series

FRANKFORD (Special) — Frankford captured the Eastern Ontario Juvenile "C" baseball championship on Saturday when they handed Manotick a 7-1 defeat on the latter's home field to sweep their series, two games to none.

The winners went out front in the initial frame with five runs and added singletons in the seventh and ninth. Manotick netted their lone marker in the second.

Wannamaker sweated the distance to gain the win, giving up eight hits, fanning six and walking only one. Heney was the losing hurler, going all the way, as he allowed ten hits, whiffed two and walked one.

Whitney's home run in the first inning with two men on base was the top blow of the game. Austin led the victors with a double and single while Hind and Tait duplicated with doubles. McKee, Kemp, Kidd and Aquino chipped in singles.

The Manotick hitters were Briggs and Armstrong with a brace of singles each while the others went to Wilson, Carss, Crawford and Davidson.

The line score:

| | R | H | E |
|---|---|---|---|
| Frankford | 115 | 000 | 101 — 7 | 10 | 1 |
| Manotick | 010 | 000 | 000—1 | 8 | 2 |

MARMORA

Brown Leads Marmora To 6-4 Victory

In the first game played between Marmora and Port Stewart in the North Hastings League finals on the latter's diamond on Thursday evening the visitors came from behind in the fourth to win by 6-4. Weiner Brown who was pitching for Marmora got a homer on a fast drive down centre field to score two of his mates. Port Stewart play the second game with Marmora here on Tuesday evening. The game scheduled for Marmora last Monday was rained out.

Regents Lose Game, Series By Default

Lack of playing personnel cost the Reid Regents a baseball game on Saturday. The Deseronto squad was awarded the game by default after the Regents failed to produce a nine-man team after a player was called away in the fourth innings.

The Regents could field but nine men, and in the fourth Oliver, a policeman, was called away, and with the Regents unable to produce a substitute the game was awarded to the Deseronto squad.

The loss gave the Deseronto team the series since they won or were awarded two games by default with the Regents winning the third game.

The Deseronio squad now meets the Trenton RCAF squad in a sudden death game to decide the finalists. The winners meet Picton for the Belleville District Baseball League championship.

Regents were trailing 4-2 in the fourth innings. Stoliker, who started on the mound was relieved in the fourth by Oliver. Brady hurled for Deseronio. Regents were in the midst of a rally when the game was called.

CP Bureau Chief Named Pres. Of Association

PORTES DE L'ENFER, Que. (CP)—W. A. Stewart, Canadian Press bureau chief at Montreal has been elected president of the Canadian War Correspondents Association.

The annual meeting of newspaper and radio men who covered the Second World War and Korean war for Canadians met at this Laurentides Park fishing camp during the Labor Day weekend.

W. H. Dunstan, director of public relations from Canadian armed forces, announced a new public relations manual for the army will soon be distributed through the service and to Canadian newspapers.

He said representatives from the CWCA were an important factor in preparation of the manual, which is the handbook for dissemination to the Canadian public of service information.

Mr. Stewart, 40, was a war correspondent in Italy, on the Western front and in the South Pacific during the Second World War. He succeeds J. F. Bergeron of Montreal, president since 1948.

Charlie Lynch, Reuters news agency, New York, who covered Canadian Army operations in Normandy after D-day, was elected to the executive, and John Dauphinee, Toronto, was re-elected secretary. Other executive members are C. A. Day and Ralph Allen, Toronto.

Wingless Plane Goes Straight Up

LONDON (Reuters)—A British firm has produced an experimental wingless plane which takes off by going straight up from a horizontal position.

Details of the revolutionary machine, built by Rolls Royce in conjunction with the British ministry of supply, were revealed Monday night at the dinner of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors.

"I can hardly call it an aircraft for it is really no more than an aero-engine with a pilot mounted on top," Supply Minister Duncan Sandys said.

The machine, weighing 3½ tons, takes off without the aid of wings or runway.

The necessary uplift is provided by downward facing "jet streams" which can be changed to control the plane's angle of climb, Sandys said.

Northerns Oust Peterborough TPT, Goyer's 3-Run Homer Turns Tide

(By GARRY ALEXANDER)

Vern Goyer's three-run homer was the main blow on Saturday afternoon when the Belleville Northern Electric ousted Peterborough T.P.T. Petes from O.A.S.A. Senior "B" action with a 5-3 decision in Cobourg.

Goyer's homer came in the sixth with the Petes out front 3-1. Claude Carr ignited the rally with a base-on-balls and Glenn Young slashed a single to put men on second and first with none away. "Jumbo" faked several bunts and then drove one to centre field that rolled almost to the labs with no play made by Slin at home for a 4-2 lead.

The winners added another mark-er in the seventh on a pair of walks to Soules and Carr plus Young's single through the centre. This brought up Goyer again but a new hurler took over and walked Goyer intentionally to load the sacks. Batchelor popped out.

Lum Carson tired in the eighth when a pair of walks and Buck LeGrow's single plated one run but Boyle came on and retired the third batter after walking one to keep the sacks full.

Carson gained his second win of the series in 7 2-3 innings as he allowed the losers five hits, well spaced. He fanned nary a man while walking four. Don Boyle held their rivals hitless while walking one in a short but fine relief job.

"Haddy" Eakins started and took the loss for Peterborough in 7 2-3 innings, surrendering six of the victors eight hits. He clashed one on strikes as did his successor, Reg Gordon. The loser walked four, all of them in the sixth and seventh frames while Gordon walked one and then retired the Northerners in order the rest of the way.

The T.P.T.er's took a 2-0 lead in the second frame on a walk, Buck LeGrow's double and a single by Toody Greenlaw. The winners notched their initial tally on single by Goyer and Earl Cousins sandwiched around a fielder's choice and a wild pitch.

Vern Goyer had a perfect day at the plate with his homer and two singles plus an intentional walk while Glenn Young contributed two important singles. Lum Carson, Deacon Whiting and Earl Cousins were the other hitters.

LeGrow had a double and single in defeat with singles for Castle, Donlevy and Greenlaw.

The Lineups:

Peterborough: Collins 3b; Mackenzie; Redmond batted for Mackenzie in the ninth, Stewart 2b; West 1s; Donlevy 1b; LeGrow rf; Greenlaw lf; Castle c; Eakins p; Gordon p; Crowe batted for Gordon in ninth.

Belleville: Soules cf; Carr 3b; Young c; Goyer lf; Batchelor ss; Cousins rf; Locke 1b; Whiting 2b; Carson p, Boyle p.

| Line Score | R | H | E |

Pre-Nuptial Shower Honors Bride-to-Be

Approximately 65 neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cross, Roslin, on Wednesday evening to honor their daughter, Helena Pearl, bride-to-be of this month, with a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. Ethel Coulter and Mrs. Eleanor Copeland being the co-hostesses for the occasion.

Miss Betty Cross invited the guests upstairs, where Mrs. Newel Demille, and Mrs. Don Cross had charge of the display of the hope chest and the trousseau.

After the guests had assembled again, Mrs. Arnold Dills rendered a solo, "Bless This House."

Miss Ben Clark, grandmother of the groom-to-be, gave a reading.

Mrs. Laura Hutchison conducted a contest which caused much amusement.

Helena was then asked to take a specially decorated chair and Barbara Demille pinned a corsage of gladioli on her.

Miss Joan Foote read the address which was in the form of a well ladened baby carriage was wheeled in by a small "bride and groom", little Shirley and Romy Demille.

After Helena had opened the many lovely wrapped parcels assisted by Diana Wright, Joan Foote and Barbara Demille, she graciously expressed her thanks for the lovely gifts.

Mr. Stan Found invited all to the dining room where a delicious buffet luncheon was prepared, the table being most attractively covered with a lace cloth, and centred by a silver basket of pastel gladioli, flanked by a triple candle holders, also with pink candles.

Mrs. Milton Thompson, aunt and Mrs. Laura Hutchison, cousin of the bride-to-be,poured tea.

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Two fast electric trains ground to a halt with screeching brakes here today as both drivers spotted a four-year-old boy sitting calmly between the tracks. As he was led to safety, the youngster burst into tears and then set sobbing, "I'll tell my mother on you."

SMITH—KINGDON

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in the Central Gospel Tabernacle, Bleecker Street, on Saturday, September 4th, at 2.30 p.m., when Doreen Florence Kingdon, daughter of Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Kingdon, of Hamilton, became the bride of the Reverend Hope McLachlan Smith, of Belleville, pastor of Calvary Temple, Belleville, son of the late J. B. Smith, of London, Ontario, and the late Mrs. Smith.

Reverend J. H. Blair, of Hamilton, officiated before a background of white gladioli and ferns in tall standards.

The Reverend Fred Parlee, of Peterborough, furnished the wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Miss Irene McMillan, of Toronto.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in ivory satin under white lace, fashioned in floor-length having a scalloped yoke of nylon embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a finger-tip veil with headdress of satin and pearl petal effect encrusted with seed pearls, and carried a white Bible crested with white gardenias and white carnations.

Miss Gloria Kingdon, of Hamilton, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Lorne Davy, of Oakville, as bridesmaid, sisters of the bride, were gowned in graduated shades of green nylon net, with short capes and bonnet headdresses and muffs of cinnamon lace over green taffeta. Their muffs were accented by clusters of yellow roses.

Little Miss Charlotte Anne Smith, of Belleville, as flower girl, sweet in her long frock of yellow nylon over taffeta. She carried a tiny muff crested with Johanns Hill roses.

Mr. Paul Smith, of London, Ontario, attended his brother as groomsman, and the ushers were the Reverend Laurie Price, of Belleville; the Reverend Dean Smith of Winnipeg, also a brother of the bridegroom, and the Reverend Tom Richardson, of Brockville.

The wedding reception was held at the Y.M.C.A., Hamilton. The bride's mother, attired in blue with navy accessories; and corsage of pink roses, received, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, wearing deep mauve with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses.

For travelling to Northern Ontario, the bride donned a blue suit with black and white accessories, pink shortie coat, and a corsage of pink Briarcliffe roses.

The Reverend Hope Smith and Mrs. Smith will reside in Belleville, upon their return.

JORDAN—KENNEDY

White and blue tinted gladioli formed a pretty background for Holy Name of Mary Church, Marysville, Ontario, on Saturday, August 28th, at 10:00 a.m., when the marriage of Agnes Margaret Kennedy, of Marysville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kennedy, to James Michael Jordan, of Roblin, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jordan. The Rev. F. J. Donoghue officiated at the ceremony and the Nuptial Mass.

Sister Wilhelmina, organist, provided the wedding music, and Mr. Robert Burke, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Richard Kennedy, the bride wore a lovely bridal gown of embroidered nylon over silk faille. She wore a fingertip veil of tulle held by an open-crown cap of embroidered nylon lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli.

Miss Mary Kennedy, of Siddury, Ontario, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Mildred Kennedy, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, also sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, were attired in wedgwood blue crystalette, with matching headdress. They carried bouquets of peach gladiolas.

Little Terry Anne and Bonnie Becker, of Hartford, Wisconsin, nieces of the bride, were flower girls, frocked alike in embroidered nylon over blue taffeta with matching headdresses. They carried bouquets of summer flowers.

Mr. Vincent Jordan, of Kingston, brother boy the bridegroom, was groomsman, and the ushers were Messrs. Miroslaw Kwiatkowski, of Marysville, cousin of the bride, and Clare Jordan, of Roblin, brother of the bridegroom.

The wedding dinner was held at Golden Arms Inn, Kingston Road, and the reception at the bride's home, where the bride's mother received the guests, wearing navy crepe in triple sheer with lace panels, with blue velvet hat, and corsage of Sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother assisted, attired in rose crepe with white accessories, and white carnation corsage.

For the wedding trip to New England States and Eastern Canada, the bride chose a jacket dress of navy blue faille, with white velvet hat and corsage of white gardenias.

Guests were present from Hartford, Wis.; Kingston; Oshawa, Toronto, and Sarnia, Ontario.

FARGEY—DEAN

Tall standards of pink and white gladioli and ferns adorned the sanctuary and chancel of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Belleville, for the marriage of Mildred Pearl Dean, of Sudbury, daughter of Mrs. Ivan Dean, of Nova Scotia, and the late Ivan Dean, to Maxwell Kenneth Fargey, of Sudbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Fargey, of Belleville, on Saturday, August 28th, at 2.30 p.m. The Rev. Everett Smith, assistant rector of Christ Church, Belleville, officiated. White satin bows, centred with a tiny pale pink bachelor button, designated the guest pews.

Mr. Eugene Fargey, organist, rendered the wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Alec Cunningham, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by Mr. Harold Adams, of Sudbury, the bride was lovely in her white satin gown with bell sleeves and fashioned in ballerina length with molded, strapless bodice having a scalloped net jacket pointed at the back, with Peter Pan collar and shoulder-like sleeves fully pleated over the bodice. Her skirt was of lace and net over satin. A coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones held her fingertip veil of embroidered nylon net. She carried a small bouquet of white gladioli florets centred by a pink orchid.

Mrs. Robert Fargey, of Belleville, as matron of honor attended the bride, gowned in periwinkle blue tootal cloth and net, fashioned with fitted, sleeveless bodice fully pleated over the bodice, and stole. She wore matching shower bouquet of gladioli florets centred by a pink orchid.

Miss Dorothy Rigdon, of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Lorne Fargey, of Belleville, and Mr. Curtis Burlanyett, of Toronto, cousins of the bridegroom.

Gladioli and asters interspersed with ferns adorned the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Fargey for the reception. The bridegroom's mother received, attired in navy crepe and lace, with navy velvet hat and corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride's table was prettily appointed with white damask, centred by a three-tier wedding cake topped by a tiny vase of pink rosebuds; while a cloud of pink tulle and centred pink roses surrounded the base. Tall white candles in silver candelabra completed a charming arrangement.

For travelling to Nova Scotia, the bride chose a soft grey suit with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Fargey will reside in Sudbury.

Guests were present from Toronto, Ottawa, Maple Leaf and Sudbury.

HUFFMAN—HAYGARTH

Holy Cross Parish Church, Toronto, was prettily adorned with pink and white and yellow gladioli on Saturday, August 21st, at 10:00 a.m., when Dorothy R. Miller united in marriage, Nelson Cecil Haygarth, of Toronto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Haygarth, to James Edward Huffman, of Belleville, Ontario, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Huffman.

The wedding music was rendered by Mr. S. Smith, who accompanied the quartet of boys from St. Michael's Cathedral choir, Hugh Stead, Bryan Clough, Hugh Taylor and Gerald Cummings.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a charming ballerina length gown of white nylon tulle over satin, featuring a molded bodice trimmed with seed pearls and sequins; while the full skirt was enhanced by four lace panels. Her finger veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink gladioli and white Miltonia thenums.

The matron of honor was Mrs. James McNeill, who was attired in yellow nylon tulle over taffeta in ballerina length, with full skirt, matching hat and carried a nosegay of pink gladioli, roses, and yellow mums.

Miss Doreen Haygarth, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wore a ballerina length gown in blue nylon tulle over taffeta with matching hat. Her nosegay was of pink gladioli, roses and blue mums.

Mr. Edward J. Buckley attended the bridegroom and Messrs. Donald Kippen and Ray Huffman, brother or the bridegroom, acted as ushers.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Way, of Belleville.

Miss Joan Donovan, assisted the bride and Mr. Peter Burtell (Bud) Schrieder, brother of the bride, as guests.

A family dinner was held at the Dutch Mill Inn, Trent Road, after which the happy couple left on a motor trip to Toronto and points west.

Mr. and Mrs. Way will reside in Belleville.

Writes Broadway Hit Shows To Avoid Chores in Kitchen

NEW YORK (AP)—Never underestimate the power of a housewife who doesn't like housework.

Jean Kerr, pretty young wife of Walter Kerr, New York drama critic, and mother of four sons, all under nine, writes Broadway hit shows to avoid cooking and washing dishes.

"Ever since I was first exposed to a kitchen full of pots and pans I've been trying to avoid housework. I honestly think that is the main reason I keep writing these things."

Jean's most recent work is the current comedy hit, "King of Hearts," on which she collaborated with another housewife, Eleanor Brooke, of Washington, D.C. The play was directed by Jean's husband.

Previously she wrote the dramatic version of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," turned out "Jenny Kiss Me," and collaborated with Watson on the Broadway play, "The Song of Bernadette" and on sketches and lyrics for the musical hit, "Touch and Go." She also contributed to the recent Broadway revue, "Alemanac."

At present the highly successful husband and wife team is at work on a new musical, "Goldilocks," which pokes fun at the early days of the movies and is due on Broadway after Christmas.

Theatre Diary for September

by Robert Tanner

With Labor Day upon us, signaling as it does to most of us the end of summer's carefree relaxation and the beginning of a new season of activity, we look forward to a re-awakening of those professional theatrical concerns which have been closed down for the months. Her theatre scribe, Robert Tanner, has already established themselves amongst us and we have keener interest to the birth of one or two new ones.

The first "old friend" we heard from this year was the Royal Alexandra Theatre which, after an early start with "South Pacific" last month, announced a long and interesting schedule of attractions stretching way on into next spring. During September, the present run of "Porgy and Bess", a return visit of the company which has been scoring such a great success in New York, London and Paris, will be replaced by "The Moon is Blue", that delightful comedy which after capturing the heart of Broadway, delighted millions in its film version. This in turn will be followed by another play with a similar history, but very different type, "Dial M for Murder", a gripping and intelligent mystery drama.

No plans have yet been announced for Toronto's Jupiter Theatre, but last year's newcomer, The Crest, is at work on a new play by Robertson Davies entitled "A Jig for a Gypsy" and starring Barbara Chilcott fresh from her success at Stratford as Katharine in "The Taming of the Shrew". This play will be followed by "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and Graham Greene's "The Living Room."

News of the Canadian Repertory Theatre, Ottawa, is still in the rumor stage, the story being that Harry Geldard and Margaret Braidwood, who have been doing such excellent work at Peterborough this past summer, will go to Ottawa where he will direct and she will act, two feathers in C.R.T.'s cap.

Miss Nina Vance's Alley Theatre in Houston, Texas, is nearly at an end; "The Eagle Has Two Heads" has been playing this week, and next week's "Dorothy a Son" sees Michael Sadleir completing his sixth consecutive year in charge there. An interesting development is reported by Miss Vance's friend, Tyrone Guthrie, which now plans to turn itself into a theatrical repertory, with two-week runs. The new policy will be inaugurate this new policy will be with "Hamlet" due to start shortly

As far as Belleville itself is concerned, there will be no dramatic performances are scheduled for the month of September, which does however see intense activity on the part of the local Theatre Guild as they ready their first production, scheduled for October is a most interesting and varied repertory, with two-week runs. The first such will be inaugurate this new policy will be with "Hamlet" due to start shortly

Theatre Guild Looks Forward To Busy Season

Plans are well advanced for the start of a successful season for the Belleville Theatre Guild, A. S. Robb, President, announced today. The first such production to be presented in October will be "The Enchanted" by Jean Geraudoux, and will be directed by Beatrice Christie, a well-known name in Canadian Theatre. Mr. Christie will be the speaker at the first fall meeting this week, following which casting for the play will take place. In bringing Mr. Christie to Belleville, the Theatre Guild is taking one more step toward its object to "promote and encourage dramatic activity in Belleville and vicinity." Mr. Robb points out that interest is growing in this form of recreation, not only here in Belleville, but right across Canada, and that there is a wide field for one and all. To do justice to any produce of this nature requires a wide variety of "back stage" people to make the unsung heroes of the theatre, and without whom a play could not be produced. The aim of the Theatre Guild executives take an active part in this phase of activity; there are those who build and decorate sets with those who scurry around and "prop" the various pieces of furniture, fixtures, and all objects required to lend authenticity to the production, and who look after the general parlance as properties; there are the costume and wardrobe departments, make-up experts, lighting technicians and sound effects men. All these people, along with the director and the players, form a team and work together to get enjoyment and satisfaction from participating in a creative field. Anyone does not have to be an actor or interested in this phase only to get a real recreational benefit from a theatre group. Here in Belleville the Guild is a community group and membership is open to all citizens who are interested in participating in an activity which is exciting, with people who are interested in contributing to the cultural life of the community.

SHANNONVILLE W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of Shannonville United Church, was held in the church hall on Wednesday with 12 members in attendance. The president, Mrs. L. Allen, opened the meeting by reading a poem from "Onward", "The Pharisee is Us Yet."

The secretary read a letter of thanks from Mr. L. E. Mills of Barrie for remembrance from the Society on his 102nd birthday. Mrs. Everett Stanton, treasurer reported $106 sent away. It was agreed that if the Baby Band leader, Miss Vivian, could have a meeting for the 'Baby Band' in September that members would assist by providing the refreshments.

Following a discussion it was decided the bale be packed on and Mrs. Gannon, on October 7th, September 30, in the church hall and articles for the same be brought to the church. Good used clothing is acceptable.

Mrs. C. Clarke gave a temperance reading, a poem "The Drinking House Over the Way".

Mrs. Gerald Stratton, group leader, took charge and led in expansive reading and offered prayer. Mrs. Damon Hinchey gave the Bible reading.

Mrs. Damon Hinchey and Mrs. Everett Stratton in the form of a dialogue told of their imaginary trip to India and their impressions on their visit to this great country. Mrs. Everett Stratton read "The Church in India." Mrs. Gerald Stratton, assisted by Mrs. Orval Stratton, presented the first chapter of the study book on India.

After the closing hymn, a sale of home cooking added $10.30 to the treasury.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stratton and members of her group and a social time enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Siddens and Mrs. Gannon, on October 7th,

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HAVEN'T ANY BOY FRIENDS? HERE ARE SUGGESTIONS

A great many letters directed to me in this column are written by teen-age girls and older young women who complain that they have no boy friends. Most of the teen-agers I meet in town and had not had one date for 48 hours, and was gulping tea in our house by the cupful when asked why he did not have something to eat with it he replied that the large amount of sugar and cream in it was equivalent in energy to two eggs. Energy pre-war but what about the added dividend that eggs provide?

Then I launched into my favorite theme: "Do you advise your patients to eat as you do? Or do you teach them Canada's Food Rules?" "When I have time to but they are too busy eating what they like anyway, or what their mothers fed them when they were young. I find though that roughly speaking the families that are most in need of good meals are don't have the coda or respiratory infections that while they last eaters do."

This observation filled me with glee, for I've been practising and preaching whole wheat bread consumption for twenty years.

It served to the wise sufficient! Is an observation like that sufficient to you wise mothers?

If so I will go on with my topic for today which is the packing of school lunch pails. Variety is a spice of plain white bread in them. . . . Get that out of your head, the carried school lunch . . . that about half of the children in our country over six years of age have as their midday meal. . . can make him a malnourished or a well nourished young citizen.

Do you pack your children's school lunches conscientiously?

You can put new sparkle in your child's eye, new spring in his step, increase his interest in games. . . things that are the rightful heritage of every young Canadian. . . by that one step alone—a careful consideration of his diet.

Where raw foods are added to sandwich fillings this is done with the specific purpose of adding extra vitamins and minerals —factors that kindle the eye-sparkle and oil the step spring.

SCHOOL LUNCH SANDWICH FILLINGS

All should be between 100 per cent whole wheat bread slices.

(1) Chopped hard-cooked egg with one-third as much chopped mixed green onion and cucumber, moistened with soft butter and mayonnaise.

(2) Two-thirds peanut butter (or nut crush) with one-third chopped crisp bacon, softened with butter.

(3) One-half banana and one-half teaspoon lemon juice mashed with a package of cream cheese. (This filling is excellent spread for thin slices of Boston Brown Bread for your own afternoon tea parties.)

(4) Equal quantities of ground dried or canned corned beef and mild cheddar cheese, moistened with tomato catsup.

(5) Ground cooked ham mixed with an equal quantity of grated raw vegetables such as celery, sea-kale, new cabbage.

(6) Two-thirds part drained flaked salmon or tuna with one-third part mixed chopped cucumber and green relish.

(7) One-half part chopped or ground chicken or cooked chicken giblets including liver with one-quarter part very finely chopped celery, and one-quarter part chopped almonds or other nuts moistened with mayonnaise and butter.

NOTES:

(1) A thermos for hot soup or cocoa or cold milk is highly recommended. (2) It is recommended that the butter be added to the filling because this makes it spread more quickly and eliminates one operation—the butter-spreading of the bread. (3) Beverages and sandwiches include a liquid such as soap or cocoa or milk, and one raw vegetable to be eaten in the fingers and one raw fresh fruit. If you add cookies or cake be sure they have fruits and nuts in them for extra nourishment.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

ATTENTION, ENGAGED GIRLS AND BRIDES!

The following letter, first in my mail this morning, is an extremely important one, a sad and timely commentary on many of today's Gimme Girls, the engaged girls and the brides who take every means possible to gather in the loot and then go on their merry way with nary a word of "thank you." It is a pity that a girl starting out on a shining new pathway should let the radiance be shadowed by the hurt and disappointed feelings of the friends who took such careful and devoted thought and effort and budgeting to "for presents they hoped would make her happy. . . and appreciative. Here's the letter to speak for itself:

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Recently I attended a shower for a girl who works in my office, and another shower for the daughter of a close friend. A month or more has passed, and no one has received a thank-you note from either girl. The girls in the office have done a lot of critical talking, and it is the general opinion that they are being used as "suckers"—and most of them have come to the conclusion that they will not attend any more showers, no matter what they are for. Both of these girls for whom the showers were given were in receipt of salaries, and it is taken for granted by us that they never intended to take the time out to write a note of thanks to anyone.

Also I was invited to a wedding. I knew the bride-to-be slightly, but her parents were known to our family for a long time. We felt that this girl a beautiful girl—she has now been married over a month, and we never have received a thank-you note. Her mother called to thank me for the lovely gift was received, but the girl didn't tell us. At a gathering of women lately (most of them friends of the girl's mother), this wedding was mentioned, and one of the people who had sent wedding gifts also complained that she never received a word of thanks for their gifts. Very close friends of the bride's mother are there, and one of them said that the bride's attitude toward her wedding gifts had caused her mother great embarrassment, and she said, "This girl took it for granted that these people owed her the gifts, and that she thought nothing of receiving them." This particular girl prides herself on being up-to-date, but her manners in this case are certainly very Old. Her careless-ness and her attitude and her lack of courtesy have really spoiled the thought and memory of her wedding, because many of the comments made about her were based on the idea that "here is another one who was out to get all she could get." We are tired of giving to people like her.

What is wrong with these girls? Why don't they skip the fancy wedding and the showers if they have this ungrateful attitude toward the presents, and go out and buy their own home furnishings? So many girls have showers given for them not only by their friends, but by practically every member of their family—they are the only ones to get one they can. Giving to thankless girls like these takes the pleasure out of giving to some other girl who would probably appreciate the kindness and thoughtfulness of the giver, since for the next shower to which you're invited you may say-ing at all because you feel "So what—he don't thank you for it." What's your point of view about this, Mrs. Beeckman? — We're puzzled.

You have set forth this unfortunate and unhappy state-of-affairs perfectly, thank you, most regretfully, for this wonderful letter of criticism. We are completely satisfied by these "thankless girls" who take all they can get and express absolutely no appreciation. As you doubtless know, in my column I always implore my readers to say "thank you," to write "thank you," to think "thank you."

Not to express gratitude, thanks and appreciation certainly doesn't tend toward making a person popular. . . as witness the truths you write. What righteous, wholesome, clearing charm thrives in the Art of Appreciation. . . in the Heart of Appreciation!

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

DUST-FILLED PORES

Some day, possibly, our city fathers will find a way to give us clean air. And then there will be less wailing about complexion problems. Surveys show that great quantities of soot are in the atmosphere—a combination of dust and grease. Pretty faces pick up these particles and the result is blackheads are a common beauty curse.

These obnoxious little blemishes more often appear on an oily skin surface than on a dry one. The exudations of the sebaceous glands become mixed like blockades in the pores to which atmospheric dust clings like all get-out. They are perfect breeders for bacteria which is why they frequently develop into pustules.

That may mean that acne is on the way. Acne is a infection. Physicians have available in the esses of the skin and scalp seldom promise a cure overnight. An only local treatment must be carried on persistently, but certain health measures are necessary. A fat-free diet is a requirement as the endocrine, or ductless glands, cause them to send forth more of their lubricating fluids than the skin needs. To keep it smooth and soft, Chocolate is contraband. Sweets, cereals, fruits and vegetables are required for their vitamin content and mineral salts.

A bland soap is the best cosmetic for blackheads in these cases. At bedtime there must be a thorough face washing. Some specialists suggest that a lavish soap be used as it lathers, freely, can be friction-used into the flesh with the finger tips.

All soap must be rinsed away with warm water and then the skin's moist compresses should be applied. This treatment softens the contents of the pores, removes the heads.

It is not safe to press out blackheads with the fingers as the nails may wound the flesh, causing scars. A small instrument called a comedone extractor should be used for this purpose. This can be bought at any drug store.

BAYSIDE W.M.S.

WHITE'S DISTRICT: — Mrs. Leonard Young was hostess to the members of the Bayside Women's Missionary Society on Wednesday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Frank Leach, presided over an interesting meeting.

The Rev. R. W. T. Middleton read the Scripture, II Corinthians 10:1-18. Prayers were offered for "Our Church" by Mrs. W. Green; and for the "Sick" by Mrs. L. Young; and for the "Community, the Young People, the Children, the Sunday Schools and their Teachers" by Mrs. F. Leach.

A "Working Fund" collection to assist in any expenses which might arise is taken at each meeting as well as the usual collection. These were dedicated by Mr. Middleton. It was decided to send for the new study book, "Face to Face with India". It was also decided to have a missionary film shown at the church in October. A parcel of clothing was sent to Korea in June. Mrs. Leach kindly donated to pay the postage charges which amount to 10 cents per pound.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Leach. A "thank you" was received from Mrs. C. Wilson for a donation received.

Mrs. Middleton brought greetings from churches they attended while overseas.

Mrs. Clifton Rush, secretary of Christian Citizenship, gave a short talk saying "God's Love is Worthy of Sacrifice, Love, Kindness and Giving."

Mrs. F. Leach read "Our Backyard," from the study book "Where're the Sun". A little girl in a remote area of the United States, asked "Who is Jesus?" There are over 300 denominations of churches in the United States with over a million members in each and as high as nine millions in several. But only 33 per cent of their young people are religious. Some attend because their parents wish them to attend. Seventeen million young people do not attend any church.

Mrs. C. Rush moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Young for opening her home.

After the meeting was closed, refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was enjoyed.

Beat for Punishment

ALAMA'S GIANT Kodiac bear plays rough. But the people who run the Bronx Zoo have found the perfect toy. It's not a aluminum beer barrel, which in his playful moments he can bang, bounce and generally maltreat without serious damage. Having seen barrels (filled) with beer being tossed around, he can understand why breweries have turned to these rugged, attractive containers. Another reason, of course, is that aluminum is an excellent protector for food and drink, preserving their purity and flavor indefinitely. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Plucky Tru... Driver Injur... In Wild Bires...

...BEC. (CP) — Premier ...replenis offered no direct com...ment Friday concerning his gov...ernment's policy on the three-year fight between a Jehovah's Witness, Paul Emile Perron, and the Rouyn, Quebec, Protestant school board, but he said Quebec has the fairest education system in North America and "Protestant schools and Roman Catholic schools are treated alike and equally supported by the government."

"In Quebec if a man says he doesn't want his children to go to a Roman Catholic school he may send them to a Protestant school. "It is up to the Protestant school to decide on his acceptance, however."

Perron, born and baptized a Roman Catholic, renounced his faith in 1950 but his three children were refused entry to the Protestant school in Rouyn in 1952.

SUIT THROWN OUT

A suit of $1,000 damages against the Protestant school board was thrown out last week by Mr. Justice Eugene Marquis of the Quebec Superior Court.

In Quebec education is compulsory for children under 16.

"They talk about treatment of minorities in Quebec," the premier said. "What about Roman Catholics and their school problems outside the province of Quebec?"

Mr. Justice Marquis in giving judgment said the Witnesses' views are so different from Catholicism, Protestantism and Judaism and so opposed to all regions that the sect could not be considered a Protestant religion.

CANADIAN SEA HEAD

OSLO (Reuters) — Cmdr. Wycliffe Booth, British Salvation Army officer who has been in charge of the army's missions in Norway for the last 3½ years, has been appointed Salvation Army leader in Canada. Army headquarters here said Friday that he will leave Norway next month.

Frankford

NARROW ESCAPE

FRANKFORD—Harold Rogers Jr., and Ted Ashby of Frankford had a narrow escape from injury early Thursday morning when the car driven by Rogers left the road north of Harold on Highway 14 and broke off four posts in a guard rail, plunged down a 20 foot embankment and plowed into a farmer's fence. Miraculously the car did not turn over, and neither driver nor passenger received a cut, but damage to the car, was estimated at $600.

Rogers blamed the lights of an oncoming vehicle which blinded him, momentarily, so that the car hit the soft shoulder and pulled it into the guard railing.

TEACHERS CONVENTION

Mrs. Eva Osterhout of Frankford, teacher in Frankford's public school, attended the Women Teachers Federation convention and banquet held in the King Edward Hotel in Toronto last Wednesday and Thursday, August 25 and 26 as delegate of South Hastings district. Teachers representatives numbered 388 at the convention.

BATAWA EXPANSIONS

The Bata Shoe Company of Canada, in Batawa, is planning a long term development program, for the benefit of their community.

Surveys and plans have started for the establishment of a new model home in Batawa, which will be a working model for the new housing development. Batawa people will be able to see a sample of the future housing when this new house is erected, on a site already selected.

Plans are also in the making for a library in the village, and the establishment of this real need for the future, will be discussed by the Sidney Township Council, and a request made for the passing of a by-law to make it possible.

In addition to these, are plans for the opening of a first aid centre and medical clinic, which will be put in operation with the co-operation of the Ontario Department of Health and Welfare.

The new addition to the engineering building, which will add several thousand feet of working space to the present building is well under way, and represents another step in the future development of Batawa.

Plucky Truck Driver Injured In Wild Ride

ORILLIA (CP)—A loaded beer truck, its brakes completely gone, thundered down a hill yesterday with its driver fighting the wheel and tore through the metal side of a large storage shed in a lumber yard.

The driver, George Hillis, was pulled from the wreckage half an hour later and taken to hospital. But he was found to be suffering only shock and superficial cuts.

Police said the fact the driver stayed with the truck and guided it into the lumber yard probably saved the lives of a number of people who might otherwise have been run down.

The party has travelled across a 103-mile-long "super highway" of iron by foot, canoe and airplane, the paper says. Iron is mined east of Ungava bay and some of it is shipped to mills on Hudson strait.

Head of the visiting party is Cyrus Eaton, Jr., son of the Nova Scotia-born multi-millionaire Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland.

Mr. Eaton said preliminary work is far enough along that a decision to start construction of mine buildings can be expected within a year. He said the decision also hinges on a satisfactory deal being closed to sell ore to German companies, one of which is the famous Krupp group.

The project is expected to cost more than $100,000,000, including power plant, docks and construction of new ships. Processing plants and preparatory work and equipment for mining may cost a total of $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The truck, loaded with cartons of beer, was on Laclie street hill when its brakes failed. It was doing an estimated 70 miles an hour when Hillis guided it into the Canada Wood Specialties yard at the foot of the hill.

The driver wheeled the big vehicle around piles of lumber and, still unable to stop, crashed into and through the metal wall like a huge projectile. Lumber inside the building toppled over the cab, trapping Hillis.

His rescue was delayed when gasoline from the burst truck tank soaked the wreckage and created a fire hazard. The Orillia fire department stood by while the driver was pried out.

The truck was wrecked, its engine torn from the frame.

Ontario, Quebec Delegates Attend Homemakers' Club Convention

SHANNONVILLE — Delegates from Ontario and Quebec attended the three-day session of the 10th annual convention of the Homemakers' Clubs of Eastern Canada, held in Tyendinaga Mohawk Reserve, at the council house, last week.

The first convention of the Homemakers' clubs was held in Tyendinaga Reserve in 1945.

The opening ceremonies were held on Tuesday morning with the opening prayer by Rev. W. F. Smith, chaplain of the Mohawks, Bay of Quinte band.

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME

Mrs. Benson Brant, supervisor of Homemakers' Club, Tyendinaga, Nelson Green, Chief of the Mohawks, and D. R. Cassie, superintendent Tyendinaga Indians Agency extended addresses of welcome.

Improved conditions under which Indians are now living in all parts of Canada were reported by officials of the Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa, who were the guest speakers during the day.

The financial position of the different bands is reported to be sound, the health conditions are improving year by year, and there is a vast change in the education set up. More Indian children are receiving secondary school education.

Dr. Desmond Blake, Indian Health Services, Ottawa, spoke of the changing conditions in recent years in connection with the health set up. He said that in the Indian Health services across Canada, approximately 1,000 people are employed, of which 100 are doctors and dentists. There are 18 hospitals from four to 15 beds, 2 health units and 32 dispensaries.

MANY EPIDEMIC DEATHS

No person suffered like the North American Indian, said he, "thousands of Indians died from epidemics". Dr. Blake said an encouraging sign in recent years was that the Indian population was increasing. In 1948 the population was 136,000, today it is estimated at 150,000.

Dr. Blake said that fewer Indians were dying of tuberculosis. In 1948 the death rate from this disease was on the basis of 600 per 100,000 population while in 1953 this rate had fallen to 183 per 100,000 population.

Dr. Blake also said that the death rate among children on the reserves, had decreased greatly in recent years. This was mainly because of an extensive educational plan of good health habits.

BANK FUNDS SOUND

L. L. Brown, superintendent of reserves and trusts funds of the Indians Affairs Branch, Ottawa, spoke of the sound position of the Indian Bank funds, which now amounted to $23,000,000. Last year these funds made a profit of over $1,000,000 due to the sale of oil locations, timber and lands.

R. F. Davy superintendent of Indian education for Canada, gave a report on the education problem as related to the Indians. He told of the improvement which has taken place, throughout the Indian schools in the Dominion. Announcement was made by Mr. Davy that a new three-room school would be built on the Tyendinaga Reserve. Tenders were to be called almost immediately. The idea was to consolidate grades seven and eight on this reserve. Special subjects, such as home economics will be taught, which is impossible in one room schools.

Also taking part in the program Tuesday afternoon was H. G. Minty regional inspector of Indian schools. This was followed by a general discussion on education.

F. E. Morris, regional supervisor of Indian Agencies, gave an illustrated talk during the evening.

HANDICRAFTS DISPLAYED

Considerable interest was shown in the display of handicrafts, the work of the Indian women. Prizes were awarded.

There was an auction sale on Thursday evening, when the many articles of basket, beadwork, and quilts were sold.

The delegates were the guests of members of the Tyendinaga Homemakers' Club. The sessions were held in the council hall, and the meals provided by the Tyendinaga ladies served in the banquet hall.

TROOPS ORDERED TO MALAYA

SINGAPORE (AP) — The 2nd Battalion, Royal Welch Fusiliers en route to Korea aboard the trooper Empire Fowey landed here Friday to take part in the anti-guerilla war in Malaya. Battalion officers said orders from the war office as they neared port ordered them to land here.

Hastings Jr. Farmers Hold Church Service

STIRLING.— Rev. A. Mackenzie, principal of Albert College, Belleville, was the special guest minister for the annual church service of Hastings Junior Farmers, held last Sunday evening in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling.

The president, Mr. Grant Richardson, presided, and was assisted by Dr. A. Packman, pastor of the church. Mrs. Gerald Clancy, Wellman's, was organist and the special Junior Farmers' choir sang two anthems. Miss Marlene Carlisle delighted with a vocal selection, "Thanks Be To God."

Mr. William Aylsworth, Madoc, directed the choir. Miss Kathleen Homan, Corbyville, was in charge of the responsive reading and Mr. Arnold Empey, Madoc, offered the prayer.

Mr. Mackenzie chose as his theme "Keeping in Step," and urged the group to strive to walk in the steps of the Master and follow the straight and narrow way remembering that the little insignificant things in life, such as kindness and courtesy are most important.

Open Investigation

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—An investigation into the cause of an explosion which flattened a three-storey brick house Sunday, killing one occupant, will start today, an official of the fire marshal's office said Monday.

Mrs. Ellen Leslie, 78, died in hospital four hours after being dug from the rubble. Four other persons in the 15-room house at the time were admitted to hospital where authorities described their condition as good.

Cannifton

CANNIFTON—Mr. and Mrs. William Brush and children, of Comack, N.Y., are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cone.

Mrs. A. Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sharpe attended the wedding of Floyd Plamton, nephew of Mrs. Palmer, at Frankford on Saturday.

Mrs. George Shank (nee Zeldine Cone) of Elmhurst, Long Island, N.Y., and her sister, Louise, Mrs. Victor Sulik, were weak-end visitors of their father, Mr. Fred Cone and Mrs. Cone.

Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne and Teddy, also Mr. and Mrs. A. Collette and David spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. D. Latchford, at their cottage at Bancroft.

Rev. and Mrs. Throop have returned home after being away to their summer cottage for a month.

The Cannifton-Corbyville Euchre Club started its euchres for the season at the Corbyville cafeteria with seven tables playing. Prizes were won by ladies, Mrs. Wheeler, Alice Latchford and Elsie Philp, Men's, Bernice Sproule, Earb. Lyon and J. Whiting. The lone hands by Mrs. Windsor and the draw by May Palmer.

Three Arrested

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Three men were arrested Saturday in connection with Friday's $20,000 payroll robbery at the Jiffy Kayser plant here and all the loot was recovered, police reported.

Provincial police identified two men as Walter Pilon, 22, of Montreal, and William Waring, 29, but would not reveal identity o. the third.

Sherbrooke Police Chief Moreau said the men will be arraigned here today on charges arising from the hold-up.

Halloway

PRESENTATIONS.

On Thursday evening of last week, neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs James Reid to honor their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bailey, on their recent marriage. They were presented with a coffee table, after which they expressed their thanks.

On Saturday evening neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robson to honor John Robson and his bride. They were presented with a chair, and Kenwood blanket, for which John expressed thanks to all, on behalf of himself and his bride. All extend best wishes to both couples for every happiness.

JOHN NIAGARA talks about:

Why Niagara may be a good place for you to borrow . . .

MONEY

We agree with people who say, "don't borrow money unless you must"—however, when you do have to borrow money, we think Niagara is the kind of loan company you'll want to do business with. Here are some features you'll want when you borrow.

You'll rate "service" high on your list, we're sure. At Niagara, we do too. We like to think we're prompt—some loans are made in 20 minutes. And polite—our company has been designed to serve our customers. Almost everyone can borrow money at NIAGARA when they need it . . . our plans are flexible, and on many amounts a 24 month payment period can be used.

"Reliability" will be important to you, too. Our business started in Welland, Ontario, over 25 years ago. We're associated with the Industrial Acceptance Corporation whose Merit Plan has been used by hundreds of thousands of Canadians to buy cars, appliances, etc. We're an all-Canadian Company with over 80 branches from coast-to-coast.

And here are two additional points about Niagara Loans: Rates are lower on many amounts . . . so you get more for your money. Loans to $1500 are life insured at no extra cost to you . . . when you can get this family protection, why do without it?

If you need money for any good reason—just drop in or phone, anytime.

ON MARITIME TOUR

Arriving in Halifax for their tour of the Maritimes, the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra meet officials at Shearwater airport, near Halifax. The princess piloted the RCAF transport plane during part of its flight from London, Ont. At left is Lieutenant-Governor Alistair Fraser and Mrs. Fraser. (CP from National Defence).

Canadian Trade Union Chief To Address British Leaders

BRIGHTON, England (CP) — A Canadian trade union chief is scheduled to defend American liberalism before nearly 1,000 British union leaders at the 86th Trades and Labor Congress here tonight.

A. F. Maloney, president of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, said he will warn the British delegates not to judge the United States on the standards of "McCarthyism." One of the themes of his address to the congress on the second day of its session at this seaside resort would be that liberal traditions of the U.S. are still much alive.

AMERICAN SPEAKS

Other themes would be the close links between the Canadian and British trade union movements, and Canada's immense production potential.

A United States' trade union leader, Paul Phillips, also was to address the TUC today, presenting a special report on American trade unionism.

Phillips, president of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, attended the congress as a "fraternal delegate."

The two North American speakers were expected to play an important part in today's sessions.

The delegates-400 representatives of 184 British unions with an 8,000,000 membership—will debate education, social insurance, industrial welfare and wage questions.

These issues were overshadowed by Wednesday's crucial vote on West German rearmament and other international matters of vital interest to British workers.

CONDEMN CUTS

There will be a full debate on two resolutions on education—one condemning the cuts in the school building program by Sir Winston Churchill's Conservative government, the other appealing for government financial help in the training of more science teachers.

Another resolution will call on the government to increase social insurance benefits to meet the rising cost of living.

Aircraft Show Produces One World Record

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The 1954 National Aircraft Show wound up a spectacular holiday weekend program Monday with one new world speed record on the books.

One fatal accident marred the show, Maj. John L. Armstrong, 32, Fairborn, Ohio, died in the crash of his F-86-H Sabrejet while trying to better his own record in the 500-kilometre closed-course General Electric Trophy event.

Shortly before his crash, the air force had announced that Maj. Armstrong two days earlier had set a world record for the 500-kilometre—640.262 miles an hour.

The old mark of 607.1 mph was held by a Swedish air force pilot.

The Thompson Trophy was awarded Monday to Capt. Eugene P. Sonnenberg, 34, on the basis of his 592.823 mph set Sept. 3 on a 100-kilometer speed run.

Two Killed

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Donald Green and Dominee Durbano, both of St. Catharines, were killed Monday when their car went out of control and overturned several times on the Queen Elizabeth Way near here.

Matthew Bakalorski, 22, and Joseph Desanila, 22, also of St. Catharines, were taken to hospital where their conditions were reported not serious.

OPEN POLO MEETING

ROME (AP) — More than 800 scientists from 47 nations opened the third International poliomyelitis conference here Monday. Their purpose is to report and study progress in the world's fight to wipe out one of its most dreaded maladies.

Seal and Walrus Herds in Arctic Being Depleted

MONTREAL (CP)—Eskimos using white man's weapons are depleting seal and walrus herds in the Arctic.

John Thomson, 22-year-old McGill University graduate, who spent the summer with a research expedition on Southampton Island in the northern part of Hudson Bay, says Eskimo hunters find a ready sale for carved walrus ivory among transients and have been killing off more of the animals than they need for food.

Mr. Thomson, a member of a fisheries research board expedition led by Dr. M. J. Dunbar, associate professor of zoology at McGill, says Eskimos with rifles have greatly speeded depletion of both seal and walrus supplies. A wasteful feature is the fact that hunters shooting at the animals from a long distance often lose their quarry when it sinks in the sea.

"In the days when all the Eskimos harpooned the seals and walrus they were sure of obtaining the carcass," says Mr. Thomson.

TAGGING WALRUSES

A walrus count is one aspect of the long-term research program. The scientists work quickly to summer from a government motor launch, studying animal and fish life in northern Hudson Bay to determine the best method of exploiting the supplies.

Researchers currently are probing the quantity of cod in northern waters following a large-scale cod migration into the region.

If they are found in sufficient quantities government authorities and social workers will try to persuade the Eskimo to fish as well as hunt for food.

Men and Machines Taming Kicking Horse Pass With Road

CALGARY (CP)—Men and machines are taming the Kicking Horse pass and are adding it with the trans-Canada highway.

Ken Liddell recently visited the colossal, craggy mountain site near Golden, 125 miles west of Calgary, and described the huge project in a copyrighted story in the Calgary Herald.

At the moment, Liddell writes, the corral for the caterpillar cowboys and their "outriders," some of the top hard-rock miners in the country, is a nine-mile stretch where the task of carving a modern road means moving a million yards of rock and a million yards of dirt.

BLAST SOLID ROCK

Crews in one three-mile tract are knocking down to size a mountain they couldn't get around and couldn't get over. They are doing this by blasting out 250,000 yards of solid rock within a distance of 1,500 yards.

Each year of rock weighs 3,000 pounds and it takes a pound of powder to blast each yard.

Here there is just room for the cats and big buckets to wriggle and squirm on ledges 500 to 1,000 feet above the Kicking Horse river.

Despite thaw and slide troubles in the spring, work is on schedule. It is anticipated the nine miles east of Golden will be completed within a year. This section is probably the toughest on the whole trans-Canada highway system.

SLIDES A BLESSING

Unprecedented spring slides were rough on both the old and the new roads but some soil engineers consider this a blessing in disguise. It gave them a chance to study the quirks of nature in an area that is littered with obstacles.

The workers are always in potential danger. Two first-aid stations are maintained and an ambulance patrols the road.

Vibrations from a train at the foot of the canyon could start a slide. Cars with transmitting radios, such as police vehicles, are warned not to use that equipment in the area—the radio vibrations might set off a charge where blasting is in progress.

Of three major bridge projects between Field and Golden, one is complete, one is under construction and tenders will be called for the other later this year.

Cayuga Freed After Being Stranded on Wall

ST. CATHARINE S(CP) — The cruise ship Cayuga was stranded for two hours Monday when she drifted on to the steel retaining wall of the dock at nearby Niagara-on-the-Lake.

A strong east wind caught the ship as she was docking and the loudspeaker instructions. A tug kept the propellers away from the dock.

Woman May Have Been Choked to Death

PORT COLBORNE (CP) — Provincial police say investigations into circumstances Kathleen Fales, 45, whose body was found Aug. 20 in a clump of weeds, may have been choked to death by a purse-snatcher.

Inspector Don Nicol of the criminal investigation branch of the OPP arrived from Toronto Saturday to take charge of the investigation into the death of the woman.

Police said the woman's purse was found along a railway track not far from where the body was discovered in the weeds at the back of a coal yard.

Bar Association Decides Against Taking Action

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Canadian Bar Association has decided against taking any action at this time on what a sub-committee calls Ottawa's failure to seal off avenues open to injustice be citizenship and immigration laws.

The association voted 63-59 Saturday at the final session of its annual meeting to refer a report on the subject back to its civil liberties section for further study.

The association decided to press for broader grounds for divorce in provinces wanting them. An amended resolution calls for Parliament to grant to the courts in provinces and territories desiring it the power to dissolve marriage on the additional grounds of desertion, cruelty and insanity.

David Park Jamieson of Sarnia, Ont., was elected president.

Lung Cancer Shows Increase

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's top cancer statistician says lung cancer is killing 4½ times as many Canadians today as it did 21 years ago.

Dr. A. J. Phillips of Toronto, statistician for the National Cancer Institute of Canada, says in the September issue of the Canadian Medical Journal that 10.4 of every 100,000 deaths in 1952 were from lung cancer, compared with 2.4 in 1931.

The article points out that the rise in the death rate has been sharper for men than for women, increasing 5½ times for males, 2½ times for women.

Twentieth Annual Convention Of Quebec Social Crediters Held at Lake St. John Town

By BERTRAND THIBAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

JONQUIERE, Que. (CP)—Delegates to the 20th annual convention of L'Union des Electeurs—Quebec's Social Credit movement—all but took over this Lake St. John town during the weekend.

Troops of "creditistes", decked out in white berets paraded through streets, waving banners and chanting songs, as they gathered here from all parts of the province for a three-day meeting. Some even came from French-speaking districts of Ontario and New Brunswick.

STONE MARCHERS

The only crisis occurred when a group of children hurled abuse at marching delegates and pelted them with stones. Nobody was hurt, however.

Nearly 5,000 attended the convention. The movement, which claims no connection with the federal Social Credit party, lists 100,000 members.

No longer active in provincial politics in Quebec, religious and economic views in what it holds is a true Social Credit doctrine, it publishes a bi-monthly paper called "Vers Demain."

Louis D. Even, 69-year-old founder of the movement who first became interested in Social Credit while working in a printing shop near Montreal during the thirties, attacked militarism, unemployment, bankers and the salaries of Members of Parliament, while calling for adoption of Social Credit policies by Canadian governments.

"Social Credit aims at liberating the individual and making the world prosperous," he said. "Communists set out to drag the capitalists down to the level of the workers. Social Credit wants to make everyone a capitalist. It alone can save the country from communism."

Mrs. Cole-Mercier, one of the founders of the movement who financed it in its early days, urged the members to spread the doctrine through the province.

WOULD ABOLISH TAXES

More than 300 decorations were distributed to those who had worked for the cause and had helped push sales of its paper.

The convention adopted resolutions condemning the world armament race, calling for the abolition of all taxes and the putting into effect of Social Credit theories, and urging the federal government to double family allowances.

Fabian Considers Police Forces Well Conducted

MONTREAL (CP) — Fabian of the Yard may be doesn't approve of the "dreadful practice" of Canadian police shooting at persons who are running away from the law, but indicates he considers this country's police forces well-run.

Robert Fabian, former superintendent at Scotland Yard in London, left here Monday by air for Britain. He has been investigating the nine-month-old mystery kidnapping of 17-year-old Marion McDowell in Toronto.

He told reporters he feels his investigation has "achieved a bit" towards solving the fate of the pretty office worker but "several points of doubt must be eliminated."

Fluoridation Most Effective Dental Measure

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (CP) — "Studies continue to demonstrate that fluoridation of communal water supplies is the most effective public health measure yet known for the prevention of dental decay," the Canadian Dental Association said in a resolution Friday.

"All pertinent studies continue to confirm the safety and economy of this measure," the motion said.

The association "strongly reaffirms its recommendation to the people of Canada that without delay communities having a communal water supply adopt a procedure for water fluoridation best-suited to their local needs and for this purpose seek competent dental, medical and engineering advice."

Queen Orders Tourists Desist From Posing

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth has ordered that tourists at Buckingham Palace must desist from posing for photographs alongside the red-coated guardsmen on sentry duty outside the Royal residence.

The Royal decree is an attempt to protect the rigid guardsmen from embarrassments inflicted on them this summer by high-spirited sightseers. Comely women have posed making faces at the handpicked guards, or kissing and putting their arms around them.

Pictures of the sentries will still be permitted—provided they are by themselves.

HUSBAND STRIPS WIFE

DUNDEE, Scotland (Reuters)—William Tarbett was sent Friday to prison for two months for attacking his wife in a Dundee street and stripping every stitch of clothing off her body. Tarbett attacked his wife while she was on her way to complain to the police that he had beaten her.

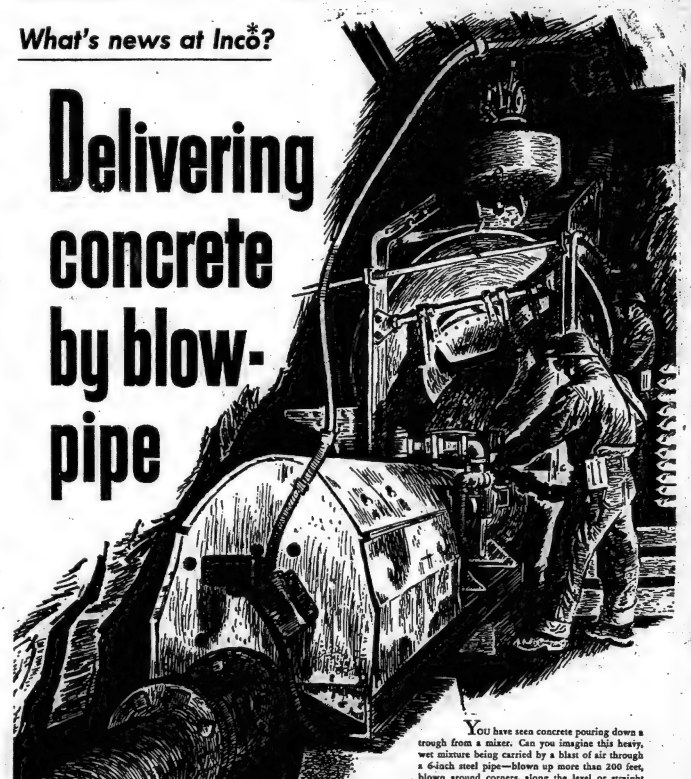
Delivering concrete by blow-pipe



YOU have seen concrete pouring down a trough from a mixer. Can you imagine this heavy, wet mixture being carried by a blast of air through a 6-inch steel pipe—blown up more than 200 feet, blown around corners, along the level or straight down for 1600 feet?

When Inco engineers decided that there would be advantages in using concrete instead of wood as supports in many parts of the Creighton mine they had to find a way to transport the wet concrete from the mixer to the working locations.

A continuous blast of air from the mine's high pressure system is used to carry hundreds of tons of concrete through the intricate mine workings. With new methods such as this, Inco is continually improving the efficiency of its mining operations.

"The Romance of Nickel", a 72-page book, fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Oshawa Merchants Defeat Bluebirds In Third Game Junior 'A' Playdowns

(By GARRY ALEXANDER)

The Oshawa Merchants scored nine runs in the sixth inning last night, most of them the result of walks, to defeat the Belleville Bluebird juniors 11-5 in the third and deciding game of their O.A.S.A. Junior "A" series. The game was played at Centennary.

Mercier's boys were leading 4-0 with Bobby Green throwing two-hit ball going into the bottom of the sixth when he developed a streak of wildness, walking the first two batters he faced. Sutherland then singled for the victors initial run and three wild pitches led to another pair. Bovay's error added to the Bluebird's troubles and with one out Green walked another. Junior Day came in from right field at this point to pitch but Scott greeted him with a scoring single, Harsten sacrificed and Hutcheon singled for a 6-4 score. Day then proceeded to walk the next three men and Nichols singled before he retreated to the outfield with Green, Bruno McCurry coming on in hurl with the bases loaded. Courtney smashed his initial pitch for a single with Oldfield flying to deep centre for the third out. The results were nine runs off five hits, six walks, three wild pitches, one error, a stolen base and a sacrifice with 15 men coming to bat.

McCurdy walked another trio in the seventh with a single Sutherland playing two Oshawa tallies for the final score.

Gord Nichols set the distance to take the win, his third complete game of the series. He was touched for eight hits, fanning two and walking five. Day was the loser in 1-3 of an inning, being charged with four runs off three hits. The Belleville starter surrendered five runs from three hits while McCurdy gave up the final pair. Between them they whiffed eleven while issuing free passes to ten.

The Bluebirds took the lead in the second with a single run off Pete Green's infield single, a walk, sacrifice and Bob Green's fly to right field. Gerry Goyer lined a triple to centre to open the fourth with Dave Jones' single over the second making it 2-0. Two fifth frame markers came off singles by Bob Green, Day and Bob Green with an error and wild pitch tossed in.

Goyer and Pete Green teamed up again in the seventh for the losers' final marker when Goyer poked a double down the left field line and Green blasted a triple to deep centre field.

Nichols and Sutherland shared batting honors for the victors, each banging a pair of singles. Hutcheon, Harsten, Scult and Courtney also hit safely. Pete Green was the top hitter for Belleville with a triple and two singles while Gerry Goyer slammed a triple and double. Singles went to Bob Green, Junior Day and Dave Jones.

Outsider Takes Rich Stakes

CHICAGO (AP)—Pet Bully, six-year-old bay owned by Mrs. Ada L. Rice of Chicago, Monday came in front of the stretch turn and held on to the lead for a one-length victory as an 8-to-1 outsider in the $167,850 Washington Park Handicap.

With Jockey William Hartack giving a brilliant ride, the bay sped the mile in :57-degree temperature in 1:34 2-5, a record for the event at this distance. The track previous was 1:34 3-5 in 1951 by Eurasdero. Fairway Farm's Good O Call was second while a 25-to-1 shot, Bernard W. Landy's Spur On, finished third.

Seixas, Hart Win American Tennis Titles

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Vic Seixas' victory in the United States tennis championship after trying for 14 years has accomplished one end. There wasn't a word today about him not playing singles on the Davis Cup squad this year.

Until he whipped Australia's Rex Hartwig Monday in the final, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, Seixas' name seemed to be anathema with the moguls of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. They agreed that Tony Trabert would be the No. 1 man, but had a dozen different names were mentioned as No. 2. None was Seixas.

Vic was unimpressive in the challenge round last year and had a mediocre season on grass this summer.

Seixas didn't look good at the start, and Hartwig won Monday's first set with ease. But once Rex began missing the corners Seixas picked up. He had the Labor Day crowd of 11,000 at the West Side Tennis Club worried when he went behind at 3-4 in the final set. But he found the range again and ran it out without the loss of another game.

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., won the women's crown by stopping Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-8, 6-1, 8-6.

Galt, St. Thomas Clash for Title In Intercounty

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ity Galt Terriers against St. Thomas Elgins for the Senior Intercounty Baseball League championship. The series starts Wednesday night at Galt.

The Terriers gained their best-of-seven semi-finals against Brantford Red Sox in a Labor Day home game by beating the Red Sox 4-0. They won the series 4-3.

In another holiday game, Niagara Falls Shoemakers advanced to the Niagara District Baseball League finals by blanking Welland Goodyears 7-0. This series went the full seven games, too.

The Shoemakers meet Crowland Bisons who defeated Chippawa Kerrios 5-1 in the final game of their playoffs. The first game goes Wednesday night.

CLIMBER RESCUED

LONE PINE, Calif. (AP)—Rescuers today brought down from 14,496-foot Mount Whitney an injured climber, Henry Marold of San Diego, who fell 200 feet to a ledge. Mandolf suffered an arm fracture, abrasions and possible internal injuries as he lost his footing on an icy trail. He was roped on the ledge for 25 hours in 18-degree cold before his 14-year-old companion, James Pierpont of San Diego, walking all night, got help.

Six Belleville Rinks Win At Local Tourney

Thirty-six mixed doubles rinks from the district enjoyed a delightful day of bowling on the holiday at the local greens, it being the occasion of the annual tournament for this event. Rinks were present from Brighton, Trenton, Stirling, Madoc, Campbellford and Belleville. Kingston was not represented, due to a tournament being held in that city. The absence of the Kingston rinks cut down the attendance considerably as generally at least a dozen rinks come from that city for this tourney every year.

Bowlers are the most enthusiastic of all sports and yesterday was no exception. Percy Graham, who had the misfortune to break his first two games and was only learned to bowl with his left hand and with his wife as partner won the third by default and was only put out of the money class in a tight third game by Gerry Hyde and his mother, Mrs. C. Hyde

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller proved to be the best pair of the 36 rinks entered winning the tournament by the total of 1,554 score of 54 plus 15. Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Smith and G. B. Hyde and Mrs. C. L. Hyde were runners-up scoring respectively with score of 54 plus 10 and 52 plus 12. Mrs. Brighton rink, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Lockwood were fourth high with 51 plus 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo B. Colling had the two-game high score for their first tournament win with a score of 50 plus three, while Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Price captured the one-game high score with 44 plus six. The no-game high winner was Jack Smith and Mrs Nora Kyle and as the skip said when they scooped their prizes, "My partner put them in and I was there out." The prizes were in excellent conditon and as fast as lightning for the several draws completed at 2. B. Ewart welcomed the visitors and also distributed the prizes while Mr. "Skip" Vandervoort and Gordon Edwards successfully conducted the draw.

REAL-LIFE TRAGEDY

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A woman was shot to death Monday night in a movie featuring the thriller, "Dragnet." Miss Alles Blackwell, 38, arose from her chair, staggered a few steps and collapsed. Her 46-year-old man companion told police a pistol slipped from his pocket to the floor and discharged. He was released after questioning.

TREE-DWELLER HELD

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An unemployed air - conditioner installer, jailed on a charge of stealing food from a summer cottage, told police Monday that he had been living in a hollow tree since his wife left him last week. Ross Edwin Christy, 37, was arrested after boys reported seeing him wandering from a woods to get a drink of water from the outside faucet of a nearby house.

QUEEN'S OWN DISQUALIFIED

TORONTO (CP) — The 21-day Woodbine autumn race meeting will open a sensational day Monday when Queen's Own—one of the hottest favorites of the season—was disqualified after winning the $5,000 Seagram Cup Handicap by two lengths.

Queen's Own, which had been backed down to one to four by the public, was given the disqualification because he crossed over sharply in front of Verge Light 75 yards from the finish. The stewards ruled the E. P. Taylor horse had impeded Light Verge. Queen's Own was placed second by the stewards and Teddy Sister finished third.

Hits 72 Homers For New Record

ARTESIA, N.M. (AP) — Hitting the home run that broke all professional baseball records was "just like having a piano lifted off your shoulders," Joe Bauman says.

Bauman, the 33-year-old slugger who bettered the record by smashing his 70th round-tripper of the season Sunday, admitted the pressure had been terrific since he tied the mark Thursday.

"And hitting that big one was—well, that's it," he said.

After breaking the record in the first game of a doubleheader with Artesia, the Roswell first baseman hit two more in the nightcap to set the new standard at 72.

Bauman, a six-foot four 240-pounder, plays for the class C Roswell Rockets of the Longhorn League.

Saminski Signs With Fort Wayne

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

PETES HERE WEDNESDAY

Manager Jack Carson of Belleville gritted his teeth, allied his tonsils, grabbed the phone and told the Peterborough Petes president and the OBA brass just what he thought of the senior baseball situation, laid down his idea of what should be done and finalled "Take it or leave it."

They took it.

The result is the Batas and Petes will play a best-of-three OBA eliminating series with the first, third and fifth games scheduled for Belleville. The first tilt is being played here Wednesday night, the second in Peterborough, Thursday and the third game here next Saturday.

Carson, keenly disappointed at the turn of events last week when the Petes failed to field a team, aired his views to the Petes and the OBA in no uncertain manner. He demanded and got a certified $100 cheque from the Petes guaranteeing their appearance here with a team of fourteen plus, players. Carson said he would refuse to play a nine-man representation. It was not fair to either team, the fans and all concerned.

He named his terms and told the Petes and the OBA "That's it. You can toss us out of this series, or you can toss the Petes out, and we will play Oshawa. The Batas have 'played ball' off the diamond all season, as the rest of the clubs will vouch, and we intend to keep on playing it the right way. Bill we expect other clubs to do the same."

Secretary Tom Rowdon of the OBA agreed, and overruled the Petes' request that the guarantee be $50 instead of $100. The Petes eventually agreed and yesterday noon notified Carson of their willingness to play the series under the arrangements laid down by the Belleville management.

THAT'S IT

That's it. It's all over. Vacations, like all things, must come to an inevitable end.

And now it is back to the city with its mechanical jargon of typewriters, telephones, telegraphs and typographs. Back to the cacophony of the news room, the ever-changing sports beat, the staccatos of perforators and the hustle, bustle and rustle of the newspaper workaday life.

The lazy hazy days are behind us, but somehow the job ahead seems easier after weeks of restful peaceful doothing timeless hours when the world of politics, human bickerings, tragedy, threats of war and all the things that go to make this life a topsy-turvy one, seemed far away.

We leave mine hosts Claire and Gerry Stoneburg's Prince Edward version of "Hernando's Hideaway" with reluctance. It will not be easy to forget the mist-wreathed lake in the morning, the rising sun glinting on sparkling waters dotted with crack-o-dawn anglers.

Nor easily forgotten will be the sunny afternoons and the drowsy evenings, the peaceful calm broken by the kettle-drum discourse of speedboats churning foaming wakes in the red-gold sun of the setting sun. We shall miss the happy shouts of bronze-gold bodied youngsters splashing in the lake off the end of the little pier; the low hum of conversation of fellow cottagers on whom the planetarial gods looked with disfavor, and the more excited tones of the more fortunate ones as they displayed the finny trophies.

We shall not soon forget the many fishing forays we had with that master angler Fred Croft, Sr., of Belleville, who is spending the summer past at a well-deserved retirement at his beloved fishing and hunting.

We haunted the "reedy spots" where proud bullrushes wave whispering warnings to their wards, the large-mouth bass. We hunted the elusive pickerel off the gravelly shoals and in mid-lake deep waters. We sought the tasty small-mouth in his haunts known to Fred alone. The ubiquitous pike, the lowly muskrat, baiting perch and pier-end rock fish each in their favorite spots are well-known to this dawn-to-sunset sportsman.

But it was not all fishing. There were warmy sunny days when one could "Shackamak" to his heart's content. Long ruffle stretching into late morning hitherto heard in the raucous warning of that arch-fiend the alarm clock, with sleep so deep no dream could fathom it. The only time on one's hand was a wrist watch.

Then there was a rare day or so when the rain pelted the lake and cottage and the "regulars" gathered in the Croft menage at the anglers' equivalent of goldom's "19th hole." Walter Hubbs, former well-known resident of this district who now resides in Cedar Springs, Ont., near Chatham, was a cottager there with his charming wife, and Walter and Fred drew on a rich store of reminiscence of the old days in Prince Edward county. It was amusing as well as entertaining to hear of the exploits, the escapades and what the teen-agers of 1900 did in their spare time. Brother the young fry of those days got around, too, even with horse-and-buggy-transportation.

DOTS 'N' FLASHES

Northerns ousted Peterborough TPT's in ——while Point Anne defeated the Petes' Seabrooks 5-0 to square the series. Third game Cobourg Wednesday . . . Paul Mercier's junior "Bluebirds" can hang 'em up. They were eliminated 11-5 in Cobourg yesterday by the Oshawa younkers . . . Cornwall and Brockville "want in" the Eastern Ontario-Seaway "B" hockey set-up. Seems the proposed Canadian-American loop has folded. Rumor has it Stouffville and Orillia will play in a Toronto loop. The Senior "B" reps meet in Peterborough next Friday to iron out the wrinkles. Methinks the Petes and Oshawa will oppose the Cornwall, Brockville entries. Carson Cooper, New York Rangers' scout, fractured an arm in a car accident near Cornwall recently . . .

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Batting—Eddie Mathews, Braves was on base nine consecutive times, collecting his 33th home run, a double, six singles and a walk as Milwaukee moved into second place with 13-3 and 8-1 sweep of Chicago Cubs.

Pitching—Robin Roberts, Phillies, won his 20th game, becoming the first pitcher to win 20 or more in five consecutive seasons since Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants, as Philadelphia defeated the Giants 4-1 in 11 innings.

Foaming Brewers Win 9 in Row As Bucs Blast 'Bums' for Two; Lemon Wins 21st for Indians

By REN FELSGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball fans who took a holiday over the long Labor Day weekend will come back to find a lot went on while they were gone.

First off, there's a new team in second place in the National League. The amazing Milwaukee Braves edged ahead of Brooklyn on the strength of a nine-game winning streak and Brooklyn's first doubleheader loss to Pittsburgh in 3½ seasons.

The first place teams are the same, but the New York Giants' margin shrank while Cleveland's lengthened during the weekend.

The Giants were six games ahead of Brooklyn and 6½ in front of Milwaukee going into Sunday's action. But they now lead Milwaukee by only four lengths and Brooklyn by five.

41½-GAME LEAD

Cleveland picked up a full game on New York Sunday, stayed even Monday and now leads the Yankees by 41½ games.

Sunday's games Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati 6-3 and 6-1; Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn 9-6 in 13 innings and 9-7; Chicago whipped Philadelphia 8-4, but Robin Roberts came back to win his 20th game in the nightcap, 5-3 in 10 innings. St. Louis bumped Cincinnati 4-3 in a 10-inning game.

Bob Lemon of the Indians became the first pitcher in either league to win 21 games, beating Baltimore 6-1 in the first game. Then the Orioles came back to win the Indians 3-2 in 10 innings. The Yankees came from behind to edge Boston 5-4 in the second game going 10 innings. Washington defeated Philadelphia 8-1 and the Athletics shaded the Senators 3-2 for a split.

SPARKLING EFFORT

Eddie Mathews in the Milwaukee triumphs-hit his 33th home run, a double and six singles and walked once before finally being retired in his last time at bat.

The onrushing Braves ran their season's total attendance to 2,001,-081, best in NL history.

Roberts, the Phillies' strong-armed righthander, became the first pitcher since Carl Hubbel to reach the 20-game mark in five consecutive seasons. He pitched when fleet-footed Richie Ashburn scampered home from second base on an infield single by Granny Hamner.

OVERCOME DEFICIT

Trailing by five runs early in the game, the Pirates beat the Dodgers in the first contest when Billy Loes walked two men in the 12th with the bases loaded and Curt Roberts laid down a squeeze bunt which scored a third man.

Five runs in the first inning against Don Newcombe put the Pirates on the winning trail in the second game.

At Baltimore, Dick Kryhoski's bases-loaded single in the 10th inning of the nightcap prevented a Cleveland sweep and marked the Orioles's first victory over the Indians in 18 games.

UPHILL CLIMB

Andy Carey's bases - loaded single in the 10th of the ninth climaxed the Yankees' uphill climb against Boston in the opener at Yankee Stadium. Jimmy Piersall's two-run homer in the eighth gave the Red Sox the runs they needed to capture the second game. Ted Williams's double was four straight hits in the nightcap and six during the afternoon.

Red Garver held the White Sox to four hits in Detroit's first victory. Harvey Kuenn singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the second game after Minnie Minoso had tied the score in the ninth with a homer.

Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals won his first game since July 30 and his 16th of the season in beating Cincinnati on eight hits.

Mickey Vernon drove in five runs with a home run, a triple and two singles in Washington's victory. Elmer Vale's eighth inning triple scored Jim Piersall with the run that gave the Athletics a split.

Tommy Bolt Wins Tourney

AKRON, O. (AP)—Tommy Bolt, the reformed club-thrower from Houston, Tex., Sunday won the $15,000 Rubber City open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 283.

He was 2½ under par for the 6,620-yard Firestone Country Club (w) 71 layout as he won by five strokes over fellow Texan Fred Hawkins of El Paso.

Bolt won $2,400.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., wound up in a four-way tie for fifth place and picked up $500. He shot rounds of 69-72-72-65 for a total of 278. Roger Horvath of Windsor, Ont., earned $135 after tying for 12th place.

'Race of Century,' Team Relay Event Are Called Off

YOUNGSTOWN, N. Y. (CP)—High winds and six-foot waves have forced three of the world's top women swimmers to postpone the "race of the century."

Also called off Monday night was the $30,000 international team relay race over the 32-mile Lake Ontario course from here to Toronto. They may be held today.

Florence Chadwick, San Diego, Calif., was signed up for the endurance swim several months ago by officials of the Canadian National Exhibition. If she makes it in the hazardous ONE grounds she will get $10,000.

Last week, Marilyn Bell, 17, Toronto, and Mrs. Winnie Roach Lonsdale, a 39-year-old St. Thomas, Ont., mother, announced they would get in the swim.

Miss Bell, first woman to finish the recent 26-mile Atlantic City swim, if she wins will pick up $1,500 donated by private citizens while Mrs. Lonsdale, only Canadian to swim the English Channel, apparently will make only expenses.

HEAVY WIND

The swimmers and officials decided to postpone the races after a 27-mile-an-hour wind whipped up six foot waves.

A spokesman for Miss Chadwick, a two-way conqueror of the English channel, said she will start at 11 p.m. tonight.

At any rate, Miss Chadwick has until midnight Saturday, final day of the exhibition, to complete the swim and still pick up the $10,000, officials ruled.

Luke Sewell Guides Toronto Leafs To 1st International Title Since 1943

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs, who won their last pennant 11 years ago, are the new champions of the International League.

Manager Luke Sewell, former Cincinnati Redleg and St. Louis Browns mentor, led the Leafs to success in his first year as head man. The last time Toronto won the pennant was back in 1943 under Burleigh Grimes.

Toronto defeated Rochester Red Wings 3-2 on a two-run homer by Elston Howard in the first game while the Montreal Royals dropped their opener 2-1 to Ottawa Athletics Monday. That assured the Leafs of the flag.

Rochester came back and took the seven-inning nightcap 4-1. The Royals won 3-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Glenn Mickens in their second game.

CHIEFS SPLIT

Syracuse Chiefs, fighting for a playoff berth, split a doubleheader with Buffalo Bisons. Buffalo took the opener 3-2 and Syracuse the nightcap 5-2.

In a single game, Richmond Virginians defeated the Havana Cuban Sugar Kings 6-2. The fight for the remaining spot for the playoffs still continues between the Kings, Chiefs and Bisons.

Howard, batting for the league batting championship with Rochester's Bill Virdon, hit the Toronto homer in the sixth inning after a single by Hector Rodriguez.

Connie Johnson went the route and struck out six for his 17th victory against seven defeats. Memo Luna, first of three Rochester hurlers, lasted until the seventh and was tagged with his 10th defeat in 18 decisions.

Jack Fussbito silenced the Leafs six scattered hits in the second. Bob Wiesler gave up four runs in the fourth inning and took his second loss against the same number of victories.

Hector Lopez scored the winning run in the top of the 10th on a single by Neal Watlington as Ottawa spoiled the Royals' hopes of catching the Leafs.

In the second game, Rocky Nelson's double and consecutive singles by Bobby Wilson and Dixie Howell gave Toronto four runs in the second inning.

Mel Hoderlein slammed his sixth homer in the first inning of the opener and sparked a two-run rally in the second inning for Buffalo's victory over Syracuse. Catcher Joe Lonnett's 20th homer with two mates aboard featured Syracuse's four-run-inning rally in the nightcap.

Unbeaten Alouettes Look Like Team In East; Sasky Riders Tops In West

Win Twice from Ottawa Riders As Hamilton-Argos Divide; Bombers Beaten; Lions Winless

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Alouettes, riding with the most dangerous passing combination in the East, are unbeaten so far this season in big-time Canadian football. There's a general feeling they will be around for the Gray Cup kickoff.

The Als made the pre-season experts look good during the long Labor Day weekend by sweeping both games against Ottawa Rough-Riders in a series that left them at the top of the Big Four Union race.

They whipped the Rough Riders 21-3 Saturday and 30-11 Monday to run their unbeaten record to three games. Only one question was left unanswered. The Montrealers have beaten two of the other three clubs in the league and most fans are wondering how they'll stack up against Toronto Argonauts.

SPLIT SERIES

The Argos, meanwhile, split a weekend home-and-home series against Hamilton Tiger-Cats, which was good enough to move them into second place two points behind Montreal. Argonauts beat 19-6 in Toronto Saturday but were came back with a 21-7 win in Hamilton Monday.

In the Western Interprovincial Football Union, coach Annis Stukus and his British Columbia Lions were given some rough treatment and are still without a victory in four games. They were trampled 34-0 by the Stampeders in Calgary Saturday and edged 13-7 by the Eskimos in Edmonton Monday night.

Saskatchewan Roughriders took over first place with an 18-14 win over Winnipeg Blue Bombers last night before a Labor Day crowd of 14,000 fans at Regina. That left the Bombers in second place with seven points—as three wins and a touchdown. Ugly Curtis got the other as Argos dominated the game in which only Scogin's pass-ing kept Hamilton's hopes flicker-ing. North Hecker converted the three majors. Alex Farkas kicked a single and Argos picked up the other two points when Scogin conceded a safety touch late in the game.

Bernie Custis counted the Hamilton major. Trount converted. Fraser got the other point on a long kick in the third quarter.

K-W Dutchmen were spurred by Bob Celeri, out last year by the Tiger-Cats. Celeri, who gave the Edmonton an early lead by scoring one touchdown pass and scoring another major himself, pitched the winners' second touchstrike to Andy Gilmour in the last minute of play.

Celeri attempted 17 passes, completed 11 and had two intercepted. The lions, with Johnson their main passing threat, completed six of 11 and had two intercepted.

Imperials had an early time Monday. Eric McKeever scored two majors. Don Shaffner and Glen Lambert got the others. Lambert converted three of the touchdowns. Cookie Gilchrist kicked a single.

SPORTS COLUMNIST DIES

GLEN RIDGE, N.J. (AP)—Lawrence Perry, 78, syndicated sports columnist and author, died Sunday from lung cancer. An authority on U.S. college football and yachting, Perry wrote the column "For the Game's Sake" for the North American Newspaper Alliance and the Bell Syndicate.

Belleville Rinks Lose Cup Chance By One Shot

The Belleville Bowling Club lost their shot at the Governor-General bowling trophy at Ottawa on Saturday by one shot. The four rinks competing, Notre Dame de Grace of Montreal, New Edinburgh of Ottawa, the Brockville Bowling Club and the Belleville Bowling Club were drawn New Edinburgh against Notre Dame and Brockville against Belleville. Belleville was defeated by Brockville, which Notre Dame handily defeated New Edinburgh and then were defeated by Brockville in the second game.

In the Belleville Brockville game A. E. Wonnacott with Harold Parker as lead, Ernie Jones second and Jim Hanna vice skip defeated Bert Cox with R. Wagner as lead. J. Beston second, Dr. C. Williams vice skip by a score of 23-13, while a rink of Claude Tice, lead, Austin Watkin second, Gordon Watkin vice skip and Jerry Hyde was defeated by a rink of C. S. Bird, lead, J. M. McLaren second, William Campbell vice skip and Jimmy Johnston skip by a score of 20-16.

Mr. Wonnacott and his rink were always trailing, while the Hyde rink was always fighting from behind. The Hyde rink was outbowled in the early part of the 21 end game at one time was down 23-4 but the Hyde rink by clicking and moved up to 25-13 going into the last end. The two rinks needed a five to tie and the last end to tie and nearly made it. The Hyde rink got a three and left Wonnacott with a five to get but the best he could do was a four-ender. He had an almost impossible task to get the fifth shot but he made a perfect shot and was inches short of the tee.

TWO UNFORTUNATE ENDS

The Hyde rink had two unfortunate ends during their game. On the eighth with Brockville lying one, a shot was tried to remove this shot bowl but the second shot which was Belleville's was taken out and Brockville laid five, while on the 20th end in an endeavor to "run the cat' back to the Belleville bowls for a big end the shot was missed and Brockville counted a four by practically sew the game up.

Wonnacott's rink bowled well during the entire game and had it not been for a perfect shot by the skip of the Brockville rink on the 20th end the Belleville club might have pulled the game out of the fire. Mr. Wonnacott "ran the cat" back to his back bowls and was trying three when Cox took a runner at "the cat" and carried it into the ditch to lie one.

The greens at the Ottawa South Bowling Club were in good condition and the officials of that club with PLBA officers made the day a most enjoyable one. The Ottawa club has a spacious set-up with a most delightful clubhouse. At the conclusion of the first game, which took nearly four hours to play, the host club served a delicious luncheon. The scores follow:

Hyde, Belleville 000011200000032

Ted Williams Ready, Eager to Quit But, Boss, Friends, Players Say 'No'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (CAP) — Ted Williams is expected to be back hammering home runs for Boston Red Sox next season despite persistent declarations that this will be his last year.

Baseball's greatest hitter is ready and even eager to quit. But his friends, his team-mates, his employer, manager and even his enemies won't let him.

Baseball people, high up in official capacity, have pleaded with Williams to play at least one more year. They have told him he still is the greatest hitter in the game and it would be a shame for him to quit now. Some have gone further, have told Ted that baseball and the American League, in general, and the Red Sox, in particular, can't afford to lose him.

"The Red Sox are nothing without you," manager Lou Boudreau pleaded with him.

Such officials as American League President Will Harridge and Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, have urged the slender slugger to reconsider. Fans from all over the world have written him.

Williams, always an easy mark for a touch as well as for a plea for help, now is undecided as to what to do despite his statement to reporters Monday that he'll be through after this year.

It has been the most trying of all 13 seasons for the great slugger. Handicapped by a still-mending left collar bone fractured last spring and retarded by a long siege of flu during June, Williams is exhausted physically.

As he wearily climbed into his street clothes hours after the six-hour doubleheader against the Yankees—during which he banged a triple, double and four singles to boost his batting average to .355—Williams, 36, complained of aches and pains.

"Gosh, but I'm tired," he groaned. "Those feet are killing me. And my back hurts like the blazes. The legs are all right, but those feet! The ground out there was as hard as a rock. And I have to play every inning of both games. I just can't do that any more. Not at my age."

Toronto Youth Breaks Record Set by Santee

TORONTO (CP)—Joe Foreman, 19-year-old Toronto high school graduate, ran the 220-yard sprint Monday in the record-breaking time of 21 seconds flat at the final day of the interprovincial track and field championships.

A stiff breeze pushed contestants and eliminated any official additions to Santee's six record-breaking performances.

Bobby Kerr of Hamilton set the Canadian standard of 21 seconds in 1908. Jamaica's Keith Gardner equalled that mark Saturday with a time of 21.3 seconds.

Foreman, who enters Notre Dame on an athletic scholarship this fall, ran 9.7 seconds up the 100 yards Saturday. His time Monday in the 220 will not be allowed as a record, officials said. There was a stiff breeze following him down the track.

Gardner bettered his record-breaking time of 14.3 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles which he ran Saturday. He clipped one-tenth of a second off Saturday's time in a re-run Monday. Larry O'Connell held the Canadian record of 14.4 since 1938.

Ann Reid of Vancouver tied the Canadian record for the 100-yard dash with a time of 11 seconds flat. Aileen Meagher of Halifax set the record in 1937.

George Sebring, 19-year-old Toronto youth, broke Wes Santee's meet record for the 880-yard handicap open Saturday, covering the ½-mile run in 1:56.3. Santee, from Kansas State College, set a mark in the open 880 of 1:58.6 in 1952.

ARGOS DROP TWO

HAMILTON (CP)—Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four are their United States import list to the playoff in Monday, dropping two players and adding one. Coach Frank Clair said he signed Steve Peglusi, 250-pound tackle who was dropped recently by Saskatchewan Roughriders. He cut fullbacks Bill Barbiak of the University of Tennessee and Bobby Fivesah of Florida University.

'Darn Safe' Sets World Trotting Mark

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Darn Safe reeled off straight heat victories in the combined time of 4:08 for a world record for three-year-old gelding trotters and victory in the $22,500 Horseman Futurity at the Grand Circuit meeting Monday.

The Hayes Fair Acres Stable entry, driven by Tiger Schuttbroke on top from the second slot and was never headed in winning the first heat in 2:01 2-5. The gelding was hard pressed by Prince Victor from the S. A. Huttenbauer stable, Cincinnati, in the second heat and won going away in second-record time of 2:02 3-5. Prince Victor, breaking stride, dropped back to fourth.

Ted Toogood Breaks Hand

TORONTO (CP)—Fullback Ted Toogood of Toronto Argonauts broke a bone in his left hand on the second last play of the Big Four football game between Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats here Saturday. He will be out of action for at least three weeks.

The 185-pound Toogood was the star of Argos' win over Ottawa Rough Riders the previous Saturday. His great showing in that game won him the job of first-string fullback and his injury is considered a big blow to Argos playoff chances.

It is likely that Dick Shatto from Kentucky University, who plays quarterback and fullback, will take over as fullback.

REMEMBER WHEN

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Billy Papke knocked out Stanley Ketchel in three rounds at Los Angeles 47 years ago tonight to win the world middleweight boxing championship. A year later Ketchel reversed the decision at San Francisco. Papke and several others claimed the title after Ketchel was shot and killed in 1910. Al McCoy became undisputed champ in 1916.

FRENCH ANGEL DIES

CHICAGO (AP)—Maurice Tillet better known as "The French Angel" in the wrestling ring, died Saturday night about 12 hours after learning his friend and manager, Karl Pajello, had died. Physicians said Tillet, 51, who had been suffering from hypertensive heart disease, probably died by grieving too much for his friend. An autopsy showed Pajello, 61, died of lung cancer.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Along with his new waistline, Alfred Hitchcock has a new schedule for himself. He's working like a beaver.

With scarcely a chance to catch his breath, the mystery master has moved from one picture to another. Having just wound up "To Catch A Thief" with Cary Grant and Grace Kelly, he moves right into "The Trouble With Harry." That story concerns a corpse that turns up which nobody wants to claim.

Hitchcock said he hopes to get back to the rambling type of melodrama he used to do, such as "Saboteur" or "Foreign Correspondent." He even has a fanciful plot like the kind he wants to do.

"The picture would have little suspense and don't worry," he would open at the United Nations where the Russian ambassador is talking. He, I won't continue if the delegate from Peru continues to sleep through my speech."

DEAD DELEGATE

"They try to awake the Peruvian delegate. But he is dead. And we see a hand come in and tear off a scratch pad with some doodling on it.

"The picture would move in a generally northwest direction. The next scene would show the first of a new line of cars coming off the assembly line in Detroit. There's a body in it.

"Then we go to Alaska, where men are stripping off the layers of blubber from a whale. A body falls out of one of the layers. The final chase—we need a fast last reel—takes place over the ice. The villains are in Eskimo boots, so we can't tell their nationality."

Sounds like another hit for Hitchcock.

Point Anne Blanks Petes Seabrookes To Square Intermediate 'A' Series

The Point Anne Comentmen handed the highly rated Peterborough Seabrookes a 5-0 setback at the Point on Saturday evening behind the powerful bats of Roger Mallory and Doug Hull, teamed with a five-hit pitching of Pat Maracle. This evened the best-of-three O.A.S.A. Intermediate "A" hardcovers at one game each with the third scheduled for Cobourg on Wednesday afternoon at 5.30.

Maracle based the losers on five scattered singles with only one batter reaching third base, and that on an error. He set eight down on strikes while walking only three.

Larry Jacobs hurled the distance for the Seabrookes, giving up nine hits with six of them going to Mallory and Hull. He fanned nary a man while issuing walks to a pair.

Jack Elliott's crew jumped into the lead in the third frame when Wardhaugh was safe on an error and Hull singled him to second. Mallory followed with a base single and the lead runner raced home on passed ball. They increased their margin to 3-0 in the fifth when Hull beat out an infield single, took second on an error and scored on Mallory's single. A fielder's choice, passed ball and another error scored Doug Hull.

Doug Hull singled again in the seventh and Mallory came through in the clutch for the third straight time, blasting a home run to deep right field for the 5-0 score.

Maracle weakened a little in the final two frames and after Sullivan's one-out ziggle in the eighth, Thompson blasted a liner to short right that Mallory raced for and made a leaping, falling catch to save a run. A single by Wyatt and a walk brought hope for Peterborough in the ninth but Jensen grounded out to end the game.

Mallory's two hits were also a single and a walk were best for either team at bat with Doug Hull hammering a trio of one-base blows. John Green contributed a double while Sam Mulholland and Bob Strahan singled. The Peterborough hitters were Red Sullivan, Speedy Curry, Bob Wyatt, Tony Kotowski and Jack Dorig.

The lineups:

Peterborough: Sullivan 1b; Curry 2b, Thompson ss, Wyatt 3b; Kotowski cf; Donoghue rf; Jensen batted for Donoghue in 7th; Jensen lf; Scriver c; Dorig p.

Point Anne: Wardhaugh 2b; Hull ss; Mallory rf; Green c; Wade cf; Maracle p; Mulholland 1b; Strahan 1b; Gilmour 3b.

Braves Confident They Can Win National Flag

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The hot, hot test team in baseball, Milwaukee's Braves, headed west today on a 12-game trip which undoubtedly will decide the National League pennant winner.

"All we gotta do is win 10 of 'em," said veteran pitcher Warren Spahn, "and the way we're going we can do it."

The way the Braves have been going—they took a nine-game winning streak, second such in a month, with them—there was no dispute to Spahn's clubhouse statement Monday night.

A pair of rollicking wins over the Chicago Cubs, 13-2 and 6-1, Monday, gave the Braves a first and second place only four games behind league-leading New York.

Manager Charlie Grimm asserted when told his players figured they could catch the Giants.

CHOLLY BACKS 'EM

"Sure they figure that way," he said. "A month ago when we were 13 games behind they felt the same way. And don't they naturally do as haven't changed their minds now."

What about the statement by Giants' manager Leo Durocher a few weeks back that the Braves would find it's legs to catch two teams?

"Well," shrugged Grimm, "We've caught one of 'em now. The way I look at it, if you go out and do your job and don't pop off you come out pretty good."

CANADIANA COPS BIG TOW

NEW YORK (AP)—E. P. Taylor's Canadians, taking the lead soon after the start, made a show of the bulky 20-horse field in winning the $52,425 Vagrancy Handicap at Aqueduct race track Saturday. The Darby Dan Farm's Clear Sailing was second and C. V. Whitney's Dispute third. Canadiana earned a net purse of $29,376 for the Toronto sportsman.

Savoie Beaten By Red Davis

NEW YORK (AP)—Teddy (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., just kept on throwing punches without a letup Monday night to earn a unanimous 10-round decision over Armand Savoie, of Montreal, Canadian lightweight champion, in a spirited television scrap at St. Nicholas Arena. Davis weighed 130½, Savoie, 136.

The little Connecticut veteran, fresh ranking U.S. featherweight, got off to a fast start, sagged under the brisk pace in the middle and then came back to sweep the last two rounds and his fourth successive victory.

Davis was penalized the seventh round—one of his best—for two low blows.

Although Red Top tossed leather in a ceaseless stream, it was the Montrealer who landed the harder blows. In the third, the 25-year-old Canadian shook the Connecticut Negro with a stiff left hook to the jaw. He followed up with a barrage of punches, but Davis weathered the storm and came back with a rally of his own. There were no knockdowns.

Trailermen Take Three in Row From St. Kitts

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Peterbrough Trailermen won their third straight game of the eastern Canada senior lacrosse finals Monday night when they defeated St. Catharines Athletics 14-8. They beat Athletics 17-7 in the second game Saturday.

Fourth game of the best-of-seven series will be played in Peterborough Wednesday. Trailermen took a 5-4 lead in the first period and led 9-7 at the end of the second.

They were paced by defencemen Lew Nicol with three goals. Ron Curtis, Jerry Fitzgerald, Russ Slater and Bob Allen got two each. Other Peterborough scorers were Jack Mason, John Aubbee and Bob Thorpe with one each.

Jim Bradshaw got three for St. Catharines, Al Frick and Ken Croft had two each and Ted Howe got one.

AT THE CAPITOL — Yma Sumac, whose wondrous voice covers five octaves and hits notes so high that the human ear cannot hear them, is co-starred in Paramount's brand new Technicolor adventure drama, "Secret of the Incas," which is due to open next Thursday at the Capitol Theatre for its first city showing. Starred in the film set against the exotic backdrop of the Peruvian Andes are Charlton Heston, Robert Young, Nicole Maurey and Thomas Mitchell. Twice as thrilling and colorful on our giant Panoramic wide vision screen.

SHIRLEY BOOTH SCORES AGAIN IN NEW HIT 'ABOUT MRS. LESLIE'

A powerful romantic drama is served up in Hal Wallis' brand new Paramount film, "About Mrs. Leslie", which opens its local debut yesterday at the Belle Theatre.

Starring Miss Shirley Booth and Robert Ryan, the film is a distinguished cinema entry containing magnificent acting on the part of the principals and an adult story line that was enthusiastically appreciated by a grateful audience.

As the film opens, Miss Booth is running a boarding house and finishing school for neighbors with a delicate hand. The provocative story behind Miss Booth is deftly related by means of vivid flashbacks. She was not always the domesticated woman as that we see. It seems that years before she had been a night-club singer performing risque ditties in Greenwich Village hot spots.

One evening, a tall, dark and handsome stranger comes into her life. It is Robert Ryan and she is instantly attracted to him. When he suggests that she accompany him on a vacation as a travelling companion she accepts and this begins a torrid relationship that goes on over the years. For six weeks out of each year the couple take joint vacations and do not see one another for the rest of the time. Unbeknown to Shirley Ryan is an aircraft tycoon with a family who gets away from it all during the annual six-week period.

Their friendship grows to a feeling of unparalleled emotional beauty but is ill-fated. Ryan dies of a heart attack and Miss Booth is left a house in California in his will. She goes to live in the house and takes in boarders. The compassionately told story pulls at the heart strings and is punctuated by the extraordinary acting of Miss Booth and Mr. Ryan. She is among the best performances ever come from Hollywood.

How this great experience has affected Shirley Booth's present life is related through the trials and tribulations of her two young boarders, Alex Nicol and Marjie Millar. Her serene and philosophical approach to these problems help to straighten them out. Incidentally these two young actors make a fine pair as the young lovers, both showing a maturity unusually competent with the older players.

An directed by Danny Mann from a novel by Vina Delmar "About Mrs. Leslie" emerges as something a very adult filmgoer will want to see!

What the noted bridge masters do with unsettled hands is just about what palookas do. Only more so, only for they meet more trouble for themselves. Most of them disagree with each other.

This is the second in a series of reports on the deals played in the last winter nationals. There were 36 tables. Today you will read what they did with deal number two dawn here:

East was the dealer when only the other side was vulnerable. The contracts were in 12 different finals and 26 were defeated. This means only ten (less than a third) made what they bid.

Of these ten, four were in two clubs. Four went game and all three club undoubled bid were with it. Only two of the nine in a three undoubled bid were able to bring home the bacon.

Two south players were permitted to play it in one spade and both just slid in. A south player got it for two hearts and by his slight tricks. All the rest were defeated.

One north innocently entered with two diamonds and played it there when doubled. He finally gathered up the pieces, when he was down three tricks for a loss of 800 points. His side took low.

One west was either pushed or coaxed into four spades that an opponent doubled. Something made him confident or desperate and he redoubled. He went down two for a loss of 900 points.

Another four spades was not doubled. But he was also down a couple of tricks for a loss of only 100. Seven of those in three clubs fell in the attempt. So did one at three clubs doubled.

Of eight who were in two spades, four were doubled. Two were in three spades doubled. Three played at two hearts. Two settled into a contract of two on the trump. All these flopped.

A lesson for players who can make the same mistake as you.

SUES CITY

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman beaten by a man at eight near her Brooklyn home filed a $150,000 damage claim against the city Friday on the ground it failed "to properly control, police and light the city streets" in her neighborhood. Miss Lily L. Kaplan said she suffered serious hip injuries in the assault last June 15 at 2 a. m. and had been put to great expense for medical care. The assailant was unidentified.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

For Men and Women Who Want to Work for Themselves

We are looking for men and women who want to own their own business. They would be required to service retail outlets for a nationally advertised product, which is a new method of merchandising this product and can be installed in their spare time to start.

NO SELLING OR SOLICITING as we establish your accounts in business places already established.

This business should pay you $75 to $85. per week to start and could be worked up to a highly profitable income within a very short time. With this product you have no competition and there is lots of good territory still open.

A cash investment of $1,900 to all that is required to set you up in business. If you can qualify and have the necessary capital, then write at once for a personal interview, giving age and phone number to BOX 91, Ontario Intelligencer. All applicants will be granted an interview.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina announced Monday night the signing of a $40,000,000 trade agreement with Communist East Germany.

DEDICATED TO THOSE WHO LIVE, DIE BY THE SEA

Pictured as it was being lowered into the water is "The Christ of the Abyssea," a bronze statue nine and a half feet high with a concrete foundation weighing 80 tons. The statue was placed one hundred feet under the sea at the port of San Fruttuoso Di Camogli, Italy, in dedication ceremonies to the world's seafaring men, divers, and to those who lost their lives in the sea.—Central Press Canadian.

Will Still Hold 'Race of Century' Says CNE Body

YOUNGSTOWN, N. Y. (CP) — The sports committee of the Canadian National Exhibition said today bad weather had forced cancellation of the relay-team swimming race across Lake Ontario.

The "race of the century," between Miss Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., Miss Marilyn Bell of Toronto and Mrs. Winnie Roach Leuzler of St. Thomas, Ont., still be run.

A special meeting of the committee today will consider a substitute swim for the relay.

Cash prizes for the relay swim, which was scheduled to start about 5 a. m. today, totalled $30,000. No decision has been announced regarding new prizes.

It was announced early today that small craft storm warnings had been posted on Lake Ontario and poor weather was expected for at least another 12 hours.

Hurricane Edna Will Likely Hit Bahama Islands

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A tropical storm building rapidly to hurricane force twirled slowly across Atlantic waters today toward the thinly populated eastern Bahama Islands.

The weather bureau said the storm, dubbed Edna for the fifth letter of the alphabet, is moving toward the west northwest at eight to 10 miles per hour.

A ship in the storm some 650 miles east - southeast of Miami radioed Monday night it encountered winds of 80 miles an hour.

The eastern Bahamas were advised, and warnings were flashed to ships at sea in the area.

Espionage Probe Bars Dr. Evatt After Criticism

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—The Australian government commission on espionage today barred Dr. Herbert Evatt, leader of the federal Labor opposition from making further appearance on behalf of two members of his staff.

A spectator in the public gallery greeted their decision with the Nazi salute and shouted "Heil Hitler." The commissioners objected to Evatt's criticism during the weekend of arrest of Mrs. Rose Marie Ollier. French woman diplomat. He said she was "probably innocent" and the treatment she received was "worse than McCarthyism."

Evatt, a former high court judge and a leading lawyer, was appearing on behalf of Alan Dalziel and Albert Grundeman, his personal secretaries named as "sources of information" in a Soviet document.

The document was handed to the Australian security service by Vladimir Petrov, former Russian spy chief in Australia, whose disclosures are causing political acclaim last April also led to the arrest of Mme. Ollier.

Wiley Lunches With Churchill

LONDON (Reuters) — Senator Alexander Wiley, (Rep. Wis.), chairman of United States Senate foreign relations committee, lunched with Sir Winston Churchill today and discussed the European Defence Community crisis with him.

Wiley, now on a tour of Western Europe, met Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany last week and is expected to see Pierre Mendes-France, French prime minister, when he visits Paris on his way home to Washington.

He is believed to have told Churchill that West Germany now must become a full and free member of the West European partnership and reinvite full sovereignty quickly.

Freighter Loads Labrador Ore For Hamilton

HAMILTON (CP) — The first shipment of iron ore from the new development in Labrador is being loaded today at Seven Islands on the St. Lawrence river, for consumption at the Dominion Foundries and Steel Company in Hamilton.

A canal-sized vessel, the Shirley G. Taylor, will bring the 2,100 gross tons of ore 900 miles to the Ontario port.

This high grade iron ore will be the first used by any Canadian steel company. It is mined at the Iron Ore Company of Canada operations at Knob Lake, on the Quebec-Labrador border. It then is shipped 357 miles to Seven Islands and loaded for shipping.

Buried at Sea

LIVERPOOL, England (Reuters) —A Canadian passenger died and was buried at sea during the crossing of the Empress of Scotland from Montreal it was learned when the ship docked here early today.

Joseph Gill, 70, of Port Credit, Ont., was travelling alone on a vacation trip to England.

He was buried at sea when radio messages failed to bring replies from relatives in Canada.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Gene Hitchon
We were amused the other day to read about the Ontario motorist who had a TV receiver installed in his car right in the dashboard.
Police stopped him on the highway for a routine check and, spotting a strange aerial on the roof, saw the lights flashing on the dashboard. They arrested him on two charges.
The set hadn't been hooked up yet, the man explained, because he couldn't get reception.
The law took a dim view of all this. And of course it's forbidden in Ontario. But no charges were laid. The motorist was simply ordered to have the set removed.
We're inclined to agree with the police view, TV is wonderful around the home. It's a trifle advanced for autos. So, next time you're in the store, don't ask us to outfit the family car with TV. We won't do it.
What we WILL do, though, is demonstrate how easily and for the home—the new Hallicrafter, a household utility in today's progress. Come in for a demonstration or phone for your free booklet, and we'll call with our TV set in tow!
You know our names and address. Hitchon Radio & Television, 4 Bridge Street East. You must know the reputation of the Hallicrafter. Drop in tomorrow for that free demonstration.

North American Hunter Can Find Plenty of Thrills Not Far From Home

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Big game hunting may mean Africa to some, but the North American hunter can find enough to keep him busy this year within a few days' drive of his front yard, wherever he lives.

And whether he measures success by pounds of meat or by hunting thrills, there is opportunity to shoot more than he can carry or scare himself whitebeaded, as he chooses.

For instance, Alberta already has opened season that will offer grizzly bears, caribou, elk, mountain sheep and goats before it closes Dec. 31. And although moose are getting a little harder to find, hunters can try for them in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

There is also bear and boar hunting—along with deer — in North Carolina and Tennessee, bear and deer in a dozen states, and even Buffalo in Arizona and Montana.

A quick review of offerings in two dozen of the top big game states and provinces shows that a few states have offered continually more liberal seasons to the archers, and this year North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Colorado have added something to the list.

Shooting started last month in the north and will run on through Arizona's javelin hunting in late February. But the peak activity comes in October and November. Licence fees range from about $25 to Quebec's moose tag. Correspondence should precede any safari to hunt antelope, elk, goats and such in the western states, though most of their permits are distributed by lot.

GAME ABOUNDS

Some big game probably is in better shape now than it was then, because of extensive management by modern conservation agencies. Deer, for instance, was hunted literally around the United States —from New England to California, from Florida to Oregon, and many stages in between.

Last year, Iowa had its first deer season of modern times, and even Illinois is beginning to think of one as protected herds multiply in agricultural areas. One of the few discards comes from Ohio, where busy highway traffic killed 800 deer last year and upset population forecasts.

The biggest game, elks and buffalo, are no longer present in numbers that greeted the pioneers, of course, Saskatchewan has preserved its moose for residents, and other provincial licences for U.S. hunters come high—$101 for alien moose permits in Quebec, for instance. But Buffalo are on the way back as a limited huntable species to the west, and even if controls are rigid as Montana's three — just three-permits must be maintained, it keeps the frontier flavor in the game.

NOTABLE TRENDS

One of the notable trends in giving more hunters more sport with the same, or even fewer, numbers of game seems to be growing use of the bow and arrow. Modern bow hunting, in the popular sense, is barely 30 years old, but more than a dozen states have offered continually more liberal seasons to the archers, and this year North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Colorado have added something to the list.

Shooting started last month in the north and will run on through Arizona's javelin hunting in late February. But the peak activity comes in October and November. Licence fees range from about $25 to Quebec's moose tag. # Former Chief Engineer Of Highways Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Cecil H. Nelson, former chief engineer for the Ontario highways department who was suspended during investigation into irregularities in the Fort William division, died here Sunday. He was 63.

A native of Toronto, he was nearing graduation from Queen's University, Kingston, when he left to join the army and serve overseas during the First World War. He was severely wounded and gassed.

His suspension, due to operate in the investigation, was announced last May by Highways Minister Doucett.

It was learned later that Mr. Nelson, off on sick leave at that time, had submitted his resignation last year but it was not accepted. His retirement had been deferred pending a clarification of charges against the department.

OTHERS CHARGED

He was charged, along with several other persons, with conspiring to defraud on contracts.

Arrested May 10, he was later released on $10,000 bail.

He joined the department in 1919 and four years later was named resident engineer at Ottawa. He later was sent here and in 1931 he was named chief engineer. He had not worked since he became ill in 1952.

A number of former department employees were charged with fraud and conspiracy following discovery of irregularities in road-building contracts.

Govt. Dismisses Charges of Waste, Extravagance

LONDON (AP) — The Royal yacht Britannia is "worth the £2,100,000 it cost, a government committee said today in dismissing charges of waste and extravagance.

Two Scottish Members of Parliament had demanded the investigation when it was disclosed the cost of the 4,715-ton yacht rad almost twice original estimates.

The committee of public accounts said "We have inquired closely into charges of wasteful expenditure . . . and find no justification for them."

The Queen made the maiden voyage on the 412-foot luxury yacht on returning from her world tour this spring. The Britannia, with a cruising speed of 21 knots, is outfitted so she can easily be turned into a hospital ship in the event of war.

Rev. E. Foreman Will Retire Soon

TORONTO (CP) — Rev. Edgar Foreman, for 30 years minister of Morningside Presbyterian church here and clerk of Toronto Presbytery for 14 years, will retire Sept. 30.

He is past moderator of the synod of Toronto and Kingston, former moderator of Toronto Presbytery and a staff member of the Presbyterian deaconess and missionary training school here.

He will leave in October for Victoria where he will be associated with St. Andrew's Presbyterian church as assistant to Rev. J.L.W. McLean, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

MANY JAPANESE DEAD

TOKYO (AP)—The welfare ministry today announced that 352,881 Japanese have died in Iron Curtain countries and an estimated 71,615 remain unrepatriated from these areas since the end of the Second World War. The ministry said the deaths were confirmed. The announcement said most of the unrepatriated are in Soviet Russia, Outer Mongolia, the Kuriles, Sakhalin and Red China.

37 Meet Violent Death During Long Holiday

Thirty-seven persons met violent death in Canada during the Labor Day weekend. The holiday death toll stood at 38 at the end of the same three-day week-end last year.

Highway accidents claimed nearly half the lives—18. Most of the mishaps occurred when thousands of vacationists jammed roads heading for home after the summer's last long holiday.

Between midnight Friday and midnight Monday 31 other persons were drowned; two were killed in a plane crash; a man was run over by a train, a woman died in a house explosion, a child was crushed under a playground slide, a worker died after a 16-foot fall, a sailor was killed when he fell into a ship's hold and a woman was burned to death when her clothes caught fire while lighting a pipe.

A Canadian Press survey showed Ontario led provincial lists with 19 fatalities. Quebec reported 12 persons killed; Saskatchewan, three; British Columbia, two; and Newfoundland, one. None was reported in Alberta, Manitoba and the other Atlantic provinces.

Scouting Flight Made Around Flying Object

NORTH BAY (CP) — A nearby West Ferris business man said he saw an RCAF plane make a scout-saucer hovering above the forest for several minutes.

He said the object, emitting a white light much too bright to be a star, at about 2 a.m. Then the plane came from the direction of the North Bay air base with its running lights flashing, made a complete circle around the stationary object and headed back to its base.

Mr. Pirie said the object later sped off to the south with a tremendous red exhaust and disappeared.

Last week three workmen at the RCAF base said they watched a flying saucer hovering over the

Frey's Eggs Were Pegged Right at Yegg

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A holdup man got away with $80 from a grocery Tuesday night, but not before the outraged storekeeper had socked him in the face and shoved him with eggs.

Bernard Frey, 39, said he started the bandit with a punch in the face as he scooped up bills from the cash register. Then, as he chased him from the store, he "let him have it" with a barrage of eggs.

Police couldn't find the egg-splattered yegg.

Most People Will Forget Almost Anything

MONTREAL (CP) — William Stevens is convinced that most people, given the opportunity, will forget almost anything.

He's been watching them do it for eight years in his post as the "lost-and-found" official at Windsor station here.

A closet in his office is a silent monument to the forgetfulness of railway passengers.

"But I can understand how people can lose such things as these," he said, pointing to a pair of false teeth, and a 40-ounce bottle of whisky.

"During the winter fur coats are commonplace; we get spectacles by the dozen; and I've found on every shoot I think half the passengers leave the station barefoot."

Articles unclaimed after three months go to the baggage office. If they're still there after another three months, they are sold at auction.

Since the beginning of August, about one-third of the 150 "found" articles have been claimed. One was a wallet containing $500.

Agents Describe Secret Meetings With Petrov

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Undercover agents told today of the secret meetings needed to restore the Soviet embassy spy chief, Vladimir Petrov, that he would be glad if he defected.

One agent, Dr. H. C. Beckett, of Sydney surgeon who did four undercover jobs voluntarily without pay, said he held several meet, things in his office with Petrov and Dr. Michael Bialoguski, who was working for the Australian security service, pretending to be a disillusioned Communist.

Petrov was "sober faced—he watched me and let me do all the talking," Beckett said the royal commission on espionage.

Beckett said that after a couple of meetings he decided to tell Petrov that he could take up chicken ranching if he preferred. "I am just a country boy and would probably have to get a job on the land."

Petrov said he was afraid that if news of his defection got out before he left the embassy he would be shot, Beckett told the commission.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO. (CP) — Synopsis: Tuesday's one-day heat wave in southern Ontario has been pushed southeastward out of the province, and today will be mostly sunny and cool in all forecast regions. Thursday will be sunny and a little warmer, with high cloud sometimes over the western areas in the afternoon as the next low pressure area in the current prevailing westerlies over Wyoming, approaches the province.

FLORIDA TENSE AS STORM LASHES BAHAMA ISLANDS

Hurricane Edna 300 Miles East of Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edna appeared to be swinging a bit to the north today on a course that may lessen the chances of Florida being hit by its savage 115-mile-an-hour winds.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami weather bureau, warned however that the storm was "moving very slowly now" and could change and would have to be watched closely."

Hurricane Edna, fifth of the season, was about 300 miles east of Miami this morning, moving northward at 12 miles an hour.

South Florida was told to stand by on the alert for further advisories. Small craft along the Florida coast from Daytona Beach to Key West, a distance of 415 miles, were told to stay in port.

The northern Bahamas, in the hurricane danger zone, were advised to continue all precautions.

Winds of 115 miles an hour were recorded in the Bahamas. Edna, at the storm, and gales extended outward 150 miles to the northeast and 100 miles to the southwest.

NEAR SAN SALVADOR

Late Tuesday night the great wind was emitted about 50 miles south of San Salvador. It was expected the storm might be turning slightly to the north as it spun like a top between Andros and Great Abaco Islands in the northern Bahamas.

"However, we must emphasize strongly that all of south Florida should remain on the alert," a forecaster said. "We can't say at this time that the storm won't strike the south Florida coast."

A United States hurricane hunter plane near the Turks and Caicos reported a ship "fighting extreme winds" and that it could not make out the ship's name.

Duchess of Kent And Princess Read Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Looking cool and pretty, the Duchess of Kent and her daughter Princess Alexandra arrived today for a visit to Montreal, the Duchess's first visit, last stop in their Canadian visit.

After a greeting by councillor Hugh Ranson and his wife, the duchess received an RCAF guard of honor and received applause from some of the 10,000 persons in various vantage points about the big Central station.

The Montreal royal visitors arrived from Fredericton and strolled through the station to the red-carpeted north plaza. Some 250 persons waited inside the station and larger crowds filled the plaza and the overlooking Dorchester street bridge.

The brief welcoming ceremonies finished, the visitors left for the Windsor Hotel by car through a round of official and semi-official functions until late tonight.

During the weekend they will visit the scenic Laurentian resort of Ste. Agathe, before leaving for New York to board the Queen Mary for home.

Salk Says Men May Gain Long-Term Immunity Against Polio by 2 Injections

By WEBB MCKINLEY

ROME (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, whose polio vaccine is undergoing one of medical history's most closely watched tests, says men eventually may gain long-term immunity against polio from as little as two injections.

The bacteriologist from the University of Pittsburgh today admitted his eagerly awaited report to physicians and scientists of 40 countries gathered here for the international poliomyelitis congress.

Salk developed the vaccine which has been given to 625,000 children in the United States, in a massive trial supported by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Its effectiveness will not be known until next March, when the field test results are evaluated and announced by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., of the University of Michigan, Salk's former mentor and also a delegate at the congress.

Dr. Salk reported there already is evidence that the vaccine generates antibodies — virus-fighting substances — in the bloodstream of vaccinated persons. He said they are quite as high as antibodies found in the blood of persons who have recovered from the disease.

He said he expects that such can be accomplished with as few as two injections. But he stressed that "provided the potency of the vaccine and the interval (between shots) are both adequate."

It is still not certain how long the effect of the vaccine will last, Salk said, adding:

"That there is still much to be learned is clear indeed. Nevertheless, it does appear . . . that by suitable manipulation of the dose of vaccine and of the intervals between inoculations, it should be possible with relatively few injections properly spaced to provide long-term immunity."

New Economic Study Unit To Implement Building Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Works Minister Winters, in charge of a $150,000,000 public construction program, today announced the opening of a new economic study unit to help implement the program "to the best advantage of the Canadian economy."

Appointed to head the new unit is Dr. E. P. Weeks, a Rhodes scholar who initiated a study of the impact of public construction on various Canadian cities back in 1946.

Mr. Winters, in a statement, said that the primary function of the new body "would be to study and assess the impact of proposed public projects on the economy, particularly of the various areas, and to assist the department in implementing its program to the best advantage of the Canadian economy."

The department, he said, receives applications for projects involving the spending of public funds and he is anxious to ensure that the planning staff "does not add to the burden of attempting to evaluate the importance of the various projects and to have more detailed studies of the economic significance, particularly of the larger projects."

Also in an interview, Mr. Winters added he hopes more and more of the public projects, such as highways, harbors and bridges, will be used as "investments" to help stimulate local economy. The new unit will assess the planned works with that line of thinking in mind.

Dr. Weeks, 42, is a native of Prince Edward Island and a 1932 Rhodes scholar from Mount Allison University.

Prepare to Define Umpire's Powers in Railroad Dispute

OTTAWA (CP)—Scope of action for the umpire in the union-railway contract dispute remains unsettled as the cabinet and the railway unions prepare to deal with the issue at meetings today.

While both sides have reached a stalemate on agreement to accept rulings of a government-appointed arbitrator, they disagree as to what yet neither has expressed its views to the government on the issue of reference to the arbitrator proposed by the cabinet last Wednesday.

The cabinet hopes to get general agreement on these terms—defining the powers of the arbitrator—before writing them into an order-in-council and announcing them to closely-guarded name of the appointee selected last week.

But whether this can be done by late in the afternoon, the cabinet could act promptly if its tentative terms were accepted, was in doubt. It was clear that they will not need revision.

While the cabinet met here, the 105-man general conference committee of the 14 unions in the dispute and the heads of the railroads treat to discuss the terms of reference and other questions relating to the dispute that threatened a strike until the unions' negotiators agreed to accept the conciliation under pressure of a prospective emergency session of Parliament.

It may be late in the day before the cabinet can make known their stand on the terms.

Red Paper Claims Gen. de Castries Opposes SEATO

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's leading Communist newspaper quotes Brig.-Gen. Christian de Castries as declaring that the French must war and that "one must fight all American attempts of aggression."

"One must also fight SEATO," the French commander of the Dien Bien Phu Indochina fortress is quoted as saying in a purported interview published by Neues Deutschland, official organ of the Soviet zone's Socialist Unity (Communist) party, during the 11-day term given the Southeast Asia security pact, which was signed today in Manila.

The paper says de Castries was interviewed by Lt.-Gen. Ridgeway at lunch in North Viet Nam, Dr. Fritz Jensen, last week shortly before the Indochina truce was declared.

The Castries interview in Saigon awaiting transfer to Paris, has talked only briefly with correspondents since his release. The French have refused all requests for interviews with him.

Fears Lessen For Safety Of Two Youths

WINNIPEG (CP)—A report of a chance meeting in the wilderness has lessened fears for the safety of two American youths overdue on a canoe trip in northeastern Ontario.

The 17-year-old Minneapolis youths, Dick Stevens and his companion identified only as Brown—left a camp near the Minnesota border July 26 for a canoe trip in the wilds west of Fort Arthur. They were scheduled to arrive back Sept. 4 but didn't.

However, RCMP here were told Tuesday night by a forest fire officer based at Rivers, Man., that he and his men met both adventurers in mid-northwestern Ontario's Sheban-dowan lake on the evening of Aug. 30.

FO. Martin Aller said his party, travelling by motorboat, met them at a portage and as they could beat down before darkness set in.

He said the Americans had plenty of food, a strong aluminum canoe and can save every indication of being able to take care of themselves.

They told the party that because many of the portages and streams marked on their map were impassable, the first part of their trip had taken them longer than expected.

Gen. K. Lawton Will Not Testify For McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton refused today to testify at the McCarthy censure hearings concerning a conversation with Brig.-Gen. Ralph Zwicker, Senator Joseph McCarthy's counsel accused the defense department of "gagging" the witness.

One of the accusations against McCarthy is that he has abused Zwicker at a closed door hearing on the subject of Communist influence at Fort Monmouth. Lawton's testimony was sought in connection with this charge.

Declining to testify about his conversation with Zwicker, Lawton cited a directive by President Eisenhower barring disclosure of confidential matters in the executive department of the government.

The retired general, a friend of McCarthy, said he was acting on advice he had obtained from "your friend Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's counsel, said he thinks the inquiry may conclude by next week. Senator Arthur Watkins (Rep. Utah), chairman of a special committee conducting the hearings, said "it begins to look like it."

WINCHELL HEARD

The committee wound up its own evidence Tuesday, hearing testimony Tuesday from New York columnist Walter Winchell, who appeared under subpoena.

Winchell said he didn't know who gave him the letter he believed to be a copy of a cut-down version of an FBI memorandum on Zwicker. But McCarthy-army hearings. Senator Ralph Flanders had said McCarthy had given him the letter, circulated it may have violated the espionage laws.

"I am pretty sure it was not Senator McCarthy," Winchell said. He said he thought he had received it from any member of the Senator's staff. Winchell said, "I don't think so." The columnist said the paper was slipped to him by a man at a table next to one he was dining with.

Winchell said he didn't let anybody read the contents of the document. He said he talked to J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, about it but couldn't remember showing it to Hoover.

NAMED FIRE CHIEF

BRANTFORD (CP) — William Lambert, "Deacon" Jones was appointed fire chief of Brantford. Formerly a captain in the fire department, he succeeds chief Gordon E. Huff, who died two months ago.

OLIVER ALOOF AS PERJURY HEARING OPENS

Charge Against Doucett Wren's Responsibility

TORONTO (CP) — Opposition leader Farquhar Oliver today said he would not take part in any "melodrama" regarding charges of perjury made against Highways Minister Doucett by Albert Wren (Lib.-Lake, Kenora).

Mr. Doucett has denied the charges.

Mr. Oliver made the statement at the opening of a session of the Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee. Opening was delayed a half hour by the late arrival of Mr. Wren's plane at the airport.

Mr. Oliver said Mr. Wren's actions were his own responsibility. "I feel a charge of that kind should have originated here. It wasn't impressed and I didn't and wouldn't indulge in what I call melodrama."

TENSE ATMOSPHERE

The session opened under a stormy, tense atmosphere in the crowded committee room.

After a heated argument, committee chairman Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) allowed Mr. Doucett's counsel, Roydon Hughes, to make a statement before the committee.

Mr. Hughes asked for "fair play" by the committee. Mr. O'Heron protested. He said Mr. Hughes was trying to settle the matter for Mr. Doucett.

Mr. Wren asked that Mr. Roberts outline what procedure would be taken.

Mr. Porter shouted back: "You have been prepared for months. . . ." He accused the opposition member of "speaking down" as the crown attorney, in attempt to lay perjury charges against Mr. Doucett.

The minister is expected to attend the committee's sessions when witnesses testify. But Mr. Wren will take the stand. Mr. Doucett himself, along with Premier Frost, provincial auditor Harvey Cotnam and Charles Dubin, special crown prosecutor, are expected to hear Mr. Wren's list of witnesses given to committee chairman Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) but they were not served with warrants.

SETTING UP

Warrants were served against seven persons. They were H. J. McFarland, Picton, head of the McFarland Construction Co.; Edward T. Wride, Toronto, a former McFarland employee; Joseph Zakrajsek, Cobourg, and Stanley Valiant, Picton, former bookkeeper for the McFarland firm; I. McHue, Picton, a truck driver; Bruce Rosser, now Telegram reporter; and Charles Appleby, Toronto securities company salesman.

Commonwealth Of Churches Aim Of Dr. Fisher

VICTORIA (CP) — A commonwealth of churches and not organic unity is the aim of Protestant churches around the world, Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, said after his arrival in Victoria Tuesday for a six-day visit.

The 64-year-old prelate, first leader of the Anglican Church to visit Canada, declared: "I have driven devoutly hope organic unity won't come for some time . . . it would be the worst thing for Christendom.

Surgeon Blames Cigarets, Cocktails For Jump in Women's Ulcer Rate

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — A surgeon blames cigarets, cocktails and the "coffee break" for an increase in ulcer rates among women.

Dr. Leo J. Starry, professor of surgery at the University of Chicago medical school, says the incidence of the serious, bleeding-type ulcer has increased among both men and women in the last 10 years, but at a faster clip for females.

One of every four ulcer sufferers today is a woman. The ratio formerly was one in five.

The coffee break—short rest periods at regular intervals throughout the day in which workers relax with a cup of coffee and often a cigaret—now is standard practice in many offices and industrial establishments, Dr. Starry believes this has resulted in a higher rate of coffee and cigaret consumption among female workers.

Cocktail parties, he adds, could also account for an increase in the ulcer rate of both sexes.

In a speech and interview at the annual meeting of the United States and Canadian sections of the International College of Surgeons, he said cigarets, coffee and alcohol stimulate the secretion of ulcer-producing acids.

The cigaret and coffee taken together during a coffee break is especially hazardous for some people, he added, because no food is taken to act as a buffer for the acids.

In Arkansas You Can Buy Plot on Mars

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three "far-sighted" men formed the Planet Mars Development Corp. here Tuesday.

Purpose: "To subdivide and convey title of such area or areas of said planet Mars to competent persons for suitable remuneration."

Rex Sorbus, George B. Pratt and R.J.B. Ramsey had articles of incorporation drawn up and submitted them to the secretary of state.

The incorporators claimed several advantages that should interest:

1. No road - building troubles (there are no mountains).

2. You will live twice, as long (there are 687 days in a year).

3. Mars has a mean temperature of 48 degrees (not too hot, not too cold).

4. No drainage or irrigation problems (there is no water).

U.S. Warships In Far East Put Out to Sea

HONG KONG (AP) — United States fighting ships have all but disappeared from Hong Kong harbor since the Quemoy fighting broke out.

There usually are from four to eight U. S. navy ships here on rest and recreational leave, but this week most of those in port quietly put to sea and no more have come in.

U. S. navy personnel refused to comment whether the withdrawal was related to the Quemoy fight. Similar departures have been reported from Manila this week, however.

Sault Baby Drowns In Tub of Wash Water

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — A 16-months-old baby drowned in a laundry tub while his mother was hanging clothes out to dry Tuesday.

Mrs. Dorothy Eddy, wife of Constable Ross Eddy, returned from a neighbor's where she had been for clothes and found her son Cecil face down in the tub.

CITY & DISTRICT NEWS

FIRST WAR VETERANS TO WELCOME COMRADES OF SECOND CONFLICT

An evening of special interest to all veterans of this city and district will take place when the Canadian Legion veterans of the First World War entertain their comrades of the Second conflict. The banquet will be held on September 24th at the Canadian Legion hall in Coleman Street. The dinner will be given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion and Comrade Jack Burnett, regional vice-president of the Provincial Command and Mayor of Cobourg will address the gathering on a topic of particular interest to those who served in the Second War. Other special items will follow to round out an evening of comradeship and fellowship. All First War veterans are especially invited to be on hand to welcome the youngsters of the second conflict.

Police Blotter

The time spent by V. Fox, department of national revenue representative, in checking in at a hotel proved expensive last evening.

Whether Fox was registering at the hotel a thief entered his car and stole two draughting machines valued at $223 each and a slide-stone bag with contents valued at $50, total value $500.

Theft of a spare tire, tube and wheel from a truck owned by the Canada Transport was also reported to police. The tire was stolen from a vehicle parked outside the company's warehouse on Coleman street. A reward of $25 is being offered for information leading to the recovery of the tire or the identity of the person responsible.

Ticket on Blue Sail in St. Leger Could Be Worth $43,000 To Mr., Mrs. Ben Feather of City

When the pack leaps away from the barrier in Britain's famous St. Leger race on Wednesday, the hopes and prayers of a Belleville couple will ride with the Canadian-owned thoroughbred "Blue Sail".

That's it. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Feather, 23 Purdy Street, hold a small blue slip of paper which could be worth $43,000 to them by Saturday noon. Or failing the top money it could be worth $25,000 or $17,000 if "Blue Sail" finishes second or third.

In any event the Feather exhibitor will be fattened to a considerable extent, no matter what happens.

For there are three pools of $25,000 each, which will be divided among holders of tickets on horses running out the money; one horses "scratched" before the race and in the consolation prizes.

"Blue Sail" is the third favorite of the race and was quoted this morning at 5-1. At the first favorite is "Never Say Die" American-owned 1954 Derby winner quoted at 3-2. A third pool is to be held by Mrs. Norman Larette of Mc-Can,

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved irregularly in a narrow range with moderate forenoon trading today.

First-hour trading was 382,000 shares, less than half of Tuesday's first-hour figure which started the market on its heaviest trading day in seven months.

Gains in balanced issues fairly evenly in all major stock market groups. Heaviest trading was in a few lower-priced issues.

Features included Walkers in Industrials, which hit a 1954 high of 68.62½ in fairly heavy turnover; and in western oils Merrill and Sapphire which also hit 1954 highs. American Leduc eased.

Willroy in Manufacturing issues continued easier after Tuesday's loss. Multi Minerals dropped after Tuesday's climb. Dyno hit a 1954 high of $1.34.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream, No. 1, country truck price was 58 cents here today. Delivered Toronto, the price was 61 cents. Butter price prior to No. 1 grade was 58-60 cents.

The egg market was steady on all grades with the exception of small graded eggs which were weak. Offerings were light for a steady demand.

Quotations provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, graded, in fibre cases; A large 39; A medium 36; A small 23; B 31-32; C 27. Wholesale to retail: A large 55; A medium 42-43; A small 28; B 36-37; C 26.

Butter solids: Ont., first grade, tenderable 58; non-tenderable 57-57½.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—The few good to choice slaughter steers and heifers offered moved actively at firm prices today at the Ontario stockyards. Liberal offerings of common to medium grades were very slow on a narrow demand. Receipts: cattle 410; calves 185; hogs 360; sheep and lambs 240; holdover from Tuesday 2500 cattle.

Choice steers, all weights, 21-22; a few lots of choice weighty steers 22.50; good heifers 18-18.50; a few choice at 19; low medium steers and heifers 14-16; common light steers and heifers down to 10; good cows were active at 11-12; canners and cutters down to 7; good heavy bologna bulls 12-13; choice light bulls down to 8; choice fed yearlings 22-23.50; medium down to 20; good stockers 18-19; mediums down to 16.

Graham Meteors Win First Game Of Playoffs

TRENTON (Special)—Team captain Jiber Ellis swatted a long double into centerfield last night driving in the two runs Graham's Meteors needed to defeat Central Bridge 9-8 in the first game of a best three-out-of-five series for the Trenton Softball League championship.

The Meteors were lagging behind two runs as the last half of the ninth opened.

The garagemen's first baseman Joe Hastings blasted a looping triple to set a chain reaction that brought about his team's victory. Ernie Curtiss bunted sending Hastings home and the Meteor team within one point of tieing the Bridgemen. Ivan Istead the next man up singled Curtiss to second. Then Ellis delivered the knockout punch as he rifled one to his liking far out into the outfield

Firm Fined $10 For Failure To Get Permit

TRENTON. (Special.) —Magistrate T. Y. Wills presiding in police court here yesterday ruled that the Trenton Cold Storage pay a $10 fine and $17 costs for failing to obtain a building permit to erect an addition to its plant on the waterfront.

Appearing on behalf of the storage company president Eben James produced evidence that the company had applied for a permit. Building inspector Bill Anderson testifying said he refused to accept the storage company's application because the new building by-law stipulated that the applicant was liable for an assessment of $11 on a $10,000 addition. The storage company offered to pay off a $2,000 assessment. Yesterday's court action was the town's reply to the storage company's offer.

At one point during the proceedings the magistrate ordered court recessed to allow town solicitor H. R. Park to return to his office to obtain certain important documents that had a definite bearing on the case. Mr. James offered Mr. Park the original documents but Magistrate Wills decided that he wanted to see that the town had the proof.

Under cross-examination by Mr. James the building inspector agreed that he had learned to valuate property fairly. Mr. James asked: "Did you not accept an application from Councillor Weaver for one-third of the value of a building he was having erected?"

The inspector answered in the affirmative explaining that Mr. Weaver had applied for a permit when the old by-law was in effect. The magistrate interrupted pointing out that he would not accept this part of the cross-examination as evidence since it concerned legislation under the out-dated building by-law.

Mr. James stated that he had no more questions to ask the building inspector.

Indicating that he did not wish to make statements under oath as a principal of the storage company Mr. James summed up his defence. "As a former councillor and one who assisted in bringing into being the new building by-law I only want to see every ratepayer is given the same fair treatment," he said.

The magistrate found the storage company guilty on the evidence.

OTHER CASES DEALT WITH

Donald M. McMurter of Trenton was fined $25 and $3 costs for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

The case against Alfred Beckwith arraigned on a charge of keeping liquor for sale was laid over one week until September 14.

Gordon D. Huycks of Batawa paid $58.30 for an infraction of the Income Tax Act.

Joseph Williams of Trenton pleaded guilty to drunk driving and was sent to jail for seven days.

Some 29 local and out-of-town speeders fell victim to the town police department's anti-speeding campaign.

$5,000 Hospital Grant Authorized

TRENTON (Special)—At a regular meeting of council last night town fathers authorized the annual payment of $5,000 to the Trenton Memorial Hospital. Council also endorsed a resolution from Hastings County requesting payment of the cost of hospitalization of old age pensioners 65 years old and over.

Dutch Airliner Reaches Gander After Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — A KLM Royal Dutch Airliner Super-Constellation with 55 persons aboard landed safely today at Gander, Nfld., after experiencing difficulty over the Atlantic, the line reported.

The passenger list of the four-engine plane included nine of the survivors of last Saturday's KLM crash at Shannon, Ireland.

The Super-Constellation had reported it was flying toward Gander with power reduced in one engine. The line said it landed about 4½ hours late.

Nickel Workers Sign Contracts

SUDBURY (CP)—Two locals of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) signed 1954 contracts with the International Nickel Company Tuesday.

The action ended a strike threat which had hung over the nickel district for three months.

The contracts provide for a basic hourly increase of 2½ cents up to Nov. 31 and a three-cent boost until termination of the agreement next May 31.

Present basic wages were not available.

Foil Attempt To Burglarize Drive-in Theatre

TIMMINS (CP) — Two armed men wearing green and white polka dot masks were foiled in an attempt to hold up a drive - in theatre Tuesday night by 16-year-old cashier Betty Labrash who slammed down her ticket window and screamed for help, police said.

Charged with attempted armed hold-up are Henry Larabie, 22, of Timmins, and George Dube, 34, of Kirkland Lake. The men were arrested with Larabie's wife, Yolande, at a police roadblock an hour after the attempt. Mrs. Larabie is being held as a material witness.

The theatre cashier said she was selling tickets when a car carrying two masked men, one with a rifle, approached. Her screams were heard by manager E. H. Maenck who chased the fleeing car.

Plan Considered To Erect Largest Structure in World

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan is being considered to erect "the largest structure in the world" on the site of grand central terminal, Robert R. Young, chairman of the New York Central Railroad said Tuesday. This would mean razing the present terminal building.

Young said this plan was among a number submitted by architects and developers on request so that the "air rights"—the space above the terminal—could be utilized because of high taxes paid by the railroad on the terminal.

Webb and Knapp, the building firm which proposed the building, said their plan is for an 80-storey single tower, with an elevated plaza and an observation tower, "the most unusual of its kind ever contemplated." It would have 5,000,000 square feet of rentable floor space.

The Empire State Building—102 storeys—is the world's tallest building but has only 2,000,000 square feet of rentable floor space.

BEAUTIFYING OUR HIGHWAYS

During 1953 there were planted along Ontario's highways 326,468 trees and shrubs.

This was a record number—but an extensive landscaping program has now been underway for some time.

The trees and shrubs, of many varieties, are designed to make motor travel "a thing of beauty."

The Department is to be congratulated on its foresight.

When roads wound their way through the countryside, picking the easiest route up hill and down dale and twisting along the banks of a meandering stream until a convenient location was discovered for a bridge, natural beauty took care of the motorists' needs.

Our modern, two-lane highways, however, while they speed travel, sometimes offer the motorists no scenery more entrancing than steep embankments. Planting of trees and shrubs along these highways will certainly improve their appearance and will be welcomed by motorists in future years. In the Toronto division special emphasis was placed on planting along the controlled access highways, No. 400 to Barrie and No. 401 to Newcastle. Altogether 96,899 trees and shrubs were set out, over 90,000 of which were concentrated on these two stretches of road. The stretch of Highway No. 401 from Oshawa to Newcastle was almost completely planted in one season, using 21,180 trees and shrubs, both evergreen and hardwoods.

The full benefit of this project will not be in evidence for some years. Trees require a long time to reach their full beauty and stature. But in a few years' time motorists using the Toronto to Montreal travel between a hedge of roses. In other areas spirea and honeysuckle are amongst the shrubs planted. The trees cover a wide variety, weeping willows, poplars, five species of maples, elms, spruce, Scotch pine, jack pine, white cedars, red cedars and white ash being included.

Two thousand sugar maples were planted last year on Highway No. 41 from Napanee to Beaver Lake and other plantings were made on Highway No. 37 from Tweed south and on Highway No. 33 from Kingston to Bath and Brown's Bay Park.

IS NAZISM STILL A THREAT?

A few weeks ago the defection to East Germany of Dr. Otto John, head of the West German counter-intelligence service, caused widespread concern in the western world.

It was interpreted as another piece of evidence of the growing Communist menace.

Now however, there come suggestions of a possible alternative explanation, which is nonetheless alarming.

Judith Robinson, writing in the Toronto Telegram, says that it is now evident that John was "neither kidnapped, drugged, hypnotized nor tricked; that he quit the employ of the Adenauer government under a more ominous compulsion." His eastward move, she says, was a product of despair.

She quotes an article by Selton Delmer in Lord Beaverbrook's Express to the effect that John became convinced that "there was no place for an anti-Nazi in the service of the Federal German Republic." John is a man with a long and impressive record of opposition to totalitarianism. His idea was that to defend West Germany's new democracy effectively, the counter-intelligence must watch two fronts at once, guarding against both Nazi and Communist penetration. Selton Delmer reports that for the past year and a half this principle had become increasingly unpopular at Bonn.

A somewhat similar interpretation of John's defection is given by Ernest Friedlaender in an article in the London Spectator. Friedlaender, however, says John was not simply an anti-Nazi but a man with an anti-Nazi obsession, that he saw, felt and smelled Nazis wherever he went in West Germany.

If Friedlaender is correct, we can give John our pity.

But if John is correct, while we may still pity him for being so blind as to jump from the frying pan into the fire from the warming Nazi frying-pan, he must also pity us for our folly in eagerly climbing into the same frying pan in the belief that it will assist us in controlling the fire.

CHAIN REACTIONS

The August issue of "Occupational Health Bulletin," published monthly by the Department of National Health and Welfare, contains an amusing cartoon in connection with an article on "Human Relations, Job Satisfaction and Personal Well-Being."

Entitled "Chain Reaction" the cartoon shows the Boss bawling out an employee, the employee berating his wife, the wife spanking her son, the son kicking the dog, the dog biting the cat and the cat mauling a mouse.

The source of all the mouse's trouble was the fit of temper displayed by the Boss.

This does not quite coincide with our understanding of a chain reaction, for it seems to be a series of events dwindling down from big to small, smaller, unless you happen to look at the cartoon from the standpoint of a mouse.

The type of chain reaction which we fear works the other way, originating in the mouse which evades the cat, causing the cat to scratch the dog, the dog to bite the boy, the boy to "sass" his mother, his mother to nag her husband and her husband to tell the Boss to depart for the place where the offending mouse is probably at that very moment being honored by the presentation of a plaque.

VOICE OF SAFETY

When screaming brakes and tires I hear
They seem to shout such hints as these:
Watch out! There may be children near.
Drive a little slower, please.

This is a winding road. Beware!
Beyond the curves you cannot see.
There may be cars approaching there!
At slower speed you'll safer be.

I hear them shriek by night and day,
Of life the motorist to warn:
Don't ever trust the right of way
And don't depend upon the horn.

Though men for care make many pleas
And safety everyone desires,
The loudest warnings come from these!
The screaming brakes and squealing tires.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

SEPT. 8, 1934.

Mr. Joseph Coyne's small fox terrier, named "Flash", and well known to local residents as the city's mascot, won first place second in the dog derby staged at the Toronto Exhibition on Wednesday. "Flash" competed with dogs from Toronto and several points in Ontario. "Flash" was entered in the fly-weight class.

Mr. Mowbray Howard of London, England, is the guest of Mr. W. J. Schuming territory.

Mr. Roy Blakely, Grant and Clarence, have returned home after a vacation with friends in Smiths Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy and sons, Hickson and Clifford, have returned home from Toronton where they visited the Exhibition.

Dr. George F. Laughlin and Dr. Victor Laughlin, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carr, who have been visiting Mrs. E. Laughlin, College Street, have returned to their homes in Toronto.

30 YEARS AGO

SEPT. 8, 1924.

The memorial to the United Empire Loyalists which stands near the entrance to Queen Victoria Park was unveiled this afternoon by His Honor Henry Cockshutt, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario. A large crowd of citizens and many school children were present. Lieut. Col. S. S. Lazier in a brief address introduced the Lieutenant-Governor, who after making an appropriate and fitting address proceeded to unveil the memorial. His Worship Mayor W. C. Mikel, K.C., delivered an excellent and informative address dealing with the coming of Loyalists and also with the visit of Lieutenant-Governor Sir Francis Gore to the community in 1816, which was 108 years ago. He was accompanied on his visit by Lady Bella Gore. Belleville was then called Thurlow Village as Hastings County had a population of about 180 persons. That visit had a far reaching effect because at that time the village was named Belleville which name was chosen to commemorate the visit by adopting the first part of the name, Lady Bella Gore's name.

The Rev. A. L. Geen and Mrs Geen are today celebrating the golden or 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home, Moodie Cottage, West Bridge Street, and are receiving congratulations and good wishes of many friends.

40 YEARS AGO

SEPT. 8, 1914.

The Belleville fair opened yesterday with many exhibits in all departments. Major J. F. Wills in a brief address declared the fair open.

Conditions were most unfavorable for the regular practice shoot of the Belleville Rifle Association the wind was blowing a gale and the scores were consequently low. Following are the scores of the small number of members who took part: J. Douch, 127; M. Carnew, 125; H. Holton, 102; H. Sneyd, 100; E. J. Austin, 70. The rules were ten shots per range at 200, 500 and 600 yards; highest possible score 150.

At a recent meeting of the Total Abstinence Society in connection with St. Michael's Parish the following officers were elected: president, F. Dillan; vice president, J. M. Phelan; recording secretary, T. J. Barrett; corresponding secretary, T. J. Manley; treasurer, J. V. C. Trusiach; marshal, F. Walsh.

50 YEARS AGO

Dr. O. A. Marshall has returned home from Toronto where he spent several days.

Mr. W. J. Russell of Deseronto was in town today.

Mr. Ed. Tickell is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. J. V. Jenkins has returned home after spending several days in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. James Forester have returned to their home in Buffalo, N.Y., after visiting relatives here.

Mr. Fred Cook of Stratford is visiting relatives here.

Mr. Alfred Holton of New York City, an old Belleville boy, is visiting relatives here.

Fresh Eggs At 100 Degrees

(Ottawa Journal)

The United States Bureau of Animal Industry has announced the development of a brand-new breed of hens with a phenomenal power. This new breed lays an egg which will absolutely fresh for a fortnight though the temperature in the room is 100 degrees.

Somewhere along the line poultry scientists are going to have better recess for a spell and let hens recuperate from all that has happened in the last couple decades.

Town Planning

(Charlottetown Guardian)

Individuals whose immediate plans are belied by town planning regulations are apt to be annoyed. On the other hand when they have invested in a given property they are only too glad that its value is maintained by appropriate development nearby.

These holidays for the mind take no special preparations. You can take a ten-minute holiday, or a twenty-four hour one. I give mine a holiday just before I am lost in sleep at night. If you haven't did this there would be fewer sleeping pills sold! And incidentally, more people waking up in the morning rested and happily ready for what the day might bring.

People who refused to take a vacation, or who boast of the fact that they don't need one, usually later have a physical breakdown. It's the same with the mind. It can't work all the time and remain fresh and ready for the more important emergencies that are forever appearing at ungarded moments. Back from a physical vacation, or holiday, we feel like working more than ever. It's the same with me. I give our mind a vacation or holiday. People do not over-think. They over-worry!

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MENTAL HOLIDAYS

While we are meditating and talking about holidays, why not consider a new kind of holiday—that one for the mind, by which I dismisses all problems of business, or those of the home, or in fact all thought of a disturbing nature, and concentrates upon a chance to relax mentally, as much as physically momentum.

Vacations and holidays have long been considered a must and an essential to both happiness and efficient service. The latter more in first to share in all the benefits, but it's important that the mind gets its share of holidays and vacations. My mind takes a holiday every time it sits and look into the blue sky, with poetic clouds forming and reforming. And when I sit on a rock and feed peanuts to wild squirrels who have learned to trust me. No mental effort here displayed—just the grind on a brief holiday!

Need Two Ways Of Saying 'No'

(Industry, Published by the Canadian Manufacturers Association)

A study of personnel policy commissioned by this paper found that whether a company hires one in forty job applicants, or one in four, it has a public relations problem with those rejected.

Some companies seek to soften the disappointment of refusal. "We regret that your background is not exactly what we want for this position. However, we will keep your record on file and, if in the future . . . " is the way they, reply.

Other companies feel that a polite but firm "No" is a better method. It is direct and honest.

It is not easy to decide which method is better. Clearly, since both are used there are men of experience who hold with each of them. But the purpose of discussion, let us label the two methods the "gentle" and the "honest"—always bearing in mind that the honest method is not seeking to be harsh, only that it is gentle intended to be entirely bereft of honesty.

What seems to be missed from the study, but must surely exist in the minds of many personnel executives, is the possibility of employing both methods as occasion demands. It may be very efficient to kill all one's birds with one stone, but if birds have to be killed and one stone won't kill enough, the answer is to lay in a good supply of stones.

Why should there not be two letters of refusal? Is it any real matter, three? The honest "No" could be used for applicants for whom there is little likely ever will be. The gentle "We'll keep your name on file" for those who really might be useful at a later date. These will probably be a small proportion of the total number which should make for easy filing and typing. Standard letters. The concrete gains are evident.

Many applicants have come to look upon the gentle refusal as just so much eyewash. The way it actually been refused for one job and later qualified for another. So, if the premise is right and a public relations problem is involved, the obvious gains from this field are also present.

The big circulation magazines, the so-called "slicks", have hundreds of hopefully manuscripts submitted to them every day. The sludge piles of rejects are huge. In nine cases out of ten, the editor can tell by the end of the first page if the story is not suitable and such manuscripts are returned with a printed refection slip.

However, many others also have to be accepted and final selection and on the rejection slips of these publications will be scribbles a word or two—"Sorry" or "Try us again." The author is encouraged.

All this is mere convention, but it is the convention which oils the works. Certainly, no slavish imitation would be suitable for personnel departments. But it should be that one group of selectors did find the need for a second method with which to kill their birds and how they produced the stone. Those who accepted and solved this problem will find profit in a study of their example.

Common Words Misspelled

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

It may interest poor spellers—and good ones, too — to know that the words most frequently misspelled are not the unpronounceable many lettered words so much as the shorter ones. Apparently the speller who is uncertain about a word looks up, and then forgets, the spelling of another word he can spell rather than take a chance of being wrong.

This is on the authority of Dean Thomas C. Pollock of New York University, who has long studied the spelling habits of collegiate students in the country. He says a few words are responsible for most of the errors.

The most frequently misspelled word or word group, Dean Pollock finds, is "their-there-they're"; next is "to-too-two"; and third is "receive." where there spellers break the rule "I" before "e" except after "c". However, there are eleven, Dean Pollock says, or confused are the groups "exist-existence-existent," "occur-occurred-occurrence," "separate-separation" and "loose-losing." The average reader can recall others: The "capitol-capital" uncertainty, forgetting that there is only one "inquisition," ditto two m's in "accommodate" and spelling "wiener" "weiner."

Words in any language can be misspelled, but English is particularly vulnerable. It has many words sounding alike that are spelled differently and possibly different spellings and so many words that alike that one may have different sounds and many quite different things, that it's no wonder we go astray.

Bureaucrats' Strange Ways

(Timmins Daily Press)

Bureaucrats have their own ways, and they are passing strange. One of the most outstanding traits is the faculty or using hundreds of words to say something that could be said in a sentence. This would be very strongly to mind on looking over an English newspaper, and prompted this series of questions.

Do you "possess" manual dexterity? Is operation of equipment and the capacity to assimilate a certain amount of technical knowledge? Have you "ability to deal tactfully and confidently with people, think quickly and remain calm in emergencies?" Can you "follow a musical score" and have you "a wide general interest in the arts?" Is your health sufficiently vigorous to withstand hours of duty that are irregular and many include some night shifts?"

If you have all these qualities and are between 20 and 25 years of age and happen to be a British subject, the British Broadcasting Corporation has a job for you as "Assistant Studio Manager" it seems, must be made "through a local office of the Ministry of Labour and National Service" and agency of the applicant is a man age 18-64, or women, single or widowed, unless he or she or the employment, are excepted from the provisions of the "Control of Engagement (Women) Order, 1952."

Such is the jargon which is used by the BBC in a 315-word advertisement which could have just as well been expressed in the simple phraseology that would be used by any Canadian business firm. Nobody, apparently wanted, good starting salary.Apply Box 1948, Station "Unknown" BBC, or course, is a bureaucracy.

Will Protect Husbands

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

A new magazine is about to be published in Toronto known as the "Husbands Home Journal," according to the Canadian Press. Protective Association down in Newark, N.J. We had no idea there was a dearth of hospitals, but according to the latest literature it is here to stay. It is a clearinghouse for plight of the married man and attempts to make the going for him a little easier. If it lives up to its boast it will be a boon to comparative strangers whose guest you are, and you are forgiven best be sure you are most elegant behavior. There is something uncanny about it.

If it is very hot, thin soup, the kind you practically make stuff the spoon with a good, loud sound, you may rest assured that you have committed a solecism there will fall a sudden silence at the very instant you lift the spoon, you feel the back of neck go red as, perhaps only in the imagination, people turn their heads to look at you with astonishment and disdain. If it is a thick soup with stringy things in it, such as vegetable soup at home or, chairmen of the board, vice presidents, millionaires will be content to watch you hoping to be engaged to falls not only a silence but a sort of magic spell at the very moment you are trying to get the stringy things off the spoon and into your mouth on your chin. At which moment, of course, a comic relief will burst in your direction and seem to fasten on your chin.

Then celery, I have noticed that the more important the gathering, the more likely celery is to be lunching with a bunch of whom stop talking long enough at any time to make any difference once, the celery is quite limp and almost invariably refuses to stay or be served precisely at the moment the train pulls out. Celery is very tricky and the celery is so crisp it is practically explosive.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

GOOD AND BAD TONSILS

The introduction of the focal infection principle by Rosenow and Billings about 1910 gave tonsillectomy a great impetus. For two decades therefore the most popular malpractice was "complete" removal of the tonsils and/or extraction of all the teeth on the chance that one of them might harbor a septic focus responsible for rheumatic or "arthritis," neuritis, bursitis, or other chronic ailment.

Dr. Brady

Rarely if ever did the victim of this ruthless procedure experience any other than ill effects, but that didn't stop the malpractitioners from taking a quick look at mouth and throat and ordering, not advising, the poor soul to have those bad tonsils removed forthwith or have all his remaining teeth pulled and then come back.

The focal infection principle is as sound today as ever, but its application is not. All we have seen is radical measures as tonsillectomy or extraction of all the teeth.

A good dentist can't always tell whether a tooth is sound by just looking at it. The patient himself, his or her opinion after a careful examination, and maybe an X-ray film as well.

A good doctor can't tell by just looking at the throat whether either tonsil harbors a focus of infection. The doctor must make a thorough examination, perhaps including palpating the tonsil with a finger and/or probing the crypts, and determining the state of the lymph nodes or "glands" (scrofula) down the side of the neck near the suspected tonsil.

Now that the public is learning the truth about tonsillectomy and the useless sacrifice of sound teeth, this type of malpractice is not so prevalent as it was 20 or 30 years ago, but from the sad stories told by some correspondents who have been the victims of such malpractice I know it has not yet been stamped out.

Far worse, from the newspaper standpoint at least, is that the readers, I know that the atrocious tonsillectomy is still perpetrated on many innocent children, sometimes in wholesale fashion, and too often with tragic consequences.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

ONLY IN PART

One of the most appalling circumstances of modern life is the complacency with which we assume that we know most of the right answers. One would think we read many books and take examples today that we are in a position to discover almost all we need to know to do is just to apply the formulas of science and "presto" the right answer comes up.

But this, of course, is folly. The absolutely correct answer rarely comes up. St. Paul reminded us centuries ago that we know in part. This will be true not only in the first Christian century but eminently true today. There never has been a time when we will grasp truth in its entirety. But we need always to be grasping at truth, for without even this little part of truth we should indeed perish.

Thomas Edison once said that he was sure he had learned only billionths of one cent of the truth. Why he chose seven-billionths instead of some other amount we, of course, do not know. But we get the point. Most scientist of all scientific discovers believed that what he discovered had been but a drop of water compared with truth in all its fullness.

Let us be humble and remain humble. Let us try to discover all we can but never be so slavish remember that we know in part—only in part.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Why does everybody stop talking when I eat soup? Oh, you've noticed the same thing, have you? No sooner do you pick up a stick of celery than a sudden lull falls on the conversation.

If this happened only in the bosom of the family, it might be taken for one of those family jokes, or family stories: "Listen to Daddy slurp his soup!" But it happens even in restaurants. It happens especially by the lone waiter of comparative strangers whose guest you are, and you are forgiven best be sure you are most elegant behavior. There is something uncanny about it.

If it is very hot, thin soup, the kind you practically make stuff the spoon with a good, loud sound, you may rest assured that you have committed a solecism there will fall a sudden silence at the very instant you lift the spoon, you feel the back of neck go red as, perhaps only in the imagination, people turn their heads to look at you with astonish-

Billie Burke was enjoying a cocktail party when a friend noticed that a gentleman at the next table was suffering from a bad cold.

"Uncomfortable!" she asked sympathetically.

The man nodded.

"If you don't mind what to do for it," said Miss Burke. "Go back to your stateroom. Drink lots of orange juice. Take five aspirin tablets. Cover yourself with all the blankets you can find. Sweat the cold out. I know what I'm talking about. I'm Billie Burke of the Mayo Clinic."

BANCROFT

Pleads Guilty To Theft Of Fishing Rod

BANCROFT — Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing a fishing rod, David Cooper, 21, of Bonarlaw was given one year's suspended sentence by Magistrate R. C. Jackson. OPP Constable John Hawkins told the court, that Cooper rented a boat from Reg Summers at Baptiste Lake on Sunday, August 22. After the boat was returned, Summers noticed a fishing rod missing from the boathouse. Apprehended and questioned, Cooper admitted the theft.

Twenty-two-year-old Walter Rupert of L'Amable pleaded guilty to a charge of driving whilst his licence was under suspension. OPP Constable Ray Hooker said in evidence that whilst on patrol on the evening of August 21 he saw a car without tail lights. On stopping the car he found accused at the wheel. Awarding a fine of $30 and costs or one month, the magistrate said that the suspension formed a major part of the punishment for highway offences and it was no good if such people continued to drive.

A fine of $15 and $28 costs or one month was imposed on Irvine Armstrong of New Carlow, who was found guilty of driving, whilst his ability was impaired. Constable Ray Hooker said that, at 11.10 p.m. on August 21, he met a vehicle, which took a curve east of Maynooth on the wrong side of the highway. He turned and gave chase, reaching a speed of 70 mph before overtaking the car which was being driven all over the road.

INDICATED INTOXICATION

Dr. V. Lohnast of Bancroft told the court that the accused, accompanied by the police, came to his office at 11.30 p.m. the same night and said that he wanted a blood test taken. Prosecution witness Professor Rogers said that the blood tested had an alcohol content of 1.7 parts per 1,000, a figure which definitely indicated intoxication.

Pleading guilty to charges of being minors possessing liquor, Scott Pearson and Earl Smith, both of Bancroft, were each fined $10 and costs. Dale Green of Gilmour paid a similar amount for causing a disturbance.

Charged with having liquor at places other than their residences, Gerald Crozier of McArthur's Mills and Willmer Dupuis of Oshawa paid fines of $15 and $10 and costs respectively.

Time Magazine May Be Cited For Contempt

GAGETOWN, N.B. (CP)—Counsel for Floyd Edgar Brown called for a contempt citation against Time magazine and the New Brunswick distributors as Brown's murder trial opened here Tuesday.

E. C. Atkinson of Fredericton requested that the magazine's publishers and its provincial distributors be ordered to appear to show why they should not be cited for contempt in connection with an article in Time's Canadian edition of May 24.

Mr. Atkinson termed the article, "a tissue of absolute. I would say, lies."

He said it was published before Brown was brought for preliminary hearing and "would have a very great tendency to create in the minds of people a prejudicial attitude."

H. W. Hickman of Fredericton, representing the New Brunswick attorney - general's department, said he was "rather in favor" of the defence motion and would call the article to the attention of the attorney-general.

Brown, 25, is charged in the fatal shooting of Earle Thompson, 34, of Minto, N.B., May 3.

Ford Plant Prize In Annexation Move by Oakville

OAKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—The Ontario municipal board begins today a three-day hearing of an application by this Toronto suburb to annex 8,000 acres of Trafalgar township.

A focal point of the battle is the Ford Motor Co. plant with a $10,000,000 assessment worth $250,000 a year to the township. Also involved is a $50,000,000 development of 2,500 homes and 35 factory sites.

Oakville sees the future of the town and township inseparably linked. The town says its recent growth necessitates annexation and claims it can keep taxes lower through supply of cheaper services.

Trafalgar says annexation would boost its taxes and calls it "a grab with the Ford plant as the plum."

PICTON

Surprise Party Held for Couple Celebrating Golden Wedding

PICTON, — A community surprise party was held in the Legion Hall at Wellington, Saturday, Sept. 4, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Luffman, Niles Street, Wellington, whose golden wedding anniversary fell on Tuesday, September 7. Along with a congratulatory address, Mr. and Mrs. Luffman were presented with fifty golden "mums by Mrs. Clifford Channell; matching brooch and earrings to Mrs. Luffman by Harry Pettingill and Ronson lighter and billfold to Mr. Luffman by John Wall. The hall was decorated with flowers and the bride's table, covered with a white cloth was trimmed with gold and centred with an anniversary cake decorated in gold and flanked by gold tapers.

During the early part of the evening the guests enjoyed progressive euchre. At the social hour more than one hundred guests were seated at three long tables. Clifford McEaul acted as master of ceremonies. George Bailey proposed a toast to the bride and groom who in turn expressed appreciation of the tributes paid them on this happy occasion.

MARRIED IN 1904

Mr. and Mrs. Luffman were married at Wellington on September 7, 1904, by the Rev. J. A. McCamus. The attendants were, Ethel L. Chatterson, Wellington, and Harry L. Luffman of Toronto, both of whom are living. She was formerly Jennie May Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chase and was born at Consecon, on October 6, 1882. Mr. Luffman, born in Wellington on August 3, 1877, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larkins Luffman. All their lives have been spent in Hillier township and in Wellington. Mr. Luffman farmed before retiring. Both are members of the United Church and held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends.

There are two children, Mrs. Francis Meachand (Marjorie), of Vicksburg, Mich., and Russell Luffman, Wellington; three grand children, Donald and Dorothy Meachand, and two great grandchildren, Vicky Ann Lilly and Glenn Meachand, Mrs. Ethel Chatterson is Mrs. Luffman's sister. Mr. Luffman has two brothers, Harry in Toronto, and Fred in Wellington. A sister, Lena, died some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Meachand and son Conrad, of Vicksburg, Mich., were present for the celebration.

Father Seeks Order Admitting Son to Canada

TORONTO (CP)—An application by a 65-year-old Chinese-Canadian for a court order that his son be admitted to Canada was adjourned indefinitely by the Supreme Court of Ontario Tuesday so that the father can make a direct plea to federal authorities.

The department of immigration claims that Lam Fook Yeuk, retired laundryman now in Hamilton Sanatorium, is not the father of Lam Gook Woon, 21, of Hong Kong. The claim is based on x-ray tests. The department has asked the court for a ruling on them.

Court officials say results of x-ray examinations to determine age have never been legally tested in Canadian courts, but have been ruled inadmissible in United States courts.

Before Tuesday's hearing, W.W. Mundell, counsel for the department, lodged an objection that the court has no authority to hear the case since the youth was over 21 and no immigration official had authority to admit him even if a court so ordered.

Champions Parade On Farmers' Day At Exhibition

TORONTO (CP)—The champions parade today at the Canadian National Exhibition.

It's farmers' day at the Ex and they'll be busy prizes from morning to night. Most of the livestock judging was to be finished by noon but that wasn't the climax of events.

Champion animals chosen up to the completion of judging were to parade before the thousands of visitors from near and far.

This is the day particularly devoted to agriculture. The noon luncheon was to have as guests the exhibitors in the agricultural section, Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan was to be the principal speaker.

The list of honored guests included some who have had livestock in the exhibition for a half-century.

CANADA ON MARCH

Tuesday the CNE in its Canada on the March theme saluted the territories in a display of Eskimo carvings and art which has recently been shown through Europe.

Premier Douglas' province was up for special attention today along with agriculture.

Tuesday's back to school parade by pupils struck hard at attendance. For the first time this year attendance fell below that for the corresponding day last year, it was down 13,00 to 132,000. However, attendance for the first 10 days was 200,000 more than the same period in 1953.

Smiling Girl From Connecticut Still in Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A smiling "Miss Connecticut" met a pouting "Miss Connecticut" at the Miss America pageant Tuesday, but only the smiling girl still is in the beauty contest.

Fifty bathing beauties from 44 states, New York city, Chicago, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada trotted out on the boardwalk for the annual swim suit pictures this morning.

They smiled and smiled and smiled for a large living room newspaper and newsreel photographers.

Canada's entry is 21-year-old Barbara Joan Markham, a brunette art student from Cornwall.

Everyone was happy except one blue-eyed blonde from Connecticut who stood pouting on the sidelines.

MORE PROTESTS

Violet Fuchs, 22-year-old former WAC from Middletown who picketed the pageant Monday, still insisted she is Miss Connecticut.

Dorothy Anne Hopkins, an 18-year-old University of Connecticut co-ed, is the only Miss Connecticut recognized by pageant officials.

Miss Fuchs named Miss Connecticut in a beauty contest not sanctioned by pageant officials, said she plans to make more protests against being left out.

The winner will be named Saturday night.

Toll in Runaway Truck Crash Increased to 3

DORSET (CP)—The toll in Monday's runaway truck crash here increased to three when Mary Moore, 16, of Toronto died Tuesday in hospital at nearby Huntsville.

Two persons were drowned when the truck, loaded with coke, went out of control after its brakes failed on a hill, smashed through a bridge railing and dropped 30 feet into water.

The truck careened down the main street of this Muskoka district vacation centre and struck the girl as she walked her dog across the bridge. The impact carried the girl and her dog into the channel.

Trapped in the cab and drowned were Haskell Sweet, 62, and his 19-year-old nephew, Len Evans, both of Bancroft, 55 miles northeast of Peterborough.

The driver, Everitt Vader, 24, also of Bancroft, was not hurt.

Miss Moore suffered two broken legs, a broken arm, severe scalp cuts and body bruises. She and her parents had been returning from a vacation and had stopped for lunch in Dorset.

City Expropriates Abandoned Property

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — City council Tuesday night authorized expropriation of property belonging to Canadian Industries Limited.

The riverfront area was abandoned by the company after a section of the land sank partially submerging some buildings and creating a lake. The company proposed to sell it by tenders to be opened this Friday.

Mayor Arthur Reaume, following a visit to CIL head office in Montreal, said special powers were after the 49 acres of land which is expected to treble in value due to the St. Lawrence seaway.

Council passed a bylaw in rapid fashion so the city can take action before Friday. Estimates ranged from $250,000 to $1,000,000 as the cost of the property.

Cheese Exchange

A total of 5,350 cheese was sold on the Belleville Cheese Exchange last night. No bids were called on the white cheese, the offering of 3,078 cheese going to the Cheese Producers Marketing Board. Price of colored cheese was fixed at 30 cents. Also making up the total were 1,300 specials and 1,966 colored cheese.

HART—GOODWIN

PICTON.—One of the season's loveliest weddings was that at Picton United Church on Saturday, September 4, when Elinor Diane Goodwin became the bride of Howard Hart. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Goodwin, of Picton, and the bridegroom, the son of Mrs. W. H. Hart, Picton, and Hector of Belleville, and the late Mr. Hart.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums formed a background for the ceremony performed by the Rev. F. E. Whitelaw.

Traditional wedding music was played by A. A. Benvie, organist of the church.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was a lovely picture in an original gown of ivory heavy imported slipper satin fashioned in lace. The moulded basque of lace featured a wide rounded neckline highlighted by a deep appliqued edge of lace daisies. The long sheath sleeves tapered to points and the voluminous, sweeping skirt, which was worn over a hooped crinoline, had an inverted pleated lace inset sweeping to a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a matching lace cap. She carried pale pink rosebuds and stephanotis.

The attendants were, Miss Sandra Goodwin as maid of honor, Misses Carole Mitchell, Patsy Swayne, Barbara Lipson and Elizabeth Ostler, bridesmaids. Their gowns, in autumn shades complemented that worn by the bride. The maid of honor was in bouffant turquoise peau de soie chiffon with full length back drape over a hooped crinoline. The bridesmaids were in gowns of full pointed basque real silk taffeta, two in gold and two in bronze shade over hooped crinoline with stole type jackets. Their bouquets were of tiny yellow and bronze 'mums in matching autumn shades. They wore matching autumn leaves in their hair.

The groomsman was James C. Hepburn of Owen Sound, and the ushers were James C. Bleckhall, Montreal; Edmund McClay, Belleville; George Inrig and Boyd Chalmers, Picton.

Miss Florence Barber, the soloist, wore a waltz-length dress of Chantilly lace in a delicate blush of beige with contrasting accessories and orchid colored corsage. Her selections were "The Lord's Prayer," and "Through the Years."

The reception was held at "Westford," home of the bride's parents where pink and white gladioli and chrysanthemums brightened the rooms. The bride's mother chose a floor-length gown of autumn mist brown taffeta with matching hat and accessories and corsage of gold roses. The bridegroom's mother was in Persian blue peau de soie taffeta with beag trim, blue velvet hat and white gardenias on her handbag.

The bride's table was covered with a Madeira cloth and centred with a white wedding cake surrounded by tulle and pink roses. Candelabra with white tapers were on either side.

For travelling, the bride donned a brown Dior suit, copper feather hat and accessories, a breath-of-spring fur jacket and corsage of bronze roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart will reside at 4550 Walkley Avenue, Montreal.

Guests were present from Detroit, Windsor, London, Kitchener, Guelph, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Cobourg, Beamsville, Colborne, Trenton, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Ottawa and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Bonisteel Happily Wed for Fifty Years

Descendants of United Empire Loyalists who settled the "front" of Sidney nearly a century and a half ago, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Bonisteel, R.R. 1 Trenton, Tuesday celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

It was quietly a family gathering with all but one of the couple's nine children and their families present to honor pioneering Sidney couple married on September 7th back in 1904.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonisteel were married at the Wesleyan Church parsonage by the late Rev. W. M. Sexsmith and went right after work following the ceremony. "There were no honeymoons for those days," Mr. Bonisteel commented.

The Bayside district has been home for Mr. and Mrs. Bonisteel all their lives. They were born there, went to school there and have lived there since their marriage.

Mr. Bonisteel is the son of the late William M. Bonisteel, whose grandfather Charles Bonisteel homesteaded 400 acres in the Bayside area. His wife is the former Florence Hunt.

At 71 Mr. Bonisteel farms 180 acres on the second concession of Sidney with the assistance of one of his sons. Each spring he hires a team of horses at the Canning factory at nearby Prinniehurst where he tracks eavestroughs. The Bonisteels have a tractor, but still keep horses. "I like a team of horses," Mr. Bonisteel says.

MOTHER OF NINE

As the mother of nine grown children who performed her household tasks without the aid of modern electrical appliances, Mrs. Bonisteel is quite ready to admit women today have different methods of cooking.

She recalls baking bread three times a week in a wood burning stove and of churning with a hand operated churn to keep the family in butter. "Bread" deliveries, cold storage and canned goods have changed things," she says.

She recalls the first Women's Institute meeting which she attended over 40 years ago, saying when an out-of-town instructor gave the recipe for potato salad.

She went home and tried the recipe but her aged grandmother was skeptical. "You are not going to give the men cold potatoes, are you?" the grandmother asked.

"No, I had better save a few 'potatoes to fry, just in case."

Mr. and Mrs. Bonisteel are now members of Bayside United Church (they were formerly active. Mrs. Bonisteel is a member of the W.A., while he is a member of the L.O.L.

Of nine living children only seven are at home. His wife is the former Florence Hunt.

Designer Invades Insect World For Fall Fashion Inspiration

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—John Cavanagh, designer for the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra, invaded the insect world for his fall inspiration.

His evil silhouette follows the outline of the scarab beetle, sacred symbol of ancient Egypt. Evening dresses are shaped to suggest a butterfly's fluttering wings.

The scarab line, with flat front and bloused back effect, gives a new ease to the body of suits. Jackets are straight-cut suited with lightly-defined busts and waists. A loose panel from the back armpits, curving in to a half-belt, suggests the beetle's folded wings and adds a blouse drape to a normal jacket.

The line is emphasized by extremely tight skirts.

A more pronounced scarab style is a round-necked jacket, with no belt, looking rather like a camel's hump, a pink lame hip-length number is lined with sapphire fur and worn over a straight-skirted short dinner dress. The same stretch fur is also used at the back of a black persian lamb jacket, worn over a slinky wool dress.

"The persian lamb jacket went to an American buyer," said a Cavanagh press representative.

Loose jackets of scarab type are collarless. Suits have buttons up to small collars, topcoats are fitted and roll in to the skirt, or cut straight with a rounded scarab shoulder and sleeve line.

The butterfly line comes mostly in evening wear. Wings are suggested by an upward and outward movement above the tiny waist or in a downward and outward sweep below. In both long and short dresses, this style often features the "body" of the butterfly in different material from the wings.

One example is a short sheath dinner dress of black velvet with the wide ends of a brilliant blue satin sash flaring outwards at back like the folded wings of the insect. A matching satin loop stands away from the low back neckline added importance to the decollette.

-Norman Hauteel, who designed outfits for the Canadian tour of the Duchess of Kent and her daughter, gave an unusually small collection in July. He is at present engaged on dresses for the Queen Mother's North American trip later this year.

Based on wearable, practical lines, Hartnell's suits are broad shouldered and hip fitting with pencil-slim skirts. Topcoats often worn over matching suits, are sometimes trimmed with deep fur collars and taper towards the hem to give the new Long Look.

Black predominates and a black velvet coat has three matching dresses—pirette, a white satin blouse, a white polka dots, black lily, a black and white satin print and twig, a rustling white taffeta embossed in black velvet leaves.

Cocktail dresses in black tulle include a fan-shaped overlay. Bl-ck satin is high-lighted with jet and a black flannel has embroidered beetle wings.

There was only one drifting dream-dress in tulle, a deep dress with satin water lilies floating on an expansive skirt and matching a draped white satin bodice.

New Canadian Learns English Backwards

VANCOUVER (CP) — A pretty new Canadian has progressed to the point where she'll learning her English backwards.

Marianne Hissing, who came from Eskilstuna, Sweden, about a year ago, says, "When I came to Vancouver, the first word I learned "jay" instead of 'yay.' Now I have to think hard so I don't say 'yellow' for 'yellow' and 'joung' for 'young'."

Housing and architecture and eating habits in Canada interest Marianne, but she says it's the people who fascinate her most.

"It's fun to call out 'Hi' when you meet people a second time, and to laugh and have fun right from the start."

She said young men here are nice. Swedish fellows don't find it so easy to tell you if you're smart looking and a good dancer.

Marianne, who has done amateur and professional modelling, said it was a shame so many Vancouver women were dowdy in coats and hats felt hats even when it's not raining. "And with smart, fashionable clothes on the street, too."

She'll have learned to go to Chinatown for food. In Sweden we have the 15-dish smorgasbord but I much to you that I can now say 'jump' and 'Jimmy.' But it does to me."

NEIGHBORS' AID

The August meeting of the 2nd of Thurlow Neighbors' Aid, gathered at the home of Mrs. John Craig on Wednesday afternoon. Over 50 members friends and children were present. The president was in charge of the meeting.

A welcome was extended to all and a vote of thanks given to the hostess.

The meeting was held on the spacious lawn which owing to the warm afternoon, was an appropriate place for the gathering.

Several letters of thanks were read from those receiving fruit and flowers, while ill. Arrangements were made to cater at "Warden Mitchell's" banquet in October. The executive is to complete the arrangements at a special meeting later.

Mrs. M. Mitchell thanked the Aid for the money voted the bell team which they appreciated.

Owing to illness of Mrs. Joe Miles, Miss Mabel Craig took charge of the program which included a series of TV contests: oke was to display the contents of their purses. The one with the longest line of articles was to receive a prize: Mrs. William Lazarulk received the gift. Miss Sarah Stickney also received a gift for the "lucky spot," and Mrs. Barlow got the prize for the lucky chair.

Thanks were tendered to Mabel for the enjoyable entertainment.

Mrs. L. Sharpe received a gift for having a birthday in August.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. G. Stanton, with Mrs. C. Howard to arrange the program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mesdames Porth, W. Lazarulk, S. Stickney and F. Barlow.

Front Road

FRONT ROAD — The regular meeting of the W.A. was held in the church, Mrs. Orland Reid presided. Mrs. F. E. Rolud had charge of the devotional.

The W.A. desired to hold their annual bazaar on October 20th.

Mrs. Barlow favored with a solo. After the meeting closed refreshments were served by Mrs. Glen Bradshaw and her committee.

Members don't forget to have your baking ready on Friday when Mrs. Reid will call for it on the west side for the Shannonville Fair.

French Riviera Booked Full For September

By PEGGY MASSIN

CANNES (Reuters)—The French Riviera at the moment is the objective of a million visitors seeking sunshine.

Unseasonal weather all over Europe has sent every sun-lover to the south of France and holiday from Marseilles to Menton are booked to capacity throughout September.

Small cabin dinghys and luxurious yachts are moored side by side in every harbor. The drive from Cannes to Monte Carlo, which ordinarily takes less than two hours, is lined with vehicles creeping along at walking pace.

Outside the salons of the Paris couturiers, the Cote d'Azur is the only place where tropical fashions have actually been worn throughout the summer and ten square inches of thin cotton contrived to make a Bikini bathing suit is the most popular garment.

SIMPLE BATHING SUITS

Fashions here remain pernsilally the same. Utility and simplicity have priority over fussy or elaborate clothes. The two-piece bathing suit is more attuned to the climate, than one-piece or heavier styles.

Discretion plays an important role, and sensuality is generally reserved for the young, little figures. Mature women go into the sea in long, loose-fitting cotton suits, or boned bathing costumes evolved in corset workshops.

Shorts and pedal pushers are the accepted mode when not on the beach.

For evening, the short, fullskirted dancing dress remains the favorite style. Printed floral sheers or crisp white cottons look fresh against sun-tans. Fur wraps seem out of place, and these semi-formal dresses are accompanied by a short jacket, a cashmere sweater or a short colorful bolero.

Pastels and warm nature colors are preferred this year under tropical skies.

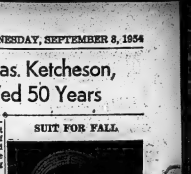
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ketcheson, Cedar Street, Wed 50 Years



SUIT FOR FALL

This attractive suit for fall is of confetti Donegal wool tweed. It features a short jacket worn on the hipbone, sawed-off square collar that leaves the neck free for a wool jersey blouse and bracelet-wide tabs that hold a polished leather belt in place about the waist. The slender skirt is darted and pocketed, (CP Photo).

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ketcheson, 20 Cedar Street, were "at home" Sunday to members of their family, other relatives and a large number of friends on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Baskets of gladioli and other seasonal flowers banked the Ketcheson home for the event as a wide circle of friends from the city and country called to offer congratulations.

Natives of the Moira district in Huntingdon township, Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson farmed in that area until shortly after the war. They then lived in Tweed for two years before coming to Belleville.

It was back in 1904 on September 7th that the couple was married at the bride's home at Moira by Rev. E. E. Howard of the Methodist church. Mrs. Ketcheson was the former Lily Morton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morton of Moira. Mr. Ketcheson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ketcheson.

A brief honeymoon to Montreal and Ottawa was enjoyed by the fifty years wedded couple before they returned to Moira. There Mr. Ketcheson farmed for a period and raised their family of four children— two boys and two girls.

Operation of a 250-acre farm kept them well occupied and there were few holidays until they retired eight years ago. The Ketchesons moved to Belleville at once although during their later years on the farm this chore was eased by a milking machine.

FARMED WITH HORSES

But Mr. Ketchesop never got around to owning a tractor. He managed his farm work with horses, doing his plowing and cultivating with two teams, one of them a three-horse hitch.

Farming did not take up all of Mr. Ketcheson's time. During the 1930's he acted as inspector for Moira Farm Loan Board and later for the Federal Government's Farm Creditors Arrangement Act.

While at Moira Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson were active in the work of the Moira United Church. He now enjoys fellowship at Bridge United Church, Mrs. Ketcheson is still active in the work of the W.A. Mr. Ketcheson is a life member of the Masonic Lodge at Tweed and is a former member of the L.O.L.

All four of Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson's family were home for the anniversary together with the seven grandchildren. The Ketcheson children are Mrs. Taylor (Bessie) Franklin of Belleville;

Samuel Ketcheson, teacher in Toronto; Mrs. Clare (Norms) Horton of Corbyville and Donald Ketcheson, a druggist in Kingston.

HACKETT—FOX

Multi-colored gladioli formed an attractive background for the marriage of Doreen Rosalind Fox, of Stirling, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs R. E. Fox, to Beverly Bryce Hackett, of Demorestville, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hackett, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, on Saturday, September 4th, at 2.30 p.m. The Reverend H. J. Walker pastor of the church, officiated.

Traditional wedding music was rendered by the organist, Mr. Donald Taylor, Picton, Ontario, who accompanied the soloist, Mr. William Colclough, of Belleville, who sang "Because" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. R. E. Fox, the bride wore a lovely bridal gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace over satin in floor-length, fashioned with fitted bodice having a matching lace jacket with long pointed sleeves and Sweetheart neckline. She wore a crescent of seed pearls and fingertip veil of net and lace. Her heart-shaped bouquet was of red roses and gladioli florets.

Mrs. Doris Wanhamaker, of Peterborough, was matron of honor, while Mrs. Howard MacDonald, of Rockdale, Misses Isabelle and Sally Fox, of Stirling, were bridesmaids. All were attired in similar gowns of nylon net and lace over taffeta in floor-length, with ruching, strapless bodices and matching lace jackets. They wore feathered headdresses, and carried matching feathered fan-shaped bouquets of cornflowers, pink carnations, white mums and gladioli florets. Mrs. Wannamaker and Miss Sally Fox were in pale pink, and Mrs. R. MacDonald and Miss Isabelle Fox in shrimp color.

Mr. Donald Hackett, of Demorestville, attended the bridegroom, while Messrs. Ronald Eaton, of Oshawa, Ontario, Tommy Duff, of Alliston, Ontario, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlors, where the ladies served; the bride's mother, wearing a navy gown with white and navy accessories and corsage of red roses, received, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was gowned—in royal blue with lime green accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

For travelling to Niagara Falls and other western points, the bride chose a navy two-piece ensemble, with navy and white accessories, and corsage of red roses and baby's breath. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett will reside in Belleville upon their return.

Guests were present from Hamilton, Toronto, Picton, Belleville, Demorestville, Peterborough, Campbellford, Allliston and Gore's Landing.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Don't Try To Build Up A Romance Here — You're Likely To Be Disappointed.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

After you read my letter you may tell me to forget the boy I am going to tell you about, but when you're in love it's a hard thing to do. Even if I found that he doesn't love me as he says he does, I would still do anything just to be near him.

He is a few years older than I am, but we are just the right age to marry. He has a job in a city about 140 miles from where I live, on which he makes very high wages, and he comes home weekends. My parents would approve if we were to marry.

My problem is that he is wild carefree and likes to have fun, although he tells me I'm the only one he loves. His friends tell me he'll probably never change.

I want to know if there's anything I can do to help settle him down? — L.L.

Dear L.L.:

The only way you might possibly influence this boy to be a more responsible person is to make his settling down a condition of your ever marrying him. That is, of course, if he has really asked you to marry him. He is marriage to him just something you daydream about?

The little you tell me about this chap is not enough on which to base any useful opinion, but to take a shot in the dark, I might say that the impression I get from what you do say about him, is that he may well be the type of young man who tells practically any girl he meets that he loves her, as part of his line. Nothing you say suggests to me that he is really deeply in love with you at this point, and seriously wants to marry you.

I'd advise you to stop trying to build up a romance here, but to interest yourself in other boy friends, too. That way, you won't be left high and dry when—if—you find yourself let down.

HE'S 16, SHE' S18—HE TOLD HER HE WAS 18, TO O

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a boy of 14, but because the girl I like very much is 16, I told her I was 18, too, and soon going to 19.

Now I want to tell her the truth that I am one year and four months younger than she is, but I'm afraid that if I do, she will think I am too young for her, and break off with me. — H.

Dear H.:

If you and this girl are so congenial—that you enjoy each other's company and have good times together, I can't see that the age difference between you is particularly important. You'll be one of those young people who are unusually mature for their years, and your girl friend may be a little less mature than one would expect at 16.

However, if you want to correct what you feel is a drawback—something on the up and up, you will have to take the chance that she may think the actual number of years between you more important than the pleasant friendship you have evidently been enjoying, and if she does, don't be too upset about it. You might then turn your attention to the nice girls closer to your own age. There certainly must be lots of them around, and you'd be a smart boy to made as many friends of this kind as possible, instead of trying to have any special girl friend.

Homemade Soup and Spice Cake Special

As Conducted by Mary Moore

Yesterday your little ones started back to school and I understand myself on the subject of school lunches.

But there are still folks left at home who need lunch too.

There is a little soup-making routine that goes on in our house every time we have a roast chicken and I take it for granted that other flavor-and-thrift-minded housewives practise it too—but on enquiring around found only two who make their own soup for Monday's lunch from chicken bone stock.

It is such a satisfaction to make soup at home because it cleans up the odds-and ends of vegetables in the crisper too. Would you be interested in what I do to make

HOMEMADE CHICKEN SOUP

While the dishes are being stacked after Sunday's dinner I salvage all the bones and put them in a pot and cover them with 4 cups cold water and put them on to boil. If only small amounts of dinner vegetables are left over I add them too. For instance, last night we had summer succotash (corn cut from the cob and chopped was beans with plenty of butter), and—1-2 cup was left over. In it went. The tail end of the salad went in too. That simmered during the evening. This morning I poured it through the strainer, discarded the bones and ground all of the solids, which included some skin, with 1-4 of a raw onion, 2 small carrot, 1 stalk celery, some parsley. I returned this to the broth and added 2 tablespoons raw rice, 1 tablespoon barley, 1 cut up tomato and some salt and pepper with chopped nuts.

and it is simmering now.

That rich thick soup, with tomato sandwiches on whole wheat bread will be the best part of our lunch today.

To soup makers all of this is elementary. But unless you like the soup-making habit the variety of flavors that give it good flavor can be quite a mystery.

We had a barbecue supper in the garden on Saturday night and the spice cake that my neighbor Eleanor whipped up in my kitchen at the last minute deserves space right here.

DELICATE SPICE CAKE

These amounts make a medium-sized cake.

Sift cake flour and measure 1 7-8 cup (this is 2 tablespoons less than 2 cups). Put sifted flour in large bowl and put sifted flour in it and add 3-4 cup sugar, 3-4 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves, 1 teaspoon salt. Stir into bowl. Add 3-4 cup brown sugar (light yellow is recommended) and 1-2 cup shortening —soft at room temperature and 3-4 cup buttermilk (if you have no buttermilk measure a scant 3-4 cup milk and add 1 tablespoon vinegar and let it stand while you make the first part of the cake). Beat all ingredients for about 2 minutes or until smooth (if electric beater is used slow speed). Now add 2 eggs and beat another 2 minutes. Pour into paper-lined buttered 9-inch square pan and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 40 or 45 minutes. (If this cake is baked in layer tins it requires about 30 to 35 minutes.) When cool frost with white butter frosting and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

BE "CATTY" AND STRETCH

Watch the baby when he awakens from his nap. He yawns, throws flexed arms above his head, curls up his legs, then kicks them out full length. He arches his back. He is obeying a law of nature that helps muscle development.

Note the tabby cat. She also stretches after sleeping. She will do that little acrobatic stunt even if she knows there is a saucer of milk waiting for her in the kitchen. Her body stays lithe, slender and graceful. So thou and do likewise to retain a youthful silhouette.

According to all the authorities on physical education, stretching properly and often prevents the development of fat cells.

Stretch luxuriously and luxuriously, in bed when you first wake up in the morning. Stretch again when you arise. Before an open window, breathing way down to the depths of your lungs.

Occasionally, throughout the day, lift your hands high—higher and higher. While doing this go up on your toes. You will take the kinks out of your spinal column, will find that your carriage is getting better and better. Stretch but don't strain. Easy does it.

If you have found, to your surprise and despair, that you can't zip last year's frock, which is a sure sign that your waist measurement is following a policy of expansion, here is a simple exercise that will strengthen and tone abdominal muscles that have become a sleck:

Lie flat on the floor, face downward, arms outstretched, palms flat. Lift the arms high, the head also at the same time. Lower them and repeat. You will be reducing on your tummy and, with muscle pull both ways, you will be doing wonders in the way of improving your shape.

Here is the ballet dancer's delight for stretching off fat on calves and thighs: Stand on one foot, lift the other one, and, with the leg extended and rigid, move the foot in wide circles. This is fun. The family will enjoy watching you do it.

BANDIT USED TEAR GAS

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—An armed bandit fired a tear gas shell in a restaurant Tuesday as he fled with $5,000 taken from the safe. John Crocco, 23, was later arrested and charged with armed robbery. The money was recovered. Another man is still sought.

Women's Activities

STONE W.M.S.

47H SIDNEY — The Stone Church Women's Missionary Society, of 4th of Sidney, met in the Community Hall, on Wednesday afternoon with nine members and one visitor present.

Mrs. J. A.' Detlor, the president, opened the meeting with a few words of welcome, and called on Mrs. H. Gray, who was in charge of the program.

The worship service for September was used to introduce the new Study Book as there will be no other W.M.S. meeting in September.

Mrs. A. Vermilyea representing India, and Mrs. S. Lloyd of Canada, assisted with the worship using the theme, "A nation before God." Mrs. S. Lloyd led in prayer for India and Canada.

Mrs. H. Gray and Mrs. E. B. Phillips held a discussion on the new Study Book, "The Church in India," presenting Mr. and Mrs. Coote Smith.

A reading entitled "Great Occasions," which told of the laying of the corner stone for the new United Church Training School in Toronto, on April 24th, was given by Mrs. G. Lane.

Mrs. Detlor gave a synopsis of the Dominion Board meetings held for 1954 and the Dominion President's message.

Mrs. Ez. Phillips gave a reading on "Citizenship."

During the business session, it was decided to purchase a new Study Book and the books necessary for the Mission Band.

The committee in charge of refreshments served cookies and sandwiches.

Everyone enjoyed a social half hour.

SCHOOL OPENED

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

WEDDING CAKE AT POST-POMED RECEPTION

Dear Mrs. Beeckma...

Because of a special circumstance my fiance and I are to be married in another city; only our parents and attendants at the ceremony, and no reception. Then we will leave for our wedding trip of two weeks. When we then return here, we would like to have a reception for our relatives and friends, the wedding reception we would have had if it had been directly after the ceremony, would it be at all permissible for us to have a wedding cake to cut at the reception? This may seem a rather insignificant question, but, Mrs. Beeckman, I've always wanted to have a wedding cake! — Sally M.

Indeed it's proper for you to have a wedding cake at postponed reception! This is not at all an "insignificant" question, for a wedding cake is one of the most memory - making items . . . and cakes, please plan to have one. When all the guests are assembled, have the word passed on to them to 'gather round,' that the cake is to be cut. I suggest too that you make a plan to have someone with a good voice and the spirit of a cheer-leader to lead in the guests in singing "The Bride Cuts the Cake", to the tradition tune of "The Farmer in the Dell." Your bridegroom holds his right hand over your right hand, together you cut the first slice of the cake . . . usually from the bottom tier. You share the first slice . . . symbolic of the sharing-of-your-lives. A cheerful remark . . . "to have and to hold."

WEDDING "BREAKFAST"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My daughter is going to have a simple little wedding: 10 o'clock ceremony in church, with only parents, some close relatives of both families, and a few intimate friends present, and, immediately after the ceremony, a gathering at our house (only the guests at the ceremony to be invited for breakfast. What would be approximately 11 o'clock; and we plan to serve only simple delicacies and coffee, champagne for the toasts, and the wedding cake. We don't know what to call the service. We've been told that "Breakfast" is the correct word, but I'm wondering, if we say this, if the guests will expect a real breakfast. What would you say, Mother

"Breakfast" is the right word to use for food served before 12 or 12:30 o'clock, no matter how simple the menu.

SHOULD SHE OFFER TO PAY?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

This is about the week-end in the middle of September at the home of my boy friend, for there is to be a last-of-the-Summer dance then at the Country Club. He invited me, his mother has written inviting me, and my family approve. But I don't know what I am supposed to do about paying my fare on the train, as my mother thinks I should do. If he buys the tickets beforehand, or at the ticket window when we meet at the station, should I then offer to reimburse him, or let it go, just thanking him? — Marie B.

If the train fare is considerable, it would be right and fair for you to offer to reimburse him. If he's firm about not letting you pay for your ticket, (as he probably will be) don't make an issue about it . . . just say a grateful "Thank you, very much." If the fare is a small amount, it's quite proper for you to let him pay it, but also with your gracious "Thank you."

TODAY NO TRAIN BEARERS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am going to have a church wedding in October. My wedding will be a cathedral train. I am wondering if I should have train bearers. What is your advice? R.

My advice is that you don't have train bearers. Today it is really passe to have train bearers. The bride who has a handsome cathedral train on her wedding dress would, I think make a serious mistake not to let it flow freely, and in all its glory, as she walks up the aisle.

If you have no home disinfectant, and a disagreeable odor in the kitchen anyone's day, turn sugar or dried orange peel in a pie pan over a few flame, and the odor will disappear.

FALL FASHION IN BRITAIN

The "Lolly Pop" dress in peony silk paper taffeta, is making its appearance in the fall fashion parade in Britain. It starts with a monkey-jacket and ends in a fully-gathered harem skirt with tucked-under hem. The jacket is edged with a double frill that spouts over a wide black satin sash encircling the hips and topping the gathered skirt. (CP Photo).

Britain's Fall Fashions Emphasize 'Relaxed' Bust

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Everything has dropped in Britain's fall fashions.

Bustlines fell from a Hollywood uplift to a "relaxed" level. Waistlines descended inches, sleeves and shoulders came lower and belts hunk around the knee.

Hardy Amies, designer to the Queen, lowered even the hem to 14 inches from the ground for day wear—an inch lower than summer styles.

GUARDED INTRODUCTION

The trend is back to the clothes mother wore in the '30s, at least for the women who can afford to wear them. For the not-so-brave, all designers are breaking in the long look gently. There are, for instance, plenty of simple classic styles with only a suggestion of the waist-around-the-hips look featured in more outstanding models.

Women are expected to take their time falling for something like the black chiffon dress over green chiffon designed by Digby Morton. With wide black satin sash set low on the hips, this dress has no shaping from boat neck down, except by horizontal shirring. An accordion-pleated skirt swings out from under the hip sash and short sleeves are 1930 length.

"Great Scott" is the suggestive name Morton gives a 1830 dress in heavy acetate ottoman, with the same scooped-out neckline and cap sleeves chosen by the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra for many of their Canadian tour dresses. The dress is straight from a low-cut bustline and natural waist to a wide leather belt encircling the thighs. A full skirt flounces from under the belt over four colored organza petticoats.

A "lolly pop" dress, in peopy silk paper taffeta, starts with an innocent - looking monkey jacket and ends in a fully-gathered harem skirt with tucked-under hem. The jacket is edged by a double frill that spouts over a wide black satin sash encircling the hips and topping the gathered skirt.

MERE SUGGESTION

Many designers merely suggest the low belt under naturally-fitted waistlines. Fashion commentators prophesy, however, that the 1930 look will be as big a craze in the near future as the post-war new look.

Charles Creed drops a half belt to hip pocket level below the fitted waist of flare-skirted fagecloth coat. Mattli uses the same idea on the back peplum of a classic suit with fitted waist. Michael gives a "thirties" flare from knees to hem at back of a straight coat in heavy tweed with big cape collar and huge patch pockets.

Many designers use three-quarter, and seven-eighth coats over classic suits with fitted lines. The long look is there in the unbelted collarless coat with narrowed hem, often edged and lined with fur.

A beautiful classic outfit by Victor Stiebel, designer to Princess Margaret, gives a flat-chested look by a triangle-bib effect under wide revers. The dress is otherwise plain with natural waist and all-round pleated skirt. A straight coat with large patch pockets and a deep beaver collar, giving the dropped shoulder effect, completes the outfit typical of those compromising on the more outstanding '30s look.

Catholic Nurses Begin Convention At Quebec City

QUEBEC (CP)—Delegates from 25 countries of the Free World began deliberations today as business sessions of the fifth world congress of the international committee of Catholic nurses and medico-social workers got into full swing.

Msgr. Giovanni Panico, apostolic delegate to Canada, presided over the opening session of the six-day convention Tuesday night when delegates were welcomed to Quebec by Mayor Wilfrid Hamel.

The convention splits up into French and English - speaking groups today for study sessions at Laval University. Panel discussions will be held simultaneously in both languages on the work of public health nurses, the role of school directors and medico-social workers.

Women's Institute

PLAINFIELD W.I.

The September meeting of the Plainfield W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Garnet Denyes with 21 ladies present.

Mrs. Jack Salmon opened the meeting.

Due to the absence of Mrs. Clayton Hall, community singing was dispensed with and each lady answered roll call with a riddle or a humorous story.

Mrs. Horace Palmer, social activities convener, had charge of the following program, readings by Mrs. Gerald Swan and Mrs. Clarence Hall with Mrs. Clarence Marshall giving a life sketch of Mrs. Barry of Australia, new president of the A.C.W.W.

Mrs. Palmer gave the topic "We help ourselves when we help others," which gave many ideas on how Canadians are privileged by helping others.

A neighborhood quiz of familiar community names caused much merriment.

RECONDITIONING PLANS

The business for the evening consisted of furthering plans for the reconditioning of the Orange Hall kitchen.

An interesting letter from England was read by the foreign correspondent, Mrs. Stanley Hazard.

Mrs. Dickens moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Denyes for opening her home.

A delightful half hour was spent when the lunch committee served refreshments.

The October meeting will be held on Thursday evening, October 7, at the home of Mrs. Horace Palmer. This will be a grandmothers' meeting with a hat parade to be staged.

MT. VIEW W.I.

Mountain View — On Wednesday evening Mountain View Women's Institute entertained three neighboring Institutes, Rednersville, Hillier and Wellington.

The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. Stanley Barber, presiding.

A short business session was held.

Community singing was enjoyed with Miss Marilyn Barber accompanying. Each visiting Institute provided a number for the program with the home Institute contributing two numbers.

The president asked that three minutes of silence be observed in memory of Mrs. L. Brideman, a member of Rednersville Institute for 45 years.

Mrs. Bernard Brooks, county president, brought an inspiring message.

At the conclusion of the program, the ladies were invited to the church basement where covers were laid for 80 guests. Each small table was centred with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The guests were served refreshments consisting of ice cream, cookies and tarts.

Piano-Tuning Is Wide Open Field for Women

CALGARY (CP) — Piano-tuning, says Dick Lewis, is a wide-open field for women.

Lewis, one of Calgary's best-known piano-tuners, noted a shortage of qualified piano-tuners all over Canada.

"I've often wondered why women didn't take up this job," he said in an interview. "It's fairly clean work but you have to have plenty of patience because it can be nerve-wracking at times."

He estimates a person who is willing to work can learn the business in about two years.

Lewis thinks radio, recordings and television are responsible for a "great comeback" in the popularity of the piano. Business is booming but there'll be some sour notes polluting the air unless more piano tuners can be recruited.

FREAK TWISTER

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A freak tornado cut a narrow two-mile swath of destruction through farms in nearly Delaware township during an electrical storm Tuesday. Barns and farm outbuildings were smashed to kindling, trees uprooted, and crops were beaten to the ground by heavy hail. Hundreds of chickens were killed when the roof was ripped off a two-storey hen house. The path of the twister was so freakish that residents less than a mile from the storm centre were unaware of it.

Red Press Complains Fashions In Hungary Not 'Correct'

By HUBERT HARRISON

VIENNA, Austria (Reuters)—"That's a pretty dress you're wearing—but is it ideologically correct?"

That's the sort of question a keen-minded young Communist party member in Hungary might ask his wife or girl friend, judging from recent indications in the Hungarian Communist press.

For fashions behind the Iron Curtain have to toe the party line—and the present line is against wholesale imitation of Western clothing trends, against anything jazzy and daring.

The Hungarian monthly Uj Marcius looked at fashions through a microscope—with a red lens.

It found that Hungary has, by and large, succeeded in defeating "cosmopolitan" styles in clothing. Nevertheless, the magazine found that, particularly since July, the spirit of "we do as we please" had been making a comeback. It reported in a shocked tone that at a fashion show in the state stores recently, 40 to 50 per cent of the models shown were imitations of western dresses.

The Hungarian magazine found their sins were even greater. They had produced "ridiculous men's jackets with sloping shoulders, of striking colors, drain-pipe trousers, tight skirts slit at the side or back, dresses and blouses of striking colors."

It appears that artists and their wives are the worst offenders in dress style.

It said young women are favoring too tight skirts which "emphasize erotic tendencies" and low-cut blouses of striking colors.

Uj Marcius called on the Communist youth movement to fight such tendencies in dress which "involve moral and political danger." Daring dress, it added, was the fashion adopted by "depraved elements in night clubs and other disgusting types of people produced by a bourgeois society."

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by Mrs. Ann Ambler (Mother of 5)

Browning through a magazine the other day, I ran across this interesting thought. One of the greatest things about babies is that they "turn people into parents . . . give lessons in baby care no one else can." How true! Who but your little individualist can teach you how to tend his needs so well?

Guiding principle. Forcing never made a baby a bigger or a better eater. Little appetites do vary from meal to meal, and most babies have a way of knowing their own needs when it comes to eating. Guide to good eating habits: use imagination in varying baby's meals just as you do for family menus.

Baby's appetite is easier to keep alive when you have a variety of good-tasting foods. Gerber's offer over 34 varieties of strained fruits, vegetables, soups, meats and desserts, so you can create colors as well as kinds of food. Such palate-pleasing, true - to - nature flavors, such smooth, ready-for-tongue textures. Good to know, too, that Gerber's Strained Foods are processed for high retention of the wholesome food values growing babies need.

Music hath charms. A photographic expert offers this helpful hint: "Turn on the radio to something sweet and low while you're snapping your pride 'n joy. It does wonders for baby's expression."

P is for proteins... the basic "building material" for growing bodies. Gerber's Strained Meats provide the complete proteins so necessary for growth and the development of muscles and all body structures. Made of selected Armour cuts, they're all solid meat, with just enough broth added to give a smooth, easy - to - swallow consistency. Easy as milk to digest because they're specially processed for minimum fat and fiber. All seven are famous for the true-meat flavors that whet the appetites of tiny spries. ## SPANISH DESERTER ENDS UP IN BOAT'S BRIG

When the S.S. Roma arrived recently in New York, she had two passengers housed in her brig. They were Juan Martinez Almeris (left), and Miguel M. Montolla, deserters from the Spanish army. They went AWOL after five prisoners they were guarding escaped in Barcelona. Storming away aboard the Roma, the two soldiers were caught when they jumped from the liner into the sea off Gibraltar. They will be taken home to face the music. — Central Press Canadian.

Trapped by Fire Six Men Escape Serious Injury

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Six men escaped without serious injury early today after being trapped by fire that burned out the Cooper Court hotel. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Norval Renaud and W. Christie jumped from the second storey and Christie, who landed on a pile of lumber, sprained an ankle. Pete Benoit and Jimmy Kidarski used a rope to get to the ground.

Mike Ghanam, the manager, and his brother Pete were in a bedroom on the second floor because they had the day's receipts with them.

"I opened the door out into the hall and the flames just leaped up," Ghanam said. "My brother was running around the room. We went through the window on the roof of a one-storey part of the hotel. The smoke was so thick we had to lie down with our heads hanging over the edge of the roof." Firemen rescued them when they arrived.

Soldier Faces Fraud Charges

QUEBEC (CP)—L. Cpl. Denis Gauthier of Montreal goes before a court martial today in face of charges of uttering false statements in connection with an alleged $10,000 furniture - moving racket exposed by the army last July.

Maximum penalty for the offence is two years' detention.

Twenty-four other soldiers are implicated in the racket. Hearing of their cases by the military court may last another two weeks before they are either set free, penalized immediately or, as in Gauthier's case, committed for court martial if the charges are proven serious.

The soldiers—all married personnel—are charged with having conspired with a local moving firm and billed the army for moving their families when no moving actually was done.

STEAL FISHING REELS

TORONTO (CP)—Thieves broke into a sports goods store Tuesday and knew just what they wanted. They took 76 fishing reels, valued at $2,000. Nothing else was touched.

Cancer Linked To Sex Activity In Strange Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Pierre Denoix, surgeon of the Paris Hospital and chief of the cancer section of the French National Institute of Hygiene, today said a pattern found in world-wide statistics links cancer and sex activity in an unexplained way.

More light may be shed on the causes of cancer, he said, when this basic question is answered: Why do women who marry young, or who bear children before the marriage age, tend to have more cancers of the uterus, but fewer cancers of the breast, than women who marry later and have fewer children, or none at all?

Denoix, who will present papers at the international congress of pathology now meeting here, said the marital factor has been recognized by cancer experts in many parts of the world.

PATTERN ESTABLISHED

"Statistics in France and in many other nations discloses this sex pattern in cancer," he said in an interview.

"They indicate that the emotional or the more sexually active women, as indicated by early marriage or childbearing, are more apt to develop cancers of the uterus; the less emotional women develop cancer of the breast.

"I am convinced this is a fact connected with the glandular makeup or activity of women and not a chance statistic or the result of outside influences.

"For instance in some religious orders where females do not marry and are isolated from men, there is a comparatively high rate of cancer of the breast. The unmarried and never-pregnant women, considered in general to have possibly a lower level of sex urge, are more susceptible to cancer of the breast. This seems true almost throughout the world, where information is available."

BLAST REDUCES LONDON APARTMENT TO RUBBLE

Reduced to rubble, the remains of an apartment building are inspected by members of fire department following explosion at London, Ont. Cause of the blast, which killed Mrs. Ellen Leslie, 39, inset, one of a dozen, young business women who tenanted the building, is undetermined as yet. Besides wrecking the 50-year-old building, the blast shook the downtown business district and flattened a new car.—Central Press Canadian.

MADOC

Surprise Party Marks 40th Anniversary

MADOC. — A happy and enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chapman, Cooper, on Thursday, when relatives and friends gathered for a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Will Rollins, on their 40th wedding anniversary.

Relatives were present from Port Hope, Caledonia, White Lake, and Madoc.

Their three grandsons, the Mc-Adams Bros, provided music and singing during the evening while the older folk tendered them a rousing chartvari.

Mrs. Arthur Parks read an address to Mr. and Mrs. Rollins, voicing the good wishes of their friends, hoping they would enjoy many more occasions such as this together.

Two of their grandsons presented the many gifts to them including a silver tea service, a table lamp, a personal [illegible] chine cup and saucer to Mrs. Rollins, and a tie to Mr. Rollins, for which Mr. and Mrs. Rollins thanked their friends.

Bountiful refreshments were served by the ladies.

HOLIDAYS EXTENDED

TORONTO (CP)—Parents of 21 suburban Trafalgar township school children may be prosecuted for unofficially lengthening the summer holidays. The irate parents Tuesday refused to let their children walk the two miles to their new school. They want a school bus provided. The school board said it will decide what action will be taken against the parents at its next meeting Monday.

BOY WOUNDED

ELMVALE (CP)—Norval Hardwick, 14, son of Elmvale police chief Fred Hardwick, was wounded in the groin Tuesday when his father's revolver accidentally discharged after he took it from a drawer. He was not seriously hurt.

MARMORA

Nearly 4,000 Attend Marmora Fair View Exhibits, Enjoy Horse Races

MARMORA—The catch phrase "Meet me at Marmora Fair" was well responded to on Monday as a crowd estimated at nearly 4,000 chose to celebrate Labor Day thus.

The weather conditions favored this annual enterprise and more than any executive member, director and committee man found their task of the day unrelenting until the crowd shrunk at the supper hour. The set up of the grounds and buildings defied improvement, being the most attractive for some time.

A fine departure was seen in the conversion of the arena's interior into a manufacturer's building, where a large display of cars, tractors, furnishings and appliances were shown, not entirely by outsiders, but by many enterprising tradesmen of Marmora, who showed a fine digestion of the theory, "It pays to advertise".

MIDWAY.

General midway concessions were granted the Lumor Shows from the province of Quebec, embracing the Rainville Amusements from Granby, Quebec. These occupied the heart of the grounds reached by the crossing of the race track. But between the front gates and the track other concessions to local vendors of refreshments extended the midway to further adorn and animate it.

The early arrival of a fair portion of the Lumor Shows over the week-end induced the Fair Board to designate last Saturday as "Children's Day" as well as "Preparation Day."

A visit to the Exhibition Building disclosed the following facts. Ladies work was given a boost by Grade 9-10 girls of Marmora High school, with whom the boys kept pace in the showing of specimens of shop work. Cooking reached its usual high standard.

Flower classes were good for the season of the year with a good display of gladioli and asters predominating. There was, however, a small display of vegetables, fruits and canned products. Cheese and dairy exhibits reached a fine standard.

Regarding the showing of stock, there was little difference to former years. Horse and cattle were of a fair standard. Sheep and swine have passed out of the picture in the past year or so. Poultry exhibits were strikingly good, increasing again over last year.

Out on the grounds pony rides were well patronized as operated by R. Simpson of Cedar Lodge, Hastings. The juveniles, too, had more variety of rides to decide from than in some years with the ferris wheel and merry-go-round and flying boats getting a big patronage.

The wrestling of a 550 pound bear and performance of trained animals in a side show attracted a good percentage of fair attendants.

The fair was formally opened by Elmer Sandercock, MPP, about 2 p.m., following introductory remarks by president Carl Heath. The member pleasantly expressed his pleasure at the honor and spoke in congratulatory terms of the increased industrial future for the district and classed the fair as a splendid event to be held in the village.

Tommy Mason of Peterborough was M.C. for the grandstand performance. Here was seen the one disappointment of the day, in that the entertainers from Montreal, who were arranged for, failed to show up. Partial compensation was forthcoming in the turn put on by Jill Toma and his sister, Lillian, of Havelock. The couple, to their own guitar accompaniment rendered a repertoire of songs in pleasing voices to the pleasure of the crowd.

AGE PRIZES PRESENTED

Prior to this prizes went to the two oldest men on the grounds who were called to the platform —Caleb F. Lloyd, 92, of Harold, and Daniel Shannon, 87, of Marmora. Mrs. Frank McCann, of Cordova, took the prize as being the oldest lady present, her age being 89.

Old time fiddling attracted seven competitors, one a year lady. The three prizes were awarded as follows: Lorne Reynolds, Tweed; John Izzard, Deloro, and William Ryiott, Belleville.

Step dancing saw nine competitors with a lady entrant also in their number. Successful competitors were: Orville McGrevey, Marmora; Sherman Ponsteer, Timmins, and Eddie McGarvey, Marmora, eight-year-old son of 1st prize winner.

A square dance contest only appealed to one set, that a Peterborough one to when the award was given.

The largest number of entrants was seen in the log sawing contest. For first prize two pairs tied, namely Douglas Wolff and Allen Derry, Marmora township, and Thompson brother of the Bonarlaw district. The former two broke the tie, a third prize was awarded a third couple.

HORSE RACING

Horse racing ran on a good scale. Results were as follows— Class C: Edward Grattan, Donald Johnston, Campellford; Jerry Lee, Albert Defosse, Trenton; Tim Silk, Charles Fife, Peterborough; Rex Brooks, Fred Todd, Toronto; Dick Grattan, Harold Chatterson, Colborne, Time 2.25.

Class B: Empress Elgin, Trevor A. Atkinson, Campellford; Black Duty, Hilton J. White, Colborne; Rose Belwin, Milton Post, Peterborough; Peter Grattan, Albert Defosse, Trenton; Time 2.20.

Free For All: Goldie Hall, Albert Defosse, Trenton; Elgin Silk, Charles Fife, Peterborough; Judy Herbert, C. Brown, Meaford; J. E. W., H. Parker, White River. Time 2.18.

Four prizes were given in the pony race with nine entries. Successful riders were: Ronald Urch, Belleville, R.R. 6; Albert Ashley, West Huntingdon; Marilyn Bedford, Campbellford; Elwood Jones, Marmora.

REFRESHMENT BOOTHS

Local organizations operating refreshment booths were: Ladies' Auxiliary, Marmora, Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion, Marmora Chapter I.O.D.E. and Marmora Women's Institute.

The day's program concluded with a dance in the arena at night to music by a Tweed orchestra. No mishaps were reported and the officers and directors were happy over the success of the fair. They are: president, Carl Heath; 1st vice president, Gordon Jones; 2nd vice president, George Fox; secretary treasurer, Thomas J. Bateman; directors, the foregoing executive, Joseph Hulsmans, H. W. Sabine, Charles Lajoie, William McComb, Irwin McCoy, Louis Hulsmans, John Wilkes, Harry Neal, Zeke McAvoy, William Kelly, Vincent Lynch, William Lavender and A. F. Fraser.

ORGANIZE ATTACK

REDBRIDGE (CP)—Farmer Al Crowder of this community about 10 miles northeast of North Bay has called in reinforcements for his battle with bears. Two weeks ago after he cut his oat crop and stacked it in a field Mr. Crowder noticed some sheaves were disappearing. He later saw three bears sneaking from bush and stealing oats. Later a hunt was organized and one bear has been killed and one wounded. The farmer and three companions now are taking turns guarding the oats against any more raids.

Property Values in Tibet Up Since Arrival of Reds

V. M. Nair, a Reuters correspondent in New Delhi, is believed to be the first non-Communist newspaper reporter to enter Tibet since the occupation by the Chinese Communists.

By V. M. NAIR

TARLAKOT, Western Tibet (Reuters) — Property values in Lhasa have skyrocketed since the arrival of the Chinese Communists, who are purchasing Tibetan houses to accommodate their troops and officials.

Tibetan traders from Lhasa attending the Tarlakot "Mandi" (fair) report that with the large concentration of Chinese troops and other administrative personnel, the Communists in the Tibetan capital are experiencing an acute shortage of accommodation.

Some new buildings have been put up to accommodate the troops but the Chinese found that it was cheaper to acquire Tibetan houses. Traders say Tibetan nobles are chasing in on the Chinese need and selling their houses at inflated prices and are reported to be gradually converting their estates into cash and investing it in India.

The Chinese have revolutionized the leisurely pattern of life to new American cars.

which Lhasa citizens had been accustomed for centuries.

They have installed bandsmasters at various points around the city, and every morning over-loud-speakers broadcast over this network, followed by music and Communist propaganda.

Work on the 300-mile road between Lhasa and Chamdo, on the Chinese border, is reported to be making good progress. Hundreds of Chinese troops, Tibetan peasants and even women, attracted by the good wages offered, are reported to be working on the road.

The road is one of the biggest construction jobs so far undertaken by the Chinese Communists in Tibet.

To make the uniforms for the several thousand Communist troops stationed in the town, each tailor in Lhasa is required to work one day each week at the Chinese clothing factory.

The Chinese Communist occupation has made no difference in the Tibetan attitude to the 19-year-old Dalai Lama. But the monarch no longer restricts his public appearances to rare ceremonial occasions. Traders say that it is a common sight to see the Dalai Lama driving about Lhasa streets in one of his new American cars.

Battle May Mean End of Vaudeville In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The battle of strength between the Toronto Musicians Association and the American Guild of Variety Artists broke out again Tuesday, a move that may mean the end of vaudeville in Toronto.

The management of the Casino theatre, the last outpost of vaudeville here, said members of the Musicians Association failed to report for work Tuesday afternoon. Result will be a stoppage of stage shows, the management said.

The musicians union contract with the theatre expired Monday. No attempt has been made to negotiate a new agreement and the theatre's lawyer has been asked to determine if the action constitutes an illegal strike.

ASK CONCILIATION

The theatre applied to the Ontario labor relations board for a conciliation officer and was notified that the request would be granted. There can be no legal delay for members of AGVA. Both groups are AFL affiliates.

Under the new arrangement the only performers allowed to play by the union would be those in skit or acts. The theatre said it could not operate more than two weeks with such acts.

Health Department Reports Better Dental Health Among Drinkers of Fluoridated Water

AWAITING REUNION WITH HERO-HUSBAND

Mme. Jacqueline De Castries is shown at her home in Paris holding a cable from her hero husband, Brigadier General Christian De Castries, gallant defender of France's jungle fortress Dien Bien Phu in Indo-China, who was freed recently by the Communists in a prisoner exchange program now under way at Vietri, 50 miles northwest of Hanoi. Mme. De Castries would not disclose contents of the cable, but said she will meet her husband, captured by Reds on May 7th, either in Paris or Saigon, Indo-China. "That day," Mme. De Castries said, "will be the most beautiful day of my life."—Central Press Canadian

Attlee Cancels Press Parleys In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—British opposition leader Clement Attlee and Mrs. Attlee arrived from Singapore by plane today, and the Labor party chief promptly cancelled scheduled press conferences in Sydney, Melbourne and Canberra.

Reporters were told he would give no public statement until Friday, just before leaving for England.

The Sydney Sun says "it is believed he has been quietly tipped off that though he is welcome, The views are not."

Attlee recently led a party of British Labor leaders on a visit to Moscow and Peiping.

JUST TO OMUCH

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP)—Lynchburg's 100-degree heat felled one citizen Tuesday—an employee of a local air conditioning firm.

OTTAWA (CP)—The health department reports better dental health among children in Brantford, since fluoridation of the water supply was started there nine years ago.

A 28-page report by Dr. H. K. Brown, chief of the department's dental health division, today said there has been a "statistically significant and progressive" decrease in dental caries among Brantford children.

The drop in caries in the 1948-54 period was about 69 per cent in the 6-8 years age group, 44 per cent in the 9-11 group and 36 per cent in the 12-14 group.

The fourth report of a continuing study compared the results in Brantford with those in Stratford, which has a natural supply of fluoride in its water supply, and Sarnia, which has no fluoride in its water supply.

FIRST IN CANADA

Mechanical fluoridation in Brantford was started for the first time in Canada in June, 1945. Since then, a concentration of one to 1.2 parts of fluoride per million has been maintained continuously in the water supply as compared with a natural concentration of about 1.4 parts per million in Stratford. The report said:

"The hypothesis that a concentration of about one-part per million of fluoride in the drinking water, mechanically added, inhibits the development of dental caries . . . is further substantiated by the 1954 survey findings."

SEVERAL SURVEYS

Doctors in Brantford had reported on ill effects as a result of fluoridated water. At least 500 children in each age group in all three test cities were examined for the study which included surveys in 1948, 1951 and 1953.

In 1948, the report said, Brantford data was about the same as in Sarnia. This year, the proportion of Brantford children in the 6-8 years group with caries-free teeth was twice as great as in Sarnia, and about the same as in Stratford.

The percentage of children with caries-free teeth in Brantford rose to 75.39 in 1954 from 46.60 in 1948. Stratford figures showed percentages of 75.83 this year and 78.42 in 1948. Sarnia's percentage remained close to 40 per cent in both years.

Compared with Stratford figures, the effect was not so pronounced among Brantford children in the 9-11 and 12-14 age groups who did not drink fluoridated water in their early years.

NET GAIN HIGH

However, the net gain in caries-free teeth between 1948 and 1954 was high. The percentage six years ago was 5.71 compared with 25.70 this year in the 9-11 group. The 12-14 group's percentage rose to 7.14 from 1.18.

Stratford showed declines for both age groups between 1948 and 1954.

About 10 per cent to 42.80 in the 9-11 group, and by about four per cent in the 12-14 group.

Sarnia's 9-11 group experienced a drop to 40.47 per cent from 6.13. while the 12-14 bracket rose to 2.01 per cent from 0.62.

Percentages of tooth mortality and of decayed, missing or filled teeth also declined by comparable amounts as Brantford closed the gap between its and Stratford's figures. The figures in Sarnia remained about the same.

Doctors to Pool Ideas in Fight Against Blindness

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 1,000 doctors from both sides of the Iron Curtain are gathering here to pool ideas in science's constant fight against blindness.

The doctors, specialists from some 50 countries including Russia, meet Sept. 18 and 19 for the international congress of ophthalmology. Later they will go to New York for a second session of the congress—oldest of its kind in medical history.

One of the features of the meeting—the 17th since the congress was established in 1857 in Brussels, Belgium—will be attempts to find the answer to retrolental fibroplasia.

BABIES VICTIMS

The disease is the commonest cause of blindness in very premature children. It strikes mostly at children born prematurely and unnaturally frail at birth.

Discovered in 1939, this disease causes tissue behind the lens of the eyes to grow abnormally, blotting out vision. About 30 per cent of retrolental fibroplasia sufferers lose all vision.

Another ailment due for careful attention is the virus disease of the trachoma—mass of granular outgrowths under the lids of the eyes—found especially in heavily-populated countries like China.

Among doctors to be honored here will be Dr. Stewart Duke-Elder, eye specialist to Queen Elizabeth. He will be presented with the Gonin Medal, an international award given every four years to the man considered one of his colleagues to have done outstanding work in the field.

Machine Age of Fishing Helps Cod Fishermen at Caraquet

CARAQUET, N.B. (CP) — The machine age of fishing has strengthened its welcome grasp on this old village in northeastern New Brunswick. Men are catching more fish than in former lean years, and are packing them in ways to bring better prices.

Before the Second World War the cod industry here appeared doomed. It had supported Caraquet since Acadians settled the country in the 18th century. They were joined by a sprinkling of Jersey islanders early in the 1800's.

Local weather conditions were ideal for curing salt cod, and Caraquet won an international reputation for this product. Even before the First World War, however, the demand began to wane. In English-speaking countries, especially, salt cod could not compete with foods easier for the housewife to prepare.

The trade picked up during the 1914-1918 war but slumped through the 1920s. By 1939 the last big customers for dried salt cod were Italy and Spain. When Italy invaded Ethiopia, Canada was one of the nations which applied economic sanctions and Mussolini retaliated by decreeing that Italy could pay for imported fish only with goods. The subsequent civil war in Spain left no country to take salt cod, the Caraquet schooners were idle.

The first bright spot was establishment of a quick-freezing plant. Instead of salting cod and drying, then in the sun, they were cut into boneless fillets, frozen and put into attractive packages for export markets in the United States and Canada.

The Second World War brought heavy demand for fish. Caraquet enjoyed prosperity but it wouldn't have lasted if the fishermen continued the traditional system of fishing in dories—small open boats carrying cod either by hand line—from dories—or set-line—a mile-long line baited at intervals.

Diesel-powered draggers were introduced. They fish the Atlantic near shore with the aid of government subsidies and loans. These trim craft have a wide-mouthed, cone-shaped net over the ocean bed and sweep up all the fish in its path. The net is lifted every 45 minutes and in one "set" may take as much as 7,000 pounds of fish. The cod and flounder are cleaned on the deck immediately and flipped into ice in the hold.

While the efficient draggers have cut the number of fishermen, compared with schooner days, they have increased the number of employees in processing plants. Some who cleaned only about $100 a year in the bitter 1930s now make $50 a week, and members of the dragger crews have earned nearly $100 each for a three-day trip.

The revolutionized old fishing port is believed by its 4,000 residents to be the richest village in the world. Its single street follows the Bay of Chaleur shore for more than 20 miles.

Canadian Army Cadets Camp In Beauty Spot in Rockies

By BILL CUNNINGHAM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—It's not all work at the Canadian Army cadets' Reward camp here where a hundred of the cream of Canada's 60,000-member army cadet corps gather for three weeks of specialized training.

The best of army cadet training and equipment is put into play at the camp in this national beauty spot. But sports, sightseeing, swim periods and dances all appear on a long list of extra-curricular activities.

Administration of the camp is almost a family affair. Lt.-Col. Jerry Lapoint of Edmonton is camp commander. His wife, Dorothy Marion Lapoint, also served overseas in the Second World War. Their daughter, Jill, 17, has put in two summers for a two-month stint in the supplementary reserve to help the camp medical officer.

The offices of Col. and Mrs. Lapoint are two log cabins on the permanent buildings. Helping the colonel direct camp activities is his friendly, good-natured adjutant, Capt. B. G. Cameron of Calgary.

Mrs. Lapoint supervises the log-roomed hospital with salmon-pink walls which she says has its busiest period in the first few days of camp each year. Boys arriving from all parts of the country sometimes find the long trip tiresome and the change in climate tends to make them susceptible to minor complaints. Any more serious illness is referred to a local doctor by Mrs. Lapoint, who holds two sick parades a day.

Banff is really two camps.

The first is a spit-and-polish establishment under the army. Here the town at the foot of Cascade mountain—so close, in fact, that the camp's water supply from it falls into it from a mountain stream which fountains out of a cliff directly above the tent city.

The second site is a riverside bivouac camp six miles into the Rockies on the mountain ranges.

The main camp is walled on three sides by the tents of instructors and administration buildings. A highway completes the rectangle.

In the centre of the village is a large and spotless mess hall was also added to the camp this year. It has a huge picture window for a head at kitchen duty. The chores are done by regular army personnel and by cadet students from Edmonton and Calgary, who are paid for the work.

The main camp is a contrast to the bivouac camp where "survival" is the watchword. Here, in the small cluster of army tents nestled in the Cascade valley, cadets learn woodcraft from one of Canada's top outdoors experts, E.R.S. (Bill) of Kenora, Ont.

Mr. Hall, who has slept in the Rockies for 30 years, loves the camp and boasts "the army's only goatee" lectures that survival of a lost person in the bush "is not only possible but probable if a cool head is kept.

DELIVER AMERICAN BODIES

SEOUL (AP)—The Communists today delivered the bodies of 936 Americans, three Britons and one Australian in the Korean war dead exchange. The United Nations now has received 1,900 Allied bodies—1,281 Americans, 42 Britons, 8 Australians, 69 Koreans and 189 unidentified.

British Labor Union Chief Assails Those Who Accept Invitations to Red Lands

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Arthur Deakin, Britain's most powerful labor union chief, struck out today at British Labor visits to Communist countries—"where people go and get indoctrinated."

Speaking to the annual meeting of the huge Trades Union Congress, Deakin made his attack as part of a scorching condemnation of Communist tactics in the British trade union movement.

It came while a great debate was raging over whether or not labor they should work for closer contacts with Iron Curtain countries.

An official Labor party delegation led by former prime minister Clement Attlee has just finished a trip to the Soviet Union and Communist China.

DISOWNS DELEGATES

After disowning, on behalf of the TUC, nine Britons who attended a recent Vienna session of the Communist World Federation of Trade Unions, Deakin said:

"I also want to refer to the invitations that are sent out and accepted for visits to Prague, Warsaw and other places where people go and get indoctrinated."

His remarks brought cries of "shame" and protest from some of the delegates.

Deakin told them: "You have got the virus all right. We understand it very well. We have seen the outward and visible signs."

Deakin stamped on a proposal that the TUC, to which nearly every British labor union is affiliated, might renew contacts with the WFTU, from which it broke away several years ago.

Delegates overwhelmingly voted down the proposal. They outvoted, too, a call for British union chiefs to seek "friendly relations" with Russian and Chinese labor bosses.

FIRST TO BE ARRESTED IN PETROV PROBE

Mrs. Rose-Marie Ollier, 45, former second secretary in the French embassy in Canberra, Australia, has been arrested on charges of giving the Russians secret data on arms shipments to Indo-China. She is accused of giving the information to Vladimir Petrov, while he was head of a Soviet espionage ring in Australia. Mrs. Ollier, a widow, who worked for the French resistance movement in World War II, thus becomes the first person arrested as a result of the fugitive Soviet diplomat's espionage ring revelations before an Australian royal commission at Sydney.—Central Press Canadian

Dewey Decides Not to Run For Governor

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, three-times governor of New York state and one of the most prominent Republicans, said Tuesday night he will not seek re-election this fall under any circumstances.

Dewey twice was the Republican nominee for president and in 1952 was one of the first to support Dwight D. Eisenhower for the nomination.

State Republican leaders had hoped Dewey would be induced to run for a fourth term to lead his forces in the party in its bid to keep control of Congress in the "off year" elections.

But the man who spent 12 years in the governor's chair said he had decided after "quiet consideration" to retire to private life.

YIELDED BEFORE

Dewey announced four years ago he would not run for a third term but at the 11th hour yielded to Republican pressure and was induced again to help keep the state in the Republican column in the 1952 presidential year.

But this time, in response to similar pleas he once again bolster the party in a state that will send 43 representatives to congress, he said in a statewide telecast:

"I shall not under any circumstances be a candidate for any public office this fall."

In Denver, President Eisenhower said he "sincerely regrets" Dewey's decision.

White and Negro Children Attend Same Classes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—White and Negro children began attending the same classes in some Virginia schools Tuesday as the Mississippi legislature prepared to abolish public schools if necessary to maintain segregation.

Meanwhile, state school administrators of 10 southern states heard a noted editor express hope that the Supreme Court will permit desegregation to be handled at local levels.

At the call of Governor Hugh White, the Mississippi legislature met in special session.

It will consider a constitutional amendment proposing methods by which public schools could be abolished in favor of private schools if no other means can be found to circumvent the Supreme Court decision outlawing public school segregation.

In Atlanta, Harry Ashmore of Little Rock, executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette, told a closed session of the southern states conference's program of educational administration that sudden desegregation of southern schools would cause "intolerable social upheavals."

Goat Invades Church

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—The offering was being taken at St. Giles' Presbyterian church Sunday when chuckles from the congregation were heard over the sound of organ music.

A young goat marched up the chancel steps and stared at Rev. Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith stared back. Finally, the minister and the choir gathered the goat and removed the animal from the church.

Traffic Deaths Over Holiday Total 364

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States during the long holiday weekend touched a six-year low point for the holiday.

The final tabulation Tuesday showed there were 364 traffic deaths, 92 drownings and 83 deaths from other accidental causes. The total was 539.

The number of lives lost in traffic was the smallest for any Labor Day period since 1948, when 297 were killed.

The over-all total also was the lowest for the Labor Day period since 1945, when 607 deaths were reported.

Steel Production Climb Forecast

NEW YORK (AP) — A gradual climb in American steel production over the next three months is forecast by Iron Age, the national metal-working weekly.

Some steel orders for new auto models are beginning to trickle in, and they will mean a sharp rise in high volume in October, the magazine says.

Iron Age notes that demand for flat-rolled steel has received a boost from appliance makers who are raising their buying. Tinplate also is reported in greater demand. Operations are expected to climb again next week after being held to check this week by the Labor Day holiday.

The weekly says steel consumption in the United States is still running ahead of production, adding:

"Some purchasing agents are holding off buying steel as long as possible in the hope that lower prices might be offered . . . but there has been no break in the steel base price front."

REDUCE ASSESSMENT

SARNIA (CP) — City council Tuesday night approved a 20-per-cent assessment reduction for taxpayers purchasing their homes under the Veteran's Land Act. Council said the action is designed to provide a measure of tax relief for those who bought their property in Sarnia township after the war and were then made part of the city through annexation in 1952. About 80 householders in the city are affected.

Mau Mau Leaders Will be Confined Indefinitely

WANGI, Kenya (Reuters)—Five Mau Mau leaders, including two Europeans, each sentenced last year to seven years' imprisonment, will be confined indefinitely after they finish their prison terms, the governor of Kenya said during an impassive gathering of natives here Tuesday.

Governor Sir Evelyn Baring, addressing 60 spear-toting Kikuyu chiefs and more than 1,000 tribesmen, said the added penalty would be imposed on one-time Kikuyu leader Jomo Kenyatta, a well-educated and widely-traveled African who worked as a teacher in British Guiana before becoming president of the Kenya African Union, and four of his associates.

They were convicted in connection with the management of the Mau Mau terrorist society.

The governor, speaking through an interpreter, said the five men will be "restored to live in a remote place specified by the government in the northern provinces far away from the scene of their former criminal activities."

THIRD LARGEST CITY

TOKYO (AP)—The population of Tokyo, the world's third largest city, rose to 7,736,113 as of Aug. 1, the metropolitan government announced today. It was an increase of 231,867 in a year. The Japanese capital is now only London and New York in population.

STIRLING

Several Interesting Topics Discussed At River Valley Women's Institute

STIRLING—The regular meeting of River Valley Women's Institute was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Percy Uttman, Front Street, Stirling.

Twenty-two ladies and several children were in attendance. Mrs. Ross Bush presided and Mrs. J. L. Donohoe gave her report. Letters of thanks for fruit boxes were read.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Utman, River Valley Community, with Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Gilbert Finkle in charge of program, based on "Agriculture and Canadian Industries."

Mrs. Will Ashby presided over the program. Mrs. Percy MacMullen summarized a letter written by Norah Bailey of Vancouver, and published in the "English Home and Every", in June of this year.

Mrs. Bailey and her husband came to Canada in 1938 and she writes her impressions of Canadian life for publication. Mrs. Bailey was a valued member of a Sussex W.I. before coming to Canada.

PARLIAMENT PICTURED

In this letter the writer gave a graphic picture of her attendance at a session of parliament in Victoria, and another picture of hockey games. She explained to her English friends that Sunday's newspaper comes out on Saturday with about 60 pages.

In closing Mrs. Bailey gave a full description of procedure in Vancouver when anyone dies.

Later in the program Mrs. MacMullen recited a selection that she had given in September, 1914, at a box social at the Williams' School.

Miss Cheryl Utman sang with her mother as accompanist, "Why Don't You Love Me Like You Used to Do?"

Mrs. Roy Bush gave a brief summary of the area convention which will be held in Belleville in October. The display is to be modern handicrafts.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Bush introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Harold Detlor, of Pine Grove W.I., who gave a vivid glimpse of her trip to the presidents' conference at Guelph. Here a wealth of speakers were heard and much information gleaned.

Dr. Margaret McCready, director of MacDonald Institute, gave a picture of the various scholarships and this year the F.W.I.C. is sponsoring a young woman from Jamaica.

Miss Anna P. Lewis, stressed the theme "Begin where you are with what you have." She explained the free service to Institutes of the adult education in homemaking and urged the presidents of their various branches to study and make use of the extension service booklet.

Mrs. J. E. Houck appealed to the Institutes to support the United Nations' program for UNESCO and UNICEF. Mrs. Houck said over 50 per cent of the world's people are hungry and over 75 per cent are illiterate.

The next project will be gift coupons to supply drugs as soon as the one Sewing Machines for Korean Widows' is completed.

Miss Ethel Chapman emphasized better homes, better communities and a greater development of Canada's women. She stressed uniformity of standing committees from branch to provincial board. Miss Chapman suggested that Institutes give homemaking a dignified observance, that W. Institutes develop the talents of the women and above all that women learn how to divide their time between home and outside interests.

CIVIL DEFENCE

Mr. C. D. Graham gave a splendid informative address on Civil Defence, telling how people are being trained in the work.

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, M.P. said there are two phases of education which should be given in the home, that is religion and politics. Children should be taught to have a healthy respect for tradition and what this Canada means to each one. Children should also be taught to respect law and order.

Mrs. J. W. Adams of Ethelton, Saskatchewan, president F.W.I.U., outlined the development of the Institute idea in Malaya, and told

RAWDON

Mr., Mrs. Sharpe Celebrate 40th Anniversary

RAWDON — On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sharpe, Mount Pleasant Rawdon, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary, with 20 guests in attendance, which took in the immediate families.

The party was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sharpe, and the home was nicely decorated with bouquets of gladioli and asters.

Mr. Sharpe is the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Graham Sharpe of Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. Sharpe was formerly Miss Edna Snary, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snarr, Sixth Concession of Rawdon.

The wedding for a large number of relatives and friends was held at the bride's home, September 2nd, 1914, with Rev. J. A. Connell, pastor of Rawdon Circuit, officiating.

Mrs. Sharpe had one sister, Alice, deceased, and one sister, Mabel (Mrs. Ray Armstrong, Toronto) was unable to be in attendance. The rest of her family were present.

Mr. Sharpe has a brother and sister deceased, James and Jessie, the other members of his family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe have two children, Burton and Ruth, and two grandchildren, Carol and Jean.

MANY CARDS, GIFTS

The honored couple received a large array of congratulatory cards, individual gifts. The brothers and sisters presented them with an electric floor lamp, and their own family gave them a floor set.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sharpe and Miss Ruth Sharpe.

The guests in attendance were: Mrs. Hugh Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnston of Stirling; Mrs. Frank Johnson, Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Will Snarr, Hoards; Mrs. James Sharp, Ridge Road and Mr. and Mrs. George Watson, Wellmans.

A short program of music and singing during the evening was enjoyed by all.

Hong Kong is "End of Tour" For British Laborites

Former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee (left) and Aneurin Bevan are shown detraining at Kowloon station, Hong Kong, after an 18-day tour of Red China, which included a stop-over in Moscow en route. While visiting Mao Tse-tung, Attlee said the Chinese Communist leader asked him to campaign for a new American foreign policy. He, in turn, asked Mao to get the Russians to mend their ways. Neither one made any promises. Attlee led a Labor party delegation of nine to China with an aim, "to learn as much as I can about what conditions really are."—Central Press Canadian.

Police and Fire Departments May Be Amalgamated

TORONTO (CP)—Amalgamation of the police and fire departments of the 13 Toronto metropolitan area municipalities will be studied by a special committee to be chosen by the metropolitan executive committee.

Authorization for establishment of the committee—to include three city and three suburban area members of metropolitan council—will be required from council at a Sept. 15 meeting.

Metropolitan area chairman Fred Gardiner, to be the special committee's seventh member, said Tuesday amalgamation of the police forces could be accomplished with very little administrative difficulty but substantial expenditures would be required to bring suburban fire departments up to city standards.

DIES WITH MASTER

KRISTIANSUND, Norway (CP) A dog barked for five hours to attract attention after his 10-year-old mistress fell to her death over a cliff—then jumped over just as help arrived and killed himself not far from her body. The girl, Margit Ugstad, had lost her way in a mist. She fell 500 feet to her death.

Just didn't have the technical knowhow to catch them. Instead of going far seaward after them, they waited until the schools came closer to shore and were caught in anchored gill nets.

Now, the province is preparing to exploit the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Nova Scotia waters. Gill netting and otter trawling led by British fishermen experienced in the rich North sea herring fisheries.

The financial agreement was signed with a Halifax company backed by foreign interests, chiefly British and American.

Mr. Dauphinee didn't mention the value of the industry in his announcement, but it was understood that it would start as a $1,000,000 project. The trawlers and their crews will come from England and will eventually be replaced by Nova Scotians.

New Herring Fishery to Boost Nova Scotia Fishing Industry

By KINGSLEY BROWN, Jr.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—Nova Scotia's chief industry promoter is in the tombstone business, but there's nothing unhealthy about his plan for establishing small industries on primary resources to bolster the province's economy.

Trade and Industry Minister Wilfred T. Dauphinee, in private life a quarrier who sells a lot of polished granite for gravestones, has been responsible for setting up quite a few industries since the war.

His latest was in signing a financial agreement with a newly formed company which will give the province's herring fishery its biggest boost in history.

It is difficult to imagine that a fishing province like Nova Scotia is on the threshold of the most extensive production of its herring fisheries after being in the business for a couple of hundred years.

BRITISH CREWS

But the fish have been there all the time. Nova Scotia fishermen just didn't have the technical know-how to catch them. Instead of going far seaward after them, they waited until the schools came closer to shore and were caught in anchored gill nets.

I hurry up started to run home on account of it suddinly being later than I expected, and I met pop getting off the bus in a hurry himself, and I said G, pop, you're late.

I'd say the same about you, but I hate making unoriginal remarks, pop said.

And we both kept on quick walking home, pop saying, If I had only taken advantage of modern science by raising my arm high enuqh to look at my expensively accurate wrist watch, I would of started for home half an hour sooner, but I have no legitimate excuse to oil my creeking conscience.

G, neither have I, pop, I said. If I had only taken advantage of the invention of tongues by asking some man what time it was by his wrist watch, I'd be home by this time, I said, and pop said, Your mother is going to scold us, and quite rightfully, but since it is nobody's fault but our own, the best thing we can do is bow our heads in gilty silence till the storm blows over.

And we went in the house, and ma said, Well here you are at last, both of you, marching in like an undefeated army for land sakes.

Us not saying anything, and ma said, Honest to goodness, you're just alike, time is no object as far as you are concerned. But no matter what I say, you'll just stick together like berds of a feather, so I'm just going to fool you by saying my breth and not saying another word, she said.

WATER SUFFOCATES FISH

BALTIMORE (AP) —Suffocation apparently caused the death of thousands of fish found floating on the surface of the Chesapeake bay last weekend, marine experts Dr. Paul McKee, director of the Maryland water pollution control commission, said engineers who took water samples reported that a welling up of lower levels of water containing little oxygen had caused the fish to suffocate.

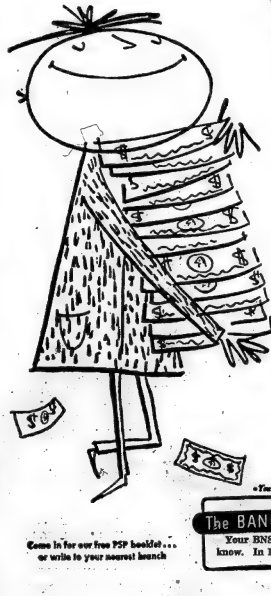
RELIEF PROMISED
For Arthritic and Rheumatic Pain
New relief without pills by greaseless, odourless, stainless cream.
Toronto, Ont. (Special)—Discovery of an entirely new method of relieving pain has been announced here. Science has now developed a cream that acts in a new way to bring relief from arthritic, rheumatic and muscular aches and pains. Sold under the brand name "InfraRUB," this new odourless and greaseless cream relieves these pains without the need of pills and other internal medicines.
InfraRUB does not merely set up a surface irritation but penetrates the "skin barrier"—goes to work to relieve pain deep down in muscles and joints. The bloodstream carries the soothing medication right to the seat of trouble where it actually helps drive away pain—causing congestion and pressure.
Another feature of InfraRUB that appeals to so many people is its ease of application. No long and painful rubbing is necessary as InfraRUB penetrates in a few seconds and vanishes with a moment's light massage.
InfraRUB leaves no oily film or pungent objectionable odour on the skin. Users find they are able to put on clothing in complete safety immediately after application.
Written medical reports on the success of this new help for patients suffering from rheumatic and arthritic pains and general muscular aches and pains have been prepared, based on hundreds of cases in British and French hospitals. InfraRUB users claim almost immediate relief from rheumatic and arthritic pains, sore muscles and joints.
Now for the first time, InfraRUB can be obtained without a prescription from your local drug store for only $1.20. InfraRUB is guaranteed to give hours of comforting relief from arthritic, rheumatic and muscular aches and pains or your money refunded in full.

"I'm the fellow who couldn't save a nickel..."


"My bank book was flatter than a sliced dime. I couldn't go anywhere, do anything, or buy much that took a lot of cash."
"Then I came upon a PSP booklet, on the counter at The Bank of Nova Scotia. It looked good. Had a word about it with folk at the Bank. PSP turned out to be just the kind of plan that might do a little miracle for my wife and me."
"What I like about PSP is that it forces me to save. I signed a contract pledging myself to put a small monthly instalment into my PSP account. I'm not going to touch that PSP money. It's there to pile up for 50 months until I reach the savings-goal I've chosen."
"I can get the money anytime, but what's keeping me sold on the PSP rules is the guarantee that if I were to die suddenly—I'm not planning on it, mind you—my wife would get the full amount of my savings-goal. Even if I had only put in a fraction of it. She'd get everything it would have saved at the end of 50 months."
"It's the most painless way to save—and get interest—I know of. You should see my bank book now."

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

PETES TONIGHT

Whatever the faults, and they are not too many, about like those of the average guy, of Batas manager Jack Carson may be, it cannot be said about the sorrel-top mentor that he won't fight for his rights and those of his team. And the tougher the going, the harder he fights.

Jack backs up from none when it comes to a battle of the committee room, and to his lasting credit, it must be said that he has a definite sense of fair play, demands it of his team and management, and expects it from others.

You won't find many shreds of wool hovering in the vicinity of the Carsonian optics, despite the fact that on not a few occasions, opposition mentors have tried to drape his blinkers with the famous figurative fabric.

Carson has never been accused of being the shaggy-dog type and he does not intend to view his baseball dealings through a screen of wool gatherings.

He was "just plain mad" when the Peterborough Petes failed to show up here last week with the grandstand more than comfortably filled with fans and Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings, here as an added attraction. And he was "just as plain mad" when he finally contacted the Petes management anent the affair nor did his ardor cool while in conversation with the OBA brass.

Belleville fandom has treated Carson, his Batas and the management as a whole in fine sportsmanlike fashion this season. In fact the Carson-Guyer crew easily took the box-office championship from the rest of the pack, and won it going away. Little wonder then that Carson was incensed with hundreds of fans clamoring for action against a team that failed to put in an appearance.

Earlier in the season Carson promised an OBA playoff series with the Petes. That was after the "Shylocks" of the rest of the loop demanded and got their pound of transportation flesh. Arrangements were completed for the series to start last week-end and the Petes, due, they claimed, to misunderstanding regarding transportation, failed to put in an appearance.

Carson sizzled the phone wires between here and Peterborough and St. Catharines where the OBA secretary resides. He demanded a $100 guarantee from the Petes to protect a local fandom. The Petes contacted the OBA and wanted to whittle the guarantee to $50 and although there was fire in the Carson eye there was no smoke sale and the price remained as is. In any event the Petes agreed to forward the guarantee and they will be here tonight.

And the dynamic Batas manager demanded that the Petes send a fully representative team. He refused point-blank to field a squad if the Littlock laddies sent down a skeleton team of nine men and a mascot.

So there you have it. We do not know who Coach Geyer will send to the mound, but in all likihood it will be Art Wright. The squad has had plenty of rest so it should be in fine fettle for tonight's tilt. The second game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for Peterborough tomorrow night and the third here Saturday.

The clipping Whip will have his hands full with the flipping Whip but there could be a slip twixt the Nip and the Whip, and that means plenty of excitement.

Those economy-size rasslers, the midgets, Ivan the Terrible and Sky-Low-Low will oppose Tito Infante and Peewee Gerard in a jolly old pint-size tag team match and these grunt of the mats will provide their usual hilarious but clever entertainment. Then there is Togo the Great's 1(?) brother, Toah, who will clash hisses with Pat Flanagan's drop kicks in the opener, and that should be a good appetizer for the faithful.

MVP OF THE BLUEBIRDS

That man has done it again. Paul Mercier, b'gar, who already is getting his tonsils in practice for the remote-control support of his beloved Montreal Canadiens, has again proved his interest and appreciation of sport. M'sieu Paul awarded a fine trophy to the most valuable player of his Bluebirds junior "A" softball laddybucks, and by unanimous vote of the club, the bauble went to Bobby Green. Bobby earned it. He came through with a fine pitching effort and his batting average for the season was .328, not bad in any man's club.

MAY BE IT

The handwriting may be on the wall for the Stewart Warner softball squad tonight, or they could even their series with Bob Temple's Bobcats at CNR Recreation Park at three-all, if they came through with the necessary victory. The series stands at 3-3 for the Bobcats and they can tuck it away with a victory tonight. However the S-W's are determined to extend the series, so there should be quite a tussle getting under way at 6.15 of the clock.

HE'S GOOD COMPANY

LONDON (AP)—A horse whose owner says the animal has no chance whatever of winning will run in the classic St. Leger at Doncaster Saturday.

The horse is named Icarian. Owner Claude W. Bell also has entered another colt, Alpenhorn, trained as a fair outsider. But Alpenhorn gets lonesome without his stablemate, so, Bell told reporters, "I am running Icarian to keep him company."

The bookmakers agree with Bell's assessment of Icarian's ability. They made him a 200 to 1 shot at an odds call over Monday night. Alpenhorn was 33 to 1.

Big Battle Set for Sunday In Indians' Cleveland Wigwam; Giants Add Half-Game to Lead

By BEN FELEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion New York Yankees go west today, flaring miracles, they will be ex-champs by the time they get home.

Not since the last century has a band of Yankees headed into Indian territory with such a faint chance of survival.

The Yankees play 11 of their remaining 31 games on this tour of Baltimore, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Philadelphia. They now trail Cleveland by 4½ league.

The big battle is set for Sunday when the Yankees reach Cleveland for a doubleheader.

The Yankees can't be eliminated positively until after that engagement.

A GAMBLE

Manager Stengel is gambling right at the start with Tommy Byrne holding the ballcoat. A wild man in his previous stints in the majors, Byrne was bought from Seattle last week in a desperation move. Tonight marks his first start.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee Braves head east in a lighting foray after the National League title.

The best road club in either league, the Braves opened their 13 game tour in Pittsburgh trailing the league leading New York Giants by 4½ games with 19 to play.

The trip includes Friday and Saturday games against the Brooklyn Dodgers, who are in third place, and a three-game set next week in the Polo Grounds starting Tuesday night.

The Braves have won 42 games away from home while losing 21. In Milwaukee their record is 39-31. They stand 12-8 against the Dodgers so far and 10-9 over the Giants.

The Giants picked up an important half game Tuesday night in an 11-inning thriller at Philadelphia where they defeated the Phillies 3-1.

Only one other game was played in the majors, Washington edged Philadelphia 5-4.

GAVE SIX HITS

Monte Irvin followed two walks with a double to the right field fence for two New York runs in the 11th. Davey Williams walked to start the inning and moved to second on a sacrifice. Curt Simmons struck out both batter Eric Roden and walked Willie Mays intentionally, bringing up Irvin.

The Giants had scored a run in the second and Granny Hamner tied it with a 13th homer in the eighth. Simmons gave up only six hits in losing. Ruben Gomez, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm when the Phillies loaded the bases in the 11th, picked up his 11th victory.

The Giants are back home today for a two-game series with Chicago, followed by two with the Cincinnati and St. Louis before the Milwaukee invasion.

The Dodgers, at home for 13 of their remaining 17 games, entertain St. Louis tonight in the first of two games. Brooklyn's fading hopes shattered by the double loss to Pittsburgh on Labor Day, rest in getting close enough to the top in the next two weeks to be able to cash in on the three-game set with the Giants in the final week.

Milwaukee may well turn that "crucial" series into just three more games.

Johnny Mize, then first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals, banged out three homers in one game for the fourth time in his career 13 years ago today at St. Louis. But Pittsburgh Pirates won the game 16-14. Mize wound up that 1940 season with 43 homers and a batting average of .314.

Ted Williams Headed For Batting Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams probably will win the American League batting championship this season, despite his injury-interrupted start and the prospect that he'll bat fewer than 400 times.

Williams, seeking his fifth title, currently is hitting .358 after 321 at-bats. He is well ahead of Cleveland's Bobby Avila, who at .337 is the league leader on the basis of 330 at bats.

Always a strong September hitter, the Boston Red Sox' slugger is surging at a .419 pace this month with 13 hits in 31 trips. And in each of the years he finished on top—1941, 1942, 1947 and 1948—Williams wound up with a rush in the season's final month.

Mayor Beats Horse in Race

BROOKS, Alta. (CP) — Mayor Harry Veiner of Medicine Hat, Alta., scored a narrow win over a thoroughbred "cutting" horse in a 25-yard race at the Brooks sports day program Monday.

When Mayor Veiner, a former athlete who has scored wins in foot races against other mayors, found he was opposed by the well known pony, Stampeder, owned by Cliff Sewall, the mayor limited the race to 25 yards.

Cutting ponies, used for detaching animals from the main herd at branding time, are noted for their speed at short distances.

What Caused the Bums' Downfall? Flatbush Faithful Sad, But Curious

By Ed Corrigan

BROOKLYN (AP)—Now that the Brooklyn Dodgers have all but given up any hope of winning the National League pennant, the time has come to ask two questions:

1. What caused the downfall of a club that virtually was conceded the flag before the start of the season?

2. What's in store for rookie manager Walt Alston?

The answer to the first, if you care to listen to those closest to the club, is a combination of key injuries and players not living up to expectations.

To the second: No one knows, not even president Walter O'Malley.

"There is a ready explanation of why the Dodgers are in third place and not first place," O'Malley said. "And you cannot blame the manager for it. He is not responsible for Roy Campanella's hand injury; for Carl Furillo's slump; for the loss of Johnny Podres for six weeks; for Carl Erskine's failure to live up to 1953; for the lack of respectable pitching from Don Newcombe, and for Preacher Roe's almost total ineffectiveness."

It was just a month ago that O'Malley voiced a complete vote of confidence in Alston. Now he declines to repeat it.

Will Alston be retained next year?

"We are not making any announcement about it until our usual time," answered O'Malley. "We will go into it after the season is over. This certainly is no time to discuss the matter."

As for the former Montreal pilot, who sends his club against St. Louis Cardinals tonight trailing by 3½ games with just 17 left to play, he admits it will take a miracle to win.

Rumor Says Winnie Starts Big Swim, Chadwick, Bell Held Up by Weather

YOUNGSTOWN, N. Y. (CP)—A Swimmer Florence Chadwick cast an anxious eye over Lake Ontario this morning, with the other fixed on the $10,000 swimming bug the Canadian National Exhibition. If she makes the 32-mile swim from this town on the Niagara river mouth to Toronto.

Bad weather Tuesday night again forced postponement of the attempt, but there were indications early today that a Canadian rival might have jumped the gun on her.

Winnie Roach Leussler of St. Thomas, Ont., Canada's first conqueror of the English channel, was rumored to have started the swim to Toronto. The Canadian swimmer isn't in line for the $10,000 prize, however, unless the CNE offered it only to Miss Chadwick.

TIME RUNNING SHORT

Early today Charlie Greco, a spokesman for the CNE at Toronto, said: "Something's afoot on the (Niagara) river. We think Mrs. Leussler has started her swim."

Another Canadian challenger to Miss Chadwick's record—Marilyn Bell of Toronto, appeared like her American rival to be waiting for a break in the weather. Both Canadian girls have been offered smaller prizes by Toronto businessmen if they make the swim.

Miss Chadwick, who has taken a cool view of the whole thing, has said that if the girls want a contest they should be with her next year when she will attempt the Juan de Fuca straits between Vancouver Island and Washington state.

That, she says, is the "Mount Everest of channel swims."

Time is running short for the California swimmer.

The exhibition ends Saturday, and Lake Ontario's bad weather has twice forced Miss Chadwick to postpone her attempt.

MAY START IN DAY

The first was Monday night when stiff winds and threatening thunder squalls made the verdict unpractical.

And Tuesday night the lake was again whipped into white-capped frenzy by 35-mile-an-hour winds.

"She'll start in the water though," Vic Christie, Miss Chadwick's manager said. "She must take chop for four or five hours, but we were afraid the lake wouldn't calm down enough for the remainder of the swim."

Christie said Miss Chadwick had abandoned her plan to start her swim at night.

"We'll start any time of the day or night that the weather is right."

Meanwhile, the Lake Ontario relay swim, which got early Wednesday by rough water, will be held over a five-mile course at the Canadian National Exhibition waterfront beginning Thursday morning, CNE officials announced.

The teams will cover 30 miles around the course, instead of the planned 32 miles from Niagara Youngstown to Toronto.

Prize money will remain the same—$10,000 for the winning team and $10,000 to be split up among the others.

Six teams were entered for the event. Starting time Thursday will be 7 a.m.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YOR K(AP)—The decision of Frank Stranahan, golden boy of amateur golf, to turn professional must have something to do with confidence and eyebrow raising throughout the golfing world.

Why would a young man, with unlimited wealth behind him, who apparently set a care in the world suddenly forsake the pleasant and comfortable life of the amateur sportsman in favor of the professional's unending quest of cutting money? Expenses run the purses in the dog-eat-dog competition probably wouldn't cut a big enough hole in the spark plug heir in caddy fees.

In the past Stranahan has been the flew to Brazil, Frank said that he long had wished to play the game on their terms, with that he didn't consider it fair that he should compete with a group of fellow amateurs were restricted in that respect. If the latter were the competing force behind the young man's strange move, and we're not exactly saying it was, then it took a long time to take hold.

A more logical explanation might be that the two-time British amateur champion simply wearied of shelling out $1,000 or so of each year for the privilege of indulging his hobby. As a professional he presumably will be entitled to put down the sum as legitimate operating expense when he reaches for a tax form. He's no longer an unemployed playboy.

For a decade or so the pros have liked having Frankie around their money tournaments. He added a certain tone, and there wasn't any danger of him dipping into the till for a cut. Once he was a silver plated cup, or maybe a medal.

There will be a difference now. The first thing the rich boy will notice when he shoots for some big money after his six-month intermission is that he will be a slight chill in the air. He will discover that he has become a menace to a set of men who make their living by playing golf. It can't be any other way, no matter how pleasant a fellow Frank has been all these years.

Those who have known Frank along the golfing trail will bow before his solved a nagging problem. They will wish him luck, too, and he will need it.

Woodbine Track

TORONTO (CP)—Jim Fair's exceptional gelding Fairator Tuesday scored his third successive triumph and his fifth over the Arvilla Plate at Woodbine Park.

He skipped over the six furlongs in 1:11 2-5 as he whipped Senator Jim, Indifferent and six other fillies. There hasn't been an Ontario two-year-old to run six furlongs so swiftly as Canadian Fair was dominating the Canadian racing scene.

World's Fair, winner of the feature race, ran six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 as he beat Jewel Case and Dixie Vixen in a photo finish. World's Fair is a four-year-old.

Royals, Wings Battle For Runner-Up Spot

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the champion Toronto Maple Leafs sit back and look on, there's a real battle left to sort out the playoff teams in the International League's last week.

The race wrapped things up nicely Labor Day, and finish out the season without meeting any of the other four teams which are fighting for playoff berths.

Montreal and Rochester will be in the post-season activity for sure, but they still have to settle second and third place. Montreal moved a game and a half ahead Tuesday night with an 8-5 triumph over the Red Wings.

The real fight is for the fourth playoff spot with Havana currently holding a 1½-game edge over Syracuse. Cuba, the Cubans had to battle 13 innings at Richmond Tuesday night but when they finally won, they won it big. The score was 7-2, each five runs coming in the 13th inning after the Cubans had tied the score at 2-2 in the sixth.

LEAFS DOWN OTTAWA

Syracuse, meanwhile, bowed to Buffalo 5-2 as rookie southpaw Bill Short won his 10th and allowed only six hits. He had a shutout going until the ninth.

Larry (Jet) Jackson, a rookie righthander who had won 12 games for Rochester, couldn't get by the third inning against the Royals, and was chased as Montreal scored five times. Bill Harris came on in the ninth as Rochester rallied for two runs but the decision went to Glenn Cox, his 13th victory.

Toronto shaded the last-place Ottawa Athletics 4-3 as Mike Gollat's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning drove in the lead the score in the eighth on a home run by Bill Stewart. Elston Howard of the Leafs celebrated his selection as the league's most valuable player by banging out three singles in five times up.

Tuna Tourney Opens Today; Seven Teams In

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP)—The international tuna tournament, one of the world's top fishing events, opens today with seven teams in the running.

The weather promises to be good, a far cry from the opening last year when a hurricane spoiled the fishing.

A Mexican team is back to defend the title it won last year against squads from Argentina, Cuba, France, the United States, Venezuela and the British Empire.

The Empire squad has members from four countries. From Bermuda comes captain Cecil Rowbray of Flatts and E. T. (Joe) Lindley.

Major Cyril H. Frisby is from Guildford, Surrey, England, and three Canadians, Loran E. Baker, Halifax, Don Hanley, Toronto and Douglas Mills, Montreal, round out the team.

The United States team received a setback last before leaving for Nova Scotia when their senior member, Fred W. Russell, Jr., of Houston, Tex., was forced to drop out because of illness.

Komets Sign Simcoe Player

STRATFORD (CP)—Pat Wilson, coach of the Fort Wayne Komets of the International Hockey League, said Tuesday Harold Schooley, formerly with Simcoe Gunners of the Ontario Hockey League and Paisley in the Scottish Hockey League, will play this year with Fort Wayne.

Wilson also announced plans for an exhibition tour through northern Ontario, to include Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Elston Howard Named MVP In International

MONTREAL (CP)—Elston Howard, catcher with the Toronto Maple Leafs, has been voted the International Baseball League's most valuable player.

The announcement was made Tuesday through league headquarters by Al C. Weber of the Rochester Times-Union, president of the League's Baseball Writers' Association.

A 25-year-old Negro, Howard was the first choice on 12 out of 21 writers and received a total of 157 points out of a possible 168.

Howard currently leads the loop in triples with 15. His .333 batting average and 101 runs batted in place him in the runner-up slot in both these departments.

Outfielder Bill Virdon of Rochester Red Wings pulled a total of 137 points for second place in the running while Montreal Royals' Rocky Nelson took third with 134.

Will Play Season With Argonauts

TORONTO (CP) — Tackle John Prechek, the 10th man on Toronto Argonauts' import list, will play with Argos for one season and then hopes to head back to Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Argonauts, who signed the 220-pound star shortly before Monday's Big Four union game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats, said they have an agreement with Roughrider coach Frank Filchock that Prechek will only be here for the 1954 season.

Prechek, former all-star with the University of Washington, was with Saskatchewan for the 1952 season and part of 1953.

Great Pacer Is Buried In Track Infield

NEW YORK (CP)—Prince Adios, the great pacer who dropped dead after finishing second in a stake race last Friday night, has been buried in the infield of Roosevelt Raceway at the request of his trainer-driver, Clint Hodgins of Clandeboye, Ont.

Prince Adios, six-year-old pacer with lifetime earnings of $122,685, had won some of his biggest purses at the track including the $25,000 national pacing derby last July.

He dropped dead shortly after the finish of the $15,000 Harvest Moon Pace and was buried Saturday afternoon, the first horse ever to be interred at the track.

Clint Hodgins bought the pacer for his brother, Grant, three years ago from Harry Warner of the movie family for $6,500. Grant, an asthma sufferer since childhood, had never seen Prince Adios race.

Police Arrest Channel Swimmer

CALAIS, France (AP)—French police Tuesday night took into custody Edward James May, 46-year-old British engineer, and tried to dissuade him from making a second unescorted attempt to swim the English Channel. They said the swim without an escorting boat was too dangerous.

Calais police telephoned the Interior ministry in Paris for instructions. There were the police try to talk him out of his proposed swim and to enlist the aid of the British consul.

Aside from that,—nothing can be done, ministry officials said.

"We can't prevent a person from committing suicide as long as he hurts nobody else," he said.

'Pop' Warner, Famous Coach, Dies at 83

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Glenn Scobey (Pop) Warner of football coaching fame died Tuesday. He was 83.

Ill for months with throat cancer, Warner became unconscious 12 hours before his death.

Warner's coaching career spanned parts of two centuries—borne years entering the First World War.

As guard and captain of the 1893 Cornell team, he also served as an unpaid coach of the club. At that time he was 22 years old, a big, rugged youngster, who was born in Springville, N.Y., April 5, 1871, but reared on a ranch, near Wichita Falls, Tex.

His modest beginning in Cornell athletics was the springboard that led him to the top of the coaching ranks.

While he never claimed to have originated the single wing for which he became famous, there is no doubt that he Warner improved and made use of single wing formations such as no other coach before or after.

Upon graduation from Cornell in 1894, Warner was admitted to the bar of New York state. He briefly hung up his shingle at Buffalo, N.Y., but in the 1895 season found the 24-year-old athlete employed as football coach at Iowa State College. In that season he switched over to the University of Georgia, where he ran off a series of football coach.

Everywhere he went, he produced players of all-America caliber, but possibly the best known of all was Indian Jim Thorpe of Carlisle. Coaching track, baseball and other sports, Warner developed Thorpe as the magnificent star of the Olympic Games and Carlisle's football team. # Canadian Yacht Leads Big Race

TORONTO (CP) — The Royal Canadian Yacht Club's Bibla took the lead Tuesday in the North American six-metre yacht championship races.

Bibla, sailed by Jim Craig and Denbeigh Taylor, crossed the finish line ahead of 16 other yachts which finished the course despite rough seas and a 30-mile-an-hour west wind. Fifteen boats started the race.

Jerry Castle's Stork from Rochester came in about two minutes behind Bibla.

Second and third races will be held today and Thursday.

Vince Mazza Breaks Thumb

HAMILTON (CP)—Vince Mazza, Hamilton Tiger-Cats' all-star tackle may be on the sidelines when Tiger-Cats meet Montreal Alouettes in a Big Four Football Union game here Saturday.

The 245-pound lineman suffered a broken thumb in Monday's game against Toronto Argonauts, it was learned Tuesday night.

U.S. NAVY STARS IN HISTORY'S GREATEST SEA-LIFT

Chaplain Jr.(Lieut.) Francis J. Fitzpatrick, USN, acts as interpreter here for Vietnamese refugees evacuated by the U.S. navy from Communist Haiphong to Saigon, Indo-China, in the world's greatest humanitarian sealift. Some 50,000 Vietnamese who want no part of communism are being evacuated by the USS Ballfield, one of the many vessels taking part in the gigantic operation. — Central Press Canadian.

PRELUDE TO HOME-COMING

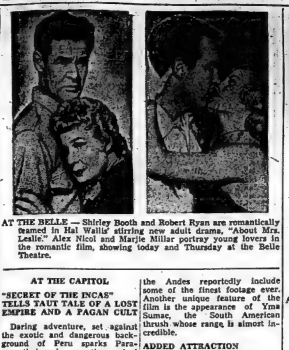
A prelude to their homecoming shows men of the U.S. second division marching past the reviewing stand in final parade while planes roar overhead, leaving long streaks across the Korean sky. General John E. Hull, supreme Allied commander in Korea, announced that the famed "Indian Head" division would return home to the U.S. after four years of service in Korea.—Central Press Canadian.



AT THE BELLE — Shirley Booth and Robert Ryan are romantically teamed in Hal Wallis' stirring new adult drama, "About Mrs. Leslie." Alex Nicol and Marjie Millar portray young lovers in the romantic film, showing today and Thursday at the Belle Theatre.

AT THE CAPITOL

"SECRET OF THE INCAS" TELLS TAUT TALE OF A LOST EMPIRE AND A FAGAN CULT

Daring adventure, set against the exotic and dangerous background of Peru sparks Paramount's brand new action-packed Technicolor drama, "Secret of the Incas," which opens Thursday at the Capitol Theatre for its first showing. Starring a top-notch cast headed by Charlton Heston, Robert Young, Nicole Maurey and Thomas Mitchell and presenting the Peruvian singing sensation Yma Sumac, the Mel Epstein-produced film is chock-full of all sorts of interesting happenings.

The story concerns a young adventurer, Heston, who has vowed to make a million dollars by hook or by crook. The manner in which he chooses to live in South America involves hustling for as much money as he can while spending as little of it as possible. However, what he has in the back of his mind is the appropriation of a multi-million dollar gem-encrusted image that has been lost from civilization for centuries.

The opportunity to acquire this valuable treasure comes about when Nicole Maurey, a beautiful adventuress, enlists his aid to get herself into the States. By using her for bait he manages to get hold of a private airplane that he needs to accomplish his task. The only thing standing in his way is Thomas Mitchell, a cutthroat conman who also has his avaricious eye on the priceless treasure.

Arriving at the scene of the diggings where the hidden trove has been sequestered, Heston is met by Robert Young, leader of an archaelogical expedition seeking the same treasure but for a different reason. It is at this point that the intrigue explodes into a holocaust of hate and violence, with all the opposing interests attempting to gain control of the treasure.

Just as electrifying as the excitement engendered in "Secret of the Incas" is the startling beauty of the Peruvian settings. Brilliantly photographed in color by Technicolor, these scenes of the Andes reportedly include some of the finest footage ever. Another unique feature of the film is the appearance of Yma Sumac, the South American songstress whose range is almost incredible.

ADDED ATTRACTION
"HERE COME THE GIRLS"

A boisterous, entertainment treat, lavishly decorated with some of the most beautiful girls ever to appear before the Technicolor cameras, plus songs and dances and a plot that bounces its merry way across the screen in such a manner that it is sure to have audiences next Thursday when Paramount's "Here Come The Girls" starring Bob Hope, Tony Martin, Arlene Dahl, Rosemary Clooney.

The film's large supporting cast is headed by such outstanding performers as William Demarest, Robert Strauss, Millard Mitchell, Fred Clark and the inimitable Four Step Brothers.

GROCER MISSING

TORONTO (CP)—Police were on the lookout today for a grocer who left his store Tuesday with $700 and has not been seen since. Samuel Graziano, 34, was to have gone to a market on business but officers said he never got there.

AT THE McCARTHY — Rock Hudson and Jane Wyman become the screen's most exciting new romantic team in Universal-International's "Magnificent Obsession", now playing at the McCarthy Theatre. Barbara Rush is also starred in this Technicolor production of the celebrated love story by Lloyd C. Douglas, author of "The Robe". Ross Hunter produced "Magnificent Obsession."

SPORT IN BRIEF

30TH DEATH

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP)—The 19th death in the Isle of Man Tourist Trophy races since the Second World War was recorded Tuesday when a British racing motor cyclist was killed in the junior Manx Grand Prix race.

Roger Buller, a 36-year-old mechanic, crashed at a corner during the fourth lap of the six-lap, 226 miles race. He was riding a British A. J. S. machine.

The race is for amateur riders. Works machines were not allowed to enter.

Derek Zanett of the Isle of Man, riding an A.J.S., roared to victory at a record speed of 86.33 miles an hour.

RUNNER GIVEN ASYLUM

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Jan Mieczinkowski, a member of the Polish team during last month's European Games, was granted political asylum in the United States after the Games, the Swiss government announced Tuesday.

Mieczinkowski ran in the Games' 10,000-meters Aug. 25, but failed to finish.

A government communique said he "used his presence in Switzerland for a defection, prepared in advance, by continuing his journey to the United States, where he has relatives. He has already left Switzerland."

The U.S. embassy in Bern gave him a special visa as a political refugee.

BRINGS INJURED MAN IN

TORONTO (CP)—An RCAF Dakota aircraft from the Trenton air force station arrived here Tuesday night with an injured forest worker from Kapuskasing.

The injured man, Y. Bellehumeur, an employee of a forestry service firm at Hearst, is in hospital with severe internal injuries and multiple fractures.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Milkman

Let nobody talk you into the notion that it pays to open with a hand that lacks true requirements. Masters boast that they do it in championship play despite their losses as a result.

From the last winter nationals you see here deal number three.

NORTH
♠7 5 4
♥Q 10 9 6
♦A 3
♣K 8 3 2

WEST
♠3 2
♥K 2
♦K J 9 8 2

♥8 7 3
♦10 7 6
♣A

SOUTH
♠K Q 10
♥K J 4
♦Q 5 4
♣J 7 5 4

South was the dealer and only the other side was vulnerable. A close inspection would convince any player that no hand in this group has what it takes for a true opening.

There are several reasons why a light opening bid is bad for a pair. It opens the bidding for an opponent who might otherwise have passed. It spoils partnership confidence.

Nevertheless, no table in this contest passed it out. Some of the north players started it. Where north did not, east did. Anyway, the snowball started rolling. And where it stops nobody seems to know in such tough company.

As a result, the 36 tables reached 13 different contracts and 24 defeats. Only one-third of the tables made what they bid. This you understand, was in a match for masters exclusively.

One each in two or three diamonds made. Five of the eight in two spades came through. But of four in one no-trump, three died; of six in two no-trump, four fell; of six in two hearts, five flopped.

One each fell at one no-trump doubled, three no-trump, two hearts doubled, three clubs doubled, four diamonds doubled. Three in three clubs and two in four spades all took headers.

This one deal does not prove the danger of light openings. But a study of results of many championships would be convincing.

Do masters justify this one because 13 made it? Reminds me of Mose who bought potatoes and sold them at a loss. When reminded of it he said: "Sure. But look at the big business I'm doing."

C.N.R. Orders 127 New Diesels

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian National Railways has ordered 127 new diesel locomotives—19 of them for passenger lines—from five locomotive manufacturers, it was announced Tuesday.

Three Canadian companies—General Motors Diesel, Ltd., London, Ont.; Canadian Locomotive Co. Ltd., Kingston; and Montreal Locomotive Works—will build 106 of the diesels.

Believe Attack on Quemoy Prelude to Invasion

One of two American military officers who were killed on Quemoy Island, Lt.-Col. Frank W. Lynn, right, of Chicago, is seen with Chinese Nationalist General Chou on Formosa shortly before he was killed in shelling of island by Chinese Reds. The other American—stationed on Quemoy as an adviser—was identified as Lt.-Col. Alfred Medendorp of Grand Rapids, Mich. Big Communist shore guns bombarded Quemoy and two other Nationalist islands in the area—less than 15 miles from the Chinese mainland—with "thousands" of shells from Russian-made artillery pieces killing three all told, seriously injuring two others. With attack on Quemoy, many Nationalists believe that Communist invasion may come at any moment.—Central Press Canadian.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1954.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Intimate affairs look important now. Seek advice about your tasks if in doubt; don't take undue risks. You are clever, capable now and should come out on the right side of ledger.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Auspicious aspect for new, modern methods and equipment. Better gains from thorough and conscientious work. Romance, marriage, personal affairs are all favored now.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Most industry and business should be especially cautious now to counteract possible obstacles. Competitors, even close friends have their "angles" during this uncertain period. Be diplomatic; don't argue.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — No time now to ride high or act in a thoughtless manner. Handle things in a proper manner. Handle with a genial spirit to come through successfully. Fine opportunity here to solidify your position. Promote a charitable attitude.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Stimulating rays for financial and professional matters. Apply talents where best suited and don't take things for granted. Your agility of mind should bring gains.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—If faced with problems, remain calm and take things in stride. Use your assets—especially your intuition. Bright outlook in p.m. for personal affairs.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Stars —indicate the possibility of surprise events which could upset well-laid plans. Be ready for any emergency. Show confidence in yourself and others will be ready to co-operate.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—A benefic, encouraging outlook. A day for achievement and progress, for making plans for the future. New projects, if well understood, should advance.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—A day for monetary gains, achievement in your specific line of endeavor. Sales, real estate, sound stock investments look quite rosy now. Personal affairs, romance also favored.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—A generous, profitable day for you who are willing to work conscientiously. Financial, property and business activities can improve with proper management. A pleasant for romance, home, family.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Don't permit needless worry or strain to change your course or right thinking. Don't be smug or careless. Such traits can react unfavorably when least expected.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Businessmen, writers, bookkeepers, secretaries, miners, builders, all tradesmen can move forward now. Be responsible, trustworthy and others will have faith in you. Consider others' problems.

YOU BORN TODAY are steady, honorable, usually conscientious in your work and can be depended upon in almost any circumstance. You seldom do anything until you have thought it over thoroughly. You are artistic, musical and have more talent than you may realize; are extremely devout. You may be overcritical at times but not in the sense that you mean to harm anyone. You could excel as writer, nurse, doctor, designer, public speaker; also in science, medicine. Take things easier than you usually do and safeguard your health. You'll be happier, live longer.

Birthdate of: Armand Jean Duplessis, Cardinal Duc de Richelieu, Fr., ecclesiastic and statesman; Luigi Galvani, Ital. physiologist; Count Leon Tolstoy., writer, philosopher.

Burial Place Of Rabbi Judah Is Discovered

JERUSALEM (CP)—The Israeli Exploration Society announced Tuesday it has discovered the burial place of Rabbi Judah, who edited, revised and re-arranged the ancient Jewish oral law about 1,500 years ago.

His work laid the basis for centuries of Jewish scholarship in literature after the beginning of the Christian era.

The discovery was made by Israeli archeologists working at Beit Shearim, 10 miles from Christ's childhood home of Nazareth.

Beit Shearim served as a cultural and administrative centre for scattered Jewish communities after the unsuccessful Jewish uprising of Bar-Kochba in 122 a.d. following Roman Emperor Hadrian's proscription of Judaism.

So far the archeologists have not located the actual tomb of Rabbi Judah but they have found inscriptions indicating the tomb of his sons, Rabbi Simeon and Rabbi Gamaliel, along with those of several other rabbis.

Rabbi Judah lived from 135 to 217 a.d., took the oral or secret "law" contained in the books of Moses, and compiled it into the Mishnah. This served as the basis of a vast body of rabbinical literature in the following centuries.

Heavy Fines Are Assessed For Smuggling

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Three men were fined a total of $2,441.40 Tuesday on charges of possessing used United States cars smuggled into Canada and sold and distributed throughout the Niagara peninsula. They were convicted last week.

Fined were Armand Robitaille, 30, his brother, Marcel, 28, and Lionel Cote, 22. All are from Port Colborne.

Magistrate T. George Street said he was assessing high court costs because of the crown's expense of transporting more than 20—trial witnesses from Detroit, Windsor, Toronto, Ottawa and other centres.

Robitaille was ordered to pay a $1,100 fine and $468 costs; his brother $500 fine and $260 costs; and Cote $50 in fines and $62.40 costs.

Northport

NORTHPORT — Mr. Leslie Anderson, Toronto, was a holiday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mallett spent Sunday with their cousin Mrs. Earegey, Toronto. Elaine returned home with them after a two weeks' vacation at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Blakely, London, Mrs. S. Townsend, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. D. Haggerty, West Huntingdon, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hough. Misses Myrtle and Edith Hough, Syracuse, were Saturday guests at the same home.

Empire State Building Again Changes Hands

DETROIT (AP) — Col. Henry Crown, Chicago and New York real estate owner, today is in command of the world's tallest piece of real estate — the 102 - storey Empire, State building in New York.

Roger L. Stevens of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Alfred Glancy Jr., of Detroit said Tuesday they have sold their controlling interest to Crown, and only the formal closing of the deal remains.

The Michigan men and Ben Tobin of Hollywood Beach, Fla., headed a group that brought the world's tallest office building three years ago for $51,500,000. They did not disclose the sale price in the latest deal.

Chadwick Quits But 2 Canadians Battle High Seas

Winnie Leuszler Loses Boat But Starts Swim Over Again

TORONTO (CP) — Tom Park of Hamilton, 31-year-old winner of the Atlantic City 26-mile swim, brought the Canadian team across the second-lap mark nearly three-quarters of a mile ahead today in the 20-mile, $20,000 Canadian National Exhibition relay swim.

Park, second swimmer from the Canadian team, reached the 10-mile mark after three hours, 19 minutes and three seconds from the start—2.10.53 for the five miles—from the time the race of six four-man teams set out this morning. George Bevan, Winnipeg-born 21-year-old covered the first five miles for the Canadians in 2.08.10.

Ben Gazell of Toronto took over from Park at the 10-mile point.

The race, to cover a five-mile course six times, resulted when rough seas and unsettled weather conditions washed out the C. N. E.'s original plan of a relay swim the 32-miles from Youngstown, N. Y., to the waterfront here.

The six teams starting today each named four simmers, each of which will swim two miles twice. The course forms a rectangle in front of the CNE water front, going a mile out into the lake and 1½ miles along the shoreline.

One team, named the Philadelphians, was expected to go with three men—Roland Arnovitz, Philadelphia; Herb Simon; Belleville, N. J., and Don Campbell, Oreland, Pa.

Jerry Kerschner of Columbus, Ohio, originally named with the team, tried to swim the lake Wednesday and was pulled out after 14 miles. Another member named —Jimmy Meads of Detroit, Mich. —was planning to start the cross-the-lake swim late tonight.

The six starting swimmers hit the water together from the starting buoy. The temperature outside was 55 degrees, the water inside smooth and at 65 degrees.

It was expected the Winnipeg relay team would hit the finishing stage in about 13 hours, or around 9 p. m.

The teams, each given a name for identification purposes while swimming, sent the following swimmers off first: Philadelphia, Jerry Marine, 18, Ottawa; Philadelphia: Roland Arnovitz, 21, Philadelphia; Big Two Stars, Winnie Leuszler, 21, former captain of the University of Michigan swim team; Toronto: Bill Wentworth, 29, Boston; Canadian: George Bevan, 21, Toronto; Mimico: Jacques Lamarche, Mimico City.

The teams may send their swimmers in any order they wish during the race for top money of $10,000, second $6,000, third $3,000 and fourth of $2,000. Each man must swim at least twice during the 30-mile grind.

Other team members:

Buffalo—Steve Wozniak, 39, Buffalo; Charlie Grover, 29, Boston; Paul C. Maloney, 28, Buffalo.

Big Ten—David Anderson, 22, Minneapolis; Wally Jeffries, 22, Hemlock, Mich.; Jim Counsell, former captain of Michigan swim team captain; Bill Heusner, 20, Urbana, Ill., former captain of Northwestern University.

Toronto—Jeffrey Campbell, Fergus, Ont., 18-year-old who is the only female entrant; Hank Himming, 34, Toronto; John Jaremey, 34, Toronto.

Canadian—Cliff Lumsden, 23, Toronto; Tom Park, 31, Hamilton; Ben Gazell, Toronto.

Mimico—Bill Sadlo, Whitestone, N. Y., at 52 the oldest swimmer in the competition; Bill Lloyd, Mimico, N. J.; Jack Rosen, Toronto.

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto's swimming star, 17-year-old Marilyn Bell, was reported to have called off the waterfront of the Canadian National Exhibition at 1 p. m. today.

Although she was slowing down, she was keeping to a steady pace of 50 strokes a minute.

Toronto harbor police were standing by on the west end of Toronto Island, ready to guide Miss Bell inside the break-water to the CNE grounds. Flares were being fired from the ground to help her stay on course.

The captain of the accompanying boat said by radio that at one stage in the swim, Miss Bell, was three miles off course. She was back on course at 1 p. m.

An angry woman reporter "You quit and you fail all the kids," was held in front of her to encourage her to keep swimming.

Canadian swimmer Mrs. Winnie Leuszler, 29, of St. Thomas, Ont., was reported about 10 miles out from Youngstown. She made a second start at dawn today, after being forced to turn back Wednesday night when she became separated from her boat.

COOLER WATER

The water, earlier reported to be 62 degrees, by later stages of the swim was 58, either because of the drifting currents or because of the water being stirred up by waves.

Robert Saunders, president of the Canadian National Exhibition, said today he will recommend that the $10,000 first prize money never be paid to any swimmer completing the 32-mile grind. Previously, a reward had been promised by the CNE only to Florence Chadwick, United States star.

Toronto's Mayor Leslie Saunders announced today he is making arrangements for a civic reception for Marilyn Bell, whether she completes the swim or not.

California swimmer Florence Chadwick, the third woman attempting the feat, was pulled from the water early today when she became ill after completing about 15 miles of the swim.

Miss Chadwick later was reported resting after coming down with a virus infection and gastritis.

Miss Bell, 17, of Niagara Falls, who was accompanying Miss Chadwick in her boat, treated the swimmer and was reported to be in fine fettle.

A member of the crew of the launch Anna III, that carried Miss Chadwick to Toronto said:

"Florence could not ask to be taken from the water. It was her trainer, Vic Colella, who told her she'd better come up."

UNION LEADERS TO MEET LABOR MINISTER FRIDAY

Dislike Govt. Terms To End Rail Dispute

MONTREAL (CP)—The railway unions don't like the terms suggested by the government for arbitration of their dispute with the railways and they're going to ask Ivan Feiley to see Labor Minister Gregg about it.

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the 100-man general conference committee of the 14 unions which represent the country's 145,000 non-operating rail employees, announced the conference decision Wednesday following a meeting here.

He said the unions' negotiating committee agreed to arbitration in Ottawa three weeks ago only under government pressure, plans to study conference delegates views today. He declared that a telegram requesting a meeting Friday had been sent to Mr. Gregg.

WILL MEET UNIONS

In Ottawa the minister said he will meet the unions and indicated the railways, too, have objected to some of the government's proposals.

Mr. Gregg said "we'll go into any points that are necessary to iron out with either party."

Minister Lapointe Quebec said if the two sides don't agree with the cabinet's outline the arbitration setup can be changed.

"Our worries about the railway question are over," he added. "We are only waiting to hear what they want and we will try to put it through as expeditiously."

The cabinet's proposals were mailed to the Canadian Pacific and two smaller lines last week, as well as to the unions.

Mr. Gregg said he hopes differences over terms of reference for the arbitrator can be settled by about next Tuesday, three days in advance of the next cabinet meeting at which the arbitrator could be appointed.

Artificial Hibernation New Way To Avoid Shock After Operations

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The patient's temperature dropped to 70 degrees.

An elderly woman, her life hanging by a thread because of a heart ailment, suffered acute gall bladder attack the following day which required an immediate operation.

Ordinarily, the shock of such surgery or the mere administration of an anaesthetic, could kill a person in such a condition.

But thanks to a new medical technique just getting its first big test here, the woman lived and the patient was placed in a state of artificial hibernation and the operation was performed successfully.

No anaesthetic was given, but the woman remembered suffering no pain and there was no surgical shock to combat later.

Dr. Edgar F. Berman, Baltimore surgeon, described the technique in an address and interview at the annual congress of the United States and Canadian sections of the International College of Surgeons.

The artificial hibernation state is a refinement of the "frozen man" technique developed more than two decades ago. It combines ice packs that lower body temperature with a new drug that works on the brain to suppress feeling.

Artificial hibernation is not a concept of combatting stress and disease. Instead of fighting disease with an antagonistic outpouring of chemical secretions, the body passively accepts the stress and its consequences.

To reach the state, the patient is given thorazine, a drug developed in France and used extensively on wounded French troops in the Indo-China war to combat shock from wounds.

The drug drops the blood pressure, body temperature, respiration and activity of the glands. The patient goes into a semi-conscious state. Then the patient is packed in ice bags and the body temperature lowered further, sometimes down to 85 degrees.

In this state, no anaesthetic is required to kill pain of surgery. The patient is like the animals that sleep through the winter, have shelled the Nationalist island base of Quemoy.

Amoy is only five miles from Quemoy, just off the China coast 100 miles west of Formosa.

A defence ministry communique issued as Taipei said Chiang were talking said Nationalist planes bombed and strafed military targets at Amoy and along the coast.

At the same time, the communique said, Nationalist warships bombarded Amoy and nearby Wuyu Island and patrolled waters off Quemoy and Amoy.

The ministry said Wednesday's operations, in which U. S.-supplied F84 Thunderjets took part for the first time, destroyed two gunboats, not more than 100 wooden military boats, and damaged other craft.

Nationalist warships were credited with sinking six motorized junks, damaging 20 others and capturing three in waters between Wuyu Island and Chenhai on the mainland, another target for Nationalist bombardment.

In their private talks Dulles and Chiang are believed to have discussed the general outlook in the Far East and the "vest-pocket war" which has developed around Quemoy and Matsu.

Some observers speculate that Chiang pressed for U. S. manual delivery now and urged again that his Nationalist armies be given sufficient support to invade the mainland.

Dulles on Formosa Visit Pledges Support to Chiang

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist warships and planes pounded the Red China coast again today, even as State Secretary Dulles of the United States pledged that Nationalist China "doesn't stand alone against the forces of regression."

Dulles flew here from the South-east Asia security conference in Manila, and spent three hours and 15 minutes with President Chiang Kai-shek.

A high Nationalist official said "they exchanged views on questions affecting the Far East mutually. The result was satisfactory to both." U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin described the talk as "very cordial," and longer than expected.

Only five hours after Dulles' special plane landed here, he and his party were airborne again, headed for Tokyo.

In a statement read at the airport by reformed Red Chinese pilot Tu Fleet is under orders to guard Formosa.

He said Communist China now is intensifying military and propaganda activity against the Nationalists but "we shall not be intimidated."

This statement is viewed here as a direct and challenging reply to Communist views today. He declared that a telegram requesting a meeting Friday had been sent to Mr. Gregg.

'Get Out, I Do This Before' Yells Man Stabbing Woman

WOODSTOCK (CP)—A witness at the murder trial of Wilfred Rajic, 37-year-old unemployed woodworker, Wednesday testified he saw Rajic plunging a knife into Mrs. Florence Boyd last June 10.

Shirley Morton told the court she heard screaming from the Boyd home and when she went to the screen door saw Rajic stabbing Mrs. Boyd who was lying on the floor.

"He was leaning over her plunging his knife into her in a jousting style knife," Morton said.

One of nine witnesses called by Crown Attorney R. C. Whaley at the opening day of the trial, Morton said he took the screen door open and the accused waved a knife at him saying: "Get out, I do this before."

W. R. Marshall of Ingersoll, counsel for Rajic, entered a plea of not guilty before the Ontario Supreme Court following the return of a true bill by the grand jury.

Mr. Justice John L. Wilson is presiding at the trial which continues today.

Joseph Aspden said he visited the Boyd home late afternoon of the slaying and found Mrs. Boyd in an excited condition. Under cross-examination, Aspden, whose wife Mrs. Boyd's cousin, said there was no love lost between her and her husband.

He said Rajic appeared normal at first and then began talking about drinking. On a return visit to the house for the children Aspden said Mrs. Boyd pushed open the door as he approached and said: "Am I ever glad to see you Joe."

Mrs. Heather Hames said she was passing the Boyd home about suppertime when she first heard a woman's and child's screams.

She told the court when she looked into the kitchen she saw Mrs. Boyd struggling to get away from Rajic who said she was no blows struck.

Mrs. Roy Brooks, a neighbor of Boyd testified she heard the cries and screaming and when she ran to the kitchen door of the house she found it locked.

"As I stepped back" Mrs. Boyd and the leading witness, Rajic was covered with blood," Mrs. Brooks said. She called 'Help me, Clara, help me.'"

The husband of the victim, Ernest Boyd, a truck driver, said he arrived home about 5:20 p.m. to be told of his wife's death.

He said he met Rajic about five years ago and on June 3 Rajic loaned him $10 and helped with the family for $12 a week until he got work.

PLANE HITS FENCE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Trans-World Airlines plane struck a low fence approaching the International airport for a landing Wednesday and skidded to a stop as the nose wheel collapsed. The airline said none of the 22 passengers and crew of three was injured.

NOISY HEARING CLEARS DOUCETT OF PERJURY

Miss Frederick, Picton, Is Principal Witness

TORONTO (CP) — Government members shouted "damned nonsense", "sinners" and "filibuster" at the Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee cleared Highways Minister Doucett of perjury charges.

The two-month session Wednesday, the 11 men on the committee believed their charges and counter-charges before concluding that Albert Wren, young Picton, Ont., contractor, had failed to prove that the highways minister perjured himself before the committee last June.

HIGH EXCITEMENT

Contributing to the high pitch of excitement of the emotion-filled hearing were:

The delayed arrival of Mr. Wren at the crowded committee room.

The unexpected testimony of Miss Elaine Frederick, secretary-treasurer of the Robindale Quarries Ltd., of Picton, Ont., which supplied stone for a provincial highway for Mr. Doucett.

The lack of evidence from witnesses requested by Mr. Wren;

The cries for apology, unheeded by the Opposition members; and

The jubilant backslapping and handshaking of the government highways minister as he strode from the room.

Throughout the hearing, Attorney General Porter led the attack against Mr. Wren, accusing the Opposition member of making a "fishing expedition" out of an incident that happened six years ago.

MADE CHARGES

Mr. Wren had charged that Mr. Doucett, in 1948, had working on his farm two employees of H. J. McFarland, Picton contractor, who were paid by Mr. McFarland.

Miss Frederick, secretary-treasurer of Robindale Quarries, a Picton farm, testified that Joseph Zakrajsek and Stanley Valant, Robindale employees, were paid by Mr. Doucett from July 15 to Oct. 31, 1948, to work on the farm. She said the contracting company often loaned help to farmers during "rush" periods.

Miss Frederick submitted wage cards and cash book sheets showing that, for income tax purposes, the men were paid by Robindale Ltd. for the period in question and Mr. Doucett later paid the firm, in cash, $1,091.83 for the laborers' services.

When questioned by Mr. Wren if there were any different markings of ink on the wage cards, the witness said she was "pre-

Huge Dam Splits Releasing Flood On Quake Victims

Orleansville Is Shattered As If It Had Been Bombed

ALGIERS (CP) — An earthquake which packed its fury and devastation into a few seconds ripped northern Algiers early today, smashing the city of Orleansville and splitting open a huge dam which released a flood wave over the countryside.

Reuters news agency reported the estimated death toll at "well over 1,000, including those killed in country villages and drowned in the flood." It said the quake lasted only 12 seconds.

Reports reaching Algiers from the flood area told of more and more villages either smashed in the shock or swamped by the floods.

Eye-witnesses reported that Orleansville, a city of 32,500 inhabitants, looked as if it had gone through a heavy air bombardment.

At the Strasbourg observatory, the shock was timed at 1:07 a. m. (6:07 p. m. EST Wednesday). Seismists there said it was the worst to hit Algeria in 46 years.

BIG DAM SPLIT

The biggest dam in North Africa, the Oued Fodda, holding back a 160-foot head of water, crumbled and split. An innocent sport of water crashed down the Fodda valley and over the surrounding countryside.

A smaller dam, the Lamartine, five miles from Oued Fodda dam was also smashed in the quake.

Orleansville, a modern French town built on the ancient Roman site, lies about 100 miles west of Algiers on the main rail line to Oran. It is the centre of a rich farming valley. Some reports said it was 90 per cent demolished.

Barracks, stadium, post office, prison, hospital, two hotels, police headquarters, a small dam and a new cathedral all collapsed or suffered heavy damage. About 40 travellers were buried alive in their beds when the Hotel Saudade fell in on them.

Electric power was out and communications were cut. All available troops and ambulances were rushed to the area.

Governor-General Roger Leonard hurried to take command of rescue operations on the spot.

SET UP AIRLIFT

The area worst hit is between Tenes and Orleansville, all villages between which were destroyed, with Vauban, Duperre and Rouina among the worst hit.

At least one injured was set up between Maison Blanche airport at Algiers and the quake area. Among the first victims to arrive were many suffering from broken limbs. Two 400-bed field hospital was set up at Orleansville and surgeons were sent from Algiers.

The Arab quarter of Orleansville was worst hit, though the European section also suffered.

The base hospital was among the destroyed buildings. Ten prisoners were killed and 50 injured.

PANIC IN ALGIERS

The tremor was felt clearly in Algiers, causing some panic. People rushed into the streets in their pyjamas, but there was no damage here.

Orleansville is a thriving agricultural trading centre founded 111 years ago by the French.

Pay Heavy Fines For Possessing Deer Meat

WHITBY (CP) — Ellard Boldt, 42, and Bert Parks, 27, were fined $127 and $227 respectively Wednesday for possessing deer meat. Boldt pleaded guilty while Parks pleaded not guilty.

Charges arose out of the slaying Sept. 4 of a pet deer at Killarney Beach. It was a favorite of children here.

Typhoid Fever In Kingston Pen Says Paper

KINGSTON (CP) — The Whig-Standard says it has learned that one prisoner from Kingston penitentiary is in Kingston general hospital with typhoid fever. It says several other prisoners are in the penitentiary hospital with symptoms of the disease.

Prison officials have not confirmed the reports, the paper says. It adds that army medical officers were called in Wednesday to investigate guards' complaints with a preventive serum.

The prison hospital was one of the buildings undamaged by last month's fire and riot at the penitentiary.

Pilot Not Injured

TORONTO (CP) — A Vampire jet plane ran off a runway at suburban Downsview airport today while its RCAF pilot was taxiing it to a hangar after landing.

It crashed into a fence and was slightly damaged, officials said. It said it reported the plane's brakes failed.

The pilot, whose name was not made known, was not hurt.

9½ Tons of Crisp, New Paper Money Commences to Circulate in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Nine and a half tons of new paper currency starting moving into circulation in Canada today.

That's how much a little less than $50,000,000 worth of the crisp, new notes, first to bear the Queen's portrait, weighed as it was shipped by armoured trucks from coast to coast for distribution. And that's not a big load for the bank of 100,000,000 notes, worth about $1,500,000,000, usually in circulation at any one time, the bank's annual letter, as old money wears out.

Bank of Canada officials Wednesday disclosed details of the biggest money operation in Canadian history.

They said the two-tone bills as long as but an eighth of an inch narrower than the old ones, were shipped in 3,277 separate packages by rail, air and highway are worn out, to reach individual bank branch. Times and dates of shipments were kept secret to prevent theft and not a note was stolen, officials said.

On the right of one side of the new notes is the portrait of the Queen. Typical Canadian scenes replace the old symbolic figures on the reverse side.

"It took four clerks six weeks to do-design and set up the notes' packages," an official said. "We never handled so much money at one time before."

The Bank of Canada still has a supply of the old notes in three denominations, but has run out of $1, $2 and $5 bills. The last printing of old notes was in 1937 and 1938.

"Some of the old notes will be around for a long time," an official said. "I'm not including circulation will not be withdrawn until they are worn out.

Orangeville Man Dies In Crash

ORANGEVILLE (CP) — Ernest Bell, 50, Orangeville, died in hospital here Wednesday night when his twin-jet night fighter crashed on landing and rammed into a parked bomber at the RCAF base here.

The CF-100 Mark III was returning to the field after a routine training flight. Its wheels touched the runway but it veered sharply to the right and crashed into the B-25 Mitchell bomber, loaded with fuel and ready for an early-morning flight.

The impact of the jet's crash forced the bomber into an Expeditor personnel plane parked nearby. Both jet exploded in flames. Rescuers could see the pilot struggling in the cockpit against the flames—but couldn't get close enough to help them.

Bell, a flight lieutenant, was a P.O. Roy Bedard, 33, and the navigator, Cpl. James Avery, 31.

P.O. Bedard, stationed at North Bay since last November, was born in Sudbury. He is survived by his widow, one son, 8, and a daughter, 5, of Sudbury, and his mother at Lachute, Que.

Cpl. Ardley was born in England in 1923. He joined the RCAF in 1946 in the Toronto area. He was transferred to North Bay in July. He is survived by his widow in Saskatoon.

Cabbage sold from 10-15 cents and cauliflowers 15-20 cents. Cucumber prices continued steady at $1.35 per dozen-lot, 75 cents for dills and slicers at three for 10 cents. Marrows were 10-20 cents. Carrots were 10 cents a bunch, broccoli 15 cents and lettuce 19 cents. Squash plants were 25 cents each with egg plants 10 cents each. Potatoes were 85 cents.

Gladioli, in lighter supply, remained at $1 a dozen, while asters and dahlias were 35 cents a bunch. A variety of smaller blooms, including the cosmos and bachelor buttons were 25 cents.

Eggs were 58 cents a dozen for A extra large.

2 Women Sustain Head and Facial Injuries in Crash

Two women were admitted to Belleville hospital Thursday with head and facial injuries following a two-car collision on the brow of a knoll on Highway No. 2 at Milltown, 10 miles east of here.

In hospital with head injuries is Mrs. B. Marcie of Beaver Falls, N.Y., and Mrs. Chas. V. Grantham of Hamilton with facial cuts.

Martin Honer, of Beaver Falls, N.Y., was westbound and had swerved to avoid another car and failed to see the approaching vehicle in the depression beyond the knoll.

Both cars headed for the south ditch but only Honer's machine, Ontario Provincial Police Constable J. McBride investigated.

Police Blotter

Malicious damage amounting to approximately $125 was caused at the A. C. Campbell Memorial Craftsmen premises on Bridge street, West, Wednesday night when one tombstone was broken in half and another stone chipped.

City Police checked a transient, Peter Marguzzo, near the C.P.R. railway tracks while he was going through a small valise containing a pair of trousers and swim trunks. He was taken to the police station for questioning and later released. The items in the small valise, which had been in the possession of Marguzzo, was found abandoned on the C.P.R. bridge.

Hugh Campbell, Peterborough baseball fan complained to police his car had been entered while it was parked near the grandstand at the fairgrounds and about $8 in cash and two flashlights were taken.

Largest Nursing Class in History Enters Course

The largest class in the history of the school of nursing of the Belleville General Hospital enrolled Tuesday as 27 girls registered for the three-year training course. Last year enrolment today by Miss M. Peart, director of nursing.

Usual enrollment is about 20-25. In 1953 only 14 entered the training course.

Registration of the class of '57 brings the total of nurses in training in the three classes in the school to 87. Of 21 graduates in the class of '54, fourteen are remaining on staff.

The new class was greeted at the Nurses' Residence, Tuesday afternoon by members of the second and third years. Members of the teaching staff served tea.

Capping ceremony and initiation has been planned by the Student Nurse Association for the end of October.

Members of the graduating class of '54, who have completed their training course, will be tendered a "Farewell Formal" by members of the senior class in the latter part of September.

Members of the class of '57 enrolled Tuesday are: Sarah Backus, Trenton; Elizabeth Blackburn, Wawbewawa, Ont.; Kennon Casey, Belleville; Maxine Cross, Roslin; Shirley Ferguson, Trenton; Joan Fox, Belleville; Catherine Gould, Picton; Joyce Inch, Cobourg; Vita Kasaka, Belleville; Eleanor Kotchapaw, Demorestville; Helen Kuglin, Williamsford; Joan Mastin, Wellington; Martha Maguire, Bowmanville; Dorothy Morris, R. R. 1, Hilton; Doreen McCracken, Colborne; Yvonne Poste, Belleville; Marilyn Reddick, Brighton; Marie Robillon, Actinolite; Anette Roper, Belleville; Dawn Rowley, Belleville; Norma Southerland, Colborne; Shirley Ann Stokes, Trenton; Mary Thompson, Toronto; Joyce Townsend, Trenton; Joan Vance, Roslin; Geneva Wooffindin, Belleville; and Kathleen Wright, Belleville.

Nehru Dislikes Southeast Asian Defence Treaty

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru of India today said he considers the new Southeast Asian defence treaty "most unfortunate."

Nehru, who declined to attend the treaty talks in Manila which ended with signing of the eight-power pact Wednesday, was speaking at an Indian press association luncheon.

He said it is right for people to be against aggression "yet the steps they sometimes take against aggression in themselves encourage aggression."

Interlocking of organizations like the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Australia-New Zealand-United States pact and SEATO was like interlocking trusts in big business.

Nobody knows where they stand or to what they might be committed, he contended.

The Times of India says in Bombay that the immediate effect of the treaty would only be to "arouse new suspicions among the Communist bloc without in any way guaranteeing the security of Southeast Asia."

COMMITTED IN DEATH

BRANTFORD (CP) — Robert Kiefer of Cayuga Wednesday was committed by magistrate R. J. Gillen for trial in higher court on a charge of manslaughter. Kiefer was charged in connection with the death of Ronald Peter Kling, killed when his motorcycle collided with a truck near here Aug. 6.

Police Investigating

HAILEYBURY (CP) — Ontario provincial police said they were investigating reports that an unidentified plane crashed in flames into Lake Temiskaming Wednesday night.

They said a search had revealed no sign of the aircraft, but they believe it could have sunk.

Witnesses, however, said they had no reports of a plane in distress. However, there had been several planes flying in the area, they said.

Two witnesses told police they saw the burning plane hit the water.

Atomic Energy Agency Subject Of Discussion

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and the United States today started discussions looking toward the establishment of an international atomic energy agency, with or without Soviet Russia's participation.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said Wednesday night in a statement after a cabinet meeting that Canadian and American atomic chiefs will meet in Washington Sept. 15 to discuss the proposed international agency and other technical matters.

They are W. J. Bennett, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, the government agency controlling the country's atomic development, and his American counterpart, Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

The statement was issued a few hours after Prime Minister St. Laurent had left on his overseas trip. He and Trade Minister Howe will join the two ministers with the U.S. ministers at Knob Lake in northern Quebec.

Pearson said St. Laurent did not specify whether the expected talks will deal with President Eisenhower's recent proposal for an atomic pool for peacetime purposes to which it would be arrange if the cabinet members did not talk about the use of atomic energy. The American ministers who will join the Canadians are Defence Secretary Wilson and Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

Royal Party Enjoys Romp In Country

MONTREAL (CP)—The Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra threw pomp to the winds on a day's secluded romp in open country between Fredericton and Newcastle, N.B.

When their special train made a brief stop Tuesday the duchess and the 17-year-old princess left their private car and ran along the rail ties for a short distance.

Dressed informally in cotton frocks and cardigans, the royal pair left the railway to walk into tall timber skirting a nearby salmon stream.

When they returned to the train, vivacious Alexandra climbed into the engine cab, donned engineer blue overalls, engineer's goggles and striped cotton cap, turned back to front, and took over controls of the engine. She remained in the cab for a 10-mile run, frequently blowing the whistle and ringing the bell with glee.

She was given the engineer's cap as a souvenir.

During the trip through the forest areas, the royal couple spotted a black bear and a porcupine.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS

BARRIE (CP)—Wallace Dusome, 33, of Penetanguishene, Wednesday was sentenced to six months in jail when convicted of dangerous driving. He was charged in connection with the death March 13 of Reginald Murray Richardson, a Barrie athlete.

Stronger NATO Can Allay French Fears of Germany

PARIS (Reuters) — Premier Pierre Mendes - France told the North Atlantic council today that French fears from German rearmament can only be allayed by an "ever-closer Atlantic solidarity."

Making his first appearance as chairman before the 14 - country council, the premier said France intends to participate in all attempts to reinforce and consolidate the Atlantic alliance.

Mendes-France said he felt the attitude of the French Parliament in rejecting the European Army treaty had been misjudged in other countries.

He said the increase in NATO's military efficiency must be accompanied by a strengthening of political unity based on the support of public opinion in each member country.

In a reference to the last Soviet note on European collective security, Mendes-France said his government is determined to neglect no opportunity for resuming talks with Russia, if these are likely to prove fruitful.

But there did not appear at present to be any appreciable change in the Soviet position particularly with regard to German problems.

Security Council May Chart U.S. Policy in Asia

DENVER (AP)—National Security Council members meeting with President Eisenhower in extraordinary session here Sunday may chart strategy for dealing with a broad range of Far Eastern problems created by Russia and Red China.

And an hour in advance of that special meeting, the summer White House announced today, the president will confer with Attorney-General Brownell and FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover on how to smash Communist infiltration at home.

Plans for the National Security Council meeting—the first full-scale session of that top policy-making unit ever to be held outside of Washington—were announced Wednesday by James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary.

He said Eisenhower was summoning the council, which he heads, to hear a first-hand report from State Secretary Dulles on the new Southeast Asia security pact, signed Wednesday at Manila by the United States and seven other countries.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)— The stock market continued Wednesday's irregular pattern in fairly heavy forenoon trading today.

Industrials drifted off and their index was down almost three-quarters of a point with weakness in utilities, foods, liquors, and manufacturing. Metal mines were scattered across other industrial groups.

General Dynamics was down $1.50 in light turnover after the first hour for the biggest industrial loss. Canadian Industries lost a major fraction and Brazilian Traction was a little easier.

Quemont hit a 1954 high in senior base metals but the group's trend was down. Juniors were steady and Mult Minerals moved up smartly.

Golds were mixed but Pickle Crow, Dyno and Consolidated Discovery hit 1954 highs. Aumaque and Homer Yellowknife gained pennies.

Western oils gained narrowly but American Leduc, the market's heaviest early trader, dropped sharply. Britalta was one of the bigger winners. Ursalmo gained pennies and Willroy made a small gain in Manitouwadge Inuets.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—The light run of slaughter cattle sold actively strong on all grades in early trading at the Ontario stockyards today. Receipts: cattle 125; calves 69; hogs 350; sheep and lambs 60; holdover from Wednesday 1,200 stockers.

A few good steers, all weights, were 30-21; mediums down to 18; good heifers 18-15.50; a few choice up to 19; medium heifers down to 16; common light boner steers and heifers down to 10; a few medium fed yearlings 18-20; common light bulls 9.50-10.50. No cows were offered. Good stockers 18-18.50; mediums down to 16; common stockers down to 12.

Good to choice veal calves were steady at 22-24; mediums 18-21.

Hogs were steady to 25 cents a hundredweight higher at 27-27.25 for grade A; 78 hogs sold on the Wednesday at 27.50; sows 18 with eight selling out on Wednesday at 18.50.

Lambs were 22 delivered by rail and 31 by truck for good ewes and wethers; bucks were discounted $1 a hundredweight. Good light sheep sold for 8-10; common down to 4.

Save Boy's Life With Paper Cup As Oxygen Tent

TORONTO (CP) — A Hearst doctor and an RCAF crew who rigged up a make-shift oxygen tent from a paper cup and high-altitude flying equipment were credited today with saving the life of a 18-year-old sawmill employee.

The youth, Yves Bellehumeur of Hearst, was pulled against the driveshaft of a saw Tuesday at a mill where he worked. The shaft ripped skin from large areas of his body and broke his arm.

Dr. K. Leddy of Hearst said the youth was in critical condition and had to be flown to Toronto for special treatment. Flight conditions in the northern Ontario centre were bad and no planes based there could take off.

Workmen's Compensation Board officials, who today made public details of the flight, arranged for an RCAF rescue squadron plane at Trenton to fly to Kapuskasing, 60 miles east of Hearst, and pick up the youth and the doctor.

During the flight to Toronto, Dr. Leddy examined Bellehumeur and said he needed oxygen badly.

But the plane wasn't equipped for individual administration of oxygen.

Dr. Leddy, pilot P.O. George Thomas of Hamilton, and crew members F.O. R. Lloyd of Rosetown, Sask., Fit. Lt. L. D. Denniger and LAC L. L. Desiel, of Toronto, tore out tubing of the high-altitude equipment, fitted it together with tape, and rigged it to an oxygen cylinder. Dr. Leddy improvised a mask from a paper cup and directed the crewmen who administered the life-saving oxygen.

Hospital authorities said today the youth underwent an operation and is coming along satisfactorily.

Garter Snake Has Two Heads

SUDBURY (CP) — Sudbury has a snake which can't make up its mind which way to move. It has two heads.

The young garter snake, found at Red Deer lake, 12 miles south of here has two perfectly formed heads, one larger than the other. It can see with both sets of eyes but has difficulty in movement.

PRODUCE MARKET

15,000 Pilgrims Cheer Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius, tanned and looking healthier than in many months, received a tremendous ovation Wednesday from more than 15,000 pilgrims here for the International Marian Congress.

Cheers echoed and re-echoed through the basilica when the whitecled pontiff was carried in on his portable throne.

The pilgrims here for this outstanding event of the Marian year celebrated by Roman Catholics throughout the world represent some 19,000,000 members of Marian sodalities.

The Marian year honors the centenary of the dogma that proclaimed the Virgin Mary's immaculate conception—the Catholic belief that the alone of all mankind was born without the stain of original sin.

In a letter marking the end of the Bolivian Marian congress today, the Pope said one of the world's most urgent necessities is "to give back to the family the sacred and Christian character which it had in other times."

"Conjugal fidelity, concord and mutual aid between husband and wife, religious education of the children—these are the base of the happiness of society, and the lack of these can create enormous harm," he declared.

NATO Council Meet in Ottawa May Be Sought

LONDON (CP)—A meeting of the NATO council in New York during the forthcoming United Nations Assembly session—or possibly in Ottawa—is being discussed following failure of Britain's plan for a nine-power conference here next week on West German rearmament.

Britain Wednesday reluctantly dropped the idea of immediate nine-power talks—to which they had planned to invite the United States, Canada and the six powers of the now-dead European Defence Community.

Officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization now are reported considering the possibility of holding a NATO council meeting instead.

Diplomatic sources Wednesday said Britain has not yet given up the nine-power idea, however, and hopes it can be held later this month.

Drew Arrives In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, arrived by air today from a two-month fact-finding tour of Europe and said he is "optimistic" on the chances of world peace.

Looking tanned and fit in a neat blue pin-stripe suit, Mr. Drew stepped from a plane which carried him from London to be met by a welcoming committee of Montreal supporters. With him were his wife, Florenz, his 16-year-old son, Edward, and 14-year-old daughter Sandra.

At an impromptu press conference he told reporters it was a "great disappointment and great shock that the Brussels conference appeared to kill" the European Defence Community.

However, Mr. Drew said he hopes the main features of EDC can still be incorporated into another combined defence plan, such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He found on his trip there was an "intense desire on the part of all the peoples of Western Europe to find unity."

Mr. Drew said he considers it "extremely fortunate" that Sir Winston Churchill is prime minister of Great Britain.

25 P.C. Raise Needed When Child Is Born

ROME (AP)—When baby comes, an expert said here today, it takes a 25 per cent raise in income for the family to maintain its accustomed standard of living.

Erland V. Hofsten of the Stockholm social welfare board told 500 scientists at the United Nations' conference on population that junior's cost starts lower, but rises steadily as child grows older.

Despite the cost, however, another report indicated the average wife still wants children. Prof. Jean Stoetzel of France's University of Bordeaux said his survey showed relatively few wives want no children or only one. Most want three.

Dr. Hofsten told the experts from 70 countries his statistics on the cost of children do not include the value of the time parents must devote to child care.

This, he said, diminishes from 1,200 hours a year when the child is one year old to 1,160 hours when the child is over two, and 475 hours when the child is four.

THEATRE GUILD STARTS NEW SEASON

The Belleville Theatre Guild is starting another season. All Belleville and district citizens ought to wish the Guild well. During the past three years it has accomplished much. In 1952 it was invited to produce one of its earliest plays at the Dominion Drama Festival in Saint John, N.B. Last year it brought additional honor to Belleville when it won the right to compete in the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival at Brockville. Even more important, perhaps, from the standpoint of local residents, is the fact that they have had the opportunity to see and enjoy several plays. The Guild has also presented to the Collegiate, in co-operation with the Bay of Quinte District High School Board, several large units to improve the stage lighting, while Pine Street School has received new stage curtains.

The Guild's past record of achievement provides a certain guarantee that the coming year will be a rewarding one, bringing with it probably more honors for Belleville and more practical assistance to public bodies—and certainly many more evenings of enjoyable entertainment for theatre-goers.

For the Guild members themselves, of course, the season promises many pleasures. Amateur theatricals provide an excellent form of recreation, not only for playwrights, directors, actors and actresses, but also for those whose parts in the production may be less glamorous but equally necessary. No successful performance can be given without proficient stage-hands, lighting technicians, make-up experts and scene and wardrobe department.

As a civic asset, as a means of entertaining large numbers of citizens both old and young and as a form of recreation, the Guild deserves encouragement and support.

Yet this is not all. The theatre can be an art, just as great an art as that of writing or of painting. In some ways it offers opportunities which these other arts do not provide. The unique feature of amateur theatricals is that many people who are not artists, but who yet love the art of the theatre, have an opportunity to play an active and necessary role in making an artistic achievement possible.

Nor is this a form of art which could fill any important role in our present civilization without the support of amateurs. The movie camera has captured the audiences which made the professional theatre possible, without at the same time freeing the art of the theatre in any but exceptional cases. Betrayed by their ability to depict action, the movies are more often concerned with portraying the physical, rather than the emotional or mental, facets of man's life. The legitimate theatre, happily shackled by the confines of the stage, more readily escapes the trap of physical action for its art—but there is a greater likelihood that it will be than is the case with a movie.

An entertainment, as recreation and as art, the "Little Theatre" movement deserves and receives support from people in widely different walks of life and with greatly varying outlooks.

A HANDICAP WE MUST OVERCOME

Most able-bodied women share a deep-rooted dislike for physically handicapped men.

That fact is revealed in a report of a survey released at New York.

The survey did not cover the point, but we suspect that most able-bodied men dislike physically handicapped women.

It is probably Old Mother Nature at work, guarding the future of the species. In a primitive society the safety of the family might be endangered by the handicaps under which one of the parents labored.

Therefore Nature discourages these unions. That seems to be the explanation of the results of the survey. Certainly some animals appear to display similar aversions to the maimed members of their species.

Man, however, has greatly modified his environment. He needs to modify his attitude toward the handicapped, too. All of us will grant the truth of that statement.

But to bids us dislike the handicapped, then we must defy Nature, for we are something more than animals and Nature is not the final arbiter in determining our actions and our attitudes.

Yet this defiance must be kept within the bounds of reason. Nothing but harm could result if women and men deliberately sought to simulate love where their natural reaction was distaste. The handicapped would be satisfied if we conquered this dislike, so unreasonable in our altered living conditions, without endeavoring to tip the scales in other way toward universal love.

The handicapped person is a human being just like the rest of us and should be treated just like the rest of us.

Our unreasonable dislike is itself a handicap which we must overcome. That is important to us. It is also important to the disabled, for Jack Granofsky, 34-year-old psychologist who conducted the study, says that disabled persons will never be able to make a total readjustment so long as the present prejudices of the rest of us continue to exist.

FIRST MEMORY

The earliest memory I recall
Took place when I was very small;
In what my conduct ought to be
They started early training me.

My mother used this statement pet:
"Nice people, sonny, don't do that."
My father said in manner grave:
"You'll have to teach him to behave."

Upon her dinner table neat
One day I put my little feet.
For that, though I was only three,
My grandma shook a broom at me.

So deep was the impression made
Its memory down the years has stayed.

I still can hear my mother say:
"Nice people do not act that way."

Mr. Joseph Coyer's small-terrier, named Flash, won the Canadian National Exhibition championship dog swim on Thursday evening. "Flash" outstripped the field, even the heavier police dogs and other starter breeds making way for the canine midget in the open swim for championship of the division. During the afternoon of the same day another Belleville dog, owned by Mr. Charles Green, a Chesspeake named "Sandy" captured the first prize in the Fido Parade for heavyweight division. Two Toronto dogs won second and third place in this event.

Miss Helen McQuaid, a student in the high school department of St. Michael's Academy, has been advised that she has been awarded a major scholarship by Brescia Hall, London, Ontario, a college conducted by the Ursuline Sisters in affiliation with Western University. The scholarship, a provincial one, was offered for the highest marks in six subjects of matriculation work. Miss McQuaid, a clever student, has distinguished herself in all examinations at the Academy, receiving prizes every term of her high school work.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FIGHT, STRUGGLE AND POVERTY

In reading the lives of authors, writers, painters, men in fact the lives of all human beings who have achieved and gained position, success and renown, I have come across the fact that nothing has been said or told of their early days of struggle and poverty. The early years of the great are always those that moment Galsworthy was finished as a serious writer. He did not get success but realized that "Forsyte Saga" so soon became successful and influential, and his natural goodness, his kindness did not let all the deserving causes bear to his heart. Can you imagine a Dr. Samuel Johnson, as we and the world know him, existing in Cleveland? Can you imagine a Dr. Samuel Johnson, as we and the world know him, existing in Cleveland? Can you imagine a Dr. Samuel Johnson, as we and the world know him, existing in Cleveland? Can you imagine a Dr. Samuel Johnson, as we and the world know him, existing in Cleveland?

When it hurts inside to accomplish anything for the world that is worthy, we should not become discouraged and give up in despair ourself to go on—for that is what is meant by "growing pains." The great all go through the process the others do not, and so you never hear about them.

But what is happening in the banana business? There is little news coming out of the United States on the question of prices, the questioning that was supposed to centre around bananas.

And what is the Canadian government doing about this peculiar situation in which bananas are sold and all are sold by the pound at what appears to be a fixed price?

Did the public get gypped in the switch from bananas by the dozen to bananas by the pound? Has anyone found a use for bananas since? Have any of our food inspectors ever taken the trouble to compare the weights of skin and skin bananas?

What goes on in bananas? A lot of people would like to know.

Now Pay For Banana Peels

(Sudbury Star)

The "frost damage" explanation for high coffee prices, which consumer have been hearing for some months, exploded in the face of a decision by the coffee powers-that-be to reduce the prices.

Almost immediately, the price of coffee tumbled on the retail markets—coffee that must assuredly have been bought and packed at the "frost damage" prices.

Preventive War Foolish

(Minneapolis Tribune)

The idea of a "preventive war" has great attraction for people accustomed to shooting from the hip at things that bother them. Severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and exclusion of Russia from the U.N. are two other neatrums appealing to that sort of person.

It must have been unpleasant for President Eisenhower to have to point out the fallacies and perils of such proposals after they had been advocated by his old comrade, General Mark Clark.

Otherwise, when the former Commander-in-chief of U.N. forces in Korea advocated such courses of action in the Senate subcommittee our Allies and enemies might have gotten the impression that Clark was speaking for the Administration, instead of just for himself.

The President's earnest efforts to develop a system of structure which will be impervious to any Communist assault would have been sacrificed to embarrassment, but he not rejected Clark's proposals as unthinkable and impossible.

Mr. Eisenhower was on sound ground in rejecting all three of these proposals.

A so-called preventive war would be morally wrong politically foolish and militarily impossible. In the hydrogen-atomic age the country launching such a war would suffer great damage without assurance of being able to demolish the enemy.

If the United States struck first with a war, it would have to have a single major Ally and it would have many enemies in addition to the Communist bloc. The United States suffered less damage in the last war than any nation forced it would be confronted with graver foreign and domestic problems than anyone has yet unlocked ing to seek solution through "preventive war."

The great majority of the American people would not approve or willingly support such a war. Responsible elements in the government and people unreservedly reject this concept.

Nor would the interests of the United States be served by breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia or reorganizing the U.N. without Russia.

Russia is the second strongest power in the world. The United States, as the strongest power and leader of the coalition

New Master Of Mint Man Of Varied Talents

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Alfred Percy Williams, the new master of the Royal Canadian mint, is a man of varied talents who made good at all of them.

The head of the only business of its kind in Canada is a soldier who was commissioned in battle, an expert marksman who competed at Bisley in 1933 and a musician who was first flutist of the Ottawa Symphony Orchestra for many years.

As a coinmaker he joined the mint as a 17-year-old junior clerk in 1908. He rose to senior clerk, technical officer, accountant and secretary of the department, a title later changed to that of chief administrative officer.

LONG SERVICE

Mr. Williams, 62, worked under all five previous masters of the mint and saw the staff increase to 255 from 68. Canada assumed control of its Mint, a closely-guarded plant on Ottawa's Sussex street, Dec. 1, 1931, when J. H. Campbell, the last of three British appointees, was master.

The two other Canadian masters were Henry Ewart, who died in 1944 while in office and W. C. Ronson who retired Aug. 28.

To go along with its new master, the mint soon will have new equipment with a production capacity of 100,000,000 coins a year, triple the present output.

Nickel will go back into the five-cent piece starting Jan. 1. Due to a shortage of the metal, the coin has been made of chromium-plated aluminum for the last three or four years. One-cent pieces are 98-per-cent copper and silver coins are a mixture of silver and copper.

WOUNDED AT YPRES

Talking to reporters is something new for Mr. Williams who was a bit apprehensive about giving an interview.

"I never talk much," he said. "I prefer to listen."

Of his five years in the army during the First World War, Mr. Williams said only that he was wounded in 1916 at Ypres and went into the battle of Vimy Ridge, one of the fierce action spots, as a machine gun sergeant and came out an officer. A major in the last war, he commanded a reserve ordnance unit in his native Ottawa.

He made the so-called King's Hundred as a member of Canada's Bisley rifle team in 1933 and qualified again for this year's team but declined the trip.

Mr. Williams' musical side came out at the age of 11 when he was guest solo flutist at the opening concert of Ottawa's old Britannia auditorium May 24, 1903. He later played with military bands and the capital's symphony.

Canadian, U.S. Atomic Energy Directors Meet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — High-level Canadian and American atomic energy officials planned to meet here today to study ways of tightening up their co-operation under relaxed rules on atomic energy recently laid down by the United States Congress.

The talks are being held by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission, and William J. Bennett, president of Canada's atomic energy agency.

CAN HELP ALLIES

The law approved last month by Congress enlarged President Eisenhower's authority to assist countries to build up atomic industries if they co-operate with the U. S. in atomic energy matters. It also provided the president with authority to transfer to the North Atlantic Allies hitherto-secret information about the effect of atomic weapons and data on their size, weight and shape.

Eisenhower announced at Denver Monday that the Canadian talks would be held today. His statement was concerned primarily with disclosing that the U. S. and several other countries had agreed to set up an international agency to promote peaceful uses of the atom. This gave rise to an impression that Strauss' meeting with Bennett would be concerned with that project.

However, both American and Canadian officials said that was not the case.

In fact, a cloud of secrecy has fallen over the international program aside from the general ideas which the president announced. Inquiring reporters have been told that State Secretary Dulles will make the next major statement on it when he speaks to the United Nations General Assembly in about two weeks.

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG. — Services were held in the Anglican and United churches on Sunday morning. The United Church Sunday services had been discontinued during the minister's Rev. R. G. Chapman, vacation.

The United Church Sunday School re-opened on Sunday morning. The attendance was disappointing; whole families were away for the holiday week-end. Next Sunday the Sunday School staff hopes to see the classes full again.

School opened in Thomasburg on Tuesday with Mr. Glen Wood, of Toronto, as principal and Miss Shirley Mayer, Sulphide, in charge of the junior room.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Trumpour of Montreal, are guests for a time of Mr. and Mrs. W. Yateman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson, Marie and Theresa of Fort William, have been visiting for the past week with their mother, Mrs. H. B. Richardson and other relatives and friends in Belleville and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Sanders, nee Isabel Richardson and baby, Ruth, of Ft. St. John, B.C., visited during last week with their mother, Mrs. M. Sanford and other friends in Bloomfield. This week they will be visiting relatives in Thomasburg and vicinity.

Mr. Morton Elliott, of Niagara Falls, New York, was a guest of his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. Elliott, over the holiday.

PRODUCTION UP

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's industrial production during the first six months this year was running ahead of the same period in 1953, a United Nations statistical study indicated today. The figures, based on Soviet statistics and appraised by the UN statistical office, showed Russia's gross industrial production was 14 index points higher than the first half of last year.

Charge Governors Defaulted In Two Obligations

TORONTO (CP)—Charges that the governors of McMaster University had defaulted in two major obligations when they closed down Moulton College here were made Wednesday in a 35-page booklet attacking the closing of the school.

The board made its announcement in May and the action aroused protests on paper and at public meetings.

The attack has been renewed in a booklet published by the Alumni Association of Woodstock College, a sister school of Moulton until the former was closed by McMaster board of governors in 1926.

In an agreement signed in 1939, the booklet says, the McMaster governors pledged themselves to use the property in north central Toronto in perpetuity exclusively as a school for girls. The clause was inserted by Mrs. Susan Moulton McMaster who had transferred her home to the university to establish the college.

The agreement said that if the board failed to comply with this condition, the property would revert to Mrs. McMaster or her heirs.

CLAIMS PAYMENT DEFAULT

The document says the university also undertook to pay in perpetuity the salaries of four resident teachers at the college. But only $3,200 had been paid to the school each year from the McMaster endowment. Of this sum in the left 10 or 20 years the board had been taking back $1,000 a year as a charge for administration, although no such charge was authorized by the agreements.

The association says the salaries of four resident teachers could hardly be set at a total of less than $8,000 to $8,500. So the school should have received additional endowment income of about $6,000 a year over a considerable period.

Statements on behalf of McMaster governors that Moulton was a "heavy burden" were rapped by the group.

"From the so-called 'burden' the McMaster board now is likely to obtain a capital gain of over half a million dollars, and perhaps considerably more."

MINISTER DIES

GLEN FALLS, N. Y. (CP)—Rev. Oren Edwin Kendall, retired Baptist minister, died Wednesday night at the age of 80. He was a graduate of Woodstock Baptist College and McMaster University, Hamilton, Ont.

Guests were present from Kingston, Lindsay, and Bancroft.

Weddings

ELLIOTT—SOLDRICK

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Plainfield parsonage, on Saturday, August 14, when Mary Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Soldrick, Plainfield, became the bride of Glen Douglas, son of Mrs. Thomas Elliott, of West Huntingdon, and the late Mr. Elliott. The Rev. R. J. Kersey officiated.

The bride wore a pale blue taffeta dress with white accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Miss Olga Bridger was bridesmaid, wearing a pink dacron dress and a corsage of white and blue carnations.

Mr. Earle Soldrick, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a chest of silver; to the groomsman, an identification bracelet. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid, a necklace and earrings.

Amid showers of confetti the happy couple left for Hamilton, Niagara, Windsor, and Buffalo.

They will reside in West Huntingdon.

THOMPSON—WILKINSON

A lovely double-ring wedding ceremony was solemnized on Saturday, August 21st, at 11:30 a.m. in the garden of the bride's home when Sharon Averil Wilkinson, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson, Belleville, became the bride of John Arthur Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, of Bellgrove.

Baskets of gladioli, snapdragons and ferns leading to a flower-decorated bell-shaped arch formed the setting for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Sidney E. Larman, of Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of imported French lace and nylon net. It featured a strapless bodice with a net-tucked top and a high empire waist of lace, over which buttoned a short lace jacket with a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves with lily-points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt of net was covered by a scalloped lace overlay in a peplum effect. Her juliet cap of lace and seed pearls held her shoulder-length camisé-covered veil. She carried a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom's grandmother, crested with pink Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Miss Harold-son Wilkinson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Marion Rawson, of Belleville, was bridesmaid. They were attired in identical gowns of nylon tulle over taffeta in shades of shell pink and blue, respectively. Over the strapless tucked bodices was a drape, gathered at the shoulders and featuring a hem-length sash at the back which floated gracefully over the full gathered skirt. They wore feathered headbands, short nylon gloves and carried nosegays of shaded flowers with ivy streamers.

Mr. Jim Wagg, of Belleville, was groomsman. The bridesmaid's escort was Mr. Terry Clifton, of Belleville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Club Cedars where a dinner was served for 50 guests. The bride's mother received the guests wearing a Mayfair shel linen suit of Riviera beige with Windsor brown accessories and a corsage of green leaves with bronze rose and daisy. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. C. Peebles. Mrs. Thompson chose a linen suit of Florida maize with deep blue accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Peebles wore a burgundy crepe dress with inserts of Chantilly lace, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and stephanotis.

For travelling to the New England States the bride wore a two-piece knitted suit in a dusty rose shade with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The bridegroom's gift to his bride was luggage, and to the groomsman, a travel alarm, and to the usher gold cuff links. The bride's gift to her bridegroom was a camera and to her attendants, jewellery.

The young couple will reside in Toronto where the bridegroom attends Ryerson Institute of Technology.

Out-of-town guests were from Kingston, Bancroft, Ottawa and Lindsay.

Archbishop Roy Pays Tribute To Nursing

QUEBEC (CP) — Nurses should not be content with caring only for the physical needs of patients, Archbishop Maurice Roy of Quebec said Wednesday night. Their spiritual needs often are more important.

"Even pagans can look after the sick, but only Christians can give sure counsel and treatment to the body and soul," he said.

He spoke at a banquet of the fifth world congress of the international committee of Catholic nurses and medico-social workers. Some 1,000 delegates from 24 countries are attending the congress, meeting here for the first time.

Archbishop Roy said religious and lay nurses in Quebec's day as a French colony played an important role in setting up the province's present hospital system, and perhaps were partially responsible for peaceful relations between the French and English-speaking peoples.

During the siege of Quebec by the English in 1759, French nursing sisters treated casualties from both sides in makeshift facilities in convents and private homes.

"Now, we see that this was a prophecy of the peace that now reigns between the two races," he said.

J. Albiny Paquette, provincial health minister, said the value of nurses is well known in Quebec province where they have contributed to a sharp decrease in the number of deaths from tuberculosis and contagious diseases.

"There is more to nursing than wearing the uniform . . . nurses must have the spirit of self-sacrifice and be prepared to administer to all aspects of the human body and soul," he said.

Club Activities

MARSH HILL MISSION BAND

Marsh Hill Mission Band met for their regular meeting Monday night in the church with their leader, Mrs. E. B. Finkle, 11 children and three mothers.

Mrs. Finkle opened the meeting and read a poem "On Being Thankful," and gave a short talk to the children on "Habit."

Marilyn Finkle presided over the following program, the hymn "When Mothers of Salem" was sung followed by prayer; piano solo "Mountain Climbing," by Elizabeth Finkle; "The Butler's Mistake" was read by Elaine Lindenfield; Carol Lindenfield and Linda Finkle, sang "Jesus Loves Me."

Marilyn Finkle read a story, "The Old House, and the Apple Tree."

Mrs. Leslie Finkle gave the chapter from the study book "Under the Four Seas."

"The Slumberland Boat" was read by Raymond Finkle.

After the singing of the hymn, "Jesus Tender Shepherd, Hear Me." Mrs. Leslie Little pronounced the benediction.

GUILTY OF BEATING TOT

SIMCOE, Ont. (CP) — Frank Haskett, 23, of Simcoe Wednesday was found guilty of assault in the beating of his seven-month-old son Donald, Sept. 1, Judge G. A. P. Brickenden remanded Haskett in custody until Sept. 28 and ordered probation officer Ernest Whibley to study the case to see if probation can be recommended.

OBJECTS TO SALE

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Zealand Wednesday objected to the sale of U.S. surplus dairy products abroad as a threat to the stability of world prices. In a note to the state department, Ambassador L. K. Munro said New Zealand already had lost business in Panama as a result of the sale of surplus U.S. butter at low prices.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A BAR MEANS MORE TO HIM THAN HIS HOME

"What can you say to a man who would rather rush to his cronies in a bar after work and spend his money on beer than come home to his family? My husband feels it is perfectly all right to do this. He says he works hard and needs recreation. I work hard, too, but if I even mention joining the Women's Society at church, for example, he grows very indignant."

So begins a letter from a disgusted, discouraged wife who goes on to say:

"My husband spends at least two hours every night after work in the bar, and about once a week doesn't come home at all until it closes at two in the morning. There have been times when I have had social engagements because he just couldn't tear himself away from the bar. He has one night a week out for his club, besides bowling and various other activities.

"I really don't have much incentive to make him stay more. He eats his food cold or not at all. The children and I go ahead and eat at six whether he is there or not. If he isn't, they ask: 'Where is daddy? What is he doing?' What should one answer? They love him, and otherwise he is a good father.

"I have tried keeping quiet about things, but that didn't help a bit. Perhaps a word from someone else would mean something."

First, let me ask this woman a question or two.

What kind of family atmosphere does her husband come home to? Is she always cheerful and inviting, and does she greet him as though she were truly glad to see him? Or does she start nagging at him as soon as he comes in the door, so that he wishes he had stayed away entirely—and next time does so?

Naturally, I am not minimizing the effort it would be for a wife to greet lovingly a husband who is inconsiderate of her. But it is nevertheless true that a man is far more likely to come home if he knows love and peace and happy companionship are waiting for him than if he has come to expect scolding and reproaches. It could be, of course, that this wife has tried affection and found it got her nowhere. But it is something to think over, anyhow.

For an active, immediate step to take, it seems to me she definitely should have some outside interests of her own, especially since her husband, on his side, seems to be so well supplied with them. My feeling would be that she should quietly join the Women's Society of which she speaks, or any other group she wishes, and make her own plans for taking part in its program. If she can arrange for someone to stay with the children on the nights she wants to attend meetings, that would be the thing to do. If her husband comes home and finds her gone, and someone else with the children, she should simply say that since he is home in the evening so seldom, she has decided to have some evenings off, too. And she should not permit herself to be drawn into argument or quarrel over it.

Possibly, if the children are not so small that they must be in bed very early, there might be occasions when she could take them with her to some event. But however she may find it advisable to arrange things, she should most certainly have interests outside her home in her life. To make room for them might well lead to a turning point in her situation.

As for the questions the children ask about their father, all she can do is to say something like: "Daddy's busy. He'll be home later." Whatever she says, she shouldn't let them get the idea that she and their father are at odds, for that will only make them feel insecure.

She should bring over, too, the possibility of having a talk with someone like her minister or priest and getting suggestions from him. Knowing her husband, such a person should be in a good position to advise her.

I hope this woman will write me again and let me know what she has done.

A Good Breakfast Under Their Belts

As Conducted by Mary Moore

My niece is a medical interne in one of Canada's largest hospitals. I had my dinner with her in the staff dining-room last night, and out of a clear sky she asked:

"Is cooking very hard, Aunt Mary?" I knew that she was dating another interne but did not realize that their acquaintance had ripened so much that cooking was entering the picture.

"What do you know how to cook Hen?" "Well I can bake and get gorgeous breakfasts." "If you can send a doctor husband off on his rounds in the morning with a good breakfast under his belt it's a good start." "What about me? I'll be going on calls too, don't forget!"

Golly, I'm glad she's young. From what I can hear those two young people intend to tear into life on the run.

Breakfasts are my topic today for several reasons. A conscientious women's editor wrote to me in June: "I hope some day (perhaps in the fall when we switch back to heavier meals) to see something from you about the importance of eating a good breakfast — especially for children."

I think breakfasts are important too and I enjoy preparing them, and I cannot understand mothers who settle for boxed cereals for breakfast.

I do not think I have to say to the mothers in this audience how good eating does give your families a break. Send them off to school and work well fortified with the foods they need to keep them going at full strength until noon.

In September in Canada in 1956 the variety of foods is great you don't even have to make decisions. Melons, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, to say nothing of the year-round oranges, grapefruits and bananas. I will stand where pullet eggs were selling at three dozen for one dollar last night and we pulled off the highway and bought six dozen.

BREAKFAST MENUS

(1) Canalcoupe quarters covered with sliced peaches; poached egg on whole wheat toast; whole wheat toast and honey; milk for children; coffee.

(2) Sliced peaches; scrambled eggs with sliced tomatoes; whole wheat toast with red currant jelly; milk for children; coffee.

(3) Orange juice (squeezed just before serving or vitamins are lost); cornmeal porridge with wheat germ (1-3 cup wheat germ may be used to each 3-4 cup dry cornmeal and sprinkled in when cornmeal is added to boiling salted water); cream or top milk and brown sugar or honey; whole wheat toast and marmalade; milk for children; coffee.

(4) Blueberries and cream and strained honey; soft-cooked egg in shell; whole wheat toast and peah jam; milk for children; coffee.

(5) Half grapefruit; bacon and egg, whole wheat toast with grape jelly; milk for children; coffee.

(6) Half cantaloupe with lime or lemon juice; rolled oats porridge, wheat germ added, cream or top milk, brown sugar and honey; whole wheat toast and marmalade; milk for children; coffee.

(7) Ripe Bartlett pear; French toast with bacon (sliced tomatoes also if desired); milk for children; coffee.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

PERFUME ENHANCES PERSONALITY

Even a brave woman may have her "off" days. Time is not only at her heels, but it is kicking her around. Small annoyances pile up. Her husband has a grouch, the children are fussy and noisy. Confusion reigns in home sweet home.

The reflection in the mirror brings dismal reflections in the heart. The poor dear feels that she would like to retire to some vast wilderness and just sleep and rest.

This is the time when she should leave the children with grandma and trot off to the beauty shop. That indulgence is coming to her. And, to continue the refreshing effects of the session in the beauty hopper, she should bring home a bottle of exquisite perfume. A sweet fragrance is a moral booster. It makes one feel younger and more glamorous.

While perfumes are expensive, the chemists who compose these delicate fluids have done one good deed. They have put them in tiny bottles. That means that one can go on experimenting until one finds the fragrance that gives one a lift, is truly exciting.

Once found it should be made a constant companion and other scents dispensed with. Because the same perfume used all the time will eventually scent the whole wardrobe. To combine two or more is a mistake. The sweetest ones can kill each other.

When you go shopping, for this queen of toiletries do not be tempted by exotic names; gorgeous containers or attractive labels. Your selection should be directed by personal preference, good taste and a fastidious nose.

As women are judged by the way they dress, so are they judged by the perfume they use. The one who prefers a strong pungent scent is pretty sure to wear conspicuous clothes and use make-up which is much too vivid.

It is economical to buy perfume, toilet water and sachets of the same scent.

THE FIRST day of school is probably one of the most exciting occasions in your child's life, to date. You can be sure it starts off right if you plan carefully so there's plenty of extra time for dressing and breakfasting before The Big Moment arrives. This is one morning when hurry-nagging is to be avoided like the plague.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

CONFLICT BETWEEN "TRADITIONAL" AND "MODERN"...

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our daughter is now twelve years old. When I was about her age, my mother and father used to give me presents at all silver, one or two pieces on my birthdays and other special occasions, in a beautiful traditional pattern in sterling silver. So, when I was married, I had the complete set, and I've always treasured it.

Don't you think, Mrs. Beeckman, it would be a good idea for us to start this plan for our daughter? I have mentioned it to her several times, but she seems not the slightest bit interested, seems indeed to be quite bored with the whole idea. This completely baffles me, for when I was her age I was thrilled at the idea. Can you explain her indifference? And would you advise us to follow our plan, or drop the idea? — S.B.

The loving plan of your parents followed a fine tradition, and in your case their taste in type and design of silver, fortunately completely coincided with your taste. But today many, many girls, like your daughter, haven't the slightest interest in this plan of the devotion that prompts it, are snooty about having anyone else presume to choose their silver pattern, and place no value whatever on the charm of tradition or family-chosen for family-owned-silver. They think . . . and say: they prefer to wait and choose the "latest thing" in style of silver current at the time of their wedding. The taste of many of the younger people veers more to "modern" design that to "traditional." My advice to you is that unless or until your daughter shows real interest in your devoted and generous plan, you shouldn't go on with it. However, if you and your husband are particularly interested in providing for the silver, you might start a special "silver account" in a savings bank, letting the money and the interest, instead of the silver set, "accrue." Then, when the time comes, your daughter can, with this money, choose the silver pattern nearest to her heart's desire.

NOT TOO LATE FOR A HOUSE-WARMING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Almost two years ago my husband and I bought a 150-year-old house. There was much reconstruction work to be done on it, and we had to stretch our budget to complete the work, a little at a time. Most (but not all) of this work has now been completed, and the furnishings we have been able to add to what we had are adequate for the time being. We've been so busy we haven't had much time to see our friends, but we'd like to give a housewarming in early October say, when everyone is back from vacationing. Is it now too late to give a housewarming? — Bertha M.

Indeed it isn't too late. Your relatives and friends and neighbors will be thrilled to be invited to come to see the house and the reconstruction you have done. . . . they're probably wondering when you are going to invite them!

'FIANCE' and 'FIANCEE' ARE PRONOUNCED ALIKE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have recently become engaged and so I am particularly interested in my question: What is the correct pronunciation of fiancee and fiance? I have been told that they are pronounced exactly alike, but I don't believe this is so. Is it? — Lee

Yes . . . It is true that fiancee and fiance are pronounced alike. This certainly makes it easier. Fiancee (engaged woman) and fiance (engaged man) are pronounced fee-ahn-say.

CAMPBELLFORD

Traffic Mishaps Keep Provincial Police Busy

CAMPBELLFORD — A number of traffic accidents kept the provincial police of the Campbellford detachment busy over the holiday week-end, but no serious injuries were reported.

A bee was held responsible for one accident, which resulted in nearly $300 damage to a car driven by Ronald Brown of Campbellford. The insect stung him as Brown was driving west on a township road at French's Hill, a few miles east of the town.

The car left the road and struck a pile of rocks, causing damage estimated at close to $200 to the undercarriage and front-end of the auto. Brown, who was travelling alone, was not injured. OPP Constable George Lough investigated.

On Saturday afternoon a car driven by John K. Partridge, 27, of Hampton, Ont., was travelling north on the Norham road, just south of the village, when it struck loose gravel after coming down a curving hill, went out of control and rolled over into the ditch.

Partridge was pinned in the wreckage of his car until he was helped out by passing motorists, one of whom was his father, Mr. Partridge Sr., was trailing behind his son's car and noticed the wrecked auto in the ditch. He investigated and saw the man pinned in the car.

With the help of other motorists, Mr. Partridge succeeded in freeing the trapped man. It was only after Mr. Partridge Jr., was freed, that Mr. Partridge saw it was his son.

The young man suffered a badly lacerated and fractured left forearm. He was attended by Dr. F. Britnell of Warkworth. The car was badly damaged.

WENT OUT OF CONTROL

About 5 a.m. Sunday morning, a car driven by Arthur L. Eaton of 66 Bridge St., Campbellford, went out of control going north on the West River Road, a short distance north of the town limits.

The car plunged from the right to the left side of the road, clipped off a mail box, struck a pole owned by the Campbellford PUC breaking it off at the base and also about two-thirds of the way up, continued across a lawn where it sheared a stump in half, and came back onto the road, still on its four wheels.

Eaton told police he had skidded on slippery pavement. No charges were laid. The car received about $250 damage, but Eaton was not injured.

On Sunday morning, a car driven by Walter Elliott, 27, of 172 Queen St., was involved in an accident on a township road near Warkworth. Elliott was proceeding to the south on the roadway, when a truck driven by Murray W. Woods, 37, of RR 4, Warkworth, emerged from a laneway, onto the road directly into the path of Elliott's southbound car.

Elliott's car struck the left side of the Woods truck, doing about $250 damage to the truck, and about $400 to the front end of the Elliott car. The driver of the truck, Murray Woods, suffered scalp lacerations and bruises. He was attended at the scene by Dr. R. F. Jolliffe of Warkworth. Elliott suffered bruises but was otherwise uninjured.

A row of tall bushes which obstructed the view of both drivers was blamed for the accident.

OPP Constable George Lough of Campbellford detachment, investigated all mishaps.

BANCROFT

Warden Scores Hole in One

BANCROFT—Local game-warden, Bob Ramsbottom, incurred the envy and admiration of fellow members of the Bancroft Golf and Country Club when he scored the club's first hole in one during a Sunday foursome.

Playing with Nub McAlpine, Jack Pollis and Clarence Marston, Bob canned his shot on the 130 yard fourth hole. He used a number eight iron and the ball made a perfect arch, bounced once and rolled into the cup.

The course is situated 2 miles north of Bancroft on Highway 62.

Tweed

6,000 MILES HOLIDAY TRIP

TWEED.—Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn Lutz and Miss Doris Duggan of Tweed, returned home on Saturday from a delightful three weeks' holiday trip to Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. While in Victoria they visited at the home of Mr. Lutz's niece, Mrs. C. G. Carson and Sergeant Carson.

Among some of the places they visited in Victoria were, the beautiful 25 acre Butchart Garden, and the Malahat Look-out. From the streamline diesel Canadian Pacific train they had a wonderful view of the Great Divide at the summit of the Canadian Rockies. They travelled in all about 6,000 miles and this was their first trip to the British Columbia coast.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lutz were, Mr. and Mrs. Hilyard Lutz and Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Francis, all of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Cartha Cassidy have returned home after attending the official opening or the new Sir Adam Beck, power development at Niagara Falls. Mr. Cassidy is chairman of the Tweed Hydro Commission. They also visited the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Jones and Mrs. William Curtis, of Tweed, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Murray of Whitby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, have returned home from a motor trip to Wisconsin and Manitoba.

On the return trip the party stopped at a famous resort at Brule, Wisconsin, Cedar Island Lodge, which has been a popular holiday spot for presidents of the United States.

The Tweed motorists enjoyed their trip.

Mrs. Curtis left the party at Superior, Wisconsin, to visit her parents, there.

RAWDON

Surprise Supper Party Marks 30th Anniversary

RAWDON. — On Sunday evening, August 29, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pollock, Wellman's, was the scene of a delightful surprise supper party for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Pollock, of Stirling, who had been married, August 30, 1914.

The home was nicely decorated with flowers. The long table was set with a snowy linen cloth and two large anniversary cakes, one fruit and the other white, for the bride and bridegroom.

Following the supper, their eldest son, Ted Pollock, made an oral address on behalf of the family and Doris Pigden and her niece, Irene Pollock, made the presentation of a set of dishes.

It was also the occasion of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pollock.

Flash pictures were taken during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock have five children, one grandson and five granddaughters.

The family in attendance were, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pollock and daughters, Ivanhoe; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pigden, Madoc; Mr. and Mrs. Don Pollock and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Del Merrill and Judy, of Campbellford.

McCarthy Denies Asking Employees Give Him Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Joseph McCarthy struck at another of the major censure charges against him with the contention today that he never asked government employees to give him secret documents.

"We never asked for FBI reports or general classified documents — only information about graft, corruption and communism," the Wisconsin Republican senator told reporters before resuming his testimony before a six-man special senate committee.

McCarthy testified Wednesday that Congressional committees "certainly should not abuse" witnesses. He defended what he conceded was "vigorous cross-examination" of Brig.-Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker. He had been accused of abusing Zwicker by senators Ralph Flanders (Rep. Vt.), J. William Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) and Wayne Morse (Ind. Ore.), all of whom have charged McCarthy with conduct unbecoming a senator.

SAID ARROGANT

McCarthy described Zwicker, a decorated war hero, as "one of the most arrogant, one of the most evasive witnesses I have ever had before my committee—one of the most irritating."

Zwicker, in the room at the time, flushed but declined comment. He later conferred with chairman Arthur Watkins (Rep. Utah) and censure committee counsel. Watkins declined to say if Zwicker will be called to the stand.

The McCarthy defence then announced it would turn next to a second of five major categories of accusations: That McCarthy "incited" federal workers to violate the law and presidential directives by calling on them to give him secret information.

Flanders, Fulbright and Morse all cited this in their specific allegations filed in support of Flanders' resolution calling upon the Senate to censure McCarthy. They said it involves the question of possible Congressional invasion of the executive powers.

ENTER STATEMENT

Last week the committee put into its record statements made by McCarthy at the McCarthy-army hearings, including one in which the Wisconsin senator said: "I would like to notify those 2,000,000 federal employees that I feel it is their duty to give us any information which they have about graft, corruption, communism, treason, and that there is no loyalty to a superior officer which can tower above and beyond their loyalty to their country."

Channel Swimmer Feared Drowned

DOVER, England (AP)—The air and sea search for Ted May, British steel worker who attempted to swim the English channel without an accompanying boat, was abandoned today, and the 44-year-old father of nine children was presumed drowned.

The Dover lifeboat was called back to its base and orders were transmitted to RAF planes and launches to come back to their stations.

May, a burly 238-pounder, went into the sea Wednesday morning at Cap Gris Nez, France.

Attached to his body by a rope was an inflated automobile tire on which he had a few supplies. This was his only equipment.

"After more than 30 hours in the water, it must be presumed that May is lost," said a coast guard official.

"Longer search in this worsening weather would be useless. The only hope is that May might have been picked up by some little fishing craft which has no radio equipment."

May failed in a similar one-man swim last month. He was picked up exhausted, by a freighter nine hours after he struck out from France.

Soccer Results

The Charity Cup final game played last night ended in a 1-1 deadlock between Belleville Northern Electric and the Trenton Merchants. This game will be replayed on Wednesday, September 22nd at 6.30 in Trenton.

FIVE PARDONED

TOKYO (AP)—The United States has pardoned five Japanese war criminals serving terms of 20 to 25 years here, the foreign office announced today.
